12 Therefore, becauſe of you, ‖ Sion ſhall be ploughed as a field, and Jeruſalem ‖ Jerem. 26. 18. ſhall be as a heap of ſtones, and the mountain of the temple as the high places of the foreſts.

CHAP. IV.

The glory of the church of Chriſt, by the converſion of the Gentiles. The Jews ſhall be carried captives to Babylon, and be delivered again.

Iſai. 2. 2. AND it ſhall come to paſs in the laſt days, that the mountain of the houſe of the Lord ſhall be prepared in the top of mountains, and high above the hills: and people ſhall flow to it.

2 And many nations ſhall come in haſte, and ſay: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the houſe of the God of Jacob: and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law ſhall go forth out of Sion, and the word of the Lord out of Jeruſalem.

3 And he ſhall judge among many people, and rebuke ſtrong nations afar off: and they ſhall beat their ſwords into ploughſhares, and their ſpears into ſpades: nation ſhall not take ſword againſt nation: neither ſhall they learn war any more.

4 And every man ſhall ſit under his vine, and under his fig-tree, and there ſhall be none to make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hoſts hath ſpoken.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god: but we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, ſaith the Lord, I will gather up her that halteth: and her that I had caſt out, I will gather up: and her whom I had afflicted.

‖ Soph. 3. 19. 7 ‖ And I will make her that halted, a remnant: and her that had been afflicted, a mighty nation: ‡ and the Lord will reign over them in mount Sion, from this time now and for ever.

‡ Dan. 7. 14. Luc. 1. 32.

8 And thou, O cloudy tower of the flock, of the daughter of Sion, unto thee ſhall it come: yea the firſt power ſhall come, the kingdom to the daughter of Jeruſalem.

9 Now, why art thou drawn together with grief? Haſt thou no king in thee, or is thy counſellor periſhed, becauſe ſorrow hath taken thee as a woman in labour?

10 Be in pain and labour, O daughter of Sion, as a woman that bringeth forth: for now ſhalt thou go out of the city, and ſhalt dwell in the country, and ſhalt come even to Babylon, there thou ſhalt be delivered: there the Lord will redeem thee out of the hand of thy enemies.

11 And now many nations are gathered together againſt thee, and they ſay: Let her be ſtoned: and let our eye look upon Sion.

12 But they have not known the thoughts of the Lord, and have not underſtood his counſel: becauſe he hath gathered them together as the hay of the floor.

13 Ariſe, and tread, O daughter of Sion: for I will make thy horn iron, and thy hoofs I will make braſs: and thou ſhalt beat in pieces many peoples, and ſhalt immolate the ſpoils of them to the Lord, and their ſtrength to the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

The birth of Chriſt in Bethlehem: his reign and ſpiritual conqueſts.

NOW ſhalt thou be laid waſte, O daughter of the robber: they have laid ſiege againſt us, with a rod ſhall they ſtrike the cheek of the judge of Iſrael.

2 ‖ AND THOU, BETHLEHEM Ephrata, art a little one among the thouſands of Juda: out of thee ſhall he come forth unto me that is to be the ruler in Iſrael: and his going forth is from the beginning, from the days of eternity. ‖ Matt. 2. 6. John 7. 42.

3 Therefore will he give them up even till the time wherein ſhe that travaileth ſhall bring forth: and the remnant of his brethren ſhall be converted to the children of Iſrael.

4 And he ſhall ſtand, and feed in the ſtrength of the Lord, in the height of the name of the Lord his God: and they ſhall be converted, for now ſhall he be magnified even to the ends of the earth.

CHAP. IV. VER. 3. Neither ſhall they learn, &c. The law of Chriſt is a law of peace; and all his true ſubjects, as much as lies in them, love and keep peace with all the world.

CHAP. V. VER. 1. Daughter of the robber. Some underſtand this of Babylon; which robbed and pillaged the temple of God: others underſtand it of Jeruſalem; by reaſon of the many rapines and oppreſſions committed there.

VER. 2. His going forth, &c. That is, he who as man ſhall be born in thee, as God was born of his Father from all eternity.

5 And this man ſhall be our peace, when the Aſſyrian ſhall come into our land, and when he ſhall ſet his foot in our houſes: and we ſhall raiſe againſt him ſeven ſhepherds, and eight principal men.

6 And they ſhall feed the land of Aſſyria with the ſword, and the land of Nemrod with the ſpears thereof: and he ſhall deliver us from the Aſſyrian when he ſhall come into our land, and when he ſhall tread in our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob ſhall be in the midſt of many peoples as a dew from the Lord, and as drops upon the graſs, which waiteth not for man, nor tarrieth for the children of men.

8 And the remnant of Jacob ſhall be among the Gentiles in the midſt of many peoples as a lion among the beaſts of the foreſts, and as a young lion among the flocks of ſheep: who when he ſhall go through, and tread down, and take, there is none to deliver.

9 Thy hand ſhall be lifted up over thy enemies, and all thy enemies ſhall be cut off.

10 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, ſaith the Lord, that I will take away thy horſes out of the midſt of thee, and will deſtroy thy chariots.

11 And I will deſtroy the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy ſtrong holds, and I will take away ſorceries out of thy hand, and there ſhall be no divinations in thee.

12 And I will deſtroy thy graven things, and thy ſtatues out of the midſt of thee: and thou ſhalt no more adore the works of thy hands.

13 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midſt of thee: and will cruſh thy cities.

14 And I will execute vengeance in wrath and in indignation among all the nations that have not given ear.

CHAP. VI.

God expoſtulates with the Jews for their ingratitude and ſins: for which they ſhall be puniſhed.

HEAR ye what the Lord ſaith: Ariſe, contend thou in judgment againſt the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Let the mountains hear the judgment of the Lord, and the ſtrong foundations of the earth: for the Lord will enter into judgment with his people, and he will plead againſt Iſrael.

3 || O my people, what have I done to thee, or in what have I moleſted thee? anſwer thou me. || Jerem. 2. 4.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and delivered thee out of the houſe of ſlaves: and I ſent before thy face Moſes, and Aaron, and Mary?

5 || O my people, remember, I pray thee, what Balach the king of Moab purpoſed: and what Balaam the ſon of Beor anſwered him, from Setim to Galgal, that thou mighteſt know the juſtices of the Lord. || Num. 22. 23.

6 What ſhall I offer to the Lord that is worthy? wherewith ſhall I kneel before the high God? ſhall I offer holocauſts unto him, and calves of a year old?

7 May the Lord be appeaſed with thouſands of rams, or with many thouſands of fat he-goats? ſhall I give my firſt-born for my wickedneſs, the fruit of my body for the ſin of my ſoul?

8 I will ſhew thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: || Verily to do judgment, and to love mercy, and to walk ſolicitous with thy God. || Zach. 7. 9. Matt. 23. 23. Deut. 6. 2. & 26. 16.

9 The voice of the Lord crieth to the city,

VER. 5. The Aſſyrian. That is, the perſecutors of the church: who are here called Aſſyrians by the prophet; becauſe the Aſſyrians were at that time the chief enemies and perſecutors of the people of God.

Ibidem. Seven ſhepherds, &c. viz. The paſtors of God's church, and the defenders of the faith. The number ſeven in ſcripture is taken to ſignify many; and when eight is joined with it, we are to underſtand that the number will be very great.

VER. 6. They ſhall feed, &c. They ſhall make ſpiritual conqueſts in the lands of their perſecutors, with the ſword of the ſpirit, which is the word of God, Eph. vi. 17.

VER. 7. The remnant of Jacob, viz. The apoſtles, and the firſt preachers of the Jewiſh nation: whoſe doctrine, like dew, ſhall make the plants of the converted Gentiles grow up, without waiting for any man to cultivate them by human learning.

VER. 8. As a lion, &c. This denotes the fortitude of theſe firſt preachers: and their ſucceſs in their ſpiritual enterprizes.

VER. 10. I will take away thy horſes, &c. Some underſtand this, and all that follows to the end of the chapter, as addreſſed to the enemies of the church. But it may as well be underſtood of the converts to the church; who ſhould no longer put their truſt in any of theſe things.

CHAP. VI. VER. 1. The mountains, &c. That is, the great ones, the princes of the people.

VER. 5. From Setim to Galgal. He puts them in mind of the favour he did them, in not ſuffering them to be quite deſtroyed by the evil purpoſe of Balach, and the wicked counſel of Balaam: and then gives them a hint of the wonders he wrought, in order to bring them into the land of Promiſe, by ſtopping the courſe of the Jordan, in their march from Setim to Galgal.

VER. 6. What ſhall I offer, &c. This is ſpoken in the perſon of the people, deſiring to be informed what they are to do to pleaſe God.

and salvation shall be to them that fear thy name: hear, O ye tribes, and who shall approve it?

10 As yet there is a fire in the house of the wicked, the treasures of iniquity, and a scant measure full of wrath.

11 Shall I justify wicked balances, and the deceitful weights of the bag?

12 By which her rich men were filled with iniquity, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue was deceitful in their mouth.

13 And I therefore began to strike thee with desolation for thy sins.

14 Thou shalt eat, but shalt not be filled: and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not save: and those whom thou shalt save, I will give up to the sword.

‖ Deut. 28. 38. Aggeus 1. 6. 15 ‖ Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not be anointed with the oil: and the new wine, but shalt not drink the wine.

16 For thou hast kept the statutes of Amri, and all the works of the house of Achab: and thou hast walked according to their wills, that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing, and you shall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAP. VII.

The prophet laments, that notwithstanding all his preaching, the generality are still corrupt in their manners: therefore their desolation is at hand: but they shall be restored again and prosper; and all mankind shall be redeemed by Christ.

WO is me, for I am become as one that gleaneth in autumn the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat, my soul desired the first ripe figs.

2 The holy man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood, every one hunteth his brother to death.

3 The evil of their hands they call good: the prince requireth, and the judge is for giving: and the great man hath uttered the desire of his soul, and they have troubled it.

4 He that is best among them, is as a brier: and he that is righteous, as the thorn of the hedge. The day of thy inspection, thy visitation cometh: now shall be their destruction.

5 Believe not a friend, and trust not in a prince: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that sleepeth in thy bosom.

‖ Mat. 10. 21. 6 ‖ For the son dishonoureth the father, and the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: ‡ and a man's enemies are they of his own household.

‡ Mat. 10. 36. 7 But I will look towards the Lord, I will wait for God my Saviour: my God will hear me.

8 Rejoice not, thou my enemy, over me, because I am fallen: I shall arise, when I sit in darkness, the Lord is my light.

9 I will bear the wrath of the Lord, because I have sinned against him: until he judge my cause and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth into the light, I shall behold his justice.

10 And my enemy shall behold, and she shall be covered with shame, who saith to me: Where is the Lord thy God? my eyes shall look down upon her: now shall she be trodden under foot as the mire of the streets.

11 The day shall come, that thy walls may be built up: in that day shall the law be far removed.

12 In that day they shall come even from Assyria to thee, and to the fortified cities: and from the fortified cities even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 And the land shall be made desolate because of the inhabitants thereof, and for the fruit of their devices.

14 Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thy inheritance, them that dwell alone in the forest, in the midst of Carmel: they shall feed in Basan and Galaad according to the days of old.

15 According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt I will shew him wonders.

16 The nations shall see, and shall be confounded at all their strength: they shall put the hand upon the mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the dust like serpents, as the creeping things of the earth, they shall be disturbed in their houses: they shall dread the Lord our God, and shall fear thee.

VER. 10. Full of wrath, &c. That is, highly provoking in the sight of God.

CHAP. VII. VER. 10. She shall be covered, &c. viz. Babylon my enemy.

VER. 11. The law, viz. of thy enemies, who have tyrannized over thee.

VER. 13. The land, &c. viz. of Babylon.

|| Jerem. 10. 6. Acts 10. 43.

18 || Who is a God like to thee, who takeſt away iniquity, and paſſeſt by the ſin of the remnant of thy inheritance? he will ſend his fury in no more, becauſe he delighteth in mercy.

19 He will turn again, and have mercy on us: he will put away our iniquities: and he will caſt all our ſins into the bottom of the ſea.

20 Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, the mercy to Abraham: which thou haſt ſworn to our fathers from the days of old.

THE

PROPHECY OF NAHUM.

NAHUM, whoſe name ſignifies A COMFORTER, was a native of Elceſe, or Elceſai, ſuppoſed to be a little town in Galilee. He propheſied, after the ten tribes were carried into captivity, and foretold the utter deſtruction of Ninive by the Babylonians and Medes; which happened in the reign of JOSIAS.

THE burden of Ninive. The book of the viſion of Nahum the Elceſite.

2 The Lord is a jealous God, and a revenger: the Lord is a revenger, and hath wrath: the Lord taketh vengeance on his adverſaries, and he is angry with his enemies.

3 The Lord is patient, and great in power, and will not cleanſe and acquit the guilty. The Lord's ways are in a tempeſt, and a whirlwind, and clouds are the duſt of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the ſea, and dryeth it up: and bringeth all the rivers to be a deſert. Baſan languiſheth and Carmel: and the flower of Libanus fadeth away.

5 The mountains tremble at him, and the hills are made deſolate: and the earth hath quaked at his preſence, and the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can ſtand before the face of his indignation? and who ſhall reſiſt in the fierceneſs of his anger? his indignation is poured out like fire: and the rocks are melted by him.

7 The Lord is good, and giveth ſtrength in the day of trouble: and knoweth them that hope in him ||.

|| 2 Tim. 11. 9.

8 But with a flood that paſſeth by, he will make an utter end of the place thereof: and darkneſs ſhall purſue his enemies.

9 What do ye deviſe againſt the Lord? he will make an utter end: there ſhall not riſe a double affliction.

10 For as thorns embrace one other: ſo while they are feaſting and drinking together, they ſhall be conſumed as ſtubble that is fully dry.

11 Out of thee ſhall come forth one that imagineth evil againſt the Lord, contriving treachery in his mind.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord: Though they were perfect: and many of them ſo, yet

CHAP. I. VER. 8. Of the place thereof, viz. of Ninive.

VER. 11. Shall come forth one, &c. Some underſtand this of Sennacherib. But as his attempt againſt the people ſeems to have been prior to the prophecy of Nahum, we may better underſtand it of Holofernes.

VER. 12. Though they were perfect, &c. That is, however ſtrong or numerous their forces may be, they ſhall be cut off; and their prince or leader ſhall paſs away and diſappear.

thus ſhall they be cut off, and he ſhall paſs: I have afflicted thee, and I will afflict thee no more.

13 And now I will break in pieces his rod with which he ſtruck thy back, and I will burſt thy bonds aſunder.

14 And the Lord will give a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name ſhall be ſown: I will deſtroy the graven, and molten thing out of the houſe of thy God, I will make it thy grave, for thou art diſgraced.

15 ‖ Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, and that preacheth peace: O Juda, keep thy feſtivals, and pay thy vows: for Belial ſhall no more paſs through thee again, he is utterly cut off.

‖ Iſai. 52. 7. Rom. 10. 15.

CHAP. II.

God ſends his armies againſt Ninive to deſtroy it.

HE is come up that ſhall deſtroy before thy face, that ſhall keep the ſiege: watch the way, fortify thy loins, ſtrengthen thy power exceedingly.

2 For the Lord hath rendered the pride of Jacob, as the pride of Iſrael: becauſe the ſpoilers have laid them waſte, and have marred their vine-branches.

3 The ſhield of his mighty men is like fire, the men of the army are clad in ſcarlet, the reins of the chariot are flaming in the day of his preparation, and the drivers are ſtupified.

4 They are in confuſion in the ways, the chariots juſtle one againſt another in the ſtreets: their looks are like torches, like lightning running to and fro.

5 He will muſter up his valiant men, they ſhall ſtumble in their march: they ſhall quickly get upon the walls thereof: and a covering ſhall be prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the temple is thrown down to the ground.

7 And the ſoldier is led away captive: and her bond-women were led away mourning as doves, murmuring in their hearts.

8 And as for Ninive, her waters are like a great pool: but the men flee away. They cry: Stand, ſtand, but there is none that will return back.

9 Take ye the ſpoil of the ſilver, take the ſpoil of the gold: for there is no end of the riches of all the precious furniture.

10 She is deſtroyed, and rent, and torn: the heart melteth, and the knees fail, and all the loins loſe their ſtrength: and the faces of them all are as the blackneſs of a kettle.

11 Where is now the dwelling of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, to which the lion went, to enter in thither, the young lion, and there was none to make them afraid?

12 The lion caught enough for his whelps, and killed for his lioneſſes: and he filled his holes with prey, and his den with rapine.

13 Behold I come againſt thee, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and I will burn thy chariots even to ſmoke, and the ſword ſhall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey out of the land, and the voice of thy meſſengers ſhall be heard no more ‖.

CHAP. III.

The miſerable deſtruction of Ninive.

WO to thee, O city of blood, all full of lies and violence: rapine ſhall not depart from thee. Ezech. 24. 9. Habac. 2. 12.

2 The noiſe of the whip, and the noiſe of the rattling of the wheels, and of the neighing horſe, and of the running chariot, and of the horſemen coming up:

3 And of the ſhining ſword, and of the glittering ſpear, and of a multitude ſlain, and of a grievous deſtruction: and there is no end of carcaſes, and they ſhall fall down on their dead bodies.

4 Becauſe of the multitude of the fornications of the harlot that was beautiful and agreeable, and that made uſe of witchcraft, that ſold nations through her fornications, and families through her witchcrafts.

5 Behold I come againſt thee, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: ‖ and I will diſcover thy ſhame to thy face, and will ſhew thy nakedneſs to the nations, and thy ſhame to kingdoms. ‖ Iſai. 47. 3.

6 And I will caſt abominations upon thee, and will diſgrace thee, and will make an example of thee.

one that ſhall ſee thee, ſhall flee from thee, and ſhall ſay: Ninive is laid waſte: who ſhall bemoan thee? whence ſhall I ſeek a comforter for thee?

8 Art thou better than the populous Alexandria, that dwelleth among the rivers? waters are round about it: the ſea is its riches: the waters are its walls.

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were the ſtrength thereof, and there is no end: Africa and the Libyans were thy helpers.

10 Yet ſhe alſo was removed and carried into captivity: her young children were daſhed in pieces at the top of every ſtreet, and they caſt lots upon her nobles, and all her great men were bound in fetters.

11 Therefore thou alſo ſhalt be made drunk, and ſhalt be deſpiſed: and thou ſhalt ſeek help from the enemy.

12 All thy ſtrong-holds ſhall be like fig-trees with their green figs: if they be ſhaken, they ſhall fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold thy people in the midſt of thee are women: the gates of thy land ſhall be ſet wide open to thy enemies, the fire ſhall devour thy bars.

14 Draw thee water for the ſiege, build up thy bulwarks: go into the clay, and tread, work it and make brick.

15 There ſhall the fire devour thee: thou ſhalt periſh by the ſword, it ſhall devour thee like the bruchus: aſſemble together like the bruchus, make thyſelf many like the locuſt.

16 Thou haſt multiplied thy merchandiſes above the ſtars of heaven: the bruchus hath ſpread himſelf and flew away.

17 Thy guards are like the locuſts: and thy little ones like the locuſts of locuſts which ſwarm on the hedges in the day of cold: the ſun aroſe, and they flew away, and their place was not known where they were.

18 Thy ſhepherds have ſlumbered, O king of Aſſyria, thy princes ſhall be buried: thy people are hid in the mountains, and there is none to gather them together.

19 Thy deſtruction is not hidden, thy wound is grievous: all that have heard the fame of thee, have clapped their hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedneſs paſſed continually?

THE PROPHECY OF HABACUC.

HABACUC was a native of Bezocher, and propheſied in JUDA, ſome time before the invaſion of the CHALDEANS, which he foretold. He lived to ſee this prophecy fulfilled, and for many years after, according to the general opinion, which ſuppoſes him to be the ſame that was brought by the ANGEL to DANIEL in BABYLON, Dan. xvi.

CHAP. I.

The prophet complains of the wickedneſs of the people; God reveals to him the vengeance he is going to take of them by the Chaldeans.

A. M. circiter 3404. Ante C. 600. THE burden that Habacuc the prophet ſaw.

2 How long, O Lord, ſhall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? ſhall I cry out to thee ſuffering violence, and thou wilt not ſave?

3 Why haſt thou ſhewn me iniquity and grievance, to ſee rapine and injuſtice before me? and there is a judgment, but oppoſition is more powerful.

4 Therefore the law is torn in pieces,

CHAP. I. VER. Burden. Such prophecies more eſpecially are called burdens, as threaten grievous evils and puniſhments.

and judgment cometh not to the end: because the wicked prevaileth against the just, therefore wrong judgment goeth forth.

5 ‖ Behold ye among the nations, and see: wonder, and be astonished: for a work is done in your days, which no man will believe when it shall be told. ‖ Acts 13. 34.

6 For behold, I will raise up the Chaldeans, a bitter and swift nation, marching upon the breadth of the earth, to possess the dwelling places that are not their own.

7 They are dreadful, and terrible: from themselves shall their judgment, and their burden proceed.

8 Their horses are lighter than leopards, and swifter than evening wolves; and their horsemen shall be spread abroad: for their horsemen shall come from afar, they shall fly as an eagle that maketh haste to eat.

9 They shall all come to the prey, their face is like a burning wind: and they shall gather together captives as the sand.

10 And their prince shall triumph over kings, and princes shall be his laughing-stock: and he shall laugh at every stronghold, and shall cast up a mount, and shall take it.

11 Then shall his spirit be changed, and he shall pass, and fall: this is his strength of his god.

12 Wast thou not from the beginning, O Lord my God, my holy one, and we shall not die? Lord, thou hast appointed him for judgment: and made him strong for correction.

13 Thy eyes are too pure to behold evil, and thou canst not look on iniquity. Why lookest thou upon them that do unjust things, and holdest thy peace when the wicked devoureth the man that is more just than himself?

14 And thou wilt make men as the fishes of the sea, and as the creeping things that have no ruler.

15 He lifted up all them with his hook, he drew them in his drag, and gathered them into his net: for this he will be glad and rejoice.

16 Therefore will he offer victims to his drag, and he will sacrifice to his net: because through them his portion is made fat, and his meat dainty.

17 For this cause therefore he spreadeth his net, and will not spare continually to slay the nations.

CHAP. II.

The prophet is admonished to wait with faith. The enemies of God's people shall assuredly be punished.

I WILL stand upon my watch, and fix my foot upon the tower: and I will watch, to see what will be said to me, and what I may answer to him that reproveth me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said: Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables: that he that readeth it may run over it.

3 For as yet the vision is far off, and it shall appear at the end, and shall not lie: if it make any delay, wait for it: for it shall surely come, and it shall not be slack.

4 Behold, he that is unbelieving, his soul shall not be right in himself: ‖ but the just shall live in his faith. ‖ John 3. 36. Rom. 1. 17. Gal. 3. 11. Heb. 10. 38.

5 And as wine deceiveth him that drinketh it: so shall the proud man be, and he shall not be honoured: who hath enlarged his desire like hell: and is himself like death, and he is never satisfied: but will gather together unto him all nations, and heap together unto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a dark speech concerning him: and it shall be said: Wo to him that heapeth together that which is not his own? how long also doth he load himself with thick clay?

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee: and they be stirred up that shall tear thee, and thou shalt be a spoil to them?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all that shall be left of the people shall spoil thee: because of mens blood, and for the iniquity of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

9 Wo to him that gathereth together an evil covetousness to his house, that his nest

VER. 5. As wine deceiveth, &c. viz. by affording only a short passing pleasure; followed by the evils and disgrace that are the usual consequences of drunkenness: so shall it be with the proud enemies of the people of God; whose success affordeth them only a momentary pleasure, followed by innumerable and everlasting evils.

VER. 6. Thick clay. Ill-gotten goods, that, like mire, both burden and defile the soul.

may be on high, and thinketh he may be delivered out of the hand of evil.

10 Thou haſt deviſed confuſion to thy houſe, thou haſt cut off many people, and thy ſoul hath ſinned.

11 For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall: and the timber that is between the joints of the building, ſhall anſwer.

|| Ezec. 24. 9. Nahum 3. 1. 12 || Wo to him that buildeth a town with blood, and prepareth a city by iniquity.

13 Are not theſe things from the Lord of hoſts? for the people ſhall labour in a great fire: and the nations in vain, and they ſhall faint.

14 For the earth ſhall be filled, that men may know the glory of the Lord, as waters covering the ſea.

15 Wo to him that giveth drink to his friend, and preſenteth his gall, and maketh him drunk, that he may behold his nakedneſs.

16 Thou art filled with ſhame inſtead of glory: drink thou alſo, and fall faſt aſleep: the cup of the right hand of the Lord ſhall compaſs thee, and ſhameful vomiting ſhall be on thy glory.

17 For the iniquity of Libanus ſhall cover thee, and the ravaging of beaſts ſhall terrify them becauſe of the blood of men, and the iniquity of the land, and of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 What doth the graven thing avail, becauſe the maker thereof hath graven it, a molten, and a falſe image? becauſe the forger thereof hath truſted in a thing of his own forging, to make dumb idols.

19 Wo to him that ſaith to wood: Awake: to the dumb ſtone: Ariſe: can it teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold, and ſilver: and there is no ſpirit in the bowels thereof.

|| Pſal. 10. 5. 20 || But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep ſilence before him.

CHAP. III.

1 A PRAYER OF HABACUC THE PROPHET FOR IGNORANCES.

2 O LORD, I have heard thy hearing, and was afraid.

O Lord, thy work, in the midſt of the years bring it to life:

In the midſt of the years thou ſhalt make it known: when thou art angry, thou wilt remember mercy.

3 God will come from the South, and the holy one from mount Pharan:

His glory covered the heavens, and the earth is full of his praiſe.

4 His brightneſs ſhall be as the light: horns are in his hands:

There is his ſtrength hid: 5 Death ſhall go before his face.

And the Devil ſhall go forth before his feet.

6 He ſtood and meaſured the earth.

He beheld, and melted the nations: and the ancient mountains were cruſhed to pieces.

The hills of the world were bowed down by the journies of his eternity.

7 I ſaw the tents of Ethiopia for their iniquity, the curtains of the land of Madian ſhall be troubled.

VER. 13. Are not theſe things, &c. That is, ſhall not theſe puniſhments that are here recorded, come from the Lord upon him that is guilty of ſuch crimes.

Ibid. The people ſhall labour, &c. viz. the enemies of God's people.

VER. 17. The iniquity of Libanus. That is, the iniquity committed by the Chaldeans againſt the temple of God, ſignified here by the name of Libanus.

CHAP. III. VER. 1. For ignorances. That is, for the ſins of his people. In the Hebrew it is Sigionoth: which ſome take to ſignify a muſical inſtrument, or tune; with which this ſublime prayer and canticle was to be ſung.

VER. 2. Thy hearing, &c. That is, thy oracles, the great and wonderful things thou haſt revealed to me: and I was ſtruck with a reverential fear and awe.

Ibid. Thy work. The great work of the redemption of man, which thou wilt bring to life and light in the midſt of the years, when our calamities and miſeries ſhall be at their height.

VER. 3. God will come from the South, &c. God himſelf will come to give us his law, and to conduct us into the true land of promiſe: as heretofore he came from the South (in the Hebrew Theman) and from mount Pharan to give his law to his people in the deſert. See Deuteronomy xxxiii. 2.

VER. 4. Horns, &c. That is, ſtrength and power, which by a Hebrew phraſe are called horns. Or beams of light, which come forth from his hands. Or it may allude to the croſs, in the horns of which the hands of Chriſt were faſtened, where his ſtrength was hidden, by which he overcame the world, and drove out death and the devil.

VER. 5. Death ſhall go before his face, &c. Both death and the devil ſhall be the executioners of his juſtice againſt his enemies: as they were heretofore againſt the Egyptians and Chananites.

VER. 6. He beheld, &c. One look of his eye is enough to melt all the nations, and to reduce them to nothing. For all heaven and earth diſappear, when they come before his light. Apocalypſe xx. 11.

Ibid. The ancient mountains, &c. By the mountains and hills are ſignified the great ones of the world, that perſecute the church, whoſe power was quickly cruſhed by the Almighty.

VER. 7. Ethiopia, the land of the Blacks, and Madian, are here taken for the enemies of God and his people; who ſhall periſh for their iniquity.

8 Waſt thou angry, O Lord, with the rivers? or was thy wrath upon the rivers? or thy indignation in the ſea?

Who wilt ride upon thy horſes: and thy chariots are ſalvation.

9 Thou wilt ſurely take up thy bow: according to the oaths which thou haſt ſpoken to the tribes.

Thou wilt divide the rivers of the earth.

10 The mountains ſaw thee, and were grieved: the great body of waters paſſed away.

The deep put forth its voice: the deep lifted up its hands.

11 The ſun and the moon ſtood ſtill in their habitation, in the light of thy arrows, they ſhall go in the brightneſs of thy glittering ſpear.

12 In thy anger thou wilt tread the earth under foot: in thy wrath thou wilt aſtoniſh the nations.

13 Thou wenteſt forth for the ſalvation of thy people: for ſalvation with thy Chriſt.

Thou ſtruckeſt the head of the houſe of the wicked: thou haſt laid bare his foundation even to the neck.

14 Thou haſt curſed his ſceptres, the head of his warriors, them that came out as a whirlwind to ſcatter me.

Their joy was like that of him that devoureth the poor man in ſecret.

15 Thou madeſt a way in the ſea for thy horſes, in the mud of many waters.

16 I have heard, and my bowels were troubled: my lips trembled at the voice.

Let rottenneſs enter into my bones, and ſwarm under me.

That I may reſt in the day of tribulation: that I may go up to our people that are girded.

17 For the fig-tree ſhall not bloſſom: and there ſhall be no ſpring in the vines. The labour of the olive-tree ſhall fail: and the fields ſhall yield no food: the flock ſhall be cut off from the fold, and there ſhall be no herd in the ſtalls.

18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: and I will joy in God my Jeſus.

19 The Lord God is my ſtrength: and he will make my feet like the feet of harts: and he the conqueror will lead me upon my high places ſinging pſalms.

VER. 8. With the rivers, &c. He alludes to the wonders wrought heretofore by the Lord in favour of his people Iſrael, when the waters of the rivers, viz. of Arnon and Jordan, and of the Red ſea, retired before their face: when he came, as it were, with his horſes and chariots to ſave them: when he took up his bow for their defence, in conſequence of the oath he had made to their tribes: when the mountains trembled, and the deep ſtood with its waves raiſed up in a heap, as with hands lifted up to heaven: when the ſun and moon ſtood ſtill at his command, &c. to comply with his anger, not againſt the rivers and ſea, but againſt the enemies of his people. How much more will he do in favour of his Son; and againſt the enemies of his church?

VER. 13. The head of the houſe of the wicked. Such was Pharao heretofore: ſuch ſhall Antichriſt be hereafter.

VER. 15. Thou madeſt a way in the ſea, &c. to deliver thy people from the Egyptian bondage: and thou ſhalt work the like wonders, in the ſpiritual way, to reſcue the children of thy church from their enemies.

VER. 16. I have heard, &c. viz. the evils that are now coming upon the Iſraelites for their ſins; and that ſhall come hereafter upon all impenitent ſinners: and the foreſight that I have of theſe miſeries makes me willing to die, that I may be at reſt, before this general tribulation comes, in which all good things ſhall be withdrawn from the wicked.

Ibid. That I may go up to our people, &c. That I may join the happy company in the boſom of Abraham, that are girded, that is, prepared for their journey, by which they ſhall attend their Lord, when he ſhall aſcend into heaven. To which high and happy place, my Jeſus, that is, my Saviour, the great conqueror of death and hell, ſhall one day conduct me rejoicing and ſinging pſalms of praiſe. ver. 18. and 19.

THE PROPHECY OF SOPHONIAS.

SOPHONIAS, whose name, saith St. Jerom, signifies the watchman of the Lord, or the hidden of the Lord, propheſied in the beginning of the reign of Joſias. He was a native of Sarabatha, and of the tribe of Simeon, according to the more general opinion. He propheſied the puniſhments of the Jews, for their idolatry and other crimes; alſo the puniſhments that were to come on divers nations; the coming of Chriſt, the converſion of the Gentiles, the blindneſs of the Jews, and their converſion towards the end of the world.

CHAP. I.

For divers enormous ſins, the kingdom of Juda is threatened with ſevere judgment.

A. M. circiter 3404. Ante C. 600. THE word of the Lord that came to Sophonias the ſon of Chuſi, the ſon of Godolias, the ſon of Amarias, the ſon of Ezecias, in the days of Joſias the ſon of Amon king of Juda.

2 Gathering, I will gather together all things from off the face of the land, ſaith the Lord:

3 I will gather man, and beaſt, I will gather the birds of the air, and the fiſhes of the ſea: and the ungodly ſhall meet with ruin: and I will deſtroy men from off the face of the land, ſaith the Lord.

4 And I will ſtretch out my hand upon Juda, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem: and I will deſtroy out of this place the remnant of Baal, and the names of the wardens of the temples with the prieſts:

5 And them that worſhip the hoſt of heaven upon the tops of houſes, and them that adore, and ſwear by the Lord, and ſwear by Melchom.

6 And them that turn away from following after the Lord, and that have not ſought the Lord, nor ſearched after him.

7 Be ſilent before the face of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is near, for the Lord hath prepared a victim, he hath ſanctified his gueſts.

8 And it ſhall come to paſs in the day of the victim of the Lord, that I will viſit upon the princes, and upon the king's ſons, and upon all ſuch as are cloathed with ſtrange apparel:

9 And I will viſit in that day upon every one that entereth arrogantly over the threſhold: them that fill the houſe of the Lord their God with iniquity and deceit.

10 And there ſhall be in that day, ſaith the Lord, the noiſe of a cry from the fiſh-gate, and a howling from the Second, and a great deſtruction from the hills.

11 Howl, ye inhabitants of the Morter. All the people of Chanaan is huſh, all are cut off that were wrapped up in ſilver.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs at that time, that I will ſearch Jeruſalem with lamps, and will viſit upon the men that are ſettled on their lees: that ſay in their hearts: The Lord will not do good, nor will he do evil.

13 And their ſtrength ſhall become a booty, and their houſes as a deſert: || and they ſhall build houſes, and ſhall not dwell in them: and they ſhall plant vineyards, and ſhall not drink the wine of them. || Amos 5. 11.

CHAP. I. VER. 2. Gathering I will gather, &c. That is, I will aſſuredly take away, and wholly conſume, either by captivity, or death, both men and beaſts out of this land.

VER. 4. The wardens, &c. viz. of the temples of the idols. Ædituos, in Hebrew, the Chemarims, that is, ſuch as kindle the fires, or burn incenſe.

VER. 5 Melchom. The idol of the Ammonites.

VER. 10. The Second. A part of the city ſo called.

VER. 11. The Morter. Makteſh. A valley in or near Jeruſalem.

Ibid. The people of Chanaan. So he calls the Jews, from their following the wicked ways of the Chananites.

VER. 12. Settled on their lees. That is, the wealthy, and ſuch as live at their eaſe, reſting upon their riches, like wine upon the lees.

14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near and exceeding ſwift: the voice of the day of the Lord is bitter, the mighty man ſhall there meet with tribulation.

‖ Jer. 30. 7. Joel 2. 11. Amos 5. 18.

15 ‖ That day is a day of wrath, a day of tribulation and diſtreſs, a day of calamity and miſery, a day of darkneſs and obſcurity, a day of clouds and whirlwinds,

16 A day of the trumpet and alarm againſt the fenced cities, and againſt the high bulwarks.

17 And I will diſtreſs men, and they ſhall walk like blind men, becauſe they have ſinned againſt the Lord: and their blood ſhall be poured out as earth, and their bodies as dung.

‖ Ezec. 7. 19.

18 ‖ Neither ſhall their ſilver, and their gold be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: † all the land ſhall be devoured by the fire of his jealouſy, for he ſhall make even a ſpeedy deſtruction of all them that dwell in the land.

† Infra 3. 8.

CHAP. II.

An exhortation to repentance. The judgment of the Philiſtines, of the Moabites and the Ammonites; of the Ethiopians, and the Aſſyrians.

ASSEMBLE yourſelves together, be gathered together, O nation not worthy to be loved:

2 Before the decree bring forth the day as duſt paſſing away, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's indignation come upon you.

3 Seek the Lord all ye meek of the earth, you that have wrought his judgment: ſeek the juſt, ſeek the meek: if by any means you may be hid in the day of the Lord's indignation.

4 For Gaza ſhall be deſtroyed, and Aſcalon ſhall be a deſert, they ſhall caſt out Azotus at noon-day, and Accaron ſhall be rooted up.

5 Wo to you that inhabit the ſea coaſt, O nation of reprobates: the word of the Lord upon you, O Chanaan, the land of the Philiſtines, and I will deſtroy thee, ſo that there ſhall not be an inhabitant.

6 And the ſea coaſt ſhall be the reſting-place of ſhepherds, and folds for cattle:

7 And it ſhall be the portion of him that ſhall remain of the houſe of Juda, there they ſhall feed: in the houſes of Aſcalon they ſhall reſt in the evening: becauſe the Lord their God will viſit them, and bring back their captivity.

8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the blaſphemies of the children of Ammon, with which they reproached my people, and have magnified themſelves upon their borders.

9 Therefore as I live, ſaith the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Moab ſhall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrha, the dryneſs of thorns, and heaps of ſalt, and a deſert even for ever: the remnant of my people ſhall make a ſpoil of them, and the reſidue of my nation ſhall poſſeſs them.

10 This ſhall befal them for their pride: becauſe they have blaſphemed, and have been magnified againſt the people of the Lord of hoſts.

11 The Lord ſhall be terrible upon them, and ſhall conſume all the gods of the earth: and they ſhall adore him every man from his own place, all the iſlands of the Gentiles.

12 You Ethiopians alſo ſhall be ſlain with my ſword.

13 And he will ſtretch out his hand upon the north, and will deſtroy Aſſyria: and he will make the beautiful city a wilderneſs, and as a place not paſſable, and as a deſert.

‖ Iſai. 34. 11.

14 ‖ And flocks ſhall lie down in the midſt thereof, all the beaſts of the nations: and the bittern, and the urchin ſhall lodge in the threſhold thereof: the voice of the ſinging bird in the window, the raven on the upper poſt, for I will conſume her ſtrength.

15 This is the glorious city that dwelt in ſecurity: that ſaid in her heart: I am, and there is none beſide me: how is ſhe become a deſert, a place for beaſts to lie down in? every one that paſſeth by her, ſhall hiſs, and wag his hand.

CHAP. III.

A wo to Jeruſalem for her ſins. A prophecy of the converſion of the Gentiles, and of the poor of Iſrael: God ſhall be with them. The Jews ſhall be converted at laſt.

WO to the provoking, and redeemed city, the dove.

2 She hath not hearkened to the voice, neither hath ſhe received diſcipline: ſhe

CHAP. II. VER. 13. The beautiful city, viz. Ninive, which was deſtroyed ſoon after this, viz. in the ſixteenth year of the reign of Joſias.

hath not truſted in the Lord, ſhe drew not near to her God.

‖ Ezec. 22. 27. Micheas 3 11.

3 ‖ Her princes are in the midſt of her as roaring lions: her judges are evening wolves, they left nothing for the morning.

4 Her prophets are ſenſeleſs, men without faith: her prieſts have polluted the ſanctuary, they have acted unjuſtly againſt the law.

5 The juſt Lord is in the midſt thereof, he will not do iniquity: in the morning, in the morning he will bring his judgment to light, and it ſhall not be hid: but the wicked man hath not known ſhame.

6 I have deſtroyed the nations, and their towers are beaten down: I have made their ways deſert, ſo that there is none that paſſeth by: their cities are deſolate, there is not a man remaining, nor any inhabitant.

7 I ſaid: Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive correction: and her dwelling ſhall not periſh, for all things wherein I have viſited her: but they roſe early and corrupted all their thoughts.

8 Wherefore expect me, ſaith the Lord, in the day of my reſurrection that is to come, for my judgment is to aſſemble the Gentiles, and to gather the kingdoms: and to pour upon them my indignation, all my fierce anger: ‖ for with the fire of my jealouſy ſhall all the earth be devoured.

9 Becauſe then I will reſtore to the people a choſen lip, that all may call upon the name of the Lord, and may ſerve him with one ſhoulder.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, ſhall my ſuppliants the children of my diſperſed people bring me an offering.

11 In that day thou ſhalt not be aſhamed for all thy doings, wherein thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt me: for then I will take away out of the midſt of thee thy proud boaſters, and thou ſhalt no more be lifted up becauſe of my holy mountain.

12 And I will leave in the midſt of thee a poor and needy people: and they ſhall hope in the name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Iſrael ſhall not do iniquity, nor ſpeak lies, nor ſhall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they ſhall feed, and ſhall lie down, and there ſhall be none to make them afraid.

14 Give praiſe, O daughter of Sion: ſhout, O Iſrael: be glad, and rejoice with all thy heart, O daughter of Jeruſalem.

15 The Lord hath taken away thy judgment, he hath turned away thy enemies: the king of Iſrael the Lord is in the midſt of thee, thou ſhalt fear evil no more.

16 In that day it ſhall be ſaid to Jeruſalem: Fear not: to Sion: Let not thy hands be weakened.

17 The Lord thy God in the midſt of thee is mighty, he will ſave: he will rejoice over thee with gladneſs, he will be ſilent in his love, he will be joyful over thee in praiſe.

18 The triflers that were departed from the law, I will gather together, becauſe they were of thee: that thou mayeſt no more ſuffer reproach for them.

19 Behold I will cut off all that have afflicted thee at that time: and I will ſave her that halteth, and will gather her that was caſt out: and I will get them praiſe, and a name, in all the land where they had been put to confuſion.

20 At that time, when I will bring you: and at the time that I will gather you: for I will give you a name, and praiſe among all the people of the earth, when I ſhall have brought back your captivity before your eyes, ſaith the Lord.

THE

PROPHECY OF AGGEUS.

AGGEUS, was one of thoſe that returned from the captivity of Babylon, in the firſt year of the reign of king Cyrus. He was ſent by the Lord in the ſecond year of the reign of king Darius, the ſon of Hyſtaſpes to exhort Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and Jeſus the high prieſt, to the building of the temple; which they had begun, but left off again through the oppoſition of the Samaritans. In conſequence of this exhortation they proceeded in the building and finiſhed the temple. And the prophet was commiſſioned by the Lord to aſſure them that this ſecond temple ſhould be more glorious than the former, becauſe the Meſſiah ſhould honour it with his preſence: ſignifying withal how much the church of the new teſtament ſhould excel that of the old teſtament.

CHAP. I.

The people are reproved for neglecting to build the temple. They are encouraged to ſet about the work.

1 Eſdr. 5. 1. * A. M. 3485. Ante C. 519. IN the ſecond year of Darius * the king, in the ſixth month, in the firſt day of the month, the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, to Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel, governor of Juda, and to Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt, ſaying:

2 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, ſaying: This people ſaith: The time is not yet come for building the houſe of the Lord.

3 And the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, ſaying:

4 Is it time for you to dwell in cieled houſes, and this houſe lie deſolate?

5 And now thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Set your hearts to conſider your ways.

† Deut. 28. 38. Micheas 6. 15. 6 ‖ You have ſowed much, and brought in little: you have eaten, but have not had enough: you have drunk, but have not been filled with drink: you have cloathed yourſelves, but have not been warmed: and he that hath earned wages, put them into a bag with holes.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Set your hearts upon your ways:

8 Go up to the mountain, bring timber, and build the houſe: and it ſhall be acceptable to me, and I ſhall be glorified, ſaith the Lord.

9 You have looked for more, and behold it became leſs, and you brought it home, and I blowed it away: why ſaith the Lord of hoſts? becauſe my houſe is deſolate, and you make haſte every man to his own houſe.

10 Therefore the heavens over you were ſtayed from giving dew, and the earth was hindered from yielding her fruits:

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon all that the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon beaſts, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 Then Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel, and Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt, and all the remnant of the people hearkened to the voice of the Lord their God, and to the words of Aggeus the prophet, as the Lord their God ſent him to them: and the people feared before the Lord.

13 And Aggeus the meſſenger of the Lord, as one of the meſſengers of the Lord, ſpoke, ſaying to the people: I am with you, ſaith the Lord.

14 And the Lord ſtirred up the ſpirit of Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel governor of Juda, and the ſpirit of Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt, and the ſpirit of all the reſt of the people: and they went in, and did the work in the houſe of the Lord of hoſts their God.

CHAP. II.

Chriſt by his coming ſhall make the latter temple more glorious than the former. The bleſſing of God ſhall reward their labour in building. God's promiſe to Zorobabel.

A. M. 3485. Ante C. 519. IN the four and twentieth day of the month, in the ſixth month, in the ſecond year of Darius the king they began.

2 And in the ſeventh month, the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, ſaying:

3 Speak to Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel the governor of Juda, and to Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt, and to the reſt of the people, ſaying:

4 Who is left among you, that ſaw this houſe in its firſt glory? and how do you ſee it now? is it not in compariſon to that as nothing in your eyes?

5 Yet now take courage, O Zorobabel, ſaith the Lord, and take courage, O Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt, and take courage, all ye people of the land, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: and perform (for I am with you, ſaith the Lord of hoſts)

6 The word that I covenanted with you when you came out of the land of Egypt: and my ſpirit ſhall be in the midſt of you: fear not.

‖ Heb. 12. 26. 7 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: ‖ Yet one little while, and I will move the heaven, and the earth, and the ſea, and the dry land.

8 And I will move all nations: AND THE DESIRED OF ALL NATIONS SHALL COME: and I will fill this houſe with glory: ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

9 The ſilver is mine, and the gold is mine, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

10 Great ſhall be the glory of this laſt houſe more than of the firſt, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: and in this place I will give peace, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

11 In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the ſecond year of Darius the king, the word of the Lord came to Aggeus the prophet, ſaying:

12 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Aſk the prieſts the law, ſaying:

13 If a man carry ſanctified fleſh in the ſkirt of his garment, and touch with his ſkirt, bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat: ſhall it be ſanctified? And the prieſts anſwered, and ſaid: No.

14 And Aggeus ſaid: If one that is unclean by occaſion of a ſoul touch any of all theſe things, ſhall it be defiled? And the prieſts anſwered, and ſaid: It ſhall be defiled.

15 And Aggeus anſwered, and ſaid: So is this people, and ſo is this nation before my face, ſaith the Lord, and ſo is all the work of their hands: and all that they have offered there, ſhall be defiled.

16 And now conſider in your hearts, from this day and upward, before there was a ſtone laid upon a ſtone in the temple of the Lord.

17 When you went to a heap of twenty buſhels, and they became ten: and you went into the preſs, to preſs out fifty veſſels, and they became twenty.

18 ‖ I ſtruck you with a blaſting wind, and all the works of your hand with the mildew and with hail, yet there was none among you that returned to me, ſaith the Lord. ‖ Amos 4. 9.

19 Set your hearts from this day, and henceforward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month: from the day that the foundations of the temple of the Lord were laid, and lay it up in your hearts.

20 Is the ſeed as yet ſprung up? or hath the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree as yet flouriſhed? from this day I will bleſs you.

21 And the word of the Lord came a ſecond time to Aggeus in the four and twentieth day of the month, ſaying:

22 Speak to Zorobabel the governor of Juda, ſaying: I will move both heaven and earth.

23 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and will deſtroy the ſtrength of the kingdom of the Gentiles: and I will overthrow the chariot, and him that rideth therein: and the horſes and their riders

CHAP. II. VER. 14. By occaſion of a ſoul. That is, by having touched the dead: in which caſe according to the preſcription of the law, Numb. xix. 13, 22, a perſon not only became unclean himſelf, but made every thing that he touched unclean. The prophet applies all this to the people, whoſe ſouls remained unclean by neglecting the temple of God; and therefore were not ſanctified by the fleſh they offered in ſacrifice: but rather defiled their ſacrifices by approaching to them in the ſtate of uncleanneſs.

shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will take thee, ‖ O Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, my servant, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet, for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.

‖ Eccli. 49. 13.

VER. 24. O Zorobabel. This promise principally relates to Christ, who was of the race of Zorobabel.

THE PROPHECY OF ZACHARIAS.

ZACHARIAS began to prophesy in the same year as Aggeus, and upon the same occasion. His prophecy is full of mysterious figures and promises of blessings, partly relating to the synagogue, and partly to the church of Christ.

CHAP. I.

The prophet exhorts the people to return to God, and declares his visions, by which he puts them in hopes of better times.

A. M. 3485. Ante C. 519. IN the eighth month, in the second year of king Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

2 The Lord hath been exceeding angry with your fathers.

3 And thou shalt say to them: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ‖ Turn ye to me, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will turn to you, saith the Lord of hosts.

‖ Isai. 21. 12. & 31. 6. & 45. 22. Jer. 3. 12. Ezec. 18. 30. & 20. 7. & 33. 11. Osee 14. 2. Joel 2. 12. Malach. 3. 7.

4 Be not as your fathers, to whom the former prophets have cried, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Turn ye from your evil ways, and from your wicked thoughts: but they did not give ear, neither did they hearken to me, saith the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, shall they live always?

6 But yet my words, and my ordinances, which I gave in charge to my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers, and they returned, and said: As the Lord of hosts thought to do to us according to our ways, and according to our devices, so he hath done to us.

7 In the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month which is called Sabath, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

8 I saw by night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees, that were in the bottom: and behind him were horses red, speckled, and white.

9 And I said: What are these, my Lord? and the Angel that spoke in me, said to me: I will shew thee what these are:

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered, and said: These are they, whom the Lord hath sent to walk through the earth.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord, that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said: We have walked through the earth, and behold all the earth is inhabited, and is at rest.

12 And the Angel of the the Lord answered, and said: O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of Juda, with which thou hast been angry? this is now the seventieth year.

CHAP. I. VER. 8. A man. An Angel in the shape of a man. It was probably St. Michael the guardian Angel of the church of God.

VER. 10. These are they, &c. The guardian Angels of provinces and nations.

VER. 12. The seventieth year, viz. From the beginning of the siege of Jerusalem, in the ninth year of king Sedecias, to the second year of the king Darius. These seventy years of the desolation of Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, are different from the seventy years of captivity foretold by Jeremias; which began in the fourth year of Joakim, and ended in the first year of king Cyrus.

13 And the Lord anſwered the Angel, that ſpoke in me, good words, comfortable words.

14 And the Angel that ſpoke in me, ſaid to me: Cry thou, ſaying: Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: ‖ I am zealous for Jeruſalem, and Sion with a great zeal.

‖ Infra 8. 2.

15 And I am angry with a great anger with the wealthy nations: For I was angry a little, but they helped forward the evil.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord: I will return to Jeruſalem in mercies: my houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: and the building line ſhall be ſtretched forth upon Jeruſalem.

17 Cry yet, ſaying: Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: My cities ſhall yet flow with good things: and the Lord will yet comfort Sion, and he will yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18 And I lifted up my eyes, and ſaw: and behold four horns.

19 And I ſaid to the angel that ſpoke to me: What are theſe? And he ſaid to me: Theſe are the horns that have ſcattered Juda, and Iſrael, and Jeruſalem.

20 And the Lord ſhewed me four ſmiths.

21 And I ſaid: What come theſe to do? and he ſpoke, ſaying: Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Juda every man apart, and none of them lifted up his head: and theſe are come to fray them, to caſt down the horns of the nations, that have lifted up the horn upon the land of Juda to ſcatter it.

CHAP. II.

Under the name of Jeruſalem, he propheſieth the progreſs of the church of Chriſt, by the converſion of ſome Jews and many Gentiles.

AND I lifted up my eyes, and ſaw, and behold a man, with a meaſuring line in his hand.

2 And I ſaid: Whither goeſt thou? and he ſaid to me: To meaſure Jeruſalem, and to ſee how great is the breadth thereof, and how great the length thereof.

3 And behold the angel that ſpoke in me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him.

4 And he ſaid to him: Run, ſpeak to this young man, ſaying: Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited without walls, by reaſon of the multitude of men, and of the beaſts in the midſt thereof.

5 And I will be to it, ſaith the Lord, a wall of fire round about: and I will be in glory in the midſt thereof.

6 O, O flee ye out of the land of the north, ſaith the Lord, for I have ſcattered you into the four winds of heaven, ſaith the Lord.

7 O Sion, flee thou that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: After the glory he hath ſent me to the nations that have robbed you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of my eye:

9 For behold I lift up my hand upon them, and they ſhall be a prey to thoſe that ſerved them: and you ſhall know that the Lord of hoſts ſent me.

10 Sing praiſe, and rejoice, O daughter of Sion: for behold I come, and I will dwell in the midſt of thee: ſaith the Lord.

11 And many nations ſhall be joined to the Lord in that day, and they ſhall be my people, and I will dwell in the midſt of thee: and thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me to thee.

12 And the Lord ſhall poſſeſs Juda his portion in the ſanctified land: and he ſhall yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

13 Let all fleſh be ſilent at the preſence of the Lord: for he is riſen up out of his holy habitation.

CHAP. III.

In a viſion ſatan appeareth accuſing the high-prieſt. He is cleanſed from his ſins. Chriſt is promiſed, and great fruit from his paſſion.

AND the Lord ſhewed me Jeſus the high prieſt ſtanding before the Angel of the Lord: and ſatan ſtood on his right hand, to be his adverſary.

2 And the Lord ſaid to ſatan: The Lord rebuke thee, O ſatan: and the Lord that choſe Jeruſalem rebuke thee: Is not this a brand pluckt out of the fire?

3 And Jeſus was clothed with filthy garments: and he ſtood before the face of the Angel.

4 Who anſwered, and ſaid to them that ſtood before him, ſaying: Take away the

VER. 18, 20. Four horns,—four ſmiths. The four horns repreſent the empires, or kingdoms, that perſecute and oppreſs the people of God: the four ſmiths or carpenters (for faber may ſignify either) repreſent thoſe whom God makes his inſtruments in bringing to nothing the power of perſecutors.

CHAP. II. VER. 4. Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited without walls. This muſt be underſtood of the ſpiritual Jeruſalem, the church of Chriſt.

CHAP. III. VER. 1. Jeſus, alias, Joſue the ſon of Joſedec the high prieſt of that time.

VER. 3. With filthy garments. Negligences and ſins.

filthy garments from him. And he ſaid to him: Behold I have taken away thy iniquity, and have clothed thee with change of garments.

5 And he ſaid: Put a clean mitre upon his head: and they put a clean mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments: and the Angel of the Lord ſtood.

6 And the Angel of the Lord proteſted to Jeſus, ſaying:

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and keep my charge, thou alſo ſhalt judge my houſe, and ſhalt keep my courts, and I will give thee ſome of them that are now preſent here to walk with thee.

8 Hear, O Jeſus thou high prieſt, thou and thy friends that dwell before thee, for they are portending men: for behold ‖ I WILL BRING MY SERVANT THE ORIENT.

‖ Luke 1. 78.

9 For behold the ſtone that I have laid before Jeſus: upon one ſtone there are ſeven eyes: behold I will grave the graving thereof, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: and I will take away the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, every man ſhall call his friend under the vine and under the fig-tree.

CHAP. IV.

The viſion of the golden candleſtick and ſeven lamps, and of the two olive-trees. Zorobabel ſhall finiſh the building of the temple.

AND the Angel that ſpoke in me came again: and he waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his ſleep.

2 And he ſaid to me: What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid: I have looked, and behold a candleſtick all of gold, and its lamp upon the top of it: and the ſeven lights thereof upon it: and ſeven funnels for the lights that were upon the top thereof.

3 And two olive-trees over it: one upon the right ſide of the lamp, and the other upon the left ſide thereof.

4 And I anſwered, and ſaid to the Angel that ſpoke in me, ſaying: What are theſe things, my lord?

5 And the Angel that ſpoke in me anſwered, and ſaid to me: Knoweſt thou not what theſe things are? And I ſaid: No, my lord.

6 And he anſwered, and ſpoke to me, ſaying: This is the word of the Lord to Zorobabel, ſaying: Not with an army, nor by might: but by my ſpirit, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

7 Who art thou, O great mountain, before Zorobabel? thou ſhalt become a plain: and he ſhall bring out the chief ſtone, and ſhall give equal grace to the grace thereof:

8 And the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying:

9 The hands of Zorobabel have laid the foundations of this houſe, and his hands ſhall finiſh it: and you ſhall know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me to you.

10 For who hath deſpiſed little days? and they ſhall rejoice, and ſhall ſee the tin plummet in the hand of Zorobabel. Theſe are the ſeven eyes of the Lord, that run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 And I anſwered, and ſaid to him: What are theſe two olive-trees upon the right ſide of the candleſtick, and upon the left ſide thereof?

12 And I anſwered again, and ſaid to him: What are the two olive branches, that are by the two golden beaks, in which are the funnels of gold?

13 And he ſpoke to me, ſaying: Knoweſt

VER. 7. I will give thee, &c. Angels to attend and aſſiſt thee.

VER. 8. Portending men. That is, men, who by words and actions are to foreſhew wonders that are to come

Ibid. My ſervant the Orient. Chriſt, who according to his humanity is the ſervant of God, is called the Orient, from his riſing like the ſun in the eaſt to enlighten the world.

VER. 9. The ſtone. Another emblem of Chriſt, the rock, foundation, and corner-ſtone of his church.

Ibid. Seven eyes. The manifold providence of Chriſt over his church, or the ſeven gifts of the Spirit of God.

Ibid. One day, viz. The day of the paſſion of Chriſt, the ſource of all our good: when this precious ſtone ſhall be graved that is cut and pierced, with whips, thorns, nails, and ſpear.

CHAP. IV. VER. 2. A candleſtick, &c. The temple of God that was then in building; and in a more ſublime ſenſe, the church of Chriſt.

VER. 6. To Zorobabel. This viſion was in favour of Zorobabel: to aſſure him of ſucceſs in the building of the temple, which he had begun, ſignified by the candleſtick; the lamp of which, without any other induſtry, was ſupplied with oil, dropping from the two olive trees, and diſtributed by the ſeven funnels or pipes, to maintain the ſeven lights.

VER. 7. Great mountain. So he calls the oppoſition made by the enemies of God's people: which nevertheleſs, without any army or might on their ſide, was quaſhed by divine providence.

Ibid. Shall give equal grace, &c. Shall add grace to grace, or beauty to beauty.

VER. 10. Little days. That is, theſe ſmall and feeble beginnings of the temple of God.

Ibid. The tin plummet. Literally, the ſtone of tin. He means the builder's plummet, which Zorobabel ſhall hold in his hand for the finiſhing the building.

Ibid. The ſeven eyes. The providence of God, that overſees and orders all things.

thou not what these are? And I said: No, my lord.

14 And he said: These are two sons of oil who stand before the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

The vision of the flying volume, and of the woman in the vessel.

AND I turned and lifted up my eyes: and I saw, and behold a volume flying:

2 And he said to me: What seest thou? And I said: I see a volume flying: the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 And he said to me: This is the curse, that goeth forth over the face of the earth: for every thief shall be judged as is there written: and every one that sweareth in like manner shall be judged by it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts: and it shall come to the house of the thief, and to the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and the stones thereof.

5 And the Angel went forth that spoke in me: and he said to me: Lift up thy eyes, and see what this is, that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said: This is a vessel going forth. And he said: This is their eye in all the earth.

7 And behold a talent of lead was carried, and behold a woman sitting in the midst of the vessel.

8 And he said: This is wickedness. And he cast her into the midst of the vessel, and cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 And I lifted up my eyes and looked: and behold there came out two women, and wind was in their wings, and they had wings like the wings of a kite: and they lifted up the vessel between the earth and the heaven.

10 And I said to the Angel that spoke in me: Whither do these carry the vessel?

11 And he said to me: That a house may built for it in the land of Sennaar, and that it may be established, and set there upon its own basis.

CHAP. VI.

The vision of the four chariots. Crowns are ordered for Jesus the high priest, as a type of Christ.

AND I turned, and lifted up my eyes, and saw: and behold four chariots came out from the midst of two mountains: and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses.

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot grisled horses, and strong ones.

4 And I answered, and said to the Angel that spoke in me: What are these, my lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and said to me: These are the four winds of the heaven, which go forth to stand before the Lord of all the earth.

6 That, in which were the black horses, went forth into the land of the north, and the white went forth after them: and the grisled went forth to the land of the south.

7 And they that were most strong, went out, and sought to go, and to run to and fro through all the earth. And he said: Go walk throughout the earth: and they walked throughout the earth.

8 And he called me, and spoke to me saying: Behold they that go forth into the land of the north, have quieted my spirit in the land of the north.

9 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

10 Take of them of the captivity, of Holdai, and of Tobias, and of Idaias;

VER. 14. Two sons of oil. That is, the two anointed ones of the Lord: viz. Jesus the high priest, and Zorobabel the prince.

CHAP. V. VER. 1. A volume. That is, a parchment, according to the form of the ancient books, which from being rolled up, were called volumes.

VER. 6. This is their eye. This is what they fix their eye upon: or this is a resemblance and figure of them, viz. of sinners.

VER. 11. The land of Sennaar. Where Babel or Babylon was built, Gen. xi. where note that Babylon in holy writ is often taken for the city of the devil; that is, for the whole congregation of the wicked: as Jerusalem is taken for the city and people of God.

CHAP. VI. VER. 1. Four chariots. The four great empires of the Chaldeans, Persians, Grecians, and Romans. Or perhaps by the fourth chariot are represented the kings of Egypt and of Asia, the descendants of Ptolemeus and Seleucus.

VER. 6. The land of the north. So Babylon is called; because it lay to the north in respect of Jerusalem. The black horses, that is, the Medes and Persians; and after them Alexander and his Greeks, signified by the white horses, went thither because they conquered Babylon, executed upon it the judgments of God, which is signified ver. 8. by the expression of quieting his spirit.

Ibid. The land of the south. Egypt, which lay to the south of Jerusalem, and was occupied first by Ptolemeus, and then by the Romans.

thou shalt come in that day, and shalt go into the house of Josias, the son of Sophonias, who came out of Babylon.

11 And thou shalt take gold and silver: and shalt make crowns, and thou shalt set them on the head of Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest.

12 And thou shalt speak to him, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: BEHOLD A MAN THE ORIENT IS HIS NAME: and under him shall he spring up, and shall build a temple to the Lord. ‖ Luke 1. 78.

13 Yea, he shall build a temple to the Lord: and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit, and rule upon his throne: and he shall be a priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Helem, and Tobias, and Idaias, and to Hem, the son of Sophonias, a memorial in the temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are far off, shall come and shall build in the temple of the Lord: and you shall know that the Lord of hosts sent me to you. But this shall come to pass, if hearing you will hear the voice of the Lord your God.

CHAP. VII.

The people enquire concerning fasting: they are admonished to fast from sin.

A. M. 3487. AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Casleu.

2 When Sarasar, and Rogommelech, and the men that were with him, sent to the house of God, to entreat the face of the Lord:

3 To speak to the priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying: Must I weep in the fifth month, or must I sanctify myself as I have now done for many years?

4 And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

5 Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying: ‖ When you fasted, and mourned in the fifth and the seventh monthfor these seventy years: did you keep a fast unto me? ‖ Isai. 58. 5.

6 And when you did eat and drink, did you not eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7 Are not these the words, which the Lord spoke by the hand of the former prophets, when Jerusalem as yet was inhabited, and was wealthy, both itself and the cities round about it, and there were inhabitants towards the south, and in the plain?

8 And the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, saying:

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: ‖ Judge ye true judgment, and shew ye mercy, and compassion every man to his brother. ‖ Mich. 6. 8. Matt. 23. 23.

10 ‡ And oppress not the widow, and the fatherless, and the stranger, and the poor: and let not a man devise evil in his heart against his brother. ‡ Exod. 22. 22. Isai. 1. 23. Jer. 5. 28.

11 But they would not hearken, and they turned away the shoulder to depart: and they stopped their ears, not to hear.

12 And they made their heart as the adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the Lord of hosts sent in his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: so a great indignation came from the Lord of hosts.

13 And it came to pass that as he spoke, and they heard not: so shall they cry, and I will not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 And I dispersed them throughout all kingdoms, which they know not: and the land was left desolate behind them, so that no man passed through or returned: and they changed the delightful land into a wilderness.

CHAP. VIII.

Joyful promises to Jerusalem: fully verified in the church of Christ.

AND the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I have been jealous for Sion with a great jealousy, and with a great indignation have I been jealous for her.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I am returned to Sion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called the City of Truth, and the Mountain of the Lord of hosts, the sanctified Mountain.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem: and every man with his staff in his hand through multitude of days.

VER. 13. Between them both. That is, he shall unite in himself the two offices or dignities of king and priest.

CHAP. VII. VER. 3. The fifth month. They fasted on the tenth day of the fifth month; because on that day the temple was burnt. Therefore they enquire whether they are to continue that fast, after the temple is rebuilt. See this query answered in the 19th verse of the following chapter.

5 And the ſtreets of the city ſhall be full of boys, and girls playing in the ſtreets thereof.

6 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: If it ſeem hard in the eyes of the remnant of this people in thoſe days: ſhall it be hard in my eyes, ſaith the Lord of hoſts?

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Behold I will ſave my people from the land of the eaſt, and from the land of the going down of the ſun.

8 And I will bring them, and they ſhall dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and in juſtice.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Let your hands be ſtrengthened, you that hear in theſe days theſe words by the mouth of the prophets, in the day, that the houſe of the Lord of hoſts was founded, that the temple might be built.

10 For before thoſe days there was no hire for men, neither was there hire for beaſts, neither was there peace to him that came in, nor to him that went out becauſe of the tribulation: and I let all men go every one againſt his neighbour.

11 But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people according to the former days, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

12 But there ſhall be the ſeed of peace: the vine ſhall yield her fruit, and the earth ſhall give her increaſe, and the heavens ſhall give their dew: and I will cauſe the remnant of this people to poſſeſs all theſe things.

13 And it ſhall come to paſs, that as you were a curſe among the Gentiles, O houſe of Juda, and houſe of Iſrael: ſo will I ſave you, and you ſhall be a bleſſing: fear not, let your hands be ſtrengthened.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: As I purpoſed to afflict you, when your fathers had provoked me to wrath, ſaith the Lord,

15 And I had no mercy: ſo turning again I have thought in theſe days to do good to the houſe of Juda, and Jeruſalem: fear not.

16 Theſe then are the things, which you ſhall do: ‖ Speak ye truth every one to his neighbour: judge ye truth and judgment of peace in your gates. ‖ Eph. 4. 25.

17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts againſt his friend: and love not a falſe oath: for all theſe are the things that I hate, ſaith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hoſts came to me, ſaying:

19 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: The faſt of the fourth month, and the faſt of the fifth, and the faſt of the ſeventh, and the faſt of the tenth ſhall be to the houſe of Juda, joy, and gladneſs, and great ſolemnities; only love ye truth and peace.

20 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, until people come, and dwell in many cities,

21 And the inhabitants go one to another, ſaying: Let us go, and entreat the face of the Lord, and let us ſeek the Lord of hoſts: I alſo will go.

22 And many peoples, and ſtrong nations ſhall come to ſeek the Lord of hoſts in Jeruſalem, and to entreat the face of the Lord.

23 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: In thoſe days, wherein ten men of all languages of the Gentiles ſhall take hold, and ſhall hold faſt the ſkirt of one that is a Jew, ſaying: We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAP. IX.

God will defend his church, and bring over even her enemies to the faith. The meek coming of Chriſt, to bring peace, to deliver the captives by his blood, and to give us all good things.

THE burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadrach, and of Damaſcus the reſt thereof: for the eye of man, and of all the tribes of Iſrael is the Lord's.

2 Emath alſo in the borders thereof, and Tyre, and Sidon: for they have taken to themſelves to be exceeding wiſe.

3 And Tyre hath built herſelf a ſtrong hold, and heaped together ſilver as earth, and gold as the mire of the ſtreets.

4 Behold the Lord ſhall poſſeſs her, and ſhall ſtrike her ſtrength in the ſea, and ſhe ſhall be devoured with fire.

5 Aſcalon ſhall ſee, and ſhall fear, and Gaza, and ſhall be very ſorrowful: and Accaron, becauſe her hope is confounded: and the king ſhall periſh from Gaza, and Aſcalon ſhall not be inhabited.

6 And the divider ſhall ſit in Azotus, and I will deſtroy the pride of the Philiſtines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: and even he ſhall be left to our God, and he ſhall be as a governor in Juda, and Accaron as a Jebuſite.

8 And I will encompaſs my houſe with them that ſerve me in war, going and returning, and the oppreſſor ſhall no more paſs through them: for now I have ſeen with my eyes.

9 ‖ Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Sion, ſhout for joy, O daughter of Jeruſalem: BEHOLD THY KING will come to thee, the juſt and ſaviour: he is poor, and riding upon an aſs, and upon a colt the foal of an aſs. ‖ Iſaia. 62. 11. Matt. 21. 5.

10 And I will deſtroy the chariot out of Ephraim, and the horſe out of Jeruſalem, and the bow for war ſhall be broken: and he ſhall ſpeak peace to the Gentiles, and his power ſhall be from ſea to ſea, and from the rivers even to the end of the earth.

11 Thou alſo by the blood of thy teſtament haſt ſent forth thy priſoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

12 Return to the ſtrong hold, ye priſoners of hope, I will render thee double as I declare to-day.

13 Becauſe I have bent Juda for me as a bow, I have filled Ephraim: and I will raiſe up thy ſons, O Sion, above thy ſons, O Greece, and I will make thee as the ſword of the mighty.

14 And the Lord God ſhall be ſeen over them, and his dart ſhall go forth as lightning: and the Lord God will ſound the trumpet, and go in the whirlwind of the ſouth.

15 The Lord of hoſts will protect them: and they ſhall devour, and ſubdue with the ſtones of the ſling: and drinking they ſhall be inebriated as it were with wine, and they ſhall be filled as bowls, and as the horns of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God will ſave them in that day, as the flock of his people: for holy ſtones ſhall be lifted up over his land.

17 For what is the good thing of him, and what is his beautiful thing, but the corn of the elect, and wine ſpringing forth virgins?

CHAP. X.

God is to be ſought to, and not idols. The victories of his church, which ſhall ariſe originally from the Jewiſh nation.

ASK ye of the Lord rain in the latter ſeaſon, and the Lord will make ſnows, and will give them ſhowers of rain, to every one graſs in the field.

2 For the idols have ſpoken what was unprofitable, and the diviners have ſeen a lie, and the dreamers have ſpoke vanity: they comforted in vain: therefore they were led away as a flock: they ſhall be afflicted, becauſe they have no ſhepherd.

3 My wrath is kindled againſt the ſhepherds, and I will viſit upon the buck-goats: for the Lord of hoſts hath viſited his flock, the houſe of Juda, and hath made them as the horſe of his glory in the battle.

4 Out of him ſhall come forth the corner, out of him the pin, out of him the bow of battle, out of him every exactor together.

5 And they ſhall be as mighty men, treading under foot the mire of the ways in battle: and they ſhall fight, becauſe the Lord is with them: and the riders of horſes ſhall be confounded.

6 And I will ſtrengthen the houſe of Juda, and ſave the houſe of Joſeph: and I will bring them back again, becauſe I will have mercy on them: and they ſhall be as they were when I had caſt them off, for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them.

7 And they ſhall be as the valiant men of Ephraim, and their heart ſhall rejoice as through wine: and their children ſhall ſee, and ſhall rejoice, and their heart ſhall be joyful in the Lord.

8 I will whiſtle for them, and I will gather them together, becauſe I have redeemed them: and I will multiply them as they were multiplied before.

And I will ſow them among peoples: and from afar they ſhall remember me: and

VER. 7. His blood. It is ſpoken of the Philiſtines, and particularly of Azotus, (where the temple of Dagon was) and contains a prophecy of the converſion of that people from their bloody ſacrifices and abominations to the worſhip of the true God.

VER. 8. That ſerve me in war, viz. The Machabees.

VER. 13. Thy ſons, O Sion, &c. viz. The apoſtles, who, in the ſpiritual way, conquered the Greeks, and ſubdued them to Chriſt.

VER. 16. Holy ſtones. The apoſtles, who ſhall be as pillars and monuments in the church.

VER. 17. The corn, &c. His moſt excellent gift is the bleſſed Euchariſt, called here the corn, that is, the bread of the elect, and the wine ſpringing forth virgins; that is, maketh virgins to bud, or ſpring forth, as it were, like flowers among thorns; becauſe it has a wonderful efficacy to give and preſerve purity.

they shall live with their children, and shall return.

10 And I will bring them back out of the land of Egypt, and will gather them from among the Assyrians: and will bring them to the land of Galaad, and Libanus, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he shall pass over the strait of the sea, and shall strike the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the river shall be confounded, ‖ and the pride of Assyria shall be humbled, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart.

‖ Apoc. 16. 12. Isai. 11. 15.

12 I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk in his name: saith the Lord.

CHAP. XI.

The destruction of Jerusalem and the temple. God's dealings with the Jews, and their reprobation.

OPEN thy gates, O Libanus, and let fire devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, thou fir-tree, for the cedar is fallen, for the mighty are laid waste: howl, ye oaks of Basan, because the fenced forest is cut down.

3 The voice of the howling of the shepherds, because their glory is laid waste: the voice of the roaring of the lions, because the pride of the Jordan is spoiled.

4 Thus saith the Lord my God: Feed the flock of the slaughter,

5 Which they that possessed, slew, and repented not, and they sold them, saying: Blessed be the Lord, we are become rich: and their shepherds spared them not.

6 And I will no more spare the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord: behold I will deliver the men, every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall destroy the land, and I will not deliver it out of their hand.

7 And I will feed the flock of slaughter for this, O ye poor of the flock. And I took unto me two rods, one I called Beauty, and the other I called a Cord: and I fed the flock.

8 And I cut off three shepherds in one month, and my soul was straitened in their regard: for their soul also varied in my regard.

9 And I said: I will not feed you: that which dieth, let it die: and that which is cut off, let it be cut off: and let the rest devour every one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I took my rod that was called Beauty, and I cut it asunder to make void my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was made void in that day: and so the poor of the flock that keep for me, understood that it is the word of the Lord.

12 And I said to them: If it be good in your eyes, bring hither my wages: and if not, be quiet. ‖ And they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver. ‖ Matt. 27. 9.

13 And the Lord said to me: Cast it to the statuary, a handsome price, that I was priced at by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver: and I cast them into the house of the Lord to the statuary.

14 And I cut off my second rod that was called a Cord, that I might break the brotherhood between Juda and Israel.

15 And the Lord said to me: Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For behold I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who shall not visit what is forsaken, nor seek what is scattered, nor heal what is broken, nor nourish that which standeth, and he shall eat the flesh of the fat ones, and break their hoofs.

17 O shepherd, and idol, that forsaketh the flock: the sword upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall quite wither away, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAP. XI. VER. 1. O Libanus. So Jerusalem, and more particularly the temple, is called by the prophets, from its height, and from its being built of the cedars of Libanus.

Ibid. Thy cedars. Thy princes and chief men.

VER. 6. Every one into his neighbour's hand, &c. This alludes to the last siege of Jerusalem; in which the different factions of the Jews destroyed one another; and they that remained fell into the hands of their king, that is of the Roman emperor, of whom they had said, St. John xiv. 15. We have no king but Cesar.

VER. 7. Two rods. Or shepherds staves, meaning the different ways of God's dealing with his people; the one by sweet means, called the rod of Beauty: the other by bands and punishments, called the Cord. And where both these rods are made of no use or effect by the obstinacy of sinners, the rods are broken, and such sinners are given up to a reprobate sense, as the Jews were.

VER. 8. Three shepherds in one month. That is, in a very short time. By these three shepherds probably are meant the latter princes and high priests of the Jews, whose reign was short.

VER. 13. The statuary. The Hebrew word signifies also a potter.

VER. 15. A foolish shepherd. This was to represent the foolish, that is, the wicked princes and priests that should rule the people, before their utter desolation.

CHAP. XII.

God shall protect his church against her persecutors. The mourning of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the Lord upon Israel. Thus saith the Lord, who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundations of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man in him:

2 Behold I will make Jerusalem a lintel of surfeiting to all the people round about: and Juda also shall be in the siege against Jerusalem.

3 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone to all people: all that shall lift it up shall be rent and torn: and all the kingdoms of the earth shall be gathered together against her.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will strike every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open my eyes upon the house of Juda, and will strike every horse of the nations with blindness.

5 And the governors of Juda shall say in their heart: Let the inhabitants of Jerusalem be strengthened for me in the Lord of hosts, their God.

6 In that day I will make the governors of Juda like a furnace of fire amongst wood, and as a firebrand amongst hay: and they shall devour all the people round about, to the right hand, and to the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place in Jerusalem.

7 And the Lord shall save the tabernacles of Juda, as in the beginning; that the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, may not boast and magnify themselves against Juda.

8 In that day shall the Lord protect the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that hath offended among them in that day shall be as David: and the house of David, as that of God, as an Angel of the Lord in their sight.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour out upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace, and of prayers: ‖ and they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him as one mourneth for an only son, and they shall grieve over him, as the manner is to grieve for the death of the first-born. ‖ John 19. 37.

11 In that day there shall be a great lamentation in Jerusalem, ‖ like the lamentation of Adadremmon in the plain of Mageddon. ‖ 2 Par. 35. 22.

12 And the land shall mourn: families and families apart: the families of the house of David apart, and their women apart:

13 The families of the house of Nathan apart, and their women apart: the families of the house of Levi apart, and their women apart: the families of Semei apart, and their women apart.

14 All the rest of the families, families and families apart, and their women apart.

CHAP. XIII.

The fountain of Christ. Idols and false prophets shall be extirpated. Christ shall suffer: his people shall be tried by fire.

IN that day there shall be a fountain open to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem: for the washing of the sinner, and of the unclean woman.

2 ‖ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will destroy the names of idols out of the earth, and they shall be remembered no more: and I will take away the false prophets, and the unclean spirit out of the earth. ‖ Ezec. 30. 13.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any man shall prophesy any more, his father and his mother that brought him into the world, shall say to him: Thou shalt not live: because thou hast spoken a lie in the name of the Lord. And his father, and his mother, his parents shall trust him through, when he shall prophesy.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be confounded, every one by his own vision, when he shall prophesy, neither shall they be clad with a garment of sackcloth, to deceive:

5 But he shall say: I am no prophet, I am a husbandman: for Adam is my example from my youth.

6 And they shall say to him: What are these wounds in the midst of thy hands?

CHAP. XII. VER. 2. A lintel of surfeiting. That is, a door into which they shall seek to enter, to glut themselves with blood: but they shall stumble, and fall like men stupified with wine. It seems to allude to the times of Antiochus, and to the victories of the Machabees.

VER. 11. Adadremmon. A place near Mageddon, where the good king Josias was slain, and much lamented by his people.

And he ſhall ſay: With theſe I was wounded in the houſe of them that loved me.

7 Awake, O ſword, againſt my ſhepherd, and againſt the man that cleaveth to me, ſaith the Lord of hoſts: ‖ ſtrike the ſhepherd, and the ſheep ſhall be ſcattered: and I will turn my hand to the little ones.

‖ Mat. 26. 31. Mark 14. 27.

8 And there ſhall be in all the earth, ſaith the Lord, two parts in it ſhall be ſcattered, and ſhall periſh: but the third part ſhall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as ſilver is refined: and I will try them as gold is tried. They ſhall call on my name, and I will hear them. I will ſay: Thou art my people: and they ſhall ſay: The Lord is my God.

CHAP. XIV.

After the perſecutions of the church ſhall follow great proſperity. Perſecutors ſhall be puniſhed: ſo ſhall all that will not ſerve God in his church.

BEHOLD the days of the Lord ſhall come, and thy ſpoils ſhall be divided in the midſt of thee.

2 And I will gather all nations to Jeruſalem to battle, and the city ſhall be taken, and the houſes ſhall be rifled, and the women ſhall be defiled: and half of the city ſhall go forth into captivity, and the reſt of the people ſhall not be taken away out of the city.

3 Then the Lord ſhall go forth, and ſhall fight againſt thoſe nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 And his feet ſhall ſtand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is over-againſt Jeruſalem toward the eaſt: and the mount of Olives ſhall be divided in the midſt thereof to the eaſt, and to the weſt with a very great opening, and half of the mountain ſhall be ſeparated to the north, and half thereof to the the ſouth.

5 And you ſhall flee to the valley of thoſe mountains, for the valley of the mountains ſhall be joined even to the next and you ſhall flee ‖ as you fled from the face of the earthquake in the days of Ozias king of Juda: and the Lord my God ſhall come, and all the ſaints with him.

6 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that there ſhall be no light, but cold and froſt.

7 And there ſhall be one day, which is known to the Lord, not day nor night: and in the time of the evening there ſhall be light,

8 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that living waters ſhall go out from Jeruſalem: half of them to the eaſt ſea, and half of them to the laſt ſea: they ſhall be in ſummer and in winter.

9 And the Lord ſhall be king over all the earth: in that day there ſhall be one Lord, and his name ſhall be one.

10 And all the land ſhall return even to the deſert, from the hill to Remmon to the ſouth of Jeruſalem: and ſhe ſhall be exalted, and ſhall dwell in her own place, from the gate of Benjamin even to the place of the former gate, and even to the gate of the corners: and from the tower of Hananeel even to the king's wine-preſſes.

11 And people ſhall dwell in it, and there ſhall be no more an anathema: but Jeruſalem ſhall ſit ſecure.

12 And this ſhall be the plague, wherewith the Lord ſhall ſtrike all nations that have fought againſt Jeruſalem: the fleſh of every one ſhall conſume away while they ſtand upon their feet, and their eyes ſhall conſume away in their holes, and their tongue ſhall conſume away in their mouth.

13 In that day there ſhall be a great tumult from the Lord among them: and a man ſhall take the hand of his neighbour, and his hand ſhall be claſped upon his neighbour's hand.

14 And even Juda ſhall fight againſt Jeruſalem: and the riches of all nations round about ſhall be gathered together, gold, and ſilver, and garments in great abundance.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 2. I will gather, &c. This ſeems to be a prophecy of what was done by Antiochus.

VER. 6, No light, viz. In that diſmal time of perſecution of Antiochus, when it was neither day, nor night: (ver. 7.) becauſe they neither had the comfortable light of the day, nor the repoſe of the night.

VER. 7. In the time of the evening there ſhall be light. An unexpected light ſhall ariſe by the means of the Machabees, when things ſhall ſeem to be at the worſt.

VER. 8. Living waters, viz. The goſpel of Chriſt.

VER. 10. All the Land ſhall return, &c. This, in ſome meaſure, was verified by the means of the Machabees: but is rather to be taken in a ſpiritual ſenſe, as relating to the propagation of the church and kingdom of Chriſt, the true Jeruſalem, which alone ſhall never fall under the anathema of deſtruction, or God's curſe.

VER. 12. The fleſh of every one ſhall conſume, &c. Such judgments as theſe have often fallen upon the perſecutors of God's church, as appears by many inſtances in hiſtory.

VER. 14. Even Juda, &c. The carnal Jews, and other falſe brothers, ſhall join in perſecuting the church.

15 And the deſtruction of the horſe, and of the mule, and of the camel, and of the aſs, and of all the beaſts, that ſhall be in thoſe tents, ſhall be like this deſtruction.

16 And all they that ſhall be left of all nations that came againſt Jeruſalem, ſhall go up from year to year, to adore the King, the Lord of hoſts, and to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

17 And it ſhall come to paſs, that he that ſhall not go up of the families of the land to Jeruſalem, to adore the King, the Lord of hoſts, there ſhall be no rain upon them.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, nor come: neither ſhall it be upon them, but there ſhall be deſtruction, wherewith the Lord will ſtrike all nations that will not go up to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

19 This ſhall be the ſin of Egypt, and this the ſin of all nations, that will not go up to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 In that day that which is upon the bridle of the horſe ſhall be holy to the Lord: and the cauldrons in the houſe of the Lord ſhall be as the phials before the altar.

21 And every cauldron in Jeruſalem and Juda ſhall be ſanctified to the Lord of hoſts: and all that ſacrifice, ſhall come, and take of them, and ſhall ſeeth in them: and the merchant ſhall be no more in the houſe of the Lord of hoſts in that day.

VER. 15. Shall be like this deſtruction. That is, the beaſts ſhall be deſtroyed as well as the men: the common ſoldiers as well as their leaders.

VER. 16. They that ſhall be left, &c. That is, many of them that perſecuted the church ſhall be converted to its faith and communion.

Ibid. To keep the feaſt of tabernacles. This feaſt was kept by the Jews in memory of their ſojourning forty years in the deſert, in their way to the land of promiſe. And in the ſpiritual ſenſe is duly kept by all ſuch chriſtians as in their earthly pilgrimage are continually advancing towards their true home, the heavenly Jeruſalem; by the help of the ſacraments and ſacrifice of the church. And they that neglect this muſt not look for the kind ſhowers of divine grace, to give fruitfulneſs to their ſouls.

VER. 20. That which is upon the bridle, &c. The golden ornaments of the bridles, &c. ſhall be turned into offerings in the houſe of God. And there ſhall be an abundance of cauldrons and phials for the ſacrifices of the temple: by which is meant, under a figure, the great reſort there ſhall be to the temple, that is, to the church of Chriſt, and her ſacrifice.

VER. 21. The merchant ſhall be no more, &c. Or, as ſome render it, The Chananite ſhall be no more, &c. that is, the profane and unbelievers ſhall have no title to be in the houſe of the Lord. Or there ſhall be no occaſion for buyers or ſellers of oxen, or ſheep, or doves, in the houſe of God, ſuch as Jeſus Chriſt caſt out of the temple.

THE PROPHECY OF MALACHIAS.

MALACHIAS, whose name signifies the Angel of the Lord, was cotemporary with NEHEMIAS, and by some is believed to have been the same person with ESDRAS. He was the last of the prophets, in the order of time, and flourished about four hundred years before Christ. He foretels the coming of Christ; the reprobation of the Jews and their sacrifices; and the calling of the Gentiles, who shall offer up to God in every place an acceptable sacrifice.

CHAP. I.

God reproaches the Jews with their ingratitude: and the priests for not offering pure sacrifices. He will accept of the sacrifice that shall be offered in every place among the Gentiles.

A. M. circiter 3604. Ante C. 400.

THE burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by the hand of Malachias.

2 I have loved you, saith the Lord: and you have said: Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau brother to Jacob, saith the Lord, and ‖ I have loved Jacob,

‖ Rom. 9. 13.

3 But have hated Esau? and I have made his mountains a wilderness, and given his inheritance to the dragons of the desert.

4 But if Edom shall say: We are destroyed, but we will return and build up what hath been destroyed: thus saith the Lord of hosts: They shall build up, and I will throw down: and they shall be called the borders of wickedness, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see: and you shall say: The Lord be magnified upon the border of Israel.

6 The son honoureth the father, and the servant his master: if then I be a father, where is my honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear: saith the Lord of hosts?

7 To you, O priests, that despise my name, and have said: Wherein have we despised thy name? You offer polluted bread upon my altar: and you say: Wherein have we polluted thee? In that you say: The table of the Lord is contemptible.

8 If you offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if you offer the lame and the sick, is it not evil? offer it to thy prince, if he will be pleased with it, or if he will regard thy face, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 And now beseech ye the face of God, that he may have mercy on you (for by your hand hath this been done) if by any means he will receive your faces, saith the Lord of hosts.

10 Who is there among you, that will shut the doors, and will kindle the fire on my altar gratis? I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will not receive a gift of your hand.

‖ Psal. 112. 3.

11 ‖ For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean oblation: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 And you have profaned it in that you say: The table of the Lord is defiled: and

CHAP. I. VER. 2. I have loved Jacob, &c. I have preferred his posterity, to make them my chosen people, and to load them with my blessings, without any merit on their part, and though they have been always ungrateful; whilst I have rejected Esau, and executed severe judgments upon his posterity. Not that God punished Esau, or his posterity, beyond their deserts: but that by his free election and grace he loved Jacob, and favoured his posterity, above their deserts. See the annotations upon: Rom. ix.

VER. 11. A clean oblation, viz. The precious body and blood of Christ in the eucharistic sacrifice.

that which is laid thereupon, is contemptible, with the fire that devoureth it.

13 And you have said: Behold of our labour, and you puffed it away, saith the Lord of hosts, and you brought in of rapine the lame, and the sick, and brought in an offering: shall I accept it at your hands, saith the Lord?

14 Cursed is the deceitful man, that hath in his flock a male, and making a vow offereth in sacrifice that which is feeble to the Lord: for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the Gentiles.

CHAP. II.

The priests are sharply reproved for neglecting their covenant. The evil of marrying with idolaters; and too easily putting away their wives.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is to you.

2 ‖ If you will not hear, and if you will not lay it to heart, to give glory to my name, saith the Lord of hosts: I will send poverty upon you, and will curse your blessings, yea I will curse them: because you have not laid it to heart. ‖ Lev. 26. 14. Deut. 28. 15.

3 Behold, I will cast the shoulder to you, and I will scatter upon your face the dung of your solemnities, and it shall take you away with it.

4 And you shall know that I sent you this commandment, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

5 My covenant was with him of life and peace: and I gave him fear: and he feared me, and he was afraid before my name.

6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace, and in equity, and turned many away from iniquity.

7 For the lips of the priest shall keep knowledge, and they shall seek the law at his mouth: because he is the Angel of the Lord of hosts.

8 But you have departed out of the way, and have caused many to stumble at the law: you have made void the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible, and base before all people, as you have not kept my ways, and have accepted persons in the law.

10 ‖ Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why then doth every one of us despise his brother, violating the covenant of our fathers? ‖ Mat. 23. 9. Eph. 4. 6.

11 Juda hath transgressed, and abomination hath been committed in Israel, and in Jerusalem: for Juda hath profaned the holiness of the Lord, which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will cut off the man that hath done this, both the master, and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering to the Lord of hosts.

13 And this again have you done, you have covered the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping, and bellowing, so that I have no more a regard to sacrifice, neither do I accept any atonement at your hands.

14 And you have said: For what cause? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee, and the wife of thy youth, whom thou hast despised: yet she was thy partner, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 Did not one make her, and she is the residue of his spirit? And what doth one seek, but the seed of God? Keep then your spirit, and despise not the wife of thy youth.

16 When thou shalt hate her, put her away, saith the Lord the God of Israel: but iniquity shall cover his garment, saith the Lord of hosts, keep your spirit, and despise not.

17 You have wearied the Lord with your words: and you said: Wherein have we wearied him? In that you say: Every one that doth evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and such please him: or surely where is the God of judgment?

CHAP. III.

Christ shall come to his temple, and purify the priesthood. They that continue in their evil ways shall be punished: but true penitents shall receive a blessing.

BEHOLD I send my Angel, and he shall prepare the way before my face. And Mat. 11. 10. Mark 1. 2. Luke 1. 17. & 7. 27.

VER. 13. Behold of our labour, &c. You pretended labour and weariness, when you brought your offering; and so made it of no value, by offering it with an evil mind. Moreover what you offered was both defective in itself, and gotten by rapine and extortion.

CHAP. II. VER. 3. I will cast the shoulder to you. I will cast away the shoulder, which in the law was appointed to be your portion, and fling it at you in my anger: and will reject both you and your festivals like dung.

VER. 7. The Angel, viz. The minister and messenger.

VER. 13. With tears, viz. By occasion of your wives, whom you have put away: and who came to weep and lament before the altar.

VER. 16. Iniquity shall cover his garment, viz. Of every man that putteth away his wife without just cause: notwithstanding that God permitted it in the law, to prevent the evil of murder.

CHAP. III. VER. 1. My Angel, viz. John the Baptist, the messenger of God, and fore-runner of Christ.

presently the Lord whom you seek, and the Angel of the testament, whom you desire, shall come to his temple. Behold he cometh, saith the Lord of hosts:

2 And who shall be able to think of the day of his coming? and who shall stand to see him? for he is like a refining fire, and like the fullers herb:

3 And he shall sit refining and cleansing the silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and shall refine them as gold, and as silver, and they shall offer sacrifices to the Lord in justice.

4 And the sacrifice of Juda and of Jerusalem shall please the Lord, as in the days of old, and in the ancient years.

5 And I will come to you in judgment, and will be a speedy witness against sorcerers, and adulterers, and false swearers, and them that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widows, and the fatherless: and oppress the stranger, and have not feared me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 For I am the Lord, and I change not: and you the sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7 For from the days of your fathers you have departed from my ordinances, and have not kept them: ‖ Return to me, and I will return to you, saith the Lord of hosts. And you have said: Wherein shall we return?

‖ Zach. 1. 2.

8 Shall a man afflict God, for you afflict me? And you have said: Wherein do we afflict thee? In tythes and in first fruits.

9 And you are cursed with want, and you afflict me even the whole nation of you.

10 Bring all the tythes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, and try me in this, saith the Lord: if I open not unto you the flood-gates of heaven, and pour you out a blessing even to abundance,

11 And I will rebuke for your sakes the devourer, and he shall not spoil the fruit of your land: neither shall the vine in the field be barren, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for you shall be a delightful land, saith the Lord of hosts.

‖ John 21. 14.

13 ‖ Your words hath been unsufferable to me, saith the Lord.

14 And you have said: What have we spoken against thee? You have said: He laboureth in vain that serveth God, and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinances, and that we have walked sorrowful before the Lord of hosts?

15 Wherefore now we call the proud people happy, for they that work wickedness are built up, and they have tempted God and are preserved.

16 Then they that feared the Lord spoke every one with his neighbour: and the Lord gave ear, and heard it: and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that fear the Lord, and think on his name.

17 And they shall be my special possession, saith the Lord of hosts, in the day that I do judgment: and I will spare them, as a man spareth his son that serveth him.

18 And you shall return, and shall see the difference between the just and the wicked: and between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

CHAP. IV.

The judgment of the wicked, and reward of the just. An exhortation to observe the law. Elias shall come for the conversion of the Jews.

FOR behold the day shall come kindled as a furnace: and all the proud, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall set them on fire, saith the Lord of hosts, it shall not leave them root, nor branch.

2 ‖ But unto you that fear my name the Sun of justice shall arise, and health in his wings: and you shall go forth, and shall leap like calves of the herd.

‖ Luke 1. 78.

3 And you shall tread down the wicked, when they shall be ashes under the sole of your feet in the day, that I do this, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 ‖ Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded him in Horeb for all Israel, the precepts, and judgments.

‖ Exod. 20. Deut. 4. 5. & 6.

5 † Behold I will send you Elias the prophet, before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord.

† Mat. 17. 10. Mark 9. 10 Luke 1. 17.

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers: lest I come, and strike the earth with anathema.

CHAP. IV. VER. 6. He shall turn the heart, &c. By bringing over the Jews to the faith of Christ, he shall reconcile them to their fathers, viz. the patriarchs and prophets; whose heart for many ages have been turned away from them, because of their refusing to believe in Christ.

THE

FIRST BOOK OF MACHABEES.

These books are so called, because they contain the history of the people of God under the command of Judas Machabeus and his brethren: and he, as some will have it, was surnamed Machabeus, from carrying in his ensigns, or standards, those words of Exodus xv. 11. Who is like to thee among the strong, O Lord: in which the initial letters in the Hebrew are, M. C. B. E. I. It is not known who was the author of these books. But as to their authority: though they are not received by the Jews, saith S. Augustine, L. xviii. City of God, c. 36. they are received by the Church: who, in settling her canon of the scriptures, chose rather to be directed by the tradition she had received from the apostles of Christ, than by that of the Scribes and Pharisees. And as the Church has declared these two Books canonical, even in two General Councils, viz. Florence and Trent; there can be no doubt of their authenticity.

CHAP. I.

The reign of Alexander and his successors: Antiochus rifles and profanes the temple of God: and persecutes unto death all that will not forsake the law of God, and the religion of their fathers.

A. M. 3668. Ante C. 336. NOW it came to pass, after that Alexander the son of Philip the Macedonian, who first reigned in Greece, coming out of the land of Cethim, had overthrown Darius king of the Persians and Medes:

2 He fought many battles, and took the strong-holds of all, and slew the kings of the earth:

3 And he went through even to the ends of the earth: and took the spoils of many nations: and the earth was quiet before him.

4 And he gathered a power, and a very strong army: and his heart was exalted and lifted up:

5 And he subdued countries of nations, and princes: and they became tributaries to him.

6 And after these things, he fell down upon his bed, and knew that he should die.

7 And he called his servants the nobles that were brought up with him from his youth: and he divided his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

8 And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died.* * A. M. 3681. Ante C. 323.

9 And his servants made themselves kings every one in his place:

10 And they all put crowns upon themselves after his death, and their sons after them many years, and evils were multiplied in the earth.

11 And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus the Illustrious, the son of king Antiochus, who had been a hostage at Rome: and he reigned in the hundred and thirty seventh year* of the kingdom of the Greeks. * A. M. 3829. Ante C. 175.

CHAP. I. VER. 7. Divided his kingdom, &c. This is otherwise by Q. Curtius; though he acknowledges that divers were of that opinion, and that it had been delivered by some authors, L. x. But here we find from the sacred text, that he was in error.

VER. 11. Antiochus the illustrious. Epiphanes, the younger son of Antiochus the great, who usurped the kingdom, to the prejudice of his nephew Demetrius, son of his elder brother Seleucus Philopator.

Ibid. Of the kingdom of the Greeks. Counting, not from the beginning of the reign of Alexander, but from the first year of Seleucus Nicator.

12 In thoſe days there went out of Iſrael wicked men, and they perſuaded many, ſaying: Let us go, and make a covenant with the Heathens that are round about us: for ſince we departed from them, many evils have befallen us.

13 And the word ſeemed good in their eyes.

14 And ſome of the people determined to do this, and went to the king: and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the Heathens.

15 And they built a place of exerciſe in Jeruſalem, according to the laws of the nations:

*i. e. uncircumciſed.

16 And they made themſelves prepuces,* and departed from the holy covenant, and joined themſelves to the Heathens and were ſold to do evil.

* A. M. 3834. Ante C. 170.

17 * And the kingdom was eſtabliſhed before Antiochus, and he had a mind to reign over the land of Egypt, that he might reign over two kingdoms.

18 And he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots and elephants, and horſemen, and a great number of ſhips:

19 And he made war againſt Ptolemee king of Egypt, but Ptolemee was afraid at his preſence, and fled, and many were wounded unto death.

20 And he took the ſtrong cities in the land of Egypt: and he took the ſpoils of the land of Egypt.

21 And after Antiochus had ravaged Egypt

* A. M. 3834.

in the hundred and forty third year, * he returned and went up againſt Iſrael.

22 And he went up to Jeruſalem with a great multitude.

23 And he proudly entered into the ſanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candleſtick of light, and all the veſſels thereof, and the table of propoſition, and the pouring veſſels, and the vials, and the little morters of gold, and the vail, and the crowns, and the golden ornament that was before the temple: and he broke them all in pieces.

24 And he took the ſilver and gold, and the precious veſſels: and he took the hidden treaſures which he found: and when he had taken all away he departed into his own country.

25 And he made a great ſlaughter of men, and ſpoke very proudly.

26 And there was great mourning in Iſrael, and in every place where they were:

27 And the princes, and the ancients mourned, and the virgins and the young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed.

28 Every bridegroom took up lamentation: and the bride that ſat in the marriage bed, mourned:

29 And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the houſe of Jacob, was covered with confuſion.

30 And after two full years * the king ſent the chief collector of his tributes to the cities of Juda, and he came to Jeruſalem with a great multitude.

* A. M. 3836. Ante C. 168.

31 And he ſpoke to them peaceable words in deceit: and they believed him.

32 And he fell upon the city ſuddenly, and ſtruck it with a great ſlaughter, and deſtroyed much people in Iſrael.

33 And he took the ſpoils of the city, and burnt it with fire, and threw down the houſes thereof and the walls thereof round about:

34 And they took the women captive, and the children, and the cattle they poſſeſſed.

35 And they built the city of David with a great and ſtrong wall, and with ſtrong towers, and made it a fortreſs for them:

36 And they placed there a ſinful nation, wicked men, and they fortified themſelves therein: and they ſtored up armour, and victuals, and gathered together the ſpoils of Jeruſalem;

37 And laid them up there: and they became a great ſnare.

38 And this was a place to lie in wait againſt the ſanctuary, and an evil devil in Iſrael.

39 And they ſhed innocent blood round about the ſanctuary and defiled the holy place.

40 And the inhabitants of Jeruſalem fled away by reaſon of them, and the city was made the habitation of ſtrangers, and ſhe became a ſtranger to her own ſeed, and her children forſook her.

41 Her ſanctuary was deſolate like a wilderneſs, ‖ her feſtival days were turned into mourning, her ſabbaths into reproach, her honours were brought to nothing.

‖ Tobias 2. 6. Amos 8. 10.

42 Her diſhonour was increaſed according to her glory, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

† A. M. 3837. Ante C. 167.

43 † And king Antiochus wrote to all his kingdom, that all the people ſhould be one: and every one ſhould leave his own law.

44 And all nations conſented according to the word of king Antiochus.

45 And many of Iſrael conſented to his ſervice, and they ſacrificed to idols, and profaned the ſabbath.

46 And the king ſent letters by the hands of meſſengers to Jeruſalem, and to all the cities of Juda: that they ſhould follow the law of the nations of the earth,

47 And ſhould forbid holocauſts and ſacrifices, and atonements to be made in the temple of God,

48 And ſhould prohibit the ſabbath, and the feſtival days, to be celebrated.

49 And he commanded the holy places to be profaned, and the holy people of Iſrael.

50 And he commanded altars to be built, and temples, and idols, and ſwine's fleſh to be immolated, and unclean beaſts,

51 And that they ſhould leave their children uncircumciſed, and let their ſouls be defiled with all uncleanneſſes, and abominations, to the end that the ſhould forget the law, and ſhould change all the juſtifications of God.

52 And that whoſoever would not do according to the word of king Antiochus, ſhould be put to death.

53 According to all theſe words he wrote to his whole kingdom: and he appointed rulers over the people that ſhould force them to do theſe things.

54 And they commanded the cities of Juda to ſacrifice.

55 Then many of the people were gathered to them that had forſaken the law of the Lord: and they committed evils in the land:

56 And they drove away the people of Iſrael into lurking holes, and into the ſecret places of fugitives.

* A. M. 3838.

57 On the fifteenth day of the month Calleu, in the hundred and forty fifth year, * king Antiochus ſet up the abominable idol of deſolation upon the altar of God, and they built altars throughout all the cities of Juda round about:

58 And they burnt incenſe, and ſacrificed at the doors of the houſes and in the ſtreets.

59 And they cut in pieces, and burnt with fire the books of the law of God:

60 And every one with whom the books of the teſtament of the Lord were found, and whoſoever obſerved the law of the Lord, they put to death, according to the edict of the king.

61 Thus by their power did they deal with the people of Iſrael, that were f- in the cities month after month.

62 And on the five and twentieth day of the month they ſacrificed upon the altar of the idol that was over-againſt the altar of God.

‖ 2 Mac. 6. 10.

63 ‖ Now the women that circumciſed their children, were ſlain according to the commandment of king Antiochus,

64 And they hanged the children about their necks in all their houſes: and thoſe that had circumciſed them, they put to death.

65 And many of the people of Iſrael determined with themſelves, that they would not eat unclean things: and they choſe rather to die, than to be defiled with unclean meats:

66 And they would not break the holy law of God, and they were put to death:

67 And there was very great wrath upon the people.

CHAP. II.

The zeal and ſucceſs of Mathathias. His exhortation to his ſons at his death.

A. M. 3837.

IN thoſe days aroſe Mathathias the ſon of John, the ſon of Simeon, a prieſt of the ſons of Joarib, from Jeruſalem, and he abode in the mountain of Modin.

2 And he had five ſons: John who was ſurnamed Gaddis:

3 And Simon, who was ſurnamed Thaſi:

4 And Judas, who was called Machabeus:

5 And Eleazar, who was ſurnamed Abaron: and Jonathan, who was ſurnamed Apphus.

6 Theſe ſaw the evils that were done in the people of Juda, and in Jeruſalem.

7 And Mathathias ſaid: Wo is me, wherefore was I born to ſee the ruin of my people, and the ruin of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it is given into the hands of the enemies?

8 The holy places are come into the hands of ſtrangers: her temple is become as a man without honour.

9 The veſſels of her glory are carried away captive: her old men are murdered in the ſtreets, and her young men are fallen by the ſword of the enemies.

10 What nation hath not inherited her kingdom, and gotten of her ſpoils?

VER. 57. The abominable idol, &c. viz. the ſtatue of Jupiter Olympius.

11 All her ornaments are taken away. She that was free is made a ſlave.

12 And behold our ſanctuary, and our beauty, and our glory is laid waſte, and the Gentiles have defiled them.

13 To what end then ſhould we live any longer?

14 And Mathathias and his ſons rent their garments, and they covered themſelves with hair-cloth, and made great lamentation.

15 And they that were ſent from king Antiochus came thither, to compel them that were fled into the city of Modin, to ſacrifice, and to burn incenſe, and to depart from the law of God.

16 And many of the people of Iſrael conſented and came to them: but Mathathias and his ſons ſtood firm.

17 And they that were ſent from Antiochus anſwering, ſaid to Mathathias: Thou art a ruler, and an honourable, and great man in this city, and adorned with ſons, and brethren.

18 Therefore come thou firſt, and obey the king's commandment, as all nations have done, and the men of Juda, and they that remain in Jeruſalem: and thou, and thy ſons ſhall be in the number of the king's friends, and enriched with gold, and ſilver, and many preſents.

19 Then Mathathias anſwered, and ſaid with a loud voice: Although all nations obey king Antiochus, ſo as to depart every man from the ſervice of the law of his fathers, and conſent to his commandments:

20 I and my ſons, and my brethren will obey the law of our fathers.

21 God be merciful unto us: it is not profitable for us to forſake the law, and the juſtices of God:

22 We will not hearken to the words of king Antiochus, neither will we ſacrifice, and tranſgreſs the commandments of our law, to go another way.

23 Now as he left off ſpeaking theſe words, there came a certain Jew in the ſight of all to ſacrifice to the idols upon the altar in the city of Modin, according to the king's commandment.

24 And Mathathias ſaw, and was grieved, and his reins trembled, and his wrath was kindled according to the judgment of the law, and running upon him he ſlew him upon the altar:

25 Moreover the man whom king Antiochus had ſent, who compelled them to ſacrifice, he ſlew at the ſame time, and pulled down the altar,

26 And ſhewed zeal for the law, ‖ as Phinees did by Zamri the ſon of Salomi. ‖ Num. 25. 13.

27 And Mathathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, ſaying: Every one that hath zeal for the law, and maintaineth the teſtament, let him follow me.

28 So he, and his ſons fled into the mountains, and left all that they had in the city.

29 Then many that ſought after judgment, and juſtice, went down into the deſert:

30 And they abode there, they and their children, and their wives, and their cattle: becauſe afflictions increaſed upon them.

31 And it was told to the king's men, and to the army that was in Jeruſalem in the city of David, that certain men who had broken the king's commandment, were gone away into the ſecret places in the wilderneſs, and that many were gone after them.

32 And forthwith they went out towards them, and made war againſt them on the ſabbath-day,

33 And they ſaid to them: Do you ſtill reſiſt? come forth, and do according to the edict of king Antiochus, and you ſhall live.

34 And they ſaid: We will not come forth, neither will we obey the king's edict, to profane the ſabbath-day.

35 And they made haſte to give them battle.

36 But they anſwered them not, neither did they caſt a ſtone at them, nor ſtopped up the ſecret places,

37 Saying: Let us all die in our innocency: and heaven and earth ſhall be witneſſes for us, that you put us to death wrongfully.

38 So they gave them battle on the ſabbath: and they were ſlain with their wives, and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thouſand perſons.

39 And Mathathias and his friends heard of it, and they mourned for them exceedingly.

40 And every man ſaid to his neighbour: If we ſhall all do as our brethren have done, and not fight againſt the heathens for our lives, and our juſtifications: they will now quickly root us out of the earth.

41 And they determined in that day, ſaying: Whoſoever ſhall come up againſt us to fight on the ſabbath-day, we will fight againſt him: and we will not all die, as our brethren that were ſlain in the ſecret places.

42 Then was aſſembled to them the congregation of the Aſſideans, the ſtouteſt of Iſrael, every one that had a good will for the law.

43 And all they that fled from the evils, joined themſelves to them, and were a ſupport to them.

44 And they gathered an army, and ſlew the ſinners in their wrath, and the wicked men in their indignation: and the reſt fled to the nations for ſafety.

45 And Mathathias and his friends went round about, and they threw down the altars:

46 And they circumciſed all the children whom they found in the confines of Iſrael that were uncircumciſed: and they did valiantly.

47 And they purſued after the children of pride, and the work proſpered in their hands:

48 And they recovered the law out of the hands of the nations, and out of the hands of the kings: and they yielded not the horn to the ſinner.

49 Now the days drew near that Mathathias ſhould die, and he ſaid to his ſons: Now hath pride and chaſtiſement gotten ſtrength, and the time of deſtruction, and the wrath of indignation:

50 Now therefore, O my ſons, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51 And call to remembrance the works of the fathers, which they have done in their generations: and you ſhall receive great glory, and an everlaſting name.

67 And you ſhall take to you all that obſerve the law: and revenge ye the wrong of your people.

68 Render to the Gentiles their reward, and take heed to the precepts of the law.

69 And he bleſſed them, and was joined to his fathers.

CHAP. III.

Judas Machabeus ſucceeds his father, and overthrows Apollonius and Seron. A great army is ſent againſt him out of Syria. He prepares his people for battle by faſting and prayer.

THEN his ſon Judas, called Machabeus, roſe up in his ſtead.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that had joined themſelves to his father, and they fought with cheerfulneſs the battle of Iſrael.

3 And he got his people great honour, and put on a breaſt-plate as a giant, and girt his warlike armour about him in battles, and protected the camp with his ſword.

4 In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey.

5 And he purſued the wicked and ſought them out, and them that troubled his people he burnt with fire:

6 And his enemies were driven away for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled: and ſalvation proſpered in his hand.

VER. 55. Jeſus. That is, Joſue.

7 And he grieved many kings, and made Jacob glad with his works, and his memory is bleſſed for ever.

8 And he went through the cities of Juda, and deſtroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away wrath from Iſrael.

9 And he was renowned even to the utmoſt part of the earth, and he gathered them that were periſhing.

A. M. 3838. 10 And Apollonius gathered together the Gentiles, and a numerous and great army from Samaria, to make war againſt Iſrael.

11 And Judas underſtood it, and went forth to meet him: and he overthrew him, and killed him: and many fell down ſlain, and the reſt fled away.

12 And he took their ſpoils, and Judas took the ſword of Apollonius, and fought with it all his life-time.

13 And Seron captain of the army of Syria heard that Judas had aſſembled a company of the faithful, and a congregation with him,

14 And he ſaid: I will get me a name, and will be glorified in the kingdom, and will overthrow Judas, and thoſe that are with him, that have deſpiſed the edict of the king.

15 And he made himſelf ready: and the hoſt of the wicked went up with him, ſtrong ſuccours, to be revenged of the children of Iſrael.

16 And they approached even as far as Bethoron: and Judas went forth to meet him, with a ſmall company.

17 But when they ſaw the army coming to meet them, they ſaid to Judas: How ſhall we, being few, be able to fight againſt ſo great a multitude and ſo ſtrong, and we are ready to faint with faſting to-day?

18 And Judas ſaid: It is an eaſy matter for many to be ſhut up in the hands of a few: and there is no difference in the ſight of the God of heaven to deliver with a great multitude, or with a ſmall company:

19 For the ſucceſs of war is not in the multitude of the army, but ſtrength cometh from heaven.

20 They come againſt us with an inſolent multitude, and with pride, to deſtroy us, and our wives, and our children, and to take our ſpoils.

21 But we will fight for our lives, and our laws:

22 And the Lord himſelf will overthrow them before our face: but as for you, fear them not.

23 And as ſoon as he had made an end of ſpeaking, he ruſhed ſuddenly upon them: and Seron, and his hoſt were overthrown before him:

24 And he purſued him by the deſcent of Bethoron even to the plain, and there fell of them eight hundred men, and the reſt fled into the land of the Philiſtines.

25 And the fear of Judas and of his brethren, and the dread of them fell upon all the nations round about them.

26 And his fame came to the king, and all nations told of the battles of Judas.

A. M. 3839. Ante C. 165. 27 Now when king Antiochus heard theſe words, he was angry in his mind: and he ſent, and gathered the forces of all his kingdom, an exceeding ſtrong army.

28 And he opened his treaſury, and gave out pay to the army for a year: and he commanded them, that they ſhould be ready for all things.

29 And he perceived that the money of his treaſures failed, and that the tributes of the country were ſmall becauſe of the diſſenſion, and the evil that he had brought upon the land, that he might take away the laws of old times:

30 And he feared that he ſhould not have as formerly enough, for charges and gifts, which he had given before with a liberal hand: for he had abounded more than the kings that had been before him.

31 And he was greatly perplexed in mind, and purpoſed to go into Perſia, and to take tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 And he left Lyſias, a nobleman of the blood royal, to overſee the affairs of the kingdom from the river Euphrates even to the river of Egypt:

33 And to bring up his ſon Antiochus, till he came again.

34 And he delivered to him half the army, and the elephants: and he gave him charge concerning all that he would have done, and concerning the inhabitants of Judea, and Jeruſalem:

35 And that he ſhould ſend an army againſt them, to deſtroy and root out the ſtrength of Iſrael, and the remnant of Jeruſalem, and to take away the memory of them from that place:

36 And that he ſhould ſettle ſtrangers to dwell in all their coaſts, and divide their land by lot.

A. M. 3839. 37 So the king took the half of the army that remained, and went forth from Antioch the chief city of his kingdom, in the hundred and forty ſeventh year: and he paſſed over the river Euphrates, and went through the higher countries.

38 Then Lyſias choſe Ptolemee the ſon of Dorymenus, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends.

39 And he ſent with them forty thouſand men, and ſeven thouſand horſemen: to go into the land of Juda, and to deſtroy it according to the king's orders.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came, and pitched near Emmaus in the plain country.

41 And the merchants of the countries heard the fame of them: and they took ſilver and gold in abundance, and ſervants: and they came into the camp, to buy the children of Iſrael for ſlaves: and there were joined to them the forces of Syria, and of the land of the ſtrangers.

42 And Judas and his brethren ſaw that evils were multiplied, and that the armies approached to their borders: and they knew the orders the king had given to deſtroy the people and utterly aboliſh them.

43 And they ſaid every man to his neighbour: Let us raiſe up the low condition of our people, and let us fight for our people, and our ſanctuary.

44 And the aſſembly was gathered that they might be ready for battle: and that they might pray, and aſk mercy and compaſſion.

45 Now Jeruſalem was not inhabited, but was like a deſert: there was none of her children that went in or out: and the ſanctuary was trodden down: and the children of ſtrangers were in the caſtle, there was the habitation of the Gentiles: and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and harp ceaſed there.

46 And they aſſembled together, and came to Maſpha over-againſt Jeruſalem: for in Maſpha was a place of prayer heretofore in Iſrael.

47 And they faſted that day, and put on haircloth, and put aſhes upon their heads: and they rent their garments:

48 And they laid open the books of the law, in which the Gentiles ſearched for the likeneſs of their idols:

49 And they brought the prieſtly ornaments, and the firſt-fruits and tithes, and ſtirred up the Nazarites that had fulfilled their days:

50 And they cried with a loud voice toward heaven, ſaying: What ſhall we do with theſe, and whither ſhall we carry them?

51 For thy holies are trodden down, and are profaned, and thy prieſts are in mourning, and are brought low.

52 And behold the nations are come together againſt us to deſtroy us: thou knoweſt what they intend againſt us.

53 How ſhall we be able to ſtand before their face, unleſs thou, O God, help us?

54 Then they ſounded with trumpets, and cried out with a loud voice.

55 And after this Judas appointed captains over the people, over thouſands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

56 || And he ſaid to them that were building houſes, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or were fearful, that they ſhould return every man to his houſe, according to the law. || Deut. 20. 5. & 6. Judges 7. 3.

57 So they removed the camp, and pitched on the ſouth ſide of Emmaus.

58 And Judas ſaid: Gird yourſelves, and be valiant men, and be ready againſt the morning, that you may fight with theſe nations that are aſſembled againſt us to deſtroy us and our ſanctuary.

59 For it is better for us to die in battle, than to ſee the evils of our nation, and of the holies:

60 Neverthleſs as it ſhall be the will of God in heaven ſo be it done.

CHAP. IV.

Judas routs the king's army. Gorgias flies before him. Lyſias comes againſt him with a great army, but is defeated. Judas cleanſes the temple, ſets up a new altar, and fortifies the ſanctuary.

THEN Gorgias took five thouſand men, and a thouſand of the beſt horſemen: and they removed out of the camp by night. A. M. 3839. Ante C. 165.

2 That they might come upon the camp of the Jews, and ſtrike them ſuddenly: and the men that were of the caſtle were their guides.

3 And Judas heard of it, and roſe up, he and the valiant men, to attack the king's forces that were in Emmaus.

4 For as yet the army was diſperſed from the camp.

5 And Gorgias came by night into the camp of Judas, and found no man, and he ſought them in the mountains: for he ſaid: Theſe men flee from us.

6 And when it was day, Judas ſhewed himſelf in the plain with three thouſand men only, who neither had armour nor swords:

7 And they saw the camp of the Gentiles that it was strong, and the men in breastplates, and the horsemen round about them, and these were trained up to war.

8 And Judas said to the men that were with him: Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

‖ Exod. 14. 9. 9 ‖ Remember in what manner our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharao pursued them with a great army.

10 And now let us cry to heaven: and the Lord will have mercy on us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and will destroy this army before our face this day:

11 And all nations shall know that there is one that redeemeth and delivereth Israel.

12 And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming against them.

13 And they went out of the camp to battle, and they that were with Judas sounded the trumpet.

14 And they joined battle: and the Gentiles were routed, and fled into the plain.

15 But all the hindmost of them fell by the sword, and they pursued them as far as Gezeron, and even to the plains of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Jamnia: and there fell of them to the number of three thousand men.

16 And Judas returned again with his army that followed him,

17 And he said to the people: Be not greedy of the spoils: for there is war before us,

18 And Gorgias and his army are near us in the mountain: but stand ye now against our enemies, and overthrow them, and you shall take the spoils afterwards with safety.

19 And as Judas was speaking these words, behold part of them appeared looking forth from the mountain.

20 And Gorgias saw that his men were put to flight, and that they had set fire to the camp: for the smoke that was seen declared what was done.

21 And when they had seen this, they were seized with great fear, seeing at the same time Judas and his army in the plain ready to fight.

22 So they all fled away into the land of the strangers.

23 And Judas returned to take the spoils of the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 And returning home they sung a hymn, and blessed God in heaven, because he is good, because his mercy endureth for ever.

25 So Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 And such of the strangers as escaped, went and told Lysias all that had happened.

27 And when he heard these things, he was amazed and discouraged: because things had not succeeded in Israel according to his mind, and as the king had commanded.

28 So the year * following Lysias gathered together threescore thousand chosen men, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them. * A. M. 3839.

29 And they came into Judea, and pitched their tents in Bethoron, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And they saw that the army was strong, and he prayed, and said: Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, ‖ who didst break the violence of the mighty by the hand of thy servant David, ‡ and didst deliver up the camp of the strangers into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armour-bearer. ‖ 1 Kings 17. 50. ‡ 1 Kings 14. 13.

31 Shut up this army in the hands of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their host and their horsemen.

32 Strike them with fear, and cause the boldness of their strength to languish, and let them quake at their own destruction.

33 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee: and let all that know thy name, praise thee with hymns.

34 And they joined battle: and there fell of the army of Lysias five thousand men.

35 And when Lysias saw that his men were put to flight, and how bold the Jews were, and that they were ready either to live, or to die manfully, he went to Antioch, and chose soldiers, that they might come again into Judea with greater numbers.

36 Then Judas, and his brethren said: Behold our enemies are discomfited: let us go up now to cleanse the holy places, and to repair them.

37 And all the army assembled together, and they went up into mount Sion.

38 And they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burnt, and shrubs growing up in the courts as in a forest, or on the mountains, and the chambers joining to the temple thrown down*. * A. M. 3840.

39 And they rent their garments, and made great lamentation, and put ashes on their heads:

40 And they fell down to the ground on their faces, and they sounded with the trumpets of alarm, and they cried towards heaven.

41 Then Judas appointed men to fight against them that were in the castle, till they had cleansed the holy places.

42 And he chose priests without blemish, whose will was set upon the law of God:

43 And they cleansed the holy places, and took away the stones that had been defiled into an unclean place.

44 And he considered about the altar of holocausts that had been profaned, what he should do with it.

45 And a good counsel came into their minds, to pull it down: lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it, so they threw it down.

46 And they laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, till there should come a prophet, and give answer concerning them.

47 Then they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former:

48 And they built up the holy places, and the things that were within the temple: and they sanctified the temple, and the courts.

49 And they made new holy vessels, and brought in the candlestick, and the altar of incense, and the table into the temple.

50 And they put incense upon the altar, and lighted up the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple.

51 And they set the loaves upon the table, and hung up the vails, and finished all the works that they had begun to make.

52 And they arose before the morning on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month (which is the month of Casleu) in the hundred and forty eighth year: *

* A. M. 3840.

53 And they offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of holocausts which they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day wherein the heathens had defiled it, in the same was it dedicated anew with canticles, and harps, and lutes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell upon their faces, and adored, and blessed up to heaven, him that had prospered them.

56 And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and they offered holocausts with joy, and sacrifices of salvation, and of praise.

57 And they adorned the front of the temple with crowns of gold, and escutcheons, and they renewed the gates, and the chambers, and hanged doors upon them.

58 And there was exceeding great joy among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away.

59 || And Judas, and his brethren, and all the church of Israel decreed, that the day of the dedication of the altar should be kept in its season from year to year for eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, with joy and gladness. || John 10. 22.

60 They built up also at that time mount Sion, with high walls, and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should at any time come, and tread it down as they did before.

61 And he placed a garrison there, to keep it; and he fortified it to secure Bethsura, that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

Judas and his brethren attack the enemies of their country, and deliver them that were distressed. Josephus and Azarias attempting contrary to order to fight against their enemies are defeated.

NOW it came to pass, when the nations round about heard that the altar, and the sanctuary were built up as before, that they were exceeding angry.

2 And they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that were among them, and they began to kill some of the people, and to persecute them.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea, and them that were in Acrabathane: because they beset the Israelites round about, and he made a great slaughter of them.

4 And he remembered the malice of the children of Bean: who were a snare and a stumbling-block to the people, by lying in wait for them in the way.

5 And they were shut up by him in towers, and he set upon them, and devoted them to utter destruction, and burnt their towers with fire, and all that were in them.

6 Then he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, and Timotheus was their captain:

7 And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited in their sight, and he smote them:

* A. M. 3841. Ante C. 163.

8 * And he took the city of Gazer and her towns, and returned into Judea.

9 And the Gentiles that were in Galaad, assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them: and they fled into the fortress of Datheman.

10 And they sent letters to Judas, and his brethren, saying: The heathens that are round about are gathered together against us, to destroy us:

11 And they are preparing to come, and to take the fortress into which we are fled: and Timotheus is the captain of their host.

12 Now therefore come, and deliver us out of their hands, for many of us are slain.

13 And all our brethren that were in the places of Tubin, are killed: and they have carried away their wives, and their children, captives, and taken their spoils, and they have slain there almost a thousand men.

14 And while they were yet reading these letters, behold there came other messengers out of Galilee with their garments rent, who related according to these words:

15 Saying, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, were assembled against them, and all Galilee is filled with strangers, in order to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, a great assembly met together to consider what they should do for their brethren that were in trouble, and were assaulted by them.

17 And Judas said to Simon his brother: Choose thee men, and go, and deliver thy brethren in Galilee: and I, and my brother Jonathan will go into the country of Galaad.

18 And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captains of the people with the remnant of the army in Judea to keep it:

19 And he commanded them, saying: Take ye the charge of this people: but make no war against the heathens, till we return.

20 Now three thousand men were allotted to Simon, to go into Galilee: and eight thousand to Judas to go into the land of Galaad.

21 And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the heathens: and the heathens were discomfited before his face, and he pursued them even to the gate of Ptolemais.

22 And there fell of the heathens almost three thousand men, and he took the spoils of them,

23 And he took with him those that were in Galilee and in Arbatis with their wives, and children, and all that they had, and he brought them into Judea with great joy.

24 And Judas Machabeus, and Jonathan his brother passed over the Jordan, and went three days journey through the desert. A. M. 3841.

25 And the Nabutheans met them, and received them in a peaceable manner, and told them all that happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad,

26 And that many of them were shut up in Barasa, and in Bosor, and in Alima, and in Casphor, and in Mageth, and in Carnaim: all these strong and great cities.

27 Yea and that they were kept shut up in the rest of the cities of Galaad, and that they had appointed to bring their army on the morrow near to these cities, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 Then Judas and his army suddenly turned their march into the desert to Bosor, and took the city: and he slew every male by the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burnt it with fire.

29 And they removed from thence by night, and went till they came to the fortress.

30 And it came to pass that early in the morning, when they lifted up their eyes, behold there were people without number, carrying ladders and engines to take the fortress, and assault them.

31 And Judas saw that the fight was begun, and the cry of the battle went up to heaven like a trumpet, and a great cry out of the city:

32 And he said to his host: Fight ye today for your brethren.

33 And he came with three companies behind them, and they sounded their trumpets, and cried out in prayer.

34 And the host of Timotheus understood that it was Machabeus, and they fled away before his face: and they made a great slaughter of them: and there fell of them in that day almost eight thousand men.

35 And Judas turned aside to Maspha, and assaulted, and took it, and he slew every male thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burnt it with fire.

36 From thence he marched, and took Casbon, and Mageth, and Bosor, and the rest of the cities of Galaad.

37 But after this Timotheus gathered another army, and camped over-against Raphon beyond the torrent.

38 And Judas sent men to view the army: and they brought him word, saying: All the nations, that are round about us, are assembled unto him an army exceeding great:

39 And they have hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the torrent, ready to come to fight againſt thee. And Judas went to meet them.

40 And Timotheus ſaid to the captains of his army: When Judas and his army come near the torrent of water, if he paſs over unto us firſt, we ſhall not be able to withſtand him: for he will certainly prevail over us.

41 But if he be afraid to paſs over, and camp on the other ſide of the river, we will paſs over to them, and ſhall prevail againſt him.

42 Now when Judas came near the torrent of water, he ſet the ſcribes of the people by the torrent, and commanded them ſaying: Suffer no man to ſtay behind: but let all come to the battle.

43 And he paſſed over to them firſt, and all the people after him, and all the heathens were diſcomfited before them, and they threw away their weapons, and fled to the temple that was in Carnaim.

44 And he took that city, and the temple he burnt with fire, with all things that were therein: and Carnaim was ſubdued, and could not ſtand againſt the face of Judas.

45 And Judas gathered together all the Iſraelites that were in the land of Galaad, from the leaſt even to the greateſt, and their wives, and children, and an army exceeding great, to come into the land of Juda.

46 And they came as far as Ephron: now this was a great city ſituate in the way, ſtrongly fortified, and there was no means to turn from it on the right hand or on the left, but the way was through the midſt of it.

47 And they that were in the city, ſhut themſelves in, and ſtopped up the gates with ſtones: and Judas ſent to them with peaceable words,

48 Saying: Let us paſs through your land, to go into our own country: and no man ſhall hurt you: we will only paſs through on foot. But they would not open to them.

49 Then Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the camp, that they ſhould make an aſſault every man in the place where he was.

50 And the men of the army drew near, and he aſſaulted that city all the day, and all the night, and the city was delivered into his hands:

51 And they ſlew every male with the edge of the ſword, and he raſed the city, and took the ſpoils thereof, and paſſeth through all the city over them that were ſlain.

52 Then they paſſed over the Jordan to the great plain that is over againſt Bethſan.

53 And Judas gathered together the hindmoſt, and he exhorted the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Juda.

54 And they went up to mount Sion with joy and gladneſs, and offered holocauſts, becauſe not one of them was ſlain, till they had returned in peace.

55 Now in the days that Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, A. M. 3841. Ante C. 163.

56 Joſeph the ſon of Zacharias, and Azarias captain of the ſoldiers, heard of the good ſucceſs, and the battles that were fought,

57 And he ſaid: Let us alſo get us a name, and let us go fight againſt the Gentiles that are round about us.

58 And he gave charge to them that were in his army, and they went towards Jamnia.

59 And Gorgias and his men went out of the city, to give them battle.

60 And Joſeph and Azarias were put to flight, and were purſued unto the borders of Judea: and there fell, on that day, of the people of Iſrael about two thouſand men, and there was a great overthrow of the people:

61 Becauſe they did not hearken to Judas, and his brethren, thinking that they ſhould do manfully.

62 But they were not of the ſeed of thoſe men by whom ſalvation was brought to Iſrael.

63 And the men of Juda were magnified exceedingly in the ſight of all Iſrael, and of all the nations where their name was heard.

64 And people aſſembled to them, with joyful acclamations.

65 Then Judas, and his brethren went forth, and attacked the children of Eſau, in the land toward the ſouth, and he took Chebron, and her towns: and he burnt the walls thereof and the towers all round it. A. M. 3841.

66 And he removed his camp to go into the land of the aliens, and he went through Samaria.

67 In that day ſome prieſts fell in battle, while deſiring to do manfully they went out unadviſedly to fight.

68 And Judas turned to Azotus into the land of the ſtrangers, and he threw down their altars, and he burnt the ſtatues of their gods with fire: and he took the ſpoils of the cities, and returned into the land of Juda.

CHAP. VI.

The fruitleſs repentance and death of Antiochus. His ſon comes againſt Judas with a formidable army. He beſieges Sion: but at laſt makes peace with the Jews.

A. M. 3840. Ante C. 164. NOW king Antiochus was going through the higher countries, and he heard that the city of Elymais in Perſia was greatly renowned, and abounding in ſilver and gold,

2 And that there was in it a temple exceeding rich: and coverings of gold, and breaſt-plates, and ſhields, which king Alexander ſon of Philip the Macedonian that reigned firſt in Greece, had left there.

3 So he came, and ſought to take the city, and to pillage it: but he was not able, becauſe the deſign was known to them that were in the city.

4 And they roſe up againſt him in battle, and he fled away from thence, and departed with great ſadneſs, and returned towards Babylonia.

5 And whilſt he was in Perſia, there came one that told him, how the armies that were in the land of Juda were put to flight:

6 And that Lyſias went with a very great power, and was put to flight before the face of the Jews, and that they were grown ſtrong by the armour, and power, and ſtore of ſpoils, which they had gotten out of the camps which they had deſtroyed:

7 And that they had thrown down the abomination which he had ſet up upon the altar in Jeruſalem, and that they had compaſſed about the ſanctuary with high walls as before, and Bethſura alſo his city.

8 And it came to paſs when the king heard theſe words, that he was ſtruck with fear, and exceedingly moved: and he laid himſelf down upon his bed, and fell ſick for grief, becauſe it had not fallen out to him as he imagined.

9 And he remained there many days: for great grief came more and more upon him, and he made account that he ſhould die.

10 And he called for all his friends and ſaid to them: Sleep is gone from my eyes, and I am fallen away, and my heart is caſt down for anxiety:

11 And I ſaid in my heart: Into what tribulation am I come, and into what floods of ſorrow, wherein now I am: I that was pleaſant and beloved in my power!

12 But now I remember the evils that I did in Jeruſalem, from whence alſo I took away all the ſpoils of gold, and of ſilver that were in it, and I ſent to deſtroy the inhabitants of Juda without cauſe.

13 I know therefore that for this cauſe theſe evils have found me: and behold I periſh with great grief in a ſtrange land.

14 Then he called Philip, one of his friends, and he made him regent over all his kingdom.

15 And he gave him the crown, and his robe, and his ring, that he ſhould go to Antiochus his ſon, and ſhould bring him up for the kingdom.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the year one hundred and forty-nine*. * A. M. 3841.

17 And Lyſias underſtood that the king was dead, and he ſet up Antiochus his ſon to reign, whom he had brought up young: and he called his name Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the caſtle, had ſhut up the Iſraelites round about the holy places: and they were continually ſeeking their hurt, and to ſtrengthen the Gentiles.

19 And Judas purpoſed to deſtroy them: and he called together all the people, to beſiege them.

20 And they came together, and beſieged them in the year one hundred and fifty, and they made battering ſlings, and engines. A. M. 3841.

21 And ſome of the beſieged got out: and ſome wicked men of Iſrael joined themſelves unto them,

22 And they went to the king, and ſaid: How long doſt thou delay to execute judgment, and to revenge our brethren?

23 We determined to ſerve thy father, and to do according to his orders, and obey his edicts:

24 And for this they of our nation are alienated from us, and have ſlain as many of us as they could find, and have ſpoiled our inheritances.

25 Neither have they put forth their hand againſt us only, but alſo againſt all our borders.

26 And behold they have approached this day to the caſtle of Jeruſalem to take it, and they have fortified the ſtrong-hold of Bethſura:

27 And unleſs thou ſpeedily prevent them, they will do greater things than theſe, and thou ſhalt not be able to ſubdue them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry: and he called together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and them that were over the horſemen.

29 There came alſo to him from other realms, and from the iſlands of the ſea hired troops.

30 And the number of his army was an hundred thouſand footmen, and twenty thouſand horſemen, and thirty two elephants, trained to battle.

31 And they went through Idumea, and approached to Bethſura, and fought many days, and they made engines: but they ſallied forth and burnt them with fire, and fought manfully.

32 And Judas departed from the caſtle, and removed the camp to Bethzacharam, over-againſt the king's camp.

33 And the king roſe before it was light, and made his troops march on fiercely towards the way of Bethzacharam: and the armies made themſelves ready for the battle, and they ſounded the trumpets:

34 And they ſhewed the elephants the blood of grapes, and mulberries, to provoke them to fight.

35 And they diſtributed the beaſts by the legions: and there ſtood by every elephant a thouſand men in coats of mail, and with helmets of braſs on their heads: and five hundred horſemen ſet in order were choſen for every beaſt.

36 Theſe before the time whereſoever the beaſt was, they were there: and whitherſoever it went, they went, and they departed not from it.

37 And upon the beaſt, there were ſtrong wooden towers which covered every one of them: and engines upon them, and upon every one thirty two valiant men, who fought from above: and an Indian to rule the beaſt.

38 And the reſt of the horſemen he placed on this ſide and on that ſide at the two wings, with trumpets to ſtir up the army, and to haſten them forward that ſtood thick together in the legions thereof.

39 Now when the ſun ſhone upon the ſhields of gold, and of braſs, the mountains glittered therewith, and they ſhone like lamps of fire.

40 And part of the king's army was diſtinguiſhed by the high mountains, and the other part by the low places: and they marched on warily and orderly.

41 And all the inhabitants of the land were moved at the noiſe of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the armour, for the army was exceeding great and ſtrong.

42 And Judas and his army drew near for battle: and there fell of the king's army ſix hundred men.

43 And Eleazar the ſon of Saura ſaw one of the beaſts harneſſed with the king's harneſs: and it was higher than the other beaſts; and it ſeemed to him that the king was on it:

44 And he expoſed himſelf to deliver his people, and to get himſelf an everlaſting name.

45 And he ran up to it boldly in the midſt of the legion, killing on the right hand, and on the left, and they fell by him on this ſide and that ſide.

46 And he went between the feet of the elephant, and put himſelf under it: and ſlew it, and it fell to the ground upon him, and he died there.

47 Then they ſeeing the ſtrength of the king and the fierceneſs of his army, turned away from them.

48 But the king's army went up againſt them to Jeruſalem: and the king's army pitched their tents againſt Judea and mount Sion.

49 And he made peace with them that were in Bethſura: and they came forth out of the city, becauſe they had no victuals, being ſhut up there, for it was the year of reſt to the land.

50 And the king took Bethſura: and he placed there a garriſon to keep it. * A. M. 3841.

51 And he turned his army againſt the ſanctuary for many days: and he ſet up there battering ſlings, and engines and inſtruments to caſt fire, and engines to caſt ſtones and javelins, and pieces to ſhoot arrows, and ſlings.

52 And they alſo made engines againſt their engines, and they fought for many days.

53 But there were no victuals in the city, becauſe it was the ſeventh year: and ſuch as had ſtaid in Judea of them that came from among the nations, had eaten the reſidue of all that which had been ſtored up.

54 And there remained in the holy places but a few, for the famine had prevailed over them: and they were diſperſed every man to his own place.

55 ‖ Now Lyſias heard that Philip, whom king Antiochus while he lived had appointed to bring up his ſon Antiochus, and to reign, to be king, ‖ Supra ver. 15.

56 Was returned from Perſia, and Media, with the army that went with him, and that he ſought to take upon him the affairs of the kingdom:

57 Wherefore he made haſte to go, and say to the king and to the captains of the army: We decay daily, and our provision of victuals is small, and the place that we lay siege to is strong, and it lieth upon us to take order for the affairs of the kingdom.

58 Now therefore let us come to an agreement with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation.

59 And let us covenant with them, that they may live according to their own laws as before. For, because of our despising their laws, they have been provoked, and have done all these things.

60 And the proposal was acceptable in the sight of the king, and of the princes: and he sent to them to make peace: and they accepted of it.

61 And the king and the princes swore to them: and they came out of the strong-hold.

62 Then the king entered into mount Sion, and saw the strength of the place: and he quickly broke the oath that he had taken, and gave commandment to throw down the wall round about.

63 And he departed in haste and returned to Antioch, where he found Philip master of the city: and he fought against him, and took the city.

CHAP. VII.

Demetrius is made king, and sends Bacchides and Alcimus the priest into Judea, and after them Nicanor, who is slain by Judas with all his army.

A. M. 3842. Ante C. 162. IN the hundred and fifty first year Demetrius the son of Seleucus departed from the city of Rome, and came up with few men into a city of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And it came to pass, as he entered into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army seized upon Antiochus, and Lysias, to bring them unto him.

3 And when he knew it, he said: Let me not see their face.

4 So the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom:

5 And there came to him the wicked and ungodly men of Israel: and Alcimus was at the head of them, who desired to be made high-priest.

6 And they accused the people to the king, saying: Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and he hath driven us out of our land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go, and see all the havock he hath made amongst us, and in the king's lands: and let him punish all his friends and their helpers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides one of his friends that ruled beyond the great river in the kingdom, and was faithful to the king: and he sent him,

9 To see the havock that Judas had made: and the wicked Alcimus he made high-priest, and commanded him to take revenge upon the children of Israel.

10 And they arose, and came with a great army into the land of Juda: and they sent messengers, and spoke to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11 But they gave no heed to their words: for they saw that they were come with a great army.

12 Then there assembled to Alcimus and Bacchides a company of the scribes to require things that are just:

13 And first the Assideans that were among the children of Israel, and they sought peace of them.

14 For they said: One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come, he will not deceive us.

15 And he spoke to them peaceably: and he swore to them, saying: We will do you no harm, nor your friends.

16 And they believed him. And he took threescore of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word that is written:

17 ‖ The flesh of thy saints, and the blood of them they have shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them. ‖ Psal. 78. 1. 2. & 3.

18 Then fear and trembling fell upon all the people: for they said: There is no truth, nor justice among them: for they have broken the covenant, and the oath which they made.

19 And Bacchides removed the camp from Jerusalem, and pitched in Bethzecha: and he sent, and took many of them that were fled away from him, and some of the people he killed, and threw them into a great pit.

20 Then he committed the country to Alcimus, and left with him troops to help him. So Bacchides went away to the king:

21 But Alcimus did what he could to maintain his chief priesthood.

22 And they that disturbed the people resorted to him, and they got the land of Juda into their power, and did much hurt in Israel.

And Judas saw all the evils that Alcimus, and they that were with him, did to the children of Israel, much more than the Gentiles.

24 And he went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance upon the men that had revolted, and they ceased to go forth any more into the country.

25 And Alcimus saw that Judas, and they that were with him prevailed: and he knew that he could not stand against them, and he went back to the king, and accused them of many crimes.

‖ 2 Mac. 15. 1. 26 ‖ And the king sent Nicanor one of his principal lords, who was a great enemy to Israel: and he commanded him to destroy the people.

A. M. 3843. 27 And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great army, and he sent to Judas and to his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, 28 Saying: Let there be no fighting between me and you: I will come with a few men, to see your faces with peace.

29 And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: and the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by force.

30 And the thing was known to Judas that he was come to him with deceit: and he was much afraid of him, and would not see his face any more.

31 And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered: and he went out to fight against Judas near Capharsalama.

32 And there fell of Nicanor's army almost five thousand men, and they fled into the city of David.

33 And after this Nicanor went up into mount Sion: and some of the priests and the people came out to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the holocausts that were offered for the king.

34 But he mocked and despised them, and abused them: and he spoke proudly,

35 And swore in anger, saying: Unless Judas and his army be delivered into my hands, as soon as ever I return in peace, I will burn this house. And he went out in a great rage.

36 And the priests went in, and stood before the face of the altar and the temple: and weeping they said:

37 Thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house for thy name to be called upon therein, that it might be a house of prayer and supplication for thy people.

38 Be avenged of this man, and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

39 Then Nicanor went out from Jerusalem, and encamped near to Bethoron: and an army of Syria joined him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adarsa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed, and said:

41 ‖ O Lord, when they that were sent by king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, an Angel went out, and slew of them a hundred and eighty five thousand: ‖ 4 Kings 19. 35. Tobias 1. 21. Eccli. 48. 24. Isai. 37. 36.

42 Even so destroy this army in our sight to-day, and let the rest know that he hath spoken ill against thy sanctuary: and judge thou him according to his wickedness. 2 Mac. 8. 19.

43 And the armies joined battle on the thirteenth day of the month Adar: and the army of Nicanor was defeated, and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44 And when his army saw that Nicanor was slain, they threw away their weapons, and fled:

45 And they pursued after them one day's journey from Adazer, even till ye come to Gazara, and they sounded the trumpets after them with signals.

46 And they went forth out of all the towns of Judea round about, and they pushed them with the horns, and they turned again to them, and they were all slain with the sword, and there was not left of them so much as one.

47 And they took the spoils of them for a booty, and they cut off Nicanor's head and his right hand, which he had proudly stretched out, and they brought it, and hung it up over-against Jerusalem.

48 And the people rejoiced exceedingly, and they spent that day with great joy.

49 And he ordained that this day should be kept every year, being the thirteenth of the month of Adar.

50 And the land of Juda was quiet for a short time.

CHAP. VIII.

Judas hears of the great character of the Romans: He makes a league with them.

NOW Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are powerful and strong, and willingly agree to all things that are requested of them: and that whosoever have come to them, they have made amity with them, and that they are mighty in power.

2 And they heard of their battles, and their noble acts, which they had done in Galatia, * how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute: * A. M. 3816. Ante C. 188.

3 And how great things they had done in the land of Spain, and that they had brought

CHAP. VIII. VER. 2. They heard, &c. What is here set down of the History and character of the ancient Romans, is not an assertion, or affirmation of the sacred writer: but only a relation of what Judas had heard of them.

under their power the mines of silver and of gold that are there, and had gotten possession of all the place by their counsel and patience:

4 And had conquered places that were very far off from them, and kings that came against them from the ends of the earth, and had overthrown them with great slaughter: and the rest pay them tribute every year.

5 And that they had defeated in battle Philip and Perses the king of the Ceteans, and the rest that had borne arms against them, and had conquered them:

6 And how Antiochus the great king of Asia, who went to fight against them, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was routed by them *:

* A. M. 3815. Ante C. 189.

7 And how they took him alive, and appointed to him, that both he and they that should reign after him, should pay a great tribute, and that he should give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,

8 And the country of the Indians, and of the Medes, and of the Lydians, some of their best provinces: and those which they had taken from them, they gave to king Eumenes.

9 And that they who were in Greece, had a mind to go and to destroy them: and they had knowledge thereof,

10 And they sent a general against them, and fought with them, and many of them were slain, and they carried away their wives, and their children captives, and spoiled them, and took possession of their land, and threw down their walls, and brought them to be their servants unto this day.

11 And the other kingdoms, and islands, that at any time had resisted them, they had destroyed and brought under their power.

12 But with their friends, and such as relied upon them, they kept amity, and had conquered kingdoms that were near, and that were far off: for all that heard their name, were afraid of them.

13 That whom they had a mind to help to a kingdom, those reigned: and whom they would, they deposed from the kingdom: and they were greatly exalted.

14 And none of all these wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby.

15 And that they had made themselves a senate-house, and consulted daily three hundred and twenty men, that sat in counsel always for the people, that they might do the things that were right:

16 And that they committed their government to one man every year, to rule over all their country, and they all obey one, and there is no envy, nor jealousy amongst them.

17 So Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Jacob, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and he sent them to Rome to make a league of amity and confederacy with them:

18 And that they might take off from them the yoke of the Grecians, for they saw that they oppressed the kingdom of Israel with servitude.

19 And they went to Rome, a very long journey, and they entered into the senate-house, and said:

20 Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews have sent us to you to make alliance and peace with you, and that we may be registered your confederates and friends.

21 And the proposal was pleasing in their sight.

22 And this is the copy of the writng that they wrote back again, graven in tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of the peace, and alliance.

23 GOOD SUCCESS BE TO THE ROMANS, and to the people of the Jews by sea, and by land for ever: and far be the sword and enemy from them.

24 But if there come first any war upon the Romans, or any of their confederates, in all their dominions:

25 The nation of the Jews shall help them according as the time shall direct, with all their heart:

26 Neither shall they give them, whilst they are fighting, or furnish them with wheat, or arms, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans: and they shall obey their orders, without taking any thing of them.

27 In like manner also if war shall come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall permit them:

VER. 5. Ceteans. That is, the Macedonians.

VER. 8. Eumenes. King of Pergamus.

VER. 16. To one man. There were two consuls: but one only ruled at one time, each in his day.

Ibid. No envy, &c. So Judas had heard: and it was so far true, with regard to the ancient Romans: that as yet no envy or jealousy had divided them into such open factions and civil wars, as they afterwards experienced in the time of Marius and Sylla, &c.

28 And there ſhall not be given to them that come to their aid, either wheat, or arms, or money, or ſhips, as it hath ſeemed good to the Romans: and they ſhall obſerve their orders without deceit.

29 According to theſe articles did the Romans covenant with the people of the Jews.

30 And if after this one party or the other ſhall have a mind to add to theſe articles, or take away any thing, they may do it at their pleaſure: and whatſoever they ſhall add, or take away, ſhall be ratified.

31 Moreover concerning the evils that Demetrius the king hath done againſt them, we have written to him, ſaying: Why haſt thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends, and allies the Jews?

32 If therefore they come again to us complaining of thee, we will do them juſtice, and will make war againſt thee by ſea and land.

CHAP. IX.

Bacchides is ſent again into Judea: Judas fights againſt him with 800 men and is ſlain. Jonathan ſucceeds him, and revenges the murder of his brother John. He fights againſt Bacchides. Alcimus dies miſerably. Bacchides beſieges Bethbeſſen. He is forced to raiſe the ſiege and leave the country.

A. M. 3843. Ante C. 161. IN the mean time, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his army were fallen in battle, he ſent again Bacchides and Alcimus into Judea; and the right wing of his army with them.

2 And they took the road that leadeth to Galgal, and they camped in Maſaloth, which is in Arbella: and they made themſelves maſters of it, and ſlew many people.

3 In the firſt month of the hundred and fifty ſecond year they brought the army to Jeruſalem:

4 And they aroſe, and went to Berea with twenty thouſand men, and two thouſand horſemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents in Laiſa, and three thouſand choſen men with him:

6 And they ſaw the multitude of the army that they were many, and they were ſeized with great fear: and many withdrew themſelves out of the camp, and there remained of them no more than eight hundred men.

7 And Judas ſaw that his army ſlipt away, and the battle preſſed upon him, and his heart was caſt down: becauſe he had not time to gather them together, and he was diſcouraged.

8 Then he ſaid to them that remained: Let us ariſe, and go againſt our enemies, if we may be able to fight againſt them.

9 But they diſſuaded him, ſaying: We ſhall not be able; but let us ſave our lives now, and return to our brethren, and then we will fight againſt them: for we are but few.

10 Then Judas ſaid: God forbid we ſhould do this thing, and flee away from them: but if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not ſtain our glory.

11 And the army removed out of the camp, and they ſtood over-againſt them: and the horſemen were divided into two troops, and the ſlingers, and the archers went before the army, and they that were in the front were all men of valour.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing, and the legion drew near on two ſides, and they ſounded the trumpets:

13 And they alſo that were on Judas's ſide, even they alſo cried out, and the earth ſhook at the noiſe of the armies: and the battle was fought from morning even unto the evening.

14 And Judas perceived that the ſtronger part of the army of Bacchides was on the right ſide, and all the ſtout of heart came together with him:

15 And the right wing was diſcomfited by them, and he purſued them even to the mount Azotus.

16 And they that were in the left wing ſaw that the right wing was diſcomfited, and they followed after Judas, and them that were with him, at their back:

17 And the battle was hard fought, and there fell many wounded of the one ſide and of the other.

18 And Judas was ſlain, and the reſt fled away.

19 And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the ſepulchre of their fathers in the city of Modin.

20 And all the people of Iſrael bewailed him with great lamentation, and they mourned for him many days,

21 And ſaid: How is the mighty man fallen, that ſaved the people of Iſrael!

22 But the reſt of the words of the wars of Judas, and of the noble acts that he did, and of his greatneſs, are not written: for they were very many.

23 And it came to paſs, after the death of Judas, that the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the confines of Israel, and all the workers of iniquity rose up.

24 In those days there was a very great famine, and they and all their country yielded to Bacchides.

25 And Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country:

26 And they sought out, and made diligent search after the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bacchides, and he took vengeance of them, and abused them.

27 And there was great tribulation in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that there was no prophet seen in Israel.

28 And all the friends of Judas came together, and said to Jonathan:

29 Since thy brother Judas died, there is not a man like him to go forth against our enemies, Bacchides, and them that are the enemies of our nation.

30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince, and captain in his stead, to fight our battles.

31 So Jonathan took upon him the government at that time, and rose up in the place of Judas his brother.

32 And Bacchides had knowledge of it, and sought to kill him.

33 And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, knew it, and all that were with them: and they fled into the desert of Thecua, and they pitched by the water of the lake Asphar.

34 And Bacchides understood it, and he came himself, with all his army over the Jordan on the sabbath-day.

35 And Jonathan sent his brother a captain of the people, to desire the Nabutheans his friends, that they would lend them their equipage, which was copious.

36 And the children of Jambri came forth out of Madaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went away with them.

37 After this it was told Jonathan, and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride out of Madaba, the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan with great pomp.

38 And they remembered the blood of John their brother: and they went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain.

39 And they lifted up their eyes, and saw: and behold a tumult, and great preparation: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends, and his brethren to meet them with timbrels, and musical instruments, and many weapons.

40 And they rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and slew them, and there fell many wounded, and the rest fled into the mountains, and they took all their spoils:

41 And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the noise of their musical instruments into lamentation.

42 And they took revenge for the blood of their brother: and they returned to the the bank of the Jordan.

43 And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath-day even to the bank of the Jordan with a great power.

44 And Jonathan said to his company: Let us arise, and fight against our enemies: for it is not now as yesterday, and the day before.

45 For behold the battle is before us, and the water of the Jordan on this side and on that side, and banks, and marshes, and woods: and there is no place for us to turn aside.

46 ‖ Now therefore cry ye to heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies. And they joined battle. ‖ 2 Par. 13. 14.

47 And Jonathan stretched forth his hand to strike Bacchides, but he turned away from him backwards.

48 And Jonathan, and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over the Jordan to them:

49 And there fell of Bacchides's side that day a thousand men: and they returned to Jerusalem,

50 And they built strong cities in Judea, the fortress that was in Jericho, and in Ammaus, and in Bethoron, and in Bethel, and Thamnata, and Phara, and Thopo, with high walls, and gates, and bars.

51 And he placed garrisons in them, that they might wage war against Israel:

52 And he fortified the city of Bethsura, and Gazara, and the castle, and set garrisons in them, and provisions of victuals:

53 And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in the castle in Jerusalem in custody.

54 Now in the year one hundred and fifty-three, the second month, Alcimus commanded the walls of the inner court of the sanctuary to be thrown down, and the works of the prophets to be destroyed: and he began to destroy. A. M. 3844. Ante C. 160.

55 At that time Alcimus was struck: and his works were hindered, and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speak a word, nor give order concerning his house.

56 And Alcimus died at that time in great torment.

57 And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead: and he returned to the king, and the land was quiet for two years.

A. M. 3846. Ante C. 158. 58 And all the wicked held a council, saying: Behold Jonathan, and they that are with him, dwell at ease and without fear: now therefore let us bring Bacchides hither, and he shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gave him counsel.

60 And he arose to come with a great army: and he sent secretly letters to his adherents that were in Judea, to seize upon Jonathan, and them that were with him: but they could not, for their design was known to them.

61 And he apprehended of the men of the country, that were the principal authors of the mischief, fifty men, and he slew them.

62 And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him retired into Bethbessen, which is in the desert: and he repaired the breaches thereof, and they fortified it.

63 And when Bacchides knew it, he gathered together all his multitude: and sent word to them that were of Judea.

64 And he came, and camped above Bethbessen, and fought against it many days, and made engines.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and came with a number of men, 66 And struck Odares, and his brethren, and the children of Phaseron in their tents, and he began to slay, and to increase in forces.

67 But Simon and they that were with him, sallied out of the city, and burnt the engines,

68 And they fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them: and they afflicted him exceedingly, for his counsel, and his enterprize was in vain.

69 And he was angry with the wicked men that had given him counsel to come into their country, and he slew many of them: and he purposed to return with the rest into their country.

70 And Jonathan had knowledge of it, and he sent ambassadors to him to make peace with him, and to restore to him the prisoners.

71 And he accepted it willingly, and did according to his words, and swore that he would do him no harm all the days of his life.

72 And he restored to him the prisoners which he before had taken, out of the land of Juda: and he returned and went away into his own country, and he came no more into their borders.

73 So the sword ceased from Israel: and Jonathan dwelt in Machmas, and Jonathan began there to judge the people, and he destroyed the wicked out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

Alexander Bales sets himself up for king: both he and Demetrius seek to make Jonathan their friend. Alexander kills Demetrius in battle, and honours Jonathan. His victory over Apollonius.

A. M. 3851. Ante C. 153. NOW in the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander the son of Antiochus, surnamed the Illustrious, came up and took Ptolemais, and they received him, and he reigned there.

2 And king Demetrius heard of it, and gathered together an exceeding great army, and went forth against him to fight.

3 And Demetrius sent a letter to Jonathan with peaceable words, to magnify him.

4 For he said: Let us first make a peace with him, before he make one with Alexander against us.

5 For he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brother, and against his nation.

6 And he gave him authority to gather together an army, and to make arms, and that he should be his confederate: and the hostages that were in the castle, he commanded to be delivered to him.

7 And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the hearing of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And they were struck with great fear, because they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together an army.

9 And the hostages were delivered to Jonathan, and he restored them to their parents.

10 And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build, and to repair the city.

11 And he ordered workmen to build the walls, and mount Sion round about with square stones for fortification: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the strong-holds, which Bacchides had built, fled away.

13 And every man left his place, and departed into his own country:

14 Only in Bethsura there remained some of them, that had forsaken the law, and the commandments of God: for this was a place of refuge for them.

15 And king Alexander heard of the promiſes that Demetrius had made Jonathan: and they told him of the battles, and the worthy acts that he, and his brethren had done, and the labours that they had endured.

16 And he ſaid: Shall we find ſuch another man? now therefore we will make him our friend and our confederate.

17 So he wrote a letter, and ſent it to him according to theſe words, ſaying:

18 KING Alexander to his brother Jonathan greeting.

19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and fit to be our friend:

20 Now therefore we make thee this day high prieſt of thy nation, and that thou be called the king's friend (and he ſent him a purple robe, and a crown of gold) and that thou be of one mind with us in our affairs, and keep friendſhip with us.

21 Then Jonathan put on the holy veſtment in the ſeventh month, in the year one hundred and threeſcore, at the feaſt-day of the tabernacles: and he gathered together an army, and made a great number of arms.

22 And Demetrius heard theſe words, and was exceeding ſorry, and ſaid:

23 What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath prevented us to gain the friendſhip of the Jews to ſtrengthen himſelf?

24 I alſo will write to them words of requeſt, and offer dignities, and gifts: that they may be with me to aid me.

25 And he wrote to them in theſe words: KING Demetrius to the nation of the Jews greeting.

26 Whereas you have kept covenant with us, and have continued in our friendſhip, and have not joined with our enemies, we have heard of it, and are glad.

27 Wherefore now continue ſtill to keep fidelity towards us, and we will reward you with good things, for what you have done in our behalf.

28 And we will remit to you many charges, and will give you gifts.

29 And now I free you, and all the Jews from tributes, and I releaſe you from the cuſtoms of ſalt, and remit the crowns, and the thirds of the ſeed:

30 And the half of the fruit of trees, which is my ſhare, I leave to you from this day forward, ſo that it ſhall not be taken of the land of Juda, and of the three cities that are added thereto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for ever:

31 And let Jeruſalem be holy and free, with the borders thereof: and let the tenths, and tributes be for itſelf.

32 I yield up alſo the power of the caſtle that is in Jeruſalem, and I give it to the high prieſt, to place therein ſuch men as he ſhall chooſe, to keep it.

33 And every ſoul of the Jews that hath been carried captive from the land of Juda in all my kingdom, I ſet at liberty freely, that all be diſcharged from tributes even of their cattle.

34 And I will that all the feaſts, and the ſabbaths, and the new moons, and the days appointed, and three days before the ſolemn day, and three days after the ſolemn day be all days of immunity and freedom, for all the Jews that are in my kingdom:

35 And no man ſhall have power to do any thing againſt them, or to moleſt any of them, in any cauſe.

36 And let there be enrolled in the king's army to the number of thirty thouſand of the Jews: and allowance ſhall be made them as is due to all the king's forces, and certain of them ſhall be appointed to be in the fortreſſes of the great king:

37 And ſome of them ſhall be ſet over the affairs of the kingdom, that are of truſt, and let the governors be taken from among themſelves, and let them walk in their own laws, as the king hath commanded in the land of Juda.

38 And the three cities that are added to Judea, out of the country of Samaria, let them be accounted with Judea: that they may be under one, and obey no other authority but that of the high prieſt:

39 Ptolemais, and the confines thereof, I give as a free gift to the holy places, that are in Jeruſalem, for the neceſſary charges of the holy things.

40 And I give every year fifteen thouſand ſickles of ſilver out of the king's accounts, of what belongs to me:

41 And all that is above, which they that were over the affairs the years before, had not paid, from this time they ſhall give it to the works of the houſe.

42 Moreover the five thouſand ſickles of ſilver which they received from the account of the holy places, every year, ſhall alſo belong to the prieſts that execute the miniſtry.

43 And whoſoever ſhall flee into the temple that is in Jeruſalem, and in all the borders thereof, being indebted to the king for any matter, let them be ſet at liberty, and all that they have in my kingdom, let them have it free.

44 For the building also, or repairing the works of the holy places, the charges shall be given out of the king's revenues:

45 For the building also of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, the charges shall be given out of the king's account, as also for the building of the walls in Judea.

46 Now when Jonathan, and the people heard these words, ‖ they gave no credit to them, nor received them: because they remembered the great evil that he had done in Israel, for he had afflicted them exceedingly.

‖ Supra 7. 32.

47 And their inclinations were towards Alexander, because he had been the chief promoter of peace in their regard, and him they always helped.

A. M. 3854. Ante C. 150.

48 And king Alexander gathered together a great army, and moved his camp near to Demetrius.

49 And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Demetrius fled away, and Alexander pursued after him, and pressed them close.

50 And the battle was hard fought, till the sun went down: and Demetrius was slain that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemee king of Egypt with words to this effect, saying:

52 FORASMUCH as I am returned into my kingdom, and am set in the throne of my ancestors, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and possessed our country,

53 And have joined battle with him, and both he, and his army have been destroyed by us, and we are placed in the throne of his kingdom:

54 Now therefore let us make friendship one with another: and give me now thy daughter to wife, and I will be thy son-in-law, and I will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee.

55 And king Ptolomee answered, saying: HAPPY is the day wherein thou didst return to the land of thy fathers, and satteſt in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now I will do to thee as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, and I may give her to thee as thou hast said.

57 So Ptolemee went out of Egypt, with Cleopatra his daughter, and he came to Ptolemais in the hundred and sixty second

A. M. 3854. year.*

58 And king Alexander met him, and he gave him his daughter Cleopatra: and he celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais, with great glory after the manner of kings.

59 And king Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 And he went honourably to Ptolemais, and he met there the two kings, and he gave them much silver, and gold, and presents: and he found favour in their sight.

61 And some pestilent men of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him to accuse him: and the king gave no heed to them.

62 And he commanded that Jonathan's garments should be taken off, and that he should be clothed with purple: and they did so. And the king made him sit by himself.

63 And he said to his princes: Go out with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his glory proclaimed, and him clothed with purple, they all fled away.

65 And the king magnified him, and enrolled him amongst his chief friends, and made him governor, and partaker of his dominion.

66 And Jonathan returned into Jerusalem with peace and joy.

67 In the year one hundred and sixty five Demetrius the son of Demetrius came from Crete into the land of his fathers. A. M. 3856. Ante C. 148.

68 And king Alexander heard of it, and was much troubled, and returned to Antioch.

69 And king Demetrius made Apollonius his general, who was governor of Celesyria: and he gathered together a great army, and came to Jamnia: and he sent to Jonathan the high priest,

70 Saying: Thou alone standest against us, and I am laughed at, and reproached, because thou shewest thy power against us in the mountains.

71 Now therefore if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try one another: for with me is the strength of war.

72 Ask, and learn who I am, and the rest that help me, who also say that your foot cannot stand before our face, for thy fathers have twice been put to flight in their own land:

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide the horsemen, and so great an army in the plain, where there is no stone, nor rock, nor place to flee to?

CHAP. X. VER. 51. Ptolemee. Surnamed Philometor.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind: and he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him to help him.

75 And they pitched their tents near Joppe, but they shut him out of the city: because a garrison of Apollonius was in Joppe, and he laid siege to it.

76 And they that were in the city being affrighted, opened the gates to him: so Jonathan took Joppe.

77 And Apollonius heard of it, and he took three thousand horsemen, and a great army.

78 And he went to Azotus as one that was making a journey, and immediately he went forth into the plain: because he had a great number of horsemen, and he trusted in them. And Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, and they joined battle.

79 And Apollonius left privately in the camp a thousand horsemen behind them.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambush behind him, and they surrounded his army, and cast darts at the people from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them: and so their horses were fatigued.

82 Then Simon drew forth his army, and attacked the legion: for the horsemen were wearied: and they were discomfited by him, and fled.

83 And they that were scattered about the plain, fled into Azotus, and went into Bethdagon their idol's temple, there to save themselves.

84 But Jonathan set fire to Azotus, and the cities that were round about it, and took the spoils of them, and the temple of Dagon: and all them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85 So they that were slain by the sword, with them that were burnt, were almost eight thousand men.

86 And Jonathan removed his army from thence, and camped against Ascalon: and they went out of the city to meet him with great honour.

87 And Jonathan returned into Jerusalem with his people, having many spoils.

88 And it came to pass: when Alexander the king heard these words, that he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89 And he sent him a buckle of gold, as the custom is to be given to such as are of the royal blood. And he gave him Accaron and all the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

Ptolemee invades the kingdom of Alexander: the latter is slain: and the former dies soon after. Demetrius honours Jonathan, and is rescued by the Jews from his own subjects in Antioch. Antiochus the younger favours Jonathan. His exploits in divers places.

AND the king of Egypt gathered together an army, like the sand that lieth upon the sea shore, and many ships: and he sought to get the kingdom of Alexander by deceit, and join it to his own kingdom. A. M. 3858. Ante C. 146

2 And he went out into Syria with peaceable words, and they opened to him the cities, and met him: for king Alexander had ordered them to go forth to meet him, because he was his father-in-law.

3 Now when Ptolemee entered into the cities, he put garrisons of soldiers in every city.

4 And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt with fire, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and the graves of them that were slain in the battle, which they had made near the way.

5 And they told the king that Jonathan had done these things, to make him odious: but the king held his peace.

6 And Jonathan came to meet the king at Joppe with glory, and they saluted one another, and they lodged there.

7 And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river, called Eleutherus: and he returned into Jerusalem.

8 And king Ptolemee got the dominion of the cities by the sea side, even to Seleucia, and he devised evil designs against Alexander.

9 And he sent ambassadors to Demetrius, saying: Come, let us make a league between us, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in the kingdom of thy father.

10 For I repent that I have given him my daughter: for he hath sought to kill me.

11 And he slandered him, because he coveted his kingdom,

12 And he took away his daughter, and gave her to Demetrius, and alienated himself from Alexander, and his enmities were made manifest.

13 And Ptolemee entered into Antioch, and set two crowns upon his head, that of Egypt, and that of Asia.

14 Now king Alexander was in Cilicia at that time: because they that were in those places had rebelled.

A. M. 3859 Ante C. 145. 15 And when Alexander heard of it, he came to give him battle: and king Ptolemee brought forth his army, and met him with a strong power, and put him to flight.

16 And Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be protected: and king Ptolemee was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemee.

18 And king Ptolemee died the third day after: and they that were in the strong holds were destroyed by them that were within the camp.

A. M. 3859. 19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred and sixty seventh year.

20 In those days Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judea, to take the castle that was in Jerusalem: and they made many engines of war against it.

21 Then some wicked men that hated their own nation, went away to king Demetrius, and told him that Jonathan was besieging the castle.

22 And when he heard it, he was angry: and forthwith he came to Ptolemais, and wrote to Jonathan, that he should not besiege the castle, but should come to him in haste and speak to him.

23 But when Jonathan heard this, he bade them besiege it still: and he chose some of the ancients of Israel, and of the priests, and put himself in danger.

24 And he took gold, and silver, and raiment, and many other presents, and went to the king to Ptolemais, and he found favour in his sight.

25 And certain wicked men of his nation made complaints against him.

26 And the king treated him as his predecessors had done before: and he exalted him in the sight of all his friends.

27 And he confirmed him in the high priesthood, and all the honours he had before, and he made him the chief of his friends.

28 And Jonathan requested of the king that he would make Judea free from tribute, and the three governments, and Samaria, and the confines thereof: and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 And the king consented: and he wrote letters to Jonathan of all these things to this effect.

30 KING Demetrius to his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

31 We send you here a copy of the letter, which we have written to Lasthenes our parent concerning you, that you might know it.

32 KING Demetrius to Lasthenes his parent, greeting.

33 We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews who are our friends, and keep the things that are just with us, for their good will which they bear towards us.

34 We have ratified therefore unto them all the borders of Judea, and the three cities, Apherema, Lyda, and Ramatha, which are added to Judea, out of Samaria, and all their confines, to be set apart to all them that sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments which the king received of them every year, and for the fruits of the land, and of the trees.

35 And as for other things that belonged to us of the tithes, and of the tributes, from this time we discharge them of them: the salt-pans also, and the crowns that were presented to us.

36 We give all to them, and nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth and for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be given to Jonathan, and set upon the holy mountain, in a conspicuous place.

A. M. 3860. Ante C. 144. 38 And king Demetrius seeing that the land was quiet before him, and nothing resisted him, sent away all his forces, every man to his own place, except the foreign army, which he had drawn together from the islands of the nations: so all the troops of his fathers hated him.

39 Now there was one Tryphon who had been of Alexander's party before: who seeing that all the army murmured against Demetrius, went to Emalchuel the Arabian, who brought up Antiochus the son of Alexander:

40 And he pressed him much to deliver him to him, that he might be king in his father's place: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and how his soldiers hated him. And he remained there many days.

41 And Jonathan sent to king Demetrius, desiring that he would cast out them that were in the castle in Jerusalem, and those that were in the strong-holds: because they fought against Israel.

42 And Demetrius sent to Jonathan, saying: I will not only do this for thee, and for thy people, but I will greatly honour thee, and thy nation, when opportunity ſhall ſerve.

43 Now therefore thou ſhalt do well if thou ſend me men to help me: for all my army is gone from me.

44 And Jonathan ſent him three thouſand valiant men to Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was very glad of their coming.

45 And they that were of the city aſſembled themſelves together, to the number of a hundred and twenty thouſand men, and would have killed the king.

46 And the king fled into the palace: and they of the city kept the paſſages of the city, and began to fight.

47 And the king called the Jews to his aſſiſtance: and they came to him all at once, and they all diſperſed themſelves through the city.

48 And they ſlew in that day a hundred thouſand men, and they ſet fire to the city, and got many ſpoils that day, and delivered the king.

49 And they that were of the city ſaw that the Jews had got the city as they would: and they were diſcouraged in their mind, and cried to the king, making ſupplication, and ſaying:

50 Grant us peace, and let the Jews ceaſe from aſſaulting us, and the city.

51 And they threw down their arms, and made peace, and the Jews were glorified in the ſight of the king, and in the ſight of all that were in his realm, and were renowned throughout the kingdom, and returned to Jeruſalem with many ſpoils.

52 So king Demetrius ſat in the throne of his kingdom: and the land was quiet before him.

53 And he falſified all whatſoever he had ſaid, and alienated himſelf from Jonathan, and did not reward him according to the benefits he had received from him, but gave him great trouble.

54 And after this Tryphon returned, and with him Antiochus the young boy, who was made king, and put on the diadem.

55 And there aſſembled unto him all the bands which Demetrius had ſent away, and they fought againſt Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 And Tryphon took the elephants, and made himſelf maſter of Antioch.

57 And young Antiochus wrote to Jonathan, ſaying: I confirm thee in the high prieſthood, and I appoint thee ruler over the four cities, and to be one of the king's friends.

58 And he ſent him veſſels of gold for his ſervice, and he gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle:

59 And he made his brother Simon governor from the borders of Tyre even to the confines of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth and paſſed through the cities beyond the river: and all the forces of Syria gathered themſelves to him to help him, and he came to Aſcalon, and they met him honourably out of the city.

61 And he went from thence to Gaza: and they that were in Gaza, ſhut him out: and he beſieged it, and burnt all the ſuburbs round about, and took the ſpoils.

62 And the men of Gaza made ſupplication to Jonathan, and he gave them the right hand: and he took their ſons for hoſtages, and ſent them to Jeruſalem: and he went through the country as far as Damaſcus.

63 And Jonathan heard that the generals of Demetrius were come treacherouſly to Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great army, purpoſing to remove him from the affairs of the kingdom:

64 And he went againſt them: but left his brother Simon in the country.

65 And Simon encamped againſt Bethſura, and aſſaulted it many days, and ſhut them up.

66 And they deſired him to make peace, and he granted it them: and he caſt them out from thence, and took the city, and placed a garriſon in it.

67 And Jonathan, and his army encamped by the water of Geneſar, and before it was light they were ready in the plain of Aſor.

68 And behold the army of the ſtrangers met him in the plain, and they laid an ambuſh for him in the mountains: but he went out againſt them.

69 And they that lay in ambuſh roſe out of their places, and joined battle.

70 And all that were on Jonathan's ſide fled, and none was left of them, but Mathathias the ſon of Abſalom, and Judas the ſon of Calphi, chief captain of the army.

71 And Jonathan rent his garments, and caſt earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 And Jonathan turned again to them to battle, and he put them to flight, and they fought.

73 And they of his part that fled ſaw this, and they turned again to him, and they all with him purſued the enemies even to Cades to their own camp, and they came even thither.

74 And there fell of the aliens in that day three thouſand men: and Jonathan returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XII.

Jonathan renews his league with the Romans and Lacedemonians. The forces of Demetrius flee away from him. He is deceived and made prisoner by Tryphon.

A. M. 3860. AND Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose certain men and sent them to Rome, to confirm and to renew the amity with them:

2 And he sent letters to the Spartans, and to other places according to the same form.

3 And they went to Rome, and entered into the senate-house, and said: Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews have sent us to renew the amity, and alliance as it was before.

4 And they gave them letters to their governors in every place, to conduct them into the land of Juda with peace.

5 And this is a copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

6 JONATHAN the high priest, and the ancients of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, to the Spartans, their brethren, greeting.

* A. M. 3817. Ante C. 187. 7 There were letters sent long ago * to Onias the high priest from Arius who reigned then among you, to signify that you are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten, doth specify.

8 And Onias received the ambassador with honour: and received the letters, wherein there was mention made of the alliance, and amity.

9 We, though we needed none of these things, having for our comfort the holy books that are in our hands,

10 Chose rather to send to you to renew the brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers to you altogether: for there is a long time passed since you sent to us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our festivals, and other days wherein it is convenient, remember you in the sacrifices that we offer, and in our observances, as it is meet, and becoming to remember brethren.

12 And we rejoice at your glory.

13 But we have had many troubles and wars on every side, and the kings that are round about us, have fought against us.

14 But we would not be troublesome to you, nor to the rest of our allies and friends in these wars.

15 For we have had help from heaven, and we have been delivered, and our enemies are humbled.

16 We have chosen therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them to the Romans to renew with them the former amity and alliance.

17 And we have commanded them to go also to you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 And now you shall do well to give us an answer hereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letter which he had sent to Onias:

20 ARIUS king of the Spartans to Onias the high priest, greeting.

21 It is found in writing concerning the Spartans, and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham.

22 And now since this is come to our knowledge, you do well to write to us of your prosperity.

23 And we also have written back to you, That our cattle, and our possessions, are yours: and yours, ours. We therefore have commanded that these things should be told you.

24 Now Jonathan heard that the generals of Demetrius were come again with a greater army than before to fight against him.

25 So he went out from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Amath: for he gave them no time to enter into his country.

26 And he sent spies into their camp, and they came back and brought him word that they designed to come upon them in the night.

27 And when the sun was set, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms all night long ready to fight, and he set centinels round about the camp.

28 And the enemies heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle: and they were struck with fear and dread in their heart: and they kindled fires in their camp.

29 But Jonathan and they that were with him, knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning.

30 And Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they had passed the river Eleutherus.

31 And Jonathan turned upon the Ara-bians that are called Zabadeans: and he defeated them, and took the ſpoils of them.

32 And he went forward, and came to Damaſcus, and paſſed through all that country.

33 Simon alſo went forth, and came as far as Aſcalon, and the neighbouring fortreſſes, and he turned aſide to Joppe, and took poſſeſſion of it.

34 (For he heard that they deſigned to deliver the hold to them that took part with Demetrius) and he put a garriſon there to keep it.

A. M. 3860. 35 And Jonathan came back, and called together the ancients of the people, and he took a reſolution with them to build fortreſſes in Judea,

36 And to build up walls in Jeruſalem, and raiſe a mount between the caſtle and the city, to ſeparate it from the city, that ſo it might have no communication, and that they might neither buy nor ſell.

37 And they came together to build up the city: for the wall that was upon the brook towards the eaſt was broken down, and he repaired that which is called Caphetetha:

38 And Simon built Adiada in Sephela, and fortified it, and ſet up gates and bars.

A. M. 3861. 39 Now when Tryphon had conceived a deſign to make himſelf king of Aſia, and to take the crown, and to ſtretch out his hand againſt king Antiochus:

40 Fearing leſt Jonathan would not ſuffer him, but would fight againſt him: he ſought to ſeize upon him, and to kill him. So he roſe up and came to Bethſan.

41 And Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thouſand men choſen for battle, and came to Bethſan.

42 Now when Tryphon ſaw that Jonathan came with a great army, he durſt not ſtretch forth his hand againſt him.

43 But received him with honour, and commended him to all his friends, and gave him preſents: and he commanded his troops to obey him, as himſelf.

44 And he ſaid to Jonathan: Why haſt thou troubled all the people, whereas we have no war?

45 Now therefore ſend them back to their own houſes: and chooſe thee a few men that may be with thee, and come with me to Ptolemais, and I will deliver it to thee, and the reſt of the ſtrong-holds, and the army, and all that have any charge, and I will return and go away: for this is the cauſe of my coming.

46 And Jonathan believed him, and did as he ſaid: and ſent away his army, and they departed into the land of Juda:

47 But he kept with him three thouſand men: of whom he ſent two thouſand into Galilee, and one thouſand went with him.

48 Now as ſoon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais ſhut the gates of the city, and took him: and all them that came in with him they ſlew with the ſword.

49 Then Tryphon ſent an army and horſemen into Galilee, and into the great plain to deſtroy all Jonathan's company.

50 But they, when they underſtood that Jonathan and all that were with him were taken and ſlain, encouraged one another, and went out ready for battle.

51 Then they that had come after them, ſeeing that they ſtood for their lives, returned back.

52 Whereupon they all came peaceably into the land of Juda. And they bewailed Jonathan, and them that had been with him, exceedingly: and Iſrael mourned with great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathens that were round about them, ſought to deſtroy them. For they ſaid:

54 They have no prince, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and take away the memory of them from amongſt men.

CHAP. XIII.

Simon is made captain general in the room of his brother. Jonathan is ſlain by Tryphon. Simon is favoured by Demetrius: he taketh Gaza, and the caſtle of Jeruſalem.

NOW Simon heard that Tryphon was gathering together a very great army, to invade the land of Juda, and to deſtroy it.

2 And ſeeing that the people was in dread, and in fear, he went up to Jeruſalem, and aſſembled the people:

3 And exhorted them, ſaying: You know what great battles I and my brethren, and the houſe of my father, have fought for the laws, and the ſanctuary, and the diſtreſſes that we have ſeen:

4 By reaſon whereof all my brethren have loſt their lives for Iſrael's ſake, and I am left alone.

5 And now far be it from me to ſpare my life in any time of trouble: for I am not better than my brethren.

6 I will avenge then my nation and the ſanctuary, and our children, and wives: for all the heathens are gathered together to deſtroy us out of mere malice.

7 And the ſpirit of the people was enkindled as ſoon as they heard theſe words:

8 And they anſwered with a loud voice, ſaying: Thou art our leader in the place of Judas, and Jonathan thy brother:

9 Fight thou our battles, and we will do whatſoever thou ſhalt ſay to us.

10 So gathering together all the men of war, he made haſte to finiſh all the walls of Jeruſalem, and he fortified it round about.

11 And he ſent Jonathan the ſon of Abſalom, and with him a new army into Joppe, and he caſt out them that were in it, and himſelf remained there.

12 And Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great army, to invade the land of Juda, and Jonathan was with him in cuſtody.

13 But Simon pitched in Addus, overagainſt the plain.

14 And when Tryphon underſtood that Simon was riſen up in the place of his brother Jonathan, and that he meant to join battle with him, he ſent meſſengers to him,

15 Saying: We have detained thy brother Jonathan for the money that he owed in the king's account, by reaſon of the affairs which he had the management of.

16 But now ſend a hundred talents of ſilver, and his two ſons for hoſtages, that when he is ſet at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will releaſe him.

17 Now Simon knew that he ſpoke deceitfully to him, nevertheleſs he ordered the money, and the children, to be ſent: leſt he ſhould bring upon himſelf a great hatred of the people of Iſrael, who might have ſaid:

18 Becauſe he ſent not the money, and the children, therefore is he loſt.

19 So he ſent the children, and the hundred talents: and he lyed, and did not let Jonathan go.

20 And after this Tryphon entered within the country, to deſtroy it: and they went about by the way that leadeth to Ador: and Simon, and his army marched to every place whitherſoever they went.

21 And they that were in the caſtle, ſent meſſengers to Tryphon, that he ſhould make haſte to come through the deſert, and ſend them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made ready all his horſemen to come that night: but there fell a very great ſnow, and he came not into the country of Galaad.

23 And when he approached to Baſcama, he ſlew Jonathan and his ſons there.

24 And Tryphon returned, and went into his own country.

25 And Simon ſent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin, the city of his fathers.

26 And all Iſrael bewailed him with great lamentation: and they mourned for him many days.

27 And Simon built over the ſepulchre of his father and of his brethren, a building lofty to the ſight, of poliſhed ſtone behind and before?

28 And he ſet up ſeven pyramids one againſt another for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren:

29 And round about theſe he ſet great pillars: and upon the pillars arms for a perpetual memory: and by the arms ſhips carved, which might be ſeen by all that ſailed on the ſea.

30 This is the ſepulchre that he made in Modin even unto this day.

31 But Tryphon when he was upon a journey with the young king Antiochus, treacherouſly ſlew him.

32 And he reigned in his place, and put on the crown of Aſia: and brought great evils upon the land.

33 And Simon built up the ſtrongholds of Judea, fortifying them with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars: and he ſtored up victuals in the fortreſſes.

34 And Simon choſe men and ſent to king Demetrius, to the end that he ſhould grant an immunity to the land: for all that Tryphon did was to ſpoil.

35 And king Demetrius, in anſwer to this requeſt, wrote a letter in this manner:

36 KING Demetrius to Simon the high prieſt, and friend of kings, and to the ancients, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

37 The golden crown, and the palm, which you ſent, we have received: and we are ready to make a firm peace with you, and to write to the king's chief officers to releaſe you the things that we have releaſed.

38 For all that we have decreed in your

CHAP. XIII. VER. 20. Simon and his army marched to every place whitherſoever they went: that is, whitherſoever Tryphon and his horſemen went, in order to oppoſe them.

favour, shall stand in force. The strongholds that you have built, shall be your own.

39 And as for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown which you owed: and if any other thing were taxed in Jerusalem, now let it not be taxed.

40 And if any of you be fit to be enrolled among ours, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us.

A. M. 3861. Ante C. 143. 41 In the year one hundred and seventy the yoke of the Gentiles was taken off from Israel.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in the instruments, and public records, The first year under Simon the high priest, the great captain, and prince of the Jews.

43 In those days Simon besieged Gaza, and camped round about it, and he made engines, and set them to the city, and he struck one tower, and took it.

44 And they that were within the engine leapt into the city: and there was a great uproar in the city.

45 And they that were in the city went up with their wives and children upon the wall with their garments rent, and they cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace,

46 And they said: Deal not with us according to our evil deeds, but according to thy mercy.

47 And Simon being moved, did not destroy them: but yet he cast them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein there had been idols, and then he entered into it with hymns, blessing the Lord:

48 And having cast out of it all uncleanness, he placed in it men that should observe the law: and he fortified it, and made it his habitation.

49 But they that were in the castle of Jerusalem were hindered from going out and coming into the country, and from buying and selling: and they were straitened with hunger, and many of them perished through famine,

50 And they cried to Simon for peace, and he granted it to them: and he cast them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from uncleannesses.

A. M. 3862. Ante C. 142. 51 And they entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the year one hundred and seventy one, with thanksgiving, and branches of palm-trees, and harps, and cymbals, and psalteries, and hymns, and canticles, because the great enemy was destroyed out of Israel.

52 And he ordained that these days should be kept every year with gladness.

53 And he fortified the mountain of the temple that was near the castle, and he dwelt there himself, and they that were with him.

54 And Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man for war: and he made him captain of all the forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

CHAP. XIV.

Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia. Judea flourishes under the government of Simon.

IN the year one hundred and seventy two, king Demetrius assembled his army, and went into Media to get him succours to fight against Tryphon. A. M. 3863. Ante C. 141.

2 And Arsaces the king of Persia and Media heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, and he sent one of his princes to take him alive, and bring him to him.

3 And he went, and defeated the army of Demetrius: and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, and he put him into custody.

4 And all the land of Juda was at rest all the days of Simon, and he fought the good of his nation: and his power, and his glory pleased them well all his days.

5 And with all his glory he took Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea.

6 And he enlarged the bounds of his nation, and made himself master of the country.

7 And he gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and of Bethsura, and of the castle: and took away all uncleanness out of it, and there was none that resisted him.

8 And every man tilled his land with peace: and the land of Juda yielded her increase, and the trees of the fields their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat all in the streets, and treated together of the good things of the land, and the young men put on them glory, and the robes of war.

10 And he provided victuals for the cities, and he appointed that they should be furnished with ammunition, so that the fame of his glory was renowned even to the end of the earth.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy.

12 And every man sat under his vine, and under his fig-tree: and there was none to make them afraid.

13 There was none left in the land to fight against them: kings were discomfited in those days.

14 And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low, and he fought the law, and took away every unjuſt and wicked man.

15 He glorified the ſanctuary, and multiplied the veſſels of the holy places.

16 And it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead: and they were very ſorry.

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high prieſt in his place, and was poſſeſſed of all the country, and the cities therein:

18 They wrote to him in tables of braſs, to renew the friendſhip and alliance which they had made with Judas, and with Jonathan his brethren.

19 And they were read before the aſſembly in Jeruſalem. And this is the copy of the letters that the Spartans ſent.

20 THE PRINCES and the cities of the Spartans to Simon the high prieſt, and to the ancients, and the prieſts, and the reſt of the people of the Jews their brethren, greeting.

21 The ambaſſadors that were ſent to our people, have told us of your glory, and honour, and joy: and we rejoiced at their coming.

22 And we regiſtered what was ſaid by them in the councils of the people in this manner: Numenius the ſon of Antiochus, and Antipater the ſon of Jaſon, ambaſſadors of the Jews, came to us to renew the former friendſhip with us.

23 And it pleaſed the people to receive the men honourably, and to put a copy of their words in the public records, to be a memorial to the people of the Spartans. And we have written a copy of them to Simon the high prieſt.

24 And after this Simon ſent Numenius to Rome, with a great ſhield of gold, of the weight of a thouſand pounds, to confirm the league with them. And when the people of Rome had heard

25 Theſe words, they ſaid: What thanks ſhall we give to Simon, and his ſons:

26 For he hath reſtored his brethren, and hath driven away in fight the enemies of Iſrael from them: and they decreed him liberty, and regiſtered it in tables of braſs, and ſet it upon pillars in mount Sion.

27 And this is a copy of the writing. THE EIGHTEENTH day of the month Elul, * A. M. 3863. Ante C. 141. in the year * one hundred and ſeventy two, being the third year under Simon the high prieſt at Aſaramel,

28 In a great aſſembly of the prieſts, and of the people, and the princes of the nation, and the ancients of the country, theſe things were notified: Foraſmuch as there have often been wars in our country,

29 And Simon the ſon of Mathathias of the children of Jarib, and his brethren have put themſelves in danger, and reſiſted the enemies of their nation, for the maintenance of their holy places, and the law: and have raiſed their nation to great glory.

30 And Jonathan gathered together his nation, and was made their high prieſt, and he was laid to his people.

31 And their enemies deſired to tread down and deſtroy their country, and to ſtretch forth their hands againſt their holy places.

32 Then Simon reſiſted and fought for his nation, and laid out much of his money, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages:

33 And he fortified the cities of Judea, and Bethſura that lieth in the borders of Judea, where the armour of the enemies was before: and he placed there a garriſon of Jews.

34 And he fortified Joppe which lieth by the ſea: and Gazara, which bordereth upon Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt before, and he placed Jews here: and furniſhed them with all things convenient for their reparation.

35 And the people ſeeing the acts of Simon, and to what glory he meant to bring his nation, made him their prince, and high prieſt, becauſe he had done all theſe things, and for the juſtice, and faith, which he kept to his nation, and for that he ſought by all means to advance his people.

36 And in his days things proſpered in his hands, ſo that the heathens were taken away out of their country, and they alſo that were in the city of David in Jeruſalem in the caſtle, out of which they iſſued forth, and profaned all places round about the ſanctuary, and did much evil to its purity.

37 And he placed therein Jews for the defence of the country, and of the city, and he raiſed up the walls of Jeruſalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in the high prieſthood.

39 According to theſe things he made him his friend, and glorified him with great glory.

40 For he had heard that the Romans had called the Jews their friends, and confederates, and brethren, and that they had received Simon's ambaſſadors with honour:

41 And that the Jews, and their prieſts had conſented that he ſhould be their prince, and high prieſt for ever, till there ſhould ariſe a faithful prophet:

42 And that he ſhould be chief over them, and that he ſhould have the charge of the ſanctuary, and that he ſhould appoint rulers over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the ſtrong-holds.

43 And that he ſhould have care of the holy places: and that he ſhould be obeyed by all, and that all the writings in the country ſhould be made in his name: and that he ſhould be clothed with purple, and gold:

44 And that it ſhould not be lawful for any of the people, or of the prieſts, to diſannul any of theſe things, or to gainſay his words, or to call together an aſſembly in the country without him: or to be clothed with purple, or to wear a buckle of gold.

45 And whoſoever ſhall do otherwiſe, or ſhall make void any of theſe things ſhall be puniſhed.

46 And it pleaſed all the people to eſtabliſh Simon, and to do according to theſe words.

47 And Simon accepted thereof, and was well pleaſed to execute the office of the high prieſthood, and to be captain, and prince of the nation of the Jews, and of the prieſts, and to be chief over all.

48 And they commanded that this writing ſhould be put in tables of braſs, and that they ſhould be ſet up within the compaſs of the ſanctuary, in a conſpicuous place:

49 And that a copy thereof ſhould be put in the treaſury, that Simon and his ſons may have it.

CHAP. XV.

Antiochus ſon of Demetrius honours Simon. The Romans write to divers nations in favour of the Jews. Antiochus quarrels with Simon, and ſends troops to annoy him.

A. M. 3864. Ante C. 140. AND king Antiochus the ſon of Demetrius ſent letters from the iſles of the ſea to Simon the prieſt, and prince of the nation of the Jews, and to all the people:

2 And the contents were theſe: KING Antiochus to Simon the high prieſt, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

3 Foraſmuch as certain peſtilent men have uſurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpoſe is to challenge the kingdom, and to reſtore it to its former eſtate: and I have choſen a great army, and have built ſhips of war.

4 And I deſign to go through the country, that I may take revenge of them that have deſtroyed our country, and that have made many cities deſolate in my realm.

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations which all the kings before me remitted to thee, and what other gifts ſoever they remitted to thee:

6 And I give thee leave to coin thy own money in thy country:

7 And let Jeruſalem be holy and free, and all the armour that hath been made, and the fortreſſes which thou haſt built, and which thou keepeſt in thy hands, let them remain to thee.

8 And all that is due to the king, and what ſhould be the king's hereafter, from this preſent and for ever, is forgiven thee.

9 And when we ſhall have recovered our kingdom, we will glorify thee, and thy nation, and the temple with great glory, ſo that your glory ſhall be made manifeſt in all the earth.

10 In the year one hundred and ſeventy four * Antiochus entered into the land of his fathers, and all the forces aſſembled to him, ſo that few were left with Tryphon. * A. M. 3865. Ante C. 139.

11 And king Antiochus purſued after him, and he fled along by the ſea coaſt and came to Dora.

12 For he perceived that evils were gathered together upon him, and his troops had forſaken him.

13 And Antiochus camped above Dora with a hundred and twenty thouſand men of war, and eight thouſand horſemen:

14 And he inveſted the city, and the ſhips drew near by ſea: and they annoyed the city by land, and by ſea, and ſuffered none to come in, or to go out.

15 And Numenius, and they that had been with him, came from the city of Rome, having letters written to the kings, and countries, the contents whereof were theſe:

16 LUCIUS the conſul of the Romans, to king Ptolemee, greeting.

17 The ambaſſadors of the Jews our friends came to us, to renew the former friendſhip and alliance, being ſent from Simon the high prieſt, and the people of the Jews.

18 And they brought alſo a ſhield of gold of a thouſand pounds.

19 It hath ſeemed good therefore to us to write to the kings, and countries, that they ſhould do them no harm, nor fight againſt them, their cities, or countries: and that they ſhould give no aid to them that fight againſt them.

20 And it hath ſeemed good to us to receive the ſhield of them.

21 If therefore any peſtilent men are fled out of their country to you, deliver them to Simon the high prieſt, that he may puniſh them according to their law.

CHAP. XV. VER. 16. Ptolemee. Surnamed Phyſcon, brother and ſucceſſor to Philometor.

22 These same things were written to king Demetrius, and to Attalus, and to Ariarathes, and to Arsaces,

23 And to all the countries: and to Lampsacus, and to the Spartans, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samus, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Alicarnassus, and Cos, and Side, and Aradus, and Rhodes, and Phaselis, and Gortyna, and Gnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And they wrote a copy thereof to Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Jews.

25 But king Antiochus moved his camp to Dora the second time, assaulting it continually, and making engines: and he shut up Tryphon, that he could not go out.

26 And Simon sent to him two thousand chosen men to aid him, silver also, and gold, and abundance of furniture.

27 And he would not receive them, but broke all the covenant that he had made with him before, and alienated himself from him.

28 And he sent to him Athenobius one of his friends, to treat with him, saying: You hold Joppe, and Gazara, and the castle that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my kingdom:

29 Their borders you have wasted, and you have made great havock in the land, and have got the dominion of many places in my kingdom.

30 Now therefore deliver up the cities that you have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof you have gotten the dominion without the borders of Judea.

31 But if not, give me for them five hundred talents of silver, and for the havock that you have made, and the tributes of the cities other five hundred talents: or else we will come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem, and saw the glory of Simon and his magnificence in gold, and silver, and his great equipage, and he was astonished, and told him the king's words.

33 And Simon answered him, and said to him: We have neither taken other men's land, neither do we hold that which is other men's: but the inheritance of our fathers, which was for some time unjustly possessed by our enemies.

34 But we having opportunity claim the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And as to thy complaints concerning Joppe and Gazara, they did great harm to the people, and to our country: yet for these we will give a hundred talents. And Athenobius answered him not a word.

36 But returning in a rage to the king, made report to him of these words, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen, and the king was exceeding angry.

37 And Tryphon fled away by ship to Orthosias.

38 And the king appointed Cendebeus captain of the sea coast, and gave him an army of footmen and horsemen.

39 And he commanded him to march with his army towards Judea: and he commanded him to build up Gedor, and to fortify the gates of the city, and to war against the people. But the king himself pursued after Tryphon.

40 And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to ravage Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and to kill, and to build Gedor.

41 And he placed there horsemen, and an army: that they might issue forth, and make incursions upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

The sons of Simon defeat the troops of Antiochus. Simon, with two of his sons are treacherously murdered by Ptolemee his son-in-law.

THEN John came up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done against their people. A. M. 3866. Ante C. 138.

2 And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said to them: I and my brethren, and my father's house, have fought against the enemies of Israel from our youth even to this day: and things have prospered so well in our hands that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 And now I am old, but be you instead of me, and my brethren, and go out, and fight for our nation: and the help from heaven be with you.

4 Then he chose out of the country twenty thousand fighting men, and horsemen, and they went forth against Cendebeus: and they rested in Modin.

VER. 22. Attalus, &c. Attalus was king of Pergamus; Ariarethes was king of Cappadocia; and Arsaces was king of the Parthians.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 1. John. He was afterwards surnamed Hircanus, and succeeded his father in both his dignities of high priest and prince. He conquered the Edomites, and obliged them to a conformity with the Jews in religion; and destroyed the schismatical temple of the Samaritans.

5 And they aroſe in the morning, and went into the plain: and behold a very great army of footmen, and horſemen came againſt them, and there was a running river between them.

6 And he and his people pitched their camp over-againſt them, and he ſaw that the people were afraid to go over the river, ſo he went over firſt: then the men ſeeing him, paſſed over after him.

7 And he divided the people, and ſet the horſemen in the midſt of the footmen: but the horſemen of the enemies were very numerous.

8 And they ſounded the holy trumpets: and Cendebeus and his army were put to flight: and there fell many of them wounded, and the reſt fled into the ſtrong-hold.

9 At that time Judas John's brother was wounded: but John purſued after them, till he came to Cedron, which he had built:

10 And they fled even to the towers that were in the fields of Azotus, and he burnt them with fire. And there fell of them two thouſand men, and he returned into Judea in peace.

11 Now Ptolemee the ſon of Abobus was appointed captain in the plain of Jericho, and he had abundance of ſilver and gold, 12 For he was ſon-in-law of the high-prieſt.

13 And his heart was lifted up, and he deſigned to make himſelf maſter of the country, and he purpoſed treachery againſt Simon, and his ſons, to deſtroy them.

14 Now Simon, as he was going through the cities that were in the country of Judea, and taking care for the good ordering of them, went down to Jericho, he and Mathathias and Judas his ſons, in the year * one hundred and ſeventy ſeven, the eleventh month: the ſame is the month Sabath.

* A. M. 3869. Ante C. 135.

15 And the ſon of Abobus received them deceitfully into a little fortreſs, that is called Doch which he had built: and he made them a great feaſt, and hid men there.

16 And when Simon and his ſons had drunk plentifully, Ptolemee and his men roſe up, and took their weapons, and entered into the banqueting-place, and ſlew him, and his two ſons, and ſome of his ſervants.

17 And he committed a great treachery in Iſrael, and rendered evil for good.

18 And Ptolemee wrote theſe things, and ſent to the king that he ſhould ſend him an army to aid him, and he would deliver him the country, and their cities, and tributes.

19 And he ſent others to Gazara to kill John: and to the tribunes he ſent letters to come to him, and that he would give them ſilver, and gold, and gifts. A. M. 3871. Ante C. 133.

20 And he ſent others to take Jeruſalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one running before, told John in Gazara, that his father and his brethren were ſlain, and that he hath ſent men to kill thee alſo.

22 But when he heard it, he was exceedingly afraid: and he apprehended the men that came to kill him, and he put them to death: for he knew that they ſought to make him away.

23 And as concerning the reſt of the acts of John, and his wars, and the worthy deeds, which he bravely atchieved, and the building of the walls, which he made, and the things that he did:

24 Behold theſe are written in the book of the days of his prieſthood, from the time that he was made high prieſt after his father.

Ver. 6. He, viz. John.

Ver. 9. Cedron. Otherwiſe called Gedor, the city that Cendebeus was fortifying.

THE

SECOND BOOK OF MACHABEES.

This second book of MACHABEES is not a continuation of the history contained in the first; nor does it come down so low as the first does: but relates many of the same facts more at large, and adds other remarkable particulars, omitted in the first book, relating to the state of the Jews, as well before as under the persecution of ANTIOCHUS. The author, who is not the same with that of the first book, has given (as we learn from chap. ii. 20, &c.) a short abstract of what JASON of Cyrene had written in the five volumes, concerning JUDAS and his brethren. He wrote in Greek, and begins with two letters, sent by the Jews of Jerusalem, to their brethren in Egypt.

CHAP. I.

Letters of the Jews of Jerusalem to them that were in Egypt. They give thanks for their delivery from Antiochus: and exhort their brethren to keep the feast of the dedication of the altar, and of the miraculous fire.

TO the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, the brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem, and in the land of Judea, send health, and good peace.

2 May God be gracious to you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants:

3 And give you all a heart to worship him, and to do his will with a great heart, and a willing mind.

4 May he open your heart in his law, and in his commandments, and send you peace.

5 May he hear your prayers, and be reconciled unto you, and never forsake you in the evil time.

6 And now here we are praying for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the year * one hundred and sixty nine, we Jews wrote to you, in the trouble, and violence, that came upon us in those years, after Jason withdrew himself from the holy land, and from the kingdom. * A. M. 3861. Ante C. 143.

8 They burnt the gate, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed to the Lord, and were heard, and we offered sacrifices, and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now celebrate ye the days of Scenopegia in the month of Casleu.

10 In the year * one hundred and eighty eight, the people that is at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the senate, and Judas, to Aristobolus, the preceptor of king Ptolemee, who is of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that are in Egypt, health and welfare. * A. M. 3880. Ante C. 124.

11 Having been delivered by God out of great dangers, we give him great thanks, forasmuch as we have been in war with such a king.

12 For he made numbers of men swarm out of Persia that have fought against us, and the holy city.

CHAP. I. VER. 9. Scenopegia. viz. The Encenia, or feast of the dedication of the altar, called here Scenopegia, or feast of tabernacles, from being celebrated with the like solemnity.

VER. 11. Such a king. viz. Antiochus Sidetes, who began to make war upon the Jews, whilst Simon was yet alive, 1 Mach. xv. 39. And afterwards besieged Jerusalem under John Hircanus. So that the Judas here mentioned, ver. 10. is not Judas Machabeus, who was dead long before the year 188 of the kingdom of the Greeks, for he died in the year 146 of that epoch, (see above, 1 Mach. chap. ii. ver. 70, also the note on chap. i. ver. ii.) but either Judas the eldest son of John Hircanus, or Judas the Essene, renowned for the gift of prophecy, who flourished about that time.

13 For when the leader himſelf was in Perſia, and with him a very great army, he fell in the temple of Nanea, being deceived by the counſel of the prieſts of Nanea.

14 For Antiochus, with his friends, came to the place as though he would marry her, and that he might receive great ſums of money under the title of a dowry.

15 And when the prieſts of Nanea had ſet it forth, and he with a ſmall company had entered into the compaſs of the temple, they ſhut the temple,

16 When Antiochus was come in: and opening a ſecret entrance of the temple, they caſt ſtones and ſlew the leader, and them that were with him, and hewed them in pieces, and cutting off their heads they threw them forth.

17 Bleſſed be God in all things, who hath delivered up the wicked.

18 Therefore whereas we purpoſe to keep the purification of the temple on the five and twentieth day of the month of Caſleu, we thought it neceſſary to ſignify it to you: that you alſo may keep the day of Scenopegia, and the day of the fire, that was given when Nehemias offered ſacrifice, after the temple and the altar was built.

19 For when our fathers were led into Perſia, the prieſts that then were worſhippers of God, took privately the fire from the altar, and hid it in a valley where there was a deep pit without water, and there they kept it ſafe, ſo that the place was unknown to all men.

20 But when many years had paſſed, and it pleaſed God that Nehemias ſhould be ſent by the king of Perſia, he ſent ſome of the poſterity of thoſe prieſts that had hid it, to ſeek for the fire: and as they told us, they found no fire, but thick water.

21 Then he bade them draw it up, and bring it to him: and the prieſt Nehemias commanded the ſacrifices that were laid on, to be ſprinkled with the ſame water, both the wood, and the things that were laid upon it.

22 And when this was done, and the time came that the ſun ſhone out, which before was in a cloud, there was a great fire kindled, ſo that all wondered.

23 And all the prieſts made prayer, while the ſacrifice was conſuming, Jonathan beginning, and the reſt anſwering.

24 And the prayer of Nehemias was after this manner: O LORD God, Creator of all things, dreadful and ſtrong, juſt and merciful, who alone art the good king,

25 Who alone art gracious, who alone art juſt, and almighty, and eternal, who deliverеſt Iſrael from all evil, who didſt chooſe the fathers, and didſt ſanctify them:

26 Receive the ſacrifice for all thy people Iſrael, and preſerve thy own portion, and ſanctify it.

27 Gather together our ſcattered people, deliver them that are ſlaves to the Gentiles, and look upon them that are deſpiſed and abhorred: that the Gentiles may know that thou art our God.

28 Puniſh them that oppreſs us, and that treat us injuriouſly with pride.

29 Eſtabliſh thy people in thy holy place, || as Moſes hath ſpoken.

30 And the prieſts ſung hymns till the ſacrifice was conſumed. || Deut. 30. 3. & 5. Infra 2. 18.

31 And when the ſacrifice was conſumed, Nehemias commanded the water that was left to be poured out upon the great ſtones.

32 Which being done, there was kindled a flame from them: but it was conſumed by the light that ſhined from the altar.

33 And when this matter became public, it was told to the king of Perſia, that in the place where the prieſts that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, with which Nehemias and they that were with him had purified the ſacrifices.

34 And the king conſidering, and diligently examining the matter, made a temple for it, that he might prove what had happened.

35 And when he had proved it, he gave the prieſts many goods, and divers preſents, and he took and diſtributed them to them with his own hand.

36 And Nehemias called this place Nephthar, which is interpreted purification. But many call it Nephi.

CHAP. II.

A continuation of the ſecond letter. Of Jeremias's hiding the ark at the time of the captivity. The author's preface.

NOW it is found in the deſcriptions of Jeremias the prophet, that he commanded them that went into captivity, to

VER. 13. Nanea. A Perſian goddeſs, which ſome have taken for Diana, others for Venus.

VER. 19. Perſia. Babylonia, called here Perſia, from being afterwards a part of the Perſian empire.

VER. 34. A temple. That is, an incloſure or a wall round about the place where the fire was hid, to ſeparate it from profane uſes, to the end that it might be reſpected as a holy place.

CHAP. II. VER. 1. The deſcriptions. That is, the records or memoirs of Jeremias, a work that is now loſt.

take the fire, as it hath been ſignified, and how he gave charge to them that were carried away into captivity.

2 And how he gave them the law that they ſhould not forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they ſhould not err in their minds, ſeeing the idols of gold, and ſilver, and the ornaments of them.

3 And with other ſuch like ſpeeches, he exhorted them that they would not remove the law from their heart.

4 It was alſo contained in the ſame writing, how the prophet, being warned by God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark ſhould accompany him, till he came forth to the mountain || where Moſes went up, and ſaw the inheritance of God.

5 And when Jeremias came thither he found a hollow cave: and he carried in thither the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incenſe, and ſo ſtopped the door.

6 Then ſome of them that followed him, came up to mark the place: but they could not find it.

7 And when Jeremias perceived it, he blamed them, ſaying: The place ſhall be unknown, till God gather together the congregation of the people, and receive them to mercy.

8 And then the Lord will ſhew theſe things, and the majeſty of the Lord ſhall appear, and there ſhall be a cloud as it was alſo ſhewed to Moſes, || and he ſhewed it when Solomon prayed that the place might be ſanctified to the great God.

|| 3 Kings 8. 11. 2 Par. 6. 14.

9 For he treated wiſdom in a magnificent manner: and like a wiſe man, he offered the ſacrifice of the dedication, and of the finiſhing of the temple.

10 || And as Moſes prayed to the Lord, and fire came down from heaven, and conſumed the holocauſt: ‡ ſo Solomon alſo prayed, and fire came down from heaven and conſumed the holocauſt.

|| Lev. 9. 24. ‡ 2 Par. 7. 1. || Lev. 10. 16. & 17.

11 And Moſes ſaid: || Becauſe the ſin-offering was not eaten, it was conſumed.

12 So Solomon alſo celebrated the dedication eight days.

13 And theſe ſame things were ſet down in the memoirs, and commentaries of Nehemias: and how he made a library, and gathered together out of the countries, the books both of the prophets, and of David, and the epiſtles of the kings, and concerning the holy gifts.

14 And in like manner Judas alſo gathered together all ſuch things as were loſt by the war we had, and they are in our poſſeſſion.

15 Wherefore if you want theſe things, ſend ſome that may fetch them to you.

16 As we are then about to celebrate the purification we have written unto you: and you ſhall do well, if you keep the ſame days.

17 And we hope that God who hath delivered his people, and hath rendered to all the inheritance, and the kingdom, and the prieſthood, and the ſanctuary,

18 || As he promiſed in the law, will ſhortly have mercy upon us, and will gather us together from every land under heaven into the holy place.

|| Deut. 30. 3. & 5. Supra 1. 29.

19 For he hath delivered us out of great perils, and hath cleanſed the place.

20 Now as concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar.

21 As alſo the wars againſt Antiochus the illuſtrious, and his ſon Eupator:

22 And the manifeſtations that came from heaven to them, that behaved themſelves manfully on the behalf of the Jews, ſo that, being but a few, they made themſelves maſters of the whole country, and put to flight the barbarous multitude:

23 And recovered again the moſt renowned temple in all the world, and delivered the city, and reſtored the laws that were aboliſhed, the Lord with all clemency ſhewing mercy to them.

24 And all ſuch things as have been compriſed in five books by Jaſon of Cyrene, we have attempted to abridge in one book.

25 For conſidering the multitude of books, and the difficulty that they find that deſire to undertake the narrations of hiſtories, becauſe of the multitude of the matter,

26 We have taken care for thoſe indeed that are willing to read, that it might be a pleaſure of mind: and for the ſtudious, that they may more eaſily commit to memory: and that all that read might receive profit.

27 And as to ourſelves indeed, in undertaking this work of abridging, we have taken in hand no eaſy taſk, yea rather a buſineſs full of watching and ſweat.

28 But as they that prepare a feaſt, and ſeek to ſatisfy the will of others: for the ſake of many, we willingly undergo the labour.

VER. 16. The purification. That is, the feaſt of the purifying or cleanſing of the temple.

VER. 27. No eaſy taſk, &c. The Spirit of God, that aſſiſts the ſacred penmen, does not exempt them from labour in ſeeking out the matter which they are to treat of, and the order and manner in which they are to deliver it. So St. Luke writ the goſpel, having diligently attained to all things. Luke i. ver. 3.

29 Leaving to the authors the exact handling of every particular, and as for ourselves, according to the plan proposed, studying to be brief.

30 For as the master builder of a new house must have care of the whole building: but he that taketh care to paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning of it: so must it be judged of us.

31 For to collect all that is to be known, to put the discourse in order, and curiously to discuss every particular point, is the duty of the author of a history:

32 But to pursue brevity of speech, and to avoid nice declarations of things, is to be granted to him that maketh an abridgment.

33 Here then we will begin the narration: let this be enough by way of a preface: for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

CHAP. III.

Heliodorus is sent by king Seleucus to take away the treasures deposited in the temple. He is struck by God, and healed by the prayers of the high priest.

THEREFORE when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws as yet were very well kept, because of the godliness of Onias, the high priest, and the hatred his soul had of evil,

2 It came to pass that even the kings themselves, and the princes esteemed the place worthy of the highest honour, and and glorified the temple with very great gifts:

3 So that Seleucus king of Asia allowed out of his revenues all the charges belonging to the ministry of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, who was appointed overseer of the temple, strove in opposition to the high priest, to bring about some unjust thing in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he went to Apollonius the son of Tharseas, who at that time was governor of Celesyria, and Phenicia:

6 And told him, that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of immense sums of money, and the common store was infinite, which did not belong to the account of the sacrifices: and that it was possible to bring all into the king's hands.

7 Now when Apollonius had given the king notice concerning the money that he was told of, he called for Heliodorus, who had the charge over his affairs, and sent him with commission to bring him the foresaid money.

8 So Heliodorus forthwith began his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Celesyria and Phenicia, but indeed to fulfil the king's purpose.

9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received in the city by the high priest, he told him what information had been given concerning the money: and declared the cause for which he was come: and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that these were sums deposited, and provisions for the subsistence of the widows and the fatherless:

11 And that some part of that which wicked Simon had given intelligence of, belonged to Hircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity: and that the whole was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold:

12 But that to deceive them who had trusted to the place and temple which is honoured throughout the whole world, for the reverence and holiness of it, was a thing which could not by any means be done.

13 But he, by reason of the orders he had received from the king, said, that by all means the money must be carried to the king.

14 So on the day he had appointed, Heliodorus entered in to order this matter. But there was no small terror throughout the whole city.

15 And the priests prostrated themselves before the altar in their priests vestments, and called upon him from heaven, who made the law concerning things given to be kept, that he would preserve them safe, for them that had deposited them.

16 Now whosoever saw the countenance of the high priest, was wounded in heart: for his face, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorrow of his mind.

17 For the man was so compassed with sadness and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that beheld him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came flocking together out of their houses, praying and making publick supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.

19 And the women girded with haircloth about their breasts, came together in the streets. And the virgins also that were shut up, came forth, some to Onias, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.

CHAP. III. VER. 3. Seleucus son of Antiochus the great and elder brother of Antiochus Epiphanes.

20 And all holding up their hands towards heaven, made ſupplication.

21 For the expectation of the mixt multitude, and of the high prieſt who was in an agony, would have moved any one to pity.

22 And theſe indeed called upon almighty God, to preſerve the things that had been committed to them, ſafe and ſure for thoſe that had committed them.

23 But Heliodorus executed that which he had reſolved on, himſelf being preſent in the ſame place with his guard about the treaſury.

24 But the ſpirit of the almighty God gave a great evidence of his preſence, ſo that all that had preſumed to obey him, falling down by the power of God, were ſtruck with fainting and dread.

25 For there appeared to them a horſe with a terrible rider upon him, adorned with a very rich covering: and he ran fiercely and ſtruck Heliodorus with his fore-feet, and he that ſat upon him, ſeemed to have armour of gold.

26 Moreover there appeared two other young men beautiful and ſtrong, bright and glorious, and in comely apparel: who ſtood by him, on either ſide, and ſcourged him without ceaſing with many ſtripes.

27 And Heliodorus ſuddenly fell to the ground, and they took him up covered with great darkneſs, and having put him into a litter they carried him out.

28 So he that came with many ſervants, and all his guard into the aforeſaid treaſury, was carried out no one being able to help him, the manifeſt power of God being known.

29 And he indeed by the power of God lay ſpeechleſs, and without all hope of recovery.

30 But they praiſed the Lord becauſe he had glorified his place: and the temple, that a little before was full of fear and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladneſs.

31 Then ſome of the friends of Heliodorus forthwith begged of Onias, that he would call upon the moſt High to grant him his life, who was ready to give up the ghoſt.

32 So the high prieſt conſidering that the king might perhaps ſuſpect that ſome miſchief had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a ſacrifice of health for the recovery of the man.

33 And when the high prieſt was praying, the ſame young men in the ſame clothing ſtood by Heliodorus, and ſaid to him: Give thanks to Onias the prieſt: becauſe for his ſake the Lord had granted thee life.

34 And thou having been ſcourged by God, declare unto all men the great works and the power of God. And having ſpoken thus, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus after he had offered a ſacrifice to God, and made great vows to him, that had granted him life, and given thanks to Onias, taking his troops with him, returned to the king.

36 And he teſtified to all men the works of the great God, which he had ſeen with his own eyes.

37 And when the king aſked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be ſent yet once more to Jeruſalem, he ſaid:

38 If thou haſt any enemy, or traitor to thy kingdom, ſend him thither, and thou ſhalt receive him again ſcourged, if ſo be he eſcape: for there is undoubtedly in that place a certain power of God.

39 For he that hath his dwelling in the heavens, is the viſiter, and protector of that place, and he ſtriketh and deſtroyeth them that come do do evil to it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treaſury fell out in this manner.

CHAP. IV.

Onias has recourſe to the king. The ambition and wickedneſs of Jaſon and Menelaus. Onias is treacherouſly murdered.

BUT Simon of whom we ſpoke before, who was the betrayer of the money, and of his country, ſpoke ill of Onias, as though he had incited Heliodorus to do theſe things, and had been the promoter of evils:

2 And he preſumed to call him a traitor to the kingdom, who provided for the city, and defend d his nation, and was zealous for the law of God.

3 But when the enmities proceeded ſo far, that murders alſo were committed by ſome of Simon's friends:

4 Onias conſidering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius who was the governor of Celeſyria, and Phenicia, was outrageous, which encreaſed the malice of Simon, went to the king,

5 Not to be an accuſer of his countrymen, but with a view to the common good of all the people.

6 For he ſaw that, except the king took care, it was impoſſible that matters ſhould be ſettled in peace, or that Simon would ceaſe from his folly.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus who was called the Illuſtrious, had taken poſſeſſion of the kingdom, Jaſon the brother of Onias ambitiouſly ſought the high prieſthood:

† A. M. 3829. Ante C. 175. 8 † And went to the king, promiſing him three hundred and ſixty talents of ſilver, and out of other revenues fourſcore talents,

9 Beſides this he promiſed alſo a hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to ſet him up a place for exerciſe, and a place for youth, and to entitle them, that were at Jeruſalem, Antiochians.

A. M. 3830. 10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten the rule into his hands, forthwith he began to bring over his countrymen to the faſhion of the Heathens.

11 And aboliſhing thoſe things, which had been decreed of ſpecial favour by the kings in behalf of the Jews, by the means of John the father of that Eupolemus, who went ambaſſador to Rome to make amity and alliance, he diſannulled the lawful ordinances of the citizens, and brought in faſhions that were perverſe.

‖ 1. Mac. 1. 15. 12 For he had the boldneſs to ſet up, ‖ under the very caſtle, a place of exerciſe, and to put all the choiceſt youths in brothel houſes.

13 Now this was not the beginning, but an increaſe, and progreſs of Heatheniſh and foreign manners, through the abominable and unheard of wickedneſs of Jaſon, that impious wretch and no prieſt.

14 Inſomuch that the prieſts were not now occupied about the offices of the altar, but deſpiſing the temple and neglecting the ſacrifices, haſtened to be partakers of the games, and of the unlawful allowance thereof, and of the exerciſe of the diſcus.

15 And ſetting nought by the honours of their fathers, they eſteemed the Grecian glories for the beſt:

16 For the ſake of which they incurred a dangerous contention, and followed earneſtly their ordinances, and in all things they coveted to be like them, who were their enemies and murderers.

17 For acting wickedly againſt the laws of God doth not paſs unpuniſhed: but this the time following will declare.

18 Now when the game that was uſed every fifth year was kept at Tyre, the king being preſent,

19 The wicked Jaſon ſent from Jeruſalem ſinful men to carry three hundred didrachmas of ſilver for the ſacrifice of Hercules; but the bearers thereof deſired it might not be beſtowed on the ſacrifices, becauſe it was not neceſſary, but might be deputed for other charges.

20 So the money was appointed by him that ſent it to the ſacrifice of Hercules: but becauſe of them that carried it was employed for the making of galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the ſon of Mneſtheus was ſent into Egypt to treat with the nobles of king Philometor, and Antiochus underſtood that he was wholly excluded from the affairs of the kingdom, conſulting his own intereſt, he departed thence and came to Joppe, and from thence to Jeruſalem.

22 Where he was received in a magnificent manner by Jaſon, and the city, and came in with torch-lights, and with praiſes, and from thence he returned with his army into Phenicia.

23 Three years afterwards Jaſon ſent Menelaus brother of the aforeſaid Simon, to carry money to the king, and to bring anſwers from him concerning certain neceſſary affairs.

24 But he being recommended to the king, when he had magnified the appearance of his power, got the high prieſthood for himſelf, by offering more than Jaſon by three hundred talents of ſilver.

25 So having received the king's mandate, he returned bringing nothing worthy of the high prieſthood: but having the mind of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a ſavage beaſt.

26 Then Jaſon, who had undermined his own brother, being himſelf undermined, was driven out a fugitive into the country of the Ammanites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money he had promiſed to the king he took no care, when Soſtratus the governor of the caſtle called for it.

† A. M. 3834. Ante C. 170. 28 † For to him appertained the gathering of the taxes: wherefore they were both called before the king. †

29 And Menelaus was removed from the prieſthood, Lyſimachus his brother ſucceeding: and Soſtratus was made governor of the Cyprians.

30 When theſe things were in doing, it fell out that they of Tharſus, and Mallos raiſed a ſedition, becauſe they were given for a gift to Antiochis the king's concubine.

31 The king therefore went in all haſte to appeaſe them, leaving Andronicus one of his nobles for his deputy.

32 Then Menelaus ſuppoſing that he had found a convenient time, having ſtolen certain veſſels of gold out of the temple, gave them to Andronicus, and others he had sold at Tyre, and in the neighbouring cities:

33 Which when Onias understood most certainly, he reproved him, keeping himself in a safe place at Antioch beside Daphne.

34 Whereupon Menelaus coming to Andronicus, desired him to kill Onias. And he went to Onias, and gave him his right hand with an oath and (though he were suspected by him) persuaded him to come forth out of the sanctuary, and immediately slew him, without any regard to justice.

35 For which cause not only the Jews, but also the other nations, conceived indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of so great a man.

36 And when the king was come back from the places of Cilicia, the Jews that were at Antioch, and also the Greeks went to him: complaining of the unjust murder of Onias.

37 Antiochus therefore was grieved in his mind for Onias, and being moved to pity, shed tears, remembering the sobriety and modesty of the deceased.

38 And being inflamed to anger, he commanded Andronicus to be stripped of his purple, and to be led about through all the city: and that in the same place wherein he had committed the impiety against Onias, the sacrilegious wretch should be put to death, the Lord repaying him his deserved punishment.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed by Lysimachus in the temple by the counsel of Menelaus, and the rumour of it was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, a great quantity of gold being already carried away.

40 Wherefore the multitude making an insurrection, and their minds being filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began to use violence, one Tyrannus being captain, a man far gone both in age, and in madness.

41 But when they perceived the attempt of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, some strong clubs: and some threw ashes upon Lysimachus.

42 And many of them were wounded, and some struck down to the ground, but all were put to flight: and as for the sacrilegious fellow himself they slew him beside the treasury.

43 Now concerning these matters an accusation was laid against Menelaus.

44 And when the king was come to Tyre, three men were sent from the ancients to plead the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus being convicted, promised Ptolemee to give him much money, to persuade the king to favour him.

46 So Ptolemee went to the king in a certain court where he was, as it were to cool himself, and brought him to be of another mind:

47 So Menelaus who was guilty of all the evil, was acquitted by him of the accusations: and those poor men, who, if they had pleaded their cause even before Scythians, should have been judged innocent, were condemned to death.

48 Thus they that prosecuted the cause for the city, and for the people, and the sacred vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even the Tyrians being moved with indignation, were liberal towards their burial.

50 And so through the covetousness of them that were in power, Menelaus continued in authority, increasing in malice to the betraying of the citizens.

CHAP. V.

Wonderful signs are seen in the air. Jason's wickedness and end. Antiochus takes Jerusalem, and plunders the temple.

AT the same time Antiochus prepared for a second journey into Egypt. A. M. 3834. Ante C. 170.

2 And it came to pass that through the whole city of Jerusalem for the space of forty days there were seen horsemen running in the air, in gilded raiment, and armed with spears, like bands of soldiers,

3 And horses set in order by ranks, running one against another, with the shakings of shields, and a multitude of men in helmets with drawn swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden armour, and of harnesses of all sorts.

4 Wherefore all men prayed that these prodigies might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason taking with him no fewer than a thousand men, suddenly assaulted the city: and though the citizens ran together to the wall, the city at length was taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 But Jason slew his countrymen without mercy, not considering that prosperity against one's own kindred, is a very great evil, thinking they had been enemies, and not citizens, whom he conquered.

7 Yet he did not get the principality, but received confusion at the end, for the reward of his treachery, and fled again into the country of the Ammanites.

8 At the last having been shut up by Aretas the king of the Arabians, in order for his destruction, flying from city to city, hated by all men, as a forsaker of the laws and execrable, as an enemy of his country and countrymen, he was thrust out into Egypt:

9 And he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, going to Lacedemon, as if for kindred sake he should have refuge there:

10 But he that had cast out many unburied, was himself cast forth both unlamented and unburied, neither having foreign burial, nor being partaker of the sepulchre of his fathers.

11 Now when these things were done, the king suspected that the Jews would forsake the alliance: whereupon departing out of Egypt with a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms.

12 And commanded the soldiers to kill, and not to spare any that came in their way, and to go up into the houses to slay.

13 Thus there was a slaughter of young and old, a destruction of women and children, and killing of virgins and infants.

14 And there were slain in the space of three whole days fourscore thousand, forty thousand were made prisoners, and as many sold.

15 But this was not enough, he presumed also to enter into the temple, the most holy in all the world, Menelaus that traitor to the laws, and to his country, being his guide.

16 And taking in his wicked hands the holy vessels, which were given by other kings and cities, for the ornament and the glory of the place, he unworthily handled and profaned them.

17 Thus Antiochus going astray in mind, did not consider that God was angry for a while, because of the sins of the inhabitants of the city: and therefore this contempt had happened to the place:

18 Otherwise had they not been involved in many sins, ‖ as Heliodorus, who was sent by king Seleucus to rob the treasury, so this man also, as soon as he had come, had been forthwith scourged, and put back from his presumption.

‖ Supra 3. 25 &. 27. A. M. 3834. Ante C. 170.

19 But God did not choose the people for the place's sake, but the place for the people's sake.

20 And therefore the place also itself was made partaker of the evils of the people: but afterward shall communicate in the good things thereof, and as it was forsaken in the wrath of almighty God, shall be exalted again with great glory, when the great Lord shall be reconciled.

21 So when Antiochus had taken away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he went back in all haste to Antioch, thinking through pride, that he might now make the land navigable, and the sea passable on foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

22 He left also governors to afflict the people: at Jerusalem, Philip, a Phrygian by birth, but in manners more barbarous than he that set him there:

23 And in Garisim, Andronicus and Menelaus, who bore a more heavy hand upon the citizens than the rest.

24 And whereas he was set against the Jews, he sent that hateful prince Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand men, commanding him to kill all that were of perfect age, and to sell the women and the younger sort.

25 Who when he was come to Jerusalem, pretending peace, rested till the holy day of the sabbath: and then the Jews keeping holiday, he commanded his men to take arms.

26 And he slew all that were come forth to see: and running through the city with armed men he destroyed a very great multitude.

27 But Judas Machabeus, who was the tenth, had withdrawn himself into a desert place, and there lived amongst wild beasts in the mountains with his company: and they continued feeding on herbs, that they might not be partakers of the pollution.

CHAP. VI.

Antiochus commands the law to be abolished, sets up an idol in the temple, and persecutes the faithful. The martyrdom of Eleazar.

† A. M. 3837. Ante C. 167

BUT not long after the king sent † a certain old man of Antioch, to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers and of God:

CHAP. V. VER. 27. Was the tenth. That is, he had nine others in his company.

2 And to defile the temple that was in Jeruſalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that in Gazarim of Jupiter Hoſpitalis, according as they were that inhabited the place.

3 And very bad was this invaſion of evils and grievous to all.

4 For the temple was full of the riot and revellings of the Gentiles: and of men lying with lewd women. And women thruſt themſelves of their accord into the holy places, and brought in things that were not lawful.

5 The altar alſo was filled with unlawful things, which were forbidden by the laws.

6 And neither were the ſabbaths kept, nor the ſolemn days of the fathers obſerved, neither did any man plainly profeſs himſelf to be a Jew.

7 But they were led by bitter conſtraint on the king's birth day to the ſacrifices: and when the feaſt of Bacchus was kept, they were compelled to go about crowned with ivy in honour of Bacchus.

8 And there went out a decree into the neighbouring cities of the Gentiles, by the ſuggeſtion of the Ptolemeans, that they alſo ſhould act in like manner againſt the Jews, to oblige them to ſacrifice:

9 And whoſoever would not conform themſelves to the ways of the Gentiles, ſhould be put to death: then was miſery to be ſeen.

‖ 1 Mac. 1. 63. 10 ‖ For two women were accuſed to have circumciſed their children: whom, when they had openly led about through the city with the infants hanging at their breaſts, they threw down headlong from the walls.

11 And others that had met together in caves that were near, and were keeping the ſabbath-day privately, being diſcovered by Philip, were burnt with fire, becauſe they made a conſcience to help themſelves with their hands, by reaſon of the religious obſervance of the day.

12 Now I beſeech thoſe that ſhall read this book, that they be not ſhocked at theſe calamities, but that they conſider the things that happened, not as being for the deſtruction, but for the correction of our nation.

13 For it is a token of great goodneſs when ſinners are not ſuffered to go on in their ways for a long time, but are preſently puniſhed.

14 For, not as with other nations (whom the Lord patiently expecteth, that when the day of judgment ſhall come, he may puniſh them in the fulneſs of their ſins):

15 Doth he alſo deal with us, ſo as to ſuffer our ſins to come to their height, and then take vengeance on us.

16 And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: but though he chaſtiſe his people with adverſity, he forſaketh them not.

17 But let this ſuffice in a few words for a warning to the readers. And now we muſt come to the narration.

18 Eleazar one of the chief of the ſcribes, a man advanced in years, and of a comely countenance, was preſſed to open his mouth to eat ſwine's fleſh.

19 But he, chooſing rather a moſt glorious death than a hateful life, went forward voluntarily to the torment.

20 And conſidering in what manner he was come to it, patiently bearing, he determined not to to do any unlawful things for the love of life.

21 But they that ſtood by, being moved with wicked pity, for the old friendſhip they had with the man, taking him aſide, deſired that fleſh might be brought, which it was lawful for him to eat, that he might make as if he had eaten, as the king had commanded, of the fleſh of the ſacrifice:

22 That by ſo doing he might be delivered from death: and for the ſake of their old friendſhip, with the man they did him this courteſy.

23 But he began to conſider the dignity of his age, and his ancient years, and the inbred honour of his grey head, and his good life and converſation from a child: and he anſwered without delay, according to the ordinances of the holy law made by God, ſaying, that he would rather be ſent into the other world.

24 For it doth not become our age, ſaid he, to diſſemble: whereby many young perſons might think that Eleazar, at the age of fourſcore and ten years, was gone over to the life of the heathens:

CHAP. VI. VER. 2. That in Garizim, viz. the temple of the Samaritans. And as they were originally ſtrangers, the name of Hoſpitalis (which ſignifies of or belonging to ſtrangers) was applicable to the idol ſet up in their temple.

VER. 11. Philip. The governor of Jeruſalem.

VER. 21. Wicked pity. Their pity was wicked, inaſmuch as it ſuggeſted that wicked propoſal of ſaving his life by diſſimulation.

25 And so they, through my dissimulation, and for a little time of a corruptible life, should be deceived, and hereby I should bring a stain, and a curse upon my old age.

26 For though, for the present time, I should be delivered from the punishments of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore by departing manfully out of this life, I shall shew myself worthy of my old age:

28 And I shall leave an example of fortitude to young men, if with a ready mind and constancy I suffer an honourable death, for the most venerable and most holy laws. And having spoken thus, he was forthwith carried to execution.

29 And they that led him, and had been a little before more mild, were changed to wrath for the words he had spoken, which they thought were uttered out of arrogancy.

30 But when he was now ready to die with the stripes, he groaned, and said: O Lord who hast the holy knowledge, thou knowest manifestly that whereas I might be delivered from death, I suffer grievous pains in body: but in soul am well content to suffer these things because I fear thee.

31 Thus did this man die, leaving not only to young men, but also to the whole nation, the memory of his death for an example of virtue and fortitude.

CHAP. VII.

The glorious martyrdom of the seven brethren and their mother.

A. M. 3837. Ante C. 167. IT came to pass also, that seven brethren, together with their mother, were apprehended, and compelled by the king to eat swine's flesh against the law, for which end they were tormented with whips and scourges.

2 But one of them who was the eldest, said thus: What wouldest thou ask, or learn of us? we are ready to die rather than to transgress the laws of God, received from our fathers.

3 Then the king being angry commanded frying-pans and ,brasen cauldrons to be made hot: which forthwith being heated,

4 He commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had spoken first: and the skin of his head being drawn off, to chop off also the extremities of his hands and feet, the rest of his brethren, and his mother looking on.

5 And when he was now maimed in all parts, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the frying-pan: and while he was suffering therein long torments, the rest, together with the mother, exhorted one another to die manfully,

6 Saying: The Lord God will look upon the truth, and will take pleasure in us, ‖ as Moses declared in the profession of the canticle: And in his servants he will take pleasure. ‖ Deut. 32. 36.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the next to make him a mocking-stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him if he would eat, before he were punished throughout the whole body in every limb.

8 But he answered in his own language, and said: I will not do it. Wherefore he also, in the next place, received the torments of the first:

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said thus: Thou indeed, O most wicked man, destroyedst us out of this present life: but the King of the world will raise us up, who die for his laws, in the resurrection of eternal life.

10 After him the third was made a mocking-stock, and when he was required, he quickly put forth his tongue, and courageously stretched out his hands:

11 And said with confidence: These I have from heaven, but for the laws of God I now despise them, because I hope to receive them again from him.

12 So that the king, and they that were with him, wondered at the young man's courage, because he esteemed the torments as nothing.

13 And after he was thus dead, they tormented the fourth in the like manner.

14 And when he was now ready to die, he spoke thus: It is better, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him: for, as to thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

15 And when they had brought the fifth, they tormented him. But he looking upon the king,

16 Said: Whereas thou hast power among men, though thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt: but think not that our nation is forsaken by God.

17 But stay patiently a while, and thou shalt see his great power, in what manner he will torment thee, and thy seed.

18 After him they brought the ſixth, and he being ready to die, ſpoke thus: Be not deceived without cauſe: for we ſuffer theſe things for ourſelves, having ſinned againſt our God, and things worthy of admiration are done to us:

19 But do not think that thou ſhalt eſcape unpuniſhed, for that thou haſt attempted to fight againſt God.

20 Now the mother was to be admired above meaſure, and worthy to be remembered by good men, who beheld her ſeven ſons ſlain the ſpace of one day, and bore it with a good courage, for the hope that ſhe had in God:

21 And ſhe bravely exhorted every one of them in her own language, being filled with wiſdom: and joining a man's heart to a woman's thought,

22 She ſaid to them: I know not how you were formed in my womb: for I neither gave you breath, nor ſoul, nor life, neither did I frame the limbs of every one of you.

23 But the Creator of the world, that formed the nativity of man, and that found out the origin of all, he will reſtore to you again in his mercy, both breath and life, as now you deſpiſe yourſelves for the ſake of his laws.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himſelf deſpiſed, and withal deſpiſing the voice of the upbraider, when the youngeſt was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but alſo aſſured him with an oath, that he would make him a rich and a happy man, and, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers, would take him for a friend, and furniſh him with things neceſſary.

25 But when the young man was not moved with theſe things, the king called the mother, and counſelled her to deal with the young man to ſave his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, ſhe promiſed that ſhe would counſel her ſon.

27 So bending herſelf towards him, mocking the cruel tyrant, ſhe ſaid in her own language: My ſon, have pity upon me, that bore thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee ſuck three years, and nouriſhed thee, and brought thee up unto this age.

28 I beſeech thee, my ſon, look upon heaven and earth, and all that is in them: and conſider that God made them out of nothing, and mankind alſo:

29 So thou ſhalt not fear this tormenter, but being made a worthy partner with thy brethren, receive death, that in that mercy I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

30 While ſhe was yet ſpeaking theſe words, the young man ſaid: for whom do you ſtay? I will not obey the commandment of the king, but the commandment of the law, which was given us by Moſes.

31 But thou that haſt been the author of all miſchief againſt the Hebrews, ſhalt not eſcape the hand of God.

32 For we ſuffer thus for our ſins.

33 And though the Lord our God is angry with us a little while for our chaſtiſement and correction: yet he will be reconciled again to his ſervants.

34 But thou, O wicked and of all men moſt flagitious, be not lifted up without cauſe with vain hopes, whilſt thou art raging againſt his ſervants.

35 For thou haſt not yet eſcaped the judgment of the almighty God, who beholdeth all things.

36 For my brethren having now undergone a ſhort pain, are under the covenant of eternal life: but thou by the judgment of God ſhalt receive juſt puniſhment for thy pride.

37 But I like my brethren offer up my life and my body for the laws of our fathers: calling upon God to be ſpeedily merciful to our nation, and that thou by torments and ſtripes mayeſt confeſs that he alone is God.

38 But in me and in my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which hath juſtly been brought upon all our nation, ſhall ceaſe.

39 Then the king being incenſed with anger, raged againſt him more cruelly than all the reſt, taking it grievouſly that he was mocked.

40 So this man alſo died undefiled, wholly truſting in the Lord.

41 And laſt of all after the ſons the mother alſo was conſumed.

42 But now there is enough ſaid of the ſacrifices, and of the exceſſive cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

Judas Machabeus gathering an army gains divers victories.

BUT Judas Machabeus and they that were with him, went privately into the towns: and calling together their kinſmen and friends, and taking unto them ſuch as continued in the Jews religion, they aſſembled ſix thouſand men. A. M. 3858. Ante C. 166.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon his people that was trodden down by all, and would have pity on the temple, that was defiled by the wicked:

3 That he would have pity alſo upon the city that was deſtroyed, that was ready to be made even with the ground, and would hear the voice of the blood that cried to him:

4 That he would remember alſo the moſt unjuſt deaths of innocent children, and the blaſphemies offered to his name, and would ſhew his indignation on this occaſion.

5 Now when Machabeus had gathered a multitude, he could not be withſtood by the heathens: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 So coming unawares upon the towns and cities, he ſet them on fire, and taking poſſeſſion of the moſt commodious places, he made no ſmall ſlaughter of the enemies:

7 And eſpecially in the nights he went upon theſe expeditions, and the fame of his valour was ſpread abroad every where.

8 Then Philip ſeeing that the man gained ground by little and little, and that things for the moſt part ſucceeded proſperouſly with
* A. M. 3839. him, * wrote to Ptolemee the governor of Celeſyria and Phenicia, to ſend aid to the king's affairs.

9 And he with all ſpeed ſent Nicanor the ſon of Patroclus, one of his ſpecial friends, giving him no fewer than twenty thouſand armed men of different nations, to root out the whole race of the Jews, joining alſo with him Gorgias a good ſoldier, and of great experience in matters of war.

10 And Nicanor purpoſed to raiſe for the king the tribute of two thouſand talents, that was to be given to the Romans, by making ſo much money of the captive Jews:

11 Wherefore he ſent immediately to the cities upon the ſea coaſt, to invite men together to buy up the Jewiſh ſlaves, promiſing that they ſhould have ninety ſlaves for one talent, not reflecting on the vengeance, which was to follow him from the Almighty.

12 Now when Judas found that Nicanor was coming, he imparted to the Jews that were with him, that the enemy was at hand.

13 And ſome of them being afraid, and diſtruſting the juſtice of God, fled away:

14 Others ſold all that they had left, and withal beſought the Lord, that he would deliver them from the wicked Nicanor, who had ſold them before he came near them:

15 And if not for their ſakes, yet for the covenant that he had made with their fathers, and for the ſake of his holy and glorious name that was invoked upon them.

16 But Machabeus calling together ſeven thouſand that were with him, exhorted them not to be reconciled to the enemies, nor to fear the multitude of the enemies who came wrongfully againſt them, but to fight manfully:

17 Setting before their eyes the injury they had unjuſtly done the holy place, and alſo the injury they had done to the city, which had been ſhamefully abuſed, beſides their deſtroying the ordinances of the fathers.

18 For, ſaid he, they truſt in their weapons, and in their boldneſs: but we truſt in the Almighty Lord, who at a beck can utterly deſtroy both them that come againſt us, and the whole world.

19 Moreover he put them in mind alſo of the helps their fathers had received from God: || and how under Sennacherib a hundred and eighty-five thouſand had been deſtroyed. || 4 Kings 19. 35. Tobias 1. 21. Eccli. 48. 24. Iſai. 37. 36. 1 Mac. 7. 41.

20 And of the battle that they had fought againſt the Galatians in Babylonia, how they, being in all but ſix thouſand, when it came to the point, and the Macedonians their companions were at a ſtand, ſlew a hundred and twenty thouſand, becauſe of the help they had from heaven, and for this they received many favours.

21 With theſe words they were greatly encouraged, and diſpoſed even to die for the laws and their country.

22 So he appointed his brethren captains over each diviſion of his army, Simon, and Joſeph, and Jonathan, giving to each one fifteen hundred men.

23 And after the holy Book had been read to them by Eſdras, and he had given them for a watch-word, The help of God: himſelf leading the firſt band, he joined battle with Nicanor:

24 And the almighty being their helper, they ſlew above nine thouſand men: and having wounded and disabled the greater part of Nicanor's army they obliged them to fly.

25 And they took the money of them that came to buy them, and they pursued them on every side.

26 But they came back for want of time: for it was the day before the sabbath: and therefore they did not continue the pursuit.

27 But when they had gathered together their arms and their spoils, they kept the sabbath: blessing the Lord who had delivered them that day, distilling the beginning of mercy upon them.

28 Then after the sabbath they divided the spoils to the feeble and the orphans, and the widows: and the rest they took for themselves and their servants.

29 When this was done, and they had all made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord, to be reconciled to his servants unto the end.

30 Moreover they slew above twenty thousand of them that were with Timotheus and Bacchides who fought against them, and they made themselves masters of the high strong-holds: and they divided amongst them many spoils, giving equal portions to the feeble, the fatherless, and the widows, yea and the aged also.

31 And when they had carefully gathered together their arms, they laid them all up in convenient places, and the residue of their spoils they carried to Jerusalem:

32 They slew also Philarches who was with Timotheus, a wicked man, who had many ways afflicted the Jews.

33 And when they kept the feast of the victory at Jerusalem, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire to the holy gates, who had taken refuge in a certain house, rendering to him a worthy reward for his impieties:

34 But as for that most wicked man Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to the sale of the Jews,

35 Being through the help of the Lord brought down by them, of whom he had made no account, laying aside his garment of glory, fleeing through the midland country, he came alone to Antioch, being rendered very unhappy by the destruction of his army.

36 And he that had promised to levy the tribute for the Romans by the means of the captives of Jerusalem, now professed that the Jews had God for their protector, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

The wretched end, and fruitless repentance of king Antiochus.

AT that time Antiochus returned with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and attempted to rob the temple, and to oppress the city: but the multitude running together to arms, put them to flight: and so it fell out that Antiochus being put to flight returned with disgrace.

3 Now when he was come about Ecbatana, he received the news of what had happened to Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 And swelling with anger, he thought to revenge upon the Jews the injury done by them that had put him to flight. And therefore he commanded his chariot to be driven, without stopping in his journey, the judgment of heaven urging him forward, because he had spoken so proudly, that he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying-place of the Jews.

5 || But the Lord the God of Israel that seeth all things, struck him with an incurable and an invisible plague. For as soon as he had ended these words, a dreadful pain in his bowels came upon him, and bitter torments of the inner parts: || 2 Par. 16. 9.

6 And indeed very justly, seeing he had tormented the bowels of others with many and new torments, albeit he by no means ceased from his malice.

7 Moreover being filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding the matter to be hastened, it happened as he was going with violence that he fell from the chariot, so that his limbs were much pained by a grievous bruising of the body.

8 Thus he that seemed to himself to command even the waves of the sea, being proud above the condition of man, and to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, now being cast down to the ground was carried in a litter, bearing witness to the manifest power of God in himself:

9 So that worms swarmed out of the body of this man, and whilst he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell off, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to the army.

10 And the man that thought a little before he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry, for the intolerable ſtench.

11 And by this means, being brought from his great pride, he began to come to the knowledge of himſelf, being admoniſhed by the ſcourge of God, his pains increaſing every moment.

12 And when he himſelf could not now abide his own ſtench, he ſpoke thus: It is juſt to be ſubject to God, and that a mortal man ſhould not equal himſelf to God.

13 Then this wicked man prayed to the Lord, of whom he was not to obtain mercy.

14 And the city, to which he was going in haſte to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place, he now deſireth to make free:

15 And the Jews whom he ſaid he would not account worthy to be ſo much as buried, but would give them up to be devoured by the birds and wild beaſts, and would utterly deſtroy them with their children, he now promiſeth to make equal with the Athenians.

16 The holy temple alſo, which before he had ſpoiled, he promiſeth to adorn with goodly gifts, and to multiply the holy veſſels, and to allow out of his revenues the charges pertaining to the ſacrifices.

17 Yea alſo, that he would become a Jew himſelf, and would go through every place of the earth, and declare the power of God.

18 But his pains not ceaſing (for the juſt judgment of God was come upon him) deſpairing of life he wrote to the Jews, in the manner of a ſupplication, a letter in theſe words:

19 TO HIS VERY GOOD SUBJECTS the Jews, Antiochus king and ruler, wiſheth much health, and welfare, and happineſs.

20 If you and your children are well, and if all matters go with you to your mind, we give very great thanks.

21 As for me, being infirm, but yet kindly remembering you, returning out of the places of Perſia, and being taken with a grievous diſeaſe, I thought it neceſſary to take care for the common good:

22 Not diſtruſting my life, but having great hope to eſcape the ſickneſs.

23 But conſidering that my father alſo, at what time * he led an army into the higher countries, appointed who ſhould reign after him:

* A. M. 3817. Ante C. 187.

24 To the end that if any thing contrary to expectation ſhould fall out, or any bad tidings ſhould be brought, they that were in the countries, knowing to whom the whole government was left, might not be troubled.

25 Moreover, conſidering that neighbouring princes, and borderers wait for opportunities, and expect what ſhall be the event, I have appointed my ſon Antiochus king, whom I often recommended to many of you, when I went into the higher provinces: and I have written to him what I have joined here below.

26 I pray you therefore, and requeſt of you, that remembering favours both public and private, you will every man of you continue to be faithful to me and to my ſon.

27 For I truſt that he will behave with moderation and humanity, and following my intentions, will be gracious unto you.

28 Thus the murderer and blaſphemer being grievouſly ſtruck, as himſelf had treated others, * died a miſerable death in a ſtrange country among the mountains. * A. M. 3839.

29 But Philip that was brought up with him, carried away his body: and out of fear of the ſon of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemee Philometor.

The purification of the temple and city. Other exploits of Judas. His victory over Timotheus.

BUT Machabeus, and they that were with him, by the protection of the Lord, recovered the temple and the city again. A. M. 3840. Ante C. 164.

2 But he threw down the altars, which the heathens had ſet up in the ſtreets, as alſo the temples of the idols.

3 And having purified the temple, they made another altar: and taking fire out of the fiery ſtones they offered ſacrifices after two years, and ſet forth incenſe, and lamps, and the loaves of propoſition.

4 And when they had done theſe things, they beſought the Lord, lying proſtrate on the ground, that they might no more fall into ſuch evils; but if they ſhould at any time ſin, that they might be chaſtiſed by him more gently, and not be delivered up to barbarians and blaſphemous men.

5 Now upon the ſame day that the temple had been polluted by the ſtrangers, on the very ſame day it was cleanſed again, to wit,

---

VER. 13. Of whom he was not to obtain mercy. Becauſe his repentance was not for the offence committed againſt God: but barely on account of his preſent ſufferings.

on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu.

6 And they kept eight days with joy, after the manner of the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long before they had kept the feast of the tabernacles when they were in the mountains, and in dens like wild beasts.

7 Therefore they now carried boughs, and green branches, and palms for him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8 And they ordained by a common statute, and decree, that all the nation of the Jews should keep those days every year.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus that was called the Illustrious.

10 But now we will relate the acts of Eupator the son of that wicked Antiochus, abridging the account of the evils that happened in the wars.

11 For when he was come to the crown, he appointed over the affairs of his realm one Lysias, general of the army of Phenicia and Syria.

12 For Ptolemee that was called Macer, was determined to be strictly just to the Jews, and especially by reason of the wrong that had been done them, and to deal peaceably with them.

13 But being accused for this to Eupator by his friends, and being oftentimes called traitor, because he had left Cyprus which Philometor had committed to him, and coming over to Antiochus the Illustrious, had revolted also from him, he put an end to his life by poison.

14 But Gorgias, who was governor of the holds, taking with him the strangers, often fought against the Jews.

15 And the Jews that occupied the most commodious hold, received those that were driven out of Jerusalem, and attempted to make war.

16 Then they that were with Machabeus, beseeching the Lord by prayers to be their helper, made a strong attack upon the strong-holds of the Idumeans:

17 And assaulting them with great force, won the holds, killed them that came in the way, and slew altogether no fewer than twenty thousand.

18 And whereas some were fled into very strong towers, having all manner of provision to sustain a siege,

19 Machabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zacheus, and them that were with them in sufficient number to beliege them, and departed to those expeditions which urged more.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for the sake of money by some that were in the towers: and taking seventy thousand didrachmas, let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Machabeus what was done, he assembled the rulers of the people, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, having let their adversaries escape.

22 So he put these traitors to death, and forthwith took the two towers.

23 And having good success in arms and in all things he took in hand, he slew more than twenty thousand in the two holds.

24 But Timotheus who before had been overcome by the Jews, || having called together a multitude of foreign troops, and assembled horsemen out of Asia, came as though he would take Judea by force of arms. || 1 Macc. 5. 6.

25 But Machabeus and they that were with him, when he drew near, prayed to the Lord, sprinkling earth upon their heads and girding their loins with haircloth,

26 And lying prostrate at the foot of the altar, besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law saith.

27 And so after prayer taking their arms, they went forth further from the city, and when they were come very near the enemies they rested.

28 But as soon as the sun was risen both sides joined battle: the one part having with their valour the Lord for a surety of victory, and success: but the other side making their rage their leader in battle.

29 But when they were in the heat of the engagement there appeared to the enemies from heaven five men upon horses, comely with golden bridles, conducting the Jews:

30 Two of whom took Machabeus between them, and covered him on every side with their arms, and kept him safe: but cast darts and fire-balls against the enemy, so that they fell down, being both confounded with blindness, and filled with trouble.

31 And there were slain twenty thousand five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

CHAP. X. VER. 15. The Jews, &c. He speaks of them that had fallen from their religion, and were enemies of their country, who joining with the Idumeans or Edomites, kept possession of the strong-holds, and from thence annoyed their countrymen.

32 But Timotheus fled into Gazara a ſtrong-hold, where Chereas was governor.

33 Then Machabeus, and they that were with him, cheerfully laid ſiege to the fortreſs four days.

34 But they that were within, truſting to the ſtrength of the place, blaſphemed exceedingly, and caſt forth abominable words.

35 But when the fifth day appeared, twenty young men of them that were with him Machabeus, inflamed in their minds becauſe of the blaſphemy, approached manfully to the wall and puſhing forward with fierce courage got up upon it:

36 Moreover others alſo getting up after them, went to ſet fire to the towers and the gates, and to burn the blaſphemers alive.

37 And having for two days together pillaged and ſacked the fortreſs, they killed Timotheus, who was found hid in a certain place: they ſlew alſo his brother Chereas, and Apollophanes.

38 And when this was done, they bleſſed the Lord with hymns and thankſgiving, who had done great things in Iſrael, and given them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

Lyſias is overthrown by Judas. He ſues for peace.

A. M. 3841. Ante C. 163. A Short time after this Lyſias the king's lieutenant, and couſin, and who had chief charge over all the affairs, being greatly diſpleaſed with what had happened,

2 Gathered together fourſcore thouſand men, and all the horſemen, and came againſt the Jews, thinking to take the city, and make it a habitation of the Gentiles:

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other temples of the Gentiles, and to ſet the high prieſthood to ſale every year:

4 Never conſidering the power of God, but puffed up in mind, and truſting in the multitude of his foot ſoldiers, and the thouſands of his horſemen, and his fourſcore elephants.

5 So he came into Judea, and approached to Bethſura, which was in a narrow place, the ſpace of five furlongs from Jeruſalem, he laid ſiege to that fortreſs.

6 But when Machabeus and they that were with him, underſtood that the ſtrongholds were beſieged, they and all the people beſought the Lord with lamentations and tears, that he would ſend a good Angel to ſave Iſrael.

7 Then Machabeus himſelf firſt taking his arms, exhorted the reſt to expoſe themſelves together with him, to the danger, and to ſuccour their brethren.

8 And when they were going forth together with a willing mind, there appeared at Jeruſalem a horſeman going before them in white clothing, with golden armour, ſhaking a ſpear.

9 Then they all together bleſſed the merciful Lord, and took great courage: being ready to break through not only men, but alſo the fierceſt beaſts, and walls of iron.

10 So they went on courageouſly, having a helper from heaven, and the Lord who ſhewed mercy to them.

11 And ruſhing violently upon the enemy, like lions, they ſlew of them eleven thouſand footmen, and one thouſand ſix hundred horſemen:

12 And put all the reſt to flight, and many of them being wounded eſcaped naked: Yea and Lyſias himſelf fled away ſhamefully and eſcaped.

13 And as he was a man of underſtanding, conſidering with himſelf, the loſs he had ſuffered, and perceiving that the Hebrews could not be overcome, becauſe they relied upon the help of the almighty God, he ſent to them:

14 And promiſed that he would agree to all things, that are juſt, and that he would perſuade the king to be their friend.

15 Then Machabeus conſented to the requeſt of Lyſias, providing for the common good in all things, and whatſoever Machabeus wrote to Lyſias, concerning the Jews, the king allowed of.

16 For there were letters written to the Jews from Lyſias, to this effect: LYSIAS to the people of the Jews, greeting.

17 John and Abeſalom who were ſent from you, delivering your writings, requeſted that I would accompliſh thoſe things which were ſignified by them.

18 Therefore whatſoever things could be reported to the king I have repreſented to him: and he hath granted as much as the matter permitted.

19 If therefore you will keep yourſelves loyal in affairs, hereafter alſo I will endeavour to be a means of your good.

20 But as concerning other particulars, I have given orders by word both to theſe, 22 But the king's letter contained these words: KING Antiochus to Lysias his brother, greeting.

23 Our father being translated amongst the gods, we are desirous that they that are in our realm should live quietly, and apply themselves diligently to their own concerns,

24 And we have heard that the Jews would not consent to my father to turn to the rites of the Greeks, but that they would keep to their own manner of living, and therefore that they request us to allow them to live after their own laws.

25 Wherefore being desirous that this nation also should be at rest, we have ordained and decreed, that the temple should be restored to them, and that they may live according to the custom of their ancestors.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to send to them, and grant them peace, that our pleasure being known they may be of good comfort, and look to their own affairs.

27 But the king's letter to the Jews was in this manner: KING Antiochus to the senate of the Jews, and to the rest of the Jews, greeting.

28 If you are well, you are as we desire: we ourselves also are well.

29 Menelaus came to us, saying that you desired to come down to your countrymen, that are with us.

30 We grant therefore a safe-conduct to all that come and go, until the thirtieth day of the month of Xanthicus,

31 That the Jews may use their own kind of meats, and their own laws, as before: and that none of them any manner of ways be molested for things which have been done by ignorance.

34 The Romans also sent them a letter, to this effect. QUINTUS Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting.

35 Whatsoever Lysias the king's cousin hath granted you, we also have granted.

36 But touching such things as he thought should be referred to the king, after you have diligently conferred among yourselves, send some one forthwith, that we may decree as it is convenient for you: for we are going to Antioch.

37 And therefore make haste to write back, that we may know of what mind you are.

The Jews are still molested by their neighbours. Judas gains divers victories over them. He orders sacrifice and prayers for the dead.

WHEN these covenants were made, Lysias went to the king, and the Jews gave themselves to husbandry. A. M. 3841. Ante C. 163.

2 But they that were behind, viz. Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to live in peace, and to be quiet.

3 The men of Joppe also were guilty of this kind of wickedness: they desired the Jews who dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats, which they had prepared, as though they had no enmity to them.

4 Which when they had consented to, according to the common decree of the city, suspecting nothing, because of the peace: when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no fewer than two hundred of them.

5 But as soon as Judas heard of this cruelty done to his countrymen, he commanded the men that were with him: and after having called upon God the just judge,

6 He came against those murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire in the night, burnt the boats, and slew with the sword them that escaped from the fire.

7 And when he had done these things in this manner, he departed as if he would return again, and root out all the Joppites.

night, and set the haven on fire with the ships, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10 And when they were now gone from thence nine furlongs, and were marching towards Timotheus, five thousand footmen, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon them.

11 And after a hard fight, in which by the help of God they got the victory, the rest of the Arabians being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising to give him pastures, and to assist him in other things.

12 And Judas thinking that they might be profitable indeed in many things, promised them peace, and after having joined hands, they departed to their tents.

13 He also laid siege to a certain strong city, encompassed with bridges and walls, and inhabited by multitudes of different nations, the name of which is Casphin.

14 But they that were within it, trusting in the strength of the walls, and the provision of victuals, behaved in a more negligent manner, and provoked Judas with railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 But Machabeus calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war threw down the walls of Jericho || in the time of Josue, fiercely assaulted the walls. ||Josue 6. 20.

16 And having taken the city by the will of the Lord, he made an unspeakable slaughter, so that a pool adjoining of two furlongs broad seemed to run with the blood of the slain.

17 From thence they departed seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa to the Jews that are called Tubianites.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in those places, for before he had dispatched any thing he went back, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold:

19 But Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were captains with Machabeus, slew them that were left by Timotheus in the hold, to the number of ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus having set in order about him six thousand men, and divided them by bands, went forth against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand five hundred horsemen.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of the coming of Judas, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage before him into a fortress, called Carnion: for it was impregnable, and hard to come at, by reason of the straitness of the places.

22 But when the first band of Judas came in sight, the enemies were struck with fear, by the presence of God, who seeth all things, and they were put to flight one from another, so that they were often thrown down by their own companions, and wounded with the strokes of their own swords.

23 But Judas was vehemently earnest in punishing the prophane, of whom he slew thirty thousand men.

24 And Timotheus himself fell into the hands of the band of Dositheus and Sosipater, and with many prayers he besought them to let him go with his life, because he had the parents and brethren of many of the Jews, who, by his death, might happen to be deceived.

25 And when he had given his faith that he would restore them according to the agreement, they let him go without hurt, for the saving of their brethren.

26 Then Judas went away to Carnion, where he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed these, he removed his army to Ephron a strong city, wherein there dwelt a multitude of divers nations: and stout young men standing upon the walls, made a vigorous resistance: and in this place there were many engines of war, and a provision of darts. A. M. 3841. Ante C. 163.

28 But when they had invocated the Almighty, who with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they took the city: and slew five and twenty thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But the Jews that were among the Scythopolitans testifying that they were used kindly by them, and that even in the times of their adversity they had treated them with humanity:

31 They gave them thanks, exhorting them to be still friendly to their nation, and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks being at hand.

32 And after Pentecost they marched against Gorgias the governor of Idumea.

CHAP. XII. VER. 29. Scythopolis. Formerly called Bethsan.

33 And he came out with three thouſand footmen, and four hundred horſemen.

34 And when they had joined battle, it happened that a few of the Jews were ſlain.

35 But Doſitheus a horſeman, one of Bacenor's band, a valiant man, took hold of Gorgias: and when he would have taken him alive, a certain horſeman of the Thracians came upon him, and cut off his ſhoulder: and ſo Gorgias eſcaped to Mareſa.

36 But when they that were with Eſdrin had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord to be their helper, and leader of the battle:

37 Then beginning in his own language, and ſinging hymns with a loud voice, he put Gorgias's ſoldiers to flight.

38 So Judas having gathered together his army, came into the city Odollam: and when the ſeventh day came, they purified themſelves according to the cuſtom, and kept the ſabbath in the ſame place.

39 And the day following Judas came with his company, to take away the bodies of them that were ſlain, and to bury them with their kinſmen, in the ſepulchres of their fathers.

40 And they found under the coats of the ſlain ſome of the donaries of the idols of Jamnia, ‖ which the law forbiddeth to the Jews: ſo that all plainly ſaw, that for this cauſe they were ſlain.

41 Then they all bleſſed the juſt judgment of the Lord, who had diſcovered the things that were hidden.

42 And ſo betaking themſelves to prayers, they beſought him, that the ſin which had been committed might be forgotten. But the moſt valiant Judas exhorted the people to keep themſelves from ſin, foraſmuch as they ſaw before their eyes what had happened, becauſe of the ſins of thoſe that were ſlain.

43 And making a gathering, he ſent twelve thouſand drachms of ſilver to Jeruſalem for ſacrifice to be offered for the ſins of the dead, thinking well and religiouſly concerning the reſurrection.

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were ſlain ſhould riſe again, it would have ſeemed ſuperfluous and vain to pray for the dead)

45 And becauſe he conſidered that they who had fallen aſleep with godlineſs, had great grace laid up for them.

46 It is therefore a holy and wholeſome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be looſed from ſins.

CHAP. XIII.

Antiochus and Lyſias again invade Judea. Menelaus is put to death. The king's great army is worſted twice. The peace is renewed.

A. M. 3848. Ante C. 163.

IN the year one hundred and forty nine, Judas underſtood that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a multitude againſt Judea,

2 And with him Lyſias the regent, who had charge over the affairs of the realm, having with him a hundred and ten thouſand footmen, five thouſand horſemen, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menelaus alſo joined himſelf with them: and with great deceitfulneſs beſought Antiochus, not for the welfare of his country, but in hopes that he ſhould be appointed chief ruler.

4 But the King of kings ſtirred up the mind of Antiochus againſt the ſinner, and upon Lyſias ſuggeſting that he was the cauſe of all the evils, he commanded (as the cuſtom is with them) that he ſhould be apprehended and put to death in the ſame place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower fifty cubits high, having a heap of aſhes on every ſide: this had a proſpect ſteep down.

6 From thence he commanded the ſacrilegious wretch to be thrown down into the aſhes, all men thruſting him forward unto death.

7 And by ſuch a law it happened that Menelaus the tranſgreſſor of the law was

---

VER. 40. Of the donaries, &c. That is, of the votive offerings, which had been hung up in the temples of the idols, which they had taken away when they burnt the port of Jamnia, ver. 9. contrary to the prohibition of the law, Deut. vii. 25.

VER. 45. With godlineſs. Judas hoped that theſe men who died fighting for the cauſe of God and religion, might find mercy: either becauſe they might be excuſed from mortal ſin by ignorance; or might have repented of their ſin, at leaſt at their death.

VER. 46. It is therefore a holy and wholeſome thought to pray for the dead. Here is an evident and undeniable proof of the practice of praying for the dead under the old law, which was then ſtrictly obſerved by the Jews, and conſequently could not be introduced at that time by Judas, their chief and high prieſt, if it had not been always their cuſtom.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 2. A hundred and ten thouſand, &c. The difference between the numbers here ſet down, and thoſe recorded 1 Mach. iv. is eaſily accounted for; if we conſider that ſuch armies as theſe are liable to be at one time more numerous than at another; either by ſending away large detachments, or being diminiſhed by ſickneſs; or increaſed by receiving freſh ſupplies of troops, according to different exigencies or occurrences.

put to death: not having so much as burial in the earth.

8 And indeed very justly, for insomuch as he had committed many sins against the altar of God, the fire and ashes of which were holy: he was condemned to die in ashes.

9 But the king, with his mind full of rage, came on to shew himself worse to the Jews than his father was.

10 Which when Judas understood, he commanded the people to call upon the Lord day and night, that as he had always done, so now also he would help them:

11 Because they were afraid to be deprived of the law, and of their country, and of the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the people, that had of late taken breath for a little while, to be again in subjection to blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and had craved mercy of the Lord with weeping and fasting, lying prostrate on the ground for three days continually, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

13 But he with the ancients determined, before the king should bring his army into Judea, and make himself master of the city, to go out, and to commit the event of the thing to the judgment of the Lord.

14 So committing all to God, the creator of the world, and having exhorted his people to fight manfully, and to stand up even to death for the laws, the temple, the city, their country, and citizens: he placed his army about Modin.

15 And having given his company for a watch-word, The victory of God, with most valiant chosen young men, he set upon the king's quarter by night, and slew four thousand men in the camp, and the greatest of the elephants, with them that had been upon him,

16 And having filled the camp of the enemies with exceeding great fear and tumult, they went off with good success.

17 Now this was done at the break of day, by the protection and help of the Lord.

18 But the king having taken a taste of the hardiness of the Jews, attempted to take the strong places by policy:

19 And he marched with his army to Bethsura, which was a strong-hold of the Jews: but he was repulsed, he failed, he lost his men.

20 Now Judas sent necessaries to them that were within.

21 But Rhodocus, one of the Jews army, discloses the secrets to the enemies, so he was sought out, and taken up, and put in prison.

22 Again the king treated with them that were in Bethsura: gave his right hand: took theirs: and went away.

23 He fought with Judas: and was overcome. And when he understood that Philip, who had been left over the affairs, had rebelled at Antioch, he was in a consternation of mind, and intreating the Jews, and yielding to them, he swore to all things that seemed reasonable, and, being reconciled, offered sacrifices, honoured the temple, and left gifts.

24 He embraced Machabeus, and made him governor and prince from Ptolemais unto the Gerrenians.

25 But when he was come to Ptolemais the men of that city were much displeased with the conditions of the peace, being angry for fear they should break the covenant.

26 Then Lysias went up to the judgment-seat, and set forth the reason, and appeased the people, and returned to Antioch: and thus matters went with regard to the king's coming and his return.

Demetrius challenges the kingdom. Alcimus applies to him to be made high priest: Nicanor is sent into Judea: his dealings with Judas: his threats. The history of Razias.

A. M. 3842. Ante C. 162. BUT after the space of three years Judas, and they that were with him, understood that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come up with a great power, and a navy by the haven of Tripolis to places proper for his purpose,

2 And had made himself master of the countries against Antiochus, and his general Lysias.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been chief priest, but had wilfully defiled himself in the time of mingling with the Heathens,

---

CHAP. XIV. VER. 3. Now Alcimus who had been chief priest. This Alcimus was of the stock of Aaron, but for his apostacy here mentioned was incapable of the high-priesthood, but king Antiochus Eupator appointed him in place of the high-priest, (See above, 1 Mac. chap. vii. ver. 9.) as Menelaus had been before him, set up by Antiochus (above, chap. iv.); yet neither of them were truly high-priests: for the true high-priesthood was amongst the Machabees, who were also of the stock of Aaron, and had strictly held their religion, and were ordained according to the rites commanded in the law of Moses.

Ibid. Mingling with the Heathens; that is, in their idolatrous worship.

seeing that there was no safety for him, nor access to the altar,

* A. M. 3843. 4 Came to king Demetrius in the year * one hundred and fifty, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and besides these, some boughs which seemed to belong to the temple. And that day indeed he held his peace.

5 But having gotten a convenient time to further his madness, being called to counsel by Demetrius, and asked what the Jews relied upon, and what were their counsels,

6 He answered thereunto: They among the Jews that are called Assideans, of whom Judas Machabeus is captain, nourish wars, and raise seditions, and will not suffer the realm to be in peace.

7 For I also being deprived of my ancestors glory (I mean of the high priesthood) am now come hither:

8 Principally indeed out of fidelity to the king's interests, but in the next place also to provide for the good of my countrymen: for all our nation suffereth much from the evil proceedings of those men.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, take care, I beseech thee, both of the country, and of our nation, according to thy humanity which is known to all men.

10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11 Now when this man had spoken to this effect, the rest also of the king's friends, who were enemies of Judas incensed Demetrius against him.

12 And forthwith he sent Nicanor, the commander over the elephants, governor into Judea:

13 Giving him in charge, to take Judas himself: and disperse all them that were with him, and to make Alcimus the high priest of the great temple.

14 Then the Gentiles who had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the miseries, and calamities of the Jews to be the welfare of their affairs.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the nations were assembled against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him, who chose his people to keep them for ever, and who protected his portion by evident signs.

16 Then at the commandment of their captain, they forthwith removed from the place where they were, and went to the town of Dessau, to meet them.

17 Now Simon the brother of Judas had joined battle with Nicanor: but was frightened with the sudden coming of the adversaries.

18 Nevertheless Nicanor hearing of the valour of Judas's companions, and the greatness of courage, with which they fought for their country, was afraid to try the matter by the sword.

19 Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotius, and Matthias before to present and receive the right hands.

20 And when there had been a consultation thereupon, and the captain had acquainted the multitude with it, they were all of one mind to consent to covenants.

21 So they appointed a day upon which they might commune together by themselves: and seats were brought out, and set for each one.

22 But Judas ordered men to be ready in convenient places, lest some mischief might be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made an agreeable conference.

23 And Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no wrong, but sent away the flocks of the multitudes that had been gathered together.

24 And Judas was always dear to him from the heart; and he was well affected to the man.

25 And he desired him to marry a wife, and to have children. So he married: he lived quietly, and they lived in common.

26 But Alcimus seeing the love they had one to another, and the covenants, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor assented to the foreign interest, for that he meant to make Judas, who was a traitor to the kingdom, his successor.

27 Then the king being in a rage and provoked with this man's wicked accusations, wrote to Nicanor, signifying, that he was greatly displeased with the covenant of friendship: and that he commanded him nevertheless to send Machabeus prisoner in all haste to Antioch.

28 When this was known, Nicanor was in a consternation, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles that were agreed upon, having received no injury from the man.

29 But because he could not oppose the king, he watched an opportunity to comply with the orders.

30 But when Machabeus perceived that Nicanor was more stern to him, and that when they met together as usual he behaved himself in a rough manner; and was sensible that this rough behaviour came not of good, he gathered together a few of his men, and hid himself from Nicanor.

31 But he finding himself notably prevented by the man, came to the great and holy temple: and commanded the priests that were offering the accustomed sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they swore unto him, that they knew not where the man was whom he sought, he stretched out his hand to the temple,

33 And swore, saying: Unless you deliver Judas prisoner to me, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will beat down the altar, and I will dedicate this temple to Bacchus.

34 And when he had spoken thus, he departed. But the priests stretching forth their hands to heaven, called upon him that was ever the defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who wantest nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thy habitation should be amongst us.

36 Therefore now, O Lord, the holy of all holies, keep this house for ever undefiled, which was lately cleansed.

37 Now Razias, one of the ancients of Jerusalem, was accused to Nicanor, a man that was a lover of the city, and of good report, who for his affection was called the father of the Jews.

38 This man, for a long time, had held fast his purpose of keeping himself pure in the Jews religion, and was ready to expose his body and life, that he might persevere therein.

39 So Nicanor being willing to declare the hatred that he bore the Jews, sent five hundred soldiers to take him.

40 For he thought by ensnaring him to hurt the Jews very much.

41 Now as the multitude sought to rush into his house, and to break open the door, and to set fire to it, when he was ready to be taken, he struck himself with his sword:

42 Choosing to die nobly rather than to fall into the hands of the wicked, and to suffer abuses unbecoming his noble birth.

43 But whereas through haste he missed of giving himself a sure wound, and the crowd was breaking into the doors, he ran boldly to the wall, and manfully threw himself down to the crowd:

44 But they quickly making room for his fall, he came upon the midst of the neck.

45 And as he had yet breath in him, being inflamed in mind he arose: and while his blood ran down with a great stream, and he was grievously wounded, he ran through the crowd:

46 And standing upon a steep rock, when he was now almost without blood, grasping his bowels, with both hands he cast them upon the throng, calling upon the Lord of life and spirit, to restore these to him again: and so he departed this life.

CHAP. XV.

Judas encouraged by a vision gains a glorious victory over Nicanor. The conclusion.

BUT when Nicanor, understood that Judas was in the places of Samaria, he purposed to set upon him with all violence on the sabbath-day. A. M. 3843. Ante C. 161. 1 Macab. 7. 26.

2 And when the Jews that were constrained to follow him, said: Do not act so fiercely and barbarously, but give honour to the day that is sanctified: and reverence him that beholdeth all things:

3 That unhappy man asked, if there were a mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4 And when they answered: There is the living Lord himself in heaven, the mighty One, that commanded the seventh day to be kept.

5 Then he said: And I am mighty upon the earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to accomplish his design.

6 So Nicanor being puffed up with exceeding great pride, thought to set up a publick monument of his victory over Judas.

7 But Machabeus ever trusted with all hope that God would help them.

8 And he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the nations, but to remember the help they had before received from heaven, and now to hope for victory from the Almighty.

9 And speaking to them out of the law, and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles they had fought before, he made them more cheerful:

10 Then after he had encouraged them,

VER. 41. He struck himself, &c. St. Augustin, Epist. 61. ad Dulcitium & lib. 2. cap. 23. ad Epist. 2. Gaud. discussing this fact of Razias, says, that the holy scripture relates it, but doth not praise it, as to be admired or imitated, and that either it was not well done by him, or at least not proper in this time of grace.

VER. 44. He came upon the midst of the neck. Venit per medium cervicem. In the Greek it is κένεωμα, which signifies a void place, where there is no building.

he ſhewed withal the falſhood of the Gentiles, and their breach of oaths.

11 So he armed every one of them, not with defence of ſhield and ſpear, but with very good ſpeeches, and exhortations, and told them a dream worthy to be believed, whereby he rejoiced them all.

12 Now the viſion was in this manner: Onias who had been high prieſt, a good and virtuous man, modeſt in his looks, gentle in his manners, and graceful in his ſpeech, and who from a child was exerciſed in virtues, holding up his hands, prayed for all the people of the Jews:

13 After this there appeared alſo another man, admirable for age, and glory, and environed with great beauty and majeſty:

14 Then Onias anſwering, ſaid: This is a lover of his brethren, and of the people of Iſrael: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy city, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Jeremias ſtretched forth his right hand, and gave to Judas a ſword of gold, ſaying:

16 Take this holy ſword a gift from God, wherewith thou ſhalt overthrow the adverſaries of my people Iſrael.

17 Thus being exhorted with the words of Judas, which were very good, and proper to ſtir up the courage, and ſtrengthen the hearts of the young men, they reſolved to fight, and to ſet upon them manfully: that valour might decide the matter, becauſe the holy city, and the temple were in danger.

18 For their concern was leſs for their wives, and children, and for their brethren, and kinsfolks: but their greateſt and principal fear was for the holineſs of the temple.

19 And they alſo that were in the city, had no little concern for them that were to be engaged in battle.

20 And now when all expected what judgment would be given, and the enemies were at hand, and the army was ſet in array, the beaſts and the horſemen ranged in convenient places,

21 Machabeus conſidering the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceneſs of the beaſts, ſtretching out his hands to heaven, called upon the Lord, that worketh wonders, who giveth victory to them that are worthy, not according to the power of their arms, but according as it ſeemeth good to him.

22 And in his prayer he ſaid after this manner: ‖ Thou, O Lord, who didſt ſend thy Angel in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and didſt kill a hundred and eighty five thouſand of the army of Senacherib:

23 Send now alſo, O Lord of heaven, thy good angel before us, for the fear and dread of the greatneſs of thy arm,

24 That they may be afraid, who come with blaſphemy againſt thy holy people. And thus he concluded his prayer.

25 But Nicanor, and they that were with him came forward, with trumpets and ſongs.

26 But Judas, and they that were with him, encountered them, calling upon God by prayers:

27 So fighting with their hands, but praying to the Lord with their hearts, they ſlew no leſs than five and thirty thouſand, being greatly cheared with the preſence of God.

28 And when the battle was over, and they were returning with joy, they underſtood that Nicanor was ſlain in his armour.

29 Then making a ſhout, and a great noiſe, they bleſſed the almighty Lord in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was altogether ready, in body and mind, to die for his countrymen, commanded that Nicanor's head, and his hand with the ſhoulder ſhould be cut off, and carried to Jeruſalem.

31 And when he was come thither, having called together his countrymen, and the prieſts to the altar, he ſent alſo for them that were in the caſtle,

32 And ſhewing them the head of Nicanor, and the wicked hand, which he had ſtretched out, with proud boaſts, againſt the holy houſe of the almighty God.

33 He commanded alſo, that the tongue of the wicked Nicanor ſhould be cut out, and given by pieces to birds, and the hand of the furious man to be hanged up over-againſt the temple.

34 Then all bleſſed the Lord of heaven, ſaying: Bleſſed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 And he hung up Nicanor's head in the top of the caſtle, that it might be an evident and manifeſt ſign of the help of God.

36 And they all ordained by a common decree, by no means to let this day paſs without ſolemnity:

37 But to celebrate the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, called in the Syrian language, the day before Mardochias day.

38 So theſe things being done with relation to Nicanor, and from that time the city being poſſeſſed by the Hebrews, I alſo will here make an end of my narration.

‖ Supra 8. 19.

39 Which if I have done well, and as it becometh the hiſtory, it is what I deſired: but if not ſo perfectly, it muſt be pardoned me.

40 For as it is hurtful to drink always wine, or always water, but pleaſant to uſe ſometimes the one, and ſometimes the other: ſo if the ſpeech be always nicely framed, it will not be grateful to the readers. But here it ſhall be ended.

CHAP. XV. VER. 39. If not ſo perfectly, &c. This is not ſaid with regard to the truth of the narration: but with regard to the ſtile and manner of writing: which in the ſacred penmen is not always the moſt accurate: See St. Paul, 2 Cor. xi. 6.

‡ 2 Par. 33. 20.

10 ‖ And Ezechias begot Manaſſes. ‡ And Manaſſes begot Amon. ‖ And Amon begot Joſias.

‡ 2 Par. 33. 25.
‖ 2 Par. 36. 2.

11 ‡ And Joſias begot Jechonias and his brethren about the time they were carried away to Babylon.

12 And after they were carried to Babylon, Jechonias begot Salathiel. And Salathiel begot Zorobabel.

13 And Zorobabel begot Abiud. And Abiud begot Eliacim. And Eliacim begot Azor.

14 And Azor begot Sadoc. And Sadoc begot Achim. And Achim begot Eliud.

15 And Eliud begot Eleazar. And Eleazar begot Mathan. And Mathan begot Jacob.

16 And Jacob begot Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations: and from David until the carrying away to Babylon, fourteen generations: and from the carrying away to Babylon till Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the birth of Christ was thus: ‖ When Mary his mother was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. ‖ Luke 1. 27.

19 Whereupon Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing publickly to expose her, was minded to put her away privately.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold the Angel of the Lord appeared to him in his sleep, saying: Joseph, son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the Holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a son: ‖ and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins. ‖ Luke 1. 31. Acts 4. 12.

22 Now all this was done that the word might be fulfilled which the Lord spoke by the prophet, saying:

23 ‖ Behold a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. ‖ Isai. 7. 14.

24 And Joseph rising up from sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord had commanded him, and took unto him his wife.

25 And he knew her not till she brought forth her first-born son, and he called his name Jesus.

CHAP. II.

The offerings of the wise men: the flight into Egypt: the massacre of the Innocents.

A. M. 4000. Being 4 years before the common account called Anno Domini. Luke 2. 7.

NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Juda, in the days of king Herod, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem.

2 Saying: Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and we are come to adore him.

3 And Herod the king hearing this, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And assembling together all the chief priests, and the Scribes of the people, he enquired of them where Christ should be born.

5 But they said to him: In Bethlehem of Juda: For so it is written by the prophet:

6 ‖ And thou Bethlehem, the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come forth the ruler, who shall rule my people Israel. ‖ Mich. 5. 2. John 7. 42.

7 Then Herod privately calling the wise men enquired of them diligently the time of the star's appearing to them:

8 And sending them into Bethlehem, said: Go, and search diligently after the child; and when you have found him, bring me word again, that I also may come and adore him.

9 And when they had heard the king, they went their way: and behold the star which they had seen in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the child was.

10 And seeing the star they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And going into the house, they found the child with Mary his mother, and falling down they adored him: ‖ and opening their treasures, they offered to him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh. ‖ Psal. 71. 10.

12 And having received an answer in sleep, that they should not return to Herod, they went back another way into their own country.

13 And when they were departed, behold an Angel of the Lord appeared in sleep to Joseph, saying: Arise, and take the child and his mother, and fly into Egypt, and be there until I shall tell thee. For it will come to pass that Herod will seek the child to destroy him.

14 Who rising up, took the child and his mother by night, and retired into Egypt:

15 And he was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which the Lord spoke by the prophet, saying: ‖ Out of Egypt have I called my son. ‖ Osee 11.

CHAP. I. VER. 16. The husband of Mary. The evangelist gives us rather the pedigree of St. Joseph, than that of the blessed Virgin, to conform to the custom of the Hebrews, who in their genealogies took no notice of women: but as they were near a-kin, the pedigree of the one sheweth that of the other.

VER. 25. Till she brought forth her first born son. From these words Helvidius and other heretics most impiously inferred that the blessed Virgin Mary had other children besides Christ: But St. Jerom shews by divers examples, that this expression of the Evangelist was a manner of speaking usual among the Hebrews to denote by the word until, only what is done, without any regard to the future: Thus it is said, Gen. chap. viii. ver. 6. and 7. That Noe sent forth a raven, which went forth, and did not return TILL the waters were dried up on the earth. That is, did not return any more. Also Isaias, chap. xlvi. ver. 4. God says: I am TILL you grow old. Who dare infer that God should then cease to be? Also in the 1 book of Machabees, ver. 54. And they went up to mount Sion with joy, and gladness, and offered holocausts, because not one of them was slain till they had re-

16 Then Herod perceiving that he was deluded by the wiſe men, was exceeding angry, and ſending killed all the men-children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the confines thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wiſe men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoken by Jeremias the prophet, ſaying:

‖ Jer. 31. 15. 18 ‖ A voice in Rama was heard, lamentation and great mourning: Rachel bewailing her children, and would not be comforted, becauſe they are not.

19 Now Herod being dead, behold an Angel of the Lord appeared in ſleep to Joſeph in Egypt.

20 Saying: Riſe, and take the child and his mother, and go into the land of Iſrael: for they are dead, who ſought the life of the child.

21 Who riſing up, took the child, and his mother, and came into the land of Iſrael.

22 But hearing that Archelaus reigned in Judea in the room of Herod his father, he was afraid to go thither: and being warned in ſleep he retired into the parts of Galilee.

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled, what was ſaid by the prophets: That he ſhall be called a Nazarene.

CHAP. III.

The preaching of John: Chriſt is baptized.

A. D. 28. NOW in thoſe days came John the Baptiſt preaching in the deſart of Judea.

‖ Mark 1. 4. Luke 3. 3. 2 And ſaying: ‖ Do penance: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

‡ Iſai. 40. 3. Mark 1. 3. Luke 3. 4. 3 For this is he, who was ſpoken of by Iſaias the prophet, ſaying: ‡ A voice of one crying in the deſert: Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make ſtraight his paths.

4 And John himſelf had his garment of camels hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins, and his food was locuſts and wild honey.

‖ Mark 1. 5. 5 ‖ Then went out to him Jeruſalem and all Judea, and all the country about Jordan:

6 And they were baptized by him in the Jordan, confeſſing their ſins.

7 And ſeeing many of the Phariſees, and Sadducees ‖ coming to his baptiſm, he ſaid to them: Ye brood of vipers, who hath ſhewed you to flee from the wrath to come? ‖ Luke 3. 7.

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of penance.

9 And think not to ſay within yourſelves: ‖ We have Abraham for our father: for I tell you, that God is able of theſe ſtones to raiſe up children to Abraham. ‖ John 8. 39.

10 For now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that yieldeth not good fruit, ſhall be cut down, and caſt into the fire.

‖ Mark 1. 8. Luke 3. 16. John 1. 26. Acts 1. 5. 11 ‖ I indeed baptize you with water unto penance: but he who is to come after me, is ſtronger than I, whoſe ſhoes I am not worthy to carry: he ſhall baptize you with the Holy Ghoſt and with fire.

12 Whoſe fan is in his hand, and he will throughly cleanſe his floor: and gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire.

‖ Mark 1. 9. 13 ‖ Then cometh Jeſus from Galilee to the Jordan, unto John, to be baptized by him.

A. D. 30. 14 But John ſtayed him, ſaying I ought to be baptized by thee, and comeſt thou to me?

15 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid to him: Suffer it now: for ſo it becometh us to fulfil all juſtice. Then he ſuffered him.

16 And Jeſus being baptized, went up preſently out of the water: and behold the heavens were opened to him: and he ſaw the ‡ Spirit of God deſcending as a dove, and coming upon him, ‡ Luke 3. 22.

‖ Luke 9. 35. 2 Peter 1. 17. 17 ‖ And behold a voice from heaven, ſaying: This is my beloved ſon, in whom I am well pleaſed.

CHAP. IV.

Chriſt's faſt of forty days: he is tempted. He begins to preach, to call diſciples to him, and to work miracles.

A. D. 30. Mark 1. 12. Luke 4. 1. THEN Jeſus was led by the ſpirit into the deſert, to be tempted by the devil.

turned in peace. That is, not one was ſlain, before or after they had returned.—God ſaith to his divine Son: Sit on my right hand TILL I make thy enemies thy foot-ſtool. Shall he ſit no longer after his enemies are ſubdued? Yea and for all eternity. St. Jerom alſo proves by Scripture examples, that an only begotten ſon, was alſo called firſt born, or firſt begotten: becauſe according to the law, the firſt born males were to be conſecrated to God: Sanctify unto me, ſaith the Lord, every firſt-born that openeth the womb among the children of Iſrael, &c. Exod. chap. xiii. ver. 2.

CHAP. III. VER. 2. Do penance. Pœnitentiam agite, μετανοειτε. Which word, according to the uſe of the ſcriptures and the holy fathers, does not only ſignify repentance and amendment of life, but alſo puniſhing paſt ſins by faſting, and ſuch like penitential exerciſes.

VER. 7. Phariſees and Sadducees. Theſe were two ſects among the Jews: of which the former were for the moſt part notorious hypocrites; the latter a kind of freethinkers in matters of religion.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterwards hungry.

3 And the tempter coming, said to him: If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

‖ Deut. 8. 3. Luke 4. 4. 4 But he answered, and said: It is written: ‖ Man liveth not by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And said to him: If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written: ‖ Psal. 90. 11. ‖ That he hath given his Angels charge of thee, and in their hands shall they bear thee up, lest perhaps thou hurt thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said to him: It is written again: ‖ Deut. 6. 16. ‖ Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil took him up into a very high mountain: and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them,

9 And said to him: All these will I give thee, if falling down thou wilt adore me.

10 Then Jesus saith to him: Begone, Satan: for it is written: ‖ Deut. 6. 13. The Lord thy God thou shalt adore, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil left him; and behold Angels came and ministered to him.

12 Now when Jesus had heard that ‖ Mark 1. 14. Luke 4. 14. John 4. 43. John was delivered up, ‖ he retired into Galilee:

13 And leaving the city Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capharnaum on the sea coast, in the confines of Zabulon and Nephthalim:

14 That what was said by Isaias the prophet might be fulfilled:

‡ Isai. 9. 1. 15 ‡ The land of Zabulon and the land of Nephthalim, the way of the sea beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

16 The people that sat in darkness, saw great light: and to them that sat in the region of the shadow of death, light is sprung up.

‖ Mark 1. 15. 17 ‖ From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say: Do penance, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee, ‡ Mark 1. 16. Luke 5. 2. ‡ saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers).

19 And he saith to them: Come after me, and I will make you become fishers of men.

20 And they immediately leaving their nets, followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately leaving their nets and their father, followed him.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom: and healing all diseases, and infirmities among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria, and they brought to him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and such as were possessed by devils, and lunaticks, those that had the palsy, and he healed them:

25 ‖ And great multitudes followed him from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond the Jordan. ‖ Mark 3. 7. Luke 6. 17.

CHAP. V.

Christ's sermon upon the mount. The eight beatitudes.

NOW Jesus seeing the multitudes, A. D. 31. he went up into a mountain, and when he had sat down, his disciples came to him.

2 And opening his mouth he taught them, saying:

3 ‖ Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ‖ Luke 6. 20.

4 ‡ Blessed are the meek: for they shall possess the land. ‡ Psal. 36. 11.

5 ‖ Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. ‖ Isai. 61. 2.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 ‡ Blessed are the clean of heart: for they shall see God. ‡ Psal. 23. 4.

9 Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 ‖ Blessed are they that suffer persecution for justice sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ‖ 1 Pet. 2. 20. & 3. 14. & 4. 14.

CHAP, IV. VER. 8. Shewed him, &c. That is, pointed out to him, where each kingdom lay; and set forth in words what was most glorious and admirable in each of them. Or also set before his eyes, as it were in a large map, a lively representation of all those kingdoms.

CHAP. V. VER. 5. The poor in spirit. That is, the humble; and they whose spirit is not set upon riches.

11 Bleſſed are you when men ſhall revile you, and perſecute you, and ſhall ſay all manner of evil againſt you falſely, for my ſake;

12 Rejoice and be exceeding glad, becauſe your reward is very great in heaven: for ſo they perſecuted the prophets, that were before you.

13 You are the ſalt of the earth. ‖ But if the ſalt loſe its ſavour, with what ſhall it be ſalted? It is then good for nothing, but to be caſt out, and to be trodden upon by men.

‖ Mark 9. 49. Luke 14. 34.

14 You are the light of the world. A city that is ſet on a mountain cannot be hid.

15 ‖ Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a buſhel, but upon a candleſtick, that it may give light to all that are in the houſe.

‖ Mark 4. 21. Luke 8. 16. & 11. 33.

16 Let your light ſo ſhine before men, ‡ that they may ſee your good works, and glorify your father who is in heaven.

‡ 1. Pet. 2. 12.

17 Think not that I am come to deſtroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to deſtroy, but to fulfil.

18 ‖ For amen I ſay unto you, till heaven and earth paſs, one jot or one tittle ſhall not paſs from the law, till all be fulfilled.

‖ Luke 16. 17.

19 ‡ Whoſoever therefore ſhall break one of theſe leaſt commandments, and ſhall teach men ſo, he ſhall be called the leaſt in the kingdom of heaven: but whoſoever ſhall do and teach, the ſame ſhall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

‡ James 2. 10.

20 For I ſay to you, that unleſs your juſtice abound ‖ more than that of the Scribes and of the Phariſees, you ſhall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

‖ Luke 11. 39.

21 You have heard that it was ſaid to them of old: ‡ Thou ſhalt not kill. And whoſoever ſhall kill, ſhall be guilty of the judgment.

‡ Exod. 20. 13. Deut. 5. 17.

22 But I ſay to you, that whoſoever is angry with his brother, ſhall be guilty of the judgment. And whoſoever ſhall ſay to his brother, Raca, ſhall be guilty of the council. And whoſoever ſhall ſay, Thou fool, ſhall be guilty of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou offereſt thy gift at the altar, and there ſhalt remember that thy brother hath any thing againſt thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and firſt go to be reconciled to thy brother: and then come and offer thy gift.

25 ‖ Make an agreement with thy adverſary quickly, whilſt thou art in the way with him: leſt perhaps the adverſary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be caſt into priſon.

‖ Luke 12. 58.

26 Amen I ſay to thee, thou ſhalt not go out from thence, till thou pay the laſt farthing.

27 You have heard that it was ſaid to them of old: ‖ Thou ſhalt not commit adultery.

‖ Exod. 20. 14.

28 But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever looketh on a woman to luſt after her, hath already committed adultery with her in his heart.

29 ‡ And if thy right eye cauſe thee to offend, pluck it out, and caſt it from thee: for it is better for thee that one of thy members ſhould periſh, than that thy whole body ſhould be caſt into hell.

‡ Mark 9. 46. Infra 18. 9.

30 And if thy right hand cauſe thee to offend, cut it off, and caſt it from thee: for it is better for thee that one of thy members ſhould periſh, than that thy whole body ſhould go into hell.

31 It hath alſo been ſaid: ‖ Whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorce.

‖ Deut. 24. 1. Infra 19. 7.

32 But I ſay to you: ‡ that whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, excepting the cauſe of fornication, cauſeth her to commit adultery: and whoſoever ſhall marry her that is put away, committeth adultery.

‡ Mark 10. 11. Luke 16. 18. 1 Cor. 7. 10.

33 Again you have heard that it was

VER. 17. To fulfil. By accompliſhing all the figures and prophecies; and perfecting all that was imperfect.

VER. 18. Amen. That is, aſſuredly, of a truth. This Hebrew word Amen, is here retained by the example and authority of all the four evangeliſts, who have retained it. It is uſed by our Lord as a ſtrong aſſeveration, and affirmation of the truth.

VER. 20. The Scribes, and of the Phariſees. The Scribes were the doctors of the law of Moſes: the Phariſees were a preciſe ſet of men, making profeſſion of a more exact obſervance of the law: and upon that account greatly eſteemed among the people.

VER. 21. Shall be guilty of judgment: That is, ſhall deſerve to be puniſhed by that leſſer tribunal among the Jews, called the Judgment, which took cognizance of ſuch crimes.

VER. 22. Raca: A word expreſſing great indignation or contempt.—Shall be guilty of the council: That is, ſhall deſerve to be puniſhed by the higheſt court of judicature, called the Council, or Sanhedrim, conſiſting of ſeventy-two perſons, where the higheſt cauſes were tried and judged, which was at Jeruſalem.

Ibid. Thou fool. This was then looked upon as a heinous injury, when uttered with contempt, ſpite or malice: and therefore is here ſo ſeverely condemned.—Shall be guilty of hell fire: literally according to the Greek, ſhall deſerve to be caſt into the Gehenna of fire. Which words our Saviour made uſe of to expreſs the fire and puniſhments of hell.

VER. 29. Cauſe thee to offend. That is, if it be a ſtumbling block, or occaſion of ſin to thee. By which we are taught to fly the immediate occaſions of ſin, though they be as dear to us, or as neceſſary as a hand or an eye.

‖ Exod. 20. 7. Levit. 19. 12. Deut. 5. 11. James 5. 12.
said to them of old: ‖ Thou shalt not forswear thyself: but thou shalt perform thy oaths to the Lord.

34 But I say to you, not to swear at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God:

35 Nor by the earth, for it is his foot-stool: nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king:

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

‖ James 5. 12.
37 ‖ But let your speech be yea, yea: no, no: for whatsoever is more than these, cometh from evil.

‡ Exod. 21. 24. Levit. 24. 20. Deut. 19. 21.
38 You have heard that it hath been said: ‡ An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say to you not to resist evil: ‖ but if any man strike thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also:

‖ Luke 6. 29. ‡ 1 Cor. 6. 7.
40 ‡ And if any man will go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever shall force thee to go one mile, go with him other two.

‖ Deut. 15. 8.
42 ‖ Give to him that asketh of thee, and from him that would borrow of thee, turn not away.

‡ Lev. 19. 18.
43 You have heard that it hath been said: ‡ Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thy enemy.

‖ Luke 6. 27. ‡ Rom. 12. 20. ‖ Luke 23. 34. Acts 7. 59.
44 But I say to you: ‖ Love your enemies, ‡ do good to them that hate you: ‖ and pray for them that persecute and calumniate you.

45 That you may be the children of your Father, who is in heaven: who maketh his sun to rise upon the good, and the bad, and raineth upon the just and the unjust.

46 For if you love those that love you, what reward shall you have? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if you salute your brethren only, what do you more? do not also the heathens the same?

48 Be you therefore perfect, as also your heavenly Father is perfect.

CHAP. VI.

A continuation of the sermon on the mount.

TAKE heed that you do not your justice before men, that you may be seen by them: otherwise you shall not have a reward from your Father, who is in heaven.

2 Therefore when thou dost an alms-deed, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be honoured by men. Amen I say to you, they have received their reward.

3 But when thou dost alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth:

4 That thy alms may be in secret, and thy Father, who seeth in secret will repay thee.

5 And when you pray, you shall not be as the hypocrites, who love to pray standing in the synagogues and at the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men: Amen I say to you, they have received their reward.

6 But thou when thou shalt pray, enter into thy chamber, and having shut the door, pray to thy Father in secret: and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee.

7 And when you are praying speak not much, as the heathens do: for they think that they are heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not you therefore like them. For your Father knoweth what you stand in need of, before you ask him.

9 You therefore shall pray in this manner: ‖ Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. ‖ Luke 11. 2.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our supersubstantial bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation. But deliver us from evil. Amen.

‖ Eccli. 28. 3. 4. & 5. Infra 18. 35. Mark 11. 25.
14 ‖ For if you forgive men their offences, your heavenly Father will also forgive you your offences.

VER. 34. Not to swear at all. 'Tis not forbid to swear in truth, justice and judgment; to the honour of God, or our own or neighbours just defence: but only to swear rashly, or profanely, in common discourse, and without necessity.

VER. 39. Not to resist evil, &c. What is here commanded, is a christian patience under injuries and affronts, and to be willing even to suffer still more, rather than to indulge the desire of revenge: but what is further added does not strictly oblige according to the letter, for neither did Christ, nor St. Paul turn the other cheek. St. John xviii. and Acts xxiii.

VER. 46. The publicans. These were the gatherers of the public taxes: a set of men, odious and infamous among the Jews, for their extortions and injustice.

CHAP. VI. VER. 1. Your justice. i. e. Works of justice, viz. fasting prayer, and almsdeeds; which ought to be performed not out of ostentation, or a view to please men, but solely to please God.

VER. 11. Supersubstantial bread. In St. Luke the same word is rendered daily bread. It is understood of the bread of life, which we receive in the Blessed Sacrament.

VER. 13. Lead us not into temptation. That is, suffer us not to be overcome by temptation.

15 But if you will not forgive men, neither will your Father forgive you your ſins.

16 And when you faſt, be not as the hypocrites, ſad: for they disfigure their faces, that to men they may appear faſting. Amen I ſay to you, they have received their reward.

17 But thou, when thou faſteſt, anoint thy head, and waſh thy face,

18 That thou appear not faſting to men, but to thy Father, who is in ſecret: and thy Father who ſeeth in ſecret, will reward thee.

19 Lay not up for yourſelves treaſures on earth: where the ruſt, and the moth conſume, and where thieves dig through, and ſteal.

‖ Luke 12. 33. 1 Tim. 6. 19.

20 ‖ But lay up for yourſelves treaſures in heaven: where neither the ruſt nor the moth doth conſume, and where thieves do not dig through, nor ſteal.

21 For where thy treaſure is, there is thy heart alſo.

‖ Luke 11. 34.

22 ‖ The light of thy body is thy eye. If thy eye be ſimple, thy whole body will be lightſome.

23 But if thy eye be evil, thy whole body ſhall be darkſome. If therefore the light that is in thee, be darkneſs, how great will the darkneſs itſelf be?

‖ Luke 16. 13.

24 ‖ No man can ſerve two maſters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other: or he will hold to the one, and deſpiſe the other. You cannot ſerve God and mammon.

† Pſal. 54. 23. Luke 12. 22. Phil. 4. 6. 1 Tim. 6. 7. 1 Pet. 5. 7.

25 † Therefore I ſay to you, be not ſolicitous for your life, what you ſhall eat, nor for your body what you ſhall put on. Is not the life more than the food: and the body more than the raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the air, for they ſow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns: yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not you of much more value than they?

27 And which of you by thinking can add to his ſtature one cubit?

28 And for raiment why are you ſolicitous? Conſider the lilies of the field how they grow: they labour not, neither do they ſpin.

29 And yet I ſay to you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of theſe.

30 Now if God ſo clothe the graſs of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is caſt into the oven: how much more you, O ye of little faith?

31 Be not ſolicitous therefore, ſaying: What ſhall we eat, or what ſhall we drink, or wherewith ſhall we be clothed?

32 For after all theſe things do the heathens ſeek. For your Father knoweth that you have need of all theſe things.

33 Seek ye therefore firſt the kingdom of God, and his juſtice: and all theſe things ſhall be added unto you.

34 Be not therefore ſolicitous for to-morrow: for the morrow will be ſolicitous for itſelf. Sufficient for the day is the evil thereof.

CHAP. VII.

The third part of the ſermon on the mount.

JUDGE not, that you may not be judged. Luke 6. 37. Rom. 2. 1.

2 For with what judgment you have judged, you ſhall be judged: ‡ and with what meaſure you have meaſured, it ſhall be meaſured to you again. ‡ Mark 4. 24.

3 And why ſeeſt thou a mote in thy brother's eye: and ſeeſt not a beam in thy own eye?

4 Or how ſayeſt thou to thy brother: Let me caſt the mote out of thy eye: and behold a beam is in thy own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, caſt out firſt the beam out of thy own eye, and then ſhalt thou ſee to caſt out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 Give not that which is holy to dogs: neither caſt ye your pearls before ſwine, leſt they trample them under their feet, and turning upon you, tear you.

‡ Luke 13. 24. 13 ‡ Enter ye in at the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there are who enter by it.

14 How narrow is the gate, and strait is the way, which leadeth to life: and few there are, who find it!

15 Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves.

16 By their fruits you shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles.

17 Even so every good tree yieldeth good fruit, and the bad tree yieldeth bad fruit.

18 A good tree cannot yield bad fruit, neither can a bad tree yield good fruit.

25 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and they beat upon that house, and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these my words, and doth them not, shall be like a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand.

27 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and they beat upon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass when Jesus had fully ended these words, the people were in admiration at his doctrine.

‖ Mark 1. 22. Luke 4. 32. 29 ‖ For he was teaching them as one having authority, and not as their Scribes and Pharisees.

CHAP. VIII.

Christ cleanses the leper, heals the centurion's servant, Peter's mother-in-law, and many others: he stills the storm at sea, drives the devils out of two men possessed, and suffers them to go into the swine.

AND when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him: A. D. 31.

‖ Mark 1. 40. Luke 5. 12. 2 ‖ And behold a leper coming, adored him, saying: Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus stretching forth his hand, touched him, saying: I will. Be thou made clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

‖ Lev. 14. 2. 4 And Jesus said to him: See thou tell no man: but go, ‖ shew thy self to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses commanded for a testimony to them.

‡ Luke 7. 1. 5 ‡ And when he had entered into Capharnaum, there came to him a centurion, beseeching him.

6 And saying: Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, and is grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus said to him: I will come, and heal him.

‖ Luke 7. 6. 8 And the centurion making answer, said: ‖ Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof: but only say the word, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I also am a man under authority, having soldiers under me, and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.

10 And Jesus hearing this, wondered, and said to those that followed him: Amen I say to you, I have not found so great faith in Israel.

‖ Malac. 1. 11. 11 And I say unto you, that many shall come from the ‖ East, and the West, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said to the centurion: Go, and as thou hast believed, so be it done to thee. And the servant was healed at the same hour.

14 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his mother-in-law lying, and sick of a fever:

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she arose and ministered to them.

16 ‖ And when evening was come, they brought to him many that were poſſeſſed with devils: and he caſt out the ſpirit with his word: and all that were ſick he healed: ‖ Mark 1. 32.

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was ſpoken by the prophet ‖ Iſaias, ſaying: He took our infirmities, and bore our diſeaſes. ‖ Iſai. 53. 4. 1 Pet. 2. 24.

18 And Jeſus ſeeing great multitudes about him, gave orders to paſs over the water.

19 And a certain ſcribe came and ſaid to him: Maſter, I will follow thee whitherſoever thou ſhalt go.

20 And Jeſus ſaith to him: ‖ The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air neſts: but the ſon of man hath not where to lay his head. ‖ Luke 9. 58.

21 And another of his diſciples ſaid to him: Lord, permit me firſt to go, and bury my father.

22 But Jeſus ſaid to him: Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ‖ And when he entered into the ſhip, his diſciples followed him: ‖ Mark 4. 36. Luke 8. 22.

24 And behold a great tempeſt aroſe in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip was covered with waves, but he was aſleep.

25 And his diſciples came to him, and awaked him, ſaying: Lord, ſave us, we periſh.

26 And Jeſus ſaith to them: Why are you fearful, O ye of little faith? Then riſing up he commanded the winds, and the ſea, and there came a great calm.

27 But the men wondered, ſaying: Who is this, for even the winds, and the ſea obey him?

28 ‖ And when he was come on the other ſide of the water, into the country of the Geraſens, there met him two men poſſeſſed with devils, coming out of the ſepulchres, exceeding fierce, ſo that no one could paſs by that way. ‖ Mark 5. 1. Luke 8. 26.

29 And behold they cried out, ſaying: What have we to do with thee, Jeſus Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 ‖ And not far from them, there was a herd of many ſwine feeding. ‖ Mark 5. 11. Luke 8. 32.

31 And the devils beſought him, ſaying: If thou caſt us out hence, ſend us into the herd of ſwine.

32 And he ſaid to them: Go. And they going out went into the ſwine, and behold the whole herd ran violently down a ſteep place into the ſea: and periſhed in the waters.

33 And they that kept them, fled: and coming into the city, told every thing, and concerning them that had been poſſeſſed by the devils.

34 And behold the whole city came out to meet Jeſus, ‖ and when they ſaw him, they beſought him that he would depart from their coaſts. ‖ Mark 5. 17. Luke 8. 37.

CHAP. IX.

Chriſt heals one ſick of the palſy: calls Matthew: cures the iſſue of blood: raiſes to life the daughter of Jairus: gives ſight to two blind men: and heals a dumb man poſſeſſed by the devil.

AND entering into a ſhip, he paſſed over the water and came into his own city.

2 ‖ And behold they brought to him a man ſick of the palſy lying on a bed. And Jeſus ſeeing their faith, ſaid to the man ſick of the palſy: Son, be of good heart, thy ſins are forgiven thee. ‖ Mark 2. 3. Luke 5. 18.

3 And behold ſome of the ſcribes ſaid within themſelves: This man blaſphemeth.

4 And Jeſus ſeeing their thoughts, ſaid: Why do you think evil in your hearts?

5 Which is eaſier, to ſay, Thy ſins are forgiven thee: or to ſay, Riſe up, and walk?

6 But that you may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive ſins, then ſaith he to the man ſick of the palſy: Riſe up, take thy bed, and go into thy houſe.

7 And he roſe up, and went into his houſe.

8 And the multitude ſeeing it, feared, and glorified God, who had given ſuch power to men.

9 ‖ And when Jeſus paſſed on from thence, he ſaw a man ſitting in the cuſtom-houſe, named Matthew: and he ſaith to him: Follow me. And he roſe up, and followed him. ‖ Mark 2. 14. Luke 5. 27.

10 And it came to paſs as he was at table in the houſe, behold many publicans and ſinners came, and ſat down with Jeſus and his diſciples.

11 And the Phariſees ſeeing it, ſaid to his diſciples: Why doth your maſter eat with publicans and ſinners?

12 But Jeſus hearing it, ſaid: They that are in health, need not a phyſician, but they that are ſick.

13 Go then and learn what this meaneth: ‖ I will have mercy, and not ſacrifice. For I am not come to call the juſt, ‡ but ſinners. ‖ Oſee 6. 6. Infra 12. 7. ‡ 1 Tim. 1. 15.

14 Then came to him the diſciples of John, ſaying: ‖ Why do we, and the Phariſees faſt often, but thy diſciples do not faſt? ‖ Mark 2. 18. Luke 5. 33.

15 And Jesus said to them: Can the children of the bridegroom mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast.

16 And no man putteth a piece of new cloth to an old garment: for it taketh away what was whole from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do they put new wine into old bottles: otherwise the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles are lost. But new wine they put into new bottles: and both are preserved.

‖ Mark 5. 22. Luke 8. 41. 18 ‖ While he was speaking these things to them, behold a certain ruler came, and adored him, saying: Lord, my daughter is just now dead: but come, lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

† Mark 5. 25. Luke 8. 43. 20 † And behold a woman, who was troubled with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.

21 For she said within herself: If I shall but touch his garment, I shall be healed.

22 But Jesus turning about, and seeing her, said: Take courage, daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 And when Jesus came into the house of the ruler, and saw the minstrels and the crowd making a rout, he said:

24 Give place: for the girl is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed at him.

25 And when the crowd was turned out, he went in, and took her by the hand: and the girl arose.

26 And the fame hereof went abroad into all that country.

27 And as Jesus was departing from thence, there followed him two blind men, crying out, and saying: Son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come to the house, the blind men came to him. And Jesus saith to them: Do you believe that I can do this unto you? They say to him: Yea, Lord.

29 Then he touched their eyes, saying: According to your faith, be it done unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened: and Jesus strictly charged them, saying: See that no man know it.

31 But they going out, spread his fame abroad in all that country.

‖ Infra 12. 22. Luke 11. 14. 32 And when they were gone out, ‖ behold they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And the devil being cast out, the dumb man spoke, and the multitude wondered, saying: The like was never seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said: He casteth out devils by the prince of the devils.

‖ Mark 6. 6. 35 ‖ And Jesus went about all the cities, and towns, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness, and every disease.

36 And seeing the multitudes, he had compassion on them: because they were distressed, and lying as sheep having no shepherd.

‖ Luke 10. 2. 37 Then he saith to his disciples: ‖ The harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few.

38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest.

Christ sends out his twelve apostles, with the power of miracles. The lessons he gives them.

Mark 3. 13. Luke 6. 13. & 9. 1. AND when he had called his twelve disciples together, he gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of diseases, and all manner of sicknesses.

2 Now the names of the twelve Apostles are these: The first, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother.

3 James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the publican, and James the son of Alpheus, and Thaddeus.

4 Simon Chananeus, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent; and commanded them, saying: Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans enter not:

‖ Acts 13. 46. 6 But go rather ‖ to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And going preach, saying: The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

22 And you ſhall be hated by all men for my name's ſake: but he that ſhall perſevere unto the end, he ſhall be ſaved.

23 And when they ſhall perſecute you in this city, flee into another. Amen I ſay to you, you ſhall not finiſh all the cities of Iſrael, till the Son of man come.

VER. 35. I am come to ſet a man at variance, &c. Not that this was the end or deſign of the coming of our Saviour; but that his coming, and his doctrine would have this effect, by reaſon of the obſtinate reſiſtance that many would make, and of their perſecuting all ſuch as ſhould adhere to him.

CHAP. XI.

John sends his disciples to Christ, who upbraids the Jews with their incredulity, and calls to him such as are sensible of their burthens.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, that he passed from thence, to teach and preach in their cities.

‖ Luke 7. 18. 2 ‖ Now when John had heard in prison the works of Christ, sending two of his disciples he said to him:

3 Art thou he that art to come, or do we look for another?

4 And Jesus making answer, said to them: Go and relate to John what you have heard and seen.

6 And blessed is he that shall not be scandalized in me.

‖ Luke 7. 24. 7 ‖ And when they went their way, Jesus began to say to the multitude, concerning John; What went you out into the desert to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went you out to see? a man cloathed in soft garments? Behold they that are cloathed in soft garments, are in the houses of kings.

9 But what went you out to see? a prophet? yea I tell you, and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he of whom it is written: ‖ Malac. 3. 1. Mark 1. 2. Luke 7. 27. ‖ Behold I send my Angel before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Amen I say to you, there hath not risen among them that are born of women a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is the lesser in the kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent bear it away.

13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John:

‖ Mal. 4. 5. 14 And if you will receive it, ‖ he is Elias that is to come.

15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 But whereunto shall I esteem this generation to be like? It is like to children sitting in the market-place, who cry out to their companions.

17 And say: We have piped to you, and you have not danced: we have lamented, and you have not mourned.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say: He hath a devil.

19 The son of man came eating and drinking, and they say: Behold a man that is a glutton and a wine-drinker, a friend of publicans and sinners. And wisdom is justified by her children.

20 Then he began to upbraid the cities, wherein were done the most of his mighty works, because they had not done penance.

21 ‖ Wo to thee, Corozain, wo to thee, Bethsaida: for if in Tyre and Sidon the mighty works had been done that have been done in you, they would long ago have done penance in sack-cloth and ashes. ‖ Luke 10. 13.

22 But I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou Capharnaum, shalt thou be exalted up to heaven? thou shalt go down even unto hell. For if the mighty works had been done in Sodom that have been done in thee, perhaps it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 At that time Jesus answered, and said: I give thanks to thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to little ones.

26 Yea, Father; for so hath it seemed good in thy sight.

27 All things are delivered to me by my Father. ‖ And no one knoweth the Son, but the Father: neither doth any one know the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. ‖ John 6. 46. 7. 28. 8. 19. & 10. 15.

28 Come to me, all you that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you.

29 Take up my yoke upon you, and learn of me, because I am meek, and humble of heart: † and you shall find rest to your souls. † Jer. 6. 16.

30 ‖ For my yoke is sweet and my burthen light. ‖ 1 John 6. 3.

CHAP. XI. VER. 6. Scandalized in me. That is, who shall not take occasion of scandal or offence from my humility, and the disgraceful death of the cross which I shall endure.

VER. 12. Suffereth violence, &c. It is not to be obtained but by main force, by using violence upon ourselves, by mortification and penance, and resisting our perverse inclinations.

VER. 14. He is Elias, &c. Not in person, but in spirit. Luke i. 17.

CHAP. XII.

Chriſt reproves the blindneſs of the Phariſees, and confutes their attributing his miracles to ſatan.

Mark 2. 23. Luke 6. 1. AT that time Jeſus went through the corn on the ſabbath-day: and his diſciples being hungry, began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2 And the Phariſees ſeeing them, ſaid to him: Behold thy diſciples do that which is not lawful to do on the ſabbath-days.

3 But he ſaid to them: Have you not read || what David did when he was hungry, and they that were with him:

9 And when he was departed from thence, he came into the ſynagogue.

10 || And behold there was a man who had his hand withered, and they aſked him, ſaying: Is it lawful to heal on the ſabbath-days? that they might accuſe him.

‡ Deut. 22. 4.

11 But he ſaid to them: || What man ſhall there be among you, that hath one ſheep: and if the ſame fall into a pit on the ſabbath-day, will he not take hold on it and lift it up?

12 How much better is a man than a ſheep? Therefore it is lawful to do a good deed on the ſabbath-day.

13 Then he ſaith to the man: Stretch forth thy hand. And he ſtretched it forth, and it was reſtored to health like as the other.

14 And the Phariſees going out made a conſultation againſt him, how they might deſtroy him.

15 But Jeſus knowing it, retired from thence: and many followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And he charged them that they ſhould not make him known.

17 That the word might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by Iſaias the prophet, ſaying:

18 || Behold my ſervant whom I have choſen, my beloved in whom my ſoul hath been well pleaſed. I will put my Spirit upon him, and he ſhall ſhew judgment to the Gentiles.

|| Iſai. 42. 1.

19 He ſhall not contend, nor cry out, neither ſhall any man hear his voice in the ſtreets.

20 The bruiſed reed he ſhall not break, and ſmoaking flax he ſhall not extinguiſh: till he ſend forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name the Gentiles ſhall hope.

22 Then was brought unto him one poſſeſſed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, ſo that he both ſpoke and ſaw.

23 And all the multitudes were amazed, and ſaid: is not this the ſon of David?

24 || But the Phariſees hearing it, ſaid: This man caſteth not out devils but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

|| Supra 9. 34. Mark 3. 22. Luke 11. 15.

25 And Jeſus knowing their thoughts, ſaid to them: ‡ Every kingdom divided againſt itſelf ſhall be made deſolate: and every city or houſe divided againſt itſelf ſhall not ſtand.

‡ Luke 11. 17.

26 And if ſatan caſt out ſatan, he is divided againſt himſelf: how then ſhall his kingdom ſtand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub caſt out devils, by whom do your children caſt them out? Therefore they ſhall be your judges.

28 But if I by the Spirit of God caſt out devils, then is the kingdom of God come unto you.

29 Or how can any one enter into the houſe of the ſtrong man, and rifle his goods, unleſs he firſt bind the ſtrong man? and then he will rifle his houſe.

30 He that is not with me, is againſt me: and he that gathereth not with me, ſcattereth.

31 || Therefore I ſay to you: Every ſin and blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven men, but

|| Mark 3. 28. & 29. Luke 12. 10.

CHAP. XII. VER. 4. The loaves of propoſition. So were called the twelve loaves which were placed before the ſanctuary in the temple of God.

VER. 31. The blaſphemy againſt the Spirit. The ſin here ſpoken of is that blaſphemy, by which the Phariſees attributed the miracles of Chriſt, wrought by the Spirit of God, to Beelzebub the prince of devils. Now this kind of ſin is uſually accompanied with ſo much obſtinacy, and ſuch wilful oppoſing the Spirit of God, and the known truth, that men who are guilty of it, are ſeldom or ever converted: and therefore are never forgiven, becauſe they will not repent. Otherwiſe there is no ſin which God cannot, or will not forgive to ſuch as ſincerely repent, and have recourſe to the keys of the church.

the blaſphemy againſt the Spirit ſhall not be forgiven.

32 And whoſoever ſhall ſpeak a word againſt the Son of man, it ſhall be forgiven him: but he that ſhall ſpeak againſt the Holy Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiven him neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and its fruit good: or make the tree evil, and its fruit evil: for by the fruit the tree is known.

34 O generation of vipers, how can you ſpeak good things, whereas you are evil? || for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth ſpeaketh. || Luke 6. 45.

35 A good man out of a good treaſure bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of an evil treaſure bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I ſay unto you, that every idle word that men ſhall ſpeak, they ſhall render an account for it in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou ſhalt be juſtified, and by thy words thou ſhalt be condemned.

38 Then ſome of the Scribes and Phariſees anſwered him, ſaying: Maſter, we would ſee a ſign from thee.

39 But he anſwering, ſaid to them: || An evil and adulterous generation ſeeketh for a ſign: and a ſign ſhall not be given it, ‡ but the ſign of Jonas the prophet. || Infra 16. 4. Luke 11. 29. 1 Cor. 1. 22. ‡ Jonas 2. 1.

40 For as Jonas was in the whale's belly three days and three nights: ſo ſhall the ſon of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.

41 || The men of Ninive ſhall riſe in judgment with this generation, and ſhall condemn it: becauſe they did penance at the preaching of Jonas. And behold a greater than Jonas is here. || Jonas 3. 5.

42 The queen of the ſouth ſhall riſe in judgment with this generation, and ſhall condemn it: || becauſe ſhe came from the ends of the earth to hear the wiſdom of Solomon, and behold a greater than Solomon is here. || 3 Kings 10. 1. 2 Par. 9. 1.

43 || And when an unclean ſpirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, ſeeketh reſt, and findeth none. || Luke 11. 24.

44 Then he ſaith: I will return into my houſe from whence I came out. And coming he findeth it empty, ſwept, and garniſhed.

45 Then he goeth, and taketh with him ſeven other ſpirits more wicked than himſelf, and they enter in and dwell there: † and the laſt ſtate of that man is made worſe than the firſt. So ſhall it be alſo to this wicked generation. † 2 Pet. 2 20.

46 || As he was yet ſpeaking to the multitudes, behold his mother and his brethren ſtood without, ſeeking to ſpeak to him. || Mark 3. 31. Luke 8. 19.

47 And one ſaid to him: Behold thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without, ſeeking thee.

48 But he anſwering him that told him, ſaid: Who is my mother, and who are my brethren?

49 And ſtretching forth his hand towards his diſciples, he ſaid: Behold my mother and my brethren.

50 For whoſoever ſhall do the will of my Father, who is in heaven, he is my brother, and ſiſter, and mother.

CHAP. XIII.

The parables of the ſower of the cockle: of the muſtard ſeed, &c.

THE ſame day Jeſus going out of the houſe, ſat by the ſea ſide.

2 || And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, ſo that he went into a ſhip and ſat: and all the multitudes ſtood on the ſhore. || Mark 4. Luke 5.

3 And he ſpoke to them many things in parables, ſaying: Behold the ſower went forth to ſow.

4 And whilſt he ſoweth ſome fell by the way ſide, and the birds of the air came and eat them up.

5 And other ſome fell upon ſtony ground, where they had not much earth: and they ſprung up immediately, becauſe they had no deepneſs of earth.

6 And when the ſun was up, they were ſcorched: and becauſe they had not root, they withered away.

VER. 32. Nor in the world to come. From theſe words St. Auguſtine (De Civ. l. xxi. c. 13.) and St. Gregory (Dialog. iv. c. 39.) gather, that ſome ſins may be remitted in the world to come: and conſequently that there is a purgatory or a middle place.

VER. 36. Every idle word. This ſhews there muſt be a place of temporal puniſhment hereafter, where theſe ſlighter faults ſhall be puniſhed.

VER. 38. A ſign. That is a miracle from heaven. St. Luke xi. v. 16.

VER. 40. Three days, &c. Not complete days and nights; but part of three days, and three nights, taken according to the way that the Hebrews counted their days and nights, viz. from evening to evening.

VER. 48. Who is my mother? This was not ſpoken by way of ſlighting his mother, but to ſhew that we are never to ſuffer ourſelves to be taken from the ſervice of God, by any inordinate affection to our earthly parents: and that which our Lord chiefly regarded in his mother, was her doing the will of his Father in heaven. It may alſo further allude to the reprobation of the Jews, his carnal kindred, and the election of the Gentiles.

7 And others fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up and choaked them.

8 And others fell upon good ground: and they brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, and some thirty-fold.

9 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And his disciples came and said to him: Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 He answered and said to them: Because to you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven: but to them it is not given.

12 ‖ For he that hath, to him shall be given, but he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. ‖ Infra 25. 29.

13 Therefore do I speak to them in parables: because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

14 And the prophecy of Isaias is fulfilled in them, who saith: ‖ By hearing you shall hear, and shall not understand: and seeing you shall see, and shall not perceive. ‖ Isai. 6. 9. Mark 4. 12. Luke 8. 10. John 12. 40. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

15 For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears they have been dull of hearing, and their eyes they have shut: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear.

17 ‖ For, amen I say to you, many prophets and just men have desired to see the things that you see, and have not seen them: and to hear the things that you hear, and have not heard them. ‖ Luke 10. 24.

18 Hear you therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, there cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: this is he that received the seed by the way side.

20 And he who received the seed upon stony ground, is he that heareth the word, and immediately receiveth it with joy.

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but is only for a time: and when there ariseth tribulation and persecution because of the word, he is presently scandalized.

22 And he who received the seed among the thorns, is he that heareth the word, and the care of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choaketh up the word, and he becometh fruitless.

23 But he who received the seed into good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth, and beareth fruit, and yieldeth one a hundred-fold, and another sixty, and another thirty.

24 ‖ Another parable he proposed to them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man that sowed good seed in his field. ‖ Mark 26.

25 But while men were asleep, his enemy came and oversowed cockle among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared also the cockle.

27 Then the servants of the master of the house came and said to him: Master, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it cockle?

28 And he said to them: An enemy hath done this. And the servants said to him: Wilt thou that we go and gather it up?

29 And he said: No, lest while ye gather up the cockle, you root up the wheat also together with it.

30 Let both grow until the harvest, and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers: Gather up first the cockle, and bind it into bundles to burn, but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ‖ Another parable he proposed to them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field. ‖ Mark 4. 31. Luke 13. 19.

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown up, it is greater than any herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come, and dwell in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable he spoke to them: ‖ The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened. ‖ Luke 13. 21.

34 All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the multitudes: and without parables he did not speak to them.

35 That the word might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying: ‖ I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world. ‖ Psal. 77. 2.

36 ‡ Then having sent away the multitudes, he came into the house, and his disciples came to him, saying: Explain to us the parable of the cockle of the field. ‡ Mark 4. 34.

37 He made answer, and said to them: He that soweth good seed, is the Son of man.

38 And the field is the world. And the good seed are the children of the kingdom. And the cockle are the children of the wicked one.

39 And the enemy that sowed them.

‖ Apoc. 14. 15. is the devil. ‖ But the harveſt is the end of the world. And the reapers are the Angels.

40 Even as cockle therefore is gathered up, and burnt with fire, ſo ſhall it be at the end of the world.

41 The Son of man ſhall ſend his Angels, and they ſhall gather out of his kingdom all ſcandals, and them that work iniquity.

42 And ſhall caſt them into the furnace of fire: there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth.

‖ Wiſd. 3. 7. Dan. 12. 3. 43 ‖ Then ſhall the juſt ſhine as the ſun, in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treaſure hidden in a field: which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth, and ſelleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a merchant ſeeking good pearls.

46 Who when he had found one pearl of great price, went his way, and ſold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a net caſt into the ſea, and gathering together of all kind of fiſhes.

48 Which, when it was filled, they drew out, and ſitting by the ſhore they choſe out the good into veſſels, but the bad they caſt forth.

49 So ſhall it be at the end of the world. the Angels ſhall go out, and ſhall ſeparate the wicked from among the juſt,

50 And ſhall caſt them into the furnace of fire: there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth.

51 Have ye underſtood all theſe things? They ſay to him: Yea.

52 He ſaid unto them: Therefore every ſcribe inſtructed in the kingdom of heaven, is like to a maſter of a houſe, who bringeth forth out of his treaſure new things and old.

53 And it came to paſs, when Jeſus had finiſhed theſe parables, he departed from thence.

‖ Mark 6. 1. Luke 4. 16. 54 ‖ And coming into his own country, he taught them in their ſynagogues, ſo that they wondered, and ſaid: How came this man by this wiſdom, and theſe mighty works?

John 6. 42. 55 † Is not this the carpenter's ſon? Is not his mother called Mary; and his brethren James, and Joſeph, and Simon, and Jude?

56 And his ſiſters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath he all theſe things?

57 And they were ſcandalized in his regard. But Jeſus ſaid to them: A prophet is not without honour, ſave in his own country, and in his own houſe.

58 And he wrought not many miracles there, becauſe of their unbelief.

Herod puts John to death. Chriſt feeds five thouſand in the deſert. He walks upon the ſea, and heals all the diſeaſed with the touch of his garment.

Mark 6. 14. Luke 9. 7. A. D. 32. AT that time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Jeſus:

‖ Mark 6. 17. Luke 3. 19. 3 ‖ For Herod had apprehended John and bound him and put him in priſon, becauſe of Herodias, his brother's wife.

4 For John ſaid to him: it is not lawful for thee to have her.

‖ Infra 21. 26. 5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the people: ‖ becauſe they eſteemed him as a prophet.

6 But on Herod's birth-day, the daughter of Herodias danced before them: and pleaſed Herod.

9 And the king was ſtruck ſad: yet becauſe of his oath, and for them that ſat with him at table, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he ſent, and beheaded John in the priſon.

place apart: and the people having heard of it, followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And he coming forth saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, and healed their sick.

15 And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying: This is a desert place, and the hour is now past: send away the multitudes, that going into the town, they may buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said to them: They have no need to go: give you them to eat.

‖ John 6. 9. 17 They answered him: ‖ We have here but five loaves and two fishes.

18 He said to them: Bring them hither to me.

19 And when they had commanded the multitude to sit down upon the grass, he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes,

20 And they did all eat, and were filled. And they took up what remained, twelve baskets full of fragments.

21 And the number of them that had eaten, was five thousand men, besides women and children.

‖ Mark 6. 45. 22 ‖ And forthwith Jesus obliged his disciples to get up into the ship, and to go before him over the water, while he sent the multitude away.

‡ John 6. 15. Mark 6. 46. 23 And when he had dismissed the multitude, ‡ he went up into a mountain alone to pray. And when the evening was come he was there alone.

24 But the ship in the midst of the sea was tossed with the waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, he came to them walking upon the sea.

26 And when they saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying: It is an apparition. And they cried out for fear.

27 And immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying: Be of good heart: It is I, be not afraid.

28 And Peter making answer, said: Lord, if it be thou, bid me come to thee upon the waters.

29 And he said: Come. And Peter going down out of the ship, walked upon the water to come to Jesus.

30 But seeing the wind strong, he was afraid: and when he began to sink, he cried out, saying: Lord, save me.

31 And immediately Jesus stretching forth his hand took hold of him, and said to him: O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come up into the ship, the wind ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying: Thou art truly the Son of God.

‖ Mark 6. 53. 34 ‖ And when they were gone over, they came into the country of Genesar.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country, and brought to him all that were diseased.

36 And they besought him that they might touch but the hem of his garment. And as many as touched, were made whole.

CHAP. XV.

Christ reproves the Scribes. He cures the daughter of the woman of Chanaan: and many others: and feeds four thousand with seven loaves.

Mark 7. 1. THEN came to him from Jerusalem Scribes and Pharisees, saying:

‖ Mark 7. 5. 2 ‖ Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the ancients? For they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answering, said to them: Why do you also transgress the commandment of God for your tradition? For God said:

‖ Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 16. Ephes. 6. 2. ‡ Exod. 21. 17. Levit. 20. 9. Prov. 20. 20. 4 ‖ Honour thy father and mother: ‡ And he that shall curse father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But you say: Whosoever shall say to his father or mother, The gift whatsoever proceedeth from me, shall profit thee.

6 And he shall not honour his father or his mother: and you have made void the commandment of God for your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well hath Isaias prophesied of you, saying:

‖ Isai. 29. 13. Mark 7. 6. 8 ‖ This people honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me.

CHAP. XV. VER. 5. The gift, &c. That is, The offering that I shall make to God, shall be instead of that which should be expended for thy profit. This tradition of the Pharisees was calculated to enrich themselves; by exempting children from giving any further assistance to their parents, if they once offered to the temple and the priests, that which should have been the support of their parents. But this was a violation of the law of God, and of nature, which our Saviour here condemns.

9 And in vain do they worſhip me, teaching doctrines and commandments of men.

10 And having called together the multitudes unto him, he ſaid to them: Hear ye and underſtand.

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth, defileth a man: but what cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his diſciples, and ſaid to him: Doſt thou know that the Phariſees, when they heard this word, were ſcandalized?

‖ John 15.2. 13 But he anſwering, ſaid: ‖ Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, ſhall be rooted up.

‡ Luke 6. 39. 14 Let them alone: ‡ they are blind, and leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both fall into the pit.

‖ Mark 7. 17. 15 ‖ And Peter anſwering, ſaid to him: Explain to us this parable.

16 But he ſaid: Are you alſo yet without underſtanding?

17 Do you not underſtand, that whatſoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is caſt out into the privy?

18 But the things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and thoſe things defile a man.

19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, falſe teſtimonies, blaſphemies.

20 Theſe are the things that defile a man. But to eat with unwaſhed hands doth not defile a man.

‖ Mark 7. 24. 21 ‖ And Jeſus went from thence, and departed into the confines of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold a woman of Chanaan who came out of thoſe parts, crying out, ſaid to him: Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou ſon of David, my daughter is grievouſly troubled by a devil.

23 But he anſwered her not a word. And his diſciples came and beſought him, ſaying: Send her away for ſhe crieth after us:

24 And he anſwering, ſaid: I was not ſent ‖ but to the ſheep that are loſt of the houſe of Iſrael. ‖ Supra 10. 6. John 10. 3

25 But ſhe came and worſhipped him, ſaying: Lord, help me.

26 But he anſwered, and ſaid: It is not good to take the bread of the children, and to caſt it to the dogs.

27 And ſhe ſaid: Yea, Lord: for the whelps alſo eat of the crumbs that fall from the table of their maſters.

28 Then Jeſus anſwering, ſaid to her: O woman, great is thy faith: be it done to thee as thou wilt. And her daughter was cured from that hour.

29 And when Jeſus had departed from thence, he came nigh the ſea of Galilee: and going up into a mountain he ſat there.

30 ‖ And there came to him great multitudes, having with them the dumb, the blind, the lame, the maimed, and many others: and they caſt them down at his feet, and he healed them: ‖ Iſai. 35.5.

31 So that the multitudes wondered, ſeeing the dumb ſpeak, the lame walk, the blind ſee: and they glorified the God of Iſrael.

32 ‖ Then Jeſus called together his diſciples, and ſaid: I have compaſſion on the multitudes, becauſe they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not ſend them away faſting, leſt they faint in the way. ‖ Mark 8.1.

33 And the diſciples ſay unto him: Whence then ſhould we have ſo many loaves in the deſert, as to fill ſo great a multitude?

34 And Jeſus ſaid to them: How many loaves have you? But they ſaid: Seven, and a few little fiſhes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to ſit down on the ground.

36 And taking the ſeven loaves and the

VER. 9. Commandments of men. The doctrines and commandments here reprehended are ſuch as are either contrary to the law of God (as that of neglecting parents, under pretence of giving to God) or at leaſt are frivolous, unprofitable, and no ways conducing to true piety, as that of often waſhing hands, &c. without regard to the purity of the heart. But as to the rules and ordinances of the holy church, touching faſts, feſtivals, &c. theſe are no ways repugnant to, but highly agreeable to God's holy word, and all chriſtian piety: neither are they to be counted among the doctrines and commandments of men; becauſe they proceed not from mere human authority; but from that which Chriſt has eſtabliſhed in his Church; whoſe paſtors he has commanded us to hear and obey, even as himſelf. St. Luke x. 16. St. Matth. xviii. 17.

VER. 11. Not that which goeth in, &c. No uncleanneſs in meat, nor any dirt contracted by eating it with unwaſhed hands, can defile the ſoul: but ſin alone; or a diſobedience of the heart to the ordinance and will of God. And thus when Adam took the forbidden fruit, it was not the apple, which entered into the mouth, but the diſobedience to the law of God which defiled him. The ſame is to be ſaid if a Jew, in the time of the old law, had eaten ſwine's fleſh; or a chriſtian convert, in the days of the Apoſtles, contrary to their ordinance, had eaten blood; or if any of the faithful at preſent ſhould tranſgreſs the ordinance of God's Church, by breaking the faſts: For in all theſe caſes the ſoul would be defiled; not indeed by that which goeth into the mouth; but by the diſobedience of the heart; in wilfully tranſgreſſing the ordinance of God, or of thoſe who have their authority from him.

fishes, and giving thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples gave to the people.

37 And they did all eat, and had their fill. And they took up seven baskets full, of what remained of the fragments.

38 And they that did eat, were four thousand men, beside children and women.

15 Jesus saith to them: But whom do you say that I am?

16 Simon Peter answering said: ‡ Thou art Christ the Son of the living God.

‡ John 6. 70.

17 And Jesus answering, said to him: Blessed art thou Simon Bar-Jona: because flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father who is in heaven.

18 ‖ And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

‖ John 12. 42.

19 ‡ And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven. ‖ And whatsoever thou shalt bind upon earth, it shall be bound also in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose upon earth, it shall be loosed also in heaven.

‡ Isai. 22. 22. ‖ John 20. 23.

20 Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no one that he was Jesus the Christ.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 18. Thou art Peter, &c. As St. Peter, by divine revelation, here made a solemn profession of his faith of the divinity of Christ; so in recompence of this faith and profession, our Lord here declares to him the dignity to which he is pleased to raise him: viz. That he, to whom he had already given the name of Peter, signifying a rock, St. John 1. 42. should be a rock indeed, of invincible strength, for the support of the building of the church; in which building he should be, next to Christ himself, the chief foundation stone, in quality of chief pastor, ruler and governor; and should have accordingly all fullness of ecclesiastical power, signified by the keys of the kingdom of heaven.

Ibid. Upon this rock, &c. The words of Christ to Peter, spoken in the vulgar language of the Jews which our Lord made use of, were the same as if he had said in English, Thou art a Rock, and upon this rock I will build my church. So that, by the plain course of the words, Peter is here declared to be the rock, upon which the church was to be built: Christ himself being both the principal foundation and founder of the same. Where also note, that Christ by building his house, that is, his church, upon a rock, has thereby secured it against all storms and floods, like the wise builder, St. Matt. vii. 24. 25.

Ibid. The gates of hell, &c. That is, the powers of darkness, and whatever satan can do, either by himself, or his agents. For as the church is here likened to a house, or fortress, built on a rock; so the adverse powers are likened to a contrary house or fortress, the gates of which, i. e. the whole strength, and all the efforts it can make, will never be able to prevail over the city or church of Christ. By this promise we are fully assured, that neither idolatry, heresy, nor any pernicious error whatsoever shall at any time prevail over the church of Christ.

VER. 19. Loose on earth. The loosing the bands of temporal punishments due to sins, is called an indulgence: the power of which is here granted.

21 From that time forth Jesus began to shew to his disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things from the ancients and the Scribes and the chief priests, and be put to death, and the third day rise again.

22 And Peter taking him, began to rebuke him, saying: Lord, be it far from thee; this shall not be unto thee.

‖ Mark 8. 33. 23 But he turning, said to Peter: ‖ Go after me, satan, thou art a scandal unto me: because thou dost not relish the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

‖ Supra 10. 38. Luke 9. 23. & 14. 27. 24 Then Jesus said to his disciples: ‖ If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

‡ Luke 17. 33. John 12. 25. 25 ‡ For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and he that shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

26 For what doth it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

‡ Acts 17. 31. Rom. 2. 6. 27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels: ‡ and then will he render to every man according to his works.

‖ Mark 8. 39. Luke 9. 28. 28 Amen I say to you, ‖ there are some of them standing here, who shall not taste death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAP. XVII.

The transfiguration of Christ: He cures the lunatick child, foretels his passion: and pays the didrachma.

Mark 9. 1. Luke 9. 28. AND after six days Jesus taketh unto him Peter and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart:

2 And he was transfigured before them. And his face did shine as the sun: and his garments became white as snow.

3 And behold there appeared to them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4 Then Peter answering, said to Jesus: Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 And as he was yet speaking, behold a bright cloud overshadowed them. ‖ And behold a voice out of the cloud, saying: This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear ye him. ‖ Supra 3. 17. 2 Pet. 1. 17.

6 And the disciples hearing, fell upon their face, and were very much afraid.

7 And Jesus came and touched them: and said to them: Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no man but only Jesus.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying: Tell the vision to no man, till the Son of man be risen from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying: ‖ Why then do the Scribes say that Elias must come first? ‖ Mark 9. 10.

‡ Mal. 4. 5. 11 But ‡ he answering, said to them: Elias indeed shall come, and restore all things.

‖ Supra 11. 14. ‡ Supra 14. 10. 12 But I say to you, ‖ that Elias is already come, and they knew him not, ‡ but have done unto him whatsoever they had a mind. So also the Son of man shall suffer from them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he had spoken to them of John the Baptist.

‖ Mark 9. 16. Luke 9. 38. 14 ‖ And when he was come to the multitude, there came to him a man falling down on his knees before him, saying: Lord have pity on my son, for he is lunatick, and suffereth much: for he falleth often into the fire, and often into the water.

15 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

16 Then Jesus answered, and said: O unbelieving and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me.

17 And Jesus rebuked him, and the devil went out of him, and the child was cured from that hour.

18 Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and said: Why could not we cast him out?

‖ Luke 17. 6. 19 Jesus said to them: Because of your unbelief. ‖ For amen I say to you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, you shall say to this mountain: Remove from hence to yonder place, and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible to you.

VER. 22. And Peter taking him. That is, taking him aside, out of a tender love, respect and zeal for his Lord and Master's honour, began to expostulate with him, as it were to rebuke him, saying, Lord, far be it from thee to suffer death: but the Lord said to Peter, ver. 23. Go after me satan. These words may signify, begone from me; but the holy Fathers expound them otherwise, that is, come after me, or follow me; and by these words the Lord would have Peter to follow him in his suffering, and not to oppose the divine will by contradiction; for the word satan means in Hebrew an adversary, or one that opposes.

CHAP. XVII. VER. 19. As a grain of mustard-seed. That is, a perfect faith; which in its properties, and its fruits, resembles the grain of mustard-seed, in the parable, chap. xii. 31.

20 But this kind is not caſt out but by prayer and faſting.

21 And while they abode together in Galilee, Jeſus ſaid to them: || The Son of man ſhall be betrayed into the hands of men:

|| Infra 20. 18. Mark 9. 30. Luke 9. 44.

22 And they ſhall kill him, and the third day he ſhall riſe again. And they were troubled exceedingly.

23 And when they were come to Capharnaum they that received the didrachmas, came to Peter, and ſaid to him: Doth not your maſter pay the didrachma?

24 He ſaid: Yes. And when he was come into the houſe, Jeſus prevented him, ſaying: What is thy opinion, Simon? Of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute or cuſtom? of their own children, or of ſtrangers?

25 And he ſaid: Of ſtrangers. Jeſus ſaid to him: Then the children are free.

26 But that we may not ſcandalize them, go thou to the ſea, and caſt in a hook: and that fiſh which ſhall firſt come up, take: and when thou haſt opened its mouth, thou ſhalt find a ſtater: take that, and give it to them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

Chriſt teaches humility, to beware of ſcandal, and to flee the occaſions of ſin: to denounce to the church incorrigible ſinners, and to look upon ſuch as refuſe to hear the church as heathens. He promiſes to his diſciples the power of binding and looſing: and that he will be in the midſt of their aſſemblies. No forgiveneſs for them that will not forgive.

22 Jeſus ſaid to him: I ſay not to thee, till ſeven times; but till ſeventy times ſeven?

23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened to a king, who would take an account of his ſervants.

24 And when he had begun to take the account, one was brought to him, that owed him ten thouſand talents.

25 And as he had not wherewith to pay it, his lord commanded that he ſhould be ſold, and his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 But that ſervant falling down, beſought him, ſaying: Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 And the lord of that ſervant being moved with compaſſion, let him go and forgave him the debt.

28 But when that ſervant was gone out, he found one of his fellow-ſervants that owed him a hundred pence: and laying hold of him, he throttled him, ſaying: Pay what thou oweſt.

29 And his fellow-ſervant falling down, beſought him, ſaying: Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and caſt him into priſon, till he ſhould pay the debt.

31 Now his fellow-ſervants ſeeing what was done, were very much grieved, and they came, and told their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord called him: and ſaid to him: Thou wicked ſervant, I forgave thee all the debt, becauſe thou beſoughteſt me.

33 Shouldſt not thou then have had compaſſion alſo on thy fellow-ſervant, even as I had compaſſion on thee?

34 And his lord being angry, delivered him to the torturers until he ſhould pay all the debt.

35 So alſo ſhall my heavenly Father do to you, if you forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

CHAP. XIX.

Chriſt declares matrimony to be indiſſoluble: he recommends the making one's ſelf an eunuch for the kingdom of heaven; and parting with all things for him. He ſhews the danger of riches, and the reward of leaving all to follow him.

23 Then Jesus said to his disciples: Amen I say to you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say to you: It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven.

25 And when the disciples had heard this they wondered very much, saying: Who then can be saved?

26 And Jesus beholding said to them: With men this is impossible: but with God all things are possible.

27 Then Peter answering, said to him: Behold we have left all things, and have followed thee: what therefore shall we have?

CHAP. XX.

The parable of the labourers in the vineyard. The ambition of the two sons of Zebedee. Christ gives sight to two blind men.

THE kingdom of heaven is like to a master of a family, who went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market-place,

4 And he said to them: Go you also into my vineyard, and I will give you what shall be just.

5 And they went their way. And again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour: and did in like manner.

6 But about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing, and he saith to them: Why stand you here all the day idle?

7 They say to him: Because no man hath hired us. He saith to them: Go you also into my vineyard.

8 And when evening was come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward: Call the labourers and pay them their hire, beginning from the last even to the first.

9 When therefore they came, who had come about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first also came, they thought that they should have received more: and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they received it they murmured against the master of the house,

12 Saying: These last have worked but one hour, and thou hast made them equal to us, that have borne the burden of the day and the heats.

13 But he answering one of them, said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?

14 Take what is thine, and go thy way: I will also give to this last even as to thee.

15 Or, is it not lawful for me to do what I will? is thy eye evil, because I am good?

|| Supra 19. 30. Mark 10. 31 Luke 13 30.

16 || So shall the last be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few chosen.

17 And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart, and said to them:

18 Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests and to the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death.

19 And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to be mocked, and to be scourged, and to be crucified, and the third day he shall rise again.

|| Mark 10. 35.

20 || Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping and desiring something of him.

21 And he said to her: What wilt thou? She saith to him: Say that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Jesus answered, and said: You know not what you ask. Can you drink of the chalice that I shall drink? They say to him: We can.

23 He saith to them: Of my chalice indeed you shall drink: but to sit on my right or left hand, is not mine to give you, but to them for whom it is prepared by my Father.

27 And he who would be the first among you, shall be your servant.

32 And Jesus stood still and called them, and said: What will ye that I should do to you?

Christ rides into Jerusalem upon an ass: he casts the buyers and sellers out of the temple: curses the fig-tree: and puts to silence the priests and Scribes.

AND when they drew nigh to Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto Mount Olivet, then Jesus sent two disciples, Mark 11. 1. Luke 19. 29.

21 And Jesus answering, said to them: Amen I say to you, if you shall have faith, and stagger not, not only this of the fig-tree shall you do, but also if you shall say to this mountain, Take up and cast thyself into the sea, it shall be done.

25 The baptism of John whence was it? from heaven or from men? But they thought within themselves, saying:

26 If we shall say, From heaven, he will say to us: Why then did not you believe him? But if we shall say, From men, we are ‖ Supra 14. 5. afraid of the multitude: ‖ for all held John as a prophet.

27 And answering Jesus, they said: We know not. And he said to them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

28 But what think you? A certain man had two sons, and coming to the first, he said: Son, go work to-day in my vineyard.

29 And he answering, said: I will not. But afterwards, being moved with repentance, he went.

30 And coming to the other, he said in like manner. And he answering, said: I go, sir. And he went not.

31 Which of the two did the father's will? They say to him: The first. Jesus saith to them: Amen I say to you, that the publicans and the harlots shall go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For John came to you in the way of justice, and you did not believe him. But the publicans and the harlots believed him: but you seeing it, did not even afterwards repent, that you might believe him.

‖ Isai. 5. 1. Jerem. 2. 21. Mark 12. 1. Luke 20. 9. 33 Hear ye another parable: ‖ There was a certain master of a family who planted a vineyard, and made a hedge round about it, and dug in it a wine-press, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen: and went into a strange country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen having laid hold of his servants, they beat one, they killed another, and another they stoned,

36 Again he sent other servants more than the former: and they did to them in like manner.

37 And last of all he sent to them his son, saying: They will reverence my son.

‖ Infra 26. 3. & 27. 2. John 11. 53. 38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves ‖ This is the heir, come, let us kill him, and we shall have his inheritance.

39 And taking him they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him.

40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41 They say to him: He will bring those evil men to an evil end: and will let out his vineyard to other husbandmen, that shall render him the fruit in due season.

42 Jesus saith to them: Have you never read in the Scriptures: ‖ The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner? By the Lord this hath been done, and it is wonderful in our eyes, ‖ Psal. 117. 22. Acts 4. 11. Rom. 9. 33. 1 Pet. 2. 7.

43 Therefore I say to you, the kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they understood that he spoke of them.

46 And seeking to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes: because they held him as a prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

The parable of the marriage feast: Christ orders tribute to be paid to Cæsar: he confutes the Sadducees: shews which is the first commandment in the law: and puzzles the Pharisees.

A. D. 33. AND Jesus answered, and spoke to them again in parables, saying:

‖ Luke 14. 16. Apoc. 19. 9. 2 ‖ The kingdom of heaven is like to a man being a king, who made a marriage for his son.

3 And he sent his servants, to call them that were invited to the marriage: and they would not come.

4 Again he sent other servants, saying: Tell them that were invited: Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my beeves and fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come ye to the wedding.

5 But they neglected, and went their ways, one to his farm, and another to his merchandize.

6 And the rest laid hands on his servants, and having treated them contumeliously, put them to death.

7 But when the king heard of it, he was angry, and sending his armies, he destroyed those murderers, and burnt their city.

8 Then he saith to his servants: The wedding indeed is ready, but they that were invited, were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the high-ways, and as many as you shall find, invite to the wedding.

10 And his servants going out into the high-ways, gathered together all that they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests.

11 And the king went in to see the guests: and he saw there a man who had not on a wedding-garment.

12 And he saith to him: Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? But he was silent.

13 Then the king said to the waiters: ‖ Having bound his hands and feet, cast him into the exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

‖ Supra 8. 12 & 13 4. Infra 25. 30.

14 For many are called, but few are chosen.

15 ‖ Then the Pharisees going away, consulted among themselves how to ensnare him in his speech. ‖ Mark 12. 13. Luke 20. 20.

16 And they send to him their disciples with the Herodians, saying: Master, we know that thou art a true speaker, and teacheth the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou dost not regard the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore what dost thou think, is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not?

18 But Jesus knowing their wickedness, said: Why do you tempt me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the coin of the tribute. And they offered him a penny.

20 And Jesus saith to them: Whose image and inscription is this?

21 They say to him: Cæsar's. Then he saith to them: ‖ Render therefore to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's: and to God, the things that are God's. ‖ Rom. 13. 7.

22 And when they heard this they wondered, and leaving him went their way.

23 The same day the Sadducees came to him, who say ‖ there is no resurrection: and asked him, ‖ Acts 23. 6.

24 Saying: Master, Moses said: ‡ If a man die having no son, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up issue to his brother. ‡ Deut. 25. 5. Mark 12. 19. Luke 20. 28.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first having married a wife, died: and not having issue, left his wife to his brother.

26 In like manner the second, and the third, and so on to the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 At the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 And Jesus answering, said to them: You err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they shall neither marry, nor be given in marriage: but shall be as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have you not read that which was spoken by God, saying to you:

32 ‖ I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. ‖ Exod. 3. 6.

33 And when the multitudes heard this, they were in admiration at his doctrine.

34 And when the Pharisees heard that

38 This is the greatest and first commandment.

39 And the second is like to this: ‖ Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

‖ Lev. 19. 18. Mark 12. 31.

40 On these two commandments dependeth the whole law and the prophets.

41 And the Pharisees being gathered together Jesus asked them,

42 † Saying: What think you of Christ? whose son is he? They say to him: David's.

‖ Luke 20. 41.

43 He saith to them: ‖ How then doth David in spirit call him Lord: saying:

† Psal. 109. 1.

44 † The Lord said to my Lord: Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy foot-stool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word: neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Christ admonishes the people to follow the good doctrine, not the bad example of the Scribes and Pharisees: he warns his disciples not to imitate their ambition: and denounces divers woes against them for their hypocrisy and blindness.

THEN Jesus spoke to the multitude and to his disciples,

‖ 2 Esdr. 8. 4.

‖ James 3 1.

8 ‖ But be not you called Rabbi. For one is your master, and all you are brethren.

† Malac 1. 6.

9 † And call none your father upon earth: for one is your father, who is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, Christ.

11 He that is the greatest among you shall be your servant.

‖ Luke 14. 11 & 18. 14.

12 ‖ And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be humbled: and he that shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

13 But wo to you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: because you shut the kingdom of heaven against men: for you go not in your selves: and those that are going in, you suffer not to enter.

‖ Mark 12. 40. Luke 20. 47.

14 Wo to you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: ‖ because you devour the houses of widows, making long prayers: therefore you shall receive the greater judgment.

15 Wo to you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: because you go round about sea and land to make one proselyte: and when he is made, you make him the child of hell twofold more than yourselves.

16 Wo to you blind guides, who say: Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing: but he that shall swear by the gold of the temple, is a debtor.

17 Ye foolish and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is a debtor.

19 Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whosoever therefore sweareth by the the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things that are upon it:

21 And whosoever shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth in it.

22 And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

CHAP. XXIII. VER. 5. Phylacteries, i. e. Parchments, on which they wrote the ten commandments, and carried them on their foreheads before their eyes: which the Pharisees affected to wear broader than other men; so to seem more zealous for the law.

VER. 9. 10. Call none your father——Neither be ye called masters, &c. The meaning is, that our Father in heaven is incomparably more to be regarded, than any father upon earth: and no master to be followed, who would lead us away from Christ. But this does not hinder but that we are by the law of God to have a due respect both for our parents and spiritual fathers, (1 Cor iv. 15.) and for our masters and teachers.

23 ‖ Wo to you Scribes and Phariſees, hypocrites: who pay tithe of mint, and aniſe, and cummin, and have let alone the weightier things of the law, ‡ judgment, and mercy, and faith. Theſe things you ought to have done, and not to leave thoſe others undone.

‖ Luke 11. 42.
‡ Mich. 6. 8. Zach. 7. 9.

24 Blind guides, who ſtrain out a knat, and ſwallow a camel.

25 Wo to you Scribes and Phariſees, hypocrites: becauſe you make clean the outſide of the cup and of the diſh: but within you are full of extortion and uncleanneſs.

26 Thou blind Phariſee, firſt make clean the inſide of the cup and of the diſh, that the outſide may become clean.

27 Wo to you Scribes and Phariſees, hypocrites: becauſe you are like to whited ſepulchres, which outwardly appear to men beautiful, but within are full of dead men's bones, and of all filthineſs.

28 So you alſo outwardly indeed appear to men juſt: but within you are full of hypocriſy and iniquity.

29 Wo to you Scribes and Phariſees, hypocrites, who build the ſepulchres of the prophets, and adorn the monuments of the juſt,

30 And ſay: If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 Wherefore you are witneſſes againſt yourſelves, that you are the ſons of them who killed the prophets.

32 Fill ye up then the meaſure of your fathers.

CHAP. XXIV.

Chriſt foretels the deſtruction of the temple: with the ſigns that ſhall come before it, and before the laſt judgment. We muſt always watch.

AND Jeſus being come out of the temple, went away. And his diſciples came to ſhew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And he anſwering, ſaid to them: Do you ſee all theſe things? Amen I ſay to you, ‖ there ſhall not be left here a ſtone upon a ſtone that ſhall not be thrown down.

‖ Luke 19. 44.

3 And as he was ſitting on mount Olivet, the diſciples came to him privately, ſaying: Tell us, when ſhall theſe things be? and what ſhall be the ſign of thy coming, and of the conſummation of the world?

4 And Jeſus anſwering ſaid to them: ‖ Take heed that no man ſeduce you:

‖ Epheſ. 5. 6. Coloſſ. 2. 18.

5 For many will come in my name, ſaying, I am Chriſt: and they will ſeduce many.

6 And you ſhall hear of wars, and rumours of wars. See that ye be not troubled. For theſe things muſt come to paſs, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation ſhall riſe againſt nation, and kingdom againſt kingdom, and there ſhall be peſtilences, and famines, and earthquakes in places.

8 Now all theſe are the beginnings of ſorrows.

‖ Supra 10. 17. Luke 21. 12. John 15. 20. & 16. 2.

VER. 29. Build the ſepulchres, &c. This is not blamed, as if it were in itſelf evil to build or adorn the monuments of the prophets: but the hypocriſy of the Phariſees is here taxed; who, whilſt they pretended to honour the memory of the prophets, were perſecuting even unto death the Lord of the prophets.

VER. 35. That upon you may come, &c. Not that they ſhould ſuffer more than their own ſins juſtly deſerved; but that the juſtice of God ſhould now fall upon them with ſuch a final vengeance, once for all, as might comprize all the different kinds of judgments and puniſhments, that had at any time before been inflicted for the ſhedding of juſt blood.

10 And then ſhall many be ſcandalized, and ſhall betray one another, and ſhall hate one another.

11 And many falſe prophets ſhall riſe, and ſhall ſeduce many.

12 And becauſe iniquity hath abounded, the charity of many ſhall grow cold.

13 But he that ſhall perſevere to the end, he ſhall be ſaved.

14 And this Goſpel of the kingdom ſhall be preached in the whole world, for a teſtimony to all nations, and then ſhall the conſummation come.

16 Then let thoſe that are in Judea flee to the mountains:

17 And he that is on the houſe top, let him not come down to take any thing out of his houſe:

18 And he that is in the field, let him not go back to take his coat.

19 And wo to them that are with child, and that give ſuck in thoſe days.

‖ Acts 1. 12. 20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, or on the ‖ ſabbath.

21 For there ſhall be then great tribulation, ſuch as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, neither ſhall be.

22 And unleſs thoſe days had been ſhortened, there ſhould no fleſh be ſaved: but for the ſake of the elect thoſe days ſhall be ſhortened.

‖ Mark 13. 21. Luke 17. 23. 23 ‖ Then if any man ſhall ſay to you: Lo here is Chriſt, or there: do not believe him.

24 For there ſhall ariſe falſe chriſts, and falſe prophets, and ſhall ſhew great ſigns and wonders, inſomuch as to deceive (if it were poſſible) even the elect.

25 Behold I have told it to you before hand.

26 If therefore they ſhall ſay to you: Behold he is in the deſert: go ye not out: Behold he is in the cloſets, believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the eaſt, and appeareth even unto the weſt: ſo ſhall alſo the coming of the Son of man be.

‖ Luke 17. 37. 28 ‖ Whereſoever the body ſhall be, there ſhall the eagles alſo be gathered together.

32 Now learn a parable from the fig-tree: when its branch is now tender, and the leaves come forth, you know that ſummer is nigh.

33 So alſo you, when you ſhall ſee all theſe things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

34 Amen I ſay to you, this generation ſhall not paſs, till all theſe things be done.

‖ Mark 13. 31. 35 ‖ Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away, but my words ſhall not paſs away.

40 Then ſhall two be in the field: the one ſhall be taken, and the other ſhall be left.

41 Two women ſhall be grinding at the mill: the one ſhall be taken, and the other ſhall be left.

42 Watch ye therefore, becauſe you know not at what hour your Lord will come.

CHAP. XXV.

The parable of the ten virgins, and of the talents: the deſcription of the laſt judgment.

THEN ſhall the kingdom of heaven be like to ten virgins, who taking their lamps went out to meet the bridegroom and the bride.

2 Now five of them were fooliſh, and five were wiſe.

3 But the five fooliſh, having taken their lamps, took no oil with them:

4 But the wiſe took oil in their veſſels with the lamps.

5 And while the bridegroom tarried, they all ſlumbered and ſlept.

6 And at mid-night there was a cry made: Behold the bridegroom cometh, go ye forth to meet him.

7 Then all thoſe virgins aroſe and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the fooliſh ſaid to the wiſe: Give us of your oil: for our lamps are gone out.

9 The wiſe anſwered, ſaying: Leſt there be not enough for us and for you, go you rather to them that ſell, and buy for yourſelves.

10 Now while they went to buy, the bridegroom came: and they who were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the door was ſhut.

11 But at laſt come alſo the other virgins, ſaying: Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he anſwering, ſaid: Amen I ſay to you I know you not.

‖ Mark 13. 33. 13 ‖ Watch ye therefore, becauſe ye know not the day nor the hour.

‡ Luke 19. 12. 14 ‡ For even as a man going into a far country, called his ſervants, and deliyered to them his goods.

15 And to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to every one according to his proper ability: and immediately he took his journey.

16 And he that had received the five talents, went his way, and traded with the ſame, and gained other five.

17 And in like manner he that had received the two, gained other two.

18 But he that had received the one, going his way digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 But after a long time the lord of thoſe ſervants came, and reckoned with them.

20 And he that had received the five talents coming, brought other five talents, ſaying: Lord, thou deliveredſt to me five talents, behold I have gained other five over and above.

21 His lord ſaid to him: Well done, thou good and faithful ſervant, becauſe thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will ſet thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22 And he alſo that had received the two talents came and ſaid: Lord, thou deliveredſt two talents to me: behold I have gained other two.

23 His lord ſaid to him: Well done good and faithful ſervant: becauſe thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will ſet thee over many things, enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 But he that had received the one talent, came and ſaid: Lord I know that thou art a hard man; thou reapeſt where thou haſt not ſown, and gathereſt where thou haſt not ſtrewed.

25 And being afraid I went, and hid thy talent in the earth: behold here thou haſt that which is thine.

26 And his lord anſwering, ſaid to him: Thou evil and ſlothful ſervant, thou kneweſt that I reap where I ſow not, and gather where I have not ſtrewed:

27 Thou oughteſt therefore to have committed my money to the bankers, and at my coming I ſhould have received my own with uſury.

28 Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it him that hath ten talents.

31 And when the Son of man ſhall come in his majesty, and all the Angels with him, then shall he sit upon the seat of his majesty:

32 And all nations shall be gathered together before him, and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the king say to them that shall be on his right hand: Come, ye blessed of my Father, possess the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

‖Isai. 58. 7. Ezec. 18. 7. & 16. 35 ‖ For I was hungry, and you gave me to eat: I was thirsty and you gave me to drink: I was a stranger, and you took me in:

38 And when did we see thee a stranger, and took thee in: or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when did we see thee sick or in prison, and came to thee?

40 And the king answering, shall say to them: Amen I say to you, as long as you did it to one of these my least brethren, you did it to me.

‖ Psal. 6. 9. Supra 7. 23. Luke 13. 27. 41 Then shall he say to them also that shall be on his left hand: ‖ Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire which was prepared for the devil and his angels.

42 For I was hungry, and you gave me not to eat: I was thirsty, and you gave me not to drink.

43 I was a stranger, and you took me not in: naked, and you clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and you did not visit me.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying: Lord when did we see thee hungry or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to thee?

45 Then he shall answer them, saying: Amen I say to you, as long as you did it not to one of these least ones, neither did you do it to me.

‖ Dan. 12. 2. John 5. 29. 46 ‖ And these shall go into everlasting punishment: but the just, into life everlasting.

CHAP. XXVI.

The Jews conspire against Christ. He is anointed by Mary. The treason of Judas. The last supper. The prayer in the garden. The apprehension of our Lord: his treatment in the house of Caiphas.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had ended all these words, he said to his disciples: A. D. 35.

2 ‖ You know that after two days shall be the pasch, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to be crucified: ‖ Mark 14. 1. Luke 22. 1.

3 Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the ancients of the people into the palace of the high-priest, who was called Caiphas:

4 And they consulted together, that by subtility they might apprehend Jesus, and put him to death.

5 But they said: Not on the festival day, lest there should be a tumult among the people.

6 And when Jesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper.

7 There came to him a woman having an alabaster-box of precious ointment, ‖ and poured it on his head as he was at table. ‖ Mark 14. 8. John 11. 2. & 12. 3

8 And the disciples seeing it, had indignation, saying: To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 And Jesus knowing it said to them: Why do you trouble this woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For the poor you have always with you: but me you have not always.

12 For she in pouring this ointment upon my body, hath done it for my burial.

13 Amen, I say to you, wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which she hath done, shall be told for a memory of her.

14 ‖ Then went one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, to the chief priests: ‖ Mark 14. 10. Luke 22. 3.

15 And he said to them: What will you give me, and I will deliver him unto you? But they appointed him thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from thenceforth he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ‖ And on the first day of the azymes the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Where ‖ Mark 14. 12. Luke 22. 7.

CHAP. XXVI. VER. 11. Me you have not always, viz. In a visible manner, as when conversant here on earth; and as we have the poor, whom we may daily assist and relieve.

VER. 17. Azymes. Feast of the unleavened bread. Pasch. The pachal lamb.

wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the paſch?

18 But Jeſus ſaid: Go ye into the city to a certain man, and ſay to him: The maſter ſaith: My time is near at hand, I will keep the paſch at thy houſe with my diſciples.

19 And the diſciples did as Jeſus had appointed them, and they prepared the paſch.

‖ Mark 14. 17. Luke 22. 14. 20 ‖ Now when it was evening, he ſat down with his twelve diſciples.

‖ John 13. 21. 21 And whilſt they were eating, he ſaid: Amen I ſay to you, ‖ that one of you is about to betray me.

22 And they being very much troubled, began every one to ſay: Is it I, Lord?

23 But he anſwering, ſaid: He that dippeth his hand with me in the diſh, the ſame ſhall betray me.

‖ Pſal. 40. 10. 24 The Son of man indeed goeth, ‖ as it is written of him: but wo to that man, by whom the Son of man ſhall be betrayed: It were better for that man if he had not been born.

25 And Judas that betrayed him, anſwering, ſaid: Is it I, Rabbi? he ſaith to him: Thou haſt ſaid it.

‖ 1 Cor. 11. 24. 26 ‖ And whilſt they were at ſupper, Jeſus took bread, and bleſſed, and broke, and gave to his diſciples, and ſaid: Take ye, and eat: This is my body.

27 And taking the chalice he gave thanks: and gave to them, ſaying: Drink ye all of this.

28 For this is my blood of the new teſtament which ſhall be ſhed for many for the remiſſion of ſins.

29 And I ſay to you: I will not drink from henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day, when I ſhall drink it new with you in the kingdom of my Father.

30 And when they had ſung a hymn, they went out to mount Olivet.

‖ Mark 14. 27. John 16. 32. 31 Then Jeſus ſaith to them: ‖ All you ſhall be ſcandalized in me this night. For it is written: ‡ I will ſtrike the ſhepherd, and the ſheep of the flock ſhall be diſperſed. ‡ Zach. 13. 7.

32 But after I ſhall be riſen again, I will go before you into Galilee. ‖ Mark 14. 28. & 16. 7.

33 And Peter anſwering, ſaid to him: Though all men ſhall be ſcandalized in thee, I will never be ſcandalized.

34 Jeſus ſaid to him: ‖ Amen I ſay to thee, that in this night before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice. ‖ Mark 14. 30. John 13. 38.

35 Peter ſaith to him: ‡ Though I ſhould die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner ſaid all the diſciples. ‡ Mark 14. 31. Luke 22. 33.

36 Then Jeſus came with them to a country place which is called Gethſemani, and he ſaid to his diſciples: Sit you here, till I go yonder, and pray.

37 And taking with him Peter and the two ſons of Zebedee, he began to grow ſorrowful and to be ſad.

38 Then he ſaith to them: My ſoul is ſorrowful even unto death: ſtay you here, and watch with me.

39 And going a little further, he fell upon his face, praying, and ſaying: O my Father, if it is poſſible, let this chalice paſs from me. Nevertheleſs not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh to his diſciples, and findeth them aſleep, and he ſaith to Peter: What? could you not watch one hour with me?

41 Watch ye and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The ſpirit indeed is willing, but the fleſh weak.

42 Again he went the ſecond time and prayed, ſaying: O my Father, if this chalice can not paſs away except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he cometh again and findeth them aſleep: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And leaving them, he went away again: and he prayed the third time, ſaying the ſame words.

45 Then he cometh to his diſciples, and

VER. 27. Drink ye all of this. This was ſpoken to the twelve apoſtles; who were the All then preſent; and they all drank of it, ſays St. Mark, xiv. 23. But it no ways follows from theſe words ſpoken to the apoſtles, that all the faithful are here commanded to drink of the chalice; any more than that all the faithful are commanded to conſecrate, offer and adminiſter this ſacrament; becauſe Chriſt upon this ſame occaſion, and at the ſame time, bid the apoſtles do ſo; in theſe words, St. Luke, xxii. 19. Do this in commemoration of me.

VER. 28. Blood of the new teſtament, As the old teſtament was dedicated with the blood of victims, by Moſes, in theſe words: this is the blood of the teſtament, &c. Hebrews, ix. 20. So here is the dedication and inſtitution of the new teſtament, in the blood of Chriſt, here myſtically ſhed, by theſe words; this is the blood of the new teſtament, &c.

VER. 29. Fruit of the vine. Theſe words, by the account of St. Luke, xxii. 18. were not ſpoken of the ſacramental cup, but of the wine that was drank with the paſchal lamb. Though the ſacramental cup might alſo be called the fruit of the vine, becauſe it was conſecrated from wine, and retains the likeneſs, and all the accidents, or qualities, of wine.

48 And he that betrayed him, gave them a sign, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he, hold him fast.

49 And forthwith coming to Jesus, he said: Hail, Rabbi. And he kissed him.

50 And Jesus said to him: Friend whereto art thou come? Then they came up, and laid hands on Jesus, and held him.

51 And behold one of them that were with Jesus, stretching forth his hand, drew out his sword; and striking the servant of the high-priest, cut off his ear.

52 Then Jesus saith to him: Put up again thy sword into its place. ‖ For all that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

55 In that same hour Jesus said to the multitude: You are come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to apprehend me: I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and you laid not hands on me.

58 But Peter followed him afar off, to the high-priest's palace. And going in, he sat with the servants, to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death:

60 And they found not, though many false witnesses had come in. And last of all there came in two false witnesses.

61 And they said: ‖ This man said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and in three days to rebuild it.

‖ John 2. 19.

62 And the high-priest rising up, said to him: Answerest thou nothing to the things which these witness against thee.

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the high-priest said to him: I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us if thou be the Christ the Son of God.

70 But he denied before them all, saying: I know not what thou sayest.

71 And as he went out of the gate, another maid saw him, and she saith to them that were there: This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath: I do not know the man.

73 And after a little while they that stood by came, and said to Peter: Surely thou also art one of them: for even thy speech doth discover thee.

74 Then he began to curse and to swear that he knew not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus which he had said: Before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice. And going forth, he wept bitterly.

CHAP. XXVII.

The continuation of the history of the passion of Christ. His death and burial.

AND when morning was come, all the chief priests and ancients of the people held a council against Jesus, to put him to death.

2 ‖ And they brought him bound, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

‖ Mark 15. 1. Luke 23. 1. John 18. 28.

3 Then Judas, who betrayed him, seeing that he was condemned, repenting himself, brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the ancients,

4 Saying: I have sinned in betraying innocent blood. But they said: What is that to us? look thou to it.

5 And casting down the pieces of silver

‖ Acts 1.18. in the temple, he departed: ‖ and went and hanged himself with a halter.

6 But the chief priests having taken the pieces of silver, said: It is not lawful to put them into the corbona, because it is the price of blood.

7 And having consulted together, they bought with them the potter's field, to be a burying-place for strangers.

‖ Acts 1. 19. 8 ‖ Wherefore that field was called Haceldama, that is, The field of blood, even to this day.

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the prophet, saying: ‖ And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they prized of the children of Israel.

‖ Zach. 11. 12.

10 And they gave them unto the potters field, as the Lord appointed to me.

11 And Jesus stood before the governor, ‖ and the governor asked him, saying: Art thou the king of the Jews? Jesus saith to him: Thou sayest it.

‖ Mark 15. 2. Luke 23. 3. John 18. 33.

12 And when he was accused by the chief priests and ancients, he answered nothing.

13 Then Pilate saith to him: Dost not thou hear how great testimonies they alledge against thee?

14 And he answered him not to any word: so that the governor wondered exceedingly.

15 Now upon the solemn day the governor was accustomed to release to the people one prisoner, whom they would.

16 And he had then a notorious prisoner, that was called Barabbas.

17 They therefore being gathered together, Pilate said: Whom will you that I release to you, Barabbas or Jesus who is called Christ?

18 For he knew that through envy they had delivered him up.

19 And as he was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent to him, saying: Have thou nothing to do with that just man. For I have suffered many things this day in a dream on account of him.

‖ Mark 15. 11. Luke 23. 18. John 18. 40. Acts 3. 14.

20 ‖ But the chief priests and ancients persuaded the people, that they should ask Barabbas, and make Jesus away.

21 And the governor answering, said to them: which will you have of the two to be released unto you? But they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate saith to them: What shall I do then with Jesus that is called Christ?

23 They all say: Let him be crucified. The governor said to them: Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying: Let him be crucified.

24 And Pilate seeing that he prevailed nothing; but that rather a tumult was made: having taken water washed his hands before the people, saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just man: look you to it.

25 And all the people answering, said: His blood be upon us, and upon our children.

26 Then he released to them Barabbas, and having scourged Jesus delivered him to them to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor taking Jesus into the hall, ‖ gathered together unto him the whole band:

‖ Mark 15. 16. Psal. 21. 17.

28 And stripping him, they put a scarlet cloak about him.

29 ‡ And platting a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying: Hail, king of the Jews.

‡ John 19. 2.

30 And spitting upon him, they took the reed, and struck his head.

31 And after they had mocked him, they took off the cloak from him, and put on him his own garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 ‖ And going out they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they forced to take up his cross.

33 ‡ And they came to the place that is called Golgotha, which is, the place of Calvary.

‡ Mark 15. 22. Luke 23. 33. John 19. 17.

34 And they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall. And when he had tasted, he would not drink.

35 ‖ And after they had crucified him, they divided his garments casting lots; that the word might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying: ‡ They divided my garments among them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

‖ Mark 15. 24. Luke 23. 34. John 19. 23. ‡ Psal. 21. 19.

36 And they sat down and watched him.

37 And they put over his head his cause written: THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 Then were crucified with him two thieves: one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

39 And they that passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying: ‖ Vah, thou who destroyest the temple of God and in three days buildest it up again, save thy own self: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

‖ John 2. 19.

CHAP. XXVII. VER. 6. Corbona. A place in the temple where the people put in their gifts or offerings.

41 In like manner also the chief priests with the Scribes and ancients mocking, said:
42 He saved others; himself he cannot save:‖ if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.
‖ Wisd 2. 18.
43 † He trusted in God, let him deliver him now if he will have him: for he said: I am the Son of God.
† Psal. 21.9.
44 And the self same thing the thieves also, that were crucified with him, reproached him with.
45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the earth, until the ninth hour.
46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: ‖ Eli, Eli, lamma sabacthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
‖ Psal. 21.2.
47 And some of them that stood there and heard, said: This man calleth for Elias.
48 And immediately one of them running, took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar; and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.
49 And the others said: Stay, let us see whether Elias will come to deliver him.
50 And Jesus again crying with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.
51 ‖ And behold the veil of the temple was rent in two from the top even to the bottom, and the earth quaked, and the rocks were rent.
‖ 2 Par. 3. 14.
52 And the graves were opened: and many bodies of the saints that had slept arose.
53 And coming out of the tombs after his resurrection, came into the holy city and appeared to many.
54 Now the centurion and they that were with him watching Jesus, having seen the earthquake and the things that were done, were greatly afraid, saying: Indeed this was the Son of God.
55 And there were there many women afar off, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministring unto him:
56 Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.
57 ‖ And when it was evening, there came a certain rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was a disciple of Jesus.
‖ Mark 15. 42. Luke 23.50. John 19.38.
58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded that the body should be delivered.
59 And Joseph taking the body wrapt it up in a clean linen cloth.
60 And laid it in his own new monument, which he had hewed out in a rock. And he rolled a great stone to the door of the monument, and went his way:
61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary sitting over against the sepulchre.
62 And the next day, which followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees came together to Pilate.
63 Saying: Sir, we have remembered, that that seducer said, while he was yet alive: After three days I will rise again.
64 Command therefore the sepulchre to be guarded until the third day; lest his disciples come, and steal him away, and say to the people: He is risen from the dead, so the last error shall be worse than the first.
65 Pilate said to them: You have a guard: go, guard it as you know.
66 And they departing, made the sepulchre sure, with guards, sealing the stone.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The resurrection of Christ. His commission to his disciples.

AND in the end of the sabbath when it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
Mark 16. 1. John 20.11.
2 And behold there was a great earthquake. For an angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and coming, rolled back the stone, and sat upon it.
3 And his countenance was as lightning, and his raiment as snow.
4 And for fear of him, the guards were struck with terror, and became as dead men.
5 And the angel answering said to the women: fear not you: for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified.
6 He is not here, for he is risen, as he said. Come, and see the place where the Lord was laid.
7 And going quickly tell ye his disciples that he is risen: and behold he will go before you into Galilee: there you shall see him. Lo I have foretold it to you.
8 And they went out quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, running to tell his disciples.

VER. 62. The day of the preparation; The eve of the sabbath; so called, because on that day they prepared all things necessary; not being allowed so much as to dress their meat on the sabbath day.

9 And behold Jeſus met them, ſaying: All hail. But they came up and took hold of his feet, and worſhipped him.

10 Then Jeſus ſaid to them: Be not afraid. Go, tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, there they ſhall ſee me.

11 Now when they were departed, behold ſome of the guards came into the city, and told the chief prieſts all the things that had been done.

12 And they being aſſembled together with the ancients, having taken counſel, they gave a great ſum of money to the ſoldiers.

13 Saying: Say you, that his diſciples came by night, and ſtole him away when we were aſleep.

14 And if the governor ſhall hear of this, we will perſuade him, and ſecure you.

15 So they taking the money, did as they were taught. And this word was ſpread abroad among the Jews even unto this day.

16 And the eleven diſciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jeſus had appointed them.

17 And ſeeing him they adored: but ſome doubted.

18 And Jeſus coming ſpoke to them, ſaying: All power is given to me in heaven and in earth.

ACCORDING TO ST. MARK.

ST. MARK, the diſciple and interpreter of St. Peter, (ſaith St. Jerom) according to what he heard from Peter himſelf, wrote at Rome a brief Goſpel at the requeſt of the Brethren, about ten years after our Lord's Aſcenſion, which when Peter had heard, he approved of it, and with his authority publiſhed it to the church to be read. Baronius and others ſay, that the original was written in Latin, but the more general opinion is, that the evangliſt wrote it in Greek.

17 And Jeſus ſaid to them: Come after me, and I will make you to become fiſhers of men.

18 And immediately leaving their nets, they followed him.

19 And going on from thence a little farther, he ſaw James the ſon of Zebedee, and John his brother, who alſo were in the ſhip mending their nets.

20 And forthwith he called them. And they left their father Zebedee in the ſhip with his hired men, and followed him.

‖ Matt. 4. 13. Luke 4. 31.

21 ‖ And they enter into Capharnaum: and forthwith on the ſabbath-day going into the ſynagogue, he taught them.

‡ Matt. 7. 28. Luke 4. 32.

22 ‡ And they were aſtoniſhed at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the Scribes.

‖ Luke 4. 33.

23 ‖ And there was in their ſynagogue a man with an unclean ſpirit: and he cried out,

24 Saying: What have we to do with thee, Jeſus of Nazareth? art thou come to deſtroy us? I know who thou art, the Holy one of God.

25 And Jeſus threatened him, ſaying: Speak no more and go out of the man.

26 And the unclean ſpirit tearing him, and crying out with a loud voice, went out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, inſomuch that they queſtioned among themſelves, ſaying: What thing is this? what is this new doctrine? for with authority he commandeth even the unclean ſpirits, and they obey him.

28 And the fame of him was ſpread forthwith through all the country of Galilee.

‖ Matt. 8. 14. Luke 4. 38.

29 ‖ And immediately going out of the ſynagogue, they came into the houſe of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 And Simon's wife's mother lay ſick of a fever: and forthwith they tell him of her.

31 And he came and lifted her up, taking her by the hand: and immediately the fever left her, and ſhe miniſtered unto them.

32 And when it was evening after ſun-ſet, they brought all to him that were diſeaſed and that were poſſeſſed with devils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

‖ Luke 4. 41.

34 And he healed many that were ſick of divers diſeaſes: ‖ and he caſt out many devils, and he ſuffered them not to ſpeak, becauſe they knew him.

35 And riſing very early in the morning, going out he went into a deſert place: and there he prayed.

36 And Simon and they who were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they ſaid to him: All men ſeek for thee.

38 And he ſaith to them: Let us go into the neighbouring towns and cities, that I may preach there alſo: for to this purpoſe am I come.

39 And he preached in their ſynagogues, and in all Galilee, and caſt out devils.

‖ Matt. 8. 2. Luke 5. 12.

40 ‖ And there came a leper to him, beſeeching him: and kneeling down ſaid to him: If thou wilt, thou canſt make me clean.

41 And Jeſus having compaſſion on him ſtretched forth his hand: and touching him, ſaith to him: I will: Be thou made clean.

42 And when he had ſpoken, immediately the leproſy departed from him, and he was made clean.

43 And he ſtrictly charged him, and forthwith ſent him away.

‖ Lev. 14. 2.

44 And he ſaith to him: See thou tell no man: but go, ſhew thyſelf to the high-prieſt, and offer for thy cleanſing ‖ the things that Moſes commanded, for a teſtimony to them.

45 But he being gone out, began to publiſh and to blaze abroad the matter: ſo that now he could not openly go into the city, but was without in deſert places, and they flocked to him from all ſides.

CHAP. II.

Chriſt heals the ſick of the palſy: calls Matthew; and excuſes his diſciples.

Matt. 9. 1. AND again he entered into Capharnaum after ſome days.

2 And it was heard that he was in the houſe, and many came together, ſo that there was no room, no not even at the door: and he ſpoke to them the word.

‖ Luke 5. 18. 3 ‖ And they came to him bringing one ſick of the palſy, who was carried by four.

4 And when they could not offer him to him for the multitude, they uncovered the roof where he was: and opening it they let down the bed wherein the man ſick of the palſy lay.

5 And when Jeſus ſaw their faith, he ſaith to the ſick of the palſy: Son, thy ſins are forgiven thee.

6 And ſome of the Scribes were ſitting there, and thinking in their hearts:

7 Why doth this man ſpeak thus? he blaſphemeth. ‖ Who can forgive ſins, but God only.

† Job. 14. 4. Ezek. 43. 25.

8 And Jeſus preſently knowing in his ſpirit, that they ſo thought within themſelves, ſaith to them: Why think you theſe things in your hearts?

9 Which is eaſier, to ſay to the ſick of the palſy: Thy ſins are forgiven thee: or to ſay: Ariſe, take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that you may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive ſins, (he ſaith to the ſick of the palſy.)

11 I ſay to thee, Ariſe, take up thy bed, and go thy way into thy houſe.

12 And immediately he aroſe: and taking up his bed, went his way in the ſight of all: ſo that all wondered and glorified God, ſaying: We never ſaw the like.

13 And he went forth again to the ſea ſide: and all the multitude came to him, and he taught them.

Matt. 9. 9. Luke 5. 27. 14 ‖ And when he was paſſing by, he ſaw Levi the ſon of Alphæus ſitting at the receipt of cuſtom; and he ſaith to him: Follow me. And riſing up he followed him.

15 And it came to paſs, that as he ſat at meat in his houſe, many publicans and ſinners ſat down together with Jeſus and his diſciples: for they were many, who alſo followed him.

16 And the Scribes and the Phariſees ſeeing that he did eat with publicans and ſinners, ſaid to his diſciples: Why doth your maſter eat and drink with publicans and ſinners?

17 ‖ Jeſus hearing this, ſaith to them: They that are well have no need of a phyſician, but they that are ſick: for I came not to call the juſt, but ſinners. ‖ 1 Tim. 1. 15.

18 Now the diſciples of John, and the Phariſees uſed to faſt: and they come, and ſay to him: Why do the diſciples of John and of the Phariſees faſt; but thy diſciples do not faſt?

19 And Jeſus ſaith to them: Can the children of the marriage faſt, as long as the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot faſt.

20 ‖ But the days will come when the bridegroom ſhall be taken away from them: and then they ſhall faſt in thoſe days. ‖ Matt. 9. 15. Luke 5. 35.

21 No man ſoweth a piece of new cloth to an old garment: otherwiſe the new piecing taketh away from the old, and there is made a greater rent.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: otherwiſe the wine will burſt the bottles and both the wine will be ſpilled, and the bottles will be loſt. But new wine muſt be put into new bottles.

23 ‖ And it came to paſs again as the Lord walketh through the corn fields on the the ſabbath, that his diſciples began to go forward and to pluck the ears of corn. ‖ Matt. 12. 1. Luke 6. 1.

24 And the Phariſees ſaid to him: Behold, why do they on the ſabbath-day that which is not lawful?

25 And he ſaid to them: ‖ Have you never read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry, he and they that were with him? ‖ 1 Kings 21. 6.

26 How he went into the houſe of God under Abiathar the high prieſt, and did eat the loaves of propoſition ‖ which was not lawful to eat but for the prieſts, and gave to them who were with him? ‖ Lev. 24. 9.

27 And he ſaid to them: The ſabbath was made for man, and not man for the ſabbath.

28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord alſo of the ſabbath.

CHAP. III.

Chriſt heals the withered hand: He chuſes the twelve: He confutes the blaſphemy of the Phariſees.

AND he entered again into the ſynagogue, and there was a man there who had a withered hand. Matt. 12. 10. Luke 6. 6.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal on the ſabbath-day: that they might accuſe him.

3 And he ſaith to the man who had the withered hand: Stand up in the midſt.

4 And he ſaith to them: Is it lawful to do good on the ſabbath-day, or to do evil? to ſave life, or to deſtroy? But they held their peace.

5 And looking round about on them with anger, being grieved for the blindneſs of their hearts, he ſaith to the man: Stretch forth thy hand. And he ſtretched it forth; and his hand was reſtored unto him.

6 ‖ And the Phariſees going out immediately, made a conſultation with the Herodians againſt him, how they might deſtroy him. ‖ Matt. 12. 14.

7 But Jeſus retired with his diſciples, to the ſea: and a great multitude followed him, from Galilee and Judea,

8 And from Jeruſalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond the Jordan: and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing the things which he did, came to him.

9 And he ſpoke to his diſciples that a ſmall ſhip ſhould wait on him becauſe of the multitude, leſt they ſhould throng him:

10 For he healed many, ſo that they preſſed upon him for to touch him, as many as had evils.

11 And the unclean ſpirits, when they ſaw him, fell down before him: and they cried, ſaying:

12 Thou art the Son of God. And he ſtrictly charged them that they ſhould not make him known.

13 ‖ And going up into a mountain, he called unto him whom he would himſelf: and they came to him. ‖ Matt. 10. 1. Luke 6. 13. & 9. 1.

14 And he made that twelve ſhould be with him: and that he might ſend them to preach.

15 And he gave them power to heal ſickneſſes, and to caſt out devils.

16 And to Simon he gave the name of Peter:

17 And James the ſon of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and he named them Boanerges, which is, The ſons of thunder:

18 And Andrew and Philip, and Bartholomew and Matthew, and Thomas, and James of Alpheus, and Thaddeus, and Simon Cananeus.

19 And Judas Iſcariot, who alſo betrayed him.

20 And they come to a houſe: and the multitude cometh together again, ſo that they could not ſo much as eat bread.

21 And when his friends had heard of it, they went out to lay hold of him: for they ſaid: He is become mad.

22 And the Scribes who were come down from Jeruſalem, ſaid: ‖ He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils he caſteth out devils. ‖ Matt. 9. 34.

23 And after he had called them together, he ſaid to them in parables: How can ſatan caſt out ſatan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided againſt itſelf, that kingdom cannot ſtand.

25 And if a houſe be divided againſt itſelf, that houſe cannot ſtand.

26 And if ſatan be riſen up againſt himſelf, he is divided, and cannot ſtand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into the houſe of a ſtrong man and rob him of his goods, unleſs he firſt bind the ſtrong man, and then ſhall he plunder his houſe.

28 ‖ Amen I ſay to you, that all ſins ſhall be forgiven unto the ſons of men, and the blaſphemies wherewith they ſhall blaſpheme: ‖ Matt. 12. 31. Luke 12 10. 1 John 5. 16.

29 But he that ſhall blaſpheme againſt the Holy Ghoſt, ſhall never have forgiveneſs, but ſhall be guilty of an everlaſting ſin.

30 Becauſe they ſaid: He hath an unclean ſpirit.

31 And his mother and his brethren came: and ſtanding without ſent to him, calling him,

32 And the multitude ſat about him: and they ſay to him: Behold thy mother and thy brethren without ſeek for thee.

33 And anſwering them, he ſaid: Who is my mother and my brethren?

34 And looking round on them who ſat about him, he ſaith: Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For whoſoever ſhall do the will of God, he is my brother, and my ſiſter, and mother.

CHAP. IV.

The parable of the ſower. Chriſt ſtills the tempeſt at ſea.

AND he began again to teach by the ſea ſide: and a great multitude was gathered together unto him, ſo that he went up into a ſhip and ſat in the ſea, and all the multitude was upon the land by the ſea ſide: Matt. 13. 2. Luke 8. 5.

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and ſaid unto them many things in his doctrine:

3 Hear ye: Behold a ſower went out to ſow.

4 And whilſt he is ſowing, ſome fell by the way ſide: and the birds of the air came, and eat it up.

5 And other ſome fell upon ſtony ground where it had not much earth: and it ſhot up immediately, becauſe it had no depth of earth:

6 And when the ſun was riſen, it was ſcorched: and becauſe it had no root, it withered away.

7 And ſome fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up, and choaked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And ſome fell upon good ground: and brought forth fruit that grew up, and increaſed, and yielded, one thirty, another ſixty, and another a hundred.

9 And he ſaid: He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, the twelve that were with him, aſked him the parable.

11 And he ſaid to them: To you it is given to know the myſtery of the kingdom of God: but to them that are without, all things are done in parables:

‖ Iſai. 6. 9. Matt. 13. 14. John 12. 40. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

12 ‖ That ſeeing they may ſee, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not underſtand: leſt at any time they ſhould be converted, and their ſins ſhould be forgiven them.

13 And he ſaith to them: Know you not this parable? how then ſhall you know all parables?

14 He that ſoweth, ſoweth the word.

15 And theſe are they by the way ſide, where the word is ſown, and as ſoon as they have heard, immediately ſatan cometh, and taketh away the word that was ſown in their hearts.

16 And theſe likewiſe are they that are ſown on the ſtony ground: who when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy:

17 And they have no root in themſelves, but are only for a time: and then when tribulation and perſecution ariſeth for the word's ſake, they are preſently ſcandalized.

18 And others there are who are ſown among thorns: theſe are they that hear the word,

‖ 2 Tim. 6. 17.

19 And the cares of the world, ‖ and the deceitfulneſs of riches, and the luſts after other things entering in, choak the word, and it is made fruitleſs.

20 And theſe are they who are ſown upon the good ground, who hear the word, and receive it, and yield fruit, the one thirty, another ſixty, and another a hundred.

‖ Matt. 5. 15. Luke 8. 16. & 11. 33.

21 ‖ And he ſaid to them: Doth a candle come in to be put under a buſhel, or under a bed? and not to be ſet on a candleſtick?

‡ Matt. 10. 26. Luke 8. 17.

22 ‡ For there is nothing hid, which ſhall not be made manifeſt: neither was it made ſecret, but that it may come abroad.

23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And ſaid to them: Take heed what you hear: ‖ With what meaſure you ſhall mete, it ſhall be meaſured to you again, and more ſhall be given to you.

‖ Matt. 7. 2. Luke 6. 38.

25 ‡ For he that hath, to him ſhall be given: and he that hath not, that alſo which he hath ſhall be taken away from him.

‡ Matt. 13. 12. & 25. 29. Luke 8. 18. & 19. 26.

26 And he ſaid: So is the kingdom of God, as if a man ſhould caſt ſeed into the earth,

27 And ſhould ſleep, and riſe, night and day, and the ſeed ſhould ſpring, and grow up whilſt he knoweth not.

28 For the earth of itſelf bringeth forth fruit, firſt the blade, then the ear, afterwards the full corn in the ear,

29 And when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the ſickle, becauſe the harveſt is come.

30 And he ſaid: To what ſhall we liken the kingdom of God? or to what parable ſhall we compare it?

31 ‖ It is as a grain of muſtard ſeed, which when it is ſown in the earth, is leſs than all the ſeeds that are in the earth:

‖ Matt. 13. 31. Luke 13. 19.

32 And when it is ſown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and ſhooteth out great branches, ſo that the birds of the air may dwell under the ſhadow thereof.

33 And with many ſuch parables he ſpoke to them the word, according as they were able to hear.

34 And without parable he did not ſpeak unto them: but apart, he explained all things to his diſciples.

35 And he ſaith to them that day, when evening was come: Let us paſs over to the other ſide.

‖ Matt. 8. 23. Luke 8. 22.

36 ‖ And ſending away the multitude, they take him even as he was in the ſhip: and there were other ſhips with him.

37 And there aroſe a great ſtorm of wind, and the waves beat into the ſhip, ſo that the ſhip was filled.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ſhip ſleeping upon a pillow; and they awake him, and ſay to him: Maſter doth it not concern thee that we periſh?

39 And riſing up he rebuked the wind, and ſaid to the ſea: Peace, be ſtill. And the wind ceaſed; and there was made a great calm.

CHAP. IV. VER. 12. That ſeeing they may ſee, &c. In puniſhment of their wilfully ſhutting their eyes, (St. Matt. xiii. 15.) God juſtly withdrew thoſe lights, and graces, which otherwiſe he would have given them, for their effectual converſion.

42 And he ſaid to them: Why are you fearful? have you not faith yet? And they feared exceedingly, and they ſaid one to another: Who is this (thinkeſt thou) that both wind and ſea obey him?

CHAP. V.

Chriſt caſts out a legion of devils: he heals the iſſue of blood, and raiſes the daughter of Jairus to life.

Mat. 8. 28. Luke 8. 26. AND they came over the ſtrait of the ſea into the country of the Geraſens.

2 And when he went out of the ſhip, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean ſpirit.

3 Who had his dwelling in the tombs, and no man now could bind him, not even with chains:

4 For having been often bound with fetters and chains, he had burſt the chains, and broken the fetters in pieces, and no man could tame him.

5 And he was always day and night in the tombs, and in the mountains, crying and cutting himſelf with ſtones.

6 And ſeeing Jeſus, afar off, he ran and adored him:

7 And crying with a loud voice, he ſaid: What have I to do with thee, Jeſus, thou Son of the moſt high God: I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he ſaid to him: Go out of the man, thou unclean ſpirit.

9 And he aſked him: What is thy name? And he ſaith to him: My name is Legion, for we are many.

10 And he beſought him much, that he would not drive him away out of the country.

11 And there was there near the mountain a great herd of ſwine, feeding.

12 And the ſpirits beſought him, ſaying: Send us into the ſwine, that we may enter into them.

13 And Jeſus immediately gave them leave. And the unclean ſpirits went out, and entered into the ſwine: and the herd with great violence was carried headlong into the ſea, being about two thouſand, and were ſtifled in the ſea,

14 And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the fields. And they went out to ſee what was done:

15 And they come to Jeſus: and they ſee him that was troubled with the devil, ſitting, cloathed, and of a ſound mind, and they were afraid.

16 And they who had ſeen it, told them in what manner he had been dealt with who had the devil; and concerning the ſwine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart from their coaſts.

18 And when he went up into the ſhip, he that had been troubled with the devil, began to beſeech him that he might be with him.

19 And he admitted him not, but ſaith to him: Go into the houſe to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had mercy on thee.

20 And he went his way, and began to publiſh in Decapolis how great things Jeſus had done for him: and all men wondered.

21 And when Jeſus had paſſed again into the ſhip over the ſtrait, a great multitude aſſembled together unto him, and he was nigh unto the ſea.

22 ‖ And there cometh one of the rulers of the ſynagogue named Jairus: and ſeeing him, falleth down at his feet. ‖Matt. 9. 18. Luke 8. 41.

23 And he beſought him much, ſaying: My daughter is at the point of death, come, lay thy hand upon her, that ſhe may be ſafe, and may live.

24 And he went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and they thronged him.

25 And a woman who was under an iſſue of blood twelve years,

26 And had ſuffered many things from many phyſicians: and had ſpent all that ſhe had, and was nothing the better, but rather worſe:

27 When ſhe had heard of Jeſus, came in the crowd behind him, and touched his garment.

28 For ſhe ſaid: If I ſhall but touch his garment, I ſhall be whole.

29 And forthwith the fountain of her blood was dried up, and ſhe felt in her body that ſhe was healed of the evil.

30 And immediately Jeſus knowing in himſelf the virtue that had proceeded from him, turning to the multitude, ſaid: Who hath touched my garments?

31 And his diſciples ſaid to him: Thou ſeeſt the multitude thronging thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who hath touched me?

32 And he looked about to ſee her who had done this.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he ſaid to her: ‖ Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be thou whole of thy diſeaſe. ‖ Luke 7. 50. & 8. 48.

35 While he was yet ſpeaking, ſome come from the ruler of the ſynagogue's houſe, ſaying: Thy daughter is dead: why doſt thou trouble the maſter any farther?

36 But Jeſus having heard the word that was ſpoken, ſaith to the ruler of the ſynagogue: Fear not: only believe.

37 And he admitted not any man to follow him, but Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And they come to the houſe of the ruler of the ſynagogue; and he ſeeth a tumult, and people weeping and wailing much.

39 And going in he ſaith to them: Why make you this a-do, and weep? the damſel is not dead but ſleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to ſcorn. But he having put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the damſel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damſel was lying.

41 And taking the damſel by the hand, he ſaith to her: Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted: damſel (I ſay to thee) ariſe.

42 And immediately the damſel roſe up, and walked: now ſhe was twelve years old: and they were aſtoniſhed with a great aſtoniſhment.

43 And he charged them ſtrictly that no man ſhould know it: and commanded that ſomething ſhould be given her to eat.

CHAP. VI.

Chriſt teaches at Nazareth. He ſends forth the twelve apoſtles: He feeds five thouſand with five loaves; and walks upon the ſea.

Matt. 13. 54. Luke 4 16. AND going out from thence, he went into his own country; and his diſciples followed him.

2 And when the ſabbath day was come he began to teach in the ſynagogue: and many hearing him were in admiration at his doctrine, ſaying: How came this man by all theſe things? and what wiſdom is this that is given to him, and ſuch mighty works as are wrought by his hands?

‖ John 6. 42. 3 ‖ Is not this the carpenter, the ſon of Mary, the brother of James and Joſeph, and Jude and Simon? are not alſo his ſiſters here with us? And they were ſcandalized in regard of him.

‖ Matt. 13. 57. Luke 4. 23. John 4 44 4 And Jeſus ſaid to them: ‖ A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and in his own houſe, and among his own kindred.

5 And he could not do any mighty work there, only that he healed a few that were ſick, laying his hands upon them,

6 And he wondered becauſe of their unbelief, and he went through the villages round about teaching.

7 ‖ And he called the twelve; and began to ſend them two and two, and gave them power over unclean ſpirits. ‖ Matt. 10. 1. Supra 3. 15. Luke 9. 1.

8 And he commanded them that they ſhould take nothing for their journey, but a ſtaff only: no ſcrip, no bread, nor money in their purſe,

9 ‡ But to be ſhod with ſandals, and that they ſhould not put on two coats. ‡ Acts 12.

10 And he ſaid to them: Whereſoever you ſhall enter into a houſe, there abide till you depart from that place.

11 And whoſoever ſhall not receive you, nor hear you, ‖ going forth from thence, ſhake off the duſt from your feet for a teſtimony to them. ‖ Matt. 10. 14. Luke 9. 5. Acts 13 51. & 18. 6.

12 And going forth they preached that they ſhould do penance:

13 And they caſt out many devils, ‡ and anointed with oil many that were ſick, and healed them. ‡ James 5. 14.

14 ‖ And king Herod heard: (for his name was made manifeſt) and he ſaid: John the Baptiſt is riſen again from the dead, and therefore mighty works ſhew forth themſelves in him. ‖ Matt. 14. 2. Luke 9. 7.

15 And others ſaid: He is Elias. But others ſaid: He is a prophet, as one of the prophets.

16 Which Herod hearing, ſaid: John whom I beheaded, he is riſen again from the dead.

17 ‡ For Herod himſelf had ſent and apprehended John, and bound him in priſon for the ſake of Herodias the wife of Philip his brother, becauſe he had married her. ‖ Luke 3. 19.

18 For John ſaid to Herod: ‖ It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. ‖ Lev. 5. 19.

19 Now Herodias laid ſnares for him: and was deſirous to put him to death and could not.

20 For Herod feared John, knowing him to be a juſt and holy man: and kept him, and having heard him did many things: and he heard him willingly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, Herod made a ſupper for his birth-day, for the princes, and tribunes, and chief men of Galilee.

22 And when the daughter of the ſame Herodias had come in, and had danced, and pleaſed Herod, and them that were at table with him: the king ſaid to the damſel: Aſk of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

CHAP. VI. VER. 5. He could not. Not for want of power, but becauſe he would not work miracles in favour of obſtinate and incredulous people, who were unworthy of ſuch favours.

VER. 20. And kept him. That is, from the deſigns of Herodias; and for fear of the people, would not put him to death, though ſhe ſought it: and through her daughter ſhe effected her will.

23 And he ſwore to her: Whatſoever thou ſhalt aſk I will give thee, though it be the half of my kingdom.

24 And when ſhe was gone out, ſhe ſaid to her mother: What ſhall I aſk? But ſhe ſaid: The head of John the Baptiſt.

25 And ſhe came in immediately with haſte to the king, and aſked, ſaying: I will that forthwith thou give me in a diſh the head of John the Baptiſt.

26 And the king was ſtruck ſad: yet becauſe of his oath, and becauſe of them that were with him at table, he would not diſpleaſe her:

27 But ſending an executioner, he commanded that his head ſhould be brought in a diſh. And he beheaded him in the priſon,

28 And brought his head in a diſh: and and gave it to the damſel, and the damſel gave it to her mother.

29 ‖ Which his diſciples hearing, came, and took his body: and laid it in a tomb. ‖ Matt. 14. 12.

30 ‡ And the apoſtles coming together unto Jeſus, related to him all things that they had done and taught. ‡ Luke 9. 10.

31 And he ſaid to them: ‖ Come ye apart into a deſert place, and reſt a little. For there were many coming and going: and they had not ſo much as time to eat. ‖ Matt. 14. 13. Luke 9. 10. John 6. 1.

32 And going up into a ſhip, they went into a deſert place apart.

33 And they ſaw them going away, and many knew: and they ran flocking thither on foot from all the cities, and were there before them.

34 ‡ And Jeſus going out ſaw a great multitude: and he had compaſſion on them, becauſe they were as ſheep not having a ſhepherd, and he began to teach them many things. ‡ Matt. 9. 36. & 14. 14.

35 And when the day was now far ſpent, his diſciples came to him, ſaying: This is a deſert place, and the hour is now paſt:

36 ‖ Send them away, that going into the next villages and towns, they may buy themſelves meat to eat. ‖ Luke 9. 12.

37 But he anſwering ſaid to them: Give you them to eat. And they ſaid to him: Let us go and buy bread for two hundred pence, and we will give them to eat.

38 And he ſaith to them: How many loaves have you? go and ſee. And when they knew, they ſay: Five, and two fiſhes.

39 ‖ And he commanded them to make them all ſit down by companies upon the green graſs. ‖ John 6. 10.

40 And they ſat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves, and the two fiſhes: looking up to heaven, he bleſſed, and broke the loaves, and gave to his diſciples to ſet before them: and the two fiſhes he divided among them all.

42 And they all did eat, and had their fill.

43 And they took up the leavings, twelve baſkets full of fragments, and of the fiſhes.

44 And they that did eat, were five thouſand men.

45 And immediately he obliged his diſciples to go up into the ſhip, that they might go before him over the water to Bethſaida: whilſt he diſmiſſed the people.

46 And when he had diſmiſſed them, he went up to the mountain to pray.

47 And when it was late, the ſhip was in the midſt of the ſea, and he alone on the land.

48 ‖ And ſeeing them labouring in rowing, (for the wind was againſt them) and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh to them walking upon the ſea: and he would have paſſed by them. ‖ Matt. 14. 24.

49 But they ſeeing him walking upon the ſea, thought it was an apparition, and they cried out.

50 For they all ſaw him, and were troubled. And immediately he ſpoke with them, and ſaid to them: Have a good heart, it is I, fear ye not.

51 And he went up to them into the ſhip, and the wind ceaſed. And they were far more aſtoniſhed within themſelves.

52 For they underſtood not concerning the loaves: for their heart was blinded.

53 ‖ And when they had paſſed over, they came into the land of Geneſareth, and ſet to the ſhore. ‖ Matt. 14. 34.

54 And when they were gone out of the ſhip, immediately they knew him:

55 And running through that whole country they began to carry about in beds thoſe that were ſick, where they heard he was.

56 And whitherſoever he entered, into towns, or into villages, or cities, they laid the ſick in the ſtreets, and beſought him that they might touch but the hem of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAP. VII.

Chriſt rebukes the Phariſees. He heals the daughter of the woman of Chanaan; and the man that was deaf and dumb.

AND there aſſemble together unto him the Phariſees, and ſome of the Scribes, coming from Jeruſalem.

[Matt. 15. 2. 2 || And when they had ſeen ſome of his diſciples eat bread with common, that is, with unwaſhed hands, they found fault.

3 For the Phariſees, and all the Jews eat not without often waſhing their hands, holding the tradition of the ancients:

4 And when they come from the market, unleſs they be waſhed, they eat not: and many other things there are that have been delivered to them to obſerve, the waſhings of cups, and of pots, and of braſen veſſels, and of beds.

5 And the Phariſees and Scribes aſked him: Why do not thy diſciples walk according to the tradition of the ancients, but eat bread with common hands?

6 But he anſwering, ſaid to them: Well did Iſaias propheſy of you hypocrites, as it [Iſai. 29. 13. is written: || This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 And in vain do they worſhip me, teaching doctrines and precepts of men.

8 For leaving the commandment of God, you hold the tradition of men, the waſhings of pots and of cups: and many other things you do like to theſe.

9 And he ſaid to them: Well do you make void the commandment of God, that you may keep your own tradition.

|| Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 6. Ephes. 6. 2. ‡ Exod. 21. 17. Lev. 20. 9. Prov. 20. 20. 10 For Moſes ſaid: || Honour thy father and thy mother and: ‡ he that ſhall curſe father or mother, dying let him dye the death.

11 But you ſay: If a man ſhall ſay to his father or mother, Corban (that is a gift) whatſoever is from me, ſhall profit thee:

12 And farther you ſuffer him not to do any thing for his father or mother,

13 Making void the word of God by your tradition, which you have given forth. And many other ſuch like things you do.

|| Matt. 15. 10. 14 || And calling again the multitude unto him he ſaid to them: Hear ye me all and underſtand.

15 There is nothing from without a man entering into him, that can defile him: but the things which come from a man, thoſe are they that defile a man.

16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 And when he was come into the houſe from the multitude, his diſciples aſked him the meaning of the parable.

18 And he ſaid to them: Are you alſo ſo unwiſe? underſtand you not that whatſoever thing from without entereth into a man, it cannot defile him:

19 Becauſe it entereth not into his heart, but goeth into the belly, and goeth out into the privy, purging all meats?

20 And he ſaid that the things which come out from a man, they defile a man.

21 || For from within out of the heart of men proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, || Gen. 6. 5

22 Thefts, covetouſneſs, wickedneſs, deceit, laſciviouſneſs, an evil eye, blaſphemy, pride, fooliſhneſs.

23 All theſe evil things come from within, and defile a man.

24 || And he aroſe from thence, and went to the borders of Tyre and Sidon: and entering into a houſe, he would have no man know it, but he could not be hid. || Matt. 15. 21.

25 For a certain woman heard of him, whoſe daughter had an unclean ſpirit, and preſently came in, and fell down at his feet.

26 For the woman was a Gentil, a Syrophenician born. And ſhe beſought him to caſt forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 And he ſaid to her: Let the children firſt be filled: for it is not good to take the bread of the children, and caſt it to the dogs.

28 But ſhe anſwered, and ſaid to him: Yea, Lord; for the whelps alſo eat under the table of the crumbs of the children.

29 And he ſaid to her: For this ſaying go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when ſhe was come to her houſe, ſhe found the girl lying upon the bed, and that the devil was gone out.

31 And again going out of the borders of Tyre, he came by Sidon to the ſea of Galilee through the midſt of the territories of Decapolis.

|| Matt. 9. 32. Luke 11. 14. 32 || And they bring to him one that was deaf and dumb, and they beſought him to lay his hand upon him.

33 And taking him aſide from the multitude, he put his fingers into his ears, and ſpitting he touched his tongue;

34 And looking up to heaven, he groaned, and ſaid to him: Ephpheta, that is, Be opened.

35 And immediately his ears were opened, and the ſtring of his tongue was looſed, and he ſpoke right.

36 And he charged them that they ſhould tell no man. But the more he charged them, ſo much the more a great deal did they publiſh it.

37 And ſo much the more did they wonder, ſaying: He hath done all things well:

he hath made both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to ſpeak.

CHAP. VIII.

Chriſt feeds four thouſand. He gives ſight to a blind man. He foretels his paſſion.

Matt. 15. 34. IN thoſe days again when there was a great multitude, and had nothing to eat; calling his diſciples together, he ſaith to them:

2 I have compaſſion on the multitude: for behold they have now been with me, three days, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I ſend them away faſting to their own houſes, they will faint in the way: for ſome of them came from afar off.

4 And his diſciples anſwered him: From whence can any one ſatisfy them here with bread in the wilderneſs?

5 And he aſked them: How many loaves have ye? And they ſaid: Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to ſit down on the ground: and taking the ſeven loaves, giving thanks he broke, and gave to his diſciples to ſet before them, and they ſet them before the people.

7 And they had a few little fiſhes; and he bleſſed them, and commanded them to be ſet before them.

8 And they did eat and were filled, and they took up that which was left of the fragments, ſeven baſkets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thouſand: and he ſent them away.

10 And immediately going up into a ſhip with his diſciples, he came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

‖ Matt. 16. 1. Luke 11. 54. 11 ‖ And the Phariſees came forth, and began to queſtion with him, ſeeking of him a ſign from heaven, tempting him.

12 And ſighing deeply in ſpirit, he ſaith: Why doth this generation ſeek a ſign? Amen I ſay to you, a ſign ſhall not be given to this generation.

13 And leaving them, he went up again into the ſhip, and paſſed to the other ſide of the water.

14 And they forgot to take bread: and they had but one loaf with them in the ſhip.

15 And he charged them, ſaying: Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Phariſees, and of the leaven of Herod.

16 And they reaſoned among themſelves, ſaying: Becauſe we have no bread.

17 Which Jeſus knowing, ſaith to them: Why do you reaſon, becauſe you have no bread? do you not yet know nor underſtand? have you ſtill your heart blinded?

18 Having eyes ſee you not? and having ears hear you not? ‖ Neither do you remember. ‖ Supra 6. 41. John 6. 11.

19 When I broke the five loaves among five thouſand: how many baſkets full of fragments took you up? They ſay to him: Twelve.

20 And when the ſeven loaves among four thouſand, how many baſkets of fragments took you up? And they ſay to him: Seven.

21 And he ſaid to them: How do you not yet underſtand?

22 And they came to Bethſaida: and they bring to him a blind man, and they beſought him to touch him.

23 And taking the blind man by the hand he led him out of the town: and ſpitting upon his eyes, laying his hands on him, he aſked him if he ſaw any thing.

24 And looking up, he ſaid: I ſee men as trees, walking.

25 After that he laid his hands again upon his eyes, and he began to ſee, and was reſtored, ſo that he ſaw all things clearly.

26 And he ſent him to his houſe, ſaying: Go into thy houſe, and if thou enter into the town, tell no body.

27 ‖ And Jeſus went out, and his diſciples, into the town of Ceſarea Philippi; and in the way he aſked his diſciples ſaying to them: ‡ Whom do men ſay that I am? ‖ Matt. 16. 13. ‡ Luke 9. 18.

28 And they anſwered him, ſaying: John the Baptiſt; but ſome Elias, and others as one of the prophets.

29 Then he ſaith to them: But whom do you ſay I am? Peter anſwering, ſaid to him: Thou art the Chriſt.

30 And he ſtrictly charged them that they ſhould not tell any man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man muſt ſuffer many things, and be rejected by the ancients and by the high-prieſts, and the Scribes, and be killed: and after three days riſe again.

32 And he ſpoke the word openly. ‖ And Peter taking him, began to rebuke him. ‖ Matt. 16. 34.

33 But he turning about and ſeeing his diſciples, threatened Peter, ſaying: Go after me, ſatan, becauſe thou doſt not reliſh the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

34 And calling together the multitude with his diſciples, he ſaid to them: ‡ If any man will follow me, let him deny himſelf, and take up his croſs, and follow me. ‡ Matt. 10. 38 & 10. 24.

35 ‖ For whoſoever will ſave his life, ſhall loſe it; and whoſoever ſhall loſe his life for my ſake, and for the goſpel, ſhall ſave it. ‖ Luke 9. 23. & 14. 27.

36 For what ſhall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and loſe his own ſoul?

37 Or what ſhall a man give in exchange for his ſoul.

‡ Matt. 10. 33. Luke 9. 26. & 12. 9. 38 ‡ For whoſoever ſhall be aſhamed of me, and of my words in this adulterous and ſinful generation: the Son of man alſo ſhall be aſhamed of him, when he ſhall come in the glory of his Father with the holy Angels.

|| Matt. 26. 28. Luke 6. 27. 39 And he ſaid to them: || Amen I ſay to you, that there are ſome of them that ſtand here, who ſhall not taſte death, till they ſee the kingdom of God coming in power.

CHAP. IX.

Chriſt is transfigured. He caſts out the dumb ſpirit. He teaches humility and to avoid ſcandal.

Matt. 17. ‡. Luke 9. 28. AND after ſix days Jeſus taketh with him Peter and James and John: and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themſelves, and was transfigured before them.

2 And his garments became ſhining, and exceeding white as ſnow, ſo as no fuller on earth can make white.

3 And there appeared to them Elias with Moſes: and they were talking with Jeſus.

4 And Peter anſwering, ſaid to Jeſus: Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moſes, and one for Elias.

5 For he knew not what he ſaid: for they were ſtruck with fear:

6 And there was a cloud that overſhadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, ſaying: This is my moſt beloved ſon: hear ye him.

7 And immediately looking about, they ſaw no man any more but Jeſus only with them.

|| Matt. 17. 9. 8 || And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them not to tell any man what things they had ſeen, till the Son of man ſhall be riſen again from the dead.

9 And they kept the word to themſelves: queſtioning together what that ſhould mean: When he ſhall be riſen from the dead.

|| Mal. 4. 5. 10 And they aſked him, ſaying: || Why then do the Phariſees and Scribes ſay, that Elias muſt come firſt?

11 And he anſwered and ſaid to them: Elias when he ſhall come firſt, ſhall reſtore all things: and how || it is written of the Son of man, that he muſt ſuffer many things, and be deſpiſed.

|| Iſai. 53. 3. & 4.

12 But I ſay to you, that Elias alſo is come (and they have done to him whatſoever they would) as it is written of him.

13 And when he came to his diſciples, he ſaw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes queſtioning with them.

14 And preſently all the people ſeeing Jeſus, were aſtoniſhed and ſtruck with fear: and running to him, they ſaluted him.

15 And he aſked them, what do you queſtion about among you?

16 || And one of the multitude anſwering, ſaid: Maſter, I have brought to thee my ſon who hath a dumb ſpirit, || Luke 9. 38.

17 And whereſoever he taketh him, he daſheth him, and he foameth, and gnaſheth with his teeth, and pineth away, and I ſpoke to thy diſciples to caſt him out, and they could not.

18 And Jeſus anſwering them, ſaid: O incredulous generation, how long ſhall I be with you? how long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him to me.

19 And they brought him. And when he had ſeen him, immediately the ſpirit troubled him: and being thrown down upon the ground, he rolled about foaming.

20 And he aſked his father: How long time it is ſince this hath happened unto him? But he ſaid: From his infancy:

21 And oftentimes hath he caſt him into the fire, and into waters, to deſtroy him. But if thou canſt do any thing, have compaſſion on us, and help us.

22 And Jeſus ſaith to him: If thou canſt believe, all things are poſſible to him that believeth.

23 And immediately the father of the boy crying out, with tears ſaid: I do believe, Lord; help thou my unbelief.

24 And when Jeſus ſaw the multitude running together, he threatened the unclean ſpirit, ſaying to him: Thou deaf and dumb ſpirit, I command thee, go out of him: and enter no more into him.

25 And crying out, and greatly tearing him, he went out of him, and he became as one dead, inſomuch that many ſaid: He is dead.

26 But Jeſus taking him by the hand, lifted him up, and he aroſe.

27 And when he was come into the houſe, his diſciples aſked him privately: Why could not we caſt him out?

28 And he ſaid to them: This kind can go out by nothing, but by prayer and faſting.

29 And departing from thence they paſſed through Galilee, and he would not that any man ſhould know it.

|| Matt. 20. 17. Luke 9. 43. & 44. 30 || And he taught his diſciples, and ſaid to them: The Son of man ſhall be delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed he shall rise again the third day.

31 But they understood not the word: and they were afraid to ask him.

32 And they came to Capharnaum. And when they were in the house, he asked them: What did you treat of in the way?

33 But they held their peace: for in the way they had disputed among themselves, ‖ which of them should be the greatest. ‖ Matt. 18. 1. Luke 9. 46.

34 And sitting down, he called the twelve, and saith to them: If any man desire to be first, he shall be the last of all, and the servant of all.

35 And taking a child, he set him in the midst of them: and when he had embraced him, he saith to them:

36 Whosoever shall receive one such child as this in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

37 ‖ John answered him saying: Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, who followeth not us, and we forbade him. ‖ Luke 9. 49.

38 But Jesus said. Do not forbid him: for there is no man that doth a miracle ‖ in my name, that can soon speak ill of me. ‖ 1 Cor. 12. 3.

39 For he that is not against you, is for you.

40 ‖ For whosoever shall give you to drink a cup of water in my name, because you belong to Christ: Amen I say to you, he shall not lose his reward. ‖ Matt. 10. 42.

41 ‡ And whosoever shall scandalize one of these little ones who believe in me; it were better for him that a mill-stone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. ‡ Matt. 18. 6. Luke 17. 2.

42 ‖ And if thy hand scandalize thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that cannot be quenched: ‖ Matt. 5. 30. & 18. 8.

43 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished.

44 And if thy foot scandalize thee, cut it off; it is better for thee to enter lame into life everlasting, than having two feet, to be cast into the hell of unquenchable fire:

45 ‖ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished. ‖ Isai. 66. 24.

46 And if thy eye scandalize thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee with one eye to enter into the kingdom of God, than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire:

47 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished.

48 ‖ For every one shall be salted with fire: and every victim shall be salted with salt. ‖ Lev. 2. 13.

49 ‡ Salt is good: but if the salt become unsavoury, wherewith will you season it? Have salt in you, and have peace among you. ‡ Matt. 5. 13. Luke 14. 34.

CHAP. X.

Marriage is not to be dissolved. The danger of riches. The ambition of the sons of Zebedee. A blind man is restored to his sight.

AND rising up from thence, he cometh into the territories of Judea beyond the Jordan: and the people flock to him again. And as he was accustomed, he taught them again. Matt. 19. 1.

2 And the Pharisees coming to him, asked him: Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 But he answering, saith to them: What did Moses command you?

4 And they said: ‖ Moses permitted to write a bill of divorce, and to put her away. ‖ Deut. 24. 1.

5 And Jesus answering, said to them: Because of the hardness of your heart he wrote you that precept.

6 But from the beginning of the creation, ‖ God made them male and female. ‖ Gen. 1. 27.

7 For this cause ‡ a man shall leave his father and mother: and shall cleave to his wife. ‡ Gen. 2. 24. Matt. 19. 5. 1. Cor. 7. 10. Ephes. 5. 31.

8 ‖ And they two shall be in one flesh. Therefore now they are not two, but one flesh. ‖ 1. Cor. 6. 16.

9 What therefore God joined together, let no man put asunder.

10 And in the house again his disciples asked him concerning the same thing.

11 And he said to them: Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if the wife shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 And they brought to him young children, that he might touch them. And the disciples rebuked them that brought them.

14 And when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said to them: Suffer the little children to come to me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Amen I say to you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall not enter into it.

16 And embracing them, and laying his hands upon them, he blessed them.

17 And when he was gone forth into the way, a certain man running up and kneeling before him, asked him: || Good Master, what shall I do that I may receive life everlasting?

18 And Jesus said to him: Why calleſt thou me good? None is good, but one, that is God.

19 || Thou knowest the commandments: Do not commit adultery, do not kill, do not steal, bear not false witness, do not fraud, honour thy father and mother.

|| Exod. 20. 13.

20 But he answering, said to him: Master, all these things I have observed from my youth.

21 And Jesus looking on him: loved him, and said to him: One thing is wanting unto thee: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come follow me.

22 But he being struck sad at the saying, went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 And Jesus looking round about, saith to his disciples: How hardly shall they who have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answering again, saith to them: Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they wondered the more, saying among themselves: Who then can be saved?

27 And Jesus looking on them, saith: With men it is impossible; but not with God: for all things are possible with God.

|| Matt. 19. 27. Luke 18. 28.

28 || And Peter began to say to him: Behold, we have left all things, and have followed thee.

29 Jesus answering, said: Amen I say to you, there is no man who hath left house, or brethren; or sisters, or father, or mother, or children, or lands for my sake and for the gospel,

30 Who shall not receive a hundred times as much, now in this time; houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions: and in the world to come life everlasting.

|| Matt. 19. 30.

31 || But many that are first, shall be last, and the last first.

32 And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were astonished: and following were afraid. || And taking again the twelve, he began to tell them the things that should befal him.

33 Saying: Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests, and to the Scribes and ancients, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mock him, and spit on him, and scourge him, and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.

35 || And James and John the sons of Zebedee, came to him, saying: Master, we desire that whatsoever we shall ask, thou wouldst do it for us:

|| Matt. 20. 20.

36 But he said to them? What would you that I should do for you?

37 And they said: Grant to us, that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 And Jesus said to them: You know not what you ask. Can you drink of the chalice that I drink of: or be baptized with the baptism wherewith I am baptized?

39 But they said to him: We can. And Jesus saith to them: You shall indeed drink of the chalice that I drink of: and with the baptism wherewith I am baptized, you shall be baptized.

40 But to sit on my right hand, or on my left, is not mine to give to you, but to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And the ten hearing it, began to be much displeased at James and John.

42 But Jesus calling them, saith to them: || You know that they who seem to rule over the Gentiles, lord it over them: and their princes have power over them.

|| Luke 22. 25.

43 But it is not so among you, but whosoever will be greater, shall be your minister.

44 And whosoever will be first among you, shall be the servant of all.

45 For the Son of man also is not come to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a redemption for many.

46 || And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho, with his disciples and a very great multitude, Bartimeus the blind man, the son of Timeus, sat by the way side begging.

47 And when he had heard, that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and to say: Jesus, Son of David have mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, that he might hold his peace. But he cried a great deal the more: Son of David, have mercy on me.

CHAP. X. VER. 18. None is good. Of himself entirely and essentially, but God alone: men may be good also, but only by participation of God's goodness.

49 And Jesus stood still and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying to him: Be of better comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 And he casting off his garment, leaped up, and came to him.

51 And Jesus answering, said to him: What wilt thou that I should do to thee? And the blind man said to him: Rabboni, that I may see.

52 And Jesus saith to him: Go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he saw, and followed him in the way.

CHAP. XI.

Christ enters into Jerusalem upon an ass: curses the barren fig tree: and drives the buyers and sellers out of the temple.

Matt. 21. 1. Luke 19. 29. AND when they were drawing near to Jerusalem, and to Bethania at the mount of olives, he sendeth two of his disciples.

2 And saith to them: Go into the village that is over against you, and immediately at your coming in thither, you shall find a colt tied, upon which no man yet hath sat: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man shall say to you: What are you doing: say ye that the Lord hath need of him: and immediately he will let him come hither.

4 And going their way they found the colt tied before the gate without in the meeting of two ways: and they loose him.

5 And some of them that stood there, said to them: What do you loosing the colt?

6 And they said to them as Jesus had commanded them: and they let him go with them.

‖ John 12. 14. 7 ‖ And they brought the colt to Jesus: and they lay their garments on him, and he sat upon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: and others cut down boughs from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they ‖ Psal. 117. 26. Isai 28. 16. Matt. 21. 9. Luke 19. 38. that followed, cried, saying: ‖ Hosanna:

10 Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Blessed be the kingdom of our father David that cometh: Hosanna in the highest.

‡ Matt. 21. 12. 11 ‡ And he entered Jerusalem, into the temple: and having viewed all things round about, when now the hour of evening was come, he went out to Bethania with the twelve.

12 And the next day when they came out from Bethania he was hungry.

13 ‖ And when he had seen a-far off a fig-tree having leaves, he came, if perhaps he might find any thing on it. And when he was come to it, he found nothing but leaves: for it was not the time for figs. ‖ Matt 21. 19.

14 And answering, he said to it: May no man hereafter eat fruit of thee any more for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they came to Jerusalem. And when he had entered into the temple, he began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and he overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the chairs of them that sold doves

16 And he suffered not that any man should carry a vessel through the temple:

17 And he taught, saying to them: Is it not written: ‖ My house shall be called the house of prayer to all nations? But you have made it a den of thieves. ‖ Isai. 56. 7. Jerem. 7. 11.

18 Which when the chief priests and the Scribes had heard, they sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was in admiration at his doctrine.

19 And when evening was come, he went forth out of the city.

20 And when they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

21 And Peter remembering, said to him: Rabbi, behold the fig-tree, which thou cursedst, is withered away.

22 And Jesus answering, saith to them: ‖ Have the faith of God. ‖ Matt. 21. 21.

23 Amen I say to you, that whosoever shall say to this mountain: Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, and shall not stagger in his heart, but believe, that whatsoever he shall say, shall be done: it shall be done for him.

24 ‖ Therefore I say to you, all things, whatsoever you ask when ye pray, believe that you shall receive, and they shall come unto you. ‖ Matt. 17. 7. & 21 22.

25 ‡ And when you shall stand to pray, forgive, if you have any thing against any man: that your Father also, who is in heaven, may forgive you your sins. ‡ Matt 6. 14. & 18. 35. Luke 11. 9.

26 But if you will not forgive, neither will your Father, who is in heaven, forgive you your sins.

27 ‖ And they come again to Jerusalem. And when he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the Scribes, and the ancients. ‖ Luke 20. 1.

28 And they say to him: By what authority dost thou these things? and who hath given thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answering, said to them: I will also ask of you one question, and answer you me: and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John was it from heaven, or from men? Answer me.

31 But they thought with themselves, saying: If we say, from heaven: he will say, Why then did not you believe him?

32 If we say, From men, we fear the people. For all men counted John that he was a prophet indeed.

33 And they answering, say to Jesus: We know not. And Jesus answering, saith to them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAP. XII.

The parable of the vineyard and husbandmen. Cæsar's right to tribute. The Sadducees are confuted. The first commandment. The widow's mite.

Isai. 5. 1. Jerem. 2. 21. Matt. 21. 33. Luke 20. 9.

AND he began to speak to them in parables: A man planted a vineyard, and made a hedge round it, and dug a place for the wine-vat, and built a tower, and let it to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, to receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they having laid hands on him, beat him: and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent to them another servant: and him they wounded in the head, and used him reproachfully.

5 And again he sent another, and him they killed: and many others, of whom some they beat, and others they killed.

6 Having therefore as yet one dearly beloved son: he sent him also to them last of all, saying: They will reverence my son.

7 But the husband-men said one to another: This is the heir: come, let us kill him: and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And laying hold on him, they killed him: and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen: and will give the vineyard to others.

10 And have you not read this scripture:

|| Psal. 117. 22. Isai. 28. 16. Matt. 21. 42. Acts 4 11. Rom. 9. 33. 1 Peter 2 7.

|| The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner:

11 By the Lord hath this been done, and it is wonderful in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hands on him: but they feared the people. For they knew that he spoke this parable against them. And leaving him they went their way.

‡ Matt. 22. 15. Luke 20. 20.

13 ‡ And they send to him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians; to catch him in his words.

14 And coming, they say to him: Master, we know that thou art a true speaker, and carest not for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar; or shall we not give it?

15 But he knowing their dissimulation, saith to them: Why tempt you me? bring me a penny that I may see it.

16 And they brought it to him. And he saith to them: Whose is this image, and inscription? They say to him, Cæsar's.

17 And Jesus answering, said to them: || Render therefore to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and to God the things that God's. And they marvelled at him.

|| Rom. 13. 7.

18 ‡ And there came to him the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying:

‡ Matt. 22. 23. Luke 20. 27.

19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, || that if any man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

|| Deut. 25. 5.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died leaving no issue.

21 And the second took her and died: and neither did he leave any issue. And the third in like manner.

22 And the seven took her in like manner: and did not leave issue. Last of all the woman also died.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise again, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering, said to them: Do ye not therefore err, not understanding the Scriptures, nor the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise again from the dead, they shall neither marry, nor be given in marriage, but are as the angels in heaven.

26 And as concerning the dead that they rise again, have you not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spoke to him, saying: || I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

|| Exod. 3. 6. Matt. 22 34.

27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You therefore do greatly err.

28 || And there came one of the Scribes that had heard them reasoning together, and seeing that he had answered them well, asked him which was the first commandment.

|| Matt. 22. 35.

29 And Jesus answered him: The first commandment of all is: || Hear, O Israel, the Lord thy God, is one God:

|| Deut. 6. 4.

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole ſoul, and with thy whole mind, and with thy whole ſtrength. This is the firſt commandment.

‖ Lev. 19. 18. Matt. 22. 39. Rom. 13. 9. Gal. 5. 14. James 2. 8.

31 ‖ And the ſecond is like to it: Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thyſelf. There is no other commandment greater than theſe.

32 And the Scribe ſaid to him: Well, maſter, thou haſt ſaid in truth, that there is one God, and there is no other beſides him.

33 And that he ſhould be loved with the whole heart, and with the whole underſtanding, and with the whole ſoul, and with the whole ſtrength: and to love one's neighbour as himſelf, is a greater thing than all holocauſts and ſacrifices.

34 And Jeſus ſeeing that he had anſwered wiſely, ſaid to him: Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durſt aſk him any queſtion.

35 And Jeſus anſwering ſaid, teaching in the temple: How do the Scribes ſay, that Chriſt is the ſon of David?

‖ Pſal. 109. 1. Matt. 22. 44. Luke 20. 42.

36 For David himſelf ſaith by the Holy Ghoſt: ‖ The Lord ſaid to my Lord, ſit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy foot-ſtool.

37 David therefore himſelf calleth him Lord, and whence is he then his ſon? And a great multitude heard him gladly.

‖ Matt. 23. 6. Luke 11. 43. & 20. 46.

38 And he ſaid to them in his doctrine: ‖ Beware of the Scribes, who love to walk in long robes, and to be ſaluted in the market-place,

39 And to ſit in the firſt chairs in the ſynagogues, and to have the higheſt places at ſuppers:

40 Who devour the houſes of widows under the pretence of long prayer: theſe ſhall receive greater judgment.

‡ Luke 21. 1.

41 ‡ And Jeſus ſitting over-againſt the treaſury, beheld how the people caſt money into the treaſury, and many that were rich caſt in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and ſhe caſt in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And calling his diſciples together, he ſaith to them: Amen I ſay to you, this poor widow hath caſt in more than all they who have caſt into the treaſury.

44 For they all did caſt in of their abundance; but ſhe, of her want caſt in all ſhe had, even her whole living.

CHAP. XIII.

Chriſt foretels the deſtruction of the temple, and the ſigns that ſhall forerun the day of judgment.

Matt. 24. 1.

AND as he was going out of the temple, one of his diſciples ſaith to him: Maſter, behold what manner of ſtones, and what buildings are here.

‖ Luke 19. 44. & 21. 6.

2 And Jeſus anſwering ſaid to him: Seeſt thou all theſe great buildings? ‖ There ſhall not be left a ſtone upon a ſtone, that ſhall not be thrown down.

3 And as he ſat on the mount of Olives over-againſt the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew aſked him apart:

4 Tell us, when ſhall theſe things be? and what ſhall be the ſign when all theſe things ſhall begin to be fulfilled.

‖ Epheſ. 5. 6. 2 Theſſ. 2. 3.

5 And Jeſus anſwering, began to ſay to them: ‖ Take heed leſt any man deceive you.

6 For many ſhall come in my name, ſaying: I am he: and they ſhall deceive many.

7 And when you ſhall hear of wars and rumours of wars, fear ye not: for ſuch things muſt needs be: but the end is not yet.

8 For nation ſhall riſe againſt nation and kingdom againſt kingdom, and there ſhall be earthquakes in places, and famines. Theſe are the beginning of ſorrows.

9 But look to yourſelves. For they ſhall deliver you up to councils, and in the ſynagogues you ſhall be beaten, and you ſhall ſtand before governors and kings for my ſake, for a teſtimony unto them.

10 And unto all nations the goſpel muſt firſt be preached.

‖ Matt. 10. 19. Luke 12. 11. & 21. 14.

11 ‖ And when they ſhall lead you delivering you up, be not thoughtful beforehand what you ſhall ſpeak; but whatſoever ſhall be given you in that hour, that ſpeak ye. For it is not you that ſpeak but the Holy Ghoſt.

12 And the brother ſhall betray his brother unto death, and the father his ſon; and children ſhall riſe up againſt the parents, and ſhall put them to death.

13 And you ſhall be hated by all men for my name's ſake. But he that ſhall endure unto the end, he ſhall be ſaved.

‖ Dan. 9. 27. Matt. 24. 15. Luke 21. 20.

14 ‖ And when you ſhall ſee the abomination of deſolation, ſtanding where it ought not: let him that readeth underſtand: then let thoſe who are in Judea, flee to the mountains:

15 And let him that is on the houſe-top, not go down into the houſe, nor enter therein to take any thing out of his houſe:

16 And let him that ſhall be in the field, not turn back again to take up his garment.

17 And wo to them that are with child, and that give ſuck in thoſe days.

18 But pray ye, that theſe things may not happen in winter.

19 For in thoſe days ſhall be ſuch tribulations as were not from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, neither ſhall be.

20 And unleſs the Lord had ſhortened the days, no fleſh ſhould be ſaved: but for the ſake of the elect which he hath choſen, he hath ſhortened the days.

‖ Matt 24. 23 Luke 17. 23 & 21 8. 21 ‖ And then if any man ſhall ſay to you: Lo, here is Chriſt; or lo, he is there: do not believe.

22 For there will riſe up falſe chriſts and falſe prophets, and they ſhall ſhew ſigns and wonders, to ſeduce, if it were poſſible, even the elect.

23 Take you heed therefore: behold I have foretold you all things.

‖ Iſai. 13. 10. Ezec. 32. 7. Joel 2. 10. 24 ‖ But in thoſe days, after that tribulation, the ſun ſhall be darkened, and the moon ſhall not give her light.

25 And the ſtars of heaven, ſhall be falling down, and the powers, that are in heaven ſhall be moved.

26 And then ſhall they ſee the Son of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

‖ Matt. 24. 31. 27 ‖ And then ſhall he ſend his angels, and ſhall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermoſt part of the earth to the uttermoſt part of heaven.

28 Now of the fig-tree learn ye a parable. When the branch thereof is now tender, and the leaves are come forth, you know that ſummer is very near:

29 So you alſo when you ſhall ſee theſe things come to paſs, know ye that it is very nigh, even at the doors.

30 Amen I ſay to you, that this generation ſhall not paſs, until all theſe things be done.

31 Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away but my words ſhall not paſs away.

32 But of that day or hour no man knoweth, neither the angels in heaven nor the Son, but the Father.

‖ Matt. 24. 42. 33 ‖ Take ye heed, watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 Even as a man who going into a far country, left his houſe; and gave authority to his ſervants over every work, and commanded the porter to watch.

35 Watch ye therefore (for you know not when the lord of the houſe cometh: at even, or at midnight, or at the cock crowing, or in the morning)

36 Leſt coming on a ſudden, he find you ſleeping.

37 And what I ſay to you, I ſay to all: Watch.

The firſt part of the hiſtory of the paſſion of Chriſt.

NOW the feaſt of the paſch, and of the azyms was after two days: and the chief prieſts and the Scribes ſought how they might by ſome wile lay hold on him, and kill him. Matt. 26. 2. Luke 22. 1. A. D. 33.

2 But they ſaid: Not on the feſtival day, leſt there ſhould be a tumult among the people.

‖ Matt. 26. 6. John 12. 1. 3 ‖ And when he was in Bethania in the houſe of Simon the leper, and was at meat: there came a woman having an alabaſter box of ointment of precious ſpikenard: and breaking the alabaſter box ſhe poured it out upon his head.

4 Now there were ſome that had indignation within themſelves, and ſaid: Why was this waſte of the ointment made?

5 For this ointment might have been ſold for more than three hundred pence and given to the poor. And they murmured againſt her.

6 But Jeſus ſaid: Let her alone, why do you moleſt her? She hath wrought a good work upon me.

7 For the poor you have always with you: and whenſoever you will, you may do them good: but me you have not always.

8 She hath done what ſhe could: ſhe is come before hand to anoint my body for the burial.

9 Amen I ſay to you, whereſoever this goſpel ſhall be preached in the whole world, that alſo which ſhe hath done, ſhall be told for a memorial of her.

‖ Matt. 26. 14. 10 ‖ And Judas Iſcariot one of the twelve, went to the chief prieſts, to betray him to them.

11 And they hearing it were glad: and promiſed to give him money. And he ſought how he might conveniently betray him.

† Matt. 26. 17. Luke 22. 7. 12 † Now on the firſt day of the unleavened bread when they ſacrificed the paſch, the diſciples ſay to him: Whither wilt thou that we go, and prepare for thee to eat the paſch?

14 And whereſoever he ſhall go in, ſay

CHAP. XIII. VER. 32. Nor the Son. Not that the Son of God is abſolutely ignorant of the day of judgment, but that he knoweth it not, as our teacher: i. e. he knoweth it not ſo as to teach it to us, as not being expedient.

to the master of the house: The master saith, Where is my refectory: where I may eat the pasch with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large dining-room furnished: and there prepare ye for us.

‡ John 13. 21. 18 And when they were at table and eating, Jesus saith: Amen I say to you, ‡ that one of you who eateth with me, shall betray me.

19 But they began to be sorrowful, and to say to him one by one: Is it I?

20 And he said to them: One of the twelve who dippeth his hand in the dish with me.

‖ Psal. 40. 10. Acts 1. 16. 21 And the Son of man indeed goeth, ‖ as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the Son of man shall be betrayed. It were better for him, if that man had not been born.

‡ Matt. 26. 26. 1 Cor. 11. 24. 22 ‡ And whilst they were eating, Jesus took bread: and blessing broke, and gave to them, and said: Take ye, This is my body.

23 And having taken the chalice, giving thanks he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said to them: This is my blood of the new testament, which shall be shed for many.

25 Amen I say unto you, that I will drink no more of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I shall drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went forth to the mount of olives.

‖ John 16. 32. ‡ Zach. 13. 7. 27 And Jesus saith to them: ‖ You willl all be scandalized in me this night: for it is written: ‡ I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep shall be dispersed,

28 But after I shall be risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 But Peter saith to him: Although all shall be scandalized in thee, yet not I.

30 And Jesus saith to him: Amen I say to thee, to day even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spoke the more vehemently: Although I should die together with thee, I will not deny thee: And in like manner also said they all.

‖ Matt. 26. 36. Luke 22. 40. 32 ‖ And they come to a farm called Gethsemani. And he saith to his disciples: Sit you here while I pray.

33 And he taketh Peter and James and John with him; and he began to fear, and to be heavy.

34 And he saith to them: My soul is sorrowful even unto death: stay you here, and watch.

35 And when he had gone forward a little, he fell flat on the ground: and he prayed, that if it were possible, the hour pass from him:

36 And he said: Abba, Father, all things are possible to thee, take away this chalice from me, but not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping. And he saith to Peter: Simon, sleepest thou? couldst thou not watch one hour?

38 Watch ye, and pray that you enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

39 And going away again, he prayed, saying the same words.

40 And when he returned he found them again asleep (for their eyes were heavy) and they knew not what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith to them: Sleep ye now, and take rest. It is enough: the hour is come: behold the Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go. Behold, he that will betray me, is at hand.

‖ Matt. 26. 47. Luke 22. 47. John 18. 3. 43 And while he was yet speaking, cometh Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve: ‖ and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the Scribes and the ancients.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a sign, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he, lay hold on him, and lead him away cautiously.

45 And when he was come, immediately going up to him, he saith: Hail, Rabbi: and he kissed him.

46 But they laid hands on him, and held him.

47 And one of them that stood by, drawing a sword, struck the servant of the chief priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answering, said to them: Are you come out as against a robber with swords and staves to apprehend me?

49 I was daily with you in the temple

54 And Peter followed him a-far off even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants at the fire, and warmed himself.

‖ Matt. 26. 59. 55 ‖ And the chief priests and all the council sought for evidence against Jesus, that they might put him to death, and they found none.

56 For many bore false witness against him, and their evidence did not agree.

57 And some rising up, bore false witness against him, saying:

‖ John 2. 19. 58 We heard him say: ‖ I will destroy this temple made with hands, and within three days I will build another not made with hands.

59 And their witness did not agree.

60 And the high-priest rising up in the midst, asked Jesus, saying: Answerest thou nothing to the things that are laid to thy charge by these men?

61 But he held his peace and answered nothing. Again the high-priest asked him and said to him: Art thou the Christ the Son of the blessed God?

‖ Matt. 24. 30. & 26. 64. 62 And Jesus said to him: I am: ‖ And you shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and coming with the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high-priest rending his garments, saith: What need we any farther witnesses?

64 You have heard the blasphemy. What think you? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face and to buffet him, and to say to him: Prophecy: and the servants struck him with the palms of their hands.

‖ Matt. 26. 69. Luke 22. 56. John 18. 17. 66 ‖ Now when Peter was in the court below, there cometh one of the maid-servants of the high-priest:

67 And when she had seen Peter warming himself, looking on him she saith: Thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying: I neither know nor understand what thou sayest. And he went forth before the court, and the cock crew.

‖ Matt. 26. 71. 69 ‖ And again a maid-servant seeing him, began to say to the standers-by: This is one of them.

‡ Luke 22. 59. John 18. 25. 70 But he denied again. ‡ And after a while they that stood by, said again to Peter: Surely thou art one of them: for thou art also a Galilean.

‖ Matt. 26. 75. John 13. 38. 72 And immediately the cock crew again. ‖ And Peter remembered the word that Jesus had said to him: Before the cock crow twice thou shalt deny me thrice. And he began to weep.

CHAP. XV.

The continuation of the history of the passion.

Matt. 27. 1. Luke 22. 66. John 18. 28. AND straightway in the morning the chief priests holding a consultation with the ancients and the Scribes and the whole council, bound Jesus and led him away, and delivered him to Pilate,

2 And Pilate asked him: Art thou the king of the Jews? But he answering, saith to him: Thou sayest it.

‖ Matt. 27. 12. Luke 23. 2. John 18. 33. 3 ‖ And the chief priests accused him in many things.

4 And Pilate again asked him, saying: Answerest thou nothing? behold in how many things they accuse thee.

5 But Jesus still answered nothing; so that Pilate wondered.

6 Now on the festival day he was wont to release unto them one of the prisoners, whomsoever they demanded.

7 And there was one called Barabbas, who was put in prison with seditious men, who in the sedition had committed murder.

8 And when the multitude was come up, they began to desire what he always done to them.

9 And Pilate answered them, and said: Will you that I release to you the king of the Jews?

10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him up through envy.

11 But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas to them.

‖ Matt. 27. 22. Luke 23. 14. 12 ‖ And Pilate again answering, saith to them: What will you then that I do to the king of the Jews?

‡ John 18. 40. 13 ‡ But they again cried out: Crucify him.

14 And Pilate saith to them: Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more: Crucify him.

15 So Pilate being willing to satisfy the people, released to them Barabbas, and delivered up Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 ‖ And the soldiers led him into the court of the palace, and they call together the whole band. ‖ Matt 27. 27. John 19. 2.

17 And they cloath him with purple, and platting a crown of thorns, they put it upon him.

18 And they began to salute him: Hail, king of the Jews?

19 And they struck his head with a reed: And they did spit on him, and bowing their knees, they worshipped him.

20 And after they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own garments on him, and they led him out to crucify him.

21 ‖ And they forced one Simon of Cyrene who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and of Rufus, to take up his cross. ‖ Matt. 27. 32. Luke 23. 26.

22 And they bring him into the place called Golgotha, which being interpreted is, The place of Calvary.

23 And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he took it not.

24 ‖ And crucifying him, they divided his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. ‖ Matt. 27. 35. Luke 23. 34. John 19. 23.

25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.

26 And the inscription of his cause was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And with him they crucify two thieves, the one on his right hand and the other on his left.

28 ‖ And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith: And with the wicked he was reputed. ‖ Isai. 53. 12.

29 And they that passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads, and saying: ‡ Vah, thou that destroyest the temple of God, and in three days buildest it up again: ‡ John 2. 19.

30 Save thyself, coming down from the cross.

31 In like manner also the chief priests with the Scribes mocking said one to another: He saved others, himself he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel come down now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him, reviled him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole earth until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying: ‖ Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabacthani? Which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? ‖ Psal. xx. 2. Matt. 27. 46.

35 And some of the standers by hearing, said: Behold he calleth Elias.

36 And one running and filling a sponge with vinegar, and putting it upon a reed, gave him to drink, saying: Stay, let us see if Elias will come to take him down.

37 And Jesus having cried out with a loud voice gave up the ghost.

38 And the veil of the temple was rent in two, from the top to the bottom.

39 And the centurion who stood over-against him, seeing that crying out in this manner he had given up the ghost, said: Indeed this man was the Son of God.

40 ‖ And there were also women looking on a-far off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less, and of Joseph, and Salome: ‖ Matt. 27. 55.

41 Who also when he was in Galilee, followed him, ‖ and ministered to him, and many other women that came up with him to Jerusalem. ‖ Luke 8. 2.

42 ‖ And when evening was now come (because it was the Parasceve, that is, the day before the Sabbath.) ‖ Matt. 27. 57. Luke 23. 50.

43 Joseph of Arimathea, a noble counsellor, who was also himself looking for the kingdom of God, came and went in boldly to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. John 19. 38.

44 But Pilate wondered that he should be already dead. And sending for the centurion, he asked him if he were already dead.

45 And when he had understood it by the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46 And Joseph buying fine linen and taking him down, wrapped him up in the fine linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewed out of a rock, and he rolled a stone to the door of the sepuchre.

47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joseph beheld where he was laid.

Christ's resurrection and ascension.

AND when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalen and Mary the mother of Matt. 28. 1. Luke 24. 1. John 20. 1.

CHAP. XV. VER, 25. The third hour. The ancient account divided the day into four parts, which were named from the hour from which they began: the first, third, sixth and ninth hour. Our Lord was crucified a little before noon; before the third hour had quite expired; but when the sixth hour was near at hand.

James and Salome bought ſweet ſpices, that coming they might anoint Jeſus.

2 And very early in the morning the firſt day of the week, they come to the ſepulchre, the ſun being now riſen.

3 And they ſaid one to another: Who ſhall roll us back the ſtone from the door of the ſepulchre?

4 And looking, they ſaw the ſtone rolled back. For it was very great.

5 ‖ And entering into the ſepulchre, they ſaw a young man ſitting on the right ſide, cloathed with a white robe: and they were aſtoniſhed.

‖ Matt. 28. 5. Luke 24. 4. John 20. 12.

6 And he ſaith to them: Be not affrighted; you ſeek Jeſus of Nazareth, who was crucified: he is riſen, he is not here, behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go tell his diſciples, and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee: there you ſhall ſee him, ‖ as he told you.

‖ Supra 14. 28.

8 But they going out, fled from the ſepulchre: for a trembling and fear had ſeized them: and they ſaid nothing to any man: for they were afraid.

9 But he riſing early ‖ the firſt day of the week, appeared firſt to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had caſt ſeven devils.

‖ John 20. 16.

10 She went and told them that had been with him, who were mourning and weeping.

11 And they hearing that he was alive and had been ſeen by her, did not believe.

12 ‖ and after that he appeared in another form to two of them walking, as they were going into the country.

‖ Luke 24. 13.

13 And they going told it to the reſt: neither did they believe them.

14 At length he appeared to the eleven as they were at table: and he upbraided them with their incredulity and hardneſs of heart: becauſe they did not believe them who had ſeen him after he was riſen again.

15 And he ſaid to them: Go ye into the whole world and preach the goſpel to every creature.

16 He that believeth and is baptized, ſhall be ſaved: but he that believeth not, ſhall be condemned.

17 And theſe ſigns ſhall follow them that believe: ‖ In my name they ſhall caſt out devils: ‡ they ſhall ſpeak with new tongues:

‖ Acts 16. 18. ‡ Acts 2. 4. & 10. 46.

18 ‖ They ſhall take up ſerpents: and if they ſhall drink any deadly thing, it ſhall not hurt them: ‡ they ſhall lay their hands upon the ſick, and they ſhall recover.

‖ Acts. 28. 5. ‡ Acts 28. 8.

19 And the Lord Jeſus, after he had ſpoken to them, ‖ was taken up into heaven, and ſitteth on the right hand of God.

‖ Luke. 24. 51.

20 But they going forth preached every where: the Lord co-operating with them, and confirming the word with ſigns that followed.

VER. 2. The ſun being now riſen. They ſet out before it was light, to go to the ſepulchre: but the ſun was riſen when they arrived there. Or figuratively, the ſun here ſpoken of is the ſun of juſtice, Chriſt Jeſus our Lord, who was riſen before their coming.

THE

HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE.

ST. LUKE was a native of Antioch, the capital of Syria; he was by profeſſion a phyſician, and ſome ancient writers ſay that he was very ſkilful in painting. He was converted by St. Paul, and became his diſciple and companion in his travels, and fellow-labourer in the miniſtry of the Goſpel. He wrote in Greek about twenty four years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

The conception of John the Baptiſt, and of Chriſt: the viſitation and canticle of the Bleſſed Virgin: the birth of the Baptiſt, and the canticle of Zachary.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to ſet forth in order a narration of the things that have been accompliſhed among us:

2 According as they have delivered them unto us, who from the beginning were eye-witneſſes and miniſters of the word:

3 It ſeemed good to me alſo, having diligently attained to all things from the beginning, to write to thee in order, moſt excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mayeſt know the truth of thoſe words in which thou haſt been inſtructed.

5 There was in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain prieſt named Zachary, ‖ of the courſe of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name Elizabeth. ‖ 1 Par. 24. 10.

6 And they were both juſt before God, walking in all the commandments and Juſtifications of the Lord without blame,

7 And they had no ſon, for that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were well advanced in years.

8 And it came to paſs, that while he executed the prieſtly office before God, in the order of his courſe,

9 According to the cuſtom of the prieſtly office, it was his lot to offer incenſe, going into the temple of the Lord;

10 ‖ And all the multitude of the people was praying without at the hour of incenſe. ‖ Exod. 30. 7. Levit. 16. 17.

11 And there appeared to him an Angel of the Lord, ſtanding on the right ſide of the altar of incenſe.

12 And Zachary ſeeing him was troubled, and fear fell upon him:

13 But the Angel ſaid to him: Fear not, Zachary, for thy prayer is heard: and thy wife Elizabeth ſhall bear thee a ſon, and thou ſhalt call his name John;

14 And thou ſhalt have joy and gladneſs, and many ſhall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he ſhall be great before the Lord: and ſhall drink no wine nor ſtrong drink,

CHAP. 1. VER. 5. Of the courſe of Abia. i. e. Of the Rank of Abia, which word in the Greek is commonly put for the employment of one day; but here for the functions of a whole week. For, by the appointment of David, 1. Paral. 24. the deſcendants from Aaron were divided into twenty-four families, of which the eighth was Abia, from whom deſcended this Zacharias, who at this time was in the week of his prieſtly functions.

and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost even from his mother's womb:

16 And he shall convert many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God:

17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias: ‖ that he may turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the incredulous to the wisdom of the just, to prepare for the Lord a perfect people.

‖ Malac. 4. 6. Matt. 11. 14.

18 And Zachary said to the Angel: Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife is advanced in years.

19 And the Angel answering, said to him: I am Gabriel who stand before God: and am sent to speak to thee, and to bring thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be able to speak until the day wherein these things shall come to pass: because thou hast not believed my words, which shall be fulfilled in their time.

21 And the people were waiting for Zachary: and they wondered that he staid so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out he could not speak to them, and they understood that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he made signs to them, and remained dumb.

23 And it came to pass, after the days of his office were accomplished, that he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying:

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he hath had regard to take away my reproach among men.

26 And in the sixth month, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee called Nazareth,

27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the name of the virgin was Mary.

28 And the Angel being come in, said to her: Hail full of grace, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she had heard, she was troubled at his saying, and thought with herself what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the Angel said to her: Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found grace with God:

‖ Isai. 7. 14.

31 ‖ Behold thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and shalt bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus.

‡ Infra 2. 21.

32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the most High, and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of David his father: ‖ and he shall reign in the house of Jacob for ever,

‖ Dan. 7. 14 & 27. Micheas 4. 7.

33 And of his kingdom there shall be no end.

34 And Mary said to the Angel: How shall this be done, because I know not man?

35 And the Angel answering, said to her: The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the most High shall overshadow thee. And therefore also the Holy which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

36 And behold thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her that is called barren:

37 Because no word shall be impossible with God.

38 And Mary said: Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it done to me according to thy word. And the Angel departed from her.

39 And Mary rising up in those days, went into the mountainous country with haste, into a city of Juda:

40 And she entered into the house of Zachary, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the infant leaped in her womb: and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42 And she cried out with a loud voice, and said: Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For behold as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in my ears, the infant in my womb leaped for joy.

45 And blessed art thou that hast believed, because those things shall be accomplished that were spoken to thee by the Lord.

46 And Mary said: My soul doth magnify the Lord:

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my saviour.

48 Because he hath regarded the humility of his hand-maid: for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done great things to me: and holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generations, to them that fear him.

51 He hath shewed might ‖ in his arm: he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

‖ Isai. 51. 9. Psal. 32. 10.

VER. 48. Shall call me blessed. These words are a prediction of that honour which the church in all ages should pay to blessed the Virgin. Let Protestants examine whether they are any way concerned in this prophecy.

52 He hath put down the mighty from their ſeat, and hath exalted the humble.

53 ‡ He hath filled the hungry with good things: and the rich he hath ſent away empty.

54 He hath received Iſrael his ſervant, being mindful of his mercy.

55 As he ſpoke to our fathers, ‖ to Abraham and to his ſeed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months: and ſhe returned to her own houſe.

57 Now Elizabeth's full time of being delivered was come, and ſhe brought forth a ſon.

58 And her neighbours and kinsfolks heard that the Lord hath ſhewed his great mercy towards her, and they congratulated with her.

59 And it came to paſs that on the eight day they came to circumciſe the child, and they called him by his father's name Zachary.

60 And his mother anſwering, ſaid: Not ſo, but he ſhall be called John.

61 And they ſaid to her: There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made ſigns to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And demanding a table-book he wrote, ‖ ſaying: John is his name. And they all wondered.

64 And immediately his mouth was opened, and his tongue looſed, and he ſpoke bleſſing God.

65 And fear came upon all their neighbours: and all theſe words were divulged over all the mountainous country of Judea.

66 And all they who had heard them laid them up in their heart, ſaying: What a one, think ye, ſhall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And Zachary his father was filled with the Holy Ghoſt: and he propheſied, ſaying:

68 ‖ Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, becauſe he hath viſited and wrought the redemption of his people:

69 ‡ And hath raiſed up a horn of ſalvation to us, in the houſe of David his ſervant.

70 ‖ As he ſpoke by the mouth of his holy prophets, who are from the beginning:

71 Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us:

72 To ſhew mercy to our fathers: and to remember his holy covenant.

73 ‡ The oath which he ſwore to Abraham our father, that he would grant to us:

74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, we may ſerve him without fear,

75 In holineſs and juſtice before him, all our days.

76 And thou child, ſhalt be called the prophet of the moſt High: for thou ſhalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his way.

77 ‖ To give knowledge of ſalvation to his people, unto the remiſſion of their ſins.

78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God: in which ‡ the Orient, from on high, hath viſited us.

79 To enlighten them that ſit in darkneſs, and in the ſhadow of death: to direct our feet into the way of peace.

80 And the child grew up, and was ſtrengthened in ſpirit: and was in the deſerts until the day of his manifeſtation to Iſrael.

The birth of Chriſt: his preſentation in the temple: Simeon's prophecy. Chriſt at twelve years of age is found amongſt the doctors.

AND it came to paſs that in thoſe days there went out a decree from Cæſar Auguſtus, that the whole world ſhould be enrolled.

2 This enrolling was firſt made by Cyrinus the governor of Syria.

3 And all went to be enrolled, every one into his own city.

4 And Joſeph alſo went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth into Judea, to the city of ‡ David, which is called ‖ Bethlehem: becauſe he was of the houſe and family of David,

5 To be enrolled with Mary his eſpouſed wife who was with child.

6 And it came to paſs, that when they were there, her days were accompliſhed, that ſhe ſhould be delivered.

7 And ſhe brought forth her firſt-born ſon, and wrapped him up in ſwadling clothes, and laid him in a manger: becauſe there was no room for them in the inn.

VER. 7. Her firſt born. The meaning is, not that ſhe had afterward any other child; but it is a way of ſpeech among the Hebrews, to call them alſo the firſt-born, who are the only children. See Annot. Matt. 1. ver. 25.

shepherds watching, and keeping the night-watches over their flock.

9 And behold an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the brightness of God shone round about them, and they feared with a great fear.

10 And the angel said to them: Fear not: for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, that shall be to all the people:

11 For this day is born to you a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you: You shall find the infant wrapped in swadling clothes, and laid in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying:

14 Glory to God in the highest: and on earth peace to men of good will.

15 And it came to pass, that after the angels departed from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: Let us go over to Bethlehem, and let us see this word that is come to pass, which the Lord hath shewed to us.

16 And they came with haste: and they found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in a manger.

17 And seeing, they understood of the word that had been spoken to them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard wondered: and at those things that were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these words, pondering them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all the things they had heard, and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 ‖ And after eight days were accomplished that the child should be circumcised: his name was called ‡ Jesus, which was called by the angel, before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And after the days of her purification ‖ according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they carried him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 As it is written in the law of the Lord: ‡ That every male opening the womb shall be called holy to the Lord.

24 And to offer a sacrifice according as it is written ‖ in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle doves, or two young pidgeons.

25 And behold there was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon, and this man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Ghost was in him.

26 And he had received an answer from the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Christ of the Lord.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple. And when his parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him according to the custom of the law.

28 He also took him into his arms, and blessed God, and said:

29 Now thou dost dismiss thy servant, O Lord, according to thy word in peace:

30 Because my eyes have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 A light to the revelation of the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people of Israel.

33 And his father and mother were wondering at these things, which were spoken concerning him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his mother: ‖ Behold this child is set for the ruin, and for the resurrection of many in Israel, and for a sign which shall be contradicted,

35 And thy own soul a sword shall pierce, that out of many hearts thoughts may be revealed.

36 And there was a prophetess called Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was far advanced in years, and had lived with her husband seven years from her virginity.

37 And she was a widow until fourscore and four years: who departed not from the temple, by fastings and prayers serving night and day.

38 Now she at the same hour coming in, gave praise to the Lord: and spoke of him to all that looked for the redemption of Israel.

39 And after they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong, full of wisdom: and the grace of God was in him.

41 And his parents went every year to Jerusalem, ‖ at the solemn day of the pasch.

VER. 34. For the ruin, &c. Christ came for the salvation of all men: but here Simeon prophesies what would come to pass, that many through their own wilful blindness and obstinacy would not believe in Christ, nor receive his doctrine which therefore would be ruin to them: but to others a resurrection by their believing in him and obeying his commandments.

* A.D. 12. Secundum Vul. 8.

42 And when he was twelve years * old, they went up to Jeruſalem according to the cuſtom of the feaſt.

43 And after they had fullfilled the days, when they returned, the child Jeſus remained in Jeruſalem, and his parents knew it not.

44 And thinking that he was in the company, they came a day's journey, and ſought him among their kinsfolks and acquaintance.

45 And not finding him, they returned into Jeruſalem, ſeeking him.

46 And it came to paſs, that after three days they found him in the temple, ſitting in the midſt of the doctors, hearing them, and aſking them queſtions.

47 And all, that heard him, were aſtoniſhed at his wiſdom, and his anſwers.

48 And ſeeing him, they wondered. And his mother ſaid to him: Son, why haſt thou done ſo to us? behold thy father and I have ſought thee ſorrowing.

49 And he ſaid to them: How is it that you ſought me? did you not know, that I muſt be about the things that are my Father's?

50 And they underſtood not the word, that he ſpoke unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth: and was ſubject to them. And his mother kept all theſe words in her heart.

52 And Jeſus increaſed in wiſdom, and age, and grace with God and men.

CHAP. III.

John's miſſion and preaching. Chriſt is baptized by him.

* A.D. Secundum Vul. 28.

NOW in the fifteenth year * of the reign of Tiberius Cæſar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother tetrarch of Iturea, and the country of Trachonitis, and Lyſanias tetrarch of Abilina, ‖ Acts 4. 6. 2 ‖ Under the high prieſts Annas and Caiphas: the word of the Lord came to John, the ſon of Zachary, in the deſert.

‖ Matt. 3 1. Mark 1. 4. 3 ‖ And he came into all the country about the Jordan, preaching the baptiſm of penance for the remiſſion of ſins,

‖ Iſa. 40. 3. John 1. 23. 4 As it is written in the book of the words of Iſaias the prophet: ‡ A voice of one crying in the wilderneſs: Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths ſtraight:

5 Every valley ſhall be filled: and every mountain and hill ſhall be brought low: and the crooked ſhall be made ſtraight, and the rough ways plain:

6 And all fleſh ſhall ſee the ſalvation of God.

7 He ſaid therefore to the multitudes that came forth to be baptized by him: ‖ Ye offſpring of vipers, who hath ſhewed you to flee from the wrath to come? ‖ Matt. 3. 7. & 23. 33.

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of penance, and do not begin to ſay: We have Abraham for our father. For I ſay to you, that God is able of theſe ſtones to raiſe up children to Abraham.

9 For now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit, ſhall be cut down and caſt into the fire.

10 And the people aſked him ſaying: What then ſhall we do?

11 And he anſwering, ſaid to them: ‖ He that hath two coats, let him give to him that hath none: and he that hath meat, let him do in like manner. ‖ James 2. 15. 1. John 3. 17.

12 And the publicans alſo came to be baptized, and ſaid to him: Maſter, what ſhall we do?

13 But he ſaid to them: Do nothing more than that which is appointed you.

14 And the ſoldiers alſo aſked him, ſaying: And what ſhall we do? And he ſaid to them: Do violence to no man: neither calumniate any man: and be content with your pay.

15 And as people were of opinion, and all were thinking in their hearts of John, that perhaps he might be the Chriſt:

16 John anſwered ſaying to them all: ‖ I indeed baptize you with water: but there ſhall come one mightier than I, the latchet of whoſe ſhoes I am not worthy to looſe: ‡ he ſhall baptize you with the Holy Ghoſt, and with fire: ‖ Matt. 3. 11. Mark 1. 8. John 1. 26. ‡ Matt. 3. 11. Acts 1. 5. 11. 16. & 19. 4.

17 Whoſe fan is in his hand, and he will purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire.

18 And many other things exhorting did he preach to the people.

19 ‖ But Herod the tetrarch, when he was reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done. ‖ Matt. 14. 4. Mark 6. 17.

20 He added this alſo above all, and ſhut up John in priſon.

21 ‖ Now it came to paſs when all the people were baptized, that Jeſus alſo being baptized and praying, heaven was opened: ‖ Matt. 3. 16. Mark 1. 10. John 1. 32.

22 And the Holy Ghoſt deſcended in a bodily ſhape as a dove upon him: and a voice came from heaven: ‡ Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleaſed. ‡ Matt. 3. 17. & 17. 5. Infra 9. 35. 2 Pet. 1. 17.

23 And Jesus himself was beginning about the age of thirty years: being (as it was supposed) the son of Joseph, who was of Heli, who was of Mathat,

24 Who was of Levi, who was of Melchi, who was of Janne, who was of Joseph,

25 Who was of Mathathias, who was of Amos, who was of Nahum, who was of Hesli, who was of Nagge,

26 Who was of Mahath, who was of Mathathias, who was of Semei, who was of Joseph, who was of Juda,

27 Who was of Joanna, who was of Reza, who was of Zorobabel, who was of Salathiel, who was of Neri,

28 Who was of Melchi, who was of Addi, who was of Cosan, who was of Elmadan, who was of Her,

29 Who was of Jesus, who was of Eliezer, who was of Jorim, who was of Mathat, who was of Levi,

30 Who was of Simeon, who was of Judas, who was of Joseph, who was of Jona, who was of Eliakim,

31 Who was of Melea, who was of Menna, who was of Mathatha, who was of Nathan, who was of David,

32 Who was of Jesse, who was of Obed, who was of Booz, who was of Salmon, who was of Naasson,

33 Who was of Aminadab, who was of Aram, who was of Efron, who was of Phares, who was of Judas,

34 Who was of Jacob, who was of Isaac, who was of Abraham, who was of Thare, who was of Nachor,

35 Who was of Sarug, who was of Ragau, who was of Phaleg, who was of Heber, who was of Sale,

36 Who was of Cainan, who was of Arphaxad, who was of Sem, who was of Noe, who was of Lamech,

37 Who was of Mathusale, who was of Henoch, who was of Jared, who was of Malaleel, who was of Cainan, 38 Who was of Henos, who was of Seth, who was of Adam, who was of God.

CHAP. IV.

Christ's fasting, and temptation. He is persecuted in Nazareth: his miracles in Capharnaum.

Matt. 4. 1. Mark 1. 2. AND Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost, returned from the Jordan: and was led by the spirit into the desert,

2 For the space of forty days, and was tempted by the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were ended he was hungry.

3 And the devil said to him: If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Jesus answered him: It is written: ‖ That man liveth not by bread alone, but by every word of God. ‖ Deut. 8. 3. Matt. 4. 4.

5 And the devil led him into a high mountain, and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time:

6 And he said to him: To thee will I give all this power, and the glory of them: for to me they are delivered, and to whom I will I give them.

7 If thou therefore wilt adore before me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answering said to him: ‖ It is written: Thou shalt adore the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. ‖ Deut. 6. 13. & 10. 20.

9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinacle of the temple, and said to him: If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence.

10 ‖ For it is written, that he hath given his Angels charge over thee, that they keep thee: ‖ Psal. 90. 11.

11 And that in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said to him: It is said: ‖ Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. ‖ Deut. 6. 16.

13 And when all the temptation was ended, the devil departed from him for a time.

14 ‖ And Jesus turned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and the fame of him went out through the whole country. ‖ Matt. 4. 12. Mark 1. 14.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, and was extolled by all.

16 ‡ And he came to Nazareth where he was brought up, and he went into the synagogue according to his custom on the sabbath day, and he rose up to read. ‡ Matt. 13. 54. Mark 6. 1. John 4. 45.

17 And the book of Isaias the prophet was delivered unto him. And as he unfolded the book, he found the place where it was written:

18 ‖ The Spirit of the Lord is upon me: wherefore he hath anointed me, to preach the gospel to the poor he hath sent me, to heal the contrite of heart, ‖ Isai. 61. 1.

CHAP. III. VER. 23. Who was of Heli. St. Joseph, who by nature was the son of Jacob (St. Matt. i. 16.) in the account of the law was son of Heli. For Heli and Jacob were brothers, by the same mother: and Heli, who was the elder, dying without issue, Jacob, as the law directed, married his widow; in consequence of such marriage, his son Joseph was reputed in the law the son of Heli.

19 To preach deliverance to the captives, and ſight to the blind, to ſet at liberty them that are bruiſed, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of reward.

20 And when he had folded the book, he reſtored it to the miniſter, and ſat down. And the eyes of all in the ſynagogue were fixed on him.

21 And he began to ſay to them: This day is fulfilled this ſcripture in your ears.

22 And all gave teſtimony to him: and they wondered at the words of grace that proceeded from his mouth, and they ſaid: Is not this the ſon of Joſeph?

23 And he ſaid to them: Doubtleſs you will ſay to me this ſimilitude: Phyſician heal thyſelf: as great things as we have heard done in Capharnaum, do alſo here in thy own country.

24 And he ſaid: Amen I ſay to you, that no prophet is accepted in his own country.

3 Kings 17. 9. 25 In truth I ſay to you, ‖ there were many widows in the days of Elias in Iſrael, when heaven was ſhut up three years and ſix months: when there was a great famine throughout all the land:

26 And to none of them was Elias ſent, but to a widow at Sarepta of Sidon.

4 Kings 5. 14. 27 ‖ And there were many lepers in Iſrael in the time of Eliſeus the prophet: and none of them was cleanſed but Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the ſynagogue, hearing theſe things, were filled with anger.

29 And they roſe up and thruſt him out of the city: and they brought him to the brow of the hill, whereon their city was built, that they might caſt him down headlong.

30 But he paſſing through the midſt of them, went his way.

‖ Matt. 4. 13. Mark 1. 21. 31 ‖ And he went down into Capharnaum a city of Galilee, and there he taught them on the ſabbath-days.

† Matt. 7. 28. 32 † And they were aſtoniſhed at his doctrine: for his word was with power.

‡ Mark 1. 23. 33 ‖ And in the ſynagogue there was a man who had an unclean devil, and he cried out with a loud voice,

34 Saying: Let us alone, what have we to do with thee Jeſus of Nazareth? art thou come to deſtroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy one of God.

35 And Jeſus rebuked him, ſaying: Hold thy peace, and go out of him. And when the devil had thrown him into the midſt, he went out of him, and hurt him not at all

36 And there came fear upon all, and they talked among themſelves, ſaying: What word is this, for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean ſpirits, and they go out?

37 And the fame of him was publiſhed in every place of the country.

38 And Jeſus riſing up out of the ſynagogue, went into Simon's houſe. ‖ And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever: and they beſought him for her. ‖ Matt. 8. 14. Mark 1. 31.

39 And ſtanding over her, he commanded the fever: and it left her. And immediately riſing, ſhe miniſtered to them.

40 And when the ſun was down, all they that had any ſick with divers diſeaſes, brought them to him. But he laying his hands on every one of them, healed them.

41 ‖ And devils went out of many, crying out and ſaying: Thou art the Son of God. And he rebuking them ſuffered them not to ſpeak: for they knew that he was Chriſt. ‖ Mark 1. 34.

42 And when it was day, going out he came into a deſert place: and the multitudes ſought him, and came to him: and they detained him that he ſhould not depart from them.

43 And he ſaid to them: I muſt preach the kingdom of God to other cities alſo: for therefore am I ſent.

44 And he was preaching in the ſynagogues of Galilee.

CHAP. V.

The miraculous draught of fiſhes. The cure of the leper and of the paralytick. The call of Matthew.

AND it came to paſs, that when the multitudes preſſed upon him to hear the word of God, he ſtood by the lake of Geneſareth.

‖ Matt. 4. 18. Mark 1. 16. 2 ‖ And he ſaw two ſhips ſtanding by the lake: but the fiſhermen were gone out of them, and were waſhing their nets.

3 And going up into one of the ſhips that was Simon's he deſired him to thruſt out a little from the land. And ſitting down he taught the multitudes out of the ſhip.

4 Now when he had ceaſed to ſpeak, he ſaid to Simon: Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon anſwering, ſaid to him: Maſter, we have laboured all the night, and have taken nothing: but at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had done this they encloſed a very great multitude of fiſhes, and their net was breaking.

7 And they beckoned to their partners that were in the other ſhip, that they ſhould come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they were almost sinking.

8 Which when Simon Peter saw, he fell down at Jesus's knees, saying: Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was wholly astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so were also James and John the sons of Zebedee, who were Simon's partners. And Jesus saith to Simon: Fear not: from henceforth thou shalt be taking men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, leaving all things they followed him.

‖ Matt. 8. 2. Mark 1. 40. 12 ‖ And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of the leprosy, who seeing Jesus, and falling on his face, besought him, saying: Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And stretching forth his hand he touched him, saying: I will: Be thou cleansed. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

‖ Lev. 14. 4. 14 And he charged him to tell no man: but, Go, shew thyself to the priest, ‖ and offer for thy cleansing according as Moses commanded for a testimony to them.

15 But the fame of him went abroad the more: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities.

16 And he retired into the desert, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, that he sat teaching. And there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, that were come out of every town of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was to heal them.

‖ Matt. 9. 2. Mark 2. 3. 18 ‖ And behold men brought in a bed a man who had the palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went up upon the roof, and let him down through the tiles with his bed into the midst, before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said: Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to think, saying: who is this who speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 And when Jesus knew their thoughts, answering he said to them: What is it you think in your hearts?

23 Which is it easier to say: Thy sins are forgiven thee: or to say: Arise, and walk?

24 But that you may know that the Son man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he said to the sick of the palsy) I say to thee, Arise take up thy bed, and go into thy house.

25 And immediately rising up before them, he took up the bed on which he lay: and he went away into his own house, glorifying God.

26 And all were astonished, and they glorified God. And they were filled with fear, saying: We have seen wonderful things to day.

‖ Matt. 9. 9. Mark 2. 14. 27 ‖ And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting at the custom-house, and he saith to him: Follow me.

28 And leaving all things, he rose up and followed him.

29 And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans, and of others, that were at table with them.

‖ Mark 2. 16. 30 ‖ But their Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying to his disciples: Why do you eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering, said to them: They who are in health need not the physician: but they that are sick.

32 I came not to call the just, but sinners to penance.

‖ Mark 2. 18. 33 And they said to him: ‖ Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and the disciples of the Pharisees in like manner: but thine eat and drink.

34 And he said to them: Can you make the children of the bridegroom fast, whilst the bridegroom is with them?

35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, then shall they fast in those days.

36 And he spoke also a similitude to them, That no man putteth a piece from a new garment upon an old garment: otherwise he both rendeth the new, and the piece taken from the new agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: otherwise the new wine will burst the bottles, and it will be spilled, and the bottles will be lost.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 And no man drinking old, hath presently a mind to new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

Chriſt excuſes his diſciples: He cures upon the ſabbath-day: chuſes the twelve, and makes a ſermon to them.

Matt. 12. 1. Mark 2. 23. AND it came to paſs on the ſecond firſt ſabbath, that as he went through the corn-fields, his diſciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat rubbing them in their hands.

2 And ſome of the Phariſees ſaid to them: Why do you that which is not lawful to do on the ſabbath-days?

3 And Jeſus anſwering them, ſaid: Have you not read ſo much as this, what David did, when himſelf was hungry, and they that were with him:

‖ 1 Kings 21. 6. 4 ‖ How he went into the houſe of God, and took and eat the bread of propoſition, and gave to them that were with him, which ‖ Exod. 29. 33. is not lawful to eat ‡ but only for the prieſts?

Lev. 24. 9. 5 And he ſaid to them: The Son of man is Lord alſo of the ſabbath.

6 And it came to paſs alſo on another ſabbath, that he entered into the ſynagogue, ‖ Matt. 12. 10. Mark 3. 1. and taught. ‖ And there was a man, whoſe right hand was withered.

7 And the Scribes and Phariſees watched to ſee if he would heal on the ſabbath: that they might find an accuſation againſt him.

8 But he knew their thoughts: and ſaid to the man who had the withered hand: Ariſe, and ſtand forth in the midſt. And he riſing ſtood forth.

9 Then Jeſus ſaid to them: I aſk you, if it be lawful on the ſabbath days to do good, or to do evil: to ſave life, or to deſtroy?

10 And looking round about on them all, he ſaid to the man: Stretch forth thy hand. And he ſtretched it forth: and his hand was reſtored.

11 And they were filled with madneſs, and they talked one with another, what they might do to Jeſus.

12 And it came to paſs in thoſe days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and he paſſed the whole night in the prayer of God.

‖ Matt. 10. 1. Mark 3. 13. 13 ‖ And when it was day he called his diſciples: and he choſe twelve of them (whom alſo he named Apoſtles:)

14 Simon, whom he ſurnamed Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the ſon of Alpheus and Simon who is called Zelotes:

16 And Jude the brother of James, and Judas Iſcariot, who was the traitor.

17 And coming down with them, he ſtood in an open plain, and the company of his diſciples, and a very great multitude of people from all Judea and Jeruſalem, and the ſea-coaſt both of Tyre and Sidon,

18 Who had come to hear him, and to be healed of their diſeaſes. And they that were troubled with unclean ſpirits, were cured.

19 And all the multitude ſought to touch him, for virtue went out from him, and healed all.

‖ Matt. 5. 2. 20 ‖ And he lifting up his eyes on his diſciples, ſaid: Bleſſed are ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

‡ Matt. 5. 6. 21 ‡ Bleſſed are ye that hunger now: for you ſhall be filled. Bleſſed are ye that weep now: for you ſhall laugh.

‖ Matt. 5. 11. 22 ‖ Bleſſed ſhall you be when men ſhall hate you, and when they ſhall ſeparate you, and ſhall reproach you, and caſt out your name as evil, for the Son of man's ſake.

23 Be glad in that day and rejoice: for behold, your reward is great in heaven. For according to theſe things did their fathers to the prophets.

30 Give to every one that aſketh thee, and of him that taketh away thy goods, aſk them not again,

31 And as you would that men ſhould do to you, do you alſo to them in like manner.

32 And if you love them that love you, what thanks have you? for ſinners alſo love thoſe that love them.

‖ Matt. 7. 18. & 12. 33. 43 ‖ For there is no good tree that bringeth forth evil fruit: nor an evil tree that bringeth forth good fruit.

44 For every tree is known by its fruit. For men do not gather figs from thorns: Nor from a bramble buſh do they gather grapes.

48 He is like to a man building a houſe, who digged deep, and laid the foundation upon a rock. And when a flood came, the ſtream beat vehemently upon that houſe, and it could not ſhake it: for it was founded on a rock.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not: is like to a man building his houſe upon the earth without a foundation: againſt which the ſtream beat vehemently, and immediately it fell: and the ruin of that houſe was great.

CHAP. VII.

Chriſt heals the centurion's ſervant: raiſes the widow's ſon to life: anſwers the meſſengers ſent by John: and abſolves the penitent ſinner.

AND when he had finiſhed all his words in the hearing of the people, he entered into Capharnaum. Matt. 8. 5.

2 And the ſervant of a certain centurion, who was dear to him, was ſick, and ready to die.

3 And when he had heard of Jeſus, he ſent to him the ancients of the Jews, deſiring him to come and heal his ſervant.

4 And when they came to Jeſus, they beſought him earneſtly, ſaying to him: He is worthy that thou ſhouldſt do this for him.

5 For he loveth our nation: and he hath built us a ſynagogue.

6 And Jeſus went with them. And when he was now not far from the houſe, the centurion ſent his friends to him, ſaying: ‖ Lord, trouble not thyſelf: for I am not worthy that thou ſhouldſt enter under my roof. ‖ Matt. 8. 8.

7 Wherefore neither did I think myſelf worthy to come to thee: but ſay the word, and my ſervant ſhall be healed.

8 For I alſo am a man ſubject to authority, having under me ſoldiers: and I ſay to one, Go, and he goeth: and to another Come, and he cometh: and to my ſervant, do this, and he doth it.

9 Which when Jeſus heard, he marvelled: and turning about to the multitude that followed him, he ſaid: Amen I ſay to you, I have not found ſo great faith even in Iſrael.

10 And they who were ſent returning to the houſe, found the ſervant whole, who had been ſick.

11 And it came to paſs, after this, that he went into a city called Naim: and there went with him his diſciples, and a great multitude.

12 And when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold a dead man was carried out, the only ſon of his mother: and ſhe was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her: Weep not.

14 And he came near and touched the bier. (And they that carried it, stood still.) And he said: Young man, I say to thee, arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on them all: and they glorified God, saying: ‖ That a great prophet is risen up among us: and God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea. and throughout all the country round about.

18 And John's disciples told him of all these things.

19 ‖ And John called to him two of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, saying: Art thou he who is to come: or expect we another?

20 And when the men were come to him, they said: John the Baptist hath sent us to thee, saying: Art thou he who is to come: or expect we another?

21 (And in that same hour, he cured many of their diseases, and sores, and of evil spirits, and to many that were blind he gave sight.)

22 And answering, he said to them: Go and relate to John what you have heard and seen: ‖ That the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are made clean, the deaf hear, the dead rise again, to the poor the Gospel is preached:

23 And blessed is he whosoever shall not be scandalized in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak to the multitudes concerning John: What went you out into the desert to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went you out to see? a man cloathed in soft garments? Behold they that are in costly apparel and live delicately are in the houses of kings.

26 But what went you out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and more than a prophet:

27 ‖ This is he of whom it is written: Behold I send my angel before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say to you: Amongst those that are born of women, there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he who is lesser in the kingdom of God, is greater than he.

29 And all the people hearing, and the publicans, justified God, being baptised with the baptism of John.

30 But the Pharisees, and the lawyers, despised the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptised by him.

31 And the Lord said: ‖ Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like to children sitting in the market-place, and speaking one to another, and saying: We have piped to you, and you have not danced: we have mourned, and you have not wept.

33 ‖ For John the Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and you say: He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking, and you say: Behold a man that is a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend of publicans and sinners.

35 And wisdom is justified by all her children.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him to eat with him. And being entered into the house of the Pharisee, he sat down to meat.

37 ‖ And behold a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that he sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment:

38 And standing behind at his feet, she began to wash his feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 And the Pharisee, who had invited him, seeing it, spoke within himself, saying: This man, if he were a prophet, would know surely who and what kind of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering, said to him: Simon, I have something to say to thee. But he said: Master, say it.

41 A certain creditor had two debtors, the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

42 And whereas they had not wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which therefore of the two loveth him most?

43 Simon answering, said: I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he said to him: Thou hast judged rightly.

44 And turning to the woman, he said to Simon: Dost thou see this woman? I entered into thy houſe, thou gaveſt me no water for my feet: but ſhe hath waſhed my feet with tears, and wiped them with her hair.

45 Thou gaveſt me no kiſs: but ſhe, ſince ſhe came in, hath not ceaſed to kiſs my feet.

46 My head with oil thou didſt not anoint: but ſhe with ointment hath anointed my feet.

47 Wherefore I ſay to thee: Many ſins are forgiven her, becauſe ſhe hath loved much. But to whom leſs is forgiven, he loveth leſs.

|| Matt. 9. 2. 48 And he ſaid to her: || Thy ſins are forgiven thee.

49 And they that ſat together at table began to ſay within themſelves: Who is this that forgiveth ſins alſo?

50 And he ſaid to the woman: Thy faith hath made thee ſafe: go in peace.

CHAP. VIII.

The parable of the ſeed. Chriſt ſtills the ſtorm at ſea: caſts out the legion: heals the iſſue of blood: and raiſes the daughter of Jairus to life.

AND it came to paſs afterwards, that he travelled through the cities and towns, preaching and publiſhing the Goſpel of the kingdom of God: and the twelve with him.

|| Mark 16. 9. 2 And certain women who had been healed of evil ſpirits and infirmities: || Mary called Magdalene, out of whom ſeven devils were gone forth,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuſa Herod's ſteward, and Suſanna, and many others who miniſtered unto him of their ſubſtance.

4 And when a very great multitude was gathered together, and haſtened out of the cities to him, he ſpoke by a ſimilitude:

|| Matt. 13. 3. Mark 4. 3. 5 || A ſower went out to ſow his ſeed: and as he ſowed ſome fell by the way ſide, and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And ſome fell upon a rock: and as ſoon as it was ſprung up, it withered away, becauſe it had no moiſture.

7 And ſome fell among thorns, and the thorns growing up with it, choaked it.

8 And ſome fell upon good ground: and ſprung up, and yielded fruit a hundredfold. Saying theſe things he cried out: He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his diſciples aſked him what this parable might be.

10 To whom he ſaid: To you it is given to know the myſtery of the kingdom of God: but to the reſt in parables: || that ſeeing they may not ſee, and hearing may not underſtand. || Iſai. 6. 9. Matt. 13. 14. Mark 4. 11. John 12. 40. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

11 Now the parable is this: The ſeed is the word of God.

12 And they by the way ſide are they that hear, then the devil cometh, and taketh the word out of their heart, leſt believing they ſhould be ſaved.

13 Now they upon the rock: are they who when they hear, receive the word with joy: and theſe have no roots; who believe for a while, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns: are they who have heard, and going their way, are choaked with the cares and riches and pleaſures of this life, and yield no fruit.

15 But that on the good ground, are they who in a good and perfect heart, hearing the word, keep it and bring forth fruit in patience.

|| Matt. 5. 15. Mark 4. 21. 16 || Now no man that lighteth a candle, covereth it with a veſſel, or putteth it under a bed: but ſetteth it upon a candleſtick, that they who come in may ſee the light.

‡ Matt. 10. 26. Mark 4. 22. 17 ‡ For there is not any thing ſecret, that ſhall not be made manifeſt: nor hidden, that ſhall not be known, and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how you hear. || For whoſoever hath, to him ſhall be given: and whoſoever hath not, that alſo which he thinketh he hath, ſhall be taken away from him. || Matt. 13. 12. & 25. 29.

† Matt. 12. 46. Mark 3. 32. 19 † And his mother and brethren came to him: and they could not come at him for the crowd.

20 And it was told him: Thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without, deſiring to ſee thee.

21 And he anſwered, and ſaid to them: My mother and my brethren are they, who hear the word of God, and do it.

|| Matt. 8. 23. Mark 4. 36. 22 || And it came to paſs on a certain day, that he went into a little ſhip with his diſciples, and he ſaid to them: Let us go over to the other ſide of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And when they were ſailing, he ſlept: and there came down a ſtorm of wind on the lake, and they were filled, and were in danger.

CHAP. VII. VER. 47. Many ſins are forgiven her, becauſe ſhe hath loved much. In the ſcripture an effect ſometimes ſeems attributed to one only cauſe, when there are divers other concurring diſpoſitions: for the ſins of this woman, in this verſe are ſaid to be forgiven, becauſe ſhe loved much: but verſe 50, Chriſt tells her, thy faith hath made thee ſafe. Hence in a true converſion are joined faith, hope, love, ſorrow for ſin, and other pious diſpoſitions.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 10. Seeing they may not ſee. See the annotation, Mark iv. 12.

24 And they came and awaked him, ſaying: Maſter, we periſh. But he ariſing, rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water: and it ceaſed, and there was a calm.

25 And he ſaid to them: Where is your faith? And they being afraid, wondered, ſaying one to another: Who is this: (think you) that he commandeth both the winds and the ſea, and they obey him?

26 And they ſailed to the country of the Geraſens which is over-againſt Galilee.

27 And when he was come forth to the land, there met him a certain man who had a devil now for a long time, and he wore no clothes, neither did he abide in a houſe, but in the tombs.

28 And when he ſaw Jeſus, he fell down before him: and crying out with a loud voice, he ſaid: What have I to do with thee Jeſus, Son of the moſt high God? I beſeech thee, do not torment me.

29 For he commanded the unclean ſpirit to go out of the man. For many times it ſeized him, and he was bound with chains, and kept in fetters: and he broke the bonds, and was driven by the devil into the deſerts.

30 And Jeſus aſked him, ſaying: What is thy name? But he ſaid: Legion: becauſe many devils were entered into him.

31 And they beſought him that he would not command them to go into the deep.

32 And there was there a herd of many ſwine feeding on the mountain: and they beſought him that he would ſuffer them to enter into them. And he ſuffered them.

33 The devils therefore went out of the man, and entered into the ſwine: and the herd run violently down a ſteep place into the lake, and were ſtifled.

34 Which when they that fed them ſaw done, they fled away, and told it in the city and in the villages.

35 And they went out to ſee what was done: and they came to Jeſus, and found the man, out of whom the devils had departed, ſitting at his feet, cloathed, and of a ſound mind, and they were afraid.

36 And they alſo that had ſeen it told them, how he had been healed from the legion.

37 And all the multitude of the country of the Geraſens beſought him to depart from them: for they were taken with great fear. And he went up into the ſhip, and returned back again.

38 Now the man, out of whom the devils were departed, beſought him that he might be with him. But Jeſus ſent him away, ſaying:

39 Return to thy houſe, and tell how great things God hath done to thee. And he went through the whole city, publiſhing how great things Jeſus had done to him.

40 And it came to paſs, that when Jeſus was returned, the multitude received him. For they were all waiting for him.

41 ‖ And behold there came a man whoſe name was Jairus, and he was a ruler of the ſynagogue: and he fell down at the feet of Jeſus, beſeeching him that he would come into his houſe, ‖ Matt. 19. 18. Mark. 5.22.

42 For he had an only daughter almoſt twelve years old, and ſhe was dying. And it happened, as he went, that he was thronged by the multitudes.

43 And there was a certain woman having an iſſue of blood twelve years, who had beſtowed all her ſubſtance on phyſicians, and could not be healed by any:

44 She came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment: and immediately her iſſue of blood ſtopped.

45 And Jeſus ſaid: Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter and they that were with him ſaid: Maſter, the multitudes throng thee, and preſs thee, and doſt thou ſay: Who touched me?

46 And Jeſus ſaid: Some body hath touched me: for I know that virtue is gone out from me.

47 And the woman ſeeing, that ſhe was not hid, came trembling, and fell down before his feet: and declared before all the people for what cauſe ſhe had touched him, and how ſhe was immediately healed.

48 But he ſaid to her: Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.

49 While he was yet ſpeaking, there cometh one to the ruler of the ſynagogue, ſaying to him: Thy daughter is dead, trouble him not.

50 But Jeſus hearing this word, anſwered the father of the maid: Fear not, believe only, and ſhe ſhall be ſafe.

51 And when he was come to the houſe, he ſuffered no man to go with him, but Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the maiden.

52 And all wept and mourned for her. But he ſaid: Weep not, the maid is not dead, but ſleepeth.

53 And they laughed at him, knowing that ſhe was dead.

54 But he taking her by the hand cried out, ſaying: Maid, ariſe.

55 And her ſpirit returned, and ſhe roſe immediately. And he bade them give her to eat.

56 And her parents were aſtoniſhed, whom he charged not to tell any one what had been done.

CHAP. IX.

Chriſt ſends forth his apoſtles: feeds five thouſand with five loaves: is transfigured: and caſts out a devil.

Matt. 10 1. Mark 3. 15. THEN having called together the twelve apoſtles, he gave them power, and authority over all devils, and to cure diſeaſes.

2 And he ſent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the ſick.

‖ Matt. 10. 9. Mark 6. 8. 3 ‖ And he ſaid to them: Take nothing for your journey, neither ſtaff, nor ſcrip, nor bread, nor money, neither have two coats.

4 And whatſoever houſe you ſhall enter into, abide there, and depart not from thence.

‖ Acts 13. 51. 5 And whoſoever will not receive you: ‖ when ye go out of that city, ſhake off even the duſt of your feet for a teſtimony againſt them.

6 And going out they went about through the towns preaching the goſpel, and healing every where.

‖ Matt. 14. 1. Mark 6. 14. 7 ‖ Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him; and he was in a doubt becauſe it was ſaid

8 By ſome: That John was riſen from the dead: but by ſome others: that Elias had appeared: and by others: that one of the ancient prophets was riſen.

9 And Herod ſaid: John I have beheaded: but who is this of whom I hear ſuch things? And he ſought to ſee him.

10 And the apoſtles being returned, related to him all they had done: and having taken them, he retired apart into a deſert place, which belongeth to Bethſaida.

11 Which when the people knew, they followed him: and he received them, and ſpoke to them of the kingdom of God, and healed them who had need of healing.

‖ Matt. 14. 15. Mark 6. 36. 12 Now the day began to decline. And the twelve came and ſaid to him: ‖ Send away the multitude, that going into the towns and villages round about, they may lodge and get victuals: for we are here in a deſert place.

‡ John 6. 9. 13 But he ſaid to them: Give you them to eat. And they ſaid: ‡ We have no more than five loaves and two fiſhes: unleſs we ſhould go and buy food for all this multitude.

14 Now they were about five thouſand men. And he ſaid to his diſciples: Make them ſit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did ſo: and made them all ſit down.

16 And taking the five loaves and the two fiſhes, he looked up to heaven, and bleſſed them: and he broke, and diſtributed to his diſciples, to ſet before the multitude.

17 And they did all eat, and were filled. And there were taken up of fragments that remained to them, twelve baſkets.

‖ Matt. 16. 13. Mark 8. 27. 18 ‖ And it came to paſs, as he was alone praying, his diſciples alſo were with him: and he aſked them, ſaying: Whom do the people ſay that I am?

19 But they anſwered, and ſaid: John the Baptiſt: but ſome ſay Elias; and others ſay that one of the former prophets is riſen again.

20 And he ſaid to them: But whom do you ſay that I am? Simon Peter anſwering, ſaid: The Chriſt of God.

21 But he ſtrictly charging them, commanded they ſhould tell this to no man,

‖ Matt. 17. 21 Mark 8. 31. & 9. 30. 22 Saying: ‖ The Son of man muſt ſuffer many things, and be rejected by the ancients, and chief prieſts, and Scribes, and be killed, and riſe again the third day.

‡ Matt. 10. 38. & 16. 24. Mark 8. 34. Infra 14. 27. ‖ Infra 17. 33. John 12. 5. 23 ‡ And he ſaid to all: If any man will come after me, let him deny himſelf and take up his croſs daily, and follow me.

24 ‖ For whoſoever will ſave his life, ſhall loſe it: for he that ſhall loſe his life for my ſake, ſhall ſave it.

25 For what doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and loſe himſelf, and caſt away himſelf?

‖ Matt. 10. 33. Mark 8. 38. 2 Tim. 2. 12. 26 ‖ For whoſoever ſhall be aſhamed of me, and of my words; of him ſhall the Son of man be aſhamed, when he ſhall come in his majeſty, and of his Father's, and of the holy angels.

‡ Matt. 16. 28. Mark 8. 39. 27 ‡ But I ſay to you truly: There are ſome ſtanding here that ſhall not taſte death, till they ſee the kingdom of God.

‖ Matt. 17. 1. Mark 9. 1. 28 ‖ And it came to paſs about eight days after theſe words, that he took Peter, and James, and John, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And whilſt he prayed, the appearance of his countenance was altered: and his raiment became white and ſhining.

30 And behold two men were talking with him. And they were Moſes and Elias,

31 Appearing in majeſty: and they ſpoke of his deceaſe, which he was to accompliſh in Jeruſalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heavy with ſleep. And waking, they ſaw his majeſty, and the two men that ſtood with him.

33 And it came to paſs that as they were departing from him, Peter ſaid to Jeſus:

Maſter, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moſes, and one for Elias: not knowing what he ſaid.

34 And as he ſpoke theſe things, there came a cloud, and overſhadowed them: and they were afraid, when they entered into the cloud.

‖ 2 Pet. 1. 17. 35 And a voice came out of the cloud, ſaying: ‖ This is my beloved Son, hear him.

36 And whilſt the voice was uttered, Jeſus was found alone. And they held their peace, and told no man in thoſe days any of theſe things which they had ſeen.

37 And it came to paſs that on the day following, when they came down from the mountain, there met him a great multitude.

‖ Matt. 17. 14 Mark 9. 16. 38 ‖ And behold a man among the crowd cried out, ſaying: Maſter I beſeech thee, look upon my ſon, for he is the only one I have:

39 And lo, a ſpirit ſeizeth him, and he ſuddenly crieth out, and he throweth him down, and teareth him ſo that he foameth, and bruiſing him hardly departeth from him:

40 And I deſired thy diſciples to caſt him out, and they could not.

41 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid: O faithleſs and perverſe generation, how long ſhall I be with you, and ſuffer you? Bring thy ſon hither.

42 And as he was coming near, the devil threw him down and tore him.

43 And Jeſus rebuked the unclean ſpirit, and cured the boy, and reſtored him to his father.

44 And all were aſtoniſhed at the mighty power of God: but while they all wondered at all the things he did, he ſaid to his diſciples: Lay you up in your hearts theſe words: for it ſhall come to paſs that the Son of man ſhall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they underſtood not this word, and it was hid from them, ſo that they perceived it not. And they were afraid to aſk him concerning this word.

‖ Matt. 18. 1. Mark 9. 33. 46 ‖ And there entered a thought into them, which of them ſhould be greater.

47 But Jeſus ſeeing the thoughts of their heart, took a child and ſet him by him.

48 And ſaid to them: Whoſoever ſhall receive this child in my name, receiveth me: and whoſoever ſhall receive me, receiveth him that ſent me. For he that is the leaſt among you all, he is the greateſt.

49 And John anſwering, ſaid: Maſter, we ſaw one caſting out devils in thy name, and we forbade him, becauſe he followeth not with us.

50 And Jeſus ſaid to him: Forbid him not: for he that is not againſt you, is for you.

51 And it came to paſs when the day of his aſſumption were accompliſhing, that he ſteadfaſtly ſet his face to go to Jeruſalem.

52 And he ſent meſſengers before his face: and going they entered into a city of the Samaritans to prepare for him.

53 And they received him not, becauſe his face was of one going into Jeruſalem.

54 And when his diſciples James and John had ſeen this, they ſaid: Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven and conſume them?

55 And turning, he rebuked them, ſaying: You know not of what ſpirit you are.

‖ John 3. 17. & 12. 47. 56 ‖ The Son of man came not to deſtroy ſouls, but to ſave. And they went into another town.

57 And it came to paſs as they walked in the way, that a certain man ſaid to him. I will follow thee whitherſoever thou goeſt.

‖ Matt. 8. 20. 58 ‖ Jeſus ſaid to him: The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air neſts; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 But he ſaid to another: Follow me. And he ſaid: Lord, ſuffer me firſt to go, and to bury my father.

60 And Jeſus ſaid to him: Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou, and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another ſaid: I will follow thee, Lord, but let me firſt take my leave of them that are at my houſe.

62 Jeſus ſaid to him: No man putting his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAP. X.

Chriſt ſends forth, and inſtructs his ſeventy-two diſciples. The good Samaritan.

AND after theſe things the Lord appointed alſo other ſeventy-two: and he ſent them two and two before his face, into every city and place, whither he himſelf was to come.

‖ Matt. 37. 2 And he ſaid to them: ‖ The harveſt indeed is great, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harveſt, that he ſend labourers into his harveſt.

‖ Deut. 24. 14. Matt. 10. 10. 1 Tim. 5. 18.

8 And into what city soever you enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you;

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say to them: The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city you enter, and they receive you not, going forth into the streets thereof, say:

‖ Acts 13. 51.

11 ‖ Even the very dust of your city that cleaveth to us: we wipe off against you, yet know this that the kingdom of God is at hand.

12 I say to you, it shall be more tolerable at that day for Sodom, than for that city.

‖ Matt. 11. 21.

13 ‖ Wo to thee, Corozain, wo to thee, Bethsaida: for if in Tyre and Sidon had been wrought the mighty works, that have been wrought in you, they would have done penance long ago, sitting in sack-cloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you.

15 And thou, Capharnaum, which art exalted unto heaven: thou shalt be thrust down to hell.

‖ Matt. 10. 40. John 13. 20.

16 ‖ He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you, despiseth me. And he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

17 And the seventy two returned with joy, saying: Lord, the devils also are subject to us in thy name.

18 And he said to them: I saw satan as lightning falling from heaven.

19 Behold, I have given you power to tread upon serpents, and scorpions, and upon all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall hurt you.

20 But yet rejoice not in this that spirits are subject unto you: but rejoice in this, that your names are written in heaven.

‖ Matt. 11. 25.

21 ‖ In that same hour he rejoiced in the Holy Ghost, and said: I give thanks to thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to little ones. Yea, Father: because so it hath pleased thee.

22 All things are delivered to me by my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, but the Father: and who the Father is, but the Son, and to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 And turning to his disciples, he said: ‖ Blessed are the eyes that see the things which you see. ‖ Matt. 13. 16.

24 For I say to you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see the things that you see, and have not seen them; and to hear the things that your hear, and have not heard them.

25 ‖ And behold a certain lawyer stood up, tempting him, and saying: Master, what must I do to possess eternal life? ‖ Matt 22. 35. Mark 12. 28.

26 But he said to him: What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 He answering, said: † Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind: and thy neighbour as thyself. † Deu. 6. 5.

28 And he said to him: Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29 But he willing to justify himself, said to Jesus: And who is my neighbour?

30 And Jesus answering, said: A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among robbers, who also stripped him, and having wounded him went away leaving him half dead.

31 And it happened that a certain priest went down the same way, and seeing him, he passed by.

32 In like manner also a levite, when he was near the place and saw him, passed by.

33 But a certain Samaritan being on his journey, came near him: and seeing him, was moved with compassion.

34 And going up to him, bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine: and setting him upon his own beast brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And the next day he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said: Take care of him; and whatsoever thou shalt spend over and above, I at my return will repay thee.

36 Which of these three in thy opinion was neighbour to him that fell among the robbers?

37 But he said: He that shewed mercy to him. And Jesus said to him: Go, and do thou in like manner.

38 Now it came to pass as they went, that he entered into a certain town: and a certain woman named Martha, received him into her houſe:

39 And ſhe had a ſiſter called Mary, who ſitting alſo at the Lord's feet, heard his word.

40 But Martha was buſy about much ſerving: who ſtood, and ſaid: Lord, haſt thou no care that my ſiſter hath left me alone to ſerve? ſpeak to her therefore, that ſhe help me.

41 And the Lord anſwering, ſaid to her: Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and art troubled about many things.

42 But one thing is neceſſary. Mary hath choſen the beſt part, which ſhall not be taken away from her.

He teaches his diſciples to pray. Caſts out a dumb devil. Confutes the Phariſees; and pronounces woes againſt them for their hypocriſy.

AND it came to paſs, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceaſed, one of his diſciples ſaid to him: Lord teach us to pray, as John alſo taught his diſciples.

2 And he ſaid to them: When you pray, ‖ Matt. 6. 9. ſay: ‖ Father, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come.

3 Give us this day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our ſins: for we alſo forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation.

5 And he ſaid to them: Which of you ſhall have a friend, and ſhall go to him at mid-night, and ſhall ſay to him: Friend lend me three loaves,

6 For a friend of mine is come off his journey to me, and I have nothing to ſet before him.

7 And he from within ſhould anſwer and ſay: Trouble me not, the door is now ſhut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot riſe and give thee.

8 Yet if he ſhall continue knocking: I ſay to you, although he will not riſe and give him, becauſe he is his friend: yet becauſe of his importunity he will riſe, and give him as many as he needeth.

17 But he ſeeing their thoughts, ſaid to them: Every kingdom divided againſt itſelf ſhall be brought to deſolation, and a houſe upon a houſe ſhall fall.

18 And if ſatan alſo be divided againſt himſelf, how ſhall his kingdom ſtand? becauſe you ſay, that in Beelzebub I caſt out devils.

19 Now if I caſt out devils in Beelzebub: in whom do your children caſt them out? Therefore they ſhall be your judges.

20 But if I in the finger of God caſt out devils: doubtleſs the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 When a ſtrong man armed keepeth his court, thoſe things which he poſſeſſeth are in peace.

22 But if a ſtronger than he come upon him and overcome him, he will take away all his armour wherein he truſted, and will diſtribute his ſpoils.

23 He that is not with me, is againſt me: and he that gathereth not with me, ſcattereth.

24 When the unclean ſpirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through places without water, ſeeking reſt: and not finding, he ſaith: I will return into my houſe whence I came out.

25 And when he is come, he findeth it ſwept and garniſhed.

26 Then he goeth and taketh with him ſeven other ſpirits more wicked than himſelf, and entering in they dwell there. And the laſt ſtate of that man becometh worſe than the firſt.

27 And it came to paſs: as he ſpoke theſe things, that a certain woman from the crowd lifting up her voice ſaid to him: Bleſſed is the womb that bore thee, and the paps that gave thee ſuck.

28 But he ſaid: Yea rather, bleſſed are they who hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 And when the people were gathered together, he began to say: || This generation is a wicked generation: they ask a sign, and a sign shall not be given them, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. || Matt. 12. 39.

30 || For as Jonas was a sign to the Ninivites, so shall the Son of man also be to this generation. || Jonas 2.1.

31 ‡ The queen of the south shall rise in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold more than Solomon here. ‡ 3 Kings 10. 1. 2 Par. 9. 1.

32 The men of Ninive shall rise in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it, || because they did penance at the preaching of Jonas; and behold more than Jonas here. || Jonas 3.5.

33 ‡ No man lighteth a candle, and putteth it in a hidden place, nor under a bushel: but upon a candlestick, that they that come in may see the light. ‡ Matt. 5. 15. Mark 4. 21.

34 || The light of thy body, is thy eye. If thy eye be single, thy whole body will be lightsome: but if it be evil, the body also will be darksome. || Matt. 6. 22.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee, be not darkness.

36 If then thy whole body be lightsome, having no part of darkness; the whole shall be lightsome, and as a bright lamp shall enlighten thee.

37 And as he was speaking, a certain Pharisee prayed him to dine with him. And he went in, and sat down to eat.

38 And the Pharisee began to say, thinking within himself, why he was not washed before dinner.

39 And the Lord said to him: || Now you Pharisees do make clean the outside of the cup, and of the platter: but your inside is full of rapine and iniquity. || Matt. 23. 25.

40 Foolish men, did not he that made that which is without, make also that which is within?

41 But yet that which remaineth, give alms; and behold all things are clean unto you.

42 But wo to you Pharisees, because you tithe mint and rue and every herb, and pass over judgment, and the charity of God: Now these things you ought to have done, and not to leave those undone.

43 || Wo to you Pharisees because you love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and salutations in the market-place. || Matt. 6. 2. Mark 12. 39. Infra 20.46.

44 Wo to you, because you are as sepulchres that appear not, and men that walk over them are not aware.

45 Then one of the lawyers answering, said to him: Master, in saying these things, thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said: Wo to you lawyers also: || because you load men with burdens which they cannot bear, and you yourselves touch not the packs with one of your fingers. || Matt. 23. 4.

47 Wo to you who build the monuments of the prophets: and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly you bear witness that you consent to the doings of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and you build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also the wisdom of God said: I will send to them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

51 || From the blood of Abel unto the blood of ‡ Zacharias, who was slain between the altar and the temple. Yea I say to you, it shall be required of this generation. || Gen. 4. 8. ‡ 2 Par. 24. 22.

52 Wo to you lawyers, for you have taken away the key of knowledge: you yourselves have not entered in, and those that were entering in you have hindered.

53 And as he was saying these things to them, the Pharisees and the lawyers began vehemently to urge him, and to * oppress his mouth about many things, * i. e. stop.

54 Lying in wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

Christ warns us against hypocrisy, the fear of the world, and covetousness: and admonishes all to watch.

AND when great multitudes stood about him, so that they trod one upon another, he began to say to his disciples: || Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. || Matt. 16. 6. Mark 8. 15.

CHAP. XI. VER. 46. Wo to you lawyers. He speaks of the doctors of the law of Moses, commonly called the Scribes.

VER. 47. Wo to you who build &c. Not that the building of the monuments of the prophets was in itself blameworthy, but only the intention of these unhappy men, who made use of this outward shew of religion and piety, as a means to carry on their wicked designs against the prince of prophets.

2 ‡ For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed: nor hidden, that shall not be known.

‡ Matt. 10. 26. Mark 4. 22.

3 For whatsoever things you have spoken in darkness, shall be published in the light: and that which you have spoken in the ear in the chambers, shall be proclaimed on the house-tops.

4 And I say to you my friends: Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will shew you whom ye shall fear: fear ye him whom after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell. Yea I say to you fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: you are of more value than many sparrows.

8 And I say to you: ‖ Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God.

‖ Matt. 10. 32. Mark 8. 38. 2 Tim. 2. 12.

9 But he that shall deny me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 ‡ And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but to him that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

‡ Matt. 12. 32. Mark. 3. 29.

11 And when they shall bring you into the synagogues, and to magistrates, and powers, be not solicitous how or what you shall answer, or what you shall say.

12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what you ought to say.

13 And one of the multitude said to him: Master, speak to my brother that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 But he said to him: Man, who hath made me a judge or a divider over you?

15 And he said to them: Take heed and beware of all covetousness: for a man's life doth not consist in the abundance of things which he possesseth.

16 And he spoke a similitude to them, saying: ‖ The land of a certain rich man brought forth plenty of fruits:

‖ Eccli. 11. 19.

17 And he thought within himself, saying: What shall I do, because I have not where to lay up together my fruits?

18 And he said: This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and will bilud greater: and into them will I gather all things that are grown to me, and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul: Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years, take thy rest, eat, drink, make good cheer.

20 But God said to him: Thou fool, this night do they require thy soul of thee: and whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God.

22 And he said to his disciples: Therefore I say to you: ‖ Be not solicitous for your life, what you shall eat: nor for your body, what you shall put on.

‖ Psal. 54 23 Matt. 6. 25. 1 Pet. 5. 7.

23 The life is more than the food, and the body is more than the raiment.

24 Consider the ravens, for they do not sow, nor do they reap, neither have they store-house, nor barn, and God feedeth them. How much are you more valuable than they?

25 And which of you by thinking can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If then you are not able to do even the least thing, why are you solicitous for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they labour not, neither do they spin. But I say to you not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these.

28 Now if God cloath in this manner the grass that is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven: how much more you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not you what you shall eat, or what you shall drink: and be not lifted up on high:

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after. But your Father knoweth that you have need of these things.

31 But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his justice: and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock, for it hath pleased your Father to give you a kingdom.

33 ‖ Sell what you possess, and give alms. Make to yourselves bags which grow not old, ‡ a treasure in heaven which faileth not: where the thief approacheth not, nor the moth corrupteth.

‖ Matt. 19. 21. ‡ Matt. 6. 20.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also,

35 Let your loins be girded, and lamps burning in your hands,

36 And you yourselves like to men who wait for their lord, when he shall return from the wedding: that when he cometh, and knocketh, they may open to him immediately.

37 Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when he cometh, shall find watching. Amen I say to you, that he will gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and passing will minister to them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or if he ſhall come in the third watch, and find them ſo, bleſſed are thoſe ſervants.

|| Matt. 24. 43. 39 || But this know ye, that if a maſter of a family did know at what hour the thief would come, he would ſurely watch, and would not ſuffer his houſe to be broke open.

|| Apoc. 16. 15. 40 Be you alſo ready: || for at what hour you think not, the Son of man will come.

41 And Peter ſaid to him: Lord, doſt thou ſpeak this parable to us, or likewiſe to all?

42 And the Lord ſaid: Who (thinkeſt thou) is the faithful and wiſe ſteward, whom his lord ſetteth over his family, to give them their meaſure of wheat in due ſeaſon?

43 Bleſſed is that ſervant, whom when his lord ſhall come, he ſhall find ſo doing.

44 Verily I ſay to you, he will ſet him over all that he poſſeſſeth.

45 But if that ſervant ſhall ſay in his heart: My lord is long a coming; and ſhall begin to ſtrike the men-ſervants and maid-ſervants, and to eat and to drink, and be drunk:

46 The lord of that ſervant will come in a day that he expecteth not, and at an hour that he knoweth not, and ſhall ſeparate him, and ſhall appoint him his portion with unbelievers.

47 And that ſervant who knew the will of his lord, and hath not prepared, and did not according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did things worthy of ſtripes, ſhall be beaten with few ſtripes. And unto whomſoever much is given, of him much ſhall be required: and to whom they have committed much, of him they will demand the more.

49 I am come to ſend fire on the earth, and what will I but that it be kindled?

50 And I have a baptiſm, wherewith I am to be baptiſed: and how am I ſtraitened until it be accompliſhed?

|| Matt. 10. 34. 51 || Think ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you no, but ſeparation:

52 For there ſhall be from henceforth five in one houſe divided, three againſt two, and two againſt three

53 Shall be divided: the father againſt the ſon, and the ſon againſt the father, the mother againſt the daughter, and the daughter againſt the mother, the mother-in-law againſt her daughter-in-law, and the daughther-in-law againſt her mother-in-law.

|| Matt. 16. 2. 54 || And he ſaid alſo to the multitudes: When you ſee a cloud riſing out of the weſt, preſently you ſay: A ſhower is coming: and ſo it happeneth:

55 And when ye ſee the ſouth-wind blow, you ſay: There will be heat: and it cometh to paſs.

56 You hypocrites, you know how to diſcern the face of the heavens, and of the earth; but how is it that you do not diſcern this time?

57 And why even of yourſelves do you not judge that which is juſt?

|| Matt. 5. 25. 58 || And when thou goeſt with thy adverſary to the prince, whilſt thou art in the way endeavour to be delivered from him: leſt perhaps he draw thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the exactor, and the exactor caſt thee into priſon.

59 I ſay to thee, thou ſhalt not go out thence, until thou payeſt the very laſt mite.

CHAP. XIII.

The neceſſity of penance. The barren fig-tree. The cure of the infirm woman, &c.

AND there were preſent at that very time ſome that told him of the Galileans, whoſe blood Pilate had mingled with their ſacrifices.

2 And he anſwering, ſaid to them: Think you that theſe Galileans were ſinners above all the men of Galilee, becauſe they ſuffered ſuch things?

3 I ſay to you, No: but unleſs you do penance, you ſhall all likewiſe periſh.

4 Or thoſe eighteen upon whom the tower fell in Siloe, and ſlew them: think you that they alſo were debtors above all the men that dwell in Jeruſalem.

5 I tell you: No: but unleſs you do penance, you ſhall all likewiſe periſh.

6 He ſpoke alſo this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vine-yard, and he came ſeeking fruit on it, and found none.

7 And he ſaid to the tiller of the vine-yard: Behold theſe three years I come ſeeking fruit on this fig-tree, and I find none. Cut it down therefore; why doth it take up the ground?

8 But he anſwering, ſaid to him: Lord, let it alone this year alſo, until I dig about it, and dung it.

9 And if happily it bear fruit: but if not, then after that thou ſhalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in their ſynagogue on the ſabbath.

11 And behold there was a woman who had a ſpirit of infirmity eighteen years: and she was bent down, and could not look upwards at all.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said to her: Woman, thou art delivered from thy infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands upon her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue, being angry that Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answering, said to the multitude: There are six days wherein you ought to work: in them therefore come, and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

15 And the Lord answering him, said: Ye hypocrites, doth not every one of you on the sabbath-day loose his ox or his ass from the manger, and lead them to water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the things that were gloriously done by him.

18 He said therefore: To what is the kingdom of God like, and whereunto shall I resemble it.

‖ Matt. 13. 31. Mark 4 31. 19 ‖ It is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took and cast into his garden, and it grew, and became a great tree, and the birds of the air rested in the branches thereof.

20 And again he said: Whereunto shall I esteem the kingdom of God to be like?

‖ Matt. 13. 33. 21 ‖ It is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 And he went through the cities and towns teaching, and making his journey to Jerusalem.

23 And a certain man said to him: Lord, are they few that are saved? But he said to them:

‖ Matt. 7. 13. 24 ‖ Strive to enter by the narrow gate: for many, I say to you, shall seek to enter, and shall not be able.

‡ Matt. 25. 10. 25 ‡ But when the master of the house shall be gone in, and shall shut the door, you shall begin to stand without, and knock at the door, saying: Lord, open to us: and he answering shall say to you: I know you not whence you are:

26 Then you shall begin to say: We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 And he shall say to you: ‖ I know you not whence you are: ‡ depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. ‖ Matt. 7. 23. ‡ Psal. 6. 9. Matt. 25 41.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth: when you shall see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

29 And there shall come from the east and the west and the north and the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

30 ‖ And behold they are last who shall be first, and they are first who shall be last. ‖ Matt. 19. 30. & 20. 16.

31 The same day there came some of the Pharisees, saying to him: Depart and get thee hence: for Herod hath a mind to kill thee. Mark 10. 31.

32 And he said to them: Go, and tell that fox: Behold I cast out devils, and do cures to day, and to morrow, and the third day I am consummated.

33 Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: because it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 ‖ Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent to thee, how often would I have gathered thy children, as the bird doth her brood under her wings, and thou wouldst not? ‖ Matt. 23. 37.

35 Behold your house shall be left to you desolate. And I say to you, that you shall not see me, till the time come, when you shall say: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XIV.

Christ heals the dropsical man. The parable of the supper. The necessity of renouncing all to follow Christ.

AND it came to pass when Jesus went into the house of a certain prince of the Pharisees on the sabbath-day to eat bread, and they were watching him.

2 And behold there was a certain man before him that had the dropsy.

3 And Jesus answering, spoke to the lawyers, and Pharisees, saying: Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day?

4 But they held their peace. But he taking him, healed him, and sent him away.

5 And answering them, he said: Which of you whose ass or his ox shall fall into a pit, and will not immediately draw him out on the sabbath-day?

6 And they could not answer him to these things.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 24. Shall seek, &c. Shall desire to be saved; but for want of taking sufficient pains, and being thoroughly in earnest, shall not attain to it.

7 And he ſpoke a parable alſo to them that were invited, marking how they choſe the firſt ſeats at the table, ſaying to them:

8 When thou art invited to a wedding, ſit not down in the higheſt place, leſt perhaps one more honourable than thou be invited by him:

9 And he who invited thee and him, come and ſay to thee: Give place to this man and then thou begin with bluſhing to take the loweſt place.

10 But when thou art invited, go, ſit down in the loweſt place: that when he who invited thee cometh, he may ſay to thee: ‖ Friend, go up higher. Then ſhalt thou have glory before them that ſit at table with thee.

‖ Prov. 25. 7.

11 ‡ Becauſe every one that exalteth himſelf, ſhall be humbled: and he that humbleth himſelf, ſhall be exalted.

‡ Matt. 23. 12. Infra 18.14.

12 And he ſaid to him alſo that had invited him: ‖ When thou makeſt a dinner or a ſupper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinſmen, nor thy neighbours who are rich; leſt they alſo invite thee again, and a recompence be made to thee.

‖ Tobias 4. 7. Prov. 3 9.

13 But when thou makeſt a feaſt, call the poor, the feeble, the lame, and the blind.

14 And thou ſhalt be bleſſed, becauſe they have not wherewith to make thee recompence: for recompence ſhall be made thee at the reſurrection of the juſt.

15 When one of them that ſat at table with him, had heard theſe things, he ſaid to him, Bleſſed is he that ſhall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

16 But he ſaid to him: ‖ A certain man made a great ſupper, and invited many.

‖ Matt. 22. 2. Apoc. 19.9.

17 And he ſent his ſervant at ſupper time to ſay to them that were invited, that they ſhould come, for now all things are ready.

18 And they began all at once to make excuſe. The firſt ſaid to him: I have bought a farm, and I muſt needs go out and ſee it: I pray thee, have me excuſed.

19 And another ſaid: I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to try them: I pray thee, have me excuſed.

20 And another ſaid: I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 And the ſervant returning told theſe things to his lord. Then the maſter of the houſe being angry, ſaid to his ſervant: Go out quickly into the ſtreets, and lanes of the city: and bring in hither the poor, and the feeble, and the blind and the lame.

22 And the ſervant ſaid: Lord, it is done as thou haſt commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord ſaid to the ſervant: Go out into the high-ways and hedges: and compel them to come in, that my houſe may be filled.

24 But I ſay to you, that none of thoſe men, that were called, ſhall taſte my ſupper.

25 And there went great multitudes with him: and turning, he ſaid to them:

26 ‖ If any man come to me, and hate not his father and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and ſiſters, yea and his own life alſo, he cannot be my diſciple.

‖ Matt. 10. 37.

27 ‖ And whoſoever doth not carry his croſs and come after me, cannot be my diſciple.

‖ Matt. 10. 38. & 16. 24. Mark 8. 34.

28 For which of you having a mind to build a tower, doth not firſt ſit down and reckon the charges that are neceſſary, whether he have wherewithal to finiſh it;

29 Leſt after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finiſh it, all that ſee it begin to mock him,

30 Saying: This man began to build, and was not able to finiſh.

31 Or what king about to go to make war againſt another king, doth not firſt ſit down and think, whether he be able with ten thouſand to meet him that with twenty thouſand cometh againſt him?

32 Or elſe whilſt the other is yet afar off, he ſendeth an embaſſy, and deſireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewiſe every one of you that doth not renounce all that he poſſeſſeth, cannot be my diſciple.

34 ‖ Salt is good. But if the ſalt ſhall loſe its ſavour, wherewith ſhall it be ſeaſoned?

‖ Matt. 5. 13. Mark 9. 49.

35 It is neither profitable for the land, nor for the dunghill, but ſhall be caſt out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAP. XV.

The parables of the loſt ſheep, and of the prodigal ſon.

NOW the publicans and ſinners drew near unto him, to hear him.

2 And the Phariſees and the Scribes murmured, ſaying: This man receiveth ſinners, and eateth with them.

3 And he ſpoke to them this parable, ſaying:

CHAP. XIV. VER. 26. Hate not, &c. The law of Chriſt does not allow us to hate even our enemies, much leſs our parents: but the meaning of the text is, that we muſt be in that diſpoſition of ſoul, as to be willing to renounce, and part with every thing, how near or dear ſoever it may be to us, that would keep us from following Chriſt.

‖ Matt. 18. 12.

4 ‖ What man among you that hath a hundred ſheep: and if he ſhall loſe one of them, doth he not leave the ninety nine in the deſert, and go after that which was loſt until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, doth he not lay it upon his ſhoulders rejoicing:

6 And coming home call together his friends and neighbours, ſaying to them: Rejoice with me becauſe I have found my ſheep that was loſt?

7 I ſay to you, that even ſo there ſhall be joy in heaven upon one ſinner that doth penance, more than upon ninety nine juſt who need not penance.

8 Or what woman having ten groats, if ſhe loſe one groat doth not light a candle and ſweep the houſe, and ſeek diligently, till ſhe find it?

9 And when ſhe hath found it, call together her friends and neighbours, ſaying: Rejoice with me, becauſe I have found the groat which I had loſt.

10 So I ſay to you, there ſhall be joy before the angels of God upon one ſinner doing penance.

11 And he ſaid: A certain man had two ſons:

12 And the younger of them ſaid to his father: Father, give me the portion of ſubſtance that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his ſubſtance.

13 And not many days after, the younger ſon gathering all together, went abroad into a far country: and there waſted his ſubſtance by living riotouſly.

14 And after he had ſpent all, there came a mighty famine in that country, and he began to be in want.

15 And he went, and joined himſelf to one of the citizens of that country. And he ſent him into his farm to feed ſwine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the huſks the ſwine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And returning to himſelf, he ſaid: How many hired ſervants in my father's houſe have plenty of bread, and I here periſh with hunger?

18 I will ariſe, and will go to my father, and ſay to him: Father, I have ſinned againſt heaven, and before thee:

19 I am not now worthy to be called thy ſon: make me as one of thy hired ſervants.

20 And riſing up he went to his father. And when he was yet a great way off, his father ſaw him, and was moved with compaſſion, and running to him fell upon his neck and kiſſed him.

21 And the ſon ſaid to him: Father I have ſinned againſt heaven, and before thee, I am not now worthy to be called thy ſon.

22 But the father ſaid to his ſervants: Bring forth quickly the firſt robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and ſhoes on his feet:

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat and make merry:

24 Becauſe this my ſon was dead, and is come to life again: he was loſt and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder ſon was in the field: and when he came and drew nigh to the houſe, he heard muſic and dancing:

26 And he called one of the ſervants, and aſked what theſe things meant.

27 And he ſaid to him: Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, becauſe he hath received him ſafe.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in. His father therefore coming out began to intreat him.

29 And he anſwering, ſaid to his father: Behold, for ſo many years I ſerve thee, and I have never tranſgreſſed thy commandment, and yet thou haſt never given me a kid to make merry with my friends:

30 But as ſoon this thy ſon is come, who hath devoured his ſubſtance with harlots, thou haſt killed for him the fatted calf.

31 But he ſaid to him: Son, thou art always with me, and all I have is thine.

32 But it was fit that we ſhould make merry and be glad, for this thy brother was dead, and is come to life again: he was loſt, and is found.

CHAP. XVI.

The parable of the unjuſt ſteward: of the rich man and Lazarus.

AND he ſaid alſo to his diſciples: There was a certain rich man who had a ſteward: and the ſame was accuſed unto him, that he had waſted his goods.

2 And he called him, and ſaid to him: What is this I hear of thee? give an account of thy ſtewardſhip: for now thou canſt not be ſteward.

3 And the ſteward ſaid within himſelf: What ſhall I do, for my lord taketh away from me the ſtewardſhip? To dig I am not able: To beg I am aſhamed.

CHAP. XV. VER. 10. Before the Angels. By this it is plain that the ſpirits in heaven have a concern for us below, and a joy at our repentance, and conſequently a knowledge of it.

4 I know what I will do, that when I ſhall be put out of the ſtewardſhip, they may receive me into their houſes.

5 Therefore calling together every one of his lord's debtors, he ſaid to the firſt: How much doſt thou owe my lord?

6 But he ſaid: A hundred barrels of oil. And he ſaid to him: Take thy bill: and ſit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then he ſaid to another: And how much doſt thou owe? Who ſaid: A hundred quarters of wheat. He ſaid to him: Take thy bill, and write eighty.

8 And the lord commended the unjuſt ſteward, foraſmuch as he had done wiſely: for the children of this world are wiſer in their generation than the children of light.

9 And I ſay to you: Make to yourſelves friends of the mammon of iniquity, that when you ſhall fail, they may receive you into everlaſting dwellings.

10 He that is faithful in that which is leaſt, is faithful alſo in that which is greater: And he that is unjuſt in that which is little, is unjuſt alſo in that which is greater.

11 If then you have not been faithful in the unjuſt mammon, who will truſt you with that which is the true?

12 And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's: who will give you that which is your own?

‖ Matt. 6. 24. 13 ‖ No ſervant can ſerve two maſters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other: or he will hold to the one, and deſpiſe the other: you cannot ſerve God and mammon.

14 Now the Phariſees who were covetous, heard all theſe things: and they derided him.

15 And he ſaid to them: You are they who juſtify yourſelves before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is high to men, is an abomination before God.

‖ Matt. 11. 12. 16 ‖ The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every one uſeth violence towards it.

‡ Matt. 5. 18. 17 ‡ And it is eaſier for heaven and earth to paſs, than for one tittle of the law to fail.

‖ Matt. 5. 32. Mark 10. 11. 1 Cor. 7. 10. & 11. 18 ‖ Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her that is put away from her huſband, committeth adultery.

19 There was a certain rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen: and feaſted ſumptuouſly every day.

20 And there was a certain beggar by name Lazarus, who lay at his gate, full of ſores,

21 Deſiring to be filled with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; and no one did give him: moreover the dogs came and licked his ſores.

22 And it came to paſs that the beggar died, and he was carried by the angels into Abraham's boſom. And the rich man alſo died: and he was buried in hell.

23 And lifting up his eyes when he was in torments, he ſaw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his boſom:

24 And he cried, and ſaid: Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and ſend Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, to cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 And Abraham ſaid to him: Son, remember that thou didſt receive good things in thy life time, and likewiſe Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And beſides all this, between us and you there is fixed a great chaos: ſo that they who would paſs from hence to you, cannot, nor from thence come hither.

27 And he ſaid: Then, Father, I beſeech thee that thou wouldſt ſend him to my father's houſe.

28 For I have five brethren, that he may teſtify to them, leſt they alſo come into this place of torments.

29 And Abraham ſaid to him: They have Moſes and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 But he ſaid: No, father Abraham, but if one went to them from the dead, they will do penance.

31 And he ſaid to him: If they hear not Moſes and the prophets, neither will they believe, if one riſe again from the dead.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 9. Mammon of iniquity. Mammon ſignifies riches. They are here called the mammon of iniquity, becauſe often times ill gotten, ill beſtowed, or an occaſion of evil; and at the beſt are but worldly, and falſe: and not the true riches of a chriſtian.

Ibid. They may receive. By this we ſee, that the poor ſervants of God, whom we have relieved by our alms, may hereafter, by their interceſſion, bring our ſouls to heaven.

5 And the Apoſtles ſaid to the Lord: Increaſe our faith.

‡ Matt. 17. 19.

6 ‡ And the Lord ſaid: If you had faith like a grain of muſtard-ſeed, you might ſay to this mulberry-tree: Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou tranſplanted into the ſea and it ſhould obey you.

7 But which of you having a ſervant plowing or feeding cattle, will ſay to him when he is come from the field: Immediately go, ſit down:

8 And will not rather ſay to him: Make ready my ſupper, and gird thyſelf, and ſerve me whilſt I eat and drink, and afterwards thou ſhalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that ſervant, becauſe he did the things which he commanded him?

10 I think not. So you alſo, when you ſhall have done all the things that are commanded you, ſay: We are unprofitable ſervants: we have done that which we ought to do.

11 And it came to paſs, as he was going to Jeruſalem, that he paſſed through the midſt of Samaria in Galilee.

12 And as he entered into a certain town there met him ten men that were lepers, who ſtood a-far off:

13 And they lifted up their voice, ſaying: Jeſus, maſter, have mercy on us.

14 And when he ſaw them, he ſaid:

‖ Lev. 14. 2.

‖ Go, ſhew yourſelves to the prieſts. And it came to paſs, that as they went they were cleanſed.

15 And one of them when he ſaw that he was cleanſed, went back, with a loud voice glorifying God,

16 And he fell on his face before his feet, giving thanks: and this man was a Samaritan.

17 And Jeſus anſwering ſaid: Were there not ten made clean? and where are the nine?

18 There is no one found to return and give glory to God, but this ſtranger.

19 And he ſaid to him: Ariſe, go thy way: for thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 And when he was aſked by the Phariſees: when the kingdom of God ſhould come? he anſwering them ſaid: The kingdom of God cometh not with obſervation:

21 Neither ſhall they ſay: Behold here, or behold there, For lo the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he ſaid to his diſciples: The days will come when you ſhall deſire to ſee one day of the Son of man, and you ſhall not ſee it.

‖ Matt. 24. 23. Mark. 13. 21.

23 ‖ And they will ſay to you: Lo here, and lo there. Go ye not after, nor follow them:

24 For as the lightning that lighteneth from under heaven, ſhineth unto the parts that are under heaven, ſo ſhall the Son of man be in his day.

25 But firſt he muſt ſuffer many things, and be rejected by this generation.

‖ Gen. 7. 7. Matt. 24. 37.

26 ‖ And as it was in the days of Noe, ſo ſhall it be alſo in the days of the Son of man.

30 Even thus ſhall it be in the day when the Son of man ſhall be revealed.

31 In that hour he that ſhall be on the houſe-top, and his goods in the houſe, let him not go down to take them away: and he that ſhall be in the field, in like manner let him not return back.

CHAP. XVII. VER. 10. Unprofitable ſervants. Becauſe our ſervice is of no profit to our maſter; and he juſtly claims it as our bounden duty. But tho' we are Unprofitable to him, our ſerving him, is not unprofitable to us: for, he is pleaſed to give by his grace a value to our good works, which, in conſequence of his promiſe, entitles them to an eternal reward.

47 And he ſaid them: Wherefoever, the body ſhall be, thither will the eagles alſo be gathered together.

CHAP. XVIII.

We muſt pray always. The Phariſee and the Publican. The danger of riches. The blind man is reſtored to ſight.

Eccli. 18. 22. 1. Theſſ. 5. 17. AND he ſpoke alſo a parable to them, that we ought always to pray, and not to faint,

2 Saying: There was a judge in a certain city, who feared not God, nor regarded man.

3 And there was a certain widow in that city, and ſhe came to him, ſaying: Avenge me of my adverſary.

4 And he would not for a long time. But afterwards he ſaid within himſelf: Although I fear not God, nor regard man,

5 Yet becauſe this widow is troubleſome to me, I will avenge her, leſt continually coming ſhe weary me out.

6 And the Lord ſaid: Hear what the unjuſt judge ſaith:

7 And will not God avenge his elect who call to him day and night: and will have patience in their regard?

8 I ſay to you he will quickly avenge them. But yet when the Son of man cometh, ſhall he find, think you, faith on earth?

9 He ſpoke alſo this parable to ſome who truſted in themſelves as juſt, and deſpiſed others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray: the one a Phariſee, and the other a publican,

11 The Phariſee ſtanding, prayed thus with himſelf: O God, I give thee thanks that I am not as the reſt of men, extortioners, unjuſt, adulterers, nor ſuch as this publican.

12 I faſt twice in the week: I give tythes of all that I poſſeſs.

13 And the publican ſtanding a-far off would not ſo much as lift his eyes towards heaven: but ſtruck his breaſt ſaying: O God be merciful to me a ſinner.

14 I ſay to you, this man went down to his houſe juſtified rather than the other: ‖ becauſe every one that exalteth himſelf, ſhall be humbled: and he that humbleth himſelf, ſhall be exalted.

‖ Matt. 23. 12. Supra. 14. 11.

15 ‡ And they brought to him alſo infants, that he might touch them. Which when the diſciples ſaw, they rebuked them.

‡ Matt. 19. 13. Mark 10. 13.

16 But Jeſus, calling them together, ſaid: Suffer children to come to me, and forbid them not: for of ſuch is the kingdom of God.

17 Amen I ſay to you: Whoſoever ſhall not receive the kingdom of God as a child, ſhall not enter into it.

18 ‖ And a certain ruler aſked him, ſaying: Good maſter, what ſhall I do to poſſeſs everlaſting life? ‖ Matt. 19. 16.

19 And Jeſus ſaid to him: Why doſt thou call me good? None is good but God alone.

20 Thou knoweſt the commandments: ‖ Thou ſhalt not kill: Thou ſhalt not commit adultery: Thou ſhalt not ſteal: Thou ſhalt not bear falſe witneſs: Honour thy father and mother. ‖ Exod. 20. 13.

21 And he ſaid: All theſe I have kept from my youth.

22 Now when Jeſus had heard this, he ſaid to him: Yet one thing is wanting to thee: ſell all that thou haſt, and give to the poor, and thou ſhalt have treaſure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 He having heard theſe things, was ſorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And Jeſus ſeeing him become ſorrowful, ſaid: How hardly ſhall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God.

25 For it is eaſier for a camel to paſs through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it ſaid: Who then can be ſaved?

27 He ſaid to them: The things that are impoſſible with men, are poſſible with God.

28 Then Peter ſaid: Behold we have left all things, and have followed thee.

29 And he ſaid to them? Amen I ſay to you, there is no man that hath left houſe, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdom of God's ſake,

30 Who ſhall not receive much more in this preſent time, and in the world to come life everlaſting.

31 ‖ Then Jeſus took unto him the twelve, and ſaid to them: Behold we go up to Jeruſalem, and all things ſhall be accompliſhed which were written by the prophets concerning the Son of man. ‖ Matt. 20. 17. Mark 10. 32.

32 For he ſhall be delivered to the Gentiles, and ſhall be mocked, and ſcourged, and ſpit upon:

33 And after they have ſcourged him,

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 3. Avenge. That is, do me juſtice. It is a Hebraiſm.

they will put him to death, and the third day he ſhall riſe again.

34 And they underſtood none of theſe things, and this word was hid from them, and they underſtood not the things that were ſaid.

Matt. 20. 29. Mark. 10. 46.

35 ‖ Now it came to paſs, that when he drew nigh to Jericho, a certain blind man ſat by the way-ſide, begging.

36 And when he heard the multitude paſſing by, he aſked what this meant.

37 And they told him that Jeſus of Nazareth was paſſing by.

38 And he cried out ſaying: Jeſus Son of David, have mercy on me.

39 And they that went before, rebuked him, that he ſhould hold his peace. But he cried out much more: Son of David have mercy on me.

40 And Jeſus ſtood and commanded him to be brought to him. And when he was come near, he aſked him,

41 Saying: What wilt thou that I do to thee? But he ſaid Lord, that I may ſee.

42 And Jeſus ſaid to him: Receive thy ſight: thy faith hath made thee whole.

43 And immediately he ſaw, and followed him, glorifying God. And all the people when they ſaw it, gave praiſe to God.

CHAP. XIX.

Zacheus entertains Chriſt. The parable of the pounds. Chriſt rides upon an aſs, and weeps over Jeruſalem.

AND entering in, he walked through Jericho.

2 And behold there was a man by name Zacheus: and this was the chief of the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he ſought to ſee Jeſus who he was: and he could not for the crowd, becauſe he was little of ſtature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a ſycamore-tree that he might ſee him: for he was to paſs that way.

5 And when Jeſus came to the place, he looked up, and ſaw him, and ſaid to him: Zacheus make haſte and come down: for to day I muſt abide in thy houſe.

6 And he made haſte and came down, and received him with joy.

7 And when they all ſaw it, they murmured, ſaying: that he was gone to be gueſt with a man that is a ſinner.

8 But Zacheus ſtood and ſaid to the Lord, Behold, Lord the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have wronged any man of any thing, I reſtore him four-fold.

9 Jeſus ſaid to him: This day is ſalvation come to this houſe: becauſe he alſo is a ſon of Abraham.

10 ‖ For the Son of man is come to ſeek, and to ſave that which was loſt. ‖ Matt. 18. 12.

11 As they were hearing theſe things, he added and ſpoke a parable, becauſe he was nigh to Jeruſalem: and becauſe they thought that the kingdom of God ſhould immediately be manifeſted.

12 He ſaid therefore: ‖ A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himſelf a kingdom, and to return. ‖ Matt. 25 14.

13 And calling his ten ſervants, he delivered them ten pounds, and ſaid to them: Trade till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him: and they ſent an embaſſage after him, ſaying: We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to paſs that he returned, having received the kingdom: and he commanded his ſervants to be called, to whom he had given the money: that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 And the firſt came, ſaying: Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he ſaid to him: Well done, thou good ſervant, becauſe thou haſt been faithful in a little, thou ſhalt have power over ten cities.

18 And the ſecond came, ſaying: Lord thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he ſaid to him: Be thou alſo over five cities.

20 And another came, ſaying: Lord, behold here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, becauſe thou art an auſtere man: thou takeſt up what thou didſt not lay down, and thou reapeſt what thou didſt not ſow.

22 He ſaith to him: Out of thy own mouth I judge thee, thou wicked ſervant. Thou kneweſt that I was an auſtere man, taking up what I laid not down, and reaping that which I did not ſow:

23 And why then didſt thou not give my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required it with uſury?

24 And he ſaid to them that ſtood by: Take the pound away from him, and give it to him that hath the ten pounds.

25 And they ſaid to him: Lord he hath ten pounds.

26 ‖ But I ſay to you, that to every one ‖ Matt. 13. 12. & 25. 29. Mark 4. 25. Supra 8. 18.

CHAP. XIX. VER. 13. He delivered them ten pounds. In the original, what is here tranſlated a pound, is μνᾶ, or in Latin mina, in value of our coin three pounds two ſhillings and ſix pence.

that hath ſhall be given, and he ſhall abound: and from him that hath not, even that which he hath ſhall be taken from him.

27 But as for thoſe my enemies, who would not have me reign over them, bring them hither; and kill them before me.

28 And when he had ſaid theſe things, he went before going up to Jeruſalem.

29 And it came to paſs, when he was come nigh to || Bethphage and Bethania at the mountain called Olivet, he ſent two of his diſciples, || Matt. 21. 1. Mark 11. 1.

30 Saying: Go ye into the town, which is over-againſt you, entering into it, you ſhall find the colt of an aſs tied, on which no man hath ever ſat: looſe him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ſhall aſk you: Why do you looſe him? You ſhall ſay thus unto him: Becauſe the Lord hath need of his ſervice.

32 And they that were ſent went their way, and found the colt ſtanding, as he had ſaid to them.

33 And as they were looſing the colt, the owners thereof ſaid to them? Why looſe you the colt?

34 But they ſaid: Becauſe the Lord hath need of him.

35 || And they brought him to Jeſus. And caſting their garments on the colt, they ſet Jeſus thereon. || John 12. 14. 2.

36 And as he went, they ſpread their clothes underneath in the way.

37 And when he was now coming near the deſcent of mount Olivet, the whole multitude of his diſciples began with joy to praiſe God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works they had ſeen,

38 Saying: Bleſſed is he who cometh king in the name of the Lord, peace in heaven, and glory on high.

39 And ſome of the Phariſees from amongſt the multitude ſaid to him: Maſter rebuke thy diſciples.

40 And he ſaid to them: I tell you, that if theſe ſhould hold their peace, the ſtones will cry out.

41 And when he drew near, ſeeing the city, he wept over it, ſaying:

42 If thou alſo hadſt known, and that in this thy day, the things that are for thy peace: but now they are hidden from thy eyes.

43 For the days ſhall come upon thee: and thy enemies ſhall caſt a trench about thee, and compaſs thee round, and ſtraiten thee on every ſide,

44 And beat thee flat to the ground, and thy children who are in thee: || and they ſhall not leave in thee a ſtone upon a ſtone: becauſe thou haſt not known the time of thy viſitation. || Matt. 24. 2. Mark. 13. 2. Infra. 21. 6.

45 † And entering into the temple, he began to caſt out them that ſold therein, and them that bought, † Matt. 21. 12 Mark. 11. 15.

46 Saying to them: It is written: My houſe is the houſe of prayer. But you have made it a den of thieves. || Iſai. 56. 7. Jerem. 7. 11.

47 And he was teaching daily in the temple. And the chief prieſts and the Scribes and the rulers of the people ſought to deſtroy him:

48 And they found not what to do to him. For all the people were held in ſuſpenſe hearing him.

CHAP. XX.

The parable of the huſbandmen. Of paying tribute to Cæſar; and of the reſurrection of the dead.

AND it came to paſs in one of the days, when he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the goſpel, the chief prieſts and the Scribes with the ancients met together, Matt. 21. 23. Mark. 11. 27.

2 And ſpoke to him, ſaying: Tell us, by what authority doſt thou theſe things? or, who is he that hath given thee this authority?

3 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid to them: I will alſo aſk you one word. Anſwer me:

4 The baptiſm of John was it from heaven, or of men?

5 But they thought within themſelves, ſaying: If we ſhall ſay, From heaven: he will ſay: Why then did you not believe him?

6 But if we ſay, Of men, the whole people will ſtone us: for they are certain that John was a prophet.

7 And they anſwered that they knew not whence it was.

8 And Jeſus ſaid to them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do theſe things.

9 And he began to ſpeak to the people this parable: || A man planted a vine-yard, and let it out to huſband-men: and he was abroad for a long time. || Iſai. 5. 1. Jerem. 2. 21. Matt. 21. 33. Mark. 12. 1.

10 And at the ſeaſon he ſent a ſervant to the huſbandmen, that they ſhould give him of the fruit of the vine-yard. But they beat him, and ſent him away empty.

11 And again he ſent another ſervant. And they beat him alſo, and treating him reproachfully, ſent him away empty.

12 And again he ſent the third: and they wounded him alſo, and caſt him out.

13 Then the lord of the vineyard ſaid: What ſhall I do? I will ſend my beloved ſon: it may be, when they ſee him, they will reverence him.

14 But when the huſbandmen ſaw him, they thought within themſelves, ſaying: This is the heir, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 And caſting him out of the vineyard, they killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them?

16 He will come, and will deſtroy theſe huſbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others. And when they heard this, they ſaid to him: God forbid.

17 But he looking on them, ſaid: What is this then that is written: ‖ The ſtone which the builders rejected, the ſame is become the head of the corner?

‖ Pſal. 117. 22. Iſai. 28. 16. Matt. 21. 42. Acts 4. 11. Rom. 9. 33. 1 Peter 2. 7.

18 Whoſoever ſhall fall upon that ſtone, ſhall be bruiſed: and upon whomſoever it ſhall fall, it will daſh him to pieces.

19 And the chief prieſts and the Scribes ſought to lay hands on him the ſame hour: but they feared the people: for they knew that he ſpoke this parable againſt them.

20 † And being upon the watch, they ſent ſpies, who ſhould feign themſelves juſt that they might take hold of him in his words, that they might deliver him up to the authority and power of the governor.

† Matt. 2. 15. Mark 12. 13.

21 And they aſked him, ſaying: Maſter, we know that thou ſpeakeſt and teacheſt rightly: and thou haſt no reſpect of perſon, but teacheſt the way of God in truth:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Cæſar, or not?

23 But he conſidering their deceit ſaid to them: Why tempt you me?

24 Shew me a penny. Whoſe image and inſcription hath it? They anſwering ſaid to him: Cæſar's.

25 And he ſaid to them: ‖ Render therefore to Cæſar the things that are Cæſar's: and to God the things that are God's.

‖ Rom. 13. 7.

26 And they could not reprehend his word before the people: and wondering at his anſwer, they held their peace.

27 ‖ And there came to him ſome of the Sadducees, who deny that there is any reſurrection, and they aſked him,

‖ Matt. 22. 23. Mark 12. 18.

28 Saying: Maſter, Moſes wrote unto us: ‡ If any man's brother die having a wife, and he hath been without children, that his brother ſhould take her to wife, and raiſe up ſeed to his brother.

‡ Deut. 25. 5.

29 There were therefore ſeven brethren: and the firſt took a wife, and died without ſons.

30 And the next took her to wife, and he alſo died without a ſon.

31 And the third took her. And in like manner all the ſeven, and they left no ſeed, and died.

32 Laſt of all the woman died alſo.

33 In the reſurrection therefore, whoſe wife of them ſhall ſhe be? ſince the ſeven had her to wife.

34 And Jeſus ſaid to them: The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they that ſhall be accounted worthy of that world, and of the reſurrection from the dead, ſhall neither be married, nor take wives.

36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal to angels, and are the children of God, ſince they are the children of reſurrection.

37 Now that the dead riſe again, Moſes alſo ſhewed at the buſh, ‖ when he calleth the Lord, The God of Abraham and the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob.

‖ Exod. 3. 6.

38 For he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live to him.

39 And ſome of the Scribes anſwering, ſaid to him: Maſter, thou haſt ſaid well.

40 And after that they durſt not aſk him any more queſtions.

41 But he ſaid to them: How ſay they that Chriſt is the ſon of David?

42 And David himſelf ſaith in the book of pſalms: ‖ The Lord ſaid to my Lord, ſit thou on my right hand, ‖ Pſal. 109. 1. Mat. 22. 44. Mark 12. 36.

43 Till I make thy enemies thy footſtool.

44 David then calleth him Lord: and how is he his ſon?

45 And in the hearing of all the people he ſaid to his diſciples:

46 ‖ Beware of the Scribes, who deſire to walk in long robes, and love ſalutations in the market-place, and the firſt chairs in the ſynagogues, and the chief rooms at feaſts:

‖ Matt. 23. 6. Mark 12. 38. Supra 11. 43.

47 Who devour the houſes of widows, feigning long prayer. Theſe ſhall receive greater damnation.

CHAP. XXI.

The widows's mites. The ſigns that ſhould forerun the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the end of the world.

AND looking on, he ſaw the rich men caſt their gifts into the treaſury. Mark 12. 41.

2 And he ſaw alſo a certain poor widow caſting in two braſs mites.

3 And he ſaid: Verily I ſay to you, that this poor widow hath caſt in more than they all.

4 For all theſe have of their abundance caſt into the offerings of God: but ſhe of her want, hath caſt in all her living that ſhe had.

5 And as ſome were ſaying of the temple, that it was adorned with goodly ſtones and gifts, he ſaid:

6 Theſe things which you ſee, ‖ the days will come, in which there ſhall not be left a ſtone upon a ſtone, that ſhall not be thrown down.

‖ Matt. 24. 2. Mark 13. 2. Supra 19. 44.

7 And they aſked him ſaying: Maſter, when ſhall theſe things be: and what ſhall be the ſign when they ſhall begin to come to paſs?

8 And he ſaid: Take heed that you be not ſeduced; for many will come in my name, ſaying, I am he: and the time is at hand: go ye not therefore after them.

9 And when you ſhall hear of wars and ſeditions, be not terrified: theſe things muſt firſt come to paſs, but the end is not yet immediately.

10 Then he ſaid to them: Nation ſhall riſe againſt nation, and kingdom againſt kingdom.

11 And there ſhall be great earth-quakes in divers places, and peſtilences and famines, and terrors from heaven, and there ſhall be great ſigns.

12 But before all theſe things they will lay their hands on you, and perſecute you, delivering you up to the ſynagogues and into priſons, dragging you before kings and governors for my name's ſake:

13 And it ſhall happen to you for a teſtimony.

14 Lay it up therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before how you ſhall anſwer.

15 For I will give you a mouth and wiſdom, which all your adverſaries ſhall not be able to reſiſt and gainſay.

16 And you ſhall be betrayed by your parents and brethren, and kinſmen and friends: and ſome of you they will put to death.

17 And you ſhall be hated by all men for my name's ſake:

21 Then let them that are in Judea flee to the mountains: and let them that are in the midſt thereof, depart out: and let not them that are in the countries, enter into it.

22 For theſe are the days of vengeance, that all things may be fulfilled that are written.

23 But wo to them that are with child, and give ſuck in thoſe days; for there ſhall be great diſtreſs in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they ſhall fall by the edge of the ſword: and ſhall be led away captives into all nations, and Jeruſalem ſhall be trodden down by the Gentiles: till the times of the nations be fulfilled.

32 Amen I ſay to you, this generation ſhall not paſs away, till all things be fulfilled.

33 Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away: but my words ſhall not paſs away.

34 And take heed to yourſelves, leſt perhaps your hearts be overcharged with ſurfeiting, and drunkenneſs, and the cares of this life: and that day come upon you ſuddenly.

The treaſon of Judas. The laſt ſupper. The firſt part of the hiſtory of the paſſion.

Matt. 26. 2. Mark 14. 1. A. D. 33.

NOW the feaſt of unleavened bread, which is called the paſch, was at hand.

2 And the chief prieſts and the Scribes ſought how they might put Jeſus to death: but they feared the people.

‖ Matt. 26. 14. Mark 14. 10.

3 ‖ And ſatan entered into Judas, who was ſurnamed Iſcariot, one of the twelve.

4 And he went, and diſcourſed with the chief prieſts and the magiſtrates, how he might betray him to them.

5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promiſed. And he ſought for an opportunity to betray him in the abſence of the multitude.

7 And the day of the unleavened bread came, on which it was neceſſary that the paſch ſhould be killed.

8 And he ſent Peter and John, ſaying: Go and prepare us the paſch, that we may eat.

9 But they ſaid: Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he ſaid to them: Behold, as you go into the city, there ſhall meet you a man carrying a pitcher of water: follow him into the houſe, which he entereth into:

11 And you ſhall ſay to the maſter of the houſe: The Maſter ſaith to thee: Where is the gueſt-chamber, where I may eat the paſch with my diſciples?

12 And he will ſhew you a large dining room furniſhed: and there prepare.

13 And they going, found as he had ſaid to them, and they made ready the paſch.

CHAP. XXII. VER. 19. Do this for a commemoration of me. This ſacrifice and ſacrament is to be continued in the church, to the end of the world, to ſhew forth the death of Chriſt, until he cometh. But this commemoration, or remembrance, is by no means inconſiſtent with the real preſence of his body and blood, under theſe ſacramental veils, which repreſent his death: on the contrary, it is the manner that he himſelf hath commanded, of commemorating and celebrating his death, by offering in ſacrifice, and receiving in the ſacrament, that body and blood by which we were redeemed.

him into their council, saying: If thou be the Christ, tell us.

67 And he said to them: If I shall tell you, you will not believe me:

68 And if I shall also ask you, you will not answer me, nor let me go.

69 But hereafter the Son of man shall be sitting on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all: Art thou then the Son of God? And he said: You say, that I am.

71 Then they said: What need we any farther testimony? For we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth.

The continuation of the history of the passion.

AND the whole multitude of them rose up, and led him away to Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying: We have found this man perverting our nation, ‖ and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that he is Christ the king.

‖ Matt. 22. 21. Mark 12. 17.

† Matt. 27. 11. Mark. 15. 2. John 18. 33.

4 Then Pilate said to the chief priests and to the multitude: I find no cause in this man.

5 But they were more earnest, saying: He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 And Pilate hearing of Galilee, asked if the man were a Galilean?

7 And when he understood that he belonged to Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him away to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem in those days.

8 And Herod seeing Jesus was very glad, for he was desirous of a long time to see him, because he had heard many things of him: and he hoped to see some miracle wrought by him.

9 And he questioned him with many words. But he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and the Scribes stood by, earnestly accusing him.

11 And Herod with his soldiers despised him: and mocked him, putting on him a white garment, and sent him back to Pilate.

12 And Herod and Pilate were made friends together that same day: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 Then Pilate calling together the chief priests, and the magistrates, and the people,

14 Said to them: You have brought this man to me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold I, having examined him before you, ‖ find no cause in this man touching those things wherein you accuse him.

‖ John 18. 38. & 19. 4.

15 No, nor yet Herod: For I sent you to him, and behold, nothing worthy of death is done to him.

16 I will chastise him therefore, and release him.

17 Now of necessity he was to release to them one upon the feast-day.

18 But the whole multitude cried out at once, saying: Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas.

19 Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.

20 And Pilate spoke to them again, desiring to release Jesus.

21 But they cried out, saying: Crucify him, crucify him.

‖ Matt. 27. 23. Mark. 15. 14.

23 But they were instant with loud voices requiring that he might be crucified: and their voices prevailed.

24 And Pilate gave sentence that their petition should be granted.

25 And he released unto them him, who for murder and sedition had been cast into prison, whom they had desired: but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26 ‖ And as they led him away, they laid hold on one Simon of Cyrene, that was coming out of the country: and they laid the cross on him to carry after Jesus.

‖ Matt. 27. 32. Mark 15. 21.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of people and of women: who bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning to them, said: Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not over me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 For behold the days shall come, wherein they will say: Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that have not borne and the paps that have not given suck.

33 † And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, they crucified him there; and the robbers, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 And Jesus said: Father, forgive them for they know not what they do. But dividing his garments, they cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers with them derided him, saying: He saved others, let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him coming to him, and offering him vinegar.

37 And saying: If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.

38 And there was also a superscription written over him in Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew letters: THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 And one of these robbers who were hanging, blasphemed him, saying: If thou be Christ, save thyself, and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying: Neither dost thou fear God, seeing thou art under the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done no evil.

42 And he said to Jesus: Lord, remember me when thou shalt come into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said to him: Amen I say to thee, this day thou shalt be with me in paradise.

46 And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said: ‖ Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit. And saying this, he gave up the ghost.

47 Now the centurion seeing what was done, glorified God, saying: Indeed this was a just man.

52 This man went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And taking him down, he wrapped him in fine linen, and laid him in a sepulchre that was hewed in stone, wherein never yet any man had been laid.

54 And it was the day of the parasceve, and the sabbath drew near.

55 And the women that were come with him from Galilee, following after, saw the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And returning they prepared spices and ointments: and on the sabbath day they rested according to the commandment.

4 And it came to pass, while they were astonished in mind at this, behold two men stood by them in shining apparel.

CHAP. XXIII. VER. 43. In Paradise. That is, in the happy state of rest, joy and peace everlasting. Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and the other women that were with them, that told these things to the apostles.

11 And these words seemed to them as an idle tale: and they did not believe them.

12 But Peter rising up ran to the sepulchre; and stooping down he saw the linen-cloths laid by themselves, and went away wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

‖ Mark 16. 13 ‖ And behold, two of them went that same day to a town which was sixty furlongs from Jerusalem, named Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that while they talked and reasoned with one another, Jesus himself also drew near and went with them.

16 But their eyes were held that they should not know him.

17 And he said to them: What are these discourses that you hold one with another as you walk, and are sad?

18 And the one, whose name was Cleophas, answering, said to him: Art thou alone a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things that have been done there in these days?

19 And he said to them: What things? And they said: Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet, mighty in work and word, before God, and all the people,

20 And how our chief priests and rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and crucified him.

21 But we hoped that it was he who should have redeemed Israel: and now besides all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea and certain women also of our company, affrighted us, who before it was light were at the sepulchre.

23 And not finding his body, came saying, that they had also seen a vision of Angels, who say that he is alive.

24 And some of our people went to the sepulchre: and found it so as the women had said, but him they found not.

25 Then he said to them: O foolish, and slow of heart to believe in all the things, which the prophets have spoken!

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and so to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning from Moses, and all the Prophets, he expounded to them in all the Scriptures, the things that were concerning him.

28 And they drew nigh to the town whither they were going: and he made as though he would go farther.

29 But they constrained him, saying: Stay with us, because it is towards evening, and the day is now far spent. And he went in with them.

30 And it came to pass, whilst he was at table with them, he took bread, and blessed, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to the other: Was not our heart burning within us, whilst he was speaking in the way, and opened to us the Scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour and went back to Jerusalem: and they found the eleven gathered together, and those that were with them,

34 Saying: The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way: and how they knew him in the breaking of bread.

‖ Mark 16. 14. John 20. 19. 36 ‖ Now whilst they were speaking these things, Jesus stood in the midst of them, and saith to them: Peace be to you; it is I, fear not.

37 But they being troubled and affrighted, supposed that they saw a spirit.

38 And he said to them: Why are you troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: feel, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as you see me to have.

40 And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 But while they yet believed not, and wondered for joy, he said: Have you here any thing to eat?

42 And they offered him a piece of a broiled fish, and a honey-comb.

43 And when he had eaten before them, taking the remains he gave to them.

44 And he said to them: These are the words which I spoke to you while I was yet with you, that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms concerning me.

45 Then he opened their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures.

‖ Psal 18. 6. 46 And he said to them: ‖ Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead the third day:

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN.

St. John the Apostle and Evangelist, was the son of Zebedee and Salome, and brother to James the Greater. He was called the BELOVED DISCIPLE OF CHRIST, and stood by at his crucifixion. He wrote the Gospel after the other Evangelists, about sixty-three years after our Lord's ascension. Many things that they had omitted were supplied by him. The original was written in Greek, and by the Greeks he is titled THE DIVINE. St. JEROM relates that when he was earnestly requested by the brethren to write the Gospel, he answered he would do it, if, by ordering a common fast, they would all put up their prayers together to the Almighty God; which being ended, replenished with the clearest and fullest revelation, coming from Heaven, he burst forth into that preface: In the beginning was the Word, &c.

The Divinity and Incarnation of Christ. John bears witness of him. He begins to call his disciples.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2 The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by him: and without him was made nothing that was made.

4 In him was life, and the life was the light of men:

5 And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.

‖ Mat. 3. 1. Mark 1. 4. 6 ‖ There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 This man came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men might believe through him.

8 He was not the light, but was to bear witness of the light.

‖ Infra 3. 19. 9 ‖ That was the true light, which enlighteneth every man that cometh into this world.

† Heb. 11. 8.

10 He was in the world, † and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them he gave power to be made the ſons of God, to them that believe in his name.

13 Who are born, not of blood, nor of the will of the fleſh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

‖ Matt. 1. 16. Luke 2. 7.

14 ‖ And the word was made fleſh, and dwelt among us: and we ſaw his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.

15 John beareth witneſs of him: and crieth out, ſaying: This was he of whom I ſpoke: He that ſhall come after me, is preferred before me, becauſe he was before me.

‖ 1. Tim. 6. 17.

16 ‖ And of his fulneſs we all have received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moſes, grace and truth came by Jeſus Chriſt.

‖ 1. Tim. 6. 16. 1 John 4. 12.

18 ‖ No man hath ſeen God at any time: the only begotten Son who is in the boſom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the teſtimony of John, when the Jews ſent from Jeruſalem prieſts and Levites to him, to aſk him: Who art thou?

20 And he confeſſed, and did not deny: and he confeſſed: I am not the Chriſt.

21 And they aſked him: what then? Art thou Elias? And he ſaid: I am not. Art thou the prophet? And he anſwered: No.

22 Then they ſaid to him: Who art thou, that we may give an anſwer to them that ſent us? What ſayeſt thou of thyſelf?

‖ Iſai. 40. 3. Matt. 3. 3. Mark 1. 3. Luke 3. 4.

23 He ſaid: ‖ I am the voice of one crying in the wilderneſs: Make ſtraight the way of the Lord, as the prophet Iſaias ſaid.

24 And they that were ſent, were of the Phariſees.

25 And they aſked him, and ſaid to him: Why then doſt thou baptize, if thou be not Chriſt, nor Elias, nor the prophet?

† Matt. 3. 11.

26 John anſwered them, ſaying † I baptize in water: but there hath ſtood one in the midſt of you, whom you know not.

‖ Mark 1. 7. Luke 3. 16. Acts 1. 5. & 11. 16. & 19. 4.

27 ‖ The ſame is he that ſhall come after me, who is preferred before me: the latchet of whoſe ſhoe I am not worthy to looſe.

28 Theſe things were done in Bethania beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John ſaw Jeſus coming to him, and he ſaith: Behold the lamb of God, behold he who taketh away the ſin of the world.

30 This is he of whom I ſaid: After me cometh a man, who is preferred before me, becauſe he was before me.

31 And I knew him not, but that he may be made manifeſt in Iſrael, therefore am I come baptizing in water.

‖ Matt. 3. 16. Mark 1. 10. Luke 3. 22.

32 And John gave teſtimony, ſaying: ‖ I ſaw the Spirit coming down as a dove from heaven, and he remained upon him.

33 And I knew him not; but he, who ſent me to baptize in water, ſaid to me: He upon whom thou ſhalt ſee the Spirit deſcending, and remaining on him, he it is that baptizeth with the Holy Ghoſt.

34 And I ſaw; and I gave teſtimony, that this is the Son of God.

35 Again the following day, John ſtood, and two of his diſciples.

36 And looking upon Jeſus as he was walking, he ſaith: Behold the lamb of God.

37 And the two diſciples heard him ſpeak, and they followed Jeſus.

38 And Jeſus turning, and ſeeing them following him, ſaith to them: what ſeek you? They ſaid to him: Rabbi, (which is to ſay being interpreted, Maſter) where dwelleſt thou?

39 He ſaith to them: Come and ſee. They came, and ſaw where he abode, and they ſtaid with him that day: now it was about the tenth hour.

40 And Andrew the brother of Simon Peter was one of the two who had heard of John, and followed him.

41 He firſt findeth his brother Simon, and ſaid to him: We have found the Meſſias, which is being interpreted, the Chriſt.

42 And he brought him to Jeſus. And Jeſus looking upon him, ſaid; Thou art Simon the ſon of Jona: thou ſhalt be called Cephas: which is interpreted, Peter.

43 On the following day he would go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip. And Jeſus ſaid to him: Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethſaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

‖ Gen. 49 10. Deut. 18. 18. † Iſai. 40. 10. & 45. 8. Jerem. 23. 5. Ezec. 34. 23. & 37. 24. Dan. 9. 24. & 25.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and ſaid to him: we have found him of whom ‖ Moſes in the law, † and the prophets did write, Jeſus the ſon of Joſeph of Nazareth.

46 And Nathanael ſaid to him: Can any thing of good come from Nazareth? Philip ſaith to him: Come and ſee.

47 Jeſus ſaw Nathanael coming to him, and he ſaith of him: behold an Iſraelite indeed in whom there is no guile.

48 Nathanael ſaid to him: Whence knoweſt thou me? Jeſus anſwered and ſaid to him: before that Philip called thee, when thou waſt under the fig-tree, I ſaw thee.

49 Nathanael anſwered him, and ſaid: Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the king of Iſrael.

50 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid to him: Becauſe I ſaid unto thee, I ſaw thee under the fig-tree, thou believeſt: greater things than theſe ſhalt thou ſee.

51 And he ſaith to him: Amen, amen I ſay to you, you ſhall ſee the heaven opened, and the angels of God aſcending and deſcending upon the Son of man.

CHAP. II.

Chriſt changes water into wine: He caſts the ſellers out of the temple.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee: and the mother of Jeſus was there.

2 And Jeſus alſo was invited, and his diſciples, to the marriage.

3 And the wine failing, the mother of Jeſus ſaith to him: They have no wine.

4 And Jeſus ſaith to her: Woman, what is that to me and to thee? my hour is not yet come.

5 His mother ſaith to the waiters: Whatſoever he ſhall ſay to you, do ye.

6 Now there were ſet there ſix water-pots of ſtone, according to the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three meaſures a piece.

7 Jeſus ſaith to them: Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And Jeſus ſaith to them: Draw out now, and carry to the chief ſteward of the feaſt. And they carried it.

9 And when the chief ſteward had taſted the water made wine, and knew not whence it was, but the waiters knew who had drawn the water: the chief ſteward calleth the bride-groom,

10 And ſaith to him: Every man at firſt ſetteth forth good wine, and when men have well drank, then that which is worſe: But thou haſt kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jeſus in Cana of Galilee: and he manifeſted his glory, and his diſciples believed in him.

12 After this he went down to Capharnaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his diſciples: and they remained there not many days.

13 And the paſch of the Jews was at hand, and Jeſus went up to Jeruſalem:

14 And he found in the temple thoſe that ſold oxen and ſheep and doves, and the changers of money ſitting.

15 And when he had made as it were a ſcourge of little cords, he drove them all out of the temple, the ſheep alſo and the oxen, and he poured out the changers money, and the tables he overthrew.

16 And he ſaid to them that ſold doves: Take theſe things hence, and make not the houſe of my Father, a houſe of traffick.

17 And his diſciples remembered that it was written: ‖ The zeal of thy houſe hath eaten me up. ‖ Pſal. 68. 10.

18 Then the Jews anſwered, and ſaid to him: What ſign doſt thou ſhew us, ſeeing thou doſt theſe things.

19 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid to them: ‖ Deſtroy this temple, and in three days I will raiſe it up. ‖ Mat. 26. 61. & 27. 40. Mark 14. 58. & 15. 29.

20 The Jews then ſaid: Six and forty years was this temple in building, and wilt thou raiſe it up in three days?

21 But he ſpoke of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was riſen again from the dead, his diſciples remembered, that he had ſaid this, † and they believed the Scripture, and the word that Jeſus had ſaid. † Pſal. 3. 6. & 36. 9.

23 Now when he was at Jeruſalem, at the paſch, upon the feſtival day, many believed in his name ſeeing, his miracles, which he did.

24 But Jeſus did not truſt himſelf to them, becauſe he knew all men,

25 And becauſe he needed not that any ſhould give teſtimony of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAP. II. VER. 4. What is that to me, &c. Theſe words of our Saviour ſpoken to his mother has been underſtood by ſome commentators as harſh, they not conſidering the next following Verſe: Whatſoever he ſhall ſay to you, do ye, which plainly ſhews that his mother knew of the miracle that he was to perform, and that it was at her requeſt he wrought it; beſides the manner of ſpeaking the words as to the tone, and the countenance ſhewn at the ſame time, which could only be known to thoſe who were preſent, or from what had followed: for words indicating anger in one tone of voice, would be underſtood quite the reverſe in another.

CHAP. III.

Chriſt's diſcourſe with Nicodemus. John's teſtimony.

AND there was a man of the Phariſees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.

2 This man came to Jeſus by night, and ſaid to him: Rabbi, we know that thou art come a teacher from God: for no man can do theſe miracles which thou doſt, unleſs God was with him.

3 Jeſus anſwered and ſaid to him: Amen, amen I ſay to thee, except a man be born again, he cannot ſee the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus ſaith to him: How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the ſecond time into his mother's womb, and be born again?

5 Jeſus anſwered: Amen, amen I ſay to thee, unleſs a man be born again of water and the Holy Ghoſt, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the fleſh, is fleſh: and that which is born of the ſpirit, is ſpirit.

7 Wonder not that I ſaid to thee, you muſt be born again.

8 The ſpirit breatheth where he will; and thou heareſt his voice, || but thou knoweſt not whence he cometh, nor whither he goeth: ſo is every one that is born of the ſpirit.

|| Pſal. 134. 7.

9 Nicodemus anſwered, and ſaid to him: How can theſe things be done?

10 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid to him: Art thou a maſter of Iſrael, and knoweſt not theſe things?

11 Amen, amen I ſay to thee: we ſpeak what we know and we teſtify what we have ſeen, and you receive not our teſtimony.

12 If I have ſpoken to you earthly things, and you believe not: how will you believe if I ſhall ſpeak to you heavenly things?

13 And no man hath aſcended into heaven, but he that deſcended from heaven, the Son of man who is in heaven.

|| Num. 21. 9

14 || And as Moſes lifted up the ſerpent in the deſert, ſo muſt the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whoſoever believeth in him, may not periſh, but may have life everlaſting.

16 || For God ſo loved the world, as to give his only begotton Son: that whoſoever believeth in him, may not periſh, but may have life everlaſting. || 1 John 4. 9.

17 For God ſent not his Son into the world, to judge the world, but that the world may be ſaved by him.

18 He that believeth in him is not judged: but he that doth not believe, is already judged: becauſe he believeth not in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the judgment: || becauſe the light is come into the world, and men loved darkneſs, rather than the light: for their works were evil. || Supra 1. 9.

20 For every one that doth evil hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, that his works may not be reproved.

21 But he that doth truth, cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifeſt, becauſe they are done in God.

22 After theſe things Jeſus and his diſciples came into the land of Judea: and there he abode with them, || and baptized. || Infra 4. 2.

23 And John alſo was baptizing in Ennon near Salim: becauſe there was much water there, and they came, and were baptized.

24 For John was not yet caſt into priſon.

25 And there aroſe a queſtion between ſome of John's diſciples and the Jews concerning purification.

26 And they came to John, and ſaid to him: Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond the Jordan, || to whom thou gaveſt teſtimony, behold he baptizeth, and all men come to him. || Supra 1. 19.

27 John anſwered and ſaid: A man cannot receive any thing except it be given him from heaven.

28 You yourſelves do bear me witneſs, || that I ſaid, I am not the Chriſt, but that I am ſent before him. || Supra 1. 20.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, who ſtandeth and heareth him, rejoiceth with joy becauſe of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is fulfilled.

CHAP. III. VER. 5. Unleſs a man be born again &c. By theſe words our Saviour hath declared the neceſſity of Baptiſm: and by the word water it is evident that the application of it is neceſſary with the words, Matt. xxviii. ver. 19.

VER. 18. Is not judged, He that believeth viz. by a faith working through charity, is not judged, that is, is not condemned, but the obſtinate unbeliever is judged, that is condemned already, by retrenching himſelf from the ſociety of Chriſt and his church.

VER. 19. The judgment, That is the cauſe of his condemnation.

VER. 21. He that doth truth, i. e. He that acteth according to truth, which here ſignifies the Law of God. Thy law is truth. Pſ. 118. ver. 142.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from above, is above all. He that is of the earth, of the earth he is, and of the earth he speaketh. He that cometh from heaven, is above all.

32 And what he hath seen, and heard, that he testifieth: and no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath received his testimony, ‖Rom. 3. 4. hath attested by his seal that ‖ God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God doth not give the spirit by measure.

35 The Father loveth the Son: and he hath given all things into his hand.

‖ 1 John 5. 10. 36 ‖ He that believeth in the Son hath life everlasting: but he that believeth not the Son, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAP. IV.

Christ talks with the Samaritan woman. He heals the ruler's son.

WHEN therefore Jesus understood that the Pharisees had heard that ‖ Supra 3. 22. Jesus maketh more disciples, ‖ and baptizeth more than John.

2 (Though Jesus himself did not baptize, but his disciples)

3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And it was necessary he should pass through Samaria.

5 He cometh therefore to a city of Samaria which is called Sichar: near the piece ‖ Gen. 33. 19. & 48. 22. Josue 24. 32. of ground, ‖ which Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well. It was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith to her: Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone into the city to buy food,)

9 Then that Samaritan woman saith to him: How dost thou, being a Jew, ask of me to drink, who am a Samaritan woman? For the Jews do not communicate with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said to her: If thou didst know the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink: thou perhaps wouldst have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith to him: Sir, thou hast nothing wherein to draw, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered, and said to her: Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst again: but he that shall drink of the water that I shall give him, shall not thirst for ever.

14 But the water that I shall give him, shall become in him a fountain of water springing up unto everlasting life.

15 The woman saith to him: Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith to her: Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said: I have no husband. Jesus said to her: Thou hast said well, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands: and he whom thou now hast, is not thy husband. This thou hast said truly.

19 The woman saith to him: Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers adored on this mountain, and you say, ‖ that at Jerusalem is the place ‖ Deut. 12. 5. where men must adore.

21 Jesus saith to her: Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when you shall neither on this mountain, nor in Jerusalem adore the Father.

22 ‖ You adore that which you know not: ‖ 4 Kings 17. 41. we adore that which we know: for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true adorer shall adore the Father in spirit and in truth. For the Father also seeketh such to adore him.

24 ‖ God is a spirit, and they that adore ‖ 1 Cor. 3. 17. him, must adore him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith to him: I know that the Messias cometh (who is called Christ) therefore when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith to her: I am he, who am speaking with thee.

27 And immediately his disciples came: and they wondered that he talked with the woman. Yet no man said: What seekest thou, or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman therefore left her water-pot, and went away into the city, and saith to those men:

CHAP. IV. VER. 20. This mountain. Garizim, where the Samaritans had their schismatical temple.

29 Come, and see a man who hath told me all things that ever I did. Is not he the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came to him.

31 In the mean time the disciples prayed him, saying: Rabbi, eat.

32 But he said to them: I have food to eat which you know not of.

33 The disciples therefore said one to another: Hath any man brought him any thing to eat?

34 Jesus said to them: My food is to do the will of him that sent me, that I may perfect his work.

35 Do not you say, there are yet four months, and then the harvest cometh? Behold I say to you, lift up your eyes, and see the countries, ‖ for they are white already to harvest.

‖ Matt. 9. 37. Luke 10. 2.

36 And he that reapeth, receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto everlasting life: that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth, may rejoice together.

37 For in this is the saying true: that it is one man that soweth, and it is another that reapeth.

38 I have sent you to reap that in which you did not labour: others have laboured, and you have entered into their labours.

39 Now of that city many of the Samaritans believed in him, for the word of the woman giving testimony: that he told me whatsoever I have done.

40 So when the Samaritans were come to him, they desired him that he would stay there. And he staid there two days.

41 And many more believed in him because of his own word.

42 And they said to the woman: We now believe, not for thy saying: for we ourselves have heard him, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

43 Now after two days he departed thence: and went into Galilee.

‖ Matt. 13. 57. Mark 6. 4. Luke 4 24.

44 ‖ For Jesus himself gave testimony that a prophet hath not honour in his own country.

‡ Matt. 4. 12. Mark 1. 14. Luke 4. 14.

45 ‡ Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things he had done at Jerusalem on the festival day: for they also went to the festival day.

46 He came again therefore into Cana of Galilee, ‖ where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ruler whose son was sick at Capharnaum.

‖ Supra 2 9.

47 He having heard that Jesus was come from Judea into Galilee, went to him, and prayed him to come down and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then Jesus said to him: Unless you see signs and wonders, you believe not.

49 The ruler saith to him: Sir, come down before that my son die.

50 Jesus saith to him: Go thy way, thy son liveth. The man believed the word which Jesus said to him, and went his way.

51 And as he was going down, his servants met him: and they brought word, saying, that his son lived.

52 He asked therefore of them the hour, wherein he grew better. And they said to him: Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 The father therefore knew that it was at the same hour, that Jesus said to him. Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

Christ heals on the sabbath the man languishing thirty eight years; his discourse upon this occasion.

A. D. 31.

AFTER these things there was a festival day of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is at Jerusalem a pond called Probatica, which in Hebrew is named Bethsaida, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of sick, of blind, of lame, of withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 And an angel of the Lord went down at a certain time into the pond: and the water was moved. And he that went down first into the pond after the motion of the water, was made whole of whatsoever infirmity he lay under.

5 And there was a certain man there, that had been eight and thirty years under his infirmity.

6 Him when Jesus had seen lying, and knew that he had been now a long time, he saith to him: Wilt thou be made whole?

CHAP. V. VER. 2. Probatica. That is, the sheep-pond: either so called, because the sheep were washed therein, that were to be offered up in sacrifice in the temple, or because it was near the sheep-gate. That this was a pond where miracles were wrought is evident from the sacred text; and also that the water had no natural virtue to heal, as one only of those put in after the motion of the water was restored to health; for if the water had the healing quality, the others would have the like benefit being put into it about the same time.

7 The infirm man anſwered him: Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pond: for whilſt I am coming, another goeth down before me.

8 Jeſus ſaith to him: Ariſe, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole: and he took up his bed, and walked. And it was the ſabbath that day.

10 The Jews therefore ſaid to him that was cured: ‖ It is the ſabbath, it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed.

‖ Exod. 20. 11. Jerem. 17. 24.

11 He anſwered them: He that made me whole, he ſaid to me: Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 They aſked him therefore: Who is that man that ſaid to thee: Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 But he that was healed, knew not who it was. For Jeſus went aſide from the multitude that was ſtanding in the place.

14 Afterwards Jeſus findeth him in the temple, and ſaith to him: Behold thou art made whole: ſin no more, leſt ſome worſe thing happen to thee.

15 The man went his way, and told the Jews that it was Jeſus that had made him whole.

16 Thereupon the Jews perſecuted Jeſus, becauſe he did theſe things on the ſabbath.

17 But Jeſus anſwered them: My Father worketh until now: and I work.

18 Hereupon therefore the Jews ſought the more to kill him, becauſe he did not only break the ſabbath, but alſo ſaid that God was his Father, making himſelf equal to God. Then Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid to them:

19 Amen, amen, I ſay unto you: the Son cannot do any thing of himſelf, but what he ſeeth the Father do: for what things ſoever he doth, theſe the Son alſo doth in like manner.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and ſheweth him all things which himſelf doth; and greater works than theſe will he ſhew him, that you may wonder.

21 For as the Father raiſeth up the dead, and giveth life: ſo the Son alſo giveth life to whom he will.

22 For neither doth the Father judge any man: but hath committed all judgment to the Son.

23 That all men may honour the Son, as they honour the Father. He who honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father who hath ſent him.

24 Amen, amen, I ſay unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth him that ſent me, hath everlaſting life; and cometh not into judgment, but is paſſed from death to life.

25 Amen, amen, I ſay unto you, that the hour cometh, and now is, when the dead ſhall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear ſhall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himſelf; ſo he hath given to the Son alſo to have life in himſelf:

27 And he hath given him authority to execute judgment, becauſe he is the Son of man.

28 Wonder not at this, for the hour cometh, wherein all that are in the graves ſhall hear the voice of the Son of God.

29 ‖ And they that have done good, ſhall come forth unto the reſurrection of life: but they that have done evil, unto the reſurrection of judgment.

‖ Matt. 25 46.

30 I can do nothing of myſelf. As I hear, ſo I judge: and my judgment is juſt: becauſe I ſeek not my own will, but the will of him that ſent me.

31 If I bear witneſs of myſelf, my witneſs is not true.

32 ‖ There is another that beareth witneſs of me: and I know that the witneſs which he witneſſeth of me is true.

‖ Matt 3. 17. Supra 1. 15.

33 You ſent to John: and he gave teſtimony to the truth.

34 But I received not teſtimony from man: but I ſay theſe things that you may be ſaved.

35 He was a burning and a ſhining lamp. And you were willing for a time to rejoice in his light.

36 But I have a greater teſtimony than that of John. For the works which the Father hath given me to perfect: the works themſelves, which I do, give teſtimony of me, that the Father hath ſent me.

37 And the Father himſelf who hath ſent me, ‖ hath given teſtimony of me: neither have you heard his voice at any time: ‡ nor ſeen his ſhape.

‖ Mark 3. 17. & 17. 5. ‡ Deut 4. 12.

38 And you have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath ſent, him you believe not.

39 Search the Scriptures, for you think in

VER. 29. Unto the reſurrection of judgment. That is, condemnation.

VER. 39. Or, You ſearch the ſcriptures. Scrutamini. ἐρευνᾶτε. It is not a command for all to read the ſcriptures: but a reproach to the Phariſees, that reading the ſcriptures as they did, and thinking to find everlaſting life in them, they would not receive him, to whom all thoſe ſcriptures gave teſtimony, and through whom alone they could have that true life.

them to have life everlasting: and the same are they that give testimony of me:

40 And you will not come to me that you may have life.

41 I receive not glory from men.

42 But I know you, that you have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in the name of my Father, and you receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him you will receive.

44 How can you believe, who receive glory one from another: ‖ and the glory which is from God alone, you do not seek? ‖ 1 Cor. 4. 5.

45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one that accuseth you, Moses, in whom you trust.

46 For if you did believe Moses, you would perhaps believe me also: ‖ for he wrote of me. ‖ Gen. 3. 15. & 22. 18. & 49. 10. Deut. 18. 15.

47 But if you do not believe his writings: how will you believe my words?

CHAP. VI.

Christ feeds five thousand with five loaves: he walks upon the sea, and discourses of the bread of life.

AFTER this Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is that of Tiberias: Matt. 14. 13. Mark 6. 32. Luke 9. 10.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw the miracles which he did on them that were infirm.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 Now the pasch, the festival day * of the Jews was near at hand. * A. D. 32.

5 When Jesus therefore had lifted up his eyes, and seen that a very great multitude cometh to him, he said to Philip: Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

6 And this he said to try him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him: Two hundred penny-worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, saith to him:

9 There is a boy here that hath five barley loaves, and two fishes; but what are these among so many?

10 Then Jesus said: Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves: and when he had given thanks, he distributed to them that were sat down: In like manner also of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And when they were filled, he said to his disciples: Gather up the fragments that remain, lest they be lost.

13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above to them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen what a miracle Jesus had done, said: This is the prophet indeed, that is to come into the world.

15 When Jesus therefore perceived, that they would come to take him by force, and make him king, ‖ he fled again into the mountain himself alone. ‖ Matt. 14. 23. Mark 6. 46.

16 And when evening was come, his disciples went down to the sea.

17 And when they had entered into a ship, they went over the sea to Capharnaum: and it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing near to the ship, and they were afraid.

20 But he said to them: It is I: be not afraid.

21 They were willing therefore to take him into the ship: and presently the ship was at the land, to which they were going.

22 The next day the multitude that stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was no other ship there but one, and that Jesus had not entered into the ship with his disciples, but that his disciples only had gone away:

23 But other ships came in from Tiberias, near to the place where they had eaten the bread, the Lord giving thanks.

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they took shipping and came to Capharnaum seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said to him: Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them, and said: Amen, amen I say to you: you seek me, not because you have seen miracles, but because you did eat of the loaves and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man will give you. ‖ For him hath God the Father sealed. ‖ Matt. 3. 17. & 17. 5. Supra 1. 32.

28 They said therefore to him: What shall we do that we may work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered, and said to them: ‖ This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he hath sent. ‖ 1 John 3. 23.

30 They said therefore to him: What sign then dost thou shew that we may see, and may believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our fathers did eat manna in the desert, as it is written: ‖ He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

‖ Exod. 16. 14. Num. 11. 7. Psal. 77. 24. Wisd. 16. 20.

32 Then Jesus said to them: Amen, amen I say to you: Moses gave you not bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is that which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life to the world.

34 Then they said to him: Lord, give us always this bread.

35 And Jesus said to them: I am the bread of life: ‖ he that cometh to me, shall not hunger: and he that believeth in me, shall never thirst.

‖ Eccl. 24. 29.

36 But I said to you, that you also have seen me, and you believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me: and him that cometh to me, I will not cast out:

38 Because I came down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 Now this is the will of him that sent me, the Father: that all that he hath given me, I lose not thereof, but raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of my Father who sent me: that every one who seeth the Son, and believeth in him, may have everlasting life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he had said: I am the living bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said: ‖ Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How then saith he, I came down from heaven?

‖ Matt. 13. 55. Mark 6. 3.

43 Jesus therefore answered, and said to them: Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, who hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 It is written in the prophets: ‖ And they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard of the Father, and hath learned, cometh to me.

‖ Isai. 54. 13.

46 ‖ Not that any man hath seen the Father, but he who is of God, he hath seen the Father.

‖ Matt. 11. 27.

47 Amen, amen I say unto you: He that believeth in me, hath everlasting life.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 ‖ Your fathers did eat manna in the desert, and they died.

‖ Exod. 16. 13.

50 This is the bread descending down from heaven: that if any one eat of it, he may not die.

51 I am the the living bread, which came down from heaven.

52 If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread which I will give, is my flesh for the life of the world.

53 The Jews therefore debated among themselves, saying: How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

54 Then Jesus said to them: Amen, amen I say unto you: Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, you shall not have life in you.

55 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

56 ‖ For my flesh is meat indeed: and my blood, is drink indeed:

‖ Cor. 11. 27.

57 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, abideth in me, and I in him.

58 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, the same also shall live by me.

59 This is the bread that came down from heaven. Not as your fathers did eat manna, and died. He that eateth this bread, shall live for ever.

60 These things he said teaching in the synagogue, in Capharnaum.

61 Many therefore of his disciples hearing it, said: This saying is hard, and who can hear it?

62 But Jesus knowing in himself, that his disciples murmured at this, said to them: Doth this scandalize you?

63 If then you shall see ‖ the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

‖ Supra 3. 13.

CHAP. VI. VER. 44. Draw him. Not by compulsion, nor by laying the free-will under any necessity, but by the strong and sweet motions of his heavenly grace.

VER. 54. Unless you eat—and drink, &c. To receive both the body and blood of Christ, is a divine precept, insinuated in this text; which the faithful fulfil, though they receive but in one kind; because in one kind they receive both body and blood, which cannot be separated from each other. Hence life eternal is here promised to the worthy receiving, though but in one kind, Ver. 52. If any man eat of this bread he shall live for ever: and the bread which I will give is my flesh for the life of the world. Ver 58. He that eateth me, the same also shall live by me. Ver. 59. He that eateth this bread shall live for ever.

VER. 63. If then you shall see, &c. Christ by mentioning his ascension, by this instance of his power and divinity, would confirm the truth of what he had before asserted; and at the same time correct their gross apprehension of eating his flesh, and drinking his blood, in a vulgar and carnal manner, by letting them know he should take his whole body living with him to heaven; and consequently not suffer it to be, as they supposed, divided, mangled and consumed upon earth.

64 It is the ſpirit that quickeneth: the fleſh profiteth nothing: the words that I have ſpoken to you, are ſpirit and life.

65 But there are ſome of you that believe not. For Jeſus knew from the beginning who they were that did not believe, and who he was that would betray Him.

66 And he ſaid: Therefore did I ſay to you, that no man can come to me, unleſs it be given him by my Father.

67 After this many of his diſciples went back: and walked no more with him.

68 Then Jeſus ſaid to the twelve: Will you alſo go away?

69 And Simon Peter anſwered him: Lord, to whom ſhall we go? thou haſt the words of eternal life.

70 ‖ And we have believed, and have known that thou art the Chriſt the Son of God. ‖ Matt. 16. 16. Mark 8. 29. Luke 9. 20.

71 Jeſus anſwered them: Have not I choſen you twelve: and one of you is a devil.

72 Now he meant Judas Iſcariot, the ſon of Simon: for this ſame was about to betray him, whereas he was one of the twelve.

CHAP. VII.

Chriſt goes up to the feaſt of the tabernacles: he teaches in the temple.

AFTER theſe things Jeſus walked in Galilee, for he would not walk in Judea: becauſe the Jews ſought to kill him.

2 Now the feaſt of the Jews called of the ‖ tabernacles was at hand. ‖ Lev. 23. 34.

3 And his brethren ſaid to him: Paſs from hence, and go into Judea, that thy diſciples alſo may ſee thy works which thou doſt.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing in ſecret, and he himſelf ſeeketh to be known openly: If thou do theſe things, manifeſt thyſelf to the world.

5 For neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jeſus ſaid to them: My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth: becauſe I give teſtimony of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go you up to this feſtival day, but I go not up to this feſtival day: becauſe my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 When he had ſaid theſe things, he himſelf ſtaid in Galilee.

10 But after his brethren were gone up, then he alſo went up to the feaſt, not publickly, but as it were in private.

11 The Jews therefore ſought him on the feſtival day, and ſaid: Where is he?

12 And there was much murmuring among the multitude concerning him. For ſome ſaid: He is a good man. And others ſaid: No, but he ſeduceth the people.

13 Yet no man ſpoke openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14 Now about the midſt of the feaſt, Jeſus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews wondered, ſaying: How doth this man know letters, having never learned?

16 Jeſus anſwered them and ſaid: My doctrine is not mine, but of him that ſent me.

17 If any man will do the will of him: he ſhall know of the doctrine, whether it be from God, or whether I ſpeak from myſelf.

18 He that ſpeaketh from himſelf, ſeeketh his own glory: but he that ſeeketh the glory of him that ſent him, he is true, and there is no injuſtice in him:

19 ‖ Did not Moſes give you the law: and none of you keepeth the law? ‖ Exod. 24. 3.

20 ‡ Why ſeek you to kill me? The multitude anſwered, and ſaid: Thou haſt a devil: who ſeeketh to kill thee? ‡ Supra 5. 18.

21 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid to them: One work I have done: and you all wonder:

22 Therefore ‖ Moſes gave you circumciſion: (not becauſe it is of Moſes: ‡ but of the fathers,) and on the ſabbath-day you circumciſe a man. ‖ Lev. 12. 3. ‡ Gen. 17. 10.

23 If a man receive circumciſion on the ſabbath-day, that the law of Moſes may not be broken: are you angry at me becauſe I have healed the whole man on the ſabbath-day?

24 ‖ Judge not according to the appearance, but judge a juſt judgment. ‖ Deut. 1. 16.

25 Then ſome of Jeruſalem ſaid: Is not this he whom they ſeek to kill?

26 And behold he ſpeaketh openly, and they ſay nothing to him. Have the rulers known indeed that this is the Chriſt?

VER. 64. The fleſh profiteth nothing. Dead fleſh ſeparated from the ſpirit, in the groſs manner they ſuppoſed they were to eat his fleſh, would profit nothing. Neither doth man's fleſh, that is to ſay, man's natural and carnal apprehenſion (which refuſes to be ſubject to the ſpirit, and words of Chriſt) profit any thing. But it would be the height of blaſphemy, to ſay the living fleſh of Chriſt (which we receive in the bleſſed ſacrament, with his ſpirit, that is, with his ſoul and divinity) profiteth nothing. For if Chriſt's fleſh had profited us nothing, he would never have taken fleſh for us, nor died in the fleſh for us.

Ibid. Are ſpirit and life. By propoſing to you a heavenly ſacrament, in which you ſhall receive, in a wonderful manner, ſpirit, grace and life in its very fountain-

27 But we know this man whence he is: but when the Chriſt cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Jeſus therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and ſaying: You both know me, and you know whence I am: and I am not come of myſelf: but he that ſent me, is true, whom you know not.

29 I know him: becauſe I am from him, and he hath ſent me.

30 They ſought therefore to apprehend him: but no man laid hands on him, becauſe his hour was not yet come.

31 But of the people many believed in him, and ſaid: When the Chriſt cometh, ſhall he do more miracles than theſe which this man doth?

32 The Phariſees heard the people murmuring theſe things concerning him: and the rulers and Phariſees ſent miniſters to apprehend him.

33 Jeſus therefore ſaid to them: Yet a little while I am with you: and I go to him that ſent me.

‖ Infra 13. 33. 34 ‖ You ſhall ſeek me, and ſhall not find me: and where I am, you cannot come.

35 The Jews therefore ſaid among themſelves: Whither will he go, that we ſhall not find him? will he go to the diſperſed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What is this ſaying that he hath ſaid: You ſhall ſeek me, and ſhall not find me: and where I am you cannot come?

‖ Lev. 23. 27. 37 Now on the laſt ‖ great day of the feſtivity, Jeſus ſtood and cried out, ſaying: If any man thirſt, let him come to me, and drink.

‖ Deu. 18. 15. Joel. 2. 28. Acts 2. 17. 38 ‖ He that believeth in me, as the Scripture ſaith, Out of his belly ſhall flow rivers of living water.

39 Now this he ſaid of the ſpirit which they ſhould receive who believed in him: for as yet the ſpirit was not given, becauſe Jeſus was not yet glorified.

40 Of that multitude therefore, when they had heard theſe words of his, ſome ſaid: This is the prophet indeed.

41 Others ſaid: This is the Chriſt. But ſome ſaid: Doth the Chriſt come out of Galilee?

‖ Mic. 5. 2. Matt. 2. 6. 42 ‖ Doth not the Scripture ſay: That Chriſt cometh of the ſeed of David, and out of Bethlehem the town where David was?

43 So there aroſe a diſſenſion among the people becauſe of him.

44 And ſome of them would have apprehended him: but no man laid hands upon him.

45 So the miniſters came to the chief prieſts and the Phariſees. And they ſaid to them: Why have you not brought him?

46 The miniſters anſwered: Never did man ſpeak, like this man.

47 Then the Phariſees anſwered them: Are you alſo ſeduced?

48 Hath any one of the rulers believed in him, or of the Phariſees?

49 But this multitude that knoweth not the law, are accurſed.

‖ Supra 3. 2. 50 Nicodemus ſaid to them, ‖ he that came to him by night, who was one of them:

51 Doth our law judge any man, unleſs it firſt hear him, ‖ and know what he doth? ‖ Deut 1. 8. & 19. 15.

52 They anſwered, and ſaid to him: Art thou alſo a Galilean? Search the Scriptures, and ſee that out of Galilee a prophet riſeth not.

53 And every man returned to his own houſe.

CHAP. VIII.

The woman taken in adultery. Chriſt juſtifies his doctrine.

AND Jeſus went to mount Olivet.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him, and ſitting he taught them.

3 And the Scribes and Phariſees bring to him a woman taken in adultery: and they ſet her in the midſt,

4 And ſaid to him: Maſter, this woman was even now taken in adultery.

‖ Lev. 20. 10. 5 ‖ Now Moſes in the law commanded us to ſtone ſuch a one. But what ſayeſt thou?

6 And this they ſaid tempting him, that they might accuſe him. But Jeſus, ſtooping down, wrote with his finger on the ground.

‖ Deut 17. 7. 7 And when they continued aſking him, he lifted up himſelf and ſaid to them: ‖ He that is without ſin among you, let him firſt caſt a ſtone at her.

8 And again he ſtooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 But they hearing this went out one by one, beginning from the eldeſt: and Jeſus alone remained, and the woman ſtanding in the midſt.

10 Then Jeſus lifting up himſelf, ſaid to her: Woman, where are they that accuſed thee? Hath no man condemned thee?

11 And ſhe ſaid: No man, Lord. And Jeſus ſaid: Neither will I condemn thee. Go, and now ſin no more.

‖ 1 John 1. 5. 12 And again Jeſus ſpoke to them, ſaying: ‖ I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, walketh not in darkneſs, but ſhall have the light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore said to him: Thou givest testimony of thyself: thy testimony is not true.

14 Jesus answered, and said to them: Although I give testimony of myself, my testimony is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but you know not whence I come, or whither I go.

15 You judge according to the flesh: I judge not any man:

16 And if I do judge, my judgment is true, because I am not alone: but I, and he that sent me, the Father.

17 And in your law it is written, ‖ that the testimony of two men is true. Deut. 17. & 19. 15. Matt. 18. 16. 2 Cor. 13. 1. Hebr. 10. 28.

18 I am one that give testimony of myself: and the Father that sent me, giveth testimony of me.

19 They said therefore to him: Where is thy Father? Jesus answered: Neither me do you know, nor my Father: if you did know me, you would know my Father also.

20 These words Jesus spoke in the treasury, teaching in the temple: and no man laid hands on him, because, his hour was not yet come.

21 Then Jesus said to them again: I go my way, and you shall seek me, and you shall die in your sin. Whither I go, you cannot come.

22 The Jews therefore said: Will he kill himself, because he said: Whither I go, you cannot come?

23 And he said to them: You are from beneath, I am from above. You are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 Therefore I said to you, that you shall die in your sins: for if you believe not that I am he, you shall die in your sin.

25 They said therefore to him: Who art thou? Jesus said to them: The beginning, who also speak to you.

26 I have many things to speak, and to judge of you. But he that sent me is ‖ true: and the things I have heard from him, the same I speak in the world. Rom. 3. 4.

27 Now they did not know that he said God was his father.

28 Jesus therefore said to them: When you shall have lifted up the Son of man, then shall you know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the Father hath taught me, I speak these things:

29 And he that sent me is with me, and he hath not left me alone: for I do always the things that please him.

30 When he spoke these things, many believed in him.

31 Then Jesus said to those Jews that believed him: If you continue in my word, you shall be my disciples indeed:

32 And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him: We are the seed of Abraham, and we have never been slaves to any man: how sayest thou, You shall be free?

34 Jesus answered them: Amen, amen I say unto you: ‖ that whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin. ‖ Rom. 6. 15 & 16. 2 Pet. 2. 19.

35 Now the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the son abideth for ever.

36 If therefore the son shall make you free, you shall be free indeed.

37 I know that you are the children of Abraham: but you seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and you do the things that you have seen with your father.

39 They answered, and said to him: Abraham is our father. Jesus saith to them: If you be the children of Abraham, do the works of Abraham.

40 But now you seek to kill me, a man who have spoken the truth to you, which I have heard from God: this Abraham did not.

41 You do the deeds of your father. They said then to him: We are not born of fornication: we have one Father, God.

42 But Jesus said to them: If God were your father, verily you would love me. For I proceeded and came from God: for I came not of myself, but he sent me.

43 Why do you not know my speech? Because you cannot hear my word.

44 ‖ You are of your father the devil, and the desires of your father you will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and he abode not in the truth: because truth is not in him. When he speaketh a lye, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof. ‖ 1 John 3. 8.

45 But if I say the truth, you believe me not.

46 Which of you shall convince me of sin? If I say the truth to you, why do you not believe me?

47 ‖ He that is of God, heareth the words of God. Therefore you hear them not, because you are not of God. ‖ 1 John 4. 6.

48 The Jews therefore answered, and said to him: Do we not say well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?

49 Jesus answered: I have not a devil: but I honour my father, and you have dishonoured me.

50 But I ſeek not my own glory: there is one that ſeeketh and judgeth.

51 Amen, amen I ſay to you: if any man keep my word, he ſhall not ſee death for ever.

52 The Jews therefore ſaid: Now we know that thou haſt a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets: and thou ſayeſt: If any man keep my word, he ſhall not taſte death for ever.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who is dead? and the prophets are dead. Whom doſt thou make thyſelf?

54 Jeſus anſwered: If I glorify myſelf, my glory is nothing: it is my Father that glorifieth me, whom you ſay that he is your God.

55 And you have not known him: but I know him: And if I ſhould ſay that I know him not, I ſhould be like to you, a liar. But I know him, and keep his word.

56 Abraham your father rejoiced that he might ſee my day: he ſaw it, and was glad.

57 The Jews then ſaid to him: Thou art not yet fifty years old, and haſt thou ſeen Abraham?

58 Jeſus ſaid to them: Amen, amen I ſay to you, before Abraham was made, I am.

59 Then they took up ſtones to caſt at him: but Jeſus hid himſelf, and went out of the temple.

CHAP. IX.

He gives ſight to the man born blind.

AND Jeſus paſſing by, ſaw a man that was blind from his birth:

2 And his diſciples aſked him: Rabbi, who hath ſinned, this man, or his parents, that he ſhould be born blind?

3 Jeſus anſwered: Neither hath this man ſinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God ſhould be made manifeſt in him.

4 I muſt work the works of him that ſent me, whilſt it is day: the night cometh when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had ſaid theſe things, he ſpat on the ground, and made clay of the ſpittle, and ſpread the clay upon his eyes,

7 And ſaid to him: Go, waſh in the pool of Siloe, (which is interpreted, Sent). He went therefore, and waſhed, and he came ſeeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they who had ſeen him before that he was a beggar, ſaid: Is not this he that ſat, and begged? Some ſaid: This is he.

9 And others, No, but he is like him. But he ſaid: I am he.

10 They ſaid therefore to him: How were thy eyes opened?

11 He anſwered: That man who is called Jeſus, made clay: and anointed my eyes, and ſaid to me: Go to the pool of Siloe, and waſh. And I went, I waſhed, and I ſee.

12 And they ſaid to him: Where is he? He ſaith: I know not.

13 They bring him that had been blind, to the Phariſees.

14 Now it was the ſabbath, when Jeſus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Again therefore the Phariſees aſked him how he had received his ſight. But he ſaid to them: He put clay upon my eyes, and I waſhed, and I ſee.

16 Some therefore of the Phariſees ſaid: This man is not of God, who keepeth not the ſabbath. But others ſaid: How can a man that is a ſinner do ſuch miracles? And there was a diviſion among them.

17 They ſay therefore to the blind man again: What ſayeſt thou of him that hath opened thy eyes? And he ſaid: He is a prophet.

18 The Jews then did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and had received his ſight, until they called the parents of him that had received his ſight:

19 And aſked them, ſaying: Is this your ſon, who you ſay was born blind? How then doth he now ſee?

20 His parents anſwered them, and ſaid: We know that this is our ſon, and that he was born blind:

21 But how he now ſeeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: aſk himſelf: he is of age, let him ſpeak for himſelf.

22 Theſe things his parents ſaid, becauſe they feared the Jews: for the Jews had already agreed among themſelves, that if any man ſhould confeſs him to be Chriſt, he ſhould be put out of the ſynagogue.

23 Therefore did his parents ſay: He is of age, aſk himſelf.

24 They therefore called the man again that had been blind, and ſaid to him: Give glory to God. We know that this man is a ſinner.

25 He ſaid then to them: If he be a ſinner. I know not: one thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I ſee.

26 Then they ſaid to him: What did he to thee? how did he open thy eyes?

27 He anſwered them: I have told you already, and you have heard: why would you hear it again? will you alſo become his diſciples?

28 They reviled him therefore, and ſaid: Be thou his diſciple: but we are the diſciples of Moſes.

29 We know that God ſpoke to Moſes: but as to this man, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man anſwered, and ſaid to them: For in this is a wonderful thing, that you know not from whence he is, and he hath opened my eyes:

31 Now we know that God doth not hear ſinners: but if a man be a worſhipper of God, and doth his will, him he heareth.

32 From the beginning of the world it hath not been heard, that any man hath opened the eyes of one born blind.

33 Unleſs this man were of God, he could not do any thing.

34 They anſwered, and ſaid to him: Thou waſt wholly born in ſins, and doſt thou teach us? And they caſt him out.

35 Jeſus heard that they had caſt him out: and when he had found him, he ſaid to him: Doſt thou believe in the Son of God?

36 He anſwered, and ſaid: Who is he, Lord, that I may believe in him?

37 And Jeſus ſaid to him: Thou haſt both ſeen him; and it is he who talketh with thee.

38 And he ſaid: I believe, Lord. And falling down, he adored him.

39 And Jeſus ſaid: For judgment I am come into this world: that they who ſee not, may ſee: and they who ſee, may become blind.

40 And ſome of the Phariſees, that were with him, heard: and they ſaid to him: Are we alſo blind?

41 Jeſus ſaid to them: If you were blind, you ſhould not have ſin: but now you ſay: We ſee. Your ſin remaineth.

CHAP. X.

Chriſt is the door and the good ſhepherd. He and his Father are one.

AMEN, amen I ſay to you: he that entereth not by the door into the ſheepfold, but climbeth up another way, the ſame is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door, is the ſhepherd of the ſheep:

3 To whom the porter openeth: and the ſheep hear his voice, and he calleth his own ſheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath let out his own ſheep, he goeth before them: and the ſheep follow him, becauſe they know his voice.

5 But a ſtranger they follow not, but fly from him, becauſe they know not the voice of ſtrangers.

6 This parable Jeſus ſpoke to them. But they underſtood not what he was ſpeaking to them.

7 Jeſus therefore ſaid to them again: Amen, amen I ſay to you, I am the door of the ſheep.

8 All they who came, are thieves and robbers, and the ſheep heard them not.

9 I am the door. If any one enter by me, he ſhall be ſaved: and he ſhall go in, and go out, and ſhall find paſtures.

10 The thief cometh not, but to ſteal and to kill and to deſtroy. I am come that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly.

11 I am the good ſhepherd. ‖ The good ſhepherd giveth his life for his ſheep. ‖ Iſai. 40. 11. Ezec. 34. 23. & 37. 24.

12 But the hireling, and he that is not the ſhepherd, whoſe own ſheep they are not, ſeeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the ſheep, and flieth: and the wolf ſnatcheth, and ſcattereth the ſheep:

13 And the hireling flieth, becauſe he is a hireling: and he hath no care for the ſheep.

14 I am the good ſhepherd: and I know mine, and mine know me.

15 ‖ As the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father: and I lay down my life for my ſheep. ‖ Matt. 11. 27. Luke 10. 22.

16 And other ſheep I have, that are not of this fold: them alſo I muſt bring, and they ſhall hear my voice, and there ſhall be made one fold and one ſhepherd.

17 Therefore doth the Father love me: ‖ becauſe I lay down my life, that I may take it again. ‖ Iſai. 53. 7.

18 No man taketh it away from me: but I lay it down of myſelf, and I have power to lay it down: and I have power to take it up again. This commandment I have received from my Father.

19 A diſſenſion roſe again among the Jews for theſe words.

20 And many of them ſaid: He hath a devil, and is mad: why hear you him?

CHAP. IX. VER. 39. I am come &c. Not that Chriſt came for that end, that any one ſhould be made blind: but that the Jews, by the abuſe of his coming, and by their not receiving him, brought upon themſelves this judgment of blindneſs.

Ibid. VER. 41. If you were blind, &c. If you were invincibly ignorant, and had neither read the Scriptures, nor ſeen my miracles, you would not be guilty of the ſin of infidelity: but now, as you boaſt of your knowledge of the ſcriptures, you are inexcuſable.

21 Others ſaid: Theſe are not the words of one that hath a devil: Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?

‖ 1 Mac. 4. 56. & 59. 22 ‖ And it was the feaſt of the dedication at Jeruſalem: and it was winter.

23 And Jeſus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

24 The Jews therefore came round about him, and ſaid to him: How long doſt thou hold our ſoul in ſuſpence: if thou be the Chriſt, tell us plainly.

25 Jeſus anſwered them: I ſpeak to you, and you believe not: the works that I do in the name of my Father, they give teſtimony of me:

26 But you do not believe, becauſe you are not of my ſheep.

27 My ſheep hear my voice: and I know them, and they follow me:

28 And I give them life everlaſting: and they ſhall not periſh for ever, and no man ſhall ſnatch them out of my hand.

29 That which my Father hath given me, is greater than all: and no one can ſnatch them out of the hand of my Father.

30 I and the Father are one.

31 The Jews then took up ſtones, to ſtone him.

32 Jeſus anſwered them: Many good works I have ſhewn to you from my Father: for which of thoſe works do you ſtone me?

33 The Jews anſwered him: For a good work we ſtone thee not, but for blaſphemy: and becauſe that thou being a man makeſt thyſelf God?

‖ Pſal. 81. 6. 34 Jeſus anſwered them: Is it not written in your law: ‖ I have ſaid, you are gods?

35 If he called them gods, to whom the word of God was ſpoken, and the Scripture cannot be made void:

36 Do you ſay of him, whom the Father hath ſanctified and ſent into the world: Thou blaſphemeſt: becauſe I ſaid, I am the Son of God?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do: though you will not believe me, believe the works, that you may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in the Father.

39 They ſought therefore to take him: and he eſcaped out of their hands.

40 And he went away again beyond the Jordan into that place where John was baptizing firſt: and there he abode:

41 And many reſorted to him, and they ſaid: John indeed did no ſign.

42 But all things whatſoever John ſaid of this man were true. And many believed in him.

CHAP. XI.

Chriſt raiſes Lazarus to life. The Rulers reſolve to put him to death.

NOW there was a certain man ſick, named Lazarus, of Bethania, of the town of Mary, and of Martha her ſiſter.

2 (And Mary was ſhe ‖ that anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair: whoſe brother Lazarus was ſick). ‖ Matt. 26. 7. Luke 7. 37. Infra 12. 3.

3 His ſiſters therefore ſent to him, ſaying: Lord, behold, he whom thou loveſt, is ſick.

4 And Jeſus hearing it, ſaid to them: This ſickneſs is not unto death, but for the glory of God: that the Son of God may be glorified by it.

5 Now Jeſus loved Martha, and her ſiſter Mary, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was ſick, he ſtill remained in the ſame place two days.

7 Then after that he ſaid to his diſciples: Let us go into Judea again.

8 The diſciples ſay to him: Rabbi, the Jews but juſt now ſought to ſtone thee: and goeſt thou thither again?

9 Jeſus anſwered: Are there not twelve hours of the day? If a man walk in the day, he ſtumbleth not, becauſe he ſeeth the light of this world:

10 But if he walk in the night, he ſtumbleth, becauſe the light is not in him.

11 Theſe things he ſaid: and after that he ſaid to them: Lazarus our friend ſleepeth: but I go that I may awake him out of ſleep.

12 His diſciples therefore ſaid: Lord, if he ſleep, he ſhall do well.

13 But Jeſus ſpoke of his death: and they thought that he ſpoke of the repoſe of ſleep.

14 Then therefore Jeſus ſaid to them plainly: Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad, for your ſake, that I was not there, that you may believe: but let us go to him.

16 Then Thomas, who is called Didymus, ſaid to his fellow diſciples: Let us alſo go, that we may die with him.

17 So Jeſus came: and found that he had been four days already in the ſepulchre.

18 (Now Bethania was near Jeruſalem, about fifteen furlongs off.)

19 And many of the Jews were come to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Martha therefore, as ſoon as ſhe heard

CHAP. X. VER. 30. I and the Father are one. That is, one divine nature, but two diſtinct perſons.

that Jesus was come, went to meet him: but Mary sat at home.

21 And Martha said to Jesus: Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died:

22 But now also I know that whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith to her: Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith to him: I know that he shall rise again ‖ in the resurrection at the last day.

‖ Luke 14. 14. Supra 5. 2.

25 Jesus said to her: I am the resurrection and the life: ‡ he that believeth in me although he be dead, shall live:

‡ Supra 6. 40.

26 And every one that liveth, and believeth in me, shall not die for ever. Believest thou this?

27 She saith to him: Yea, Lord, I have believed that thou art Christ the Son of the living God, who art come into this world.

28 And when she had said these things, she went, and called her sister Mary secretly, saying: The master is come and calleth for thee.

29 She, as soon as she heard this, riseth quickly and cometh to him.

30 For Jesus was not yet come into the town: but he was still in that place where Martha had met him.

31 The Jews therefore, who were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up speedily and went out, followed her, saying: She goeth to the sepulchre to weep there.

32 When Mary therefore was come where Jesus was, seeing him, she fell down at his feet, and saith to him: Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews that were come with her weeping, he groaned in the spirit, and troubled himself,

34 And said: Where have you laid him? They say to him: Lord, come and see.

35 And Jesus wept.

36 The Jews therefore said: Behold how he loved him.

‡ Supra 9. 6.

37 But some of them said: ‖ Could not he that opened the eyes of the man born blind, have caused that this man should not die.

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the sepulchre: Now it was a cave: and a stone was laid over it.

39 Jesus saith: Take away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him: Lord, by this time he stinketh, for he is now of four days.

40 Jesus saith to her: Did not I say to to thee, that if thou wilt believe, thou shalt see the glory of God?

41 They took therefore the stone away: And Jesus lifting up his eyes said: Father, I give thee thanks that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always, but because of the people who stand about have I said it: that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 When he had said these things, he cried with a loud voice: Lazarus, come forth.

44 And presently he that had been dead came forth, bound feet and hands with winding-bands, and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus said to them: Loose him and let him go.

45 Many therefore of the Jews, who were come to Mary and Martha, and had seen the things that Jesus did, believed in him.

46 But some of them went to the Pharisees, and told them the things that Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said: What do we, for this man doth many miracles?

48 If we let him alone so, all men will believe in him: And the Romans will come, and take away our place and nation.

49 ‖ But one of them named Caiphas, being the high-priest of that year, said to them: You know nothing at all. ‖ Infra 18. 14.

50 Neither do you consider that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this he spoke not of himself: but being the high-priest of that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation.

52 And not only for the nation, but to gather together in one the children of God, that were dispersed.

53 From that day therefore they devised to put him to death.

54 Wherefore Jesus walked no more openly among the Jews, but he went into a country near the desert, unto a city that is called Ephrem, and there he abode with his disciples.

55 And the pasch of the Jews was at hand: and many from the country went up to Jerusalem before the pasch, to purify themselves.

56 They sought therefore for Jesus: and they discoursed one with another, standing in the temple: What think you, that he is not come to the festival day? And the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he was, he should tell, that they might apprehend him.

CHAP. XII.

The anointing of Christ's feet. His riding into Jerusalem upon an ass. A voice from heaven.

Matt. 26. 6. Mark 14. 3. NOW six days before the pasch Jesus came to Bethania, where Lazarus had been dead, whom Jesus raised to life.

2 And they made him a supper there: and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of them that were at table with him.

3 Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of right spikenard, of great value, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, he that was about to betray him, said:

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence and given to the poor?

6 Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the purse, carried what was put therein

7 But Jesus said: Let her alone, that she may keep it against the day of my burial.

8 For the poor you have always with you: but me you have not always.

9 A great multitude therefore of the Jews knew that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus's sake only, but that they might see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 But the chief priests thought to kill Lazarus also:

11 Because many of the Jews by reason of him went away, and believed in Jesus.

12 And on the next day a great multitude, that was come to the festival day, when they had heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem:

13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried: Hosanna, blessed is he, that cometh in the name of the Lord, the king of Israel.

‖ Zach. 9. 9. Mark 11. 7. Luke 19. 35. 14 ‖ And Jesus found a young ass, and sat upon it, as it is written:

15 Fear not daughter of Sion: behold, thy king cometh sitting on the colt of an ass.

16 These things his disciples did not know at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written of him: and that they had done these things to him.

17 The multitude therefore gave testimony, which was with him, when he called Lazarus out of the grave, and raised him from the dead.

18 For which reason also the people came to meet him: because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves: Do you see that we prevail nothing? Behold, the whole world is gone after him.

20 Now there were certain Gentiles among them, that came up to adore on the festival day.

21 These therefore came to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying: Sir, we would willingly see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh, and telleth Andrew: Again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 But Jesus answered them, saying: The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Amen, amen I say to you, unless the grain of wheat fall into the ground, and die,

25 Itself remaineth alone. But if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. ‖ He that loveth his life shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, keepeth it unto life everlasting.

‖ Matt. 10. 39. & 16. 25. Mark 8. 35. Luke 9. 24. & 17. 33.

26 If any man minister to me, let him follow me: and where I am, there also shall my minister be. If any man minister to me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But for this cause I came unto this hour.

28 Father glorify thy name. A voice therefore came from heaven: I have both glorified it, and I will glorify it again.

29 The multitude therefore that stood and heard, said that it thundered. Others said: An angel spoke to him.

30 Jesus answered, and said: This voice came not for me, but for your sake.

31 Now is the judgment of the world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all things to myself.

33 (Now this he said, signifying what death he should die).

34 The multitude answered him: We have heard ‖ out of the law, that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou: The Son of man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of man?

‖ Psal. 109. 4. & 116. 2. Isai. 40. 8. Ezech. 37. 25.

35 Jesus therefore said to them: Yet a little while, the light is among you. Walk whilst you have the light, that the darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

CHAP. XII. VER. 8. See the Annotation on St. Matthew, xxvi. 11.

36 Whilst you have the light, believe in the light, that you may be the children of light. These things Jesus spoke, and he went away, and hid himself from them.

37 And whereas he had done so many miracles before them, they believed not in him:

38 That the saying of Isaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he said: ‖ Lord, who hath believed our hearing? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

‖ Isai. 53. 1. Rom. 10. 16.

39 Therefore they could not believe, for Isaias said again:

40 ‡ He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart: that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them:

‡ Isai. 6. 9. Matt. 13. 14. Mark 4. 12. Luke 8. 10. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

41 These things said Isaias, when he saw his glory, and spoke of him.

42 However many of the chief men also believed in him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confess it, that they might not be cast out of the synagogue.

43 For they loved the glory of men, more than the glory of God.

44 But Jesus cried out, and said: He that believeth in me, doth not believe in me, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 I the light am come into the world; that whosoever believeth in me, may not remain in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and keep them not: I do not judge him: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 He that despiseth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him. ‖ The word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

‖ Matt. 16. 16.

49 For I have not spoken of myself, but the Father who sent me, he gave me command what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his command is life everlasting. The things therefore that I speak, even as the Father said unto me, so do I speak.

CHAP. XIII.

Christ washes his disciples feet: the treason of Judas: the new commandment of love.

A. D 33. Matt. 26. 2. Mark 14. 1. Luke 22. 1.

BEFORE the festival day of the pasch, Jesus knowing that his hour was come, that he should pass out of this world to the Father: having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end.

2 And when supper was done, the devil having now put into the heart of Judas the son of Simon the Iscariot, to betray him:

3 Knowing that the Father had given him all things into his hands, and that he came from God, and goeth to God:

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments: and having taken a towel, he girded himself.

5 After that, he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the feet of the disciples, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 He cometh therefore to Simon Peter. And Peter saith to him: Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered, and said to him: What I do, thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith to him: Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him: If I wash thee not, thou shalt have no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith to him? Lord, not only my feet, but also my hands and my head.

10 Jesus saith to him: He that is washed, needeth not but to wash his feet, but is clean wholly. And you are clean, but not all.

11 For he knew who he was that would betray him; therefore he said: You are not all clean.

12 Then after he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, having sat down again, he said to them: Know you what I have done to you?

13 You call me, Master, and Lord: and you say well: for so I am.

14 If I then, being Lord and Master, have washed your feet: you also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For I have given you an example, that as I have done to you, so you do also.

16 ‖ Amen, amen I say to you: The servant is not greater than his lord: neither is an apostle greater than he that sent him.

‖ Matt. 10. 24. Luke 6. 40. Infra 15. 20.

17 If you know these things, you shall be blessed if you do them.

18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled: ‖ He that eateth bread with me, shall lift up his heel against me.

‖ Psal. 40. 10.

VER. 39. They could not believe. Because they would not, saith St. August. Tr. 33. in Joan. See the annotation, St. Mark iv. 12.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 1. Before the festival day of the pasch. This was the fourth and last pasch of the ministry of Christ, and according to the common computation was in the 33d. year of our Lord: and in the year of the world 4036. Some chronologers are of opinion that our Saviour suffered in the 37th. year of his age: but these different opinions on this subject are of no consequence.

19 At preſent I tell you before it come to paſs: that when it ſhall come to paſs, you may believe, that I am the Meſſias.

|| Matt. 10. 40. Luke 10. 16. 20 || Amen, amen I ſay to you, he that receiveth whomſoever I ſend, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that ſent me.

21 When Jeſus had ſaid theſe things, he was troubled in ſpirit: and he proteſted, and ſaid: || Amen, amen I ſay to you: That one of you will betray me.

|| Matt. 26. 20. || Mark 14. 18. Luke 22. 21. 22 The diſciples therefore looked one upon another, doubting of whom he ſpoke.

23 Now there was leaning on Jeſus's boſom one of his diſciples, whom Jeſus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him: and ſaid to him: Who is it, of whom he ſpeaketh?

25 He therefore leaning on the breaſt of Jeſus ſaith to him: Lord, who is it?

26 Jeſus anſwered: He it is, to whom I ſhall reach bread dipped. And when he had dipped the bread, he gave it to Judas Iſcariot, the ſon of Simon.

27 And after the morſel, ſatan entered into him. And Jeſus ſaid to him: That which thou doſt, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he ſaid this to him.

29 For ſome thought, becauſe Judas had the purſe, that Jeſus had ſaid to him: Buy thoſe things which we have need of for the feſtival day: or that he ſhould give ſomething to the poor.

30 He then having received the morſel, went out immediately. And it was night.

31 When therefore he was gone out, Jeſus ſaid: Now is the Son of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God will alſo glorify him in himſelf: and immediately will he glorify him.

|| Supra 7. 34. 33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. || You ſhall ſeek me: and as I ſaid to the Jews: Whither I go, you cannot come: ſo now I ſay to you.

|| Lev. 19. 18. Matt. 22. 39. Infra 15 12. 34 || I give you a new commandment: That you love one another, as I have loved you, that you alſo love one another.

35 By this ſhall all men know that you are my diſciples, if you have love one for another.

36 Simon Peter ſaith to him: Lord, whither goeſt thou? Jeſus anſwered: Whither I go, thou canſt not follow me now: but thou ſhalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter ſaith to him: Why cannot I follow thee now? || I will lay down my life for thee.

|| Matt. 26. 35. Mark 14. 29. Luke 22. 33. 38 Jeſus anſwered him: Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Amen, amen I ſay to thee, the cock ſhall not crow, till thou deny me thrice.

CHAP. XIV.

Chriſt's diſcourſe after his laſt ſupper.

LET not your heart be troubled. You believe in God, believe alſo in me.

2 In my father's houſe there are many manſions. If not, I would have told you: becauſe I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I ſhall go, and prepare a place for you: I will come again, and will take you to myſelf, that where I am, you alſo may be.

4 And whither I go you know, and the way you know.

5 Thomas ſaith to him: Lord, we know not whither thou goeſt; and how can we know the way.

6 Jeſus ſaith to him: I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No man cometh to the Father, but by me.

7 If you had known me, you would ſurely have known my Father alſo: and from henceforth you ſhall know him, and you have ſeen him.

8 Philip ſaith to him: Lord, ſhew us the Father, and it is enough for us.

9 Jeſus ſaith to him: Have I been ſo long a time with you; and have you not known me? Philip, he that ſeeth me, ſeeth the Father alſo. How ſayeſt thou, Shew us the Father?

10 Do you not believe, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I ſpeak to you, I ſpeak not of myſelf. But the Father who abideth in me, he doth the works.

11 Believe you not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me?

12 Otherwiſe believe for the works themſelves. Amen, amen I ſay to you, he that believeth in me, the works that I do, he ſhall do alſo, and greater than theſe ſhall he do: becauſe I go to the Father.

|| Matt. 7. 7. & 21. 22. Mark 11. 24. Infra 16. 23. 13 || And whatſoever you ſhall aſk the Father in my name, that will I do: that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

Infra 16. 23. 14 If you ſhall aſk me any thing in my name, that I will do.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 27. That which thou doſt, do quickly. It is not a licence, much leſs a command, to go about his treaſon: but a ſignification to him that Chriſt would not hinder or reſiſt what he was about, do it as ſoon as he pleaſed: but was both ready, and deſirous to ſuffer for our redemption.

15 If you love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will ask the Father, and he shall give you another Paraclete that he may abide with you for ever,

17 The Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, nor knoweth him: but you shall know him; because he shall abide with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you orphans: I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while: and the world seeth me no more. But you see me: because I live, and you shall live.

20 In that day you shall know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them: he it is that loveth me. And he that loveth me, shall be loved by my Father: and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 Judas saith to him, not the Iscariot: Lord, how is it, that thou wilt manifest thyself to us, and not to the world?

23 Jesus answered, and said to him: If any one love me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him, and will make an abode with him:

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my words. And the word which you have heard is not mine: but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken to you, remaining with you.

26 But the Paraclete, the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring all things to your mind, whatsoever I shall have said to you.

27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give to you: not as the world giveth, do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid.

28 You have heard that I said to you: I go away, and I come again to you. If you loved me, you would indeed be glad, because I go to the Father: For the Father is greater than I.

29 And now I have told you before it come to pass: that when it shall come to pass, you may believe.

30 Now I will not speak many things with you. For the prince of this world cometh, and in me he hath not any thing.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father, ‖ and as the Father hath given me commandment, so I do. Arise, let us go hence. ‖ Acts 2. 23.

CHAP. XV.

A continuation of Christ's discourse to his disciples.

I AM the true vine; and my Father is the husbandman.

2 Every branch in me, that beareth not fruit, he will take away: and every one that beareth fruit, he will purge it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 ‖ Now you are clean by reason of the word, which I have spoken to you. ‖ Supra 13. 10.

4 Remain in me: and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abide in the vine: so neither can you, unless you abide in me.

5 I am the vine: you the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for without me you can do nothing.

6 If any one remaineth not in me: he shall be cast forth as a branch, and shall wither, and they shall gather him up, and cast him into the fire, and he burneth.

7 If you remain in me, and my words remain in you: you shall ask whatever you will, and it shall be done to you.

8 In this is my Father glorified, that you bring forth very much fruit, and become my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you. Remain in my love.

10 If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love, as I also have kept my Father's commandments, and do remain in his love.

11 These things I have spoken to you: that my joy may be in you, and your joy may be filled.

12 ‖ This is my commandment, that you ‖ Supra 13. 34. Ephes. 5 2. 1 Thess. 4. 9.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 16. Paraclete. That is a comforter: or also an advocate: inasmuch as by inspiring prayer, he prays, as it were, in us, and pleads for us.

Ibid. For ever. Hence it is evident that this Spirit of truth was not only promised to the persons of the apostles, but also to their successors through all generations.

VER. 26. Teach you all things. Here the Holy Ghost is promised to the apostles and their successors, particularly, in order to teach them all truth, and to preserve them from error.

VER. 28. For the Father is greater than I. It is evident, that Christ our Lord speaks here of himself, as he is made man: for as God he is equal to the Father: (See Philippians, chap. ii.) Any difficulty of understanding the meaning of these words will vanish, when the relative circumstances of the text here are considered: for Christ being at this time shortly to suffer death, love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for his friends.
14 You are my friends, if you do the things that I command you.
15 I will not now call you servants: for the servant knoweth not what his lord doth. But I have called you friends: because all things whatsoever I have heard from my Father, I have made known to you.
16 You have not chosen me: but I have
‖ Matt. 28. 19. chosen you, and have appointed you, ‖ that you should go, and should bring forth fruit, and your fruit should remain: that whatsoever you shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.
‖ 1 John 3. 11. & 4. 7. 17 ‖ These things I command you, that you love one another.
18 If the world hate you: know ye that it hated me before you.
19 If you had been of the world: the world would love its own: but because you are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.
20 Remember my word that I said to ‖ Supra 13. 16. Matt. 10. 24. ‡ Matt. 24. 9. you: ‖ The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, ‡‡ they will also persecute you: if they have kept my word, they will keep yours also.
21 But all these things they will do to you for my name's sake: because they know not him that sent me.
22 If I had not come, and spoken to them, they would not have sin: but now they have no excuse for their sin.
23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.
24 If I had not done among them the works that no other man hath done, they would not have sin: but now they have both seen, and hated both me and my Father.
25 But that the word may be fulfilled
‖ Psal. 24. 19. which is written in their law: ‖ They have hated me without cause.
‡ Luke 24. 49. 26 ‡‡ But when the Paraclete shall come, whom I will send you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceedeth from the Father, he shall give testimony of me:
27 And you shall give testimony, because you are with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

The conclusion of Christ's last discourse to his disciples.

THESE things have I spoken to you, that you may not be scandalized.
2 They will put you out of the synagogues: yea the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doth a service to God.
3 And these things will they do to you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.
4 But these things I have told you: that when the hour of them shall come, you may remember that I told you.
5 But I told you not these things from the beginning, because I was with you: And now I go to him that sent me: and none of you asketh me: Whither goest thou?
6 But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow hath filled your heart.
7 But I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go: for if I go not, the Paraclete will not come to you: but if I go, I will send him to you.
8 And when he shall come, he will convince the world of sin, and of justice, and of judgment.
9 Of sin indeed: because they have not believed in me.
10 And of justice: because I go to the Father: and you shall see me no longer:
11 And of judgment: because the prince of this world is already judged.
12 I have yet many things to say to you: but you cannot bear them now.
13 But when he, the Spirit of truth, shall come, he will teach you all truth: for he shall not speak of himself: but what things soever he shall hear, he shall speak: and the things that are to come, he will shew you.

signified to his apostles his human nature by these very words: for as God he could not die: And therefore as he was both God and man, it must follow that according to his humanity he was to die, which the apostles were soon to see and believe, as he expresses, ver. 29. And now I have told you before it come to pass: that when it shall come to pass, you may believe.

CHAP. XV. VER. 26. Whom I will send. This proves, against the modern Greeks, that the Holy Ghost proceedeth from the Son, as well as from the Father: otherwise he could not be sent by the Son.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 8. He will convince the world of sin, &c. The Holy Ghost, by his coming, brought over many thousands, 1st, to a sense of their sin in not believing in Christ. 2dly, to a conviction of the justice of Christ, now sitting at the right hand of his Father. And 3dly, to a right apprehension of the judgment prepared for them that chuse to follow satan, who is already judged and condemned.

Ibid. VER. 13. Will teach you all truth. See the annotation on chap. xiv. 26.

14 He ſhall glorify me: becauſe he ſhall receive of mine, and will declare it to you.
15 All things whatſoever the Father hath, are mine. Therefore I ſaid, that he ſhall receive of mine, and will declare it to you.
16 A little while, and now you ſhall not ſee me: and again a little while, and you ſhall ſee me: becauſe I go to the Father.
17 Then ſome of his diſciples ſaid one to another: What is this that he ſaith to us: A little while, and you ſhall not ſee me: and again a little while, and you ſhall ſee me: and becauſe I go to the Father?
18 They ſaid therefore: What is this that he ſaith, A little while? we know not what he ſpeaketh.
19 And Jeſus knew that they were deſirous to aſk him: and he ſaid to them: Of this do you enquire among yourſelves, becauſe I ſaid: A little while, and you ſhall not ſee me: and again a little while, and you ſhall ſee me.
20 Amen, amen I ſay to you, that you ſhall lament and weep, but the world ſhall rejoice: and you ſhall be ſorrowful, but your ſorrow ſhall be turned into joy.
21 A woman, when ſhe is in labour, hath ſorrow, becauſe her hour is come: but when ſhe hath brought forth the child, ſhe remembereth no more the anguiſh, for joy that a man is born into the world.
22 So alſo you now indeed have ſorrow, but I will ſee you again, and your heart ſhall rejoice: and your joy no man ſhall take from you.
23 And in that day you ſhall not aſk me any thing. ‖ Amen, amen I ſay to you: if you aſk the Father any thing in my name, he will give it you.
‖ Matt. 7. 7. & 21. 22. Mark 11. 24. Luke 11. 9. Supra 14. 13. James 1. 5.
24 Hitherto you have not aſked any thing in my name: Aſk, and you ſhall receive: that your joy may be full.
25 Theſe things I have ſpoken to you in proverbs. The hour cometh when I will no more ſpeak to you in proverbs, but will ſhew you plainly of the Father.
26 In that day you ſhall aſk in my name: and I ſay not to you, that I will aſk the Father for you:
27 For the Father himſelf loveth you, becauſe you have loved me, and have believed that I came forth from God.
28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again I leave the world, and I go to the Father.
29 His diſciples ſay to him: Behold now thou ſpeakeſt plainly, and ſpeakeſt no proverb.
30 Now we know that thou knoweſt all things, and that for thee it is not needful that any man aſk thee: in this we believe that thou cameſt forth from God.
31 Jeſus anſwered them: Now do you believe?
32 ‖ Behold the hour cometh, and is now come, that you ſhall be diſperſed every man to his own, and ſhall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, becauſe the Father is with me.
‖ Matt. 26. 31. Mark 14. 27.
33 Theſe things I have ſpoken to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you ſhall have diſtreſs: but have confidence, I have overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

Chriſt's prayer for his diſciples.

THESE things Jeſus ſpoke, and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he ſaid: Father, the hour is come, glorify thy Son, that thy Son may glorify thee.
2 ‖ As thou haſt given him power over all fleſh, that he may give life everlaſting to all whom thou haſt given him.
‖ Matt. 28. 18.
3 And this is life everlaſting: that they may know thee, the only true God, and Jeſus Chriſt, whom thou haſt ſent.
4 I have glorified thee upon the earth: I have finiſhed the work which thou gaveſt me to do:
5 And now glorify thou me, O Father, with thyſelf, with the glory which I had with thee, before the world was.
6 I have manifeſted thy name to the men whom thou haſt given me out of the world. Thine they were, and to me thou gaveſt them: and they have kept thy word.
7 Now they have known that all things which thou haſt given me are from thee:
8 Becauſe the words which thou gaveſt me, I have given to them: and they have received them, and have known for certain that I came forth from thee, and they have believed that thou didſt ſend me.
9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them whom thou haſt given me: becauſe they are thine:
10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine: and I am glorified in them.
11 And now I am no more in the world, and theſe are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name, whom thou haſt given me: that they may be one, as we alſo are.
12 While I was with them, I kept them in thy name. ‖ Thoſe whom thou gaveſt me, I have kept: and none of them hath
‖ Infra 18. 9.

† Pſ. 108. 8. periſhed, except the ſon of perdition, † that the Scripture may be fulfilled.

13 And now I come to thee: and theſe things I ſpeak in the world, that they may have my joy filled in themſelves.

14 I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them, becauſe they are not of the world: as I alſo am not of the world.

15 I do not aſk that thou take them away out of the world, but that thou preſerve them from evil.

16 They are not of the world: as I alſo am not of the world.

17 Sanctify them in truth. Thy word is truth.

18 As thou haſt ſent me into the world, I alſo have ſent them into the world.

19 And for them I do ſanctify myſelf: that they alſo may be ſanctified in truth.

20 And not for them only do I pray, but for thoſe alſo who through their word ſhall believe in me:

21 That they all may be one, as thou, Father, in me, and I in thee, that they alſo may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou haſt ſent me.

22 And the glory which thou haſt given me, I have given to them: that they may be one, as we alſo are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me: that they may be made perfect in one: and that the world may know that thou haſt ſent me, and haſt loved them, as thou haſt alſo loved me.

24 Father, I will that where I am, they alſo whom thou haſt given me, may be with me: that they may ſee my glory, which thou haſt given me: becauſe thou haſt loved me before the foundation of the world.

25 Juſt Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee: and theſe have known, that thou haſt ſent me.

26 And I have made known thy name to them, and will make it known: that the love wherewith thou haſt loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAP. XVIII.

The hiſtory of the paſſion of Chriſt.

2 Kings 15. 23. Matt. 26. 36. Mark 14. 32. Luke 22. 39. WHEN Jeſus had ſaid theſe things, he went forth with his diſciples over the brook Cedron, where there was a garden, into which he entered with his diſciples.

2 Now Judas alſo, who betrayed him, knew the place: becauſe Jeſus had often reſorted thither together with his diſciples.

‖ Matt. 26. 47. Mark 14 43. Luke 22. 47. 3 ‖ Judas therefore having received a band of men, and ſervants from the chief prieſts and the Phariſees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jeſus, therefore knowing all things that were to come upon him, went forward and ſaid to them: Whom ſeek ye?

5 They anſwered him: Jeſus of Nazareth. Jeſus ſaith to them: I am he. And Judas alſo, who betrayed him, ſtood with them.

6 As ſoon then as he had ſaid to them: I am he: they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Again therefore he aſked them: Whom ſeek ye? And they ſaid: Jeſus of Nazareth.

8 Jeſus anſwered, I have told you, that I am he: if therefore you ſeek me, let theſe go their way.

9 That the word might be fulfilled which he ſaid: ‖ Of them whom thou haſt given me, I have not loſt any one. ‖ Supra 17. 12.

10 Then Simon Peter having a ſword, drew it: and ſtruck the ſervant of the high prieſt, and cut off his right ear. And the name of the ſervant was Malchus.

11 Then Jeſus ſaid to Peter: Put up thy ſword into the ſcabbard. The chalice which my Father hath given me, ſhall I not drink it?

12 Then the band, and the tribune, and the ſervants of the Jews took Jeſus, and bound him:

13 And they led him away to ‖ Annas firſt, for he was father-in-law to Caiphas, who was the high prieſt of that year. ‖ Luke 3. 2.

14 Now Caiphas was he, † who had given the counſel to the Jews: that it was expedient that one man ſhould die for the people. † Supra 11. 49.

15 And Simon Peter followed Jeſus, and ſo did another diſciple. And that diſciple was known to the high prieſt, and went in with Jeſus into the court of the high prieſt.

16 But Peter ſtood at the door without. ‖ Then the other diſciple who was known to the high prieſt, went out, and ſpoke to the portreſs, and brought in Peter. ‖ Matt. 26. 58. Mark 14. 54. Luke 22. 55.

17 And the maid that was portreſs, ſaid to Peter: Art not thou alſo one of this man's diſciples? He ſaith: I am not.

18 Now the ſervants and officers ſtood at a fire of coals, becauſe it was cold, and warmed themſelves: and with them was Peter alſo ſtanding, and warming himſelf.

19 The high prieſt then aſked Jeſus of his diſciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jeſus anſwered him: I have ſpoken openly to the world: I have always taught in the ſynagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Jews reſort: and in private I have ſpoken nothing.

21 Why aſkeſt thou me? aſk them who have heard what I have ſpoken to them: behold they know what things I have ſaid.

22 And when he had ſaid theſe things, one of the officers ſtanding by, gave Jeſus a blow, ſaying: Anſwereſt thou the high prieſt ſo?

23 Jeſus anſwered him: If I have ſpoken ill, give teſtimony of the evil: but if well, why ſtrikeſt thou me?

‖ Matt. 26. 57. Mark 14. 53. Luke 22. 54. 24 ‖ And Annas ſent him bound to Caiphas the high prieſt.

‡ Matt. 26. 69. Mark 14. 67. Luke 22. 56. 25 And Simon Peter was ſtanding, and warming himſelf. ‡ They ſaid therefore to him: Art not thou alſo one of his diſciples? He denied it and ſaid: I am not.

26 One of the ſervants of the high prieſt, a kinſman to him whoſe ear Peter cut off, ſaith to him: Did not I ſee thee in the garden with him?

27 Then Peter again denied: and immediately the cock crew.

‖ Matt. 27. 2. Mark 15. 1. Luke 23. 1. ‡ Acts 10. 28. & 11 3. 28 ‖ Then they led Jeſus from Caiphas to the governor's hall. And it was morning: and they went not into the hall, ‡ that they might not be defiled, but that they might eat the paſch.

29 Pilate therefore went out to them, and ſaid: What accuſation bring you againſt this man?

30 They anſwered and ſaid to him: If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up to thee.

31 Pilate then ſaid to them: Take him you, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore ſaid to him: It is not lawful for us to put any one to death.

‖ Matt. 20. 19. 32 ‖ That the word of Jeſus might be fulfilled, which he ſaid, ſignifying what death he ſhould die.

‡ Matt. 27. 11. Mark 15. 2. Luke 23. 3. 33 ‡ Pilate therefore went into the hall again, and called Jeſus, and ſaid to him: Art thou the king of the Jews?

34 Jeſus anſwered: Sayeſt thou this thing of thyſelf, or have others told it thee of me?

35 Pilate anſwered: Am I a Jew? Thy nation and the chief prieſts have delivered thee up to me: what haſt thou done?

36 Jeſus anſwered: My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my ſervants would certainly ſtrive that I ſhould not be delivered to the Jews: but now my kingdom is not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore ſaid to him: Art thou a king then? Jeſus anſwered: Thou ſayeſt that I am a king. For this was I born, and for this came I into the world: that I ſhould give teſtimony to the truth: every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

38 Pilate ſaith to him: What is truth? And when he had ſaid this, he went forth again to the Jews, and ſaith to them: I find no cauſe in him.

‖ Mat t. 27. 15. Mark 15. 6. Luke 23. 17. 39 ‖ But you have a cuſtom that I ſhould releaſe one unto you at the paſch: will you therefore that I releaſe unto you the king of the Jews?

40 Then they all cried again ſaying: Not this man, but Barabbas. And Barabbas was a robber.

CHAP. XIX.

The continuation of the hiſtory of the paſſion of Chriſt.

Matt. 27. 27. Mark 15. 16. THEN therefore Pilate took Jeſus, and ſcourged him.

2 And the ſoldiers platting a crown of thorns, put it upon his head: and about him they put a purple garment.

3 And they came to him, and ſaid: Hail, king of the Jews: and they gave him blows.

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and ſaith to them: Behold I bring him forth to you, that you may know that I find no cauſe in him.

5 (So Jeſus came forth bearing the crown of thorns, and the purple garment). And he ſaith to them: Behold the man.

6 When the chief prieſts therefore and the officers had ſeen him, they cried out, ſaying: Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate ſaith to them: Take him you, and crucify him: for I find no cauſe in him.

7 The Jews anſwered him: We have a law; and according to the law he ought to die, becauſe he made himſelf the Son of God.

8 When Pilate therefore had heard this ſaying, he feared the more.

9 And he entered into the hall again: and he ſaid to Jeſus: Whence art thou? But Jeſus gave him no anſwer.

10 Pilate therefore ſaith to him: Speakeſt thou not to me? knoweſt thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and I have power to releaſe thee.

11 Jeſus anſwered: Thou ſhouldſt not have any power againſt me, unleſs it were given thee from above. Therefore he that hath delivered me to thee, hath the greater ſin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate ſought to releaſe him. But the Jews cried out, ſaying: If thou releaſe this man, thou art not Cæſar's friend. For whoſoever maketh himſelf a king, ſpeaketh againſt Cæſar.

13 Now when Pilate had heard theſe words, he brought Jeſus forth: and ſat down in the judgment-ſeat, in the place that is called Lithoſtrotos, and in Hebrew Gabbatha.

14 And it was the paraſceve of the paſch, about the ſixth hour, and he ſaith to the Jews: Behold your king.

15 But they cried out: Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate ſaith to them: Shall I crucify your king? The chief prieſts anſwered: We have no king but Cæſar.

16 Then therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified. And they took Jeſus, and led him forth.

‖ Matt. 27. 33. Mark 15. 22. Luke 23. 33.

17 ‖ And bearing his own croſs, he went forth to that place which is called Calvary, but in Hebrew Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and with him two others one on each ſide, and Jeſus in the midſt.

19 And Pilate wrote a title alſo: and he put it upon the croſs. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title therefore many of the Jews read: becauſe the place where Jeſus was crucified, was near to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, in Greek, and in Latin.

21 Then the chief prieſts of the Jews ſaid to Pilate: Write not, The king of the Jews: but that he ſaid, I am the king of the Jews.

22 Pilate anſwered: What I have written, I have written.

‖ Matt. 27. 35. Mark 15. 24. Luke 23. 34.

23 Then the ſoldiers, when they had crucified him, ‖ took his garments (and they made four parts, to every ſoldier a part) and alſo his coat. Now the coat was without ſeam, woven from the top throughout.

‡ Pſal. 21. 19.

24 They ſaid then one to another: Let us not cut it, but let us caſt lots for it whoſe it ſhall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled, ſaying: ‡ They have parted my garments among them: and upon my veſture they have caſt lot. And the ſoldiers indeed did theſe things.

25 Now there ſtood by the croſs of Jeſus, his mother, and his mother's ſiſter, Mary of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 When Jeſus therefore ſaw his mother, and the diſciple ſtanding, whom he loved, he ſaith to his mother: Woman behold thy ſon.

27 After that, he ſaith to the diſciple: Behold thy mother. And from that hour the diſciple took her to his own.

‖ Pſal. 68. 22.

28 Afterwards Jeſus knowing that all things were now accompliſhed, ‖ that the Scripture might be fulfilled, ſaid: I thirſt.

29 Now there was a veſſel ſet there full of vinegar. And they putting a ſponge full of vinegar about hyſſop, offered it to his mouth.

30 When Jeſus therefore had taken the vinegar, he ſaid: It is conſummated. And bowing his head, he gave up the ghoſt.

31 Then the Jews (becauſe it was the paraſceve) that the bodies might not remain upon the croſs on the ſabbath-day (for that was a great ſabbath-day) beſought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 The ſoldiers therefore came: and they broke the legs of the firſt, and of the other that was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jeſus, and ſaw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs:

34 But one of the ſoldiers opened his ſide with a ſpear, and immediately there came out blood and water.

35 And he that ſaw it, gave teſtimony: and his teſtimony is true. And he knoweth that he ſaith true; that you alſo may believe.

‖ Exod. 12. 46. Num. 9. 12.

36 For theſe things were done that the Scripture might be fulfilled: ‖ You ſhall not break a bone of him.

‡ Zach. 12. 10.

37 And again another Scripture ſaith ‡ They ſhall look on him whom they pierced.

‖ Matt. 27. 57. Mark 15. 43. Luke 23. 50.

38 ‖ And after theſe things Joſeph of Arimathea (becauſe he was a diſciple of Jeſus, but in private, for fear of the Jews) beſought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jeſus. And Pilate permitted him. He came therefore and took away the body of Jeſus.

‡ Supra 3. 2.

39 And Nicodemus alſo came: ‡ he who at firſt came to Jeſus by night, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound.

40 They took therefore the body of Jeſus, and bound it in linen-cloths with the ſpices, as it is the cuſtom with the Jews to bury.

41 And there was in the place, where he was crucified, a garden: and in the garden a new ſepulchre, wherein no man had yet been laid.

42 There therefore, by reaſon of the paraſceve of the Jews, they laid Jeſus, becauſe the ſepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAP. XX.

Chriſt's reſurrection, and manifeſtation to his diſciples.

Matt 28. 1. Mark 16. 1. Luke 24. 3.

AND on the firſt day of the week, Mary Magdalene cometh in the morning,

CHAP. XIX. VER. 14. The paraſceve of the paſch. That is, the day before the paſchal ſabbath. The eve of every ſabbath was called the paraſceve, or day of preparation. But this was the eve of a high ſabbath, viz. that which fell in the paſchal week.

it being yet dark, to the ſepulchre: and ſhe ſaw the ſtone taken away from the ſepulchre.

2 She ran therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other diſciple whom Jeſus loved, and ſaith to them: They have taken away the Lord out of the ſepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 Peter therefore went out, and that other diſciple, and they came to the ſepulchre.

4 And they both did run together, and that other diſciple out-ran Peter, and came firſt to the ſepulchre.

5 And when he ſtooped down, he ſaw the linen-cloths lying: but yet he went not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter, following him, and went into the ſepulchre, and ſaw the linen-cloths lying.

7 And the napkin, that had been about his head, not lying with the linen-cloths, but apart, wrapt up into one place.

8 Then that other diſciple alſo went in, who came firſt to the ſepulchre: and he ſaw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he muſt riſe again from the dead.

10 So the diſciples went away again to their home.

|| Matt. 28. h. Mark 16. 5. Luke 24. 4.

11 || But Mary ſtood without at the ſepulchre, weeping: Whilſt ſhe was then weeping, ſhe ſtooped down, and looked into the ſepulchre:

12 And ſhe ſaw two Angels in white, ſitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jeſus had been laid.

13 They ſay to her: Woman, why weepeſt thou? She ſaith to them: Becauſe they have taken away my Lord: and I know not where they have laid him.

14 When ſhe had ſaid theſe words, ſhe turned herſelf back, and ſaw Jeſus ſtanding: and ſhe knew not that it was Jeſus.

15 Jeſus ſaith to her: Woman why weepeſt thou? whom ſeekeſt thou? She thinking that it was the gardener, ſaith to him: Sir, if thou haſt taken him away, tell me where thou haſt laid him: and I will take him away.

16 Jeſus ſaith to her: Mary. She turning, ſaith to him; Rabboni (that is to ſay, Maſter).

17 Jeſus ſaith to her: Do not touch me, for I have not yet aſcended to my Father: but go to my brethren: and ſay to them: I aſcend to my Father and to your Father, to my God and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene cometh telling the diſciples: I have ſeen the Lord, and theſe things he ſaid to me.

19 || Now when it was late that ſame day, being the firſt day of the week, and the doors were ſhut, where the diſciples were gathered together for fear of the Jews: Jeſus came and ſtood in the midſt, and ſaid to them: Peace be to you.

|| Mark 16. 14. Luke 24. 36. 1. Cor. 15. 5.

20 And when he had ſaid this, he ſhewed them his hands, and his ſide. The diſciples therefore were glad, when they ſaw the Lord.

21 And he ſaid to them again: Peace be to you. As the father hath ſent me, I alſo ſend you.

22 When he had ſaid this, he breathed on them: and he ſaid to them: Receive ye the Holy Ghoſt:

23 || Whoſe ſins you ſhall forgive, they are forgiven them: and whoſe you ſhall retain, they are retained.

|| Matt. 18. 18.

24 Now Thomas one of the twelve, who is called Didymus was not with them when Jeſus came.

25 The other diſciples therefore ſaid to him: We have ſeen the Lord. But he ſaid to them: Unleſs I ſhall ſee in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the place of the nails, and put my hand into his ſide, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days, his diſciples were again within, and Thomas with them. Jeſus cometh, the doors being ſhut, and ſtood in the midſt, and ſaid: Peace be to you.

27 Then he ſaith to Thomas: Put in thy finger hither, and ſee my hands and bring hither thy hand, and put it into my ſide: and be not incredulous but faithful.

28 Thomas anſwered, and ſaid to him: My Lord, and my God.

29 Jeſus ſaith to him: Becauſe thou haſt ſeen me, Thomas, thou haſt believed: bleſſed are they that have not ſeen, and have believed.

30 || Many other ſigns alſo did Jeſus in the ſight of his diſciples, which are not written in this book.

31 But theſe are written that you may believe that Jeſus is the Chriſt the Son of God: and that believing you may have life in his name.

Chap XX. VER. 19. The doors were ſhut. The ſame power which could bring Chriſt's whole body, entire in all its dimenſions, through the doors, can without the leaſt queſtion make the ſame body really preſent in the ſacrament; though both the one and the other be above our comprehenſion.

Ibid. VER. 23. Whoſe ſins, &c. See here the commiſſion, ſtamped by the broad ſeal of heaven, by virtue of which the paſtors of Chriſt's church abſolve repenting ſinners upon their confeſſion.

CHAP. XXI.

Christ manifests himself to his disciples by the sea side, and gives Peter the charge of his sheep.

AFTER this Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. And he shewed himself after this manner.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas who is called Didymus, and Nathanael who was of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said to them: I go a fishing. They say to him: We also come with thee. And they went forth and entered into a ship: and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was come, Jesus stood on the shore: yet the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 And Jesus said to them: Children, have you any meat? They answered him: No.

6 He saith to them: Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and you shall find. They cast therefore: and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved, said to Peter: It is the Lord. Simon Peter, when he heard that it was the Lord, girded his coat about him (for he was naked) and cast himself into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came in the ship (for they were not far from the land, but as it were two hundred cubits) drawing the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they came to land, they saw hot coals lying, and a fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith to them: Bring hither of the fishes which you have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, one hundred and fifty three. And although there were so many, the net was not broken.

12 Jesus saith to them: Come, and dine. And none of them who were at meat, durst ask him: Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 And Jesus cometh and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish in like manner.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to his disciples, after he was risen from the dead.

15 When therefore they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter: Simon son of John, lovest thou me more than these? He saith to him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him: Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again: Simon son of John, lovest thou me? He saith to him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him: Feed my lambs.

17 He saith to him the third time: Simon son of John, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he said to him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said to him: Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I love thee. He said to him: Feed my sheep.

18 Amen, amen I say to thee: ‖ when thou wast younger thou didst gird thyself, and didst walk where thou wouldst: But when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldst not. ‖ 2 Peter 1. 14.

19 And this he said, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said this, he saith to him: Follow me.

20 Peter turning about, saw that disciple whom Jesus loved, following, ‖ who also leaned on his breast at the supper, and said: Lord, who is he that shall betray thee? ‖ Supra 13. 23.

21 Him therefore when Peter had seen, he saith to Jesus: Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Jesus saith to him: So I will have him to remain till I come, what is it to thee? follow thou me.

23 This saying therefore went abroad among the brethren, that that disciple dieth not. And Jesus did not say to him: He dieth not: but, So I will have him to remain till I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is that disciple who giveth testimony of these things, and hath written these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

25 ‖ But there are also many other things, which Jesus did: which if they were written every one, the world itself, I think, would not be able to contain the books, that should be written. ‖ Supra 20. 30.

CHAP. XXI. VER. 19. Feed my sheep. Our Lord had promised the spiritual supremacy to St. Peter: St. Matt. xvi. 19; and here he fulfills that promise, by charging him with the superintendency of all his sheep, without exception; and consequently of his whole flock, that is, of his whole church.

THE

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

This Book, which from the first ages hath been called, THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES, is not to be considered as a history of what was done by all the Apostles, who were dispersed into different nations; but only a short view of the first establishment of the Christian Church. A part of the preaching and actions of St. Peter are related in the twelve first chapters; and a particular account of St. Paul's Apostolical labours in the subsequent chapters. It was written by St. Luke the Evangelist, and the original in Greek. Its history commences from the Ascension of Christ our Lord, and ends in the year sixty-three, being a brief account of the Church for the space of about thirty years.

CHAP. I.

The ascension of Christ. Matthias is chosen in place of Judas.

THE former treatise I made, O Theophilus, of all things, which Jesus began to do and to teach,

A.D. 33. 2 Until the day * on which, giving commands by the Holy Ghost to the apostles whom he had chosen, he was taken up:

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many proofs, for forty days appearing to them, and speaking of the kingdom of God.

‖ Luke 24. 49. John 14.26. 4 And eating with them, ‖ he commanded them, that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but should wait for the promise of the Father, ‡ which you have heard (saith he) by my mouth.

‡ Matt. 3. 11. Mark 1. 8. Luke 3. 16. John 1. 26. 5 For John indeed baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 They therefore who were come together, asked him, saying: Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 But he said to them: It is not for you to know the times or moments, which the Father hath put in his own power:

Infra 2. 2. Luke 24. 48. 8 ‖ But you shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost coming upon you, ‡ and you shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and even to the uttermost part of the earth.

9 And when he had said these things, while they looked on, he was raised up: and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And whilst they were beholding him going up to heaven, behold two men stood by them in white garments.

11 Who also said: Ye men of Galilee, why stand you looking up to heaven? This Jesus who is taken up from you into heaven, so shall he come as you have seen him going into heaven.

12 Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the mount that is called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, within a sabbath-day's journey.

13 And when they had entered in, they went up into an upper room, where there remained Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Jude of James.

14 All these were persevering with one mind in prayer with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and his brethren.

15 In those days Peter rising up in the midst of the brethren, said: (now the number of persons together, was about a hundred and twenty).

‖ Psal. 40. 10. John 13.18. 16 Men brethren, the Scripture must be fulfilled, ‖ which the Holy Ghost foretold by the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who was the leader of them that apprehended Jesus:

17 Who was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry:

‖ Matt. 27. 7. 18 ‖ And he indeed hath possessed a field of the reward of iniquity, and being hanged burst asunder in the midst: and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it became known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so that the same field is called in their tongue, Haceldama, that is, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms:

‖ Psal. 68. 26. ‡ Psal. 108. 8. ‖ Let their habitation become desolate, and let there be none to dwell therein: ‡ and let another take his bishoprick.

21 Wherefore of theſe men who have been with us, all the time that the Lord Jeſus came in and went out among us.

22 Beginning from the baptiſm of John until the day wherein he was taken up from us, one of theſe muſt be made a witneſs with us of his reſurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joſeph, called Barſabas, who was ſurnamed Juſtus, and Matthias.

24 And praying they ſaid: Thou, O Lord, who knoweſt the hearts of all men, ſhew which of theſe two thou haſt choſen,

25 To take the place of this miniſtry, and apoſtleſhip, from which Judas hath by tranſgreſſion fallen, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave them lots, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apoſtles.

CHAP. II.

The diſciples receive the Holy Ghoſt. Peter's ſermon to the people. The piety of the firſt converts.

AND when the days of the pentecoſt were accompliſhed, they were all together in the ſame place:

2 And ſuddenly there came a ſound from heaven, as of a mighty wind coming, and it filled the whole houſe where they were ſitting

3 And there appeared to them cloven tongues as it were of fire, and it ſat upon each of them:

|| Matt. 3. 11. Mark 1. 8. Luke 3. 16. John 7. 39. Supra 1. 8. Infra 11. 16. & 19. 6.

4 || And they were all filled with the Holy Ghoſt, and they began to ſpeak with divers tongues, according as the Holy Ghoſt gave them to ſpeak.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jeruſalem Jews, devout men out of every nation under heaven.

6 And when this voice was made, the multitude came together, and was confounded in mind, becauſe that every one heard them ſpeaking in his own tongue.

7 And they were all amazed and wondered, ſaying: Behold are not all theſe, who ſpeak, Galileans?

8 And how have we every one heard our own tongue wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and inhabitants of Meſopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Aſia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphilia, Egypt, and the parts of Lybia about Cyrene, and ſtrangers of Rome,

11 Jews alſo, and Proſelytes, Cretes, and Arabians: we have heard them ſpeak in our own tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all aſtoniſhed, and wondered, ſaying one to another: What meaneth this?

13 But others mocking ſaid: Theſe men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter ſtanding up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and ſpoke to them: Ye men of Judea, and all you that dwell in Jeruſalem, be this known to you, and with your ears receive my words.

15 For theſe are not drunk, as you ſuppoſe, ſeeing it is but the third hour of the day:

16 But this is that which was ſpoken of by the prophet Joel:

17 || And it ſhall come to paſs in the laſt days, (ſaith the Lord) I will pour out of my Spirit upon all fleſh: and your ſons and your daughters ſhall propheſy, and your young men ſhall ſee viſions, and your old men ſhall dream dreams. || Iſai. 44. 3. Joel 2. 28.

18 And upon my ſervants indeed, and upon my handmaids will I pour out in thoſe days of my Spirit, and they ſhall propheſy:

19 And I will ſhew wonders in the heaven above, and ſigns on the earth beneath: blood and fire, and vapour of ſmoke.

20 The ſun ſhall be turned into darkneſs, and the moon into blood, before the great and manifeſt day of the Lord cometh. || Joel 2. 32.

21 || And it ſhall come to paſs, that whoſoever ſhall call upon the name of the Lord, ſhall be ſaved. || Rom. 10. 13.

22 Ye men of Iſrael, hear theſe words: Jeſus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you, by miracles and wonders, and ſigns, which God did by him in the midſt of you, as you alſo know:

23 This ſame being delivered up by the determinate counſel and foreknowledge of God, you have crucified and put to death by the hands of wicked men:

24 Whom God hath raiſed up, having looſed the ſorrows of hell, as it was impoſſible that he ſhould be detained by it.

25 For David ſaith concerning him: || I || Pſal. 15. 8.

CHAP. II. VER. 23. By the determinate, &c. God delivered up his Son; and his Son delivered up himſelf, for the love of us, and for the ſake of our ſalvation: and ſo Chriſt's being delivered up was holy, and was God's own determination. But they who betrayed and crucified him, did wickedly, following therein their own malice and the inſtigation of the devil; not the will and determination of God, who was by no means the author of their wickedneſs; tho' he permitted it: becauſe he could, and did draw out of it ſo great a good, viz. the ſalvation of man.

VER. 24. Having looſed the ſorrows, &c. Having overcome the grievous pains of death, and all the power of hell.

foreſaw the Lord always before my face: becauſe he is at my right hand that I may not be moved:

26 For this my heart hath been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced: moreover my fleſh alſo ſhall reſt in hope:

27 Becauſe thou wilt not leave my ſoul in hell, nor ſuffer thy Holy one to ſee corruption:

28 Thou haſt made known to me the ways of life: Thou ſhalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Ye men brethren, let me freely ſpeak to you of the patriarch David, || that he died, and was buried: and his ſepulchre is with us to this preſent day. || 3 Kings 2. 10.

30 Whereas therefore he was a prophet, and knew || that God had ſworn to him with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins one ſhould ſit upon his throne: || Pſal. 131. 11.

31 Foreſeeing he ſpoke of the reſurrection of Chriſt, || for neither was he left in hell, neither did his fleſh ſee corruption. || Pſal. 15. 10. Infra 13. 35.

32 This Jeſus hath God raiſed up again, whereof we all are witneſſes.

33 Being exalted therefore by the right hand of God, and having received of the Father the promiſe of the Holy Ghoſt, he hath poured forth this which you ſee and hear.

34 For David did not aſcend into heaven: but he himſelf ſaid: || The Lord ſaid to my Lord, ſit thou on my right hand, || Pſal. 109. 1.

35 Until I make thy enemies thy footſtool.

36 Therefore let all the houſe of Iſrael know moſt aſſuredly, that God hath made him Lord and Chriſt, this ſame Jeſus, whom you have crucified.

37 Now when they had heard theſe things, they had compunction in their heart, and they ſaid to Peter and to the reſt of the apoſtles: What ſhall we do, men brethren?

38 But Peter to them: Do penance, (ſaid he) and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jeſus Chriſt, for the remiſſion of your ſins: and you ſhall receive the gift of the Holy Ghoſt.

39 For the promiſe is to you, and to your children, and to all that are far off, whomſoever the Lord our God ſhall call.

40 And with a great many other words did he teſtify and exhort them, ſaying: Save yourſelves from this perverſe generation.

41 They therefore that received his word were baptized: and there were added to them in that day about three thouſand ſouls.

42 And they were perſevering in the doctrine of the apoſtles, and in the communication of the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every ſoul: and many wonders and ſigns were done by the apoſtles in Jeruſalem, and there was great fear in all.

44 And all they that believed, were together, and had all things common.

45 They ſold their poſſeſſions and goods, and divided them to all, according as every one had need.

46 And continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from houſe to houſe, they took their meat with gladneſs and ſimplicity of heart:

47 Praiſing God together, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added daily to their ſociety ſuch as ſhould be ſaved.

CHAP. III.

The miracle upon the lame man, followed by the converſion of many.

NOW Peter and John went up to the temple at the ninth hour of prayer.

2 And a certain man who was lame from his mother's womb, was carried: whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple, which is called the Beautiful, that he might beg alms of them that went into the temple.

3 He, when he had ſeen Peter and John about to go into the temple, begged to receive an alms. A. D. 33.

4 But Peter with John fixing his eyes upon him, ſaid: Look upon us.

5 And he looked earneſtly upon them, hoping that he ſhould receive ſomething from them.

6 But Peter ſaid: Silver and gold I have none: but what I have, I give thee: in the name of Jeſus Chriſt of Nazareth, riſe up and walk.

7 And having taken him by the right hand, he lifted him up, and forthwith his feet and ſoles became firm.

8 And he leaping up ſtood, and walked: and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praiſing God.

9 And all the people ſaw him walking and praiſing God.

10 And they knew him, that it was he who ſat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened to him.

11 And as he held Peter and John, all the people amazed, ran to them to the porch which is called Solomon's.

12 Which Peter seeing, made answer to the people: Ye men of Israel, why wonder you at this? or why look you upon us, as if by our strength or power, we had made this man to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus, whom you indeed delivered up and denied before the face of Pilate, when he judged he should be released.

14 || But you denied the Holy and the Just one, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you.

15 But the author of life you killed, whom God hath raised from the dead, of which we are witnesses.

16 And his name, through the faith of his name, hath made this man strong whom you have seen and known: and the faith which is by him, hath given this perfect soundness in the sight of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I know that you did it through ignorance, as also your rulers.

18 But those things which God had foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 Be penitent therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out:

20 That when the times of refreshment shall come from the presence of the Lord, and he shall send him who hath been preached unto you, Jesus Christ,

21 Whom heaven indeed must receive until the times of the restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets from the beginning of the world.

22 For Moses indeed said: || A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you out of your brethren, like unto me: him you shall hear according to all things whatsoever he shall speak to you.

23 And it shall be, that every soul which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 And all the prophets from Samuel and afterwards, that have spoken, have foretold these days.

25 You are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made to our fathers, saying to Abraham: || And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

26 To you first God raising up his Son, sent him to bless you: that every one should convert himself from his wickedness.

|| Matt. 27. 20. Mark 15. 11. Luke 23.18. John 18.40.

|| Deut. 18. 15.

|| Gen. 12. 3.

CHAP. IV.

Peter and John are apprehended. Their constancy. The church is increased.

AND when they were speaking to the people, the priests and the officer of the temple and the Sadducees came unto them, A. D. 33.

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and declared in Jesus the resurrection from the dead:

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in custody till the next day: for now it was evening.

4 But many of them, who had heard the word, believed: and the number of the men was made five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and aucients, and Scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem:

6 And Annas the high priest, and Caiphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the priestly race.

7 And setting them in the midst, they asked: By what power, or in what name have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said to them: Ye rulers of the people and ancients, hear:

9 If we this day are examined concerning the good deed done to the infirm man, by what means he hath been made whole.

10 Be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God hath raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 || This is the stone which was rejected by you the builders: which is become the head of the corner:

12 Nor is there salvation in any other. For there is no other name under heaven given to men, whereby we must be saved.

13 Now they seeing the constancy of Peter and John, knowing that they were illiterate and ignorant men, they wondered: and they knew them, that they had been with Jesus:

14 Seeing also the man standing with them, who had been healed, they could say nothing against it.

15 But they commanded them to go aside out of the council: and they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying: What shall we do to these men? for a miracle indeed hath been done by them, conspicuous to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: it is manifest, and we cannot deny it.

|| Psal. 117. 22. Isai. 28. 16. Matt. 21. 42. Mark 12. 10. Luke 20. 17. Rom. 9. 32. 1 Peter. 2. 7.

17 But that it may be no farther divulged among the people, let us threaten them, that they ſpeak no more in this name to any man.

18 And calling them, they charged them not to ſpeak at all, nor teach in the name of Jeſus.

19 But Peter and John anſwering, ſaid to them: If it be juſt in the ſight of God, to hear you rather than God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but ſpeak the things which we have ſeen and heard.

21 But they threatening them, ſent them away: not finding how they might puniſh them, becauſe of the people: for all men glorified what had been done, in that which had come to paſs.

22 For the man was above forty years old, in whom that miraculous cure had been wrought.

23 And being let go they came to their own company, and related all that the chief prieſts and ancients had ſaid to them.

24 Who when they had heard them, with one accord lifted up their voice to God, and ſaid: Lord, thou art he that didſt make heaven and earth, the ſea, and all things that are in them:

25 Who in the Holy Ghoſt, by the mouth of our father David thy ſervant haſt ſaid:
§ Pſal. 2. 1. || Why have the Gentiles raged, and the people deviſed vain things?

26 The kings of the earth ſtood up, and the princes aſſembled together againſt the Lord, and againſt his Chriſt.

27 For there were truly aſſembled in this city againſt thy holy Son Jeſus whom thou haſt anointed, Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Iſrael, 28 To do what thy hand and thy counſel decreed to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings, and grant to thy ſervants, with all confidence to ſpeak thy word,

30 In this, that thou ſtretch forth thy hand to cures and ſigns and wonders, to be done by the name of thy holy Son Jeſus.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was ſhaken wherein they were aſſembled: and they were all filled with the Holy Ghoſt, and they ſpoke the word of God with confidence.

32 And the multitude of the believers had but one heart and one ſoul: neither did any one of them ſay, that of the things which he poſſeſſed, any thing was his own, but all things were common to them.

33 And with great power did the apoſtles give teſtimony of the reſurrection of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord: and great grace was in them all.

34 For neither was there any one among them that wanted. For as many as were owners of lands or houſes ſold them, and brought the price of the things they ſold,

35 And laid it down before the feet of the apoſtles. And diſtribution was made to every man according as he had need.

36 And Joſeph, who by the apoſtles was ſurnamed Barnabas (which being interpreted, is the ſon of conſolation) a Levite, a Cyprian born, 37 Having land, ſold it, and brought the price, and laid it at the feet of the apoſtles.

CHAP. V.

The judgment of God upon Ananias and Saphira. The apoſtles are caſt into priſon.

BUT a certain man named Ananias with Saphira his wife, ſold a field, A. D. 33.

2 And by fraud kept part of the price of the field, his wife being conſcious of it, and bringing a certain part of it, laid it at the feet of the apoſtles.

3 But Peter ſaid: Ananias, why hath ſatan tempted thy heart, that thou ſhouldſt lie to the Holy Ghoſt, and by fraud keep part of the price of the field?

4 Whilſt it remained, did it not remain to thee? and being ſold, was it not in thy power? Why haſt thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou haſt not lied to men, but to God.

5 And Ananias hearing theſe words, fell down, and gave up the ghoſt. And great fear came upon all that heard it.

6 And the young men riſing up, removed him, and carrying him out, buried him.

7 And it came to paſs, about the ſpace of three hours after, his wife alſo not knowing what had happened, came in.

8 And Peter ſaid to her: Tell me, woman, whether you ſold the field for ſo much? And ſhe ſaid: Yea, for ſo much.

9 And Peter ſaid unto her: Why have you agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold the feet of thoſe, who have buried thy huſband, are at the door, and they ſhall carry thee out.

10 Immediately ſhe fell down before his feet, and gave up the ghoſt. And the young men coming in, found her dead; and carried her out, and buried her by her huſband.

11 And there came great fear upon the whole church, and upon all that heard theſe things.

12 And by the hands of the apoſtles many ſigns and wonders were done among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 But of the reſt no one durſt join himſelf to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And the multitude of men and women that believed in the Lord was more increaſed,

15 Inſomuch that they brought out the ſick into the ſtreets, and laid them on beds and couches, that when Peter came his ſhadow at the leaſt might overſhadow any of them, and they might be delivered from their infirmities.

16 And there came alſo together to Jeruſalem a multitude out of the neigbouring cities, bringing ſick perſons, and ſuch as were troubled with unclean ſpirits: who were all healed.

17 Then the high prieſt riſing up, and all that were with him (which is the hereſy of the Sadducees) were filled with indignation.

18 And they laid hands on the apoſtles, and put them in the common priſon.

19 But an angel of the Lord by night opening the doors of the priſon, and leading them out, ſaid:

20 Go, and ſtanding ſpeak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 And they having heard this, entered early in the morning into the temple, and taught. Now the high prieſt being arrived and they that were with him, aſſembled the council, and all the ancients of the children of Iſrael: and ſent to the priſon to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and having opened the priſon, found them not, returning back they told,

23 Saying: The priſon indeed we found ſhut with all diligence, and the keepers ſtanding before the doors: but opening it, we found no man within,

24 Now when the magiſtrate of the temple, and the chief prieſt heard theſe words, they were in doubt what was become of them.

25 But a certain man coming told them: Behold the men whom you put in priſon, are ſtanding in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the magiſtrate with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, leſt they ſhould be ſtoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they ſet them before the council. And the high prieſt ſpoke to them,

28 Saying: Commanding we commanded you that you ſhould not teach in this name: and behold you have filled Jeruſalem with your doctrine, and you have a mind to bring the blood of this man upon us.

29 Peter then anſwering, and the apoſtles, ſaid: We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers hath raiſed up Jeſus, whom you put to death, hanging him upon a tree.

31 This Prince and Saviour, God hath exalted with his right hand, to give penitence to Iſrael, and remiſſion of ſins.

32 And we are witneſſes of theſe things, and the Holy Ghoſt, whom God hath given to all thoſe that obey him.

33 When they had heard theſe things, they were cut to the heart, and they thought to put them to death.

34 But one in the council riſing up, a Phariſee, by name Gamaliel, a doctor of the law reſpected by all the people, commanded the men to be put forth a little while.

35 And he ſaid to them: Ye men of Iſrael, conſider with yourſelves, what you are about to do with theſe men.

36 For before theſe days roſe up Theodas, affirming himſelf to be ſome body, with whom joined a number of men, about four hundred: who was ſlain: and all who believed him were diſperſed, and reduced to nothing.

37 After this man roſe up Judas the Galilean in the days of the enrolling, and drew away the people after him: he alſo periſhed: and all whoſoever conſented to him, were diſperſed.

38 And now therefore I ſay to you, refrain from theſe men, and let them alone: for if this deſign, or work be of men, it will fall to nothing:

39 But if it be of God, you are not able to deſtroy it: leſt perhaps you be found to oppoſe God. And they conſented to him.

40 And calling in the apoſtles, after they had been ſcourged, they charged them not to ſpeak at all in the name of Jeſus, and they diſmiſſed them.

41 And they indeed went from the preſence of the council rejoicing, that they were accounted worthy to ſuffer reproach for the name of Jeſus.

42 And they ceaſed not every day in the temple, and from houſe to houſe, to teach and preach Chriſt Jeſus.

CHAP. VI.

The ordaining of the seven deacons. The zeal of Stephen.

A.D. 33. AND in those days, the number of the disciples increasing, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, for that their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve calling together the multitude of the disciples, said: It is not fit that we should leave the word of God and serve tables.

3 Therefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the discourse pleased all the multitude. And they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch.

6 These they placed in the presence of the apostles: and they praying imposed hands upon them.

7 And the word of the Lord increased, and the number of the disciples was multiplied very much in Jerusalem: a great multitude also of the priests obeyed the faith.

8 Now Stephen full of grace and fortitude did great wonders and miracles among the the people.

9 But certain men of the synagogue, that is called of the Libertines, and of the Cyreneans, and of the Alexandrians, and of those that were of Cilicia, and Asia rose up disputing with Stephen:

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit with which he spoke.

11 Then they suborned men to say, that they had heard him speaking words of blasphemy against Moses and against God.

12 They stirred up therefore the people, and the ancients, and the Scribes: and running together they took him, and brought him before the council.

13 And they set up false witnesses, who said: This man ceaseth not to speak words against the holy place, and the law.

14 For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the traditions, which Moses delivered to us.

15 And all they who sat in the council looking earnestly upon him, saw his face as it were the face of an Angel.

CHAP. VII.

Stephen's speech before the council: his martyrdom.

THEN the high priest said: Are these things so?

2 And he said: Ye men, brethren and fathers, give ear. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charan, A.D. 33.

3 And he said to him: ‖ Go forth out of thy country and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I will shew thee. ‖ Gen. 12. 2.

4 Then he went out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charan. And from thence, after his father was dead, he removed him into this land, in which you now dwell.

5 And he gave him no inheritance in it, no not the pace of a foot: but he promised to give it him in possession, and to his seed after him, when he had not a son.

6 And God said to him: ‖ That his seed should sojourn in a strange country, and that they should bring them under bondage, and treat them ill for four hundred years: ‖ Gen. 15. 13.

7 And the nation which they shall serve, I will judge, said the Lord: and after these things they shall go out, and shall serve me in this place.

8 ‖ And he gave him the covenant of circumcision, ‡ and so he begot Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day: and ‖ Isaac Jacob: ‡ and Jacob the twelve patriarchs. ‖ Gen. 17. 10. ‡ Gen. 21. 24. ‖ Gen. 25. 25.

9 And the patriarchs, moved with envy, ‖ sold Joseph into Egypt: and God was with him. ‡ Gen. 29. 32. & 35. 32. ‖ Gen. 37. 28.

10 And he delivered him out of all his tribulations: ‡ and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharao king of Egypt, and he appointed him governor of over Egypt, and over all his house. ‡ Gen. 41. 37.

11 Now there came a famine over all Egypt, and Chanaan, and great tribulation: and our fathers found no food.

12 ‖ But when Jacob had heard that there was corn in Egypt: he sent our fathers the first time: ‖ Gen. 42. 2.

13 ‡ And at the second time Joseph was known by his brethren, and his kindred was made known to Pharao. ‡ Gen. 45. 3.

14 And Joseph sending, called thither Jacob his father, and all his kindred seventy five souls.

CHAP. VI. VER. 1. Grecians. So they called the Jews that were born and brought up in Greece.

15 ‖ So Jacob went down into Egypt, and ‡ he died, and our fathers.
16 And they were tranſlated to Sichem, and were laid in the ſepulchre, ‖ which Abraham bought for a ſum of money of the ſons of Hemor the ſon of Sichem.
17 And when the time of the promiſe drew near, which God had promiſed to Abraham, ‡ the people increaſed and were multiplied in Egypt.
18 Till another king aroſe in Egypt who knew not Joſeph.
19 This ſame dealing deceitfully with our race, afflicted our fathers, that they ſhould expoſe their children, to the end they might not be kept alive.
20 ‖ At the ſame time was Moſes born, and he was acceptable to God, and he was nouriſhed three months in his father's houſe.
21 But he being expoſed, Pharao's daughter took him up, and nouriſhed him for her own ſon.
22 And Moſes was inſtructed in all the wiſdom of the Egyptians, and he was powerful in his words, and in his deeds.
23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to viſit his brethren the children of Iſrael.
24 ‖ And having ſeen a certain man ſuffer an injury, he defended him: and ſtriking the Egyptian, he avenged him who ſuffered the injury.
25 And he thought that his brethren underſtood that God by his hand would ſave them: but they underſtood it not.
26 ‖ And the next day he ſhewed himſelf to them that were at ſtrife: and would have reconciled them in peace, ſaying: Men, ye are brethren, why hurt ye one another?
27 But he that did the injury to his neighbour, thruſt him away, ſaying: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge over us?
28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didſt yeſterday kill the Egyptian?
29 And Moſes fled upon this word: and became a ſtranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two ſons..
30 And when forty years were expired, ‖ there appeared to him in the deſert of mount Sina an angel in a flame of fire in a buſh.
31 And Moſes ſeeing it, wondered at the ſight: and as he drew near to view it, the voice of the Lord came to him, ſaying:
32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moſes being terrified, durſt not behold.
33 And the Lord ſaid to him: Looſe thy ſhoes from off thy feet: for the place wherein thou ſtandeſt, is holy ground.
34 Seeing I have ſeen the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, and I will ſend thee into Egypt.
35 This Moſes, whom they refuſed, ſaying: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge? him God ſent a prince and redeemer, by the hand of the angel, who appeared to him in the buſh.
36 ‖ He brought them out, doing wonders and ſigns in the land of Egypt, and in the Red ſea, and in the deſert for forty years.
37 This is that Moſes who ſaid to the children of Iſrael: ‡ A prophet will God raiſe up to you out of your own brethren, as myſelf: him ſhall you hear.
38 ‖ This is he who was in the church in the wilderneſs, with the angel, who ſpoke to him on mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the words of life to give to us.
39 To whom our fathers would not be obedient: but repulſed him, and in their hearts returned back into Egypt,
40 Saying to Aaron: ‖ Make us Gods to go before us: for as to this Moſes, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we we know not what is become of him.
41 And they made a calf in thoſe days, and offered ſacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.
42 And God turned, and gave them up to ſerve the hoſt of heaven, as it is written in the book of the prophets: ‖ Did you offer victims and ſacrifices to me for forty years in the deſert, O houſe of Iſrael?
43 And you took unto you the tabernacle of Moloch, and the ſtar of your god Rempham, figures which you made to adore them. And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.
44 The tabernacle of the teſtimony was with our fathers in the deſert, as God ordained for them, ‖ ſpeaking to Moſes that he ſhould make it according to the form which he had ſeen.
45 ‡ Which alſo our fathers receiving, brought in with Jeſus, into the poſſeſſion of the Gentiles, whom God expelled from the face of our fathers, until the days of David:
46 ‖ Who found grace in the ſight of God, ‡ and deſired that he might find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.
47 ‖ But Solomon built him a houſe.

CHAP. VII. VER. 45. Jeſus. That is Joſue, ſo called in Greek.

48 ‡ But the moſt High dwelleth not in houſes made by hands, as the prophet ſaith:

‡ Infra 17. 24

49 ‖ Heaven is my throne: and the earth is my foot-ſtool. What houſe will you build for me, ſaith the Lord, or what is the place of my reſt?

‖ Iſai. 66. 1.

50 Hath not my hand made all theſe things?

51 With a ſtiff neck and uncircumciſed heart and ears, you always reſiſt the Holy Ghoſt: as your fathers did, ſo do you alſo.

52 Which of the prophets have not your fathers perſecuted? And they have ſlain theſe who foretold of the coming of the Juſt One: of whom you have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who have received the law by the diſpoſition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 Now hearing theſe things they were cut to the heart, and they gnaſhed with their teeth at him.

55 But he being full of the Holy Ghoſt, looking up ſtedfaſtly to heaven, ſaw the glory of God, and Jeſus ſtanding at the right hand of God. And he ſaid: Behold I ſee the heavens opened, and the Son of man ſtanding at the right hand of God.

56 And they crying out with a loud voice, ſtopped their ears, and with one accord ruſhed in violently upon him.

57 And having caſt him out of the city, they ſtoned him: and the witneſſes laid down their garments at the feet of a young man, whoſe name was Saul.

58 And they ſtoned Stephen invoking, and ſaying: Lord Jeſus, receive my ſpirit.

59 And kneeling down he cried out with a loud voice, ſaying: Lord, lay not this ſin to their charge. And when he had ſaid this, he fell aſleep in the Lord. And Saul was conſenting to his death.

CHAP. VIII.

Philip converts the Samaritans, and baptizes the eunuch.

A. D. 33. AND at that time there was raiſed a great perſecution againſt the church, which was at Jeruſalem, and they were all diſperſed through the countries of Judea and Samaria, except the apoſtles.

2 And devout men took care of Stephen's funeral, and made great mourning over him.

3 But Saul ravaged the church, entering into houſes, and haling away men and women, committed them to priſon.

4 They therefore who were diſperſed, went about preaching the word of God.

5 And Philip going down to the city of Samaria, preached Chriſt to them.

6 And the people were attentive to thoſe things, which were ſaid by Philip, with one accord hearing, and ſeeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean ſpirits crying out with a loud voice, went out of many who were poſſeſſed with them.

8 And many taken with the palſy, and that were lame, were healed.

9 And there was great joy in that city. But a certain man named Simon, who before had been a magician in the city, ſeducing the people of Samaria, giving out that he was ſome great one:

10 To whom all hearkened from the leaſt to the greateſt, ſaying: This man is the power of God, which is called great.

11 And they were attentive to him, becauſe for a long time he had bewitched them with his ſorceries.

12 But when they had believed Philip preaching of the kingdom of God, in the name of Jeſus Chriſt men and women were baptized.

13 Then Simon himſelf believed alſo: and being baptized, he adhered to Philip. Seeing alſo wonders and miracles done, he was ſtruck with amazement.

14 Now when the apoſtles, who were in Jeruſalem, had heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they ſent to them Peter and John.

15 Who when they were come, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghoſt:

16 For he was not yet come upon any one of them, but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jeſus.

17 Then they laid their hands upon them, and they received the Holy Ghoſt.

18 And when Simon ſaw, that by the impoſition of the hands of the apoſtles the Holy Ghoſt was given, he offered them money,

---

VER. 48. Dwelleth not in houſes, &c. That is, ſo as to ſtand in need of earthly dwellings, or to be contained, or circumſcribed by them. Though, otherwiſe by his immenſe divinity, he is in our houſes; and every where elſe; and Chriſt in his humanity dwelt in houſes: and is now on our altars.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 17. They laid their hands upon them, &c. The apoſtles adminiſtered the ſacrament of confirmation, by impoſition of hands, and prayer: and the faithful thereby received the Holy Ghoſt. Not but they had received the grace of the Holy Ghoſt at their baptiſm: yet not that plenitude of grace and thoſe ſpiritual gifts which they afterwards received from Biſhops in the ſacrament of confirmation, which ſtrengthened them to profeſs their faith publickly.

19 Saying: Give me alſo this power, that on whomſoever I ſhall lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghoſt. But Peter ſaid to him:

20 May thy money periſh with thee: becauſe thou haſt eſteemed the gift of God to be purchaſed with money.

21 Thou haſt no part, nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the ſight of God.

22 Do penance therefore from this thy wickedneſs: and pray to God, that perhaps this thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I ſee thou art in the gall of bitterneſs, and in the bonds of iniquity.

24 Then Simon anſwering, ſaid: Pray you to the Lord for me, that none of theſe things which you have ſaid, may come upon me.

25 And they indeed having teſtified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jeruſalem, and preached the Goſpel to many countries of the Samaritans.

26 And an angel of the Lord ſpoke to Philip, ſaying: Ariſe, and go towards the ſouth, to the way that goeth down from Jeruſalem to Gaza: this is deſert.

27 And riſing up he went. And behold a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch, of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had charge over all her treaſures, had come to Jeruſalem to adore:

28 And he was returning ſitting on his chariot, and reading Iſaias the prophet.

29 And the Spirit ſaid to Philip: Go near, and join thyſelf to that chariot.

30 And Philip running thither, heard him reading the prophet Iſaias, and he ſaid: Thinkeſt thou that thou underſtandeſt what thou readeſt?

31 And he ſaid: how can I, unleſs ſome one ſhew me? And he deſired Philip to come up, and ſit with him.

32 And the place of the Scripture, which he read, was this: ‖ As a ſheep he was led to the ſlaughter: and like a lamb without a voice before his ſhearer, ſo opened he not his mouth. ‖ Iſai. 53. 7.

33 In humility his judgment was taken away. Who ſhall declare his generation, for his life ſhall be taken away from the earth?

34 And the eunuch anſwering Philip, ſaid: I beſeech thee, of whom doth the prophet ſpeak this? of himſelf, or of ſome other?

35 And Philip opening his mouth, and beginning at that Scripture, preached to him Jeſus.

36 And as they went on the way, they came to a certain water: and the eunuch ſaith: See here is water, what hindereth me from being baptized?

37 And Philip ſaid: If thou believeſt with thy whole heart, thou mayeſt. And he anſwering, ſaid: I believe that Jeſus Chriſt is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to ſtand ſtill: and they both went down into the water, Philip, and the eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord took away Philip, and the eunuch ſaw him no more. And he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Philip was found in Azotus, and paſſing through he preached the goſpel to all the cities, till he came to Ceſarea.

CHAP. IX.

Paul's converſion and zeal. Peter heals Eneas, and raiſes Tabitha to life.

AND Saul as yet breathing out threatenings, and ſlaughter againſt the diſciples of the Lord, went to the high prieſt, A. D. 34. Gal. 1. 13.

2 And aſked of him letters to Damaſcus to the ſynagogues: that if he found any men and women of this way, he might bring them bound to Jeruſalem.

3 ‖ And as he went on his journey, it came to paſs that he drew near to Damaſcus: and ſuddenly a light from heaven ſhined round about him. ‖ Infra. 22. 6. & 22. 10. & 26. 12. 1 Cor. 15. 8. 2 Cor. 12. 2.

4 And falling on the ground, he heard a voice ſaying to him: Saul, Saul, why doſt thou perſecute me?

5 And he ſaid: Who art thou, Lord? And he: I am Jeſus whom thou doſt perſecute: It is hard for thee to kick againſt the goad.

6 And he trembling and aſtoniſhed, ſaid: Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?

7 And the Lord ſaid to him: Ariſe, and go into the city, and there it ſhall be told thee what thou muſt do. Now the men, who went in company with him, ſtood amazed, hearing indeed a voice, but ſeeing no one.

8 And Saul aroſe from the ground, and his eyes being open, he ſaw nothing. But they leading him by the hands, brought him into Damaſcus.

VER. 37. If thou believeſt with thy whole heart. The Scripture many times mentions only one diſpoſition, as here belief, when others equally neceſſary are not expreſſed, viz. a ſorrow for ſins, a firm hope, and the love of God. Moreover, believing with the whole heart ſignifies a belief of every thing neceſſary for ſalvation.

9 And he was there three days, without ſight, and he neither eat nor drank.

10 Now there was a certain diſciple at Damaſcus, by name Ananias: || and the Lord ſaid to him in a viſion: Ananias. And he ſaid: Behold I am here, Lord.

Infra 22. 2.

11 And the Lord ſaid to him: Ariſe, and go into the ſtreet, that is called Strait, and ſeek in the houſe of Judas, one named Saul of Tarſus: for behold he prayeth.

12 (And he ſaw a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands upon him, that he might receive his ſight).

13 But Ananias anſwered: Lord, I have heard from many of this man, how great evils he hath done to thy ſaints in Jeruſalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief prieſts to bind all, that invoke thy name.

15 And the Lord ſaid to him: Go, for this man is a veſſel of election to me, to carry my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Iſrael.

16 For I will ſhew him how great things he muſt ſuffer for the ſake of my name.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entered into the houſe: and laying his hands on him, he ſaid: Saul brother, the Lord Jeſus hath ſent me, he who appeared to thee in the way as thou cameſt, that thou mayſt receive thy ſight, and be filled with the Holy Ghoſt.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were ſcales, and he received his ſight: and riſing up he was baptized.

19 And when he had taken meat, he was ſtrengthened. And he was with the diſciples who were at Damaſcus, for ſome days.

20 And immediately he preached Jeſus in the ſynagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 And all were aſtoniſhed that heard him, and ſaid: Is not this he who in Jeruſalem attacked violently thoſe, who called upon that name: and came hither for this purpoſe, that he might lead them bound to the chief prieſts?

22 But Saul increaſed much more in ſtrength, and confounded the Jews who dwelt at Damaſcus, affirming that this is the Chriſt.

23 And when many days were paſſed, the Jews conſulted together to kill him.

24 But their laying in wait was made known to Saul. || And they guarded the gates alſo day and night, that they might kill him.

2 Cor. 11.

25 But the diſciples taking him by night, conveyed him away by the wall, letting him down in a baſket.

26 And when he was come into Jeruſalem, he offered to join himſelf to the diſciples, and all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a diſciple.

27 But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apoſtles, and related to them how he had ſeen the Lord in the way, and that he had ſpoken to him, and how in Damaſcus he had acted confidently in the name of Jeſus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out in Jeruſalem, and acting confidently in the name of the Lord.

29 He ſpoke alſo to the Gentiles, and diſputed with the Grecians: but they ſought to kill him.

30 Which when the brethren had known, they brought him down to Ceſarea, and ſent him away to Tarſus.

31 The church indeed had peace throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and was increaſed, walking in the fear of the Lord, and was filled with the conſolation of the Holy Ghoſt.

32 And it came to paſs, that Peter, as he paſſed through viſiting all, came to the ſaints who dwelt at Lydda.

33 And he found there a certain man named Eneas, lying on his bed for eight years, who was ill of the palſy.

34 And Peter ſaid to him: Eneas, the Lord Jeſus Chriſt healeth thee: ariſe, and make thy bed. And immediately he aroſe.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron ſaw him: and they were converted to the Lord.

36 And in Joppe there was a certain diſciple named Tabitha, which being interpreted is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and alms-deeds, which ſhe performed.

37 And it came to paſs in thoſe days, that ſhe was ſick and died. Whom when they had waſhed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And Lydda being near to Joppe, the diſciples hearing that Peter was there, ſent two men to him with this requeſt: Delay not to come even to us.

39 And Peter riſing up came with them. And when he was arrived, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows ſtood round about him weeping, and ſhewing him the coats and garments, which Dorcas had made them.

40 And having put them all out: Peter kneeling down prayed, and turning to the body he ſaid: Tabitha, ariſe: And ſhe opened her eyes: and having ſeen Peter, ſat up.

41 And giving her his hand, he raiſed her up. And when he had called the ſaints and the widows, he preſented her alive.

42 And it was made known throughout all Joppe; and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to paſs that he ſtayed many days in Joppe, with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

Cornelius is received into the Church. Peter's viſion.

A. D. 39. NOW there was a certain man in Ceſarea, named Cornelius, a centurion of the band, which is called the Italian,

2 A religious man, and one that feared God with all his houſe, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always:

3 He ſaw in a viſion manifeſtly, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and ſaying to him: Cornelius.

4 And he beholding him, being ſeized with fear, ſaid: What is it Lord? And he ſaid to him: Thy prayers and thy alms have aſcended for a memorial in the ſight of God.

5 And now ſend men to Joppe, and call hither one Simon, who is ſurnamed Peter:

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whoſe houſe is by the ſea ſide: he ſhall tell thee what thou muſt do.

7 And when the Angel who ſpoke to him was departed, he called two of his houſhold ſervants, and a ſoldier that feared the Lord, of thoſe who were under him:

8 To whom when he had related all, he ſent them to Joppe,

9 And on the next day whilſt they were going on their journey, and drawing near to the city, Peter went up to the higher parts of the houſe to pray about the ſixth hour.

10 And being hungry, he was deſirous to taſte ſomewhat. And as they were preparing, there came upon him an ecſtaſy of mind:

11 And he ſaw heaven opened, and a certain veſſel deſcending, as it were a great ſheet, let down by the four corners from heaven to the earth,

12 In which were all manner of four-footed beaſts, and creeping things of the earth, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him: Ariſe, Peter, kill, and eat.

14 But Peter ſaid: Far be it from me, Lord: for I have never eaten any common and unclean thing.

15 And the voice ſpoke to him again the ſecond time: That which God hath purified, do not thou call common.

16 And this was done thrice: and preſently the veſſel was taken up again into heaven.

17 Now whilſt Peter was doubting within himſelf, what the viſion which he had ſeen ſhould mean: behold the men who were ſent by Cornelius, inquiring for Simon's houſe, ſtood at the gate.

18 And when they had called, they aſked, if Simon, who is ſurnamed Peter, lodged there?

19 And as Peter was thinking on the viſion, the Spirit ſaid to him: Behold three men ſeek thee.

20 Ariſe therefore, go down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have ſent them.

21 Then Peter going down to the men, ſaid: Behold I am he whom you ſeek: what is the cauſe, for which you are come?

22 And they ſaid, Cornelius, a centurion, a juſt man and one that feareth God, and that hath good teſtimony from all the nation of the Jews, received an anſwer of a holy Angel, to ſend for thee into his houſe, and to hear words from thee.

23 Then bringing them in, he lodged them. And the day following he aroſe and went with them: and ſome of the brethren from Joppe accompanied him.

24 And the day after he entered into Ceſarea. Now Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinſmen, and ſpecial friends.

25 And it came to paſs, when Peter was come in, Cornelius met him, and falling down at his feet worſhipped.

26 But Peter raiſed him up, ſaying: Riſe, I myſelf alſo am a man.

27 And talking with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he ſaid to them: You know how abominable a thing it is for a man that is a Jew, to keep company or to come to one of another nation: but God hath ſhewed to me, not to call any man common or unclean.

29 Wherefore making no doubt, I came when I was ſent for. I aſk therefore, for what cauſe you have ſent for me?

30 And Cornelius ſaid: Four days ago, until this hour, I was praying in my houſe at the ninth hour, and behold a man ſtood before me in white apparel, and ſaid:

31 Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thy alms are remembered in the ſight of God.

32 Send therefore to Joppe, and call hither Simon, who is ſurnamed Peter: he lodgeth in the houſe of Simon a tanner by the ſea ſide.

33 Immediately therefore I ſent to thee: and thou haſt done well in coming. Now therefore all we are preſent in thy ſight, to hear all things whatſoever are commanded thee by the Lord.

34 Then Peter opening his mouth, ſaid: In truth I perceive ‖ that God is no reſpecter of perſons.

‖ Deut. 10. 11. 2. Par. 19. 7. Job. 34. 9. Wiſd. 6. 8. Eccli. 35. 15. Rom. 2. 11. Gal. 2. 6. Epheſ. 6. 9. Col. 3. 25. 1. Pet. 1. 17.

35 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh juſtice, is acceptable to him.

36 God ſent the word to the children of Iſrael, preaching peace through Jeſus Chriſt: (he is Lord of all).

37 You know the word which hath been publiſhed through all Judea: ‡ for it began from Galilee, after the baptiſm which John preached,

‡ Luke 4. 14.

38 Jeſus of Nazareth: how God anointed him with the Holy Ghoſt, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppreſſed by the devil, for God was with him.

39 And we are witneſſes of all things which he did in the land of the Jews and in Jeruſalem, whom they killed, hanging him upon a tree.

40 Him God raiſed up the third day, and gave him to be made manifeſt,

41 Not to all the people, but to witneſſes pre-ordained of God, even to us, who eat and drank with him after he roſe again from the dead.

42 And he commanded us to preach to the people, and to teſtify that it is he who hath been appointed by God to be the judge of the living and of the dead.

‖ Jer. 31. 34. Mich. 7. 18.

43 ‖ To him all the prophets give teſtimony, that through his name all receive remiſſion of ſins, who believe in him.

44 While Peter was yet ſpeaking theſe words, the Holy Ghoſt fell upon all them that were hearing the word.

45 And the faithful of the circumciſion, who had come with Peter, were aſtoniſhed becauſe the grace of the Holy Ghoſt was alſo poured out upon the Gentiles.

46 For they heard them ſpeaking with tongues, and magnifying God.

47 Then Peter anſwered: Can any man forbid water, that theſe ſhould not be baptized, who have received the Holy Ghoſt as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Then they entreated him to ſtay with them ſome days.

CHAP. XI.

Peter defends his having received the Gentiles into the church. Many are converted at Antioch.

AND the apoſtles and brethren who were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles alſo had received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jeruſalem, they who were of the circumciſion diſputed againſt him,

3 Saying: Why didſt thou go into men uncircumciſed, and didſt eat with them?

4 But Peter began and declared to them the matter in order, ſaying:

5 I was in the city of Joppe praying, and I ſaw in an ecſtaſy of mind a viſion, a certain veſſel deſcending, as it were a great ſheet let down from heaven by four corners, and it came even to me.

6 Into which looking I conſidered, and ſaw four-footed creatures of the earth, and beaſts and creeping things, and fowls of the air:

7 And I heard alſo a voice ſaying to me: Ariſe, Peter, kill, and eat.

8 And I ſaid: By no means, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth.

9 And the voice anſwered the ſecond time from heaven: What God hath made clean call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were taken up again into heaven.

11 And behold, immediately there were three men come to the houſe wherein I was, ſent to me from Ceſarea.

12 And the Spirit ſaid to me, that I ſhould go with them, nothing doubting. And theſe ſix brethren went with me alſo, and we entered into the man's houſe.

CHAP. X. VER. 35. In every nation, &c. That is to ſay, not only Jews, but Gentiles alſo, of what nation ſoever, are acceptable to God, if they fear him and work juſtice. But then true faith is always to be preſuppoſed, without which (ſaith St. Paul, Heb. xi. 6.) it is impoſſible to pleaſe God. Beware then of the error of thoſe, who would infer from this paſſage, that men of all religions may be pleaſing to God. For ſince none but the true religion can be from God; all other religions muſt be from the father of lies; and therefore highly diſpleaſing to the God of truth.

13 And he told us, how he had ſeen an angel in his houſe, ſtanding and ſaying to him: Send to Joppe, and call hither Simon, who is ſurnamed Peter,

14 Who ſhall ſpeak to thee words, whereby thou and all thy houſe ſhall be ſaved.

15 And when I had begun to ſpeak, the Holy Ghoſt fell upon them, as upon us alſo in the beginning.

16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, as he ſaid: ‖ John indeed baptized with water, but you ſhall be baptized with the Holy Ghoſt.

‖ Matt. 3. 11. Mark. 1 8. Luke 3. 16. John 1. 26. Supra 1. 5. Infra 19. 4.

17 If then God gave to them the ſame grace, as to us alſo who have believed in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt: who was I, that I could oppoſe God?

18 When they had heard theſe things, they held their peace: and glorified God ſaying: God then hath alſo to the Gentiles given repentance unto life.

19 And they indeed who hath been diſperſed, by the perſecution that aroſe on occaſion of Stephen, went about as far as Phenice and Cyprus and Antioch, ſpeaking the word to none, but to the Jews only.

20 But ſome of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who when they had entered into Antioch ſpoke alſo to the Greeks, preaching the Lord Jeſus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believing was converted to the Lord.

22 And the report of theſe things came to the ears of the church that was at Jeruſalem, and they ſent Barnabas as far as Antioch.

23 Who when he was come, and had ſeen the grace of God, rejoiced: and exhorted them all with purpoſe of heart to continue in the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghoſt, and of faith. And a great multitude was added to the Lord.

25 And Barnabas went to Tarſus to ſeek Saul: whom when he had found he brought to Antioch. *

A. D. 41.

26 And they converſed there in the church a whole year: and they taught a great multitude, ſo that at Antioch the diſciples were firſt named Chriſtians.

27 And in theſe days there came prophets from Jeruſalem to Antioch.

28 And one of them named Agabus, riſing up ſignified by the ſpirit that there ſhould be a great famine over the whole world, which came to paſs under Claudius.

29 And the diſciples every man according to his ability, reſolved to ſend relief to the brethren who dwelt in Judea:

30 Which alſo they did, ſending it to the ancients by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.*

CHAP. XII.

Herod's perſecution. Peter's deliverance by an Angel. Herod's puniſhment.

AND at the ſame time Herod the king ſtretched forth his hands, to afflict ſome of the church. A. D. 42.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the ſword.

3 And ſeeing that it pleaſed the Jews, he proceeded farther to take Peter alſo. Now it was in the days of the azymes.

4 Whom as ſoon as he had apprehended, he caſt into priſon, delivering him to four quaternions of ſoldiers to be kept, intending after the paſch to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in priſon. But prayer was made without ceaſing by the church to God for him,

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, that very night Peter was ſleeping between two ſoldiers, bound with two chains: and the guards before the door kept the priſon.

7 And behold an angel of the Lord ſtood by him: and a light ſhined in the room: and he ſtriking Peter on the ſide raiſed him up, ſaying: Ariſe quickly. And the chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel ſaid to him: Gird thyſelf, and put on thy ſandals. And he did ſo. And he ſaid to him: Caſt thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And going out he followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the angel: but thought he ſaw a viſion.

10 And having paſſed through the firſt and the ſecond ward, they came to the iron gate that leadeth to the city, which of itſelf opened to them. And going out, they paſſed on through one ſtreet: and immediately the angel departed from him.

11 And Peter coming to himſelf, ſaid: Now I know indeed, that the Lord hath ſent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And conſidering he came to the houſe of Mary the mother of John, who was ſurnamed Mark, where many were aſſembled, and praying.

CHAP. XII. VER. 3. Azymes. The feſtival of the unleavened bread, or the paſch, which anſwers to our Eaſter.

13 And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhode.

14 And as soon as she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but running in, she told that Peter stood before the gate.

15 But they said to her: Thou art mad. But she affirmed that it was so. Then said they: It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened, they saw him, and were astonished.

17 But he beckoning to them with his hand to hold their peace, told how the Lord had brought him out of prison, and he said: Tell these things to James and to the brethren. And being gone out he went into another place.

18 As soon as it was day, there was no small confusion among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, having examined the keepers, he commanded they should be led away: and going down from Judea to Cesarea, he stayed there.

20 And he was angry with the Tyrians and the Sidonians. But they with one accord came to him, and having gained Blastus who was the king's chamberlain, they desired peace, because their countries were nourished by him.

21 And upon a day appointed, Herod arrayed in royal apparel, sat on the judgment-seat, and made an oration to them.

22 And the people with acclamations cried out: It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And forthwith an angel of the Lord struck him, because he had not given the honour to God: and eaten up by worms, he
* A. D. 42. expired *.

24 But the word of the Lord increased and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from ‖ Supra 11. 30. Jerusalem, ‖ having fulfilled their ministry, taking with them John, who was surnamed Mark.

CHAP. XIII.

Saul and Barnabas are sent forth by the Holy Ghost. They preach in Cyprus and in Antioch of Pisidia.

A. D. 42. NOW there were in the church, which was at Antioch, prophets and teachers, among whom was Barnabas, and Simon who was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen who was the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2 And as they were ministering to the Lord, and fasting, the Holy Ghost said to them: Separate me Saul and Barnabas, for the work to which I have taken them.

3 Then they fasting and praying, and imposing their hands upon them, sent them away.

4 So they being sent by the Holy Ghost, went to Seleucia: and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were come to Salamina, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had also John in their ministry.

6 And when they had gone through the whole Island as far as Paphos, they found a certain man a magician, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesu,

7 Who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus a prudent man. This man sending for Barnabas and Saul, desired to hear the word of God.

8 But Elymas the magician (for so his name is interpreted) withstood them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith.

9 Then Saul, who also is Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, looking upon him,

10 Said: O thou full of all guile, and of all deceit, son of the devil, enemy of all justice, thou dost not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord.

11 And now behold the hand of the Lord upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a time. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness, and going about, he sought some one to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the proconsul, when he had seen what was done, believed, admiring at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 And when Paul and they who were with him had sailed from Paphos, they came to Perge in Pamphylia. But John departing * A. D. 42. from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 But they passing through Perge, came to Antioch in Pisidia: and entering into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, they sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying: Ye men brethren, if you have any word of exhortation to make to the people, speak.

16 Then Paul rising up, and with his hand bespeaking silence, said: Ye men of Israel, and you that fear God, give ear:

37 But he whom God hath raiſed from the dead, ſaw no corruption.

38 Be it known therefore to you, men brethren, that through him forgiveneſs of ſins is preached to you: and from all the things, from which you could not be juſtified by the law of Moſes,

39 In him every one, who believeth, is juſtified.

40 Beware therefore leſt that come upon you which is ſpoken by the prophets:

41 || Behold ye deſpiſers, and wonder, and periſh: for I work a work in your days, a work which you will not believe, if any man ſhall tell it you. || Habac. 1. 5.

42 And as they went out, they deſired them that on the next ſabbath they would ſpeak theſe words to them.

43 And when the ſynagogue was broken up, many of the Jews, and of the ſtrangers who ſerved God, followed Paul and Barnabas: who ſpeaking to them, perſuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 But the next ſabbath-day the whole city almoſt came together to hear the word of God.

45 And when the Jews ſaw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and contradicted thoſe things which were ſaid by Paul, blaſpheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas ſaid boldly: To you it behoved us to ſpeak firſt the word of God: but ſeeing you reject it, and judge yourſelves unworthy of eternal life: behold we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For ſo the Lord hath commanded us: || I have ſet thee to be the light of the Gentiles: that thou mayſt be for ſalvation unto the utmoſt part of the earth. || Iſai. 49. 6.

48 And the Gentiles hearing this, were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were pre-ordained to eternal life, believed.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 34. I will give you the holy, &c. Theſe are the words of the prophet Iſaias, c. 55. v. 3. according to the Septuagint, the ſenſe is: I will faithfully fulfil the promiſes I made to David.

49 And the word of the Lord was publiſhed throughout the whole country.

50 But the Jews ſtirred up religious and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raiſed a perſecution againſt Paul and Barnabas: and caſt them out of their territories.

52 And the diſciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghoſt.

CHAP. XIV.

Paul and Barnabas preach in Iconium and Lyſtra: Paul heals a cripple: they are taken for gods. Paul is ſtoned. They preach in Derbe and Perge.

AND it came to paſs in Iconium, that they entered together into the ſynagogue of the Jews, and ſpoke ſo that a great multitude both of the Jews and of the Greeks did believe.

2 But the unbelieving Jews, ſtirred up, and incenſed the minds of the Gentiles againſt the brethren.

3 A long time therefore they ſtayed there, acting confidently in the Lord, who gave teſtimony to the word of his grace, granting ſigns and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 And the multitude of the city was divided: and ſome indeed held with the Jews, and ſome with the apoſtles.

5 And when there was an aſſault made by the Gentiles and the Jews with their rulers, to treat them contumeliouſly, and to ſtone them:

6 * They uderſtanding this, fled to Lyſtra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the whole country round about, and were there preaching the goſpel.

* A. D. 43.

7 Now there ſat a certain man at Lyſtra diſabled in his feet, lame from his mother's womb, who never had walked.

8 This man heard Paul ſpeaking: who looking upon him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

9 Said with a loud voice: Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked.

10 And when the multitudes had ſeen what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice in the Lycaonian tongue, ſaying: The gods, in the likeneſs of men, are come down to us.

11 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter: but Paul, Mercury; becauſe he was the chief ſpeaker.

12 The prieſt alſo of Jupiter, that was before the city, bringing oxen and garlands before the gate, would have offered ſacrifice with the people.

13 Which when the apoſtles Barnabas and Paul had heard, rending their clothes, they ran among the people, crying out,

14 And ſaying: O men, why do ye theſe things? We alſo are mortals, men like unto you, preaching to you to be converted from theſe vain things to the living God, ‖ who made heaven, and earth, and the ſea, and all things that are in them:

‖ Gen. 1. 1. Pſal. 145. 6. Apoc. 14. 7.

15 Who in paſt generations ſuffered all nations to walk in their own way.

16 Nevertheleſs he left not himſelf without teſtimony, doing good from heaven, giving rains, and fruitful ſeaſons, filling our hearts with food and gladneſs.

17 And ſpeaking theſe things, they ſcarce reſtrained the people from ſacrificing to them.

18 Now there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium: and having perſuaded the multitude, and having ſtoned Paul, they dragged him out of the city, thinking him to be dead.

19 But as the diſciples ſtood round about him, he roſe up and entered into the city, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

20 And when they had preached the goſpel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lyſtra and to Iconium, and to Antioch:

21 Confirming the ſouls of the diſciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith: for that through many tribulations we muſt enter into the kingdom of God.

22 And when they had ordained for them prieſts in every church, and had prayed with faſting, they commended them to the Lord, in whom they believed.

23 And paſſing through Piſidia, they came into Pamphylia.

24 And having ſpoken the word of the Lord in Perge, they went down to Attalia:

25 ‖ And thence they ſailed to Antioch, from whence they had been delivered to the grace of God, unto the work which they accompliſhed.

‖ Supra 13. 1.

26 And when they were arrived, and had aſſembled the church, they related what great things God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.

27 And they ſtayed no little time with the diſciples.

CHAP. XV.

A diſſenſion about circumciſion. The deciſion and letter of the council of Jeruſalem.

A. D. 49 Gal. 5. 2

AND ſome coming down from Judea, taught the brethren: That unleſs you be circumciſed after the manner of Moſes, you cannot be ſaved.

2 And when Paul and Barnabas had no ſmall conteſt with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of the other ſide, ſhould go up to the apoſtles and prieſts to Jeruſalem, about this queſtion.

3 They therefore being brought on their way by the church, paſſed through Phenice and Samaria, relating the converſion of the Gentiles: and they cauſed great joy to all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jeruſalem, they were received by the church, and by the apoſtles and ancients, declaring how great things God had done with them.

5 But there roſe up ſome of the ſect of the Phariſees that believed, ſaying: They muſt be circumciſed, and be commanded to obſerve the law of Moſes.

6 And the apoſtles and ancients came together to conſider of this matter.

7 And when there was much diſputing, Peter riſing up ſaid to them: || Men brethren, you know that in former days God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth ſhould hear the word of the goſpel, and believe.

|| Supra 10. 20.

8 And God who knoweth the hearts, gave them teſtimony, || giving to them the Holy Ghoſt as well as to us.

|| Supra 10. 45.

9 And made no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt you God, to put a yoke upon the necks of the diſciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But by the grace of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt we believe to be ſaved, even as they.

12 And all the multitude held their peace: and gave ear to Barnabas and Paul relating what great ſigns and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 And after they had held their peace, James anſwered ſaying: Men brethren, hear me.

14 Simon hath told in what manner God firſt viſited the Gentiles to take out of them a people to his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written:

16 || After theſe things I will return, and will rebuild the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down, and I will rebuild the ruins thereof, and I will ſet it up: || Amos 9. 11.

17 That the reſt of men may ſeek after the Lord, and all nations upon whom my name is invoked, ſaith the Lord who doth theſe things.

18 To the Lord is known his own work from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore I judge that they, who from among the Gentiles are converted to God, are not to be diſquieted.

20 But that we write to them, that they refrain themſelves from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things ſtrangled, and from blood.

21 For Moſes from ancient times hath in every city them that preach him in the ſynagogues, || where he is read every ſabbath. || Supra 13. 27.

22 Then it pleaſed the apoſtles and ancients with the whole church, to chuſe men of their own company, and to ſend them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: Judas who was ſurnamed Barſabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren,

23 Writing by their hands. The apoſtles and ancients brethren to the brethren of the Gentiles that are at Antioch and in Syria and Cilicia, greeting,

24 Foraſmuch as we have heard that ſome, who went out from us have troubled you with words, ſubverting your ſouls, to whom we gave no commands:

25 It hath ſeemed good to us aſſembled together, to chuſe out men, and ſend them to you with our dearly beloved Barnabas and Paul.

26 Men who have given their lives for the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

27 We have ſent therefore Judas and Silas, who themſelves alſo will by word of mouth tell you the ſame things.

28 For it hath ſeemed good to the Holy Ghoſt and to us, to lay no further burthen upon you than theſe neceſſary things:

29 That you abſtain from things ſacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things ſtrangled, and from fornication: from which things keeping yourſelves, you ſhall do well. Fare ye well.

30 They therefore being diſmiſſed went down to Antioch: and when they had gathered together the multitude, they delivered the epiſtle.

CHAP. XV. VER. 29. From blood, and from things ſtrangled. The uſe of theſe things, though of their own nature indifferent, was here prohibited, to bring the Jews more eaſily to admit of the ſociety of the Gentiles; and to exerciſe the latter in obedience. But this prohibition was but temporary, and has long ſince ceaſed to oblige; more eſpecially in the weſtern churches.

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the conſolation.

32 But Judas and Silas, being prophets alſo themſelves, comforted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And having ſtayed there ſome time, they were diſmiſſed with peace by the brethren to thoſe who had ſent them.

34 But it ſeemed good to Silas to remain there: and Judas alone went back to Jeruſalem.

35 But Paul and Barnabas continued at Antioch, teaching and preaching with many others the word of the Lord.

A. D. 36 And after ſome days, Paul ſaid to 1. Barnabas: Let us return and viſit the brethren in all the cities, wherein we have preached the word of the Lord, to ſee how they do.

37 And Barnabas had a mind to take along with him John alſo, who was ſurnamed Mark.

38 But Paul deſired that he (as having ‖ Supra 13. departed from them out of Pamphylia, ‖ and not gone with them to the work) might not be received.

39 And there was a diſſenſion, ſo that they departed one from another, and Barnabas indeed having taken with him Mark, ſailed to Cyprus.

40 But Paul chuſing Silas departed, being delivered by the brethren to the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches: commanding them to keep the precepts of the apoſtles and the ancients.

CHAP. XVI.

Paul viſits the churches. He is called to preach in Macedonia. He is ſcourged at Philippi.

A. D. 51. AND he came to Derbe and Lyſtra. And behold there was a certain diſciple there named Timothy, the ſon of a Jewiſh woman who believed, his father being a Gentile.

2 To this man the brethren who were in Lyſtra and Iconium, gave a good teſtimony.

3 Him Paul would have to go along with him: and taking him, he circumciſed him, becauſe of the Jews who were in thoſe places. For they all knew that his father was a Gentile.

4 And as they paſſed through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees for to keep, that were decreed by the apoſtles and ancients who were at Jeruſalem.

5 The churches indeed were confirmed in faith, and increaſed in number daily.

6 Now having paſſed through Phrygia, and the country of Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Ghoſt to preach the word of God in Aſia.

7 And when they were come into Myſia, they attempted to go into Bithynia, and the Spirit of Jeſus permitted them not.

8 And when they had paſſed through Myſia, they went down to Troas:

9 And a viſion was ſhewn to Paul in the night: A man of Macedonia ſtanding, and beſeeching him, and ſaying: Paſs over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And as ſoon as he had ſeen the viſion, immediately we ſought to go into Macedonia, being aſſured that God had called us to preach the goſpel to them.

11 So ſailing from Troas we came with a direct courſe to Samothracia, and the day following to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were in this city ſome days conferring together.

13 And upon the ſabbath-day, we went forth without the gate by a river ſide, where it ſeemed that there was prayer: and ſitting down we ſpoke to the women that were aſſembled.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a ſeller of purple of the city of Thyatira, one that worſhipped God, heard us, whoſe heart the Lord opened to attend to the things which were ſpoken by Paul.

15 And when ſhe was baptized, and her houſhold, ſhe beſought us ſaying: If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my houſe and there remain. And ſhe conſtrained us.

16 And it came to paſs as we went to prayer, a certain girl, poſſeſſed with a pythonical ſpirit, met us, who brought her maſters much gain by divining.

17 This ſame following Paul and us, cried out, ſaying: Theſe men are the ſervants of the moſt high God, who ſhew you the way to ſalvation.

18 And this ſhe did many days. But Paul being grieved, turned and ſaid to the ſpirit: I command thee, in the name of Jeſus Chriſt, to go out of her. And he went out the ſame hour.

19 But her maſters ſeeing that the hope of their gain was gone, having apprehended Paul and Silas, they brought them into the market-place to the rulers.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 16. A pythonical ſpirit. That is, a ſpirit pretending to divine, and tell fortunes.

20 And presenting them to the magistrates, said: These men disturb our city, being Jews:

21 And preach a fashion which it is not lawful for us to receive, nor observe, being Romans.

22 And the people ran together against them: and their garments being torn off, || the magistrates commanded them to be beaten with rods.

|| 2. Cor. 11. 25. Philip. 1. 13. 1. Thess. 2. 2.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them securely.

24 Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 And at mid-night Paul and Silas praying, praised God: and they who were in prison heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened: and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison being awakened, and seeing the doors of the prison open, having drawn his sword, would have killed himself, imagining that the prisoners had fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying: Do thyself no harm, for we are all here.

29 Then calling for a light, he went in, and trembling fell down at the feet of Paul and Silas:

30 And bringing them out, he said: Masters, what must I do, that I may be saved?

31 And they said: Believe in the Lord Jesus: and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all that were in his house.

33 And he taking them the same hour of the night, washed their wounds: and he was baptized, and presently all his family.

34 And when he had brought them into his own house, he laid the table for them, and rejoiced with all his family believing God.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying: Dismiss those men.

36 And the keeper of the prison told these words to Paul: The magistrates have sent that you should be dismissed: now therefore depart, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said to them: After having whipped us publickly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, they sent us to prison: and now do they thrust us out privately? Not so: but let them come:

38 And they themselves send us out. And the serjeants told these words to the magistrates. And they were afraid, having heard they were Romans:

39 And coming, they intreated them: and leading them out they desired them to depart out of the city.

40 And coming out of the prison, they entered into the house of Lydia: and having seen the brethren, they comforted them and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

Paul preaches to the Thessalonians and Bereans. His discourse to the Athenians.

AND when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews. A. D. 58.

2 And Paul according to his custom went in to them: and for three sabbath-days he reasoned with them out of the Scriptures,

3 Opening and insinuating that the Christ was to suffer, and to rise again from the dead: and that this is Jesus the Christ, whom I declare to you.

4 And some of them believed, and were associated to Paul and Silas, and of those who served God, and of the Gentiles a great multitude, and noble women not a few.

5 But the Jews moved with envy, taking with them some wicked men of the vulgar sort, and making a tumult, set the city in an uproar: and besetting Jason's house, sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they had not found them, they haled Jason and certain brethren to the rulers of the city, crying out: That these who disturb the city are come hither also,

7 Whom Jason hath received, and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying, that there is another king, Jesus.

8 And they stirred up the people, and the rulers of the city hearing these things.

9 And having received satisfaction from Jason, and the rest, they let them go.

10 But the brethren immediately sent

CHAP. XVII. VER. 6. City. Urbem. In the Greek οἰκουμένην, the world.

VER. 11. More noble. The Jews of Berea are justly commended, for their eagerly embracing the truth, and searching the Scriptures, to find out the texts alledged by the apostle: which was a far more generous proceeding than that of their countrymen at Thessalonica, who persecuted the preachers of the gospel, without examining the grounds they alledged for what they taught.

away Paul and Silas by night to Berea. Who when they were come thither entered into the ſynagogue of the Jews.

11 Now theſe were more noble than thoſe of Theſſalonica, who received the word with all eagerneſs, daily ſearching the Scriptures, whether theſe things were ſo.

12 And many indeed of them believed, and of honourable women that were Gentiles, and men not a few.

13 But when the Jews in Theſſalonica had knowledge that the word of God was alſo preached by Paul at Berea, they came thither alſo, ſtirring up, and diſturbing the multitude.

14 And then the brethren immediately ſent away Paul, to go to the ſea-ſide: but Silas and Timothy remained there.

15 And they that conducted Paul, brought him as far as Athens, and receiving a commandment from him to Silas and Timothy, that they ſhould come to him with all ſpeed, they departed.

A. D. 52. 16 Now whilſt Paul waited for them at Athens, his ſpirit was excited within him, ſeeing the city given up to idolatry.

17 He diſputed therefore in the ſynagogue with the Jews, and with them that ſerved God, and in the market-place, every day with thoſe that were preſent.

18 And ſome Epicurean, and Stoic philoſophers diſputed with him, and ſome ſaid: What is it that this babbler would ſay? But others: He ſeemeth to be a publiſher of new gods: becauſe he preached to them Jeſus, and the reſurrection.

19 And taking him, they brought him to the Areopagus, ſaying: May we know what this new doctrine is, which thou ſpeakeſt of?

20 For thou bringeſt certain new things to our ears: We would know therefore what theſe things mean.

21 (Now all the Athenians, and ſtrangers that were there, employed themſelves in nothing elſe but either in telling or in hearing ſomething new).

22 But Paul ſtanding in the midſt of the Areopagus, ſaid: Ye men of Athens, I perceive that you are in all things as it were too ſuperſtitious.

23 For paſſing by and ſeeing your idols, I found an altar alſo on which was written: TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore you worſhip without knowing it, this I preach to you.

‖ Gen. 1. 24 ‖ God who made the world and all things that are in it, he being the Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth ‖ not in temples made with hands, ‖ Supra. 7. 48.

25 Nor is he ſerved by the hands of men as though he needed any thing, ſeeing it is he who giveth to all life, and breath, and all things.

26 And hath made of one, all mankind, to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, determining appointed times, and the limits of their habitation,

27 That they ſhould ſeek God, if haply they may feel after him or find him: although he be not far from every one of us.

28 For in him we live, and we move, and we are: as ſome alſo of your own poets ſaid: For we are alſo his offspring.

29 Being therefore the offspring of God, we muſt not ſuppoſe the Divinity to be like unto gold or ſilver, or ſtone, the graving of art and device of man.

30 And God indeed having overlooked the times of this ignorance, now declareth to men, that all ſhould every where do penance,

31 Becauſe he hath appointed a day wherein he will judge the world in equity, by the man, whom he hath appointed, giving faith to all, by raiſing him up from the dead.

32 And when they had heard of the reſurrection of the dead, ſome indeed mocked: but others ſaid: We will hear thee again concerning this matter.

33 So Paul went out from among them.

34 But certain men adhered to him, and believed: among whom was alſo Dionyſius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

Paul founds the church of Corinth: and preaches at Epheſus, &c. Apollo goes to Corinth.

A. D. 52. AFTER theſe things, departing from Athens, he came to Corinth.

2 And finding a certain Jew, named Aquila, a native of Pontus, who had lately come from Italy, with Priſcilla his wife (becauſe Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome) he came to them.

3 And becauſe he was of the ſame trade, he remained with them, and wrought: (now they were tent-makers by trade).

4 And he diſputed in the ſynagogue every ſabbath, interpoſing the name of the Lord Jeſus, and he perſuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

VER. 24. Dwelleth not in temples. God is not contained in temples; ſo as to need them for his dwelling, or any other uſes, as the heathens imagined. Yet by his omnipreſence, he is both there and every where.

5 And when Silas and Timothy were come from Macedonia, Paul was earneſt in preaching, teſtifying to the Jews that Jeſus is the Chriſt.

6 But they contradicting and blaſpheming, ſhaking his garments, he ſaid to them: Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean: from henceforth I will go to the Gentiles.

7 And departing thence, he entered into the houſe of a certain man, named Titus Juſtus, one that worſhipped God, whoſe houſe joined to the ſynagogue.

8 And Criſpus the ruler of the ſynagogue believed in the Lord with all his houſe: and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 And the Lord ſaid to Paul in the night by a viſion: fear not, but ſpeak, and hold not thy peace.

10 Becauſe I am with thee: and no man ſhall ſet upon thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he ſtayed there a year and ſix months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 But when Gallio was proconſul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord roſe up againſt Paul, and brought him to the judgment-ſeat, 13 Saying: That this man perſuadeth men worſhip God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was beginning to open his mouth, Gallio ſaid to the Jews: If it were ſome matter of wrong, or a heinous deed, you men O Jews, it would be reaſonable I ſhould bear with you.

15 But if they be queſtions of a word and of names, and of your law, look you to it: I will not be judge of ſuch matters.

16 And he drove them from the judgment-ſeat.

17 And all laying hold on Soſthenes the ruler of the ſynagogue, ſtruck him before the judgment-ſeat: and Gallio cared for none of thoſe things.

18 But Paul when he had ſtayed yet many days, taking leave of the brethren, he ſailed from thence into * Syria, (and with him Priſcilla and Aquila,) ‖ having ſhorn his head in Cenchra: for he had a vow.

‖ Num. 6. 18.
Infra 21. 24.

19 And he came to Epheſus, and left them there. But he himſelf entering into the ſynagogue diſputed with the Jews.

20 And when they intreated him, to make a longer ſtay, he conſented not,

21 But taking his leave, and ſaying: I will return to you again, God willing, he departed from Epheſus.

22 And going down to Ceſarea, he went up, and ſaluted the church, and ſo came down to Antioch.

23 And after he had ſpent ſome time there, he departed, paſſing in order through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, ſtrengthening all the diſciples.

24 Now a certain Jew, named Apollo, a native of Alexandria, an eloquent man, came to Epheſus, one mighty in the Scriptures.

25 This man was taught in the way of the Lord: and being fervent in ſpirit ſpoke, and taught diligently the things that are of Jeſus, knowing only the baptiſm of John.

26 This man therefore began to ſpeak boldly in the ſynagogue. Whom when Priſcilla and Aquila had heard, they took him to them, and expounded more exactly to him the way of the Lord.

27 And whereas he was deſirous to go to Achaia, the brethren exhorting, wrote to the diſciples to receive him. Who, when he was come, helped them much, who had believed.

28 For he vigorouſly convinced the Jews in publick, ſhewing by the Scriptures, Jeſus to be the Chriſt.

CHAP. XIX.

Paul eſtabliſhes the church at Epheſus. The tumult of the ſilverſmiths.

AND it came to paſs when Apollo was at Corinth, that Paul having paſſed through the upper parts, came to Epheſus, and found certain diſciples: A.D. 54

2 And he ſaid to them: Have you received the Holy Ghoſt ſince ye believed? But they ſaid to him: We have not ſo much as heard whether there be a Holy Ghoſt.

3 And he ſaid: In what then were you baptized? Who ſaid: In John's baptiſm.

4 Then Paul ſaid: ‖ John baptized the people with the baptiſm of penance, ſaying: That they ſhould believe in him who was to come after him, that is to ſay, in Jeſus.

‖ Matt. 3. 11. Mark 1. 8. Luke 3. 16. John 1. 26. Supra 1. 5 & 11. 16.

5 Having heard theſe things they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jeſus.

6 And when Paul had impoſed his hands on them, the Holy Ghoſt came upon them, and they ſpoke tongues and propheſied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 And entering into the ſynagogue, he ſpoke boldly for the ſpace of three months, diſputing and perſuading concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when ſome were hardened and believed not, but ſpoke ill of the way of the Lord before the multitude, departing from them, he ſeparated the diſciples, diſputing daily in the ſchool of one Tyrannus. * A. D. 55.

10 And this continued for two years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, Jews and Gentiles.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hand of Paul.

12 So that even there were brought from his body to the sick handkerchiefs and aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the wicked spirits went out of them.

A. D. 56. 13 Now some of the Jewish exorcists, who went about, attempted to invoke, over them that had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying: I conjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were certain men, seven sons of Sceva a Jew, a chief priest, who did this.

15 But an evil spirit answering, said to them: Jesus I know, and Paul I know: but who are you?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaping upon them, and mastering them both, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and the Gentiles who dwelt at Ephesus: and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many of those who believed, came confessing and declaring their deeds.

19 And many of those who had followed curious things, brought their books together and burnt them before all: and the price of them being computed, they found the money to be fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So mightily increased the word of God, and was confirmed.

21 Now these things being ended, Paul purposed in the spirit as soon as he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying: After I have been there I must also see Rome.

22 And sending into Macedonia two of those that ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself remained for a time in Asia.

A. D. 57. 23 Now at that time there arose no small disturbance about the way of the Lord. *

24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver temples for Diana, brought no small gain to the craftsmen:

25 Whom having called together, with workmen of like occupation, he said: You men, you know that our gain is by this trade:

26 Now you see, and hear, that this Paul by persuasion hath drawn away a great multitude not only at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, saying: That they are no gods which are made with hands.

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be vilified, but also the temple of great Diana shall be thought nothing of, yea and her majesty shall begin to be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 Having heard these things they were full of anger, and cried out, saying: Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having caught Gaius and Aristarchus men of Macedonia, companions of Paul.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And some also of the rulers of Asia, who were his friends, sent unto him, desiring that he would not venture himself into the theatre:

32 Now some cried out one thing, some another. For the assembly was confused, and the greater part knew not for what cause they were come together.

33 And they drew forth Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews thrusting him forward. And Alexander beckoning with his hand for silence would have given the people satisfaction.

34 But as soon as they perceived him to be a Jew, all with one voice, for the space of about two hours, cried out: Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the multitudes, he said: Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great Diana, and of Jupiter's offspring.

36 Seeing therefore these things cannot be contradicted, you ought to be quiet, and do nothing rashly.

37 For you have brought hither these men, neither guilty of sacrilege, nor of blasphemy against your goddess.

38 But if Demetrius and the craftsman who are with him, have a cause against any man, the courts of justice are open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another.

39 And if you enquire after any other matter, it may be decided in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger of being charged with this day's uproar: there being no man guilty (of whom we can give an account) of this concourse. And when he had said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAP. XX.

Paul passes through Macedonia and Greece: he raises a dead man to life at Troas. His discourse to the clergy of Ephesus.

AND after the tumult ceased, Paul calling to him the disciples, and exhorting them, took his leave and set forward to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Greece:

3 Where when he had spent three months, the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria: * so he took a resolution to return through Macedonia.

A. D. 58.

4 And there accompanied him Sopater the son of Pyrrhus, of Berea, and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy: and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 These having gone before, waited for us at Troas.

6 But we sailed from Philippi after the days of the azymes, and came to them to Troas in five days, where we stayed seven days.

7 And on the first day of the week, when we assembled to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, being to depart on the morrow, and he continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were a great number of lamps in the upper chamber, where we were assembled.

9 And a certain young man named Eutychius, sitting on the window, being oppressed with a heavy sleep, as Paul was long preaching, by occasion of his sleep fell from the third loft down, and was taken up dead.

10 To whom when Paul went down and laid himself upon him: and embracing him, said: Be not troubled for his soul is in him.

11 Then going up, and breaking bread and tasting: and having talked along while to them until day-light, so he departed.

12 And they brought the youth alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 But we going aboard the ship, sailed to Assos, from whence we were to take in Paul: for so he had appointed, himself purposing to travel by land.

14 And when he had met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And sailing from thence, next day we came over against Chius: and in another day we arrived at Samos: and the day following we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, lest he should be delayed any time in Asia. For he hastened on, if it were possible for him, to keep the day of pentecost at Jerusalem.

17 And sending from Miletus to Ephesus, he called the ancients of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, and were together he said to them: You know from the first day that I came into Asia, in what manner I have been with you all the time,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility, and with tears, and temptations which came upon me from the snares of the Jews:

20 How I have kept back nothing that was profitable to you, but have preached it to you, and taught you publickly, and from house to house,

21 Testifying both to Jews and Gentiles penance towards God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now behold bound in the spirit, I go to Jerusalem: not knowing the things that shall befal me there:

23 Only that the Holy Ghost in every city witnesseth to me, saying: that chains and afflictions wait for me at Jerusalem.

24 But I fear none of these things: neither do I count my life more precious than myself, so that I may consummate my course, and the ministry of the word which I have received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold I know that all you, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to witness this day, that I am clear from the blood of all.

27 For I have not been wanting to declare to you all the counsel of God.

28 Take heed to yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath placed you bishops, to rule the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29 I know that after my departure ravenous wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 And of your own selves will rise up men

CHAP. XX. VER. 7. And on the first day of the week. Here St. Chrysostom, with many other interpreters of the Scripture explain, that the Christians, even at this time, must have changed the Sabbath into the first day of the week, (the Lord's day) as all christians now keep it: This change was undoubtly made by the authority of the church: Hence the exercise of the power, which Christ had had given to her: For he is Lord of the sabbath.

speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, keeping in memory, that for three years I ceased not night and day, with tears admonishing every one of you.

32 And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, who is able to build up, and to give an inheritance among all the sanctified.

33 I have not coveted any man's silver, gold or apparel, as

‖ 1 Cor. 4. 12. 2 Thess. 3. 8.

34 You yourselves know: ‖ that as for such things as were needful for me, and for them that are with me, these hands have furnished.

35 I have shewed you all things, that labouring in this manner, we must receive the weak, and remember the word of the Lord Jesus, how he said: It is more blessed to give, than to receive.

36 And when he had said these things, kneeling down he prayed with them all.

37 And there was much weeping among them all: and falling on Paul's neck they kissed him,

38 Being very much grieved for the word which he had said, that they should see his face no more. And they conducted him to the ship.

CHAP. XXI.

Paul goes up to Jerusalem. He is apprehended by the Jews in the temple.

A. D. 58.

AND when it came to pass that being parted from them, we set sail, we came with a direct course to Coos, and the day following to Rhodes, and from thence Patara.

2 And having found a ship bound for Phenice, we went aboard and set to sail.

3 And when we had discovered Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed into Syria, and came to Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And finding disciples, we stayed there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5 And the days being expired, departing we went forward, they all bringing us on our way, with their wives and children, till we were out of the city: and kneeling down on the shore, we prayed.

6 And when we had taken leave of one another we took ship: and they returned home.

7 But we having finished the voyage by sea, from Tyre came down to Ptolemais: and saluting the brethren, we stayed one day with them.

8 And the next day departing we came to Cesarea. And entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, ‖ who was one of the seven, we stayed with him.

‖ Supra 6. 5. & 8. 5.

9 And he had four daughters virgins, who did prophesy.

10 And as we stayed there for some days, there came from Judea a certain prophet named Agabus.

11 And when he was come to us, he took Paul's girdle: and binding his own feet and hands, he said: These things saith the Holy Ghost: The man whose girdle this is, thus shall the Jews bind in Jerusalem, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we had heard this, both we, and they who were of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said: What do you mean weeping and afflicting my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die in Jerusalem, for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when we could not persuade him, we ceased, saying: The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days, being prepared we went up to Jerusalem.

16 And there went also with us some of the disciples from Cesarea, bringing with them one Manason a Cyprian, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us to James, and all the ancients were assembled.

19 And when he had saluted them, he related particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 But they hearing it, glorified God, and said to him: Thou seest, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews who have believed: and they are all zealous for the law.

21 Now they have heard of thee that thou teachest those Jews, who are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses: saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, nor to walk according to the custom.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must indeed come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

CHAP. XXI. VER. 8. The evangelist. That is, the preacher of the gospel: the same that before converted the Samaritans, and baptized the eunuch, chap. viii. being one of the seven first deacons.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men, who have a vow upon them.

24 Having taken these with thee, purify thyself with them: and bestow on them, ‖ that they may shave their heads: and all will know that the things which they have heard of thee, are false: but that thou thyself also walkest keeping the law.

‖ Num. 6. 13. Supra 18. 18.

25 As for those of the Gentiles who have believed, ‖ we have written, decreeing that they should refrain themselves from that which has been offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

‖ Supra 15. 20. & 29.

26 Then Paul having taken to him the men, the next day being purified with them entered into the temple, giving notice of the accomplishment of the days of purification, until an oblation should be offered for every one of them.

27 But while the seven days were drawing to an end, those Jews who were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands upon him, crying out:

28 Men of Israel, help: This is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and moreover hath brought in Gentiles into the temple, and hath violated this holy place.

29 For they had seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

30 And the whole city was in an uproar: and there was a concourse of people. And having seized on Paul, they drew him out of the temple: and immediately the doors were shut.

31 And as they were seeking to kill him, it was told the tribune of the band: That all Jerusalem was in confusion.

32 Who forthwith taking with him soldiers and centurions, ran down to them. And when they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they left off beating Paul.

33 Then the tribune coming near took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains: and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried out one thing, some another among the multitude. And when he could not know the certainty because of the tumult, he commanded him to be brought into the castle.

35 And when he was come to the stairs, it happened that he was borne up by the soldiers, because of the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out: Away with him.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he said to the tribune: May I speak something to thee? Who said: Canst thou speak Greek?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian who before these days didst raise a tumult, and didst lead forth into the desert four thousand men that were murderers? * A.D. 55.

39 But Paul said to him: I am indeed a Jew, a man of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city. And I beseech thee, permit me to speak to the people.

40 And when he had given him leave, Paul standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. And a great silence being made, he spoke to them in the Hebrew tongue, saying:

CHAP. XXII.

Paul declares to the people the history of his conversion. He escapes scourging by claiming the privilege of a Roman.

MEN, brethren and fathers, hear ye the account which I now give you. A.D. 58.

2 And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew tongue, they kept the more silence.

3 And he saith: I am a man who am a Jew, born at Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, taught according to the truth of the law of the fathers, zealous for the law, as also all you are this day:

4 ‖ And I persecuted this way unto death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. ‖ Supra 8. 3.

5 As the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the ancients: ‖ from whom also taking letters, I went to the brethen at Damascus, to bring them bound from thence to Jerusalem, that they might be punished. ‖ Supra 9. 2.

6 And it came to pass, as I was going and drawing near to Damascus at mid-day, that suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me:

7 And falling on the ground, I heard a voice saying to me: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered: Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me: I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

VER. 24. Keeping the law. The law, though now no longer obligatory, was for a time observed by the Christian Jews: to bury, as it were, the synagogue with honour.

9 And they that were with me, ſaw indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of him that ſpoke with me.

10 And I ſaid: What ſhall I do, Lord? And the Lord ſaid to me: Ariſe, and go into Damaſcus: and there it ſhall be told thee of all things that thou muſt do.

11 And whereas I did not ſee for the brightneſs of that light, being led by the hand by my companions, I came to Damaſcus.

12 And one Ananias, a man according to the law, having a good character from all the Jews dwelling there,

13 Coming to me, and ſtanding by me, ſaid to me: Brother Saul, receive thy ſight. And I the ſame hour looked upon him.

14 And he ſaid: The God of our fathers hath pre-ordained thee that thou ſhouldſt know his will, and ſee the juſt One, and ſhouldſt hear the voice from his mouth.

15 For thou ſhalt be his witneſs to all men, of thoſe things which thou haſt ſeen and heard.

16 And now why delayeſt thou? Riſe up, and be baptized, and waſh away thy ſins, calling upon his name.

17 And it came to paſs when I was come
* A. D. 37. again to Jeruſalem, * and was praying in the temple, that I was in a trance,

18 And ſaw him ſaying unto me: Make haſte, and go quickly out of Jeruſalem: becauſe they will not receive thy teſtimony concerning me.

‖ Supra 8. 3. 19 And I ſaid: Lord, they know ‖ that I caſt into priſon, and beat in every ſynagogue, them that believed in thee.

‖ Supra 7. 57. 20 And when the blood of Stephen thy witneſs was ſhed, ‖ I ſtood by and conſented, and kept the garments of them who killed him.

21 And he ſaid to me: Go, for unto the nations afar off will I ſend thee.

22 And they heard him until this word, and then lifted up their voice, ſaying: Away with ſuch a one from the earth: for it is not fit that he ſhould live.

23 And as they cried out and threw off their garments, and caſt duſt into the air.

* i. e. Lyſias. 24 The tribune * commanded him to be brought into the caſtle, and to be ſcourged, and to be tortured: that he might know for what cauſe they cried out thus againſt him.

25 And when they had bound him with thongs, Paul ſaith to the centurion ſtanding by him: Is it lawful for you to ſcourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 Which having heard, the centurion went to the tribune, and told him, ſaying: What art thou about to do? For this man is a Roman citizen.

27 Then the tribune came, and ſaid to him: Tell me, if thou art a Roman? But he ſaid: Yes.

28 And the tribune anſwered: I obtained the being free of this city with a great ſum. And Paul ſaid: But I was born ſo.

29 Immediately therefore they that were about to torture him, departed from him. The tribune alſo was afraid after he underſtood that he was a Roman citizen, and becauſe he had bound him.

30 But on the next day, being deſirous to know more diligently, for what cauſe he was accuſed by the Jews, he looſed him, and commanded the prieſts to come together and all the council: and bringing forth Paul, he ſet him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

Paul ſtands before the council: the Jews conſpire his death. He is ſent away to Ceſarea.

AND Paul looking upon the council ſaid: Men brethren, I have converſed with an entire good conſcience before God until this preſent day. A. D. 58.

2 And the high prieſt Ananias commanded them who ſtood by him, to ſtrike him on the mouth.

3 Then Paul ſaid to him: God ſhall ſtrike thee, thou whited wall. For ſitteſt thou there to judge me according to the law, and contrary to the law commandeſt me to be ſtruck?

4 And they that ſtood by ſaid: Doſt thou revile the high-prieſt of God?

5 And Paul ſaid: I knew not, brethren: that he is the high prieſt. For it is written: ‖ Thou ſhalt not ſpeak evil of the prince of thy people. ‖ Exod. 22. 28.

6 And Paul knowing that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Phariſees, cried out in the council: Men brethren, ‖ I am a Phariſee, the ſon of Phariſees: concerning the hope and reſurrection of the dead I am called in queſtion. ‖ Philip. 3. 5.

7 And when he had ſaid this, there aroſe a diſſenſion between the Phariſees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 ‖ For the Sadducees ſay that there is no reſurrection, nor angel, nor ſpirit: but the Phariſees confeſs both. ‖ Matt. 22. 23.

9 Now a great clamour was raiſed. And

CHAP. XXII. VER. 9. Heard not the voice. That is, they diſtinguiſhed not the words: though they heard the voice. Acts ix. 7.

some of the Pharisees rising up, contended saying: We find no evil in this man: what if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel?

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the tribune fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord standing by him, said: Be constant: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, some of the Jews assembled together, and bound themselves with a curse, saying: that they would neither eat, nor drink, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty men that had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and the ancients, and said: We have bound ourselves under a curse that we will eat nothing, till we kill Paul.

15 Now therefore do you with the council signify to the tribune, that he bring him forth to you, as if you meant to know something more certain concerning him. And we, before he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son had heard of their lying in wait, he came, and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul calling to him one of the centurions, said: Bring this young man to the tribune, for he hath something to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the tribune, and said: Paul the prisoner desired me to bring this young man to thee, who hath something to say to thee.

19 And the tribune taking him by the hand, went aside with him privately and asked him: What is it that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said: The Jews have agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldst bring forth Paul to-morrow into the council, as if they meant to enquire something more certain concerning him:

21 But do not thou give credit to them: for there lie in wait for him more than forty men of them, who have bound themselves by oath neither to eat nor to drink till they kill him: and they are now ready waiting for thy promise.

22 The tribune therefore dismissed the young man, charging him to tell no man that he had made known these things to him.

23 Then having called two centurions, he said to them: Make ready two hundred soldiers that they may go as far as Cesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred spear-men from the third hour of the night:

24 And provide beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe to Felix the governor.

25 (For he feared lest the Jews might take him away by force and kill him, and he should afterwards be slandered as if he was to receive money).

26 And he wrote a letter after this manner: Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix, greeting.

27 This man having being seized by the Jews, and ready to be killed by them, I rescued coming in with an army, having understood that he is a Roman:

28 And being desirous to know the cause which they objected to him, I brought him forth into their council.

29 Whom I found to be accused of questions concerning their law: but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bands.

30 And when it was told me that they had prepared an ambush for him, I sent him to thee, signifying also to his accusers to plead before thee. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, according as it was commanded them, taking Paul, brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day leaving the horsemen to go with him, they returned to the castle.

33 Who when they were come to Cesarea, and had delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when he had read it, and had asked of what province he was: and understood that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will hear thee, said he, when thy accusers come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment-hall.

CHAP. XXIV.

Paul defends his innocence before Felix the governor. He preaches the faith to him.

AND after five days the high priest Ananias came down, with some of the ancients, and one Tertullus an orator, who went to the governor against Paul.

2 And Paul being cited, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: Whereas through thee we live in much peace, and many things are rectified by thy foresight:

3 We accept it always and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 But that I be no farther tedious to thee,

I beſeech thee of thy clemency to hear us in a few words.

5 We have found this a peſtilent man, and raiſing ſeditions among all the Jews throughout the whole world, and author of the ſedition of the ſect of the Nazarenes:

6 Who alſo attempted to profane the temple: whom we apprehended and would have judged according to our law.

7 But Lyſias the tribune, coming upon us, took him away with great violence out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accuſers to come to thee: from whom, thou being judge, mayſt know all theſe things, of which we accuſe him.

9 And the Jews alſo aſſented, and ſaid that theſe things were ſo.

10 Then Paul anſwered, (the governor making a ſign to him to ſpeak:) Knowing that for many years thou haſt been judge over this nation, I will with good courage anſwer for myſelf.

11 For thou mayſt underſtand, that there are yet but twelve days, ſince I went up to adore in Jeruſalem:

12 And neither in the temple did they find me diſputing with any man, or cauſing any concourſe of the people, neither in the ſynagogues.

13 Nor in the city: neither can they prove to thee the things of which they now accuſe me.

14 But this I confeſs to thee, that according to the ſect, which they call a hereſy, ſo do I ſerve the Father, and my God, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets:

15 Having hope in God, which theſe alſo themſelves look for, that there ſhall be a reſurrection of the juſt and unjuſt.

16 In this I myſelf, alſo ſtudy to have always a conſcience without offence towards God, and towards men.

17 Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings, and vows.

‖ Supra 21. 26. 18 ‖ In which they found me purified in the temple: not with a crowd nor with a tumult:

19 But certain Jews of Aſia, who ought to be preſent before thee, and to accuſe, if they had any thing againſt me:

20 Or let theſe men themſelves ſay, if they found in me any iniquity, when ſtanding before the council.

21 Except it be for this one voice only, that I cried out ſtanding among them: Supra 23. ‖ That concerning the reſurrection of the dead am I judged this day by you.

22 And Felix put them off, knowing moſt certainly of this way, ſaying: When Lyſias the tribune ſhall come down I will hear you.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep him, and to let him be eaſy, and that he ſhould not hinder any of his friends to miniſter to him.

24 And after ſome days Felix coming with Druſilla his wife, who was a Jeweſs, called for Paul, and heard from him the faith, which is in Chriſt Jeſus.

25 And as he treated of juſtice, and chaſtity, and of the judgment to come, Felix being terrified, anſwered: For this time, go thy way: but at a convenient time I will ſend for thee.

26 Hoping alſo withal, that money would be given him by Paul: for which account he alſo frequently ſent for him, and ſpoke with him.

27 But when two years were ended, Felix had for ſucceſſor Portius Feſtus. And being willing to gratify the Jews, he left Paul a priſoner. A. D. 60.

CHAP. XXV.

Paul appeals to Cæſar. King Agrippa deſires to hear him.

NOW when Feſtus was come into the province, after three days he went up to Jeruſalem from Ceſarea. A. D. 60

2 And the chief prieſts, and principal men of the Jews went to him againſt Paul: and they beſought him,

3 Requeſting favour againſt him, that he would command him to be brought to Jeruſalem, laying wait to kill him in the way.

4 But Feſtus anſwered: That Paul was to be kept in Ceſarea: and that he himſelf ſhould go very ſhortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, ſaith he, among you that are able, going down with me, accuſe him, if there be any crime in the man.

6 And having ſtayed among them no more than eight or ten days, he went down to Ceſarea, and the next day he ſat in the judgment-ſeat: and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was brought, the Jews that were come down from Jeruſalem ſtood about him, objecting many and grievous accuſations which they could not prove:

8 Paul making anſwer: That neither againſt the law of the Jews nor againſt the temple, nor againſt Cæſar have I offended in any thing.

9 But Feſtus being willing to gratify the Jews anſwered Paul, and ſaid: Wilt thou go up to Jeruſalem, and there be judged of theſe things before me?

10 Then Paul said: I stand at Cæsar's tribunal where I ought to be judged: To the Jews I have done no injury, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I have injured them, or have committed any thing that deserveth death, I refuse not to die: but if there be nothing of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliver me to them. I appeal to Cæsar.

12 Then Festus having conferred with the council, answered: Hast thou appealed to Cæsar? To Cæsar shalt thou go.

13 And after some days king Agrippa and Bernice came down to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And as they stayed there many days, Festus told the king concerning Paul, saying: There is a certain man left prisoner by Felix,

15 Concerning whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the ancients of the Jews came to me, demanding condemnation against him.

16 To whom I answered: It is not the custom of the Romans to condemn any man, before that he who is accused have his accusers present, and that he have liberty of making his defence, to clear himself of the things laid to his charge.

17 When therefore they were come hither, without any delay, on the day following, I sat on the judgment-seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought in no cause wherein I could suspect any evil:

19 But had certain questions of their own superstition against him, and of one Jesus deceased, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And as I was in doubt of this manner of question, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things.

21 But Paul appealing to be reserved to the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cæsar.

22 Then Agrippa said to Festus: I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the next day when Agrippa and Bernice were come with great pomp, and had entered into the hall of audience, with the tribunes and princial men of the city, Festus commanding it, Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus saith: King Agrippa, and all ye men who are here present with us, you see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made their request to me at Jerusalem, petitioning and crying out that he ought not to live any longer.

25 Yet have I found nothing that he hath committed worthy of death. But he himself appealing to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Concerning whom I have nothing certain to write to my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you and especially before thee, O king Agrippa, that examination being made, I may have something to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, to send a prisoner, and not to signify the things laid to his charge.

CHAP. XXVI.

Paul gives an account to Agrippa of his life, conversion, and calling.

THEN Agrippa said to Paul: Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretching forth his hand, began to make his answer. A. D. 60.

2 I think myself happy, O king Agrippa, that I am to answer for myself this day before thee concerning all the things, of which I am accused by the Jews.

3 Especially as thou knowest all, both customs and questions, which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 And my life indeed from my youth, which was from the beginning among my own nation in Jerusalem, all the Jews do know?

5 Having known me from the beginning (if they will give testimony) that according to the most sure sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand under judgment for the hope of the promise which God made to our fathers:

7 Unto which our twelve tribes, serving night and day, hope to come. For which hope, O king, I am accused by the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 And I myself was indeed persuaded that I ought to do many things in opposition to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 || Which also I did at Jerusalem, and many of the saints I shut up in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests: and when they were put to death, I brought the sentence. || Supra 8. 3.

11 And I punished them often in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme: and being yet more mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities.

12 || Whereupon when I was going to Damascus with authority and permission of the chief priests. || Supra 9. 2.

13 At mid-day O king, I ſaw in the way a light from heaven above the brightneſs of the ſun, ſhining about me and thoſe that were in company with me.

14 And when we were all fallen down to the ground, I heard a voice ſpeaking to me in the Hebrew tongue: Saul, Saul, why perſecuteſt thou me? It is hard for thee to kick againſt the goad.

15 And I ſaid: Who art thou Lord? And the Lord anſwered: I am Jeſus whom thou perſecuteſt.

16 But riſe up and ſtand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared to thee, that I may make thee a miniſter and a witneſs of thoſe things which thou haſt ſeen, and of thoſe things for which I will appear to thee,

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the nations unto which now I ſend thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may be converted from darkneſs to light, and from the power of ſatan to God, that they may receive forgiveneſs of ſins, and a lot among the ſaints by the faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not incredulous to the heavenly viſion:

‖ Supra 9. 20 ‖ But preached firſt to them that are at Damaſcus, and at Jeruſalem, and throughout out all the country of Judea, and to the Gentiles, that they ſhould do penance, and turn to God, doing works worthy of penance.

‖ Supra 21. 31. 21 For this cauſe the Jews, when I was in the temple, ‖ having apprehended me, attempted to kill me.

22 But being aided by the help of God, I continue to this day, witneſſing both to ſmall and great, ſaying no other thing than thoſe which the prophets and Moſes did ſay ſhould come to paſs:

23 That Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, and that he ſhould be the firſt that ſhould riſe from the dead, and ſhould ſhew light to the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 Now as he was ſpeaking theſe things and giving an account, Feſtus ſaid with a loud voice: Paul, thou art beſide thyſelf: much learning doth make thee mad.

25 And Paul ſaid: I am not mad, moſt excellent Feſtus, but I ſpeak words of truth and ſobriety.

26 For the king knoweth of theſe things, to whom alſo I ſpeak with confidence: for I am perſuaded that none of theſe things are hidden from him. For neither were any of theſe things done in a corner.

27 Believeſt thou the prophets, O king Agrippa? I know that thou believeſt.

28 Then Agrippa ſaid to Paul: In a little thou perſuadeſt me to become a Chriſtian.

29 And Paul ſaid: I would to God, that both in little and in much, not only thou, but alſo all that hear me this day, ſhould become ſuch as I alſo am, except theſe chains.

30 And the king roſe up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that ſat with them.

31 And when they were gone aſide, they conferred with one another, ſaying: This man hath done nothing that deſerveth death or chains.

32 And Agrippa ſaid to Feſtus: This man might have been ſet at liberty, if he had not appealed to Cæſar.

CHAP. XXVII.

Paul is ſhipped for Rome. His voyage and ſhipwreck.

AND when it was determined that he ſhould ſail into Italy, and that Paul with the other priſoners ſhould be delivered to a centurion named Julius, of the band Auguſta, A. D. 60.

‖ 2 Cor. 11. 25. 2 ‖ Going on board a ſhip of Adrumetum, we weighed anchor, being about to ſail by the coaſt of Aſia, Ariſtarchus the Macedonian of Theſſalonica continuing with us.

3 And the next day we came to Sidon. And Julius treating Paul courteouſly, permitted him to go to his friends, and to take care of himſelf.

4 And when we had launched from thence we ſailed under Cyprus: becauſe the winds were contrary.

5 And having ſailed over the ſea of Cilicia and Pamphilia, we came to Lyſtra which is in Lycia:

6 And there the centurion finding a ſhip of Alexandria ſailing for Italy, he put us aboard her.

7 And when for many days we had ſailed ſlowly, and were ſcarce come over-againſt Gnidus, the wind not permitting us, we ſailed near Crete by Salmone:

8 And with much difficulty ſailing by it, we came to a certain place which is called Goodhavens, near to which was the city of Thalaſſa.

9 And when much time was ſpent, and when ſailing now was dangerous, becauſe the faſt was now paſt, Paul comforted them,

10 Saying to them: Ye men, I ſee that the voyage begins to be with danger and much damage, not only of the lading and ſhip, but alſo of our lives.

11 But the centurion believed the pilot and the maſter of the ſhip, more than thoſe thngs which were ſaid by Paul.

12 And whereas it was not a commodious haven to winter in, the greateſt part gave counſel to ſail thence, if by any means they might reach Phenice to winter there, which is a haven of Crete looking towards the ſouth-weſt and north-weſt.

13 And the ſouth wind blowing gently, thinking that they had obtained their purpoſe, when they had looſed from Aſſon, they ſailed cloſe by Crete.

14 But not long after there aroſe againſt her a tempeſtuous wind called Euro-aquilo.

15 And when the ſhip was carried away and could not bear againſt the wind, giving up the ſhip to the winds, we were driven.

16 And running under a certain iſland that is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat.

17 Which being taken up, they uſed helps, under-girding the ſhip, and fearing leſt they ſhould fall into the quick-ſands, they let down the ſail-yard, and ſo were driven.

18 And we being mightily toſſed with the tempeſt, the next day they threw over board.

19 And the third day they caſt out with their own hands the tackling of the ſhip.

20 And neither ſun nor ſtars appearing for many days, and no ſmall ſtorm threatening, all hopes of our ſafety were now loſt.

21 And after they had faſted a long time, Paul ſtanding in the midſt of them, ſaid: You ſhould indeed, O ye men, have hearkened to me, and not have put off from Crete, and to have ſuffered this harm and loſs.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer. For there ſhall be no loſs of any man's life among you, but only of the ſhip.

23 For an angel of God, whoſe I am, and whom I ſerve, ſtood by me this night,

24 Saying: Fear not Paul, thou muſt be brought before Cæſar: and behold God hath given thee all them that ſail with thee.

25 Wherefore, Sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it ſhall ſo be, as it hath been told me.

26 But we muſt come into a certain iſland.

27 Now after the fourteenth night was come, as we were ſailing in the Adria about midnight, the ſhip-men deemed that they diſcovered ſome country.

28 And they ſounded, and found twenty fathoms: and going on a little farther they found fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing leſt we ſhould fall upon rough places, they caſt four anchors out of the ſtern, and wiſhed for the day.

30 But as the ſhip-men ſought to fly out of the ſhip having let down the boat into the ſea, under pretence as though they would have caſt anchors out of the fore-ſhip,

31 Paul ſaid to the centurion and to the ſoldiers: Unleſs theſe ſtay in the ſhip, you cannot be ſaved.

32 Then the ſoldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And when it began to be light, Paul beſought them all to take food, ſaying: This day is the fourteenth day that you have waited and continued faſting, taking nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take ſome food for your health's ſake: for there ſhall not a hair of the head of any of you periſh.

35 And when he had ſaid theſe things, taking bread, he gave thanks to God in the preſence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of better cheer, and they alſo took food.

37 And we were in all in the ſhip, two hundred and ſeventy ſix ſouls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ſhip, caſting out the wheat into the ſea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they diſcovered a certain creek with a ſhore, into which they thought, if they could to thruſt in the ſhip.

40 And when they had weighed the anchors, they committed themſelves to the ſea, looſing alſo the rudderbands: and hoiſting up the main-ſail to the wind, they made towards the ſhore.

41 And when we had fallen into a place where two ſeas met, they run the ſhip aground: and the fore-part indeed ſticking faſt, remained unmoveable: but the hinder-part was broken with the violence of the ſea.

42 And the ſoldiers counſel was to kill the priſoners: leſt any of them, ſwimming out, ſhould eſcape.

43 But the centurion willing to ſave Paul, forbade it to be done: and he commanded them who could ſwim, to caſt themſelves firſt out, and ſave themſelves and get to land:

44 And the reſt, ſome they carried on planks, and ſome on thoſe things that belonged to the ſhip. And ſo it came to paſs, that every ſoul got ſafe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Paul, after three months ſtay in Malta continues his voyage, and arrives at Rome. His conference there with the Jews.

AND when we had eſcaped, then we knew that the iſland was called Melita. But the barbarians ſhewed us no ſmall courteſy.

2 For having kindled a fire they refreſhed us all, becauſe of the rain falling and of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered together a bundle of ſticks, and had laid them on the fire, a viper coming out of the heat, faſtened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians ſaw the beaſt hanging on his hand, they ſaid one to another: Undoubtedly this man is a murderer. who though he hath eſcaped the ſea, yet vengeance ſuffereth him not to live.

5 And he indeed ſhaking off the beaſt into the fire, ſuffered no harm.

6 But they ſuppoſed that he would begin to ſwell up, and that he would ſuddenly fall down and die. And they waiting for it a long time, and ſeeing that no harm was done to him, changing their minds, they ſaid he was a god.

7 Now in thoſe places were poſſeſſions of the chief man of the iſland named Publius, who received us, and for three days entertained us courteouſly.

8 And it happened that the father of Publius lay ſick of a fever, and of a bloody flux. To whom Paul entered in: and when he had prayed, and laid his hands on him, he healed him.

9 Which being done, all that had diſeaſes in the iſland came, and were healed:

10 Who alſo honoured us with many honours, and when we were to ſet ſail, they laded us with ſuch things as were neceſſary.

A. D. 61. 11 And after three months, we ſailed in a ſhip of Alexandria, that had wintered in the iſland, whoſe ſign was the Caſtors.

12 And when we were come to Syracuſa, we ſtayed there three days.

13 From thence coaſting we came to Rhegium: and after one day the ſouth wind blowing, we came the ſecond day to Puteoli;

14 Where meeting with brethren, we were invited to ſtay with them ſeven days: and ſo we went for Rome.

15 And from thence when the brethren had heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum and the Three taverns: whom when Paul ſaw, he gave thanks to God, and took courage.

16 And when we were come to Rome, Paul was permitted to dwell by himſelf with a ſoldier to guard him.

17 And after the third day he called together the chief of the Jews. And when they were aſſembled, he ſaid to them: Men brethren, I having done nothing againſt the people, or the cuſtom of our fathers, was delivered up a priſoner from Jeruſalem into the hands of the Romans:

18 Who when they had examined me, would have let me go, for that there was no cauſe of death in me:

19 But the Jews oppoſing it; I was forced to appeal to Cæſar, not that I had any thing to accuſe my nation of.

20 For this cauſe therefore I deſired to ſee you and to ſpeak to you. Becauſe that for the hope of Iſrael, I am bound with this chain.

21 But they ſaid to him: We neither received letters concerning thee out of Judea, neither did any of the brethren that came hither, relate or ſpeak any evil of thee.

22 But we deſire to hear from thee what thou thinkeſt: for as concerning this ſect, we know that it is every where contradicted.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came very many to him to his lodgings; to whom he expounded, teſtifying the kingdom of God, and perſuading them concerning Jeſus, out of the law of Moſes and the prophets, from morning till evening.

24 And ſome believed the things that were ſaid: and ſome believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themſelves, they departed, Paul ſaying this one word: Well did the Holy Ghoſt ſpeak to our fathers by Iſaias the prophet,

26 Saying: ‖ Go to this people, and ſay to them: With the ear you ſhall hear, and ſhall not underſtand: and ſeeing you ſhall ſee, and ſhall not perceive. ‖ Iſai. 6. 9. Matt. 13. 14. Mark 4. 12. Luke 8. 10. John 12. 40. Rom. 11. 8.

27 For the heart of this people is grown groſs, and with their ears have they heard heavily, and their eyes they have ſhut: leſt perhaps they ſhould ſee with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and underſtand with their heart, and ſhould be converted, and I ſhould heal them.

28 Be it known therefore to you that this ſalvation of God is ſent to the Gentiles, and they will hear it.

29 And when he had ſaid theſe words, the Jews went out from him, having a great debate among themſelves.

30 And he remained two whole years * in his own hired lodging: and he received all that came in to him, * Until A. D. 63.

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things which concern the Lord Jeſus Chriſt with all confidence, without prohibition.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

ST. PAUL wrote this Epiſtle at Corinth, when he was preparing to go to Jeruſalem with the charitable contributions collected in Achaia and Macedonia for the relief of the Chriſtians in Judea; which was about twenty-four years after our Lord's Aſcenſion. It was written in Greek, but at the ſame time tranſlated into Latin for the benefit of thoſe who did not underſtand that language. And though it is not the firſt of his Epiſtles in the order of time, yet it is firſt placed on account of the ſublimity of the matter contained in it, of the pre-eminence of the place to which it was ſent, and in veneration of the Church.

CHAP. I.

He commends the faith of the Romans, whom he longs to ſee. The philoſophy of the heathens, being void of faith and humility, betrayed them into ſhameful ſins.

PAUL a ſervant of Jeſus Chriſt, called to be an apoſtle, ſeparated unto the goſpel of God,

2 Which he had promiſed before by his prophets in the holy Scriptures.

3 Concerning his Son, who was made to him of the ſeed of David according to the fleſh,

4 Who was predeſtinated the Son of God in power according to the ſpirit of ſanctification, by the reſurrection of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt from the dead:

5 By whom we have received grace and apoſtleſhip for obedience to the faith in all nations for his name,

6 Among whom are you alſo the called of Jeſus Chriſt:

7 To all that are at Rome the beloved of God, called to be ſaints. Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

8 Firſt I give thanks to my God through Jeſus Chriſt for you all, becauſe your faith is ſpoken of in the whole world.

9 For God is my witneſs, whom I ſerve with my ſpirit in the goſpel of his Son, that without ceaſing I make a commemoration of you

10 Always in my prayers: beſeeching, that by any means I may at length have a proſperous journey by the will of God in coming to you.

11 For I long to ſee you, that I may impart unto you ſome ſpiritual grace to ſtrengthen you:

12 That is to ſay, that I may be comforted together in you, by that which is common to us both, your faith and mine.

13 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren: that I have often purpoſed to come to you, (and have been hindered hitherto) that I might have ſome fruit among you alſo, even as among other nations.

14 To the Greeks and to the Barbarians,

CHAP. I. VER. 4. Predeſtinated, &c. Chriſt as man, was predeſtinated to be the Son of God: and declared to be ſo (as the apoſtle here ſignifies) firſt by power, that is, by his working ſtupendous miracles; ſecondly, by the ſpirit of ſanctification, that is, by his infinite ſanctity; thirdly, by his reſurrection, or raiſing himſelf from the dead.

to the wiſe and to the unwiſe, I am a debtor:

15 So (as much as is in me) I am ready to preach the goſpel to you alſo that are at Rome.

16 For I am not aſhamed of the goſpel. For it is the power of God unto ſalvation to every one that believeth, to the Jew firſt, and to the Greek.

17 For the juſtice of God is revealed therein from faith to faith: as it is written: ‖ The juſt man liveth by faith.

‖ Habac. 2. 4. Gal. 3. 11. Hebr. 10. 38.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven, againſt all impiety and injuſtice of thoſe men that detain the truth of God in injuſtice.

19 Becauſe that which is known of God is manifeſt in them. For God hath manifeſted it to them.

20 For the inviſible things of him, from the creation of the world, are clearly ſeen, being underſtood by the things that are made: his eternal power alſo and divinity: ſo that they are inexcuſable.

‖ Epheſ. 4. 17.

21 ‖ Becauſe that, when they had known God, they have not glorified him as God, nor gave thanks: but became vain in their thoughts, and their fooliſh heart was darkened:

22 For profeſſing themſelves to be wiſe, they became fools.

‖ Pſal. 105. 20. Jerem. 11. 10.

23 ‖ And they changed the glory of the incorruptible God, into the likeneſs of the image of a corruptible man, and of birds, and of four-footed beaſts, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore God gave them up to the deſires of their heart, ‡ to uncleanneſs: to diſhonour their own bodies among themſelves:

‡ Gal. 5. 19. Epheſ. 4. 19. & 5. 3. Col. 3. 5. 1 Theſ. 2. 3. & 4. 7.

25 Who changed the truth of God into a lye: and worſhipped and ſerved the creature rather than the Creator, who is bleſſed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cauſe God delivered them up to ſhameful affections. For their women have changed the natural uſe into that uſe which is againſt nature.

27 And in like manner the men alſo, leaving the natural uſe of the women, have burned in their luſts one towards another, men with men doing that which is filthy, and receiving in themſelves the recompence which was due to their error.

28 And as they liked not to have God in their knowledge; God delivered them up to a reprobate ſenſe, to do thoſe things which are not convenient,

29 Being filled with all iniquity, malice, fornication, covetouſneſs, wickedneſs, full of envy, murder, contention, deceit, malignity, whiſperers,

30 Detracters, hateful to God, contumelious, proud, haughty, inventors of evil things, diſobedient to parents,

31 Fooliſh, diſſolute, without affection, without fidelity, without mercy.

32 Who, having known the juſtice of God, did not underſtand that they, who do ſuch things, are worthy of death: and not only they who do them, but they alſo who conſent to them that do them.

CHAP. II.

The Jews are cenſured, who make their boaſt of the law, and keep it not. He declares who are the true Jews.

WHEREFORE thou art inexcuſable O man, whoſoever thou art that judgeſt. ‖ For wherein thou judgeſt another, thou condemneſt thyſelf: for thou doſt the ſame things which thou judgeſt. ‖ Matt. 7. 2.

2 For we know that the judgment of God is according to truth againſt them that do ſuch things.

3 And thinkeſt thou this, O man, that judgeſt them who do ſuch things, and doſt the ſame, that thou ſhalt eſcape the judgment of God?

4 Or deſpiſeſt thou the riches of his goodneſs, and patience, and long-ſuffering? ‖ knoweſt thou not that the benignity of God leadeth thee to penance? ‖ Wiſd. 9. 24. 2 Pet. 3. 2.

5 But according to thy hardneſs, and impenitent heart, thou treaſureſt up to thyſelf wrath, againſt the day of wrath, and revelation of the juſt judgment of God,

6 ‖ Who will render to every man according to his works: ‖ Matt. 16. 27.

7 To them indeed, who, according to patience in good work, ſeek glory and honour and incorruption, life everlaſting:

8 But to them who are contentious, and who obey not the truth, but give credit to iniquity, wrath and indignation.

9 Tribulation and anguiſh upon every ſoul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew firſt, and alſo of the Greek:

10 But glory and honour and peace to every one that worketh good, to the Jew firſt, and alſo to the Greek.

11 ‖ For there is no reſpect of perſons with God. ‖ Deut. 10. 17. 2 Par. 19. 7. Job. 34. 19. Wiſd. 4. 8. Eccli. 15. 35. Acts 10. 34. Epheſ. 6. 9. Coloſ. 3. 25. 1 Pet. 1. 17.

12 For whoſoever have ſinned without

VER. 26. God delivered them up. Not by being author of their ſins, but by withdrawing his grace, and ſo permitting them, in puniſhment of their pride, to fall into thoſe ſhameful ſins.

the law, ſhall periſh without the law: and whoſoever have ſinned under the law, ſhall be judged by the law.

‡ Matt. 7. 21. James 1. 22. 13 ‡ For not the hearers of the law are juſt before God, but the doers of the law ſhall be juſtified.

14 For when the Gentiles, who have not the law, do by nature thoſe things that are of the law, theſe having not the law, are a law to themſelves:

15 Who ſhew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conſcience bearing witneſs to them, and their thoughts within themſelves accuſing them, or elſe defending them.

16 In the day when God ſhall judge the ſecrets of men, by Jeſus Chriſt, according to my goſpel.

¶ Apoc. 11. 9. 17 || But if thou art called a Jew, and reſteſt in the law and makeſt thy boaſt of God,

‡ Phil. 1. 10. 18 And knoweſt his will, ‡ and approveſt the things that are more profitable, being inſtructed by the law,

19 Art confident that thou thyſelf art a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkneſs,

20 An inſtructer of the fooliſh, a teacher of infants, having the form of knowledge and of truth in the law.

21 Thou therefore that teacheſt another, teacheſt not thyſelf: thou that preacheſt that men ſhould not ſteal, ſtealeſt:

22 Thou that ſayeſt, men ſhould not commit adultery, committeſt adultery: thou that abhorreſt idols, committeſt ſacrilege:

23 Thou that makeſt thy boaſt of the law, by the tranſgreſſion of the law diſhonoureſt God.

¶ Iſai. 52. 5. Ezech. 36. 20. 24 || (For the name of God through you is blaſphemed among the Gentiles, as it is written).

25 Circumciſion profiteth indeed if thou keep the law: but if thou be a tranſgreſſor of the law, thy circumciſion is made uncircumciſion.

26 If then the uncircumciſed keep the ordinances of the law: ſhall not his uncircumciſion be reputed for circumciſion?

|| Matt. 12. 42. 27 || And ſhall not that which by nature is uncircumciſion, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumciſion art a tranſgreſſor of the law?

|| Iſai. 48. 28 || For it is not he is a Jew, who is ſo outwardly: nor is that circumciſion which is outwardly in the fleſh:

29 But he is a Jew that is one inwardly: and the circumciſion is that of the heart, in the ſpirit, not in the letter: whoſe praiſe is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

The advantages of the Jews. All men are ſinners, and none can be juſtified by the works of the law: but only by the grace of Chriſt.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew, or what is the profit of circumciſion?

2 Much every way. Firſt indeed, || becauſe the words of God were committed to them. || Infra 9. 4.

3 For what if ſome of them have not believed? ‡ ſhall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect? God forbid. ‡ 2 Tim. 2. 13.

4 || But God is true: and every man a liar, as it is written: ‡ That thou mayeſt be juſtified in thy words, and mayſt overcome when thou art judged. || John. 3. 33. Pſal. 115. 11. ‡ Pſal. 50. 6.

5 But if our injuſtice commend the juſtice of God, what ſhall we ſay? Is God unjuſt, who executeth wrath?

6 (I ſpeak according to man). God forbid: otherwiſe how ſhall God judge this world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lye, unto his glory: why am I alſo yet judged as a ſinner?

8 And not rather (as we are ſlandered, and as ſome affirm that we ſay) let us do evil, that there may come good: whoſe damnation is juſt.

9 What then? Do we excel them? By no means. || For we have charged both Jews, and Greeks, that they are all under ſin: || Gal. 3. 22. Supra 1. 17. Infra 11. 9.

10 As it is written: ‡ There is not any man juſt: ‡ Pſal. 13. 3.

11 There is none that underſtandeth, there is none that ſeeketh after God.

12 All have turned out of the way, they are become unprofitable together: there is none that doth good, there is not ſo much as one.

|| Pſal. 5. 11. James 3. 8. 13 || Their throat is an open ſepulchre, with their tongues they have dealt deceitfully: ‡ The venom of aſps is under their lips: ‡ Pſal. 139. 4.

|| Pſal. 9. 7. 14 || Whoſe mouth is full of curſing and bitterneſs:

‡ Iſai. 59. 7. Prov. 1. 16. 15 ‡ Their feet are ſwift to ſhed blood:

16 Deſtruction and miſery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace they have not known:

VER. 4. God only is eſſentially true. All men in their own capacity are liable to lies and errors: nevertheleſs God, who is the truth, will make good his promiſe of keeping his church in all truth. See St. John. xvi. 13.

CHAP. III. VER. 10. There is not any man juſt, viz. by virtue either of the law of nature, or of the law of Moſes; but only by faith and grace.

‡ Pſal 35. 2. 18 ‡ There is no fear of God before their eyes.

‖ Gal. 2. 16. 19 ‖ Now we know that what things ſoever the law ſpeaketh, it ſpeaketh to them that are in the law: that every mouth may be ſtopped, and all the world may be made ſubject to God:

20 Becauſe by the works of the law no fleſh ſhall be juſtified in his ſight. For by the law is the knowledge of ſin.

21 But now without the law the juſtice of God is made manifeſt: being witneſſed by the law and the prophets.

22 Even the juſtice of God by faith of Jeſus Chriſt, unto all and upon all them that believe in him: for there is no diſtinction:

23 For all have ſinned, and do need the glory of God.

24 Being juſtified gratis by his grace, through the redemption that is in Chriſt Jeſus,

25 Whom God had ſet forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to the ſhewing of his juſtice, for the remiſſion of paſt ſins,

26 Through the forbearance of God, for the ſhewing of his juſtice in this time: that he himſelf may be juſt, and the juſtifier of him who is of the faith of Jeſus Chriſt.

27 Where is then thy boaſting? It is excluded. By what law? Of works? No: but by the law of faith.

28 For we account a man to be juſtified by faith without the works of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? Is he not alſo of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles alſo.

30 For it is one God who juſtifieth circumciſion by faith, and uncircumciſion through faith.

31 Do we then deſtroy the law through faith? God forbid: but we eſtabliſh the law.

CHAP. IV.

Abraham was not juſtified by works done, as of himſelf: but by grace, and by faith: and that before he was circumciſed. Gentiles by faith are his children.

WHAT ſhall we ſay then that Abraham hath found, who is our father according to the fleſh?

2 For if Abraham were juſtified by works, he hath glory, but not in the ſight of God.

‖ Gen. 15. 6. Gal. 3. 6. James 2. 23. Mac. 11. 32. 3 For what ſaith the Scripture? ‖ Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him unto juſtice.

4 Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned according to grace, but according to debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, yet believed in him who juſtifieth the impious, his faith is reputed to juſtice according to the purpoſe of the grace of God.

6 As David alſo termeth the bleſſedneſs of a man, to whom God reputeth juſtice without works:

‖ Pſal. 31. 1. 7 Bleſſed are they, whoſe ‖ iniquities are forgiven, and whoſe ſins are covered.

8 Bleſſed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed ſin.

9 This bleſſedneſs then doth it abide in the circumciſion only, or in the uncircumciſion alſo,? For we ſay that faith was reputed to Abraham unto juſtice.

VER. 28. By faith, &c. The faith, to which the apoſtle here attributes man's juſtification, is not a preſumptuous aſſurance of our being juſtified; but a firm and lively belief of all that God has revealed or promiſed; Heb. xi. A faith working through charity in Jeſus Chriſt, Gal. v. 16. In ſhort, a faith which takes in hope, love, repentance, and the uſe of the Sacraments. And the works which he here excludes, are only the works of the law; that is, ſuch as are done by the law of nature, or that of Moſes, antecedent to the faith of Chriſt: but by no means ſuch as follow faith and proceed from it.

CHAP. IV. VER. 2. By works. Done by his own ſtrength, without the grace of God, and faith in him.

Ibid. Not in the ſight of God. Whatever glory or applauſe ſuch works might procure from men; they would be of no value in the ſight of God.

VER. 3. Reputed, &c. By God, who reputeth nothing otherwiſe than it is. However, we may gather from this word, that when we are juſtified, our juſtification proceedeth from God's free grace and bounty; and not from any efficacy which any act of ours could have of its own nature, abſtracting from God's grace.

VER. 4. To him that worketh, viz. As of his own fund, or by his own ſtrength. Such a man, ſays the apoſtle, challenges his reward as a debt, due to his own performances; whereas he who worketh not, that is, who preſumeth not upon any works done by his own ſtrength; but ſeeketh juſtice through faith and grace, is freely juſtified by God's grace.

VER. 7. Bleſſed are they, whoſe iniquities are forgiven, and whoſe ſins are covered. That is, bleſſed are thoſe who by doing penance have obtained pardon and remiſſion of their ſins, and alſo are covered; that is, newly cloathed with the habit of grace, and veſted with the ſtole of charity.

VER. 8. Bleſſed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed ſin. That is, bleſſed is the man, who hath retained his baptiſmal innocence, that no grievous ſin can be imputed to him. And likewiſe, bleſſed is the man, who after falling into ſin, hath done penance and leads a virtuous life by frequenting the ſacraments neceſſary for obtaining the grace to prevent a relapſe, that ſin is no more imputed to him.

VER. 9. In the circumciſion, &c. That is, is it only for the Jews that are circumciſed? No, ſays the apoſtle, but alſo for the uncircumciſed Gentiles; who by faith and grace may come to juſtice; as Abraham did before he was circumciſed.

10 How then was it reputed? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

‖ Gen. 17. 10. & 11.

11 ‖ And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the justice of the faith, which is in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all the believers uncircumcised, that to them also it may be reputed to justice:

12 And might be the father of circumcision, not to them only that are of the circumcision, but to them also who follow the steps of the faith, that our father Abraham had, being as yet uncircumcised.

‖ Gal. 3. 18. Hebr. 11. 9.

13 ‖ For not through the law was the promise to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world, but through the justice of faith.

14 For if they who are of the law, be heirs: faith is made void, the promise is made of no effect.

15 For the law worketh wrath. For where there is no law: there is no transgression.

16 Therefore is it of faith, that according to grace the promise might be firm to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all.

‖ Gen. 17. 4.

17 (As it is written, ‖ I have made thee a father of many nations) before God, whom he believed, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things that are not, as those that are.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might be made the father of many nations, according to that which was said to him: ‖ So shall thy seed be.

‖ Gen. 15. 5.

19 And he was not weak in faith: neither did he consider his own body now dead, whereas he was almost a hundred years old, nor the dead womb of Sara.

20 In the promise also of God he staggered not by distrust: but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God:

21 Most fully knowing that whatsoever he has promised, he is able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was reputed to him unto justice:

23 Now it is not written only for him, that it was reputed to him unto justice:

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be reputed, if we believe in him, ‖ that raised up Jesus Christ our Lord from the dead,

‖ 2 Pet. 1. 21.

25 ‖ Who was delivered up for our sins, and rose again for our justification.

‖ Isai. 53. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 3.

CHAP. V.

The grounds we have for hope in Christ. Sin and death came by Adam: grace and life by Christ.

THEREFORE being justified by faith, let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2 ‖ By whom also we have access through faith into this grace, wherein we stand, and glory in the hope of the glory of the sons of God.

‖ Ephes. 2. 18.

3 And not only so, but we glory also in tribulations, ‖ knowing that tribulation worketh patience:

‖ James 1. 3.

4 And patience trial, and trial hope,

5 ‖ And hope confoundeth not: because the charity of God is poured out into our hearts, by the Holy Ghost who is given to us.

‖ Psal. 22. 6.

6 For why did Christ, when as yet we were weak, according to the time, ‖ die for the ungodly?

‖ Hebr. 9. 14.

7 For scarce for a just man will one die: yet perhaps for a good man some one would venture to die.

1 Pet. 3 18.

8 But God commendeth his charity towards us: because when as yet we were sinners, according to the time,

9 Christ died for us: much more therefore being now justified by his blood, shall we be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son: much more being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life.

11 And not only so: but also we glory in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received reconciliation.

12 Wherefore as by one man sin entered into this world, and by sin death, and so death passed upon all men, in whom all have sinned.

13 For until the law sin was in the world: but sin was not imputed, when the law was not.

VER. 14. Be heirs. That is, if they alone, who follow the ceremonies of the law, be heirs of the blessings promised to Abraham; then that faith which was so much praised in him, will be found to be of little value. And the very promise will be made void, by which he was promised to be the father, not of the Jews only, but of all nations of believers.

VER. 15. The law worketh wrath. The law, abstracting from faith and grace, worketh wrath occasionally, by being an occasion of many transgressions, which provoke God's wrath.

CHAP. V. VER. 12. By one man. Adam, from whom we all contracted original sin.

VER. 13. Not imputed. That is, men knew not, or made no account of sin; neither was it imputed to them, in the manner it was afterwards, when they transgressed the known written law of God.

14 But death reigned from Adam unto Moſes, even over them that had not ſinned after the ſimilitude of the tranſgreſſion of Adam, who is a figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the offence, ſo alſo is the gift: for if by the offence of one many have died: much more the grace of God and the gift in the grace of one man Jeſus Chriſt, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one ſin, ſo alſo is the gift: for the judgment indeed was by one unto condemnation: but the grace is of many offences, unto juſtification.

17 For if by one man's offence death reigned through one: much more they who receive abundance of grace, and of the gift, and of juſtice, ſhall reign in life through one Jeſus Chriſt.

18 Therefore as by the offence of one, unto all men to condemnation: ſo alſo by the juſtice of one, unto all men unto juſtification of life.

‖ Philip ii. 8. & 9.

19 ‖ For as by the diſobedience of one man, many were made ſinners: ſo alſo by the obedience of one, many ſhall be made juſt.

20 Now the law entered in, that ſin might abound. But where ſin abounded, grace hath abounded more.

21 That as ſin hath reigned unto death: ſo alſo grace might reign by juſtice unto everlaſting life, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

The Chriſtian muſt die to ſin, and live to God.

WHAT ſhall we ſay then? ſhall we continue in ſin that grace may abound?

2 God forbid. For how ſhall we that are dead to ſin, ‖ live any longer therein?

‖ 2 Pet. 2. 22.

3 Know you not that all we, who are baptized in Chriſt Jeſus, are baptized in his death?

‖ Gal. 3. 27. Coloſſ. 2. 12.

4 ‖ For we are buried together with him by baptiſm unto death: that as Chriſt is riſen from the dead by the glory of the Father, ‡ ſo we alſo may walk in newneſs of life.

‡ Epheſ. 4. 13. Heb. 12. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 1. & 4. 2.

5 For if we have been planted together in the likeneſs of his death, in like manner we ſhall be of his reſurrection.

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of ſin may be deſtroyed, and that we may ſerve ſin no longer.

7 For he that is dead, is juſtified from ſin.

8 Now if he be dead with Chriſt, we believe that we ſhall live alſo together with Chriſt:

9 Knowing that Chriſt riſing again from the dead, dieth now no more, death ſhall no more have dominion over him.

10 For in that he died to ſin, he died once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11 So do you alſo reckon yourſelves to be dead indeed to ſin, but alive to God in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

12 Let not ſin therefore reign in your mortal body, ſo as to obey the luſts thereof.

13 ‖ Neither yield ye your members as inſtruments of iniquity unto ſin: but preſent yourſelves to God as thoſe that are alive from the dead: and your members as inſtruments of juſtice unto God.

‖ Coloſſ. 3. 5.

14 For ſin ſhall not have dominion over you: for you are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? Shall we ſin, becauſe we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 ‖ Know you not, that to whom you yield yourſelves ſervants to obey, his ſervants you are whom you obey, whether it be of ſin, unto death, or of obedience, unto juſtice.

‖ John 8. 34. 2 Pet. 2. 19.

17 But thanks be to God, that you were the ſervants of ſin, but have obeyed from the heart, unto that form of doctrine, into which you have been delivered.

18 Being then made free from ſin, you are become the ſervants of juſtice.

19 I ſpeak a human thing, becauſe of the infirmity of your fleſh: for as you have yielded your members to ſerve uncleanneſs and iniquity unto iniquity; ſo now yield your members to ſerve juſtice, unto ſanctification.

20 For when you were the ſervants of ſin, you were free from juſtice.

21 What fruit therefore had you then in thoſe things, of which you are now aſhamed? For the end of them is death.

22 But now being made free from ſin, and become ſervants to God, you have your fruit unto ſanctification, and the end everlaſting life.

VER. 20. That ſin might abound. Not as if the law were given on purpoſe for ſin to abound: but that it ſo happened through man's perverſity, taking occaſion of ſinning more, from the prohibition of ſin.

CHAP. VI. VER. 6. Old man—body of ſin. Our corrupt ſtate, ſubject to ſin and concupiſence, coming to us from Adam, is called our old man, as our ſtate, reformed in and by Chriſt, is called the new man. And the vices and ſins, which then ruled in us, are named the body of ſin.

23 For the wages of ſin, is death. But the grace of God, everlaſting life, in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

We are releaſed by Chriſt from the law, and from the guilt of ſin: though the inclination to it ſtill tempt us.

KNOW you not, brethren, (for I ſpeak to them that know the law) how the law hath dominion over a man, as long as it liveth?

‖ 1 Cor. 7. 39. 2 ‖ For the woman that hath a huſband, whilſt her huſband liveth, is bound to the law: but if her huſband be dead, ſhe is looſed from the law of her huſband.

3 Wherefore, whilſt her huſband liveth, ſhe ſhall be called an adultereſs if ſhe be with another man: but if her huſband be dead, ſhe is free from the law of her huſband: ſo that ſhe is not an adultereſs if ſhe be with another man.

4 Therefore, my brethren, you alſo are become dead to the law by the body of Chriſt: that you may belong to another, who is riſen again from the dead, that we may bring forth fruit to God.

5 For when we were in the fleſh, the paſſions of ſins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are looſed from the law of death, wherein we were detained, ſo that we ſhould ſerve in newneſs of ſpirit, and not in the oldneſs of the letter.

7 What ſhall we ſay then? Is the law ſin? God forbid. But I did not know ſin, but by the law: for I had not known concupiſcence, if the law had not ſaid: ‖ Thou ſhalt not covet.

‖ Exod. 20. 17. Deut. 5 21.

8 But ſin taking occaſion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiſcence. For without the law ſin was dead.

9 And I lived ſome time without the law. But when the commandment came, ſin revived.

10 And I died: and the commandment, that was ordained to life, the ſame was found to be unto death to me.

11 For ſin, taking occaſion by the commandment, ſeduced me, and by it killed me.

12 ‖ Wherefore the law indeed is holy, and the commandment holy, and juſt, and good. ‖ 1 Tim. 1. 8.

13 Was that then which is good, made death to me? God forbid. But ſin, that it may appear ſin, by that which is good, wrought death in me: that ſin by the commandment might become ſinful above meaſure.

14 For we know that the law is ſpiritual, but I am carnal, ſold under ſin.

15 For that which I work, I underſtand not. For I do not that good which I will, but the evil which I hate, that I do.

16 If then I do that which I will not, I conſent to the law, that it is good,

17 Now then it is no more I that do it: but ſin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that there dwelleth not in me, that is to ſay, in my fleſh, that which is good. For to will good, is preſent with me, but to accompliſh that which is good, I find not.

19 For the good which I will, I do not: but the evil which I will not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that which I will not, it is no more I that do it, but ſin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that when I have a will to do good evil is preſent with me:

22 For I am delighted with the law of God, ‖ according to the inward man: ‖ 1 Pet. 3. 4.

23 But I ſee another law in my members, fighting againſt the law of my mind, and captivating me in the law of ſin, that is in my members.

24 Unhappy man that I am: who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death?

25 The grace of God by Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Therefore I myſelf, with the mind, ſerve the law of God: but, with the fleſh, the law of ſin.

CHAP. VII. VER. 1. As long as it liveth; or, as long as he liveth.

VER. 8. Sin taking occaſion. Sin, or concupiſcence, which is called ſin, becauſe it is from ſin, and leads to ſin, which was aſleep before, was weakened by the prohibition: the law not being the cauſe thereof, nor properly giving occaſion to it: but occaſion being taken by our corrupt nature to reſiſt the commandment laid upon us.

VER. 13. That it may appear ſin, or that ſin may appear, viz. to be the monſter it is, which is even capable to take occaſion from that which is good, to work death.

VER. 15. I do not that good which I will, &c. The apoſtle here deſcribes the diſorderly motions of paſſion and concupiſcence: which oftentimes in us get the ſtart of reaſon: and by means of which even good men ſuffer in the inferior appetite what their will abhors: and are much hindered in the accompliſhment of the deſires of their ſpirit and mind. But theſe evil motions (though they are called the law of ſin, becauſe they come from original ſin, and violently tempt and incline to ſin) as long as the will does not conſent to them, are not ſins, becauſe they are not voluntary.

CHAP. VIII.

There is no condemnation to them that being justified by Christ, walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. Their strong hope, and love of God.

THERE is therefore now no condemnation to them who are in Christ Jesus, who walk not according to the flesh.

2 For the law of the spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath delivered me from the law of sin and of death.

3 ‖ For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh: God sending his own Son, in the likeness of sinful flesh, even of sin, condemned sin in the flesh, ‖ Acts 15. 10. Hebr. 9. 15.

4 That the justification of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit.

5 For they who are according to the flesh, relish the things that are of the flesh: but they who are according to the spirit, mind the things which are of the spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the spirit is life and peace.

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is an enemy to God: For it is not subject to the law of God, neither can it be.

8 And they who are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 But you are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ; he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you: the body indeed is dead because of sin, but the spirit liveth because of justification.

‖ Acts 3. 15. & 4. 18. & 5. 30. & 13. 38. Supra 4. 24. 1 Cor. 6. 14.

11 ‖ And if the Spirit of him, who raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you: he that raised up Jesus Christ from the dead, shall quicken also your mortal bodies, because of his Spirit dwelling in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh.

13 For if you live according to the flesh, you shall die: but if by the spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live.

14 For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are of the sons of God.

15 ‖ For you have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear: but you have received the spirit of ‡ adoption of sons, whereby we cry: Abba, (Father).

‖ 2 Tim. 1. 7. ‡ Gal 4. 5.

16 For the Spirit himself giveth testimony to our spirit, that we are the sons of God.

17 And if sons, heirs also: heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ: yet so if we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

18 For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory to come, that shall be revealed in us.

19 For the expectation of the creature waiteth for the revelation of the sons of God.

20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him, that made it subject in hope:

21 Because the creature also itself shall be delivered from the servitude of corruption, into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.

22 For we know that every creature groaneth, and is in labour even till now.

23 And not only it, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption of the sons of God, the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope. But hope that is seen, is not hope: For what a man seeth, why doth he hope for?

25 But if we hope for that which we see not: we wait for it with patience.

26 Likewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for, we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit himself asketh for us with unspeakable groanings.

27 And he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what the Spirit desireth: because he asketh for the saints according to God.

28 And we know that to them that love God, all things work together unto good to such as according to his purpose are called to be saints.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 16. The Spirit himself, &c. By the inward motions of divine love, and the peace of conscience, which the children of God experience, they have a kind of testimony of God's favour; by which they are much strengthened in their hope of their justification and salvation: but yet not so as to pretend to an absolute assurance: which is not usually granted in this mortal life: during which we are taught to work out our salvation with fear and trembling, Phil. ii. 12. And that he who thinketh himself to stand, must take heed lest he fall, 1 Cor. x. 12. See also Rom. xi. 20. 21. 22.

VER. 19. The expectation of the creature, &c. He speaks of the corporeal creation, made for the use and service of man; and, by occasion of his sin, made subject to vanity, that is, to a perpetual instability, tending to corruption and other defects: so that by a figure of speech it is here said to groan and be in labour, and to long for its deliverance, which is then to come, when sin shall reign no more; and God shall raise the bodies and unite them to their souls never more to separate, and to be in everlasting happiness in heaven.

VER. 26. Asketh for us. The Spirit is said to ask, and desire for the saints, and to pray in us; inasmuch as he inspireth prayer, and teacheth us to pray.

29 For whom he foreknew, he alſo predeſtinated to be made conformable to the image of his Son: that he might be the firſt-born amongſt many brethren.

30 And whom he predeſtinated: them he alſo called: and whom he called: them he alſo juſtified, and whom he juſtified: them he alſo glorified.

31 What ſhall we then ſay to theſe things? If God be for us, who is againſt us?

‖ Gen. 22. 12. 32 ‖ He that ſpared not even his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how hath he not alſo, with him, given us all things?

33 Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of the elect of God? God who juſtifieth.

34 Who is he that ſhall condemn? Chriſt Jeſus who died, yea who roſe alſo again, who is at the right hand of God, who alſo maketh interceſſion for us.

35 Who then ſhall ſeparate us from the love of Chriſt? ſhall tribulation? or diſtreſs? or famine? or nakedneſs? or danger? or perſecution? or the ſword?

‖ Pſal. 43. 23. 36 (As it is written: ‖ For thy ſake we are put to death, all the day long: we are accounted as ſheep for the ſlaughter).

37 But in all theſe things we overcome, becauſe of him that hath loved us.

38 For I am ſure that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things preſent, nor things to come, nor might,

39 Nor height, or depth, nor any other creature ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the love of God, which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

The apoſtle's concern for the Jews. God's election is free, and not confined to their nation.

I Speak the truth in Chriſt, I lye not, my conſcience bearing me witneſs in the Holy Ghoſt:

2 That I have great ſadneſs, and continual ſorrow in my heart.

‖ Acts 9. 2. 1 Cor. 15. 9. 3 ‖ For I wiſhed myſelf to be an anathema from Chriſt, for my brethren, who are my kinſmen according to the fleſh,

4 Who are Iſraelites, to whom belongeth the adoption of children, and the glory, and the covenant, and the giving of the law, and the ſervice of God, and the promiſes:

5 Whoſe are the fathers, and of whom is Chriſt according to the fleſh, who is over all things, God bleſſed for ever Amen.

6 Not as though the word of God hath failed. For, all are not Iſraelites that are of Iſrael:

‖ Gen. 21. 12. 7 Neither are all they, who are the ſeed of Abraham, children: ‖ but in Iſaac ſhall thy ſeed be called:

8 That is to ſay, not they who are the children of the fleſh, are the children of God: but they, ‖ that are the children of the promiſe, are counted for the ſeed. ‖ Gal. 4. 28.

‖ Gen. 18. 10. 9 For this is the word of the promiſe: ‖ According to this time will I come: and Sara ſhall have a ſon.

‖ Gen. 25. 24. 10 And not only ſhe: ‖ but when Rebecca alſo had conceived at once, by Iſaac our father.

11 For when the children were not yet born, nor had done any good or evil (that the purpoſe of God according to election might ſtand).

12 Not of works, but of him that called, it was ſaid to her:

‖ Gen. 25. 23. Mal. 1. 2. 13 ‖ The elder ſhall ſerve the younger, as it is written: Jacob I have loved, but Eſau I have hated.

14 What ſhall we ſay then? Is there injuſtice with God? God forbid.

‖ Exod. 33. 19. 15 For he ſaith to Moſes: ‖ I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy: and I will ſhew mercy to whom I will ſhew mercy.

VER. 29. He alſo predeſtinated, &c. That is, God hath preordained that all his elect ſhould be conformable to the image of his Son. We muſt not here offer to dive into the ſecrets of God's eternal election: only firmly believe that all our good, in time, and eternity, flows originally from God's free goodneſs; and all our evil from man's free will.

VER. 38. I am ſure. That is, I am perſuaded: as it is in the Greek, πεπεισμαι.

CHAP. IX. VER. 3. Anathema; a curſe. The apoſtle's concern and love for his countrymen the Jews was ſo great that he was willing to ſuffer even an anathema, or curſe, for their ſake; or any evil that could come upon him, without his offending God.

VER. 6. All are not Iſraelites, &c. Not all, who are the carnal ſeed of Iſrael, are true Iſraelites in God's account: who, as by his free grace he heretofore preferred Iſaac before Iſmael, and Jacob before Eſau, ſo he could, and did by the like free grace, election and mercy, raiſe up ſpiritual children by faith to Abraham and Iſrael, from among the Gentiles, and prefer them before the carnal Jews.

VER. 11. Not yet born, &c. By this example of theſe twins, and the preference of the younger to the elder, the drift of the apoſtle is, to ſhew that God, in his election, mercy, and grace, is not tied to any particular nation, as the Jews imagined, nor to any prerogative of birth, or any foregoing merits. For as, antecedently to his grace, he ſees no merits in any, but finds all involved in ſin, in the common maſs of condemnation; and all children of wrath; there is no one whom he might not juſtly leave in that maſs; ſo that whomſoever he delivers from it, he delivers in his mercy: and whomſoever he leaves in it, he leaves in his juſtice. As when, of two equally criminal, the king is pleaſed out of pure mercy to pardon one, whilſt he ſuffers juſtice to take place in the execution of the other.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For the Scripture saith to Pharao: ‖ To this purpose have I raised thee up, that I may shew my power in thee: and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth. ‖ Exod. 9. 16.

18 Therefore he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say therefore to me: Why doth he then find fault? For who resisteth his will?

20 O man, who art thou that replyest against God? ‖ Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it: Why hast thou made me thus? ‖ Wisd. 15. 7. Isai. 45. 9. Jerem. 18. 6.

21 Or hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump, to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 And if God willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known endured with much patience vessels of wrath, fitted to destruction,

23 That he might shew the riches of his glory upon the vessels of mercy, which he hath prepared unto glory.

24 Even us, whom also he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles,

25 As he saith in Osee: ‖ I will call them my people, that were not my people: and her beloved, that was not beloved: and her, that had not obtained mercy, one that hath obtained mercy. ‖ Osee. 2. 24. 1 Pet. 2. 10.

26 ‖ And it shall be, in the place where it was said to them: you are not my people: there they shall be called the children of the living God. ‖ Osee. 1. 10.

27 And Isaias crieth out concerning Israel: ‖ If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved. ‖ Isai. 10. 22.

28 For he shall finish his word, and cut it short in justice: because a short word shall the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as Isaias foretold: ‖ unless the Lord of sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been made as Sodom, and we had been like unto Gomorrha. ‖ Isai. 1. 9.

30 What then shall we say? That the Gentiles, who sought not after justice, have attained to justice: even the justice that is of faith.

31 But Israel, in pursuing the law of justice, is not come to the law of justice.

32 Why so? because they sought it not of faith, but as it were of works: for they stumbled at the stumbling-stone;

33 As it is written: ‖ Behold I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone and a rock of scandal: and whosoever believeth in him, shall not be confounded. ‖ Isai. 8. 14. & 28. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 7.

CHAP. X.

The end of the law is faith in Christ: which the Jews refusing to submit to, cannot be justified.

BRETHREN, the will of my heart, indeed, and my prayer to God, is for them unto salvation.

2 For I bear them witness, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they not knowing the justice of God, and seeking to establish their own, have not submitted themselves to the justice of God.

4 For the end of the law is Christ, unto justice to every one that believeth.

5 For Moses wrote, that, the justice which is of the law, ‖ the man that shall do it, shall live by it. ‖ Lev. 18. 5. Ezech. 20. 11.

6 But the justice which is of faith, speaketh thus: † Say not in thy heart: Who shall ascend into heaven? that is, to bring Christ down: † Deut. 30. 12.

7 Or who shall descend into the deep? that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.

8 But what saith the Scripture? ‖ The word is near thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy ‖ Deut. 30. 14.

VER. 16. Not of him that willeth, &c. That is, by any power or strength of his own, abstracting from the grace of God,

VER. 17. To this purpose, &c. Not that God made him on purpose that he should sin, and so be damned: but foreseeing his obstinacy in sin, and the abuse of his own free-will, he raised him up to be a mighty king, to make a more remarkable example of him: and that his power might be better known: and his justice, in punishing him, published throughout the earth.

VER. 18. He hardeneth. Not by being the cause, or author of his sin, but by witholding his grace, and so leaving him in his sin, in punishment of his past demerits.

VER. 21. The potter. This similitude is used, only to shew that we are not to dispute with our Maker: nor to reason with him why he does not give as much grace to one, as to another: for since the whole lump of our clay is vitiated by sin, it is owing to his goodness and mercy, that he makes out of it so many vessels of honour; and it is no more than just that others, in punishment of their unrepented-of sins, should be given up to be vessels of dishonour.

VER. 27. A remnant. That is, a small number only of the children of Israel shall be converted and saved. How perversely is this text quoted for the salvation of men of all religions, when it speaks only of the converts of the children of Israel.

CHAP. X. VER. 3. The justice of God. That is, the justice which God giveth us through Christ; as on the other hand the Jews own justice is, that which they pretended to by their own strength, or by the observance of the law without faith in Christ.

heart: this is the word of faith, which we preach:

9 That if thou confeſs with thy mouth the Lord Jeſus, and believe in thy heart that God hath raiſed him up from the dead, thou ſhalt be ſaved.

10 For, with the heart, we believe unto juſtice: but, with the mouth, confeſſion is made unto ſalvation.

|| Iſai. 28. 16. 11 For the Scripture ſaith; || Whoſoever believeth in him, ſhall not be confounded.

12 For there is no diſtinction of the Jew and the Greek? for the ſame is Lord over all, rich to all that call upon him.

|| Joel. 2. 32. Acts 2. 21. 13 || For whoſoever ſhall call upon the name of the Lord, ſhall be ſaved.

14 How then ſhall they call on him, in whom they have not believed? Or how ſhall they believe him, of whom they have not heard? And how ſhall they hear, without a preacher?

15 And how can they preach unleſs they be ſent? as it is written: || How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the goſpel of peace, of them that bring glad tidings of good things?

|| Iſai. 52. 7. Nahum 1. 15.

16 But all do not obey the goſpel. For Iſaias ſaith: ‡ Lord, who hath believed our report?

‡ Iſai. 53. 1. John. 12. 38.

17 Faith then cometh by hearing: and hearing by the word of Chriſt.

|| Pſal. 18. 5. 18 But I ſay: Have they not heard? || Yes verily their ſound went over all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the whole world.

19 But I ſay: Hath not Iſrael known? Firſt Moſes ſaith: || I will provoke you to jealouſy by that which is not a nation: by a fooliſh nation I will anger you.

|| Deut. 32. 21.

|| Iſai. 65. 1. 20 But Iſaias is bold, and ſaith: || I was found by them that did not ſeek me: I appeared openly to them that aſked not after me.

|| Iſai. 65. 2. 21 But to Iſrael he ſaith: || All the day long have I ſpread forth my hands to a people, that believeth not, and contradicteth me.

CHAP. XI.

God hath not caſt off all Iſrael. The Gentiles muſt not be proud; but ſtand in faith, and fear.

I Say then: Hath God caſt away his people? God forbid. For I alſo am an Iſraelite of the ſeed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not caſt away his people, which he foreknew. Know you not what the Scripture ſaith of Elias; how he calleth on God againſt Iſrael?

3 || Lord, they have ſlain thy prophets, and have dug down thy altars: and I am left alone, and they ſeek my life.

|| 3 Kings. 19. 10.

4 But what ſaith the divine anſwer to him? || I have reſerved to myſelf ſeven thouſand men, who have not bowed their knees to Baal.

|| 3 Kings. 19. 18.

5 Even ſo then at this preſent time alſo, there is a remnant ſaved according to the election of grace.

6 And if by grace, it is not now by works: otherwiſe grace is no more grace.

7 What then? that which Iſrael ſought, he hath not obtained: but the election hath obtained it, and the reſt have been blinded.

8 As it is written: || God hath given them the ſpirit of inſenſibility: eyes that they ſhould not ſee, and ears that they ſhould not hear, until this preſent day.

|| Iſai. 6. 9. & 10. 29. 10. Matt. 13. 14. John 12. 40. Acts 28. 26.

9 And David ſaith: ‡ Let their table be made a ſnare, and a trap, and a ſtumbling-block, and a recompence to them.

‡ Pſal. 68. 23.

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not ſee: and bow down their back always.

11 I ſay then, have they ſo ſtumbled, that they ſhould fall? God forbid. But by their offence, ſalvation is come to the Gentiles, that they may be emulous of them.

12 Now if the offence of them be the riches of the world, and the diminiſhing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: how much more the fulneſs of them.

VER. 9. Thou ſhalt be ſaved. To confeſs the Lord Jeſus, and to call upon the name of the Lord, (v. 13.) is not barely the profeſſing a belief in the perſon of Chriſt: but moreover implies a belief of his whole doctrine, and an obedience to his law; without which the calling him Lord will ſave no man. St. Matt. vii. 21.

VER. 15. Unleſs they be ſent. Here is an evident proof againſt all new teachers, who have all uſurped to themſelves the miniſtry without any lawful miſſion, derived by ſucceſſion from the apoſtles, to whom Chriſt ſaid, John xx. 21. As my Father hath ſent me, I alſo ſend you.

CHAP. XI. VER. 4. Seven thouſand, &c. This is very ill alledged by ſome againſt the perpetual viſibility of the church of Chriſt: the more becauſe however the number of the faithful might be abridged by the perſecution of Jezabel in the kingdom of the ten tribes; the church was at the ſame time in a moſt flouriſhing condition (under Aſa and Joſaphat) in the Kingdom of Judah.

VER. 6. It is not now by works, &c. If ſalvation were to come by works, done by nature, without faith and grace, ſalvation would not be a grace or favour, but a debt; but ſuch dead works are indeed of no value in the ſight of God towards ſalvation. It is not the ſame with regard to works done with, and by God's grace; for to ſuch works as theſe he has promiſed eternal ſalvation.

VER. 8. God hath given them, &c. Not by his working or acting in them; but by his permiſſion, and by withdrawing his grace in puniſhment of their obſtinacy.

VER. 11. That they ſhould fall. The nation of the Jews is not abſolutely and without remedy caſt off for ever; but in part only (many thouſands of them having been at firſt converted) and for a time; which fall of theirs God has been pleaſed to turn to the good of the Gentiles.

‖ Acts 9. 2. & 15. Gal. 2. 7.

13 For I say to you Gentiles: ‖ As long indeed as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I will honour my ministry,

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation those who are my flesh, and may save some of them.

15 For if the loss of them be the reconciliation of the world: what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first-fruit be holy, so is the mass also: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken, and thou being a wild olive-tree, art ingrafted in them, and art made partaker of the root and of the fatness of the olive-tree,

18 Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast: thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then: The branches were broken off that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: because of unbelief they were broken off. But thou standest by faith: be not high-minded, but fear.

21 For if God hath not spared the natural branches: fear lest he also spare not thee.

22 See therefore the goodness, and the severity of God: towards them indeed that are fallen, the severity: but towards thee, the goodness of God, if thou continue in goodness, otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be ingrafted: for God is able to ingraft them again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the wild olive-tree, which is natural to thee, and contrary to nature, wert ingrafted into the good olive-tree: how much more shall they, that are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

‖ Prov. 3. 7. Isai. 5. 21.

25 For I would not have you ignorant brethren, of this mystery ‖ (lest you should be wise in your own conceits) that blindness in part has happened in Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles should come in.

‖ Isai. 59. 20.

26 And so all Israel should be saved, as it is written: ‖ There shall come out of Sion, he that shall deliver, and shall turn away impiety from Jacob.

27 And this is to them my covenant: when I shall take away their sins.

28 According to the gospel, indeed, they are enemies for your sake: but according to election, they are most dear for the sake of the fathers.

29 For the gifts and the calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as you also in times past did not believe God, but now have obtained mercy, through their unbelief;

31 So these also now have not believed, for your mercy, that they also may obtain mercy.

32 For God hath concluded all in unbelief, that he may have mercy on all.

33 O the depth of the riches, of the wisdom and of the knowledge of God! How incomprehensible are his judgments, and how unsearchable his ways!

‖ Wisd. 9. 13. Isai. 40. 13. 1 Cor. 2. 16.

34 ‖ For who hath known the mind of the Lord? Or who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or who hath first given to him, and recompence shall be made him?

36 For of him, and by him, and in him are all things: to him be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAP. XII.

Lessons of christian virtues.

‖ Phil. 4. 18.

I Beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercy of God, ‖ that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, pleasing to God, your reasonable service.

‖ Ephes. 5. 17. 1 Thes. 4. 3.

2 And be not conformed to this world: but be reformed in the newness of your mind: ‖ that you may prove what is the good, and the acceptable, and the perfect will of God.

‖ 1 Cor. 12. 11. Ephes. 4. 7.

3 For I say, through the grace that is given me, to all that are among you, not to be more wise than it behoveth to be wise, but to be wise unto sobriety: ‖ and according as God hath divided to every one the measure of faith.

4 For as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the same office:

VER. 20. Thou standest by faith: be not high-minded: but fear. We see here that he who standeth by faith may fall from it; and therefore must live in fear, and not in the vain presumption and security of modern sectaries.

VER. 22. Otherwise thou also shalt be cut off. The Gentiles are here admonished not to be proud, nor to glory against the Jews; but to take occasion rather from their fall to fear and to be humble, lest they be cast off. Not that the whole church of Christ can ever fall from him; having been secured by so many divine promises in holy writ; but that each one in particular may fall; and therefore all in general are to be admonished to beware of that, which may happen to any one in particular.

VER. 29. For the gifts and the calling of God are without his repenting himself of them; for the promises of God are unchangeable, nor can he repent of conferring his gifts.

VER. 32. Concluded all in unbelief. He hath found all nations, both Jews and Gentiles, in unbelief and sin; not by his causing, but by the abuse of their own free-will; so that their calling and election is purely owing to his mercy.

5 So we being many, are one body in Chriſt, and each one, members one of another.

6 And having giſts different, according to the grace that is given us, whether prophecy, according to the proportion of faith,

7 Or miniſtry, in miniſtering: or he that teacheth, in teaching,

1. Pet. 4. 9. 14 Bleſs them that perſecute you: bleſs, and curſe not.

15 Rejoice with them that rejoice, weep with them that weep:

16 Being of one mind one to another: not high minded, but condeſcending to the humble. Be not wiſe in your own conceits:

‡ Deut. 32. 35. Hebr. 10. 30. 20 ‡ But if thy enemy be hungry, give him to eat: if he thirſt, give him drink: for, doing this, thou ſhalt heap coals of fire on his head.

|| Prov. 25. 21. 21 || Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil by good.

CHAP. XIII.

Leſſons of obedience to ſuperiors, and mutual charity.

Wiſd. 6. 4. 1. Pet. 2. 13. LET every ſoul be ſubject to higher powers: for there is no power but from God: and thoſe that are, are ordained of God.

2 Therefore he that reſiſteth the power reſiſteth the ordinance of God. And they that reſiſt purchaſe to themſelves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? Do that which is good: and thou ſhalt have praiſe from the ſame.

4 For he is the miniſter of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, fear: for he beareth not the ſword in vain. For he is the miniſter of God: and avenger to execute wrath upon him that doth evil.

5 Wherefore be ſubject of neceſſity, not only for wrath, but alſo for conſcience-ſake.

6 For therefore alſo you pay tribute: for they are the miniſters of God, ſerving unto this purpoſe.

|| Matt. 22. 21. 7 || Render therefore to all their dues: tribute, to whom tribute is due: cuſtom, to whom cuſtom: fear, to whom fear: honour, to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but that you love one another: for he that loveth his neighbour, hath fulfilled the law.

|| Exod. 20. 14. Deut. 5. 18. 9 || For thou ſhalt not commit adultery: Thou ſhalt not kill: Thou ſhalt not ſteal: Thou ſhalt not bear falſe witneſs: Thou ſhalt not covet: and if there be any other commandment, it is compriſed in this word: ‡ Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thyſelf.

‡ Lev. 19. 18. Matt. 22. 39. Mark. 12. 31. Gal. 5. 14. James 2. 8. 10 The love of the neighbour worketh no evil. Love therefore is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that knowing the time: that it is now the hour for us to riſe from ſleep: for now our ſalvation is nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is paſſed, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore caſt off the works of darkneſs, and put on the armour of light.

|| Luke. 21. 34. 13 Let us walk honeſtly as in the day: || not in rioting and drunkenneſs, not in chambering and impurities, not in contention and envy:

|| Gal. 5. 16. 1. Pet. 2. 11. 14 || But put ye on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and make not proviſion for the fleſh in its concupiſcences.

CHAP. XIV.

The ſtrong muſt bear with the weak. Cautions againſt judging; and giving ſcandal.

NOW him, that is weak in faith, take unto you; not in diſputes about thoughts.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things: but he that is weak let him eat herbs.

CHAP. 14. VER. 2. Eat all things, viz. without obſerving the diſtinction of clean and unclean meats, preſcribed by the law of Moſes: which was now no longer obligatory. Some weak Chriſtians, converted from among the Jews, as we here gather from the apoſtle, made a ſcruple of eating ſuch meats as were deemed unclean by the 3 Let not him, that eateth, despise him that eateth not? and he, that eateth not, let him not judge him that eateth: For God hath taken him to him.

4 ‖ Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? To his own master he standeth, or falleth: and he shall stand: for God is able to make him stand. ‖ James 4. 11.

5 For one judgeth between day and day: and another judgeth every day: let every man abound in his own sense.

6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for he giveth thanks to God. And he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth thanks to God.

7 For none of us liveth to himself: and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live to the Lord: or whether we die, we die to the Lord. Therefore whether we live, or whether we die, we are the Lord's.

9 For to this end Christ died, and rose again: that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou despise thy brother? ‖ For we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ. ‖ 2 Cor. 5. 10.

11 For it is written: ‖ as I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me: and every tongue shall confess to God. ‖ Isai. 45. 24. Philip 2. 10.

12 So then every one of us shall render account for himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that you put not a stumbling-block or a scandal in your brother's way.

14 I know, and am confident, in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself, but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if, because of thy meat, thy brother be grieved: thou walkest not now according to charity. ‖ Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. ‖ 1 Cor. 8. 11.

16 Let not then our good be evil spoken of.

17 For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink: but justice, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he, that in this serveth Christ, pleaseth God, and is approved of men.

19 Therefore let us follow after the things that are of peace: and keep the things that are of edification one towards another.

20 Destroy not the work of God for meat. ‖ All things indeed are clean: but it is evil for that man who eateth with giving offence. ‖ Titus 1. 15.

21 ‖ It is good not to eat flesh, and not to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother is offended, or scandalised, or made weak. ‖ 1 Cor. 8. 13.

22 Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that which he alloweth.

23 But he, that discerneth, if he eat, is condemned: because not of faith. For all that is not of faith, is sin.

CHAP. XV.

He exhorts them to be all of one mind: and promises to come and see them.

NOW we that are stronger, ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 Let every one of you please his neighbour for his good, unto edification.

3 For Christ did not please himself, but as it is written: ‖ The reproaches of them that reproached thee, fell upon me. ‖ Psal. 68. 10.

4 For what things soever were written, were written for our instruction: that, through patience, and the comfort of the Scriptures, we might have hope.

5 Now the God of patience and of comfort ‖ grant you to be of one mind one towards another, according to Jesus Christ: ‖ 1 Cor. 1. 10.

6 That with one mind, and with one mouth, you may glorify God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receive one another: as Christ also hath received you to the honour of God.

8 For I say that Christ Jesus was minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made to the fathers.

9 But that the Gentiles are to glorify God for his mercy, as it is written: ‖ Therefore will I confess to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and will sing to thy name. ‖ 2 Kings 22. 50. Psal. 17. 5.

---

law; such as swine's flesh, &c. which the stronger sort of Christians did eat without scruple. Now the apostle, to reconcile them together, exhorts the former not to judge or condemn the latter, using their Christian liberty; and the latter to take care not to despise, or scandalize their weaker brethren, either by bringing them to eat what in their conscience they think they should not: or by giving them such offence, as to endanger the driving them thereby from the Christian religion.

VER. 5. Between day, &c. Still observing the sabbaths and festivals of the law.

VER. 23. Discerneth. That is, distinguisheth between meats, and eateth against his conscience, what he deems unclean.

Ibid. Of faith. By faith is here understood judgment and conscience: to act against which is always a sin.

CHAP. XV. VER. 8. Minister of the circumcision. That is, executed his office and ministry towards the Jews, the people of the circumcision.

10 And again he ſaith: Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

‡ Pſal. 116. 1. 11 And again: ‡ Praiſe the Lord, all ye Gentiles: and magnify him all ye people.

§ Iſai. 11. 10. 12 And again Iſaias ſaith: § There ſhall be a root of Jeſſe: and he that ſhall riſe up to rule the Gentiles, in him the Gentiles ſhall hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing: that you may abound in hope, and in the power of the Holy Ghoſt.

14 And I myſelf alſo, my brethren, am aſſured of you, that you alſo are full of love, repleniſhed with all knowledge, ſo that you are able to admoniſh one another.

15 But I have written to you, brethren, more boldly in ſome ſort, as putting you in mind: becauſe of the grace which is given me from God,

16 That I ſhould be the miniſter of Chriſt Jeſus among the Gentiles: ſanctifying the goſpel of God, that the oblation of the Gentiles may be made acceptable, and ſanctified in the Holy Ghoſt.

17 I have therefore glory in Chriſt Jeſus towards God.

18 For I dare not ſpeak of any of thoſe things which Chriſt worketh not by me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and by deeds,

19 By the virtue of ſigns and wonders, in the power of the Holy Ghoſt: ſo that from Jeruſalem round about as far as to Illyricum, I have fully preached the goſpel of Chriſt.

20 And I have ſo preached this goſpel, not where Chriſt was named, leſt I ſhould build upon another man's foundation: but as it is written:

¶ Iſai. 52. 15. 21 ‖ They to whom he was not ſpoken of ſhall ſee, and they that have not heard, ſhall underſtand.

22 For which cauſe alſo I was hindered very much from coming to you, and have been kept away till now.

23 But now having no more place in theſe countries, and having a great deſire theſe many years paſt to come to you.

24 When I ſhall begin to take my journey into Spain, I hope that as I paſs, I ſhall ſee you, and be brought on my way thither by you, if firſt, in part, I ſhall have enjoyed you.

25 But now I ſhall go to Jeruſalem to miniſter to the ſaints.

26 For it hath pleaſed them of Macedonia and Achaia to make ſome contribution for the poor ſaints who are in Jeruſalem.

27 For it hath pleaſed them: and they are their debtors. ‖ For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their ſpiritual things: they ought alſo in carnal things to miniſter to them.

‖ 1 Cor. 9. 11.

28 When therefore I ſhall have accompliſhed this, and conſigned to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain,

29 And I know, that when I come to you, I ſhall come in the abundance of the bleſſing of the goſpel of Chriſt.

30 I beſeech you therefore, brethren, through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and by the charity of the Holy Ghoſt, that you aſſiſt me in your prayers for me to God,

31 That I may be delivered from the unbelievers that are in Judea, and that the oblation of my ſervice may be acceptable in Jeruſalem to the ſaints;

32 That I may come to you with joy, by the will of God, and may be refreſhed with you.

33 Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAP. XVI.

He concludes with ſalutations, bidding them beware of all that ſhould oppoſe the doctrine they had learnt.

AND I commend to you Phebe, our ſiſter who is in the miniſtry of the church that is in Cenchrea:

2 That you receive her in the Lord as becometh ſaints: and that you aſſiſt her in whatſoever buſineſs ſhe ſhall have need of you. For ſhe alſo hath aſſiſted many, and myſelf alſo.

3 Salute ‖ Priſca and Aquila my helpers in Chriſt Jeſus, ‖ Acts 18. 2. & 26.

4 (Who have for my life expoſed their own necks: to whom not I only give thanks, but alſo all the churches of the Gentiles)

5 And the church which is in their houſe. Salute Epenetus my beloved: who is the firſt-fruits of Aſia in Chriſt.

6 Salute Mary, who hath laboured much among you.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junias my kinſmen and fellow-captives: who are renowned among the apoſtles, who alſo were in Chriſt before me.

8 Salute Ampliatus moſt beloved to me in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbanus our helper in Chriſt Jeſus, and Stachys my beloved.

10 Salute Apelles approved in Chriſt.

11 Salute them that are of Ariſtobulus's houſhold. Salute Herodion my kinſman. Salute them that are of Narciſſus's houſhold, who are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphoſa, who labour in the Lord. Salute Perſis the dearly beloved, who hath much laboured in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus choſen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Aſyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren who are with them.

15 Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus, and his ſiſter, and Olympias: and all the ſaints who are with them.

16 Salute one another with a holy kiſs. All the churches of Chriſt ſalute you.

17 Now I beſeech you, brethren, to mark them who cauſe diſſenſions and offences contrary to the doctrine which you have learned, and avoid them.

18 For they that are ſuch ſerve not Chriſt our Lord, but their own belly: and by pleaſing ſpeeches, and good words, ſeduce the hearts of the innocent.

19 For your obedience is publiſhed in every place. I rejoice therefore in you. But I would have you to be wiſe in good, and ſimple in evil.

20 And may the God of peace cruſh ſatan ſpeedily under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you.

21 || Timothy my fellow-labourer ſaluteth you, and Lucius, and Jaſon, and Soſipater, my kinſmen. || Acts 16. 1.

22 I Tertius who wrote this epiſtle, ſalute you in the Lord.

23 Caius, my hoſt, and the whole church, ſaluteth you. Eraſtus, the treaſurer of the city, ſaluteth you, and Quartus, a brother.

24 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, be with you all. Amen.

25 Now to him that is able to eſtabliſh you, according to my goſpel and the preaching of Jeſus Chriſt, according to the revelation of the myſtery kept ſecret from eternity.

26 (Which now is made manifeſt by the Scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, for the obedience of faith) known among all nations.

27 To God the only wiſe, through Jeſus Chriſt, to whom be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

ST. PAUL having planted the faith in Corinth, where he had preached a year and a half, and converted a great many, went to Epheſus. After being there three years, he wrote this firſt Epiſtle to the Corinthians, and ſent it by the ſame perſons; Stephanus, Fortunatus, and Achaicus, who had brought their letter to him. It was written about twenty-four years after our Lord's Aſcenſion, and contains ſeveral matters appertaining to faith and morals, and alſo to eccleſiaſtical diſcipline.

CHAP. I.

He reproveth their diſſenſions about their teachers: the world was to be ſaved by preaching of the croſs, and not by human wiſdom or eloquence.

PAUL called to be an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, by the will of God, and Soſthenes, a brother,

2 To the church of God that is at Corinth, to them that are ſanctified in Chriſt Jeſus, called to be ſaints, with all that invoke the name of our Jeſus Chriſt in every place of theirs and ours.

3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

4 I give thanks to my God always for you for the grace of God, that is given you in Chriſt Jeſus:

5 That in all things you are made rich in him, in every word, and in all knowledge;

6 As the teſtimony of Chriſt was confirmed in you:

7 So that nothing is wanting to you in any grace, waiting for the manifeſtation of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

8 Who alſo will confirm you unto the end without crime, in the day of the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt,

‖ 1 Theſſ. 5. 24. 9 ‖ God is faithful: by whom you are called unto the fellowſhip of his Son Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

10 Now I beſeech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that you all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no ſchiſms among you: but that you be perfect in the ſame mind, and in the ſame judgment.

11 For it hath been ſignified unto me, my brethren, of you, by thoſe who are of the houſe of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I ſay, that every one of you ſaith: I indeed am of Paul: and I ‖ Acts 18. 24. am ‖ of Apollo: and I of Cephas: and I of Chriſt.

13 Is Chriſt divided? Was Paul crucified for you? or were you baptized in the name of Paul?

‖ Acts 18. 8. 14 I give God thanks, that I baptized none of you, ‖ but Criſpus and Caius:

15 Leſt any ſhould ſay that you were baptized in my name.

16 And I baptized alſo the houſhold of Stephanas: beſides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

‖ 2 Pet. 1. 16. Infra 2. 1. & 4. 13. 17 For Chriſt ſent me not to baptize, but to preach the goſpel: ‖ not with wiſdom of ſpeech, leſt the croſs of Chriſt ſhould be made void.

† Rom. 1. 16. 18 For the word of the croſs, to them indeed that periſh, is fooliſhneſs; but to them who are ſaved, that is, to us, † it is the power of God.

‖ Iſai. 29. 14. 19 For it is written: ‖ I will deſtroy the wiſdom of the wiſe: and the prudence of the prudent I will reject.

‡ Iſai. 33. 18. 20 ‡ Where is the wiſe? Where is the ſcribe? Where is the diſputer of this world? Hath not God made fooliſh the wiſdom of this world?

21 For ſeeing that in the wiſdom of God the world by wiſdom knew not God: it pleaſed God by the fooliſhneſs of preaching to ſave them that believe.

22 For now the Jews require ſigns, and the Greeks ſeek after wiſdom:

23 But we preach Chriſt crucified, to the Jews a ſtumbling block, and to the Gentiles, fooliſhneſs:

24 But to them that are called, both Jews, and Greeks, Chriſt is the power of God and the wiſdom of God.

25 For that which appeareth fooliſh of God, is wiſer than men: and that which appeareth weakneſs of God, is ſtronger than men.

26 For ſee your vocation, brethren, that not many are wiſe according to the fleſh, not many mighty, not many noble:

27 But the fooliſh things of the world hath God choſen, that he may confound the wiſe: and the weak things of the world hath God choſen, that he may confound the ſtrong:

28 And the mean things of the world, and the things that are contemptible hath God choſen, and things that are not, that he might deſtroy the things that are:

29 That no fleſh ſhould glory in his ſight.

‖ Jerom. 25. 5. 30 But from him you are in Chriſt Jeſus, who is made to us wiſdom from God, ‖ and juſtice, and ſanctification, and redemption:

‖ Jer. 9. 23. & 24. 2 Cor. 10. 17. 31 That, as it is written, ‖ He that glorieth, may glory in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

His preaching was not in loftineſs of words; but in ſpirit and power. And the wiſdom he taught was not to be underſtood by the worldly wiſe, or ſenſual man, but only by the ſpiritual man.

‖ Supra 1. 17. AND I, brethren, when I came to you, ‖ came not in loftineſs of ſpeech or of wiſdom: declaring to you the teſtimony of Chriſt.

2 For I judged not myſelf to know any thing among you, but Jeſus Chriſt: and him crucified.

‖ Acts 18. 3. 3 ‖ And I was with you in weakneſs, and in fear, and in much trembling:

† 2 Pet. 1. 16. 4 † And my ſpeech, and my preaching was not in the perſuaſive words of human wiſdom, but in the ſhewing of the ſpirit and power:

5 That your faith might not ſtand on the wiſdom of men, but on the power of God.

6 Howbeit we ſpeak wiſdom among the perfect: yet not the wiſdom of this world, neither of the princes of this world, who are deſtroyed:

7 But we ſpeak the wiſdom of God in a myſtery, which is hidden, which God predeſtinated before the world, unto our glory,

---

CHAP. I. VER. 25. Fooliſh, &c. That is to ſay, what appears fooliſh to the world in the ways of God, is indeed moſt wiſe: and what appears weak, is indeed above all the ſtrength and comprehenſion of man.

8 Which none of the princes of this world knew: for if they had known it, they would never have crucified the Lord of glory.

‖ Isai. 64. 4. 9 But, as it is written: ‖ The eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, what things God hath prepared for them that love him:

10 But to us God hath revealed them by his Spirit. For the Spirit searcheth all things, even the profound things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man but the spirit of a man that is in him? So the things also that are of God no man knoweth but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received not the spirit of this world, but the Spirit that is of God, that we may know the things that are given us from God:

‖ Supra. 1. 17. & 2. 1. & 4. 1 Pet. 1. 16. 13 ‖ Which things also we speak, not in the learned words of human wisdom, but in the doctrine of the Spirit, comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 But the sensual man perceiveth not the things that are of the Spirit of God: for it is foolishness to him, and he cannot understand: because it is spiritually examined.

15 But the spiritual man judgeth all things: and he himself is judged by no one.

‖ Wisd. 9. 13. Isai. 40. 13. Rom. 11. 34. 15 ‖ For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAP. III.

They must not contend about their teachers, who are but God's ministers: and accountable to him. Their works shall be tried by fire.

AND I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual, but as to carnal. As to little ones in Christ,

2 I gave you milk to drink, not meat: for you were not able as yet: but neither indeed are you now able: for you are yet carnal.

3 For whereas there is among you envying and contention, are you not carnal, and walk according to man?

4 For while one saith, I indeed am of Paul: and another, I am of Apollo: are you not men? What then is Apollo, and what is Paul?

5 The ministers of him whom you have believed: and to every one as the Lord hath given.

6 I have planted, Apollo watered: but God gave the increase.

7 So then neither he that planteth is any thing, nor he that watereth: but God who giveth the increase.

‖ Psal. 61. 13. Matt. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Gal. 6. 5. 8 Now he who planteth, and he who watereth, are one. ‖ And every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 For we are God's coadjutors: you are God's husbandry, you are God's building.

10 According to the grace of God, that is given to me, as a wise architect, I have laid the foundation: and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For no one can lay another foundation, but that which is laid: which is Christ Jesus.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble:

13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day of the Lord shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire: and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide, which he hath built thereupon: he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work burn, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved, yet so as by fire.

16 Know you not that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

CHAP. II. VER. 14, 15. The sensual man—the spiritual man. The sensual man is either he who is taken up with sensual pleasures, with carnal and worldly affections; or he who measureth divine mysteries by natural reason, sense and human wisdom only. Now such a man has little or no notion of the things of God. Whereas the spiritual man, who in the mysteries of religion, takes not human sense for his guide: but submits his judgment to the decisions of the church, which he is commanded to hear and obey. For Christ hath promised to remain to the end of the world with his Church, and to direct her in all things by the spirit of truth.

CHAP. III. VER. 12. Upon this foundation. The foundation is Christ and his doctrine: or the true faith in him, working through charity. The building upon this foundation, gold, silver, and precious stones, signifies the more perfect preaching and practice of the gospel; the wood, hay and stubble, such preaching as was that of the Corinthian teachers, (who affected the pomp of words and human eloquence) and such practice as is mixed with much imperfection, and many lesser sins. Now the day of the Lord, and his fiery trial (in the particular judgment immediately after death) shall make manifest of what sort every man's work has been; of which during this life 'tis hard to make a judgment. For then the fire of God's judgment shall try every man's work. And they, whose whose works, like wood, hay, and stubble, cannot abide the fire shall suffer loss; these works being found to be of no value; yet they themselves, having built upon the right foundation, (by living and dying in the true faith, and in the state of grace, though with some imperfection) shall be saved, yet so as by fire; being liable to this punishment, by reason of the wood, hay and stubble, which was mixed with their building.

17 But if any man violate the temple of God: him ſhall God deſtroy. || For the the temple of God is holy, which you are.
|| Infra 6. 19. 2 Cor. 6. 16.

18 Let no man deceive himſelf: if any man among you ſeem to be wiſe in this world, let him become a fool that he may be wiſe.

19 For the wiſdom of this world is fooliſhneſs with God. For it is written: || I will catch the wiſe in their own craftineſs.
|| Job 5. 13.

20 And again: ‡ The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wiſe, that they are vain.
‡ Pſal. 93. 11.

21 Let no man therefore glory in men.

22 For all things are yours, whether it be Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things preſent or things to come: for all are yours:

23 And you are Chriſt's: and Chriſt is God's.

CHAP. IV.

God's miniſters are not to be judged. He reprehends their boaſting of their preachers; and deſcribes the treatment the apoſtles every where met with.

2 Cor. 6. 4. LET a man ſo look upon us as the miniſters of Chriſt, and the diſpenſers of the myſteries of God.

2 Here now it is required among the diſpenſers, that a man be found faithful.

3 But as to me, it is a thing of the leaſt account to be judged by you, or by human judgment: but neither do I judge myſelf.

4 For I am not conſcious to myſelf of any thing: yet in this I am not juſtified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 Therefore judge not before the time: until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkneſs, and will make manifeſt the counſels of the hearts: and then ſhall every man have praiſe from God.

6 But theſe things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myſelf and to Apollo, for your ſakes: that in us you may learn, that one be not puffed up againſt the other for another, above that which is written.

7 For who diſtinguiſheth thee? And what haſt thou that thou haſt not received? And if thou haſt received: why doſt thou glory, as if thou hadſt not received it?

8 Now you are ſatiated, now you are become rich: you reign without us: and I would to God you did reign, that we alſo might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath ſet forth us apoſtles, the laſt, as it were men deſtinated to death: becauſe we are made a ſpectacle to the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are fools for Chriſt's ſake, but you are wiſe in Chriſt: we are weak, but you are ſtrong: you are honourable, but we without honour.

11 Even unto this hour we both hunger, and thirſt, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no fixed abode,

12 || And we labour working with our own hands: we are reviled, and we bleſs: we are perſecuted, and we ſuffer it.
|| Acts 20. 34. 1 Theſſ. 2. 9. 2 Theſſ. 3. 8.

13 We are ill ſpoken of, and we intreat: we are made as the refuſe of this world, the off-ſcouring of all even till now.

14 I write not theſe things to ſhame you: but I admoniſh you as my deareſt children:

15 For if you have ten thouſand inſtructers in Chriſt, yet not many fathers. For in Chriſt Jeſus I have begotten you through the goſpel:

16 Wherefore I beſeech you, be ye followers of me, as I alſo am of Chriſt.

17 For this cauſe have I ſent to you Timothy, who is my deareſt ſon, and faithful in the Lord: who will put you in mind of my ways, which are in Chriſt Jeſus, as I teach every where in every church.

18 Some are ſo puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19 But I will come to you ſhortly, if it pleaſe the Lord: and will know, not the ſpeech of them who are puffed up, but the power.

20 For the kingdom of God is not in ſpeech, but in power.

21 What will you? ſhall I come to you with a rod: or in charity, and in the ſpirit of meekneſs?

CHAP. V.

He excommunicates the inceſtuous adulterers, and admoniſhes them to purge out the old leaven.

IT is heard for certain that there is fornication among you, and ſuch fornication, as the like is not among the heathens? that ſome one hath his father's wife.
Lev. 18. 7. 8. & 20. 11.

2 And you are puffed up: and have not rather mourned, that he might be taken away from among you, who hath done this deed.

3 || I indeed abſent in body, but preſent in ſpirit, have already judged, as though I were preſent, him that hath ſo done,
|| Coloſſ. 2. 5.

4 In the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, you being gathered together and my ſpirit, with the power of our Lord Jeſus,

5 To deliver ſuch a one to ſatan for the deſtruction of the fleſh, that the ſpirit may be ſaved in the day of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

6 Your glorying is not good. || Know you not that a little leaven corrupteth the whole maſs?
|| Gal. 5. 9.

7 Purge out the old leaven, that you may be a new maſs, as you are unleavened. For Chriſt, our paſch, is ſacrificed.

8 Therefore let us feaſt, not with the old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth.

9 I wrote to you in an epiſtle, not to keep company with fornicators.

10 I mean not with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or the extortioners, or the ſervers of idols: otherwiſe you muſt have gone out of this world.

11 But now I have written to you, not to keep company: if any man that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or covetous, or a ſerver of idols, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with ſuch an one not ſo much as to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge them that are without? Do not you judge them that are within?

13 For them that are without, God will judge. Take away the evil one from among yourſelves.

CHAP. VI.

He blames them for going to law before unbelievers. Of ſins that exclude from the kingdom of heaven. The evil of fornication.

DARE any of you, having a matter againſt another, go to law, before the unjuſt, and not before the ſaints?

2 Know you not that the ſaints ſhall judge this world? And if the world ſhall be judged by you: are you unworthy to judge the ſmalleſt matters?

3 Know you not that we ſhall judge angels? how much more things of this world.

4 If therefore you ſhall have judgments about the things of the world: ſet them to judge, who are the moſt deſpiſed in the church.

5 I ſpeak to your ſhame. Is it ſo that there is not among you any wiſe man, that is able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother: and that before unbelievers?

7 || Already indeed there is plainly a fault among you, that you have law-ſuits one with another. Why do you not rather take the injury? why do you not rather ſuffer the fraud?

|| Matt. 5. 39. Luke 6. 29. Rom. 12. 17. 1 Theſſ. 4. 6.

8 But you do wrong and defraud: and that to your brethren.

9 Know you not that the unjuſt ſhall not poſſeſs the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: Neither fornicators, nor idolaters nor adulterers,

10 Nor the effeminate, nor ſodomites, nor thieves, nor the covetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners ſhall poſſeſs the kingdom of God.

11 And ſuch ſome of you were: but you are waſhed, but you are ſanctified, but you are juſtified in the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and in the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawful to me, but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful to me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 The meat for the belly, and the belly for the meats: but God ſhall deſtroy both it and them: but the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 Now God hath both raiſed up the Lord, and will raiſe us up alſo by his power.

15 Know you not, that your bodies are the members of Chriſt? ſhall I then taking the members of Chriſt, make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 Or know you not, that he who adheres to an harlot, is made one body? || For they ſhall be (ſaith he) two in one fleſh.

|| Gen. 2. 24. Matt. 19. 5. Mark 10. 8. Epheſ. 5. 31.

17 But he who adheres to the Lord, is one ſpirit.

18 Fly fornication. Every ſin, that a man doth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, ſinneth againſt his own body.

19 Or know you not, ‡ that your members are the temple of the Holy Ghoſt, who is in you, whom you have from God, and you are not your own?

‡ Supra 3. 17. 2 Cor. 6. 16.

20 || For you are bought with a great price. Glorify and bear God in your body.

|| Infra 7. 23. 1 Pet. 1. 18.

CHAP. VII.

Leſſons relating to marriage and celibacy. Virginity is preferable to a married ſtate.

NOW concerning the things, whereof you wrote to me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman:

CHAP. VI. VER. 7. A fault. Law-ſuits can hardly ever be without a fault, on one ſide or the other; and oftentimes on both ſides.

VER. 12. All things are lawful, &c. That is, all indifferent things are indeed lawful, in as much as they are not prohibited; but oftentimes they are not expedient; as in the caſe of law-ſuits, &c. And much leſs would it be expedient to be enſlaved by an irregular affection to any thing, how indifferent ſoever.

2 But becauſe of fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own huſband.

|| 1 Pet. 3. 7. 3 || Let the huſband render the debt to his wife: and the wife alſo in like manner to the huſband.

4 The wife hath not power over her own body; but the huſband. And in like manner the huſband alſo hath not power of his own body; but the wife.

5 Defraud not one another, unleſs, perhaps by conſent, for a time, that you may give yourſelves to prayer: and return together again, leſt ſatan tempt you for your incontinency.

6 But I ſpeak this by indulgence, not by commandment.

7 For I would that all men were even as myſelf: but every one hath his proper gift from God; one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I ſay to the unmarried and to the widows: it is good for them if they ſo continue, even as I.

9 But if they do not contain themſelves, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

|| Matt. 5. 32. & 19. 9. Mark 10. 9. Luke 16. 18. 10 But to them, that are married, not I but the Lord commandeth, || that the wife depart not from her huſband:

11 And if ſhe depart, that ſhe remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her huſband. And let not the huſband put away his wife.

12 For to the reſt I ſpeak, not the Lord. If any brother have a wife that believeth not, and ſhe conſent to dwell with him; let him not put her away.

13 And if any woman have a huſband that believeth not, and he conſent to dwell with her; let her not put away her huſband.

14 For the unbelieving huſband is ſanctified by the believing wife; and the unbelieving wife is ſanctified by the believing huſband: otherwiſe your children ſhould be unclean; but now they are holy.

15 But if the unbeliever depart, let him depart. For a brother or ſiſter is not under bondage in ſuch caſes: but God hath called us in peace.

16 For how knoweſt thou, O wife, whether thou ſhalt ſave thy huſband? Or how knoweſt thou, O man, whether thou ſhalt ſave thy wife?

17 But as the Lord hath diſtributed to every one, as God hath called every one, ſo let him walk: and ſo I teach in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumciſed? let him not procure uncircumciſion. Is any man called in uncircumciſion? let him not be circumciſed.

19 Circumciſion is nothing, and uncircumciſion is nothing: but the keeping of the commandments of God.

|| Epheſ. 4. 1. 20 || Let every man abide in the ſame calling in which he was called.

21 Art thou called being a bondman? care not for it: but if thou mayeſt be made free, uſe it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a bond-man, is the freeman of the Lord. Likewiſe he that is called, being free, is the bond-man of Chriſt.

|| Supra 6. 20. 1 Pet. 1. 18. 23 || You are bought with a price, be not made the bond-ſlaves of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give counſel, as having obtained mercy of the Lord, to be faithful.

26 I think therefore that this is good for the preſent neceſſity, that it is good for a man ſo to be.

27 Art thou bound to a wife? ſeek not to be looſed. Art thou looſed from a wife? ſeek not a wife.

28 But if thou take a wife, thou haſt not ſinned. And if a virgin marry, ſhe hath not ſinned: nevertheleſs, ſuch ſhall have tribulation of the fleſh. But I ſpare you.

29 This therefore I ſay, brethren: the time is ſhort: it remaineth, that they alſo who have wives, be as thoſe who have not:

30 And they who weep, as they who weep not: and they who rejoice, as they who are not rejoicing: and they who buy, as if they were not poſſeſſing any thing:

31 And they who uſe this world, as if

VER. 2. Have his own wife: That is, keep to his wife, which he hath. His meaning is not to exhort the unmarried to marry; on the contrary, he would have them rather continue as they are. v. 8. But he ſpeaks here to them that are already married: who muſt not depart from one another, but live together as they ought to do in the marriage ſtate.

VER. 6. By Indulgence: That is, by a condeſcenſion to your weakneſs.

VER. 9. If they do not contain, &c. This is ſpoken of ſuch as are free; and not of ſuch as, by vow, have given their firſt faith to God: to whom, if they will uſe proper means to obtain it, God will never refuſe the gift of continency. Some tranſlators have corrupted this text, by rendering it, if they cannot contain.

VER. 12. I ſpeak, not the Lord; viz. By any expreſs commandment, or ordinance.

VER. 14. Is ſanctified. The meaning is not, that the faith of the huſband or the wife is of itſelf ſufficient to put the unbelieving party, or their children, in the ſtate of grace and ſalvation: but that it is very often an occaſion of their ſanctification, by bringing them to the true faith.

they uſed it not: for the figure of this world paſſeth away.

32 But I would have you to be without ſolicitude. He that is without a wife, is ſolicitous for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may pleaſe God.

33 But he that is with a wife, is ſolicitous for the things of the world, how he may pleaſe his wife: and he is divided.

34 And the unmarried woman and the virgin thinketh on the things of the Lord, that ſhe may be holy both in body and ſpirit. But ſhe that is married thinketh on the things of the world, how ſhe may pleaſe her huſband.

35 And this I ſpeak for your profit: not to caſt a ſnare upon you, but for that which is decent, and which may give you power, to attend upon the Lord, without impediment.

36 But if any man think that he ſeemeth diſhonoured with regard to his virgin, for that ſhe is above the age, and it muſt ſo be: let him do what he will: he ſinneth not, if ſhe marry.

37 For he that hath determined being ſtedfaſt in his heart, having no neceſſity, but having power of his own will; and hath judged this in his heart, to keep his virgin, doth well.

38 Therefore both he that giveth his virgin in marriage, doth well: and he that giveth her not, doth better.

|| Rom. 7. 2. 39 || A woman is bound by the law as long as her huſband liveth: but if her huſband die, ſhe is at liberty: let her marry to whom ſhe will: only in the Lord.

40 But more bleſſed ſhall ſhe be, if ſhe ſo remain, according to my counſel: and I think that I alſo have the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

Though an idol be nothing, yet things offered up to idols are not to be eaten, for fear of ſcandal.

NOW concerning thoſe things that are ſacrificed to idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up; but charity edifieth.

2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he hath not yet known, as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, the ſame is known by him.

4 But as for the meats that are offered in ſacrifice to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, either in heaven or on earth (for here are many gods, and many lords);

6 Yet to us there is but one God, the Father; of whom are all things, and we unto him: and one Lord Jeſus Chriſt; by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 But knowledge is not in every one. For ſome until this preſent with a conſcience of the idol, eat as a thing ſacrificed to an idol: and their conſcience, being weak, is defiled.

8 But meat doth not commend us to God. For neither, if we eat, ſhall we have the more: nor, if we eat not, ſhall we have the leſs.

9 But take heed leſt perhaps this your liberty become a ſtumbling block to the weak.

10 For if a man ſee him that hath knowledge, ſit at meat in the idol's temple; ſhall not his conſcience, being weak, be emboldened to eat thoſe things which are ſacrificed to idols?

|| Rom. 14. 15. 11 || And through thy knowledge ſhall the weak brother periſh, for whom Chriſt died?

12 Now when you ſin thus againſt the brethren, and wound their weak conſcience, you ſin againſt Chriſt.

|| Rom. 14. 21. 13 || Wherefore if meat ſcandalize my brother, I will never eat fleſh, leſt I ſhould ſcandalize my brother.

CHAP. IX.

The apoſtle did not make uſe of his power, of being maintained at the charges of thoſe to whom he preached, that he might give no hinderance to the goſpel. Of running in the race, and ſtriving for the maſtery.

AM not I free? Am not I an apoſtle? Have not I ſeen Chriſt Jeſus our Lord? Are not you my work in the Lord?

2 And if I be not an apoſtle to others, but yet to you I am. For you are the ſeal of my apoſtleſhip in the Lord.

3 My defence with them that examine me is this.

4 Have not we power to eat and to drink?

VER. 36. Let him do what he will: he ſinneth not, &c. The meaning is not, as libertines would have it, that perſons may do what they will, and not ſin: provided they afterwards marry: but that the father with regard to the giving his virgin in marriage, may do as he pleaſeth: and that it will be no ſin to him if ſhe marry.

VER. 1. Knowledge puffeth up, &c. Knowledge without charity and humility, ſerveth only to puff perſons up.

VER. 5. Gods many, &c. Reputed for ſuch among the heathens.

VER. 13. If meat ſcandalize: That is, if my eating cauſe my brother to ſin.

5 Have we not power to lead about a woman a ſiſter, as well as the reſt of the apoſtles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas have we not power to do this?

7 Who ſerveth as a ſoldier at any time, at his own charges? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? Who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Speak I theſe things according to man? Or doth not the law alſo ſay theſe things?

9 For it is written in the Law of Moſes: ‖ Thou ſhalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

‖ Deut. 25. 4. 1. Tim. 5. 18.

10 Or doth he ſay this indeed for our ſakes? For theſe things were written for our ſakes: that he that ploweth ſhould plow in hope: and he that threſheth, in hope to receive fruit.

11 ‖ If we have ſown unto you ſpiritual things, is it a great matter if we reap your carnal things?

‖ Rom. 15. 27.

12 If others be partakers of this power over you: why not we rather? Nevertheleſs we have not uſed this power: but we bear all things, leſt we ſhould give any hinderance to the goſpel of Chriſt.

13 ‖ Know you not, that they who work in the holy place: eat the things that are of the holy place: and they who ſerve the altar, partake with the altar?

‖ Deut. 18. 1.

14 So alſo the Lord ordained that they who preach the goſpel, ſhould live of the goſpel.

15 But I have uſed none of theſe things. Neither have I written theſe things, that they ſhould be ſo done to me: for it is good for me to die, rather than that any one ſhould make void my glory.

16 For if I preach the goſpel: it is no glory to me: for a neceſſity lieth upon me: for wo is unto me if I preach not the goſpel.

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if againſt my will, a diſpenſation is committed to me.

18 What is my reward then? That preaching the goſpel, I may deliver the goſpel without charge, that I abuſe not my power in the goſpel.

19 For whereas I was free as to all, I made myſelf the ſervant of all: that I might gain more perſons.

20 And I became to the Jews as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews.

21 To them that are under the law, as if I were under the law, (whereas myſelf was not under the law) that I might gain them that were under the law. To them that were without the law, as if I were without the law (whereas I was not without the law of God, but was in the law of Chriſt) that I might gain them that were without the law.

22 To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak. I became all things to all men, that I might ſave all.

23 And I do all things for the goſpel's ſake: that I may be made partaker thereof.

24 Know you not that they who run in the race, all run indeed, but one receiveth the prize? So run that you may obtain.

25 And every one that ſtriveth for the maſtery refraineth himſelf from all things: and they indeed that they may receive a corruptible crown: but we an incorruptible one.

26 I therefore ſo run, not as at an uncertainty: I ſo fight, not as one beating the air:

27 But I chaſtiſe my body, and bring it into ſubjection: leſt perhaps, when I have preached to others, I myſelf ſhould become reprobate.

CHAP. X.

By the example of the Iſraelites he ſhews that we are not to build too much upon favours received; but avoid their ſins; and fly from the ſervice of idols, and from things offered to devils.

FOR I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that our fathers were all ‖ under the cloud, and all paſſed through ‡ the ſea:

‖ Exod. 13. 21. Num. 9. 21. ‡ Exod. 14. 22.

2 And all in Moſes were baptized, in the cloud, and in the ſea:

CHAP. IX. VER. 5. A woman a ſiſter. Some erroneous tranſlators have corrupted this text, by rendering it, a ſiſter, a wife; whereas, it is certain, St. Paul had no wife [Chap. vii. 7. 8.] and that he only ſpeaks of ſuch devout women, as, according to the cuſtom of the Jewiſh nation, waited upon the preachers of the goſpel, and ſupplied them with neceſſaries.

VER. 16. It is no glory. That is, I have nothing to glory of.

VER. 27. I chaſtiſe &c. Here St. Paul ſhews the neceſſity of ſelf-denial and mortification to ſubdue the fleſh, and its inordinate deſires.

CHAP. X. VER. 2. In Moſes. Under the conduct of Moſes they received baptiſm in figure, by paſſing under the cloud, and through the ſea: and they partook of the body and blood of Chriſt in figure, by eating of the manna, (called here a ſpiritual food, becauſe it was a figure of the true bread which comes down from heaven) and drinking the water, miraculouſly brought out of the rock, called here a ſpiritual rock; becauſe it was alſo a figure of Chriſt.

3 ‖ And they all eat the ſame ſpiritual food.

‖ Exod. 16. 15.

4 ‡ And all drank the ſame ſpiritual drink: (and they drank of the ſpiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Chriſt).

‡ Exod. 17. 6. Num. 20. 11.

5 But with the moſt of them God was not well pleaſed: ‖ for they were overthrown in the deſert.

‖ Num. 26. 64. & 65.

6 Now theſe things were done in a figure of us, that we ſhould not covet evil things, ‖ as they alſo coveted.

‖ Pſal. 105. 14.

7 Neither become ye idolaters, as ſome of them: as it is written: ‡ The people ſat down to eat and drink, and roſe up to play.

‡ Exod. 32. 6.

8 Neither let us commit fornication, ‖ as ſome of them committed fornication, and there fell in one day three and twenty thouſand.

‖ Num. 21. 5. & 6.

9 Neither let us tempt Chriſt: as ſome of them tempted, and periſhed by ſerpents.

10 ‖ Neither do you murmur: as ſome of them murmured, and were deſtroyed by the deſtroyer.

‖ Num. 11. 1. & 14. 1.

11 Now all theſe things happened to them in figure: and they are written for our correction, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh himſelf to ſtand, take heed leſt he fall.

13 Let no temptation take hold on you, but ſuch as is human: and God is faithful, who will not ſuffer you to be tempted above that which you are able: but will make alſo with temptation iſſue, that you may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from the ſervice of idols.

15 I ſpeak as to wiſe men: judge ye yourſelves what I ſay.

16 The chalice of benediction which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? And the bread which we break, is it not the partaking of the body of the Lord?

17 For we being many, are one bread, one body, all who partake of one bread.

18 Behold Iſrael according to the fleſh: are not they, who eat of the ſacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What then? Do I ſay, that what is offered in ſacrifice to idols, is any thing? Or that the idol is any thing?

20 But the things which the heathens ſacrifice, they ſacrifice to devils, and not to God. And I would not that you ſhould be made partakers with devils: you cannot drink the chalice of the Lord, and the chalice of devils:

21 You cannot be partakers of the table of the Lord, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we provoke the Lord to jealouſy? Are we ſtronger than he? ‖ All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient.

‖ Supra 6. 12.

23 All things are lawful for me, but all things do not edify.

24 Let no man ſeek his own, but that which is for the welfare of another.

25 Whatſoever is ſold in the ſhambles, eat: aſking no queſtion for conſcience ſake.

26 ‖ The earth is the Lord's and the fulneſs thereof.

‖ Pſal. 23. 1. Eccli. 17. 31.

27 If any of the infidels invite you, and you be willing to go: eat of any thing that is ſet before you, aſking no queſtion for conſcience ſake.

28 But if any man ſay: This hath been ſacrificed to idols: do not eat of it for his ſake that told it, and for conſcience ſake.

29 Conſcience, I ſay, not thy own, but the other's. For why is my liberty judged by another man's conſcience?

30 If I partake with thankſgiving: why am I evil ſpoken of for that for which I give thanks?

31 ‖ Therefore whether you eat or drink or whatſoever elſe you do; do all things for the glory of God.

‖ Coloſſ. 3. 17.

32 Give no offence to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

33 As I alſo pleaſe all men in all things, not ſeeking that which is profitable to myſelf, but to many; that they may be ſaved.

CHAP. XI.

Women muſt have a covering over their heads. He blameth the abuſes of their love feaſts; and upon that occaſion, treats of the bleſſed ſacrament.

BE ye alſo followers of me, as I alſo am of Chriſt.

VER. 11. The ends of the world: That is, the laſt ages.

VER. 13. Or, no temptation hath taken hold of you, or come upon you as yet, but what is human, or incident to man.

Ibid. Iſſue, or a way to eſcape.

VER. 16. Which we bleſs. Here the apoſtle puts them in mind of their partaking of the body and blood of Chriſt in the ſacred myſteries, and becoming thereby one myſtical body with Chriſt. From whence he infers, ver. 21. that they who are made partakers with Chriſt, by the euchariſtic ſacrifice, and ſacrament, muſt not be made partakers with devils by eating of the meats ſacrificed to them.

VER. 17. One bread; or, as it may be rendered agreeably both to the Latin and Greek, becauſe the bread is one, all we, being many, are one body, who partake of that one bread. For it is by our communicating with Chriſt, and with one another, in this bleſſed Sacrament, that we are formed into one myſtical body; and made, as it were, one bread, compounded of many grains of corn, cloſely united together.

2 Now I praiſe you, brethren, that in all things you are mindful of me: and keep my ordinances as I delivered them to you.

‖ Ephes. 5. 23. 3 But I would have you know ‖ that the head of every man is Chriſt: and the head of the woman is the man: and the head of Chriſt, is God.

4 Every man praying or propheſying with his head covered, diſgraceth his head.

5 But every woman praying or propheſying with her head not covered, diſgraceth her head: for it is all one as if ſhe were ſhaven.

6 For if a woman be not covered, let her be ſhorn. But if it be a ſhame to a woman to be ſhorn or ſhaven, let her cover her head.

‖ Gen. 1. 26. 7 The man indeed ought not to cover his head: becauſe he is the ‖ image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

‖ Gen. 2. 23. 9 ‖ For the man was not created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 Therefore ought the woman to have a power over her head becauſe of the Angels.

11 But yet neither is the man without the woman, nor the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, ſo alſo is the man by the woman: but all things of God.

13 Judge, you yourſelves: doth it become a woman, to pray to God, uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itſelf teach you, that a man indeed, if he nouriſh his hair, it is a ſhame to him:

15 But if a woman nouriſh her hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given to her for a covering.

16 But if any man ſeem to be contentious, we have no ſuch cuſtom, nor hath the church of God.

17 Now this I ordain: not praiſing you, that you come together not for the better, but for the worſe.

18 For firſt of all I hear that when you come together in the church, there are diviſions among you, and in part I believe it.

19 For there muſt be alſo hereſies: that they alſo, who are reproved, may be made manifeſt among you.

20 When you come together therefore into one place, it is not now to eat the Lord's ſupper.

21 For every one taketh before his own ſupper to eat. And one indeed is hungry, and another is drunk.

22 What, have you not houſes to eat and to drink in? Or deſpiſe ye the church of God, and put them to ſhame that have not? What ſhall I ſay to you? Do I praiſe you? In this I praiſe you not.

23 For I have received of the Lord that which alſo I delivered to you, that the Lord Jeſus, the night in which he was betrayed, took bread,

‖ Matt. 26. 26. Mark 14. 22. Luke 22. 17. 24 And giving thanks, broke, and ſaid: ‖ Take ye, and eat: this is my body which ſhall be delivered for you: do this for the commemoration of me.

25 In like manner alſo the chalice, after he had ſupped, ſaying: This chalice is the new teſtament in my blood: this do ye, as often as you ſhall drink it for the commemoration of me.

26 For as often as you ſhall eat this bread, and drink this chalice, you ſhall ſhew the death of the Lord until he come.

‖ John 6. 59. 27 ‖ Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this bread, or drink the chalice of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the body and of the blood of the Lord.

‖ 2. Cor. 13. 5. 28 ‖ But let a man prove himſelf: and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of the chalice.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh judgment to himſelf, not diſcerning the body of the Lord.

30 Therefore are there many infirm and weak among you, and many ſleep.

31 But if we would judge ourſelves, we ſhould not be judged.

32 But whilſt we are judged, we are chaſtiſed by the Lord; that we may not be damned with this world.

VER. 10. A power: That is, a veil or covering, as a ſign that ſhe is under the power of her huſband: and this, the apoſtle adds, becauſe of the angels, who are preſent in the aſſemblies of the faithful.

VER. 19. There muſt be hereſies: By reaſon of the pride and perverſity of man's heart; not by God's will or appointment; who nevertheleſs draws good out of this evil, manifeſting, by that occaſion, who are the good and firm Chriſtians, and making their faith more remarkable.

VER. 20. The Lord's ſupper. So the apoſtle here calls the charity feaſts obſerved by the primitive Chriſtians; and reprehends the abuſes of the Corinthians, on theſe occaſions; which were the more crimnal, becauſe theſe feaſts were accompanied with the celebrating the euchariſtic ſacrifice and ſacrament.

VER. 27. Or drink. Here erroneous tranſlators corrupted the Text, by putting and drink (contrary to the original, ἢ πίνῃ) inſtead of or drink.

VER. 27, 29. Guilty of the body, &c. not diſcerning the body &c. This demonſtrates the real preſence of the body and blood of Chriſt, even to the unworthy communicant; who otherwiſe could not be guilty of the body and blood of Chriſt, or juſtly condemned for not diſcerning the Lord's body.

VER. 28. Drink of the chalice. This is not ſaid by way of command, but by way of allowance, viz. where and when it is agreeable to the practice and diſcipline of the church.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when you come together to eat, wait for one another.

34 If any man be hungry let him eat at home: that you come not together unto judgment. And the reſt I will ſet in order, when I come.

CHAP. XII.

Of the diverſity of ſpiritual gifts. The members of the myſtical body, like thoſe of the natural body, muſt mutually cheriſh one another.

NOW concerning ſpiritual things, my brethren, I would not have you to be ignorant.

2 You know that, when you were heathens, you went to dumb idols, according as you were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to underſtand, ‖ that no man, ſpeaking by the Spirit of God, ſaith anathema to Jeſus. And no man can ſay, the Lord Jeſus, but by the Holy Ghoſt. ‖ Mark 9. 38.

4 Now there are diverſities of graces, but the ſame Spirit:

5 And there are diverſities of miniſtries, but the ſame Lord.

6 And there are diverſities of operations, but the ſame God, who worketh all in all.

7 But the manifeſtation of the Spirit is given to every man unto profit.

8 To one indeed, by the Spirit, is given the word of wiſdom: and to another, the word of knowledge, according to the ſame Spirit.

9 To another, faith in the ſame Spirit: to another, the grace of healing in one Spirit:

10 To another, the working of miracles: to another, prophecy: to another the diſcerning of ſpirits: to another divers kinds of tongues: to another interpretation of ſpeeches.

‖ Rom. 12. 3. & 6. Epheſ. 4. 7.

11 ‖ But all theſe things one and the ſame Spirit worketh, dividing to every one according as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members: and all the members of the body, whereas they are many, yet are one body: ſo alſo is Chriſt.

13 For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews, or Gentiles, whether bond or free: and in one Spirit we have all been made to drink.

14 For the body alſo is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot ſhould ſay, becauſe I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear ſhould ſay, becauſe I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were the eye: where would be the hearing? If the whole were hearing: where would be the ſmelling?

18 But now God hath ſet the members, every one of them in the body as it hath pleaſed him.

19 And if they all were one member, where would be the body?

20 But now there are many members indeed, yet one body.

21 And the eye cannot ſay to the hand: I need not thy help: nor again the head to the feet: I have no need of you.

22 Yea much more thoſe that ſeem to be the more feeble members of the body, are more neceſſary:

23 And ſuch as we think to be the leſs honourable members of the body, upon theſe we beſtow more abundant honour: and thoſe that are our uncomely parts, have more abundant comelineſs.

24 But our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, giving the more abundant honour, to that which wanted it,

25 That there might be no ſchiſm in the body, but the members might be mutually careful one for another.

26 And if one member ſuffer any thing, all the members ſuffer with it: or if one member glory, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now you are the body of Chriſt, and members of member.

28 ‖ And God indeed hath ſet ſome in the church, firſt apoſtles, ſecondly prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then the graces of healings, helps, governments, kinds of tongues, interpretations of ſpeeches. ‖ Epheſ. 4. 11.

29 Are all apoſtles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers?

30 Are all workers of miracles? Have all the grace of healing? Do all ſpeak with tongues? Do all interpret?

31 But be zealous for the better gifts. And I yet ſhew to you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Charity is to be preferred before all other gifts.

IF I ſpeak with the tongues of men, and of Angles, and have not charity, I am become as ſounding braſs, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And if I ſhould have prophecy, and ſhould know all myſteries, and all knowledge: and if I ſhould have all faith, ſo that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3 And if I ſhould diſtribute all my goods to feed the poor, and if I ſhould deliver my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charity is patient, is kind: charity envieth not, dealeth not perverſely, is not puffed up,

5 Is not ambitious, ſeeketh not her own, is not provoked to anger, thinketh no evil,

6 Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth with the truth:

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth; whether propheciesſhall be made void, or tongues ſhall ceaſe, or knowledge ſhall be deſtroyed.

9 For we know in part, and we prophecy in part.

10 But when that which is perfect ſhall come, that which is in part ſhall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I ſpoke as a child, I underſtood as a child, I thought as a child. But when I became a man, I put away the things of a child.

12 We ſee now through a glaſs in an obſcure manner: but then face to face. Now I know in part: but then I ſhall know even as I am known.

13 And now there remain, faith, hope, and charity, theſe three: but the greateſt of theſe is charity.

CHAP. XIV.

The gift of propheſying is to be preferred before that of ſpeaking ſtrange tongues.

FOLLOW after charity, be zealous for ſpiritual gifts: but rather that you may propheſy.

2 For he that ſpeaketh in a tongue, ſpeaketh not to men, but to God: for no man heareth. But by the Spirit he ſpeaketh myſteries.

3 But he that propheſieth, ſpeaketh to men unto edification, and exhortation and comfort.

4 He that ſpeaketh in a tongue, edifieth himſelf; but he that propheſieth, edifieth the church.

5 And I would have you all to ſpeak with tongues, but rather to propheſy. For greater is he that propheſieth, than he that ſpeaketh with tongues: unleſs perhaps he interpret, that the church may receive edification.

6 But now, brethren, if I come to you, ſpeaking with tongues, what ſhall I profit you, unleſs I ſpeak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophecy, or in doctrine?

7 Even things without life that give ſound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a diſtinction of ſounds, how ſhall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain ſound, who ſhall prepare himſelf to battle?

9 So likewiſe you, unleſs you utter by the tongue plain ſpeech, how ſhall it be known what is ſpoken? For you ſhall be ſpeaking into the air.

10 There are, for example, ſo many kinds of tongues in this world: and none is without a voice.

11 If then I know not the power of the voice, I ſhall be to him, to whom I ſpeak, a barbarian, and he, that ſpeaketh, a barbarian to me.

12 So you alſo, foraſmuch as you are zealous of ſpirits, ſeek to abound unto the edifying of the church.

13 And therefore let him that ſpeaketh a tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in a tongue, my ſpirit prayeth, but my underſtanding is without fruit.

15 What is it then? I will pray in the ſpirit, I will pray alſo in the underſtanding: I will ſing with the ſpirit, I will ſing alſo with the underſtanding.

16 Elſe if thou ſhalt bleſs in the ſpirit, how ſhall he that holdeth the place of the unlearned ſay Amen to thy bleſſing? becauſe he knoweth not what thou ſayeſt.

17 For thou indeed giveſt thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God I ſpeak with all your tongues.

19 But in the church I had rather ſpeak five words with my underſtanding, that I may inſtruct others alſo; than ten thouſand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren do not become children in ſenſe, but in malice be children, and in ſenſe be perfect.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 1. Propheſy. That is, declare or expound the myſteries of faith.

VER. 2. Not to men, viz. So as to be heard, that is, ſo as to be underſtood by them.

VER. 12. Of ſpirits. Of ſpiritual gifts.

VER. 16. Amen. The unlearned not knowing that you are then bleſſing, will not be qualified to join with you by ſaying Amen to your bleſſing. The uſe or abuſe of ſtrange tongues, of which the apoſtle here ſpeaks, does not regard the public liturgy of the church, (in which ſtrange tongues were never uſed) but certain conferences of the faithful, v. 26. &c. in which, meeting together, they diſcovered to one another their various miraculous gifts of the Spirit, common in thoſe primitive times; amongſt which the apoſtle prefers that of propheſying before that of ſpeaking ſtrange tongues, becauſe it was more to the public edification. Where alſo note, that the Latin, uſed in our liturgy, is ſo far from being a ſtrange or unknown tongue, that it is perhaps the beſt known tongue in the world.

21 In the law it is written: ‖ That in other tongues and other lips I will ſpeak to this people: and neither ſo will they hear me, ſaith the Lord. ‖ Iſai. 28. 11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a ſign, not to believers, but to unbelievers: but prophecies, not to unbelievers but to believers.

23 If therefore the whole church come together into one place, and all ſpeak with tongues, and there come in unlearned perſons or unbelievers, will not they ſay that you are mad?

24 But if all prophefy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.

25 The ſecrets of his heart are made manifeſt, and ſo, falling down on his face, he will adore God, affirming that God is among you indeed.

26 How is it then, brethren? When you come together, every one of you hath a pſalm, hath a doctrine, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation: let all things be done unto edification.

27 If any ſpeak in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the moſt by three, and in courſe, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him hold his peace in the church, and ſpeak to himſelf and to God.

29 And let the prophets ſpeak, two or three: and let the reſt judge.

30 But if any thing be revealed to another ſitting, let the firſt hold his peace.

31 For you may all prophefy one by one: that all may learn, and all may be exhorted:

32 And the ſpirits of the prophets are ſubject to the prophets.

33 For he is not the God of diſſenſion, but of peace: as alſo I teach in all the churches of the ſaints.

34 Let women keep ſilence in the churches: for it is not permitted to them to ſpeak, but to be ſubject, ‖ as alſo the law ſaith. ‖ Gen. 3. 16.

35 But if they would learn any thing, let them aſk their huſbands at home. For it is a ſhame for a woman to ſpeak in the church.

36 Or did the word of God come out from you? Or came it only unto you?

37 If any man ſeem to be a prophet, or ſpiritual, let him know the things that I write to you, that they are the commands of the Lord.

38 But if any man know not, he ſhall not be known.

39 Wherefore, brethren, be zealous to prophefy: and forbid not to ſpeak with tongues.

40 But let all things be done decently, and according to order.

CHAP. XV.

Chriſt's reſurrection and ours: the manner of our reſurrection.

NOW I make known unto you brethren, the goſpel which I preached to you, which alſo you have received, and wherein you ſtand, Gal. 1. 11.

2 By which alſo you are ſaved: if you hold faſt after what manner I preached to you, unleſs you have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered to you firſt of all, which I alſo received: how that Chriſt died for our ſins ‖ according to the Scriptures: ‖ Iſai. 53. 5.

4 ‡ And that he was buried, and that he roſe again the third day according to the Scriptures: ‡ Jonas 2. 1.

5 And that he was ſeen by Cephas, ‖ and after that by the eleven. ‖ John 20. 19.

6 Then was he ſeen by more than five hundred brethren at once: of whom many remain until this preſent, and ſome are fallen aſleep.

7 After that, he was ſeen by James, then by all the apoſtles:

8 And laſt of all, he was ſeen alſo by me, as by one born out of due time.

9 ‖ For I am the leaſt of the apoſtles, who who am not worthy to be called an apoſtle, becauſe I perſecuted the church of God. ‖ Acts 9. 3. Epheſ. 3. 8.

10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace in me hath not been void, but I have laboured more abundantly than all they: yet not I, but the grace of God with me:

11 For whether I, or they: ſo we preach, and ſo you have believed.

12 Now if Chriſt be preached that he aroſe again from the dead, how do ſome among you ſay, that there is no reſurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no reſurrection of the dead, then Chriſt is not riſen again.

14 And if Chriſt be not riſen again, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is alſo vain:

15 Yea, and we are found falſe witneſſes of God: becauſe we have given teſtimony againſt God, that he hath raiſed up Chriſt, whom he hath not raiſed up, if the dead riſe not again.

16 For if the dead riſe not again, neither is Chriſt riſen again.

17 And if Chriſt be not riſen again, your faith is vain, for you are yet in your ſins.

18 Therefore they alſo, who have ſlept in Chriſt, have periſhed.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Chriſt, we are of all men the moſt miſerable.

20 But now Chriſt is riſen from the dead, the firſt-fruits of them that ſleep.

‖ Coloſſ. 1. 18. Apoc. 1. 5. 21 ‖ For by a man came death, and by a man the reſurrection of the dead.

22 And as in Adam all die, ſo alſo in Chriſt all ſhall be made alive.

† 1 Theſſ. 4. 15. 23 † But every one in his own order: the firſt-fruits Chriſt, then they that are of Chriſt, who have believed in his coming:

24 Afterwards the end, when he ſhall have delivered up the kingdom to God and the Father, when he ſhall have aboliſhed all principality, and authority, and power.

‖ Pſal. 109. 1. Hebr. 1. 13. & 10. 13. 25 For he muſt reign, ‖ until he hath put all enemies under his feet.

‡ Pſal. 8. 8. Hebr. 2. 8. 26 And the enemy death ſhall be deſtroyed laſt: ‡ For he hath put all things under his feet. And whereas he ſaith,

27 All things are put under him; undoubtedly, he is excepted, who put all things under him.

28 And when all things ſhall be ſubdued unto him: then the Son alſo himſelf ſhall be ſubject to him who ſubjected all things to himſelf, that God may be all in all.

29 Otherwiſe what ſhall they do who are baptized for the dead, if the dead riſe not again at all? why are they then baptized for them?

30 Why alſo are we in danger every hour?

31 I die daily by your glory, brethren, which I have in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord:

‖ Wiſd. 2. 6. Iſai. 22. 13. & 56. 12. 32 If (according to man) I fought with beaſts at Epheſus, what doth it profit me if the dead riſe not again? ‖ Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we ſhall die.

33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 Awake, ye juſt, and ſin not. For ſome have not the knowledge of God, I ſpeak it to your ſhame.

35 But ſome man will ſay: How do the dead riſe again? or with what manner of body ſhall they come?

36 Senſeleſs man, that which thou ſoweſt, is not quickened, except it die firſt.

37 And that which thou ſoweſt, thou ſoweſt not the body that ſhall be: but bare grain, as of wheat, or of ſome of the reſt.

38 But God giveth it a body as he will: and to every ſeed its proper body.

39 All fleſh is not the ſame fleſh: but ſome is that of men, another of beaſts, another of birds, another of fiſhes.

40 And there are bodies celeſtial, and bodies terreſtrial: but the glory of the celeſtial is one, and that of the terreſtrial another.

41 There is one glory of the ſun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the ſtars. For ſtar differeth from ſtar in glory:

42 So alſo is the reſurrection of the dead. It is ſown in corruption, it ſhall riſe in incorruption.

43 It is ſown in diſhonour, it ſhall riſe in glory: It is ſown in weakneſs, it ſhall riſe in power:

44 It is ſown an animal body, it ſhall riſe a ſpiritual body. If there be an animal body, there is alſo a ſpiritual body, as it is written:

‖ Gen. 2. 7. 45 ‖ The firſt man Adam was made a living ſoul: the laſt Adam a quickening ſpirit.

46 But not firſt that which is ſpiritual, but that which is animal: afterwards that which is ſpiritual.

47 The firſt man was of the earth, earthly: the ſecond man from heaven, heavenly.

48 Such as is the earthly, ſuch alſo are the earthly: and ſuch as is the heavenly, ſuch alſo are they that are heavenly.

49 Therefore as we have born the image of the earthly, let us bear alſo the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I ſay, brethren, that fleſh and blood cannot poſſeſs the kingdom of God: neither ſhall corruption poſſeſs incorruption.

51 Behold I tell you a myſtery: We ſhall all indeed riſe again: but we ſhall not all be changed.

52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the laſt trumpet: for the trumpet ſhall ſound, and the dead ſhall riſe again incorruptible: and we ſhall be changed.

53 For this corruptible muſt put on incorruption: and this mortal muſt put on immortality.

54 And when this mortal hath put on immortality, then ſhall come to paſs the ſaying

---

CHAP. XV. VER. 28. The Son alſo himſelf ſhall be ſubject to him. That is, the Son will be ſubject to the Father, according to his human nature, even after the general reſurrection: and alſo the whole myſtical body of Chriſt will be entirely ſubject to God, obeying him in every thing.

VER. 29. Who are baptized for the dead. Some think the apoſtle here alludes to a ceremony then in uſe: but others, more probably, to the prayers and penitential labours, performed by the primitive chriſtians for the ſouls of the faithful departed: or to the baptiſm of afflictions and ſufferings undergone for ſinners ſpiritually dead.

VER. 32. Let us eat and drink, &c. That is, if we did not believe that we were to riſe again from the dead, we might live like the impious and wicked who have no belief in the reſurrection.

‖ Osee 13. 14. Hebr. 2. 14. that is written: ‖ Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?

56 Now the sting of death is sin: and the power of sin is the law.

‡ 1 John. 5. 5. 57 ‡ But thanks be to God, who hath given us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast and unmoveable: always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

Of collection of alms, admonitions and salutations.

NOW concerning the collections that are made for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, so do you also.

2 On the first day of the week let every one of you put apart with himself, laying up what it shall well please him: that when I come, the gatherings be not then to be made.

3 And when I shall be with you: whomsoever you shall approve by letters, those will I send to carry your bounty to Jerusalem.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come to you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia. For I shall pass through Macedonia.

6 And with you perhaps I shall make a stay or even spend the winter: that you may bring me on my journey whithersoever I shall go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way, for I hope that I shall remain with you some time, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will stay at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 For a gate is opened to me large and evident: and many adversaries.

10 Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear, for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him, but conduct ye him on his way in peace: that he may come to me. For I look for him with the brethren.

12 As to our brother Apollo, I let you know that I earnestly intreated him to come to you with the brethren: and indeed it was not his will at all to come at this time. But he will come when he shall have leisure.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, do manfully, and be strengthened.

14 Let all your actions be done in charity.

15 And I beseech you, brethren, you know the house of Stephanas, and of Fortunatus, and of Achaicus, that they are the first-fruits of Achaia, and have dedicated themselves to the ministry of the saints:

16 That you also be subject to such, and to every one that worketh with us, and laboureth.

17 And I rejoice in the presence of Stephanas and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, for that which was wanting on your part, they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed both my spirit and yours. Know them therefore that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house: with whom I also lodge.

20 All the brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul, with my own hand.

22 If any man love not our Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathema Maran Atha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My charity be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 22. Let him be anathema Maran Atha. Anathema signifies here a thing accursed. Maran Atha, which according to St. Jerom and St. Chrysostom, signify, The Lord is come already, and therefore is to be taken as an admonition to those who doubted of the resurrection, and to put them in mind that Christ, the judge of the living and the dead, is come already. Others explain Maran Atha: May our Lord come, that is, to judge and punish those with exemplary judgments and punishments, that do not love the Lord Jesus Christ.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

In this Epiſtle St. PAUL comforts thoſe who are now reformed by his admonitions to them in the former, and abſolves the inceſtuous man on doing penance, whom he had before excommunicated for his crime. Hence he treats of true penance, and of the dignity of the miniſters of the New Teſtament. He cautions the faithful againſt falſe teachers and the ſociety of infidels. He gives an account of his ſufferings, and alſo of the favours and graces which God hath beſtowed on him. This ſecond Epiſtle was written in the ſame year with the firſt, and ſent by TITUS from ſome place in Macedonia.

CHAP. I.

He ſpeaks of his troubles in Aſia. His not coming to them was not out of levity. The conſtancy and ſincerity of his doctrine.

PAUL an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt by the will of God, and Timothy our brother: to the church of God that is at Corinth, with all the ſaints who are in all Achaia.

2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

‖ Epheſ. 1. 3. / 1 Peter 1. 3.

3 ‖ Bleſſed be the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Father of mercies, and the God of all conſolation,

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulations: that we alſo may be able to comfort them who are in any diſtreſs, by the exhortation wherewith we alſo are exhorted by God.

5 For as the ſufferings of Chriſt abound in us: ſo alſo by Chriſt doth our comfort abound.

6 Now whether we be in tribulation, it is for your exhortation and ſalvation: or whether we be comforted, it is for your conſolation: or whether we be exhorted, it is for your exhortation and ſalvation, which worketh the enduring of the ſame ſufferings which we alſo ſuffer.

7 That our hope for you may be ſteadfaſt: knowing that as you are partakers of the ſufferings, ſo ſhall you be alſo of the conſolation.

8 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, of our tribulation, which came to us in Aſia, that we were preſſed out of meaſure above our ſtrength, ſo that we were weary even of life.

9 But we had in ourſelves the anſwer of death, that we ſhould not truſt in ourſelves, but in God who raiſeth the dead:

10 Who hath delivered, and doth deliver us out of ſo great dangers: in whom we hope that he will yet alſo deliver us.

11 You helping withal in prayer for us: that for this gift obtained for us, by many perſons, thanks may be given by many in our behalf.

12 For our glory is this, the teſtimony of our conſcience, that in ſimplicity of heart and ſincerity of God, and not in carnal wiſdom, but in the grace of God, we have converſed in this world: and more abundantly towards you.

13 For we write no other things to you, than what you have read and known. And I hope that you ſhall know unto the end:

14 As alſo you have known us in part, that we are your glory, as you alſo are ours on the day of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

15 And in this confidence I had a mind to come to you before, that you might have a ſecond favour:

16 And to paſs by you into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and by you to be brought on my way towards Judea.

17 When therefore I had a mind to do this, did I uſe levity? Or the things that

I purpoſe, do I purpoſe according to the fleſh, that there ſhould be with me, IT IS, and, IT IS NOT.

18 But God is faithful, for our preaching which was to you, was not, IT IS, and IT IS NOT.

19 For the Son of God Jeſus Chriſt, who was preached among you by us, by me, and Silvanus, and Timothy was not, IT IS, and IT IS NOT, but, IT IS, was in him.

20 For all the promiſes of God are in him IT IS: therefore alſo by him, Amen to God, unto our glory.

21 Now he that confirmeth us with you in Chriſt and he that hath anointed us, is God:

22 Who alſo hath ſealed us, and given the pledge of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But I call God to witneſs upon my ſoul, that to ſpare you, I came not as yet to Corinth: not becauſe we lord it over your faith: but we are helpers of your joy: for in faith you ſtand.

CHAP. II.

He grants a pardon to the inceſtuous man, upon his doing penance.

BUT I determined this with myſelf, that I would not come to you again in ſorrow:

2 For if I make you ſorrowful; who is he then that ſhould make me glad, but he who is made ſorrowful by me?

3 And I wrote this ſame to you; that I may not, when I come, have ſorrow upon ſorrow, from them of whom I ought to rejoice: having confidence in you all that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction, and anguiſh of heart I wrote to you with many tears: not that you ſhould be made ſorrowful, but that you might know the charity I have more abundantly towards you.

5 And if any one have cauſed grief, he hath not grieved me: but in part, that I may not charge you all.

6 To him who is ſuch a one, this rebuke is ſufficient, which is given by many:

7 So that on the contrary you ſhould rather forgive him, and comfort him, leſt perhaps ſuch a one be ſwallowed up with over-much ſorrow.

8 Wherefore I beſeech you, that you would confirm your charity towards him.

9 For to this end alſo did I write, that I might know the experiment of you, whether you be obedient in all things.

10 And to whom you have forgiven any thing, I alſo: for, what I forgave, if I have forgiven any thing, for your ſakes have I done it in the perſon of Chriſt;

11 That we may not be circumvented by ſatan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 And when I was come to Troas for the goſpel of Chriſt, and a door was opened to me in the Lord,

13 I had no reſt in my ſpirit, becauſe I found not Titus my brother, but bidding them farewell, I went from thence to Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be to God who always cauſeth us to triumph in Chriſt Jeſus, and maketh manifeſt the odour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God the good odour of Chriſt in them who are ſaved, and in them who periſh.

16 To ſome indeed the odour of death unto death: but to the others the odour of life unto life. And for theſe things who is ſo ſufficient?

17 For we are not as many adulterating the word of God, but with ſincerity, but as from God, in the ſight of God, we ſpeak in Chriſt.

CHAP. III.

He needs no commendatory letters. The glory of the miniſtry of the New Teſtament.

DO we begin again to commend ourſelves? Or do we need (as ſome do) epiſtles of commendation to you, or from you?

2 You are our epiſtle, written in our hearts, which is known and read by all men:

3 You being made manifeſt, that you are the epiſtle of Chriſt, miniſtered by us, and written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of ſtone, but in fleſhy tables of the heart.

4 And ſuch confidence we have, through Chriſt towards God:

5 Not that we are ſufficient to think any thing of ourſelves, as of ourſelves: but our ſufficiency is from God:

CHAP. I. VER. 19. It was in him. There was no inconſtancy in the doctrine of the apoſtles, ſometimes, like modern ſectaries, ſaying, It is, and at other times ſaying, It is not. But their doctrine was ever the ſame, one uniform yea, in Jeſus Chriſt, one Amen, that is, one truth in him.

CHAP. II. VER. 10. I alſo. The apoſtle here granted an indulgence, or pardon, in the perſon and by the authority of Chriſt, to the inceſtuous Corinthian, whom before he had put under penance: which pardon conſiſted in a releaſing of part of the temporal puniſhment due to his ſin.

VER. 16. The odour of death, &c. The preaching of the apoſtle, which by its fragrant odour brought many to life, was to others, through their own fault, the occaſion of death; by their wilfully oppoſing and reſiſting that divine call.

6 Who alſo hath made us fit miniſters of the new teſtament: not in the letter, but in the Spirit: for the letter killeth: but the Spirit giveth life.

7 Now if the miniſtration of death engraven with letters upon ſtones, was glorious; ſo that the children of Iſrael could not ſteadfaſtly behold the face of Moſes, for the glory of his countenance, which is done away:

8 How ſhall not the miniſtration of the Spirit be rather in glory?

9 For if the miniſtration of condemnation be glory: much more the miniſtration of juſtice aboundeth in glory.

10 For even that which was glorious in this part was not glorified, by reaſon of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away, was glorious: much more that which remaineth is in glory.

12 Having therefore ſuch hope, we uſe much confidence:

13 ‖ And not as Moſes put a veil over his face, that the children of Iſrael might not ſteadfaſtly look on the face of that which is made void,

‖ Exod. 34. 33.

14 But their ſenſes were made dull. For, until this day, the ſelf-ſame veil in the reading of the old teſtament, remaineth not taken away (becauſe in Chriſt it is done away).

15 But even until this day when Moſes is read, the veil is upon their heart.

16 But when they ſhall be converted to the Lord, the veil ſhall be taken away.

‖ John 4. 24.

17 ‖ Now the Lord is a Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all beholding the glory of the Lord with face uncovered, are transformed into the ſame image from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

The ſincerity of his preaching: his comfort in his afflictions.

THEREFORE ſeeing we have this miniſtration, according as we have obtained mercy, we faint not.

2 But we renounce the hidden things of diſhoneſty, not walking in craftineſs, nor adulterating the word of God, but by manifeſtation of the truth commending ourſelves to every man's conſcience, in the ſight of God.

3 And if our goſpel be alſo hidden; it is hidden to thoſe who periſh:

4 In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of unbelievers, that the light of the goſpel of the glory of Chriſt, who is the image of God, ſhould not ſhine unto them.

5 For we preach not ourſelves, but Jeſus Chriſt our Lord: and ourſelves your ſervants through Jeſus.

6 For God who commanded the light to ſhine out of darkneſs, hath ſhined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Chriſt Jeſus.

7 But we have this treaſure in earthen veſſels: that the excellency may be of the power of God, and not of us.

8 In all things we ſuffer tribulation, but are not diſtreſſed: we are ſtraitened: but are not deſtitute:

9 We ſuffer perſecution, but are not forſaken: we are caſt down, but we periſh not:

10 Always bearing about in our body the dying of Jeſus, that the life alſo of Jeſus may be made manifeſt in our bodies.

11 For we who live are always delivered unto death for Jeſus ſake: that the life alſo of Jeſus may be made manifeſt in our mortal fleſh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 But having the ſame ſpirit of faith, as it is written: ‖ I have believed, therefore I have ſpoken: we alſo believe, and therefore we ſpeak:

‖ Pſal. 115. 10.

14 Knowing that he who raiſed up Jeſus, will raiſe up us alſo with Jeſus, and place us with you.

15 For all things are for your ſakes: that the grace abounding through many may abound in thankſgiving to the glory of God.

16 For which cauſe we faint not; but though our outward man is corrupted: yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our preſent tribulation which is momentary and light, worketh for us above meaſure exceedingly an eternal weight of glory.

18 While we look not at the things which are ſeen, but at the things which are not ſeen. For the things which are ſeen, are temporal: but the things which are not ſeen, are eternal.

CHAP. V.

He is willing to leave his earthly manſion to be with the Lord. His charity for the Corinthians.

FOR we know that if our earthly houſe of this habitation be diſſolved, that we, have a building of God, a houſe not made with hands, eternal in heaven.

CHAP. III. VER. 6. The letter. Not rightly underſtood, and taken without the ſpirit.

2 For in this alſo we groan, deſiring to be clothed over with our habitation which is from heaven:

‖ Apoc. 16. 15. 3 ‖ Yet ſo that we may be found clothed, not naked.

4 For we alſo, who are in this tabernacle, do groan being burthened: becauſe we would not be uncloathed, but cloathed over, that what is mortal may be ſwallowed up by life.

5 Now he that maketh us for this very thing, is God, who hath given us the pledge of the Spirit.

6 Therefore having always confidence, knowing that, while we are in the body, we are abſent from the Lord:

7 (For we walk by faith and not by ſight)

8 We are confident, I ſay, and have a good will to be abſent rather from the body, and to be preſent with the Lord.

9 And therefore we labour, whether abſent or preſent, to pleaſe him.

‖ Rom. 14. 10. 10 ‖ For we muſt all appear before the judgment-ſeat of Chriſt, that every one may receive the proper things of the body, according as he hath done, whether it be good or evil.

11 Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord we perſuade men: but to God we are manifeſt. And I truſt alſo that in your conſciences we are manifeſt.

12 We commend not ourſelves again to you, but give you occaſion to glory in our behalf: that you may have ſomewhat to anſwer them who glory in face, and not in heart.

13 For whether we are tranſported in mind, it is to God: or whether we are more moderate, it is for you.

14 For the charity of Chriſt preſſeth us: judging this, that if one died for all, then all were dead.

15 And Chriſt died for all: that they alſo, who live, may not now live to themſelves but to him, who died for them and roſe again.

16 Wherefore henceforth we know no man according to the fleſh. And if we have known Chriſt according to the fleſh: but now we know him ſo no longer.

17 If then any be in Chriſt a new creature: old things are paſſed away: ‖ behold all things are made new. ‖ Iſai. 43. 19. Apoc. 21. 5.

18 But all things are of God who hath reconciled us to himſelf, by Chriſt: and hath given to us the miniſtry of reconciliation.

19 For God indeed was in Chriſt reconciling the world to himſelf, not imputing to them their ſins, and he hath placed in us the word of reconciliation.

20 We are therefore ambaſſadors for Chriſt, God as it were exhorting by us. For Chriſt we beſeech you, be ye reconciled to God.

21 Him, who knew no ſin, he hath made ſin for us, that we might be made the juſtice of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

He exhorts them to a correſpondence with God's grace, and not to aſſociate with unbelievers.

AND we helping do exhort you, that you receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 For he ſaith: ‖ In an accepted time have I heard thee: and in the day of ſalvation have I helped thee. Behold, now is the acceptable time: behold now is the day of ſalvation. ‖ Iſai. 49. 8.

3 ‖ Giving no offence to any one, that our miniſtry be not blamed: ‖ 1 Cor. 10. 32.

4 But in all things let us exhibit ourſelves † as the miniſters of God, in much patience, in tribulation, in neceſſities in diſtreſſes, † 1 Cor. 4. 1.

5 In ſtripes, in priſons, in ſeditions, in labours, in watchings, in faſtings,

6 In chaſtity, in knowledge, in long ſuffering, in ſweetneſs, in the Holy Ghoſt, in charity unfeigned,

7 In the word of truth, in the power of God: by the armour of juſtice, on the right hand, and on the left:

8 Through honour, and diſhonour, through infamy and good name: as ſeducers, and yet ſpeaking truth: as unknown, and yet known:

9 As dying, and behold we live: as chaſtiſed, and not killed:

10 As ſorrowful, yet always rejoicing: as

VER. 10. The proper things of the body. In the particular judgment, immediately after death, the ſoul is rewarded or puniſhed according to what it has done in the body.

VER. 16. We know no man according to the fleſh. That is, we conſider not any man with regard to his nation, family, kindred, or other natural qualities or advantages, but only with relation to Chriſt, and according to the order of divine charity, in God, and for God. The apoſtle adds that even with reſpect to Chriſt himſelf; he now no longer conſiders him according to the fleſh, by taking a ſatisfaction in his being his countryman; his affection being now purified from all ſuch earthly conſiderations.

VER. 21. Sin for us. That is, to be a ſin-offering, a victim for ſin.

needy, yet enriching many: as having nothing, and poſſeſſing all things.

11 Our mouth is open to you, O ye Corinthians, our heart is enlarged.

12 You are not ſtraitened in us: but in your own bowels you are ſtraitened:

13 But having the ſame recompence (I ſpeak as to my children) be you alſo enlarged.

14 Bear not the yoke together with unbelievers. For what participation hath juſtice with injuſtice? Or what fellowſhip hath light with darkneſs?

15 And what concord hath Chriſt with Belial? or what part hath the faithful with the unbeliever?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? ‖ For you are the temple of the living God: as God ſaith: † I will dwell in them, and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

‖ 1 Cor. 3. 16. 17. & 6. 19.
† Lev. 26. 12.

17 ‖ Wherefore, Go out from among them, and be ye ſeparate, ſaith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing:

‖ Iſai. 52. 11.

18 And I will receive you: † and I will be a Father to you: and you ſhall be my ſons and daughters, ſaith the Lord almighty.

† Jer. 31. 9.

CHAP. VII.

The apoſtle's affection for the Corinthians: his comfort and joy on their account.

HAVING therefore theſe promiſes, dearly beloved, let us cleanſe ourſelves from all defilement of the fleſh and of the ſpirit, perfecting ſanctification in the fear of God.

2 Receive us. We have injured no one, we have corrupted no one, we have overreached no one.

3 I ſpeak not this to your condemnation. For we have ſaid before, that you are in our hearts, to die together, and to live together.

4 Great is my confidence with you, great is my glorying for you. I am filled with comfort, I exceedingly abound with joy in all our tribulation.

5 For alſo when we were come into Macedonia, our fleſh had no reſt, but we ſuffered all tribulation: combats without, fears within.

6 But God who comforted the humble, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming only, but alſo by the conſolation, wherewith he was comforted in you, relating to us your deſire, your mourning, your zeal for me, ſo that I rejoiced the more.

8 For although I made you ſorrowful by my epiſtle, I do not repent: and if I did repent, ſeeing that the ſame epiſtle (although but for a time) did make you ſorrowful:

9 Now I am glad: not becauſe you were made ſorrowful: but becauſe you were made ſorrowful unto penance. For you were made ſorrowful acccording to God, that in nothing you ſhould ſuffer damage by us.

10 ‖ For the ſorrow which is according to God, worketh penance unto ſalvation, which is laſting: but the ſorrow of the world worketh death.

‖ 1 Pet. 2. 19.

11 For behold this ſelf-ſame thing, that you were made ſorrowful according to God, how great carefulneſs doth it work in you: yea defence, yea indignation, yea fear, yea deſire, yea zeal, yea revenge: in all things you have ſhewed yourſelves to be undefiled in the matter.

12 Wherefore though I wrote to you, not on the account of him who did the injury, nor of him who ſuffered the wrong: but to manifeſt our ſolicitude, which we have for you,

13 Before God: therefore we were comforted. But in our conſolation we did the more abundantly rejoice for the joy of Titus, becauſe his ſpirit was refreſhed by you all.

14 And if I have boaſted any thing to him of you, I have not been put to ſhame, but as we have ſpoken all things to you in truth, ſo alſo our boaſting which was made to Titus, is found a truth:

15 And his * bowels are more abundantly towards you; remembering the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him.

* i. e. affection.

16 I rejoice that in all things I have confidence in you.

CHAP. VIII.

He exhorts them to contribute bountifully to relieve the poor of Jeruſalem.

NOW we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God, that hath been given in the churches of Macedonia:

2 That in much experience of tribulation they have had abundance of joy, and their very deep poverty, hath abounded unto the riches of their ſimplicity:

3 For according to their power I bear them witneſs, and beyond their power they were willing,

CHAP. VIII. VER. 2. Simplicity. That is, ſincere bounty and charity.

4 With much entreaty begging of us the grace and communication of the miniſtry that is done towards the ſaints.

5 And not as we hoped, but they gave their ownſelves firſt to the Lord, then to us by the will of God;

6 Inſomuch, that we deſired Titus, that as he had begun, ſo alſo he would finiſh in you this ſame grace.

7 That as in all things you abound in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all carefulneſs: moreover alſo in your charity toward us, ſo in this grace alſo you may abound.

8 I ſpeak not as commanding: but by the carefulneſs of others, approving alſo the good diſpoſition of your charity.

9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that being rich, he became poor for your ſakes: that through his poverty you might be rich.

10 And in this I give counſel: for this is profitable for you, who have begun not only to do, but alſo to be willing the year before:

11 Now therefore perform ye it alſo in deed: that, as your mind is forward to be willing, ſo it may be alſo to perform, out of that which you have.

12 For if the will be forward, it is accepted according to that which it hath, not according to that which it hath not.

13 For I mean not that others ſhould be eaſed, and you burthened: but by an equality.

14 In this preſent time let your abundance ſupply their want: that their abundance alſo may ſupply your want, that there may be an equality, as it is written:

|| Exod. 16. 18. 15 || He that had much, had nothing over: and he that had little, had no want.

16 And thanks be to God, who hath given the ſame carefulneſs for you in the heart of Titus.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation: but being more careful, of his own will he went unto you.

18 We have ſent alſo with him the brother, whoſe praiſe is in the goſpel through all the churches:

19 And not that only, but he was alſo ordained by the churches companion of our travels, for this grace, which is adminiſtered by us to the glory of the Lord, and our determined will:

20 Avoiding this, leſt any man ſhould blame us in this abundance which is adminiſtered by us.

|| Rom. 12. 17. 21 || For we foreſee what may be good not only before God, but alſo before men.

22 And we have ſent with them our brother alſo, whom we have often proved diligent in many things: but now much more diligent, with much confidence in you.

23 Either for Titus, who is my companion and fellow-labourer towards you, or our brethren, the apoſtles of the churches, the glory of Chriſt.

24 Wherefore ſhew ye to them, in the ſight of the churches, the evidence of your charity, and of our boaſting on your behalf.

CHAP. IX.

A further exhortation to almſgiving: the fruits of it.

FOR concerning the miniſtry, that is done towards the ſaints, it is ſuperfluous for me to write to you.

2 For I know your ready mind: for which I boaſt of you to the Macedonians. That Achaia alſo was ready a year ago, and your emulation hath provoked a great many.

3 Now I have ſent the brethren, that what we boaſt of concerning you, be not made void in this behalf that, (as I have ſaid) you may be ready:

4 Leſt, when the Macedonians ſhall come with me, and find you unprepared, we (not to ſay ye) ſhould be aſhamed in this matter.

5 Therefore I thought it neceſſary to deſire the brethren that they would go to you before, and prepare this bleſſing before promiſed, to be ready, ſo as a bleſſing, not as covetouſneſs.

6 Now this I ſay: He who ſoweth ſparingly, ſhall alſo reap ſparingly: and he who ſoweth in bleſſings, ſhall alſo reap of bleſſings.

7 Every one as he hath determined in his heart, not with ſadneſs, or of neceſſity: || For God loveth a chearful giver. || Eccli. 35. 11.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound in you: that ye always having all ſufficiency in all things may abound in every good work,

9 As it is written: || He hath diſperſed abroad, he hath given to the poor: his juſtice remaineth for ever. || Pſal 111. 9.

10 Now he that miniſtereth ſeed to the ſower, will both give you bread to eat, and will multiply your ſeed, and increaſe the growth of the fruits of your juſtice:

11 That being enriched in all things you may abound unto all bountifulneſs, which cauſeth through us thankſgiving to God.

12 For the adminiſtration of this ſervice doth not only ſupply the want of the ſaints, but aboundeth also by many thanksgivings in the Lord.

13 By the proof of this ministry, glorifying God in the obedience of your confession to the gospel of Christ, and for the liberality of your communicating to them, and to all,

14 And in their praying for you, having an affection for you because of the eminent grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAP. X.

To stop the calumny and boasting of false apostles, he sets forth the power of his apostleship.

NOW I Paul myself beseech you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence indeed am lowly among you, but being absent am bold toward you.

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present, with that confidence wherewith I am thought to be bold against some, who think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For walking in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh.

4 For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but powerful through God to the destruction of fortifications, subverting of counsels,

5 And every height that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every understanding to the obedience of Christ,

6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled.

7 See the things that are according to outward appearance. If any man trust to himself, that he is Christ's, let him think this again with himself, that as he is Christ's, so are we also.

8 For if I also should boast somewhat more of our power, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction; I should not be ashamed.

9 But that I may not be thought as it were to terrify you by epistles:

10 (For his epistles indeed, say they, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible):

11 Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by epistles, when absent, such are we also indeed, when present.

12 For we dare not rank or compare ourselves with some, that commend themselves: but we measure ourselves by ourselves, and compare ourselves with ourselves.

13 || But we will not glory beyond our measure: but according to the measure of the rule, which God hath measured to us, a measure to reach even to you. || Ephes. 4. 7.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as if we reached not to you: for we are come as far as to you in the gospel of Christ.

15 Not glorying beyond the measure in other men's labours: but having hope of your increasing faith, to be magnified in you according to our rule abundantly,

16 Yea, to those places that are beyond you, to preach the gospel, not to glory in another man's rule in those things that are made ready to our hand.

17 || But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. || Jer. 9. 23. 1 Cor. 1. 31.

18 For not he, that commendeth himself, is approved: but he whom God commendeth.

CHAP. XI.

He is forced to commend himself and his labours, lest the Corinthians should be imposed upon by the false apostles.

WOULD to God you could bear with some little of my folly: but do, bear with me:

2 For I am jealous of you with the jealousy of God. For I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear lest, || as the serpent seduced Eve by his subtility, so your minds should be corrupted, and fall from the simplicity which is in Christ. || Gen. 3. 4.

4 For if he that cometh, preacheth another Christ, whom we have not preached; or if you receive another Spirit, whom you have not received; or another gospel, which you have not received: you might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose that I have done nothing less than the great apostles.

6 For though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge: but in all things we have been made manifest to you.

7 Or did I commit a fault, abasing myself, that you might be exalted? Because I have preached to you the gospel of God gratis?

8 I have taken from other churches, receiving wages of them to serve you.

CHAP. XI. VER. 1. My folly. So he calls his reciting his own praises, which commonly speaking, is looked upon as a piece of folly and vanity; though the apostle was constrained to do it, for the good of the souls committed to his charge.

9 And when I was preſent with you, and wanted, I was burthenſome to no man: for that which was wanting to me, the brethren ſupplied who came from Macedonia: and in all things I have kept myſelf without being a burthen to you, and ſo I will keep myſelf.

10 The truth of Chriſt is in me, that this glory ſhall not be ſtopt in me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? Becauſe I love you not? God knoweth it.

12 But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off the occaſion from them that deſire occaſion, that in what they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For ſuch falſe apoſtles are deceitful labourers, transforming themſelves into the apoſtles of Chriſt.

14 And no wonder: for ſatan himſelf transformeth himſelf into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his miniſters be transformed as the miniſters of juſtice: whoſe end ſhall be according to their works.

16 I ſay again, (let no man think me to be fooliſh, otherwiſe take me as one fooliſh, that I alſo may glory a little).

17 That which I ſpeak, I ſpeak not according to God, but as it were in fooliſhneſs, in this matter of glorying.

18 Seeing that many glory according to the fleſh, I will glory alſo.

19 For you gladly ſuffer the fooliſh: whereas you yourſelves are wiſe.

20 For you ſuffer if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take from you, if a man be extolled, if a man ſtrike you on the face.

21 I ſpeak according to diſhonour, as if we had been weak in this part. Wherein if any man is bold (I ſpeak fooliſhly) I am bold alſo.

22 They are Hebrews: ſo am I. They are Iſraelites: ſo am I. They are the ſeed of Abraham: ſo am I.

23 They are the miniſters of Chriſt: (I ſpeak as one leſs wiſe) I am more: in many more labours, in priſons more frequently, in ſtripes above meaſure, in death often.

‖ Deut. 25. 3. 24 Of the Jews ‖ five times did I receive forty ſtripes, ſave one.

† Acts 16. 22. ‡ Acts 14. 18. ‖ Acts 27. 41. 25 † Thrice was I beaten with rods, ‡ once I was ſtoned, ‖thrice I ſuffered ſhipwreck: a night and a day I was in the depth of the ſea.

26 In journeys often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from my own nation, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderneſs, in perils in the ſea, in perils from falſe brethren.

27 In labour and painfulneſs, in watchings often, in hunger and thirſt, in many faſtings, in cold and nakedneſs.

28 Beſides thoſe things that are without: my daily inſtance, the ſolicitude for all the churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is ſcandalized, and I do not burn?

30 If I muſt needs glory: I will glory of the things that concern my infirmity.

31 The God and father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who is bleſſed for ever, knoweth that I lie not.

‖ Acts 9. 24. 32 ‖ At Damaſcus the governor of the nation under Aretas the king, guarded the city of the Damaſcenes, to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a baſket I was let down by the wall, and ſo eſcaped his hands.

CHAP. XII.

His raptures and revelations. His being buffeted by ſatan. His fear for the Corinthians.

1 IF I muſt glory (it is not expedient indeed:) but I will come to viſions and revelations of the Lord.

‖ Acts 9. 3. 2 ‖ I know a man in Chriſt above fourteen years ago, whether in the body I know not, or out of the body I know not, God knoweth, ſuch a one caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I know ſuch a man whether in the body, or out of the body, I know not God knoweth:

4 That he was caught up into paradiſe: and heard ſecret words, which it is not granted to man to utter.

5 Of ſuch a one I will glory: but for myſelf I will glory nothing, but in my infirmities.

6 For even if I would glory, I ſhall not be fooliſh: for I ſhall ſay the truth: but I forbear, leſt any man ſhould think of me above that which he ſeeth in me, or any thing he heareth from me.

7 And leſt the greatneſs of the revelations ſhould puff me up, there was given me a ſting of my fleſh, an angel of ſatan, to buffet me.

8 For which thing I thrice beſought the Lord, that it might depart from me:

VER. 28. My daily inſtance. The labours that come in, and preſs upon me every day.

9 And he said to me: My grace is sufficient for thee: for power is made perfect in infirmity. Gladly therefore will I glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in my infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then I am powerful.

11 I am become foolish: you have compelled me to it. For I ought to have been commended by you: for in nothing have I been inferior to those, who are above measure apostles: although I am nothing.

12 Yet the signs of my apostleship have been wrought on you, in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is there that you have had less than the other churches; but that I myself was not burthensome to you? Pardon me this injury.

14 Behold, now the third time I am ready to come to you: and I will not be burthensome to you. For I seek not the things that are yours, but you. For neither ought the children to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And I most gladly will spend and be spent myself for your souls: although, loving you more, I be loved less.

16 But be it so: I did not burden you: but being crafty I caught you by guile.

17 Did I circumvent you, by any of those whom I sent to you?

18 I desired Titus, and I sent with him a brother. Did Titus circumvent you? did we not walk with the same spirit? did we not in the same steps?

19 Of old, think you that we excuse ourselves to you? We speak before God in Christ: but all things, my dearly beloved, for your edification.

20 For I fear, lest when I come, I shall not find you such as I would: and that I shall be found by you such as you would not: lest perhaps contentions, envyings, animosities, dissensions, detractions, whisperings, swellings, seditions, be among you:

21 Lest again, when I come, God humble me among you: and I bewail many of them that sinned before, and have not done penance for the uncleanness, and fornication and lasciviousness, that they have committed.

CHAP. XIII.

He threatens the impenitent, to provoke them to penance.

BEHOLD, this is the third time I am coming to you: ‖ In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established. ‖ Deut. 19. 15. Matt. 18. 16.

2 I have told you before, and foretel, as present, and now absent, to them that sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again, I will not spare. ‖ John 8. 17. Heb. 10. 28.

3 Do you seek a proof of Christ who speaketh in me, who towards you is not weak, but is mighty in you?

4 For though he was crucified through weakness; yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him: but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

5 Try your ownselves if you be in the faith: prove ye yourselves. Know you not your ownselves, that Christ Jesus is in you? unless perhaps you be reprobates.

6 But I trust that you shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now we pray God, that you may do no evil, not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is good, and that we may be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we rejoice, that we are weak, and you are strong. This also we pray for, your perfection.

10 Therefore I write these things being absent, that, being present, I may not deal more severely, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 For the rest brethren, rejoice, be perfect, take exhortation, be of one mind, have peace; and the God of peace and of love will be with you.

12 Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the saints salute you.

13 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the charity of God, and the communication of the Holy Ghost be with you all. Amen.

CHAP. XII. VER. 9. Power is made perfect. The strength and power of God more perfectly shines forth in our weakness and infirmity; as the more weak we are of ourselves, the more illustrious is his grace in supporting us, and giving us the victory under all trials and conflicts.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 7. Reprobates: that is, without proof, by having no occasion of shewing our power in punishing you.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE GALATIANS.

The Galatians, ſoon after St. PAUL had preached the Goſpel to them, were ſeduced by ſome falſe-teachers, who had been Jews, and who were for obliging all Chriſtians, even thoſe who had been Gentiles, to obſerve circumciſion, and the other ceremonies of the Moſaical law. In this Epiſtle he refutes the pernicious doctrine of thoſe teachers, and alſo their calumny againſt his miſſion and apoſtleſhip. The ſubject matter of this Epiſtle, is much the ſame as in that to the Romans. It was written at Epheſus about twenty-three years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

He blames the Galatians for ſuffering themſelves to be impoſed upon by new teachers. The apoſtle's calling.

PAUL an apoſtle, not from men, neither by man, but by Jeſus Chriſt, and God the Father, who raiſed him from the dead,

2 And all the brethren who are with me, to the churches of Galatia.

3 Grace be to you, and peace from God the Father and from our Lord Jeſus Chriſt,

4 Who gave himſelf for our ſins, that he might deliver us from this preſent wicked world, according to the will of God and our Father,

5 To whom is glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I wonder that you are ſo ſoon removed, from him who called you to the grace of Chriſt, to another goſpel:

7 Which is not another, only there are ſome that trouble you, and would pervert the goſpel of Chriſt.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach a goſpel to you beſide that which we have preached to you, let him be anathema.

9 As we ſaid before, ſo I ſay now again: If any one preach to you a goſpel, beſides that which you have received, let him be anathema.

10 For do I now perſuade men, or God? Or do I ſeek to pleaſe men? If I did yet pleaſe men, I ſhould not be the ſervant of Chriſt.

11 ‖ For I give you to underſtand, brethren, that the goſpel which was preached by me is not according to man. ‖ 1 Cor. 15. 1.

12 ‖ For neither did I receive it from man, nor did I learn it, but by the revelation of Jeſus Chriſt. ‖ Epheſ. 3. 3.

13 For you have heard of my converſation in time paſt in the Jews religion: how that beyond meaſure I perſecuted the church of God, and laid it waſte,

14 And I made progreſs in the Jews religion, above many of my equals in my own nation, being more abundantly zealous for the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleaſed him, who ſeparated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles: immediately I condeſcended not to fleſh and blood.

17 Neither went I to Jeruſalem to the apoſtles who were before me: but I went into Arabia: and again I returned to Damaſcus:

* A. D. 37. 18 Then three years * after, I came to Jeruſalem to ſee Peter, and ſtayed with him fifteen days:

19 But other of the apoſtles I ſaw none: except James the brother of the Lord.

20 Now the things which I write to you; behold before God I lie not.

21 Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria, and Cilicia.

22 And I was unknown by face to the churches of Judea, which were in Chriſt:

23 But they had heard only: He, that perſecuted us in times paſt, doth now preach the faith which once he impugned:

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

The apoſtle's preaching was approved of by the other apoſtles. The Gentiles were not to be conſtrained to the obſervation of the law.

* A. D. 51. THEN fourteen years after, I went up again to Jeruſalem with Barnabas, taking Titus alſo with me.

2 And I went up according to revelation: and communicated to them the goſpel, which I preach among the Gentiles, but apart to them who ſeemed to be ſomething: leſt perhaps I ſhould run, or had run in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Gentile, was compelled to be circumciſed:

4 But becauſe of falſe brethren unawares brought in, who came in privately to ſpy our liberty, which we have in Chriſt Jeſus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we yielded not by ſubjection, no not for an hour, that the truth of the goſpel might continue with you:

6 But of them who ſeemed to be ſomething, (what they were ſome time, it is nothing to me, ‖ God accepteth not the perſon of man) for to me, they that ſeemed to be ſomething, added nothing.

‖ Deut. 10. 17. Job 34. 19. Wiſd. 6. 8. Eccli. 35. 15. Acts 10. 34. Rom. 2. 11. Epheſ. 6. 9. Coloſ. 3. 25. 1 Pet. 1. 17.

7 But on the contrary, when they had ſeen that to me was committed the goſpel of the uncircumciſion, as to Peter was that of the circumciſion:

8 (For he who wrought in Peter to the apoſtleſhip of the circumciſion, wrought in me alſo among the Gentiles):

9 And when they had known the grace that was given to me, James and Cephas and John, who ſeemed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowſhip: that we ſhould go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumciſion:

10 Only that we ſhould be mindful of the poor: which ſame thing alſo I was careful to do.

11 But when Cephas was come to Antioch, I withſtood him to the face, becauſe he was blameable.

12 For before that ſome came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and ſeparated himſelf, fearing thoſe who were of the circumciſion.

13 And to his diſſimulation the reſt of the Jews conſented, ſo that Barnabas alſo was led by them into that diſſimulation.

14 But when I ſaw that they walked not uprightly unto the truth of the goſpel, I ſaid to Cephas before them all: If thou, being a Jew, liveſt after the manner of the Gentiles, and not of the Jews, how doſt thou compel the Gentiles to follow the way of Jews?

15 We by nature are Jews, and not of the Gentiles ſinners.

16 But knowing that a man is not juſtified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jeſus Chriſt; we alſo believe in Chriſt Jeſus, that we may be juſtified by the faith of Chriſt, and not by the works of the law: ‖ becauſe by the works of the law no fleſh ſhall be juſtified. ‖ Rom. 3. 20.

17 But if while we ſeek to be juſtified in Chriſt, we ourſelves alſo are found ſinners: is Chriſt then the miniſter of ſin? God forbid.

18 For if I build up again the things which I have deſtroyed, I make myſelf a tranſgreſſor.

VER. 7. The Goſpel of the uncircumciſion. The preaching of the goſpel to the uncircumciſed, that is, to the Gentiles. St. Paul was called in an extraordinary manner to be the apoſtle of the Gentiles: St. Peter, beſides his general commiſſion over the whole flock (John xxi. 15, &c.) had a peculiar charge of the people of the circumciſion, that is, of the Jews.

VER. 11. I withſtood, &c. The fault that is here noted in the conduct of St. Peter, was only a certain imprudence, in withdrawing himſelf from the table of the Gentiles, for fear of giving offence to the Jewiſh converts: But this in ſuch circumſtances, when his ſo doing might be of ill conſequence to the Gentiles; who might be induced thereby to think themſelves obliged to conform to the Jewiſh way of living, to the prejudice of their chriſtian liberty. Neither was St. Paul's reprehending him any argument againſt his ſupremacy; for in ſuch caſes an inferior may, and ſometimes ought, with reſpect, to admoniſh his ſuperior.

19 For I, through the law, am dead to the law, that I may live to God: with Chriſt I am nailed to the croſs.

20 And I live, now not I; but Chriſt liveth in me. And that I live now in the fleſh: I live in the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and delivered himſelf for me.

21 I caſt not away the grace of God. For if juſtice be by the law, then Chriſt died in vain.

CHAP. III.

The Spirit, and the bleſſing promiſed to Abraham, cometh not by the law, but by faith.

O Senſeleſs Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that you ſhould not obey the truth, before whoſe eyes Jeſus Chriſt hath been ſet forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you: Did you receive the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are you ſo fooliſh, that, whereas you began in the Spirit, you would now be made perfect by the fleſh?

4 Have you ſuffered ſo great things in vain? If yet in vain.

5 He therefore who giveth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you; doth he do it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of the faith?

‖ Gen. 15. 16. Rom. 4. 3. James 2. 23.

6 As it is written: ‖ Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him unto juſtice.

7 Know ye therefore, that they who are of faith, are the children of Abraham.

‡ Gen. 12. 3. Eccli. 44. 20.

8 And the Scripture foreſeeing that God juſtifieth the Gentiles by faith, told Abraham before: ‡ In thee ſhall all nations be bleſſed.

9 Therefore, they who are of the faith, ſhall be bleſſed with the faithful Abraham.

‖ Deut. 27. 26.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law, are under a curſe. For it is written: ‖ Curſed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law, to do them.

‡ Habac. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 17. ‖ Lev. 18. 5.

11 But that by the law no man is juſtified with God, it is manifeſt: ‡ becauſe the juſt man liveth by faith.

12 But the law is not of faith: but, ‖ He that doth theſe things, ſhall live in them.

13 Chriſt hath redeemed us from the curſe of the law, being made a curſe for us: for it is written: ‡ Curſed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

‡ Deut. 21. 23.

14 That the bleſſing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Chriſt Jeſus: that we may receive the promiſe of the Spirit by faith.

‖ Hebr. 9. 17.

15 Brethren (I ſpeak after the manner of man) ‖ yet a man's teſtament, if it be confirmed, no man deſpiſeth, nor addeth to it.

16 To Abraham were the promiſes made, and to his ſeed. He ſaith not: And to his ſeeds, as of many: but as of one: And to thy ſeed, who is Chriſt.

17 Now this I ſay, that the teſtament which was confirmed by God, the law which was made after four hundred and thirty years, doth not diſannul to make the promiſe of no effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promiſe. But God gave it to Abraham by promiſe.

19 Why then was the law? It was ſet becauſe of tranſgreſſions, till the ſeed ſhould come, to whom he made the promiſe, being ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not of one: but God is one.

21 Was the law then againſt the promiſes of God? God forbid. For if there had been a law given which could give life, verily juſtice ſhould have been by the law.

‖ Rom. 3. 9.

22 ‖ But the Scripture hath concluded all under ſin, that the promiſe by the faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe.

23 But before that faith came, we were kept under the law, ſhut up unto that faith which was to be revealed.

24 Wherefore the law was our pedagogue in Chriſt, that we might be juſtified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a pedagogue.

26 For you are all the children of God by faith, in Chriſt Jeſus.

‖ Rom. 6. 3.

27 ‖ For as many of you as have been baptized in Chriſt, have put on Chriſt.

28 There is neither Jew nor Greek: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female. For you are all one in Chriſt Jeſus.

CHAP. III. VER. 19. Becauſe of tranſgreſſions. To reſtrain them from ſin, by fear and threats.

Ibid. Ordained by angels. The law was delivered by angels, ſpeaking in the name and perſon of God, to Moſes, who was the mediator, on this occaſion, between God and the people.

VER. 22. Hath concluded all under ſin, i. e. Hath declared all to be under ſin, from which they could not be delivered but by faith in Jeſus Chriſt, the promiſed ſeed.

VER. 24. Pedagogue, i. e. Schoolmaſter, conductor, or inſtructer.

VER. 28. Neither Jews, &c. That is, no diſtinction of Jew, &c.

29 And if you be Chriſt's: then you are the ſeed of Abraham, heirs according to the promiſe.

CHAP. IV.

Chriſt has freed us from the ſervitude of the law: we are the free-born ſons of Abraham.

NOW I ſay: As long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a ſervant, though he be lord of all:

2 But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed by the father:

3 Even ſo we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world.

4 But when the fulneſs of the time was come, God ſent his Son, made of a woman, made under the law:

5 That he might redeem thoſe who were under the law: that we might receive the adoption of ſons.

6 And becauſe you are ſons, God hath ſent the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying: Abba, Father.

7 Therefore now he is no more a ſervant, but a ſon. And if a ſon, an heir alſo through God.

8 But then indeed, not knowing God, you ſerved them who by nature are no gods.

9 But now, after that you have known God, or rather are known of God: how turn you again to the weak and poor elements, to which you are deſirous to ſerve again?

10 You obſerve days and months, and times, and years.

11 I am in fear for you, leſt perhaps I have laboured in vain among you.

12 Be ye as I, for I alſo am as you: brethren, I beſeech you: you have not injured me at all.

13 And you know how through infirmity of the fleſh I preached the goſpel to you heretofore: and your temptation in my fleſh,

14 You deſpiſed not, nor rejected: but received me as an Angel of God, even as Chriſt Jeſus.

15 Where is then your bleſſedneſs? For I bear you witneſs, that, if it could be done, you would have plucked out your own eyes, and would have given them to me.

16 Am I then become your enemy, in telling you the truth?

17 They are zealous in your regard not well: but they would exclude you, that you might be zealous for them.

18 But be zealous for that which is good in a good thing always: and not only when I am preſent with you.

19 My little children, of whom I am in labour again, until Chriſt be formed in you.

20 And I would willingly be preſent with you now, and change my voice: becauſe I am aſhamed for you.

21 Tell me, you that deſire to be under the law, have you not read the law?

22 For it is written: that Abraham had two ſons: ‖ the one by a bond-woman, † and the other by a free-woman. ‖ Gen. 16. 15. † Gen. 21. 2.

23 But he that was by the bond-woman, was born according to the fleſh: but he by the free-woman, was by the promiſe.

24 Which things are ſaid by an allegory. For theſe are the two teſtaments. The one indeed on Mount Sina, which bringeth forth unto bondage, which is Agar.

25 For Sina is a mountain in Arabia, which hath an affinity with that which now is Jeruſalem, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But that Jeruſalem, which is above, is free: which is our mother.

27 For it is written: ‖ Rejoice thou barren, that beareſt not: break forth and cry out, thou that travaileſt not: for many are the children of the deſolate, more than of her that hath a huſband. ‖ Iſai. 54. 1.

28 ‖ Now we, brethren, as Iſaac was, are the children of the promiſe. ‖ Rom. 9. 8.

29 But as then he, who was born according to the fleſh, perſecuted him, who was according to the ſpirit: ſo alſo now.

30 But what ſaith the Scripture? Caſt out the bond-woman and her ſon: for the ſon of the bond-woman ſhall not be heir with the ſon of the free-woman.

31 Therefore brethren, we are not the children of the bond-woman, but of the free: by the freedom wherewith Chriſt hath made us free.

CHAP. IV. VER. 3. Under the elements, &c. That is, under the firſt rudiments of religion, in which the carnal Jews were trained up: or under thoſe corporal creatures, uſed in their manifold rites, ſacrifices, and ſacraments.

VER. 10. You obſerve days, &c. He ſpeaks not of the obſervation of the Lord's day, or other chriſtian feſtivals; but either of the ſuperſtitious obſervation of days lucky, and unlucky; or elſe of the Jewiſh feſtivals, to the obſervance of which certain Jewiſh teachers ſought to induce the Galatians.

CHAP. V.

He exhorts them to ſtand to their chriſtian liberty. Of the fruits of the fleſh, and of the ſpirit.

STAND firm, and be not held again under the yoke of bondage.

[Acts 15. 1. 2 ‖ Behold, I Paul tell you, that if you be circumciſed, Chriſt will profit you nothing.

3 And I teſtify again to every man that circumciſeth himſelf, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 Chriſt is become of no effect to you, whoſoever of you are juſtified by the law: you are fallen from grace.

5 For we in ſpirit, by faith, wait for the hope of juſtice.

6 For in Chriſt Jeſus neither circumciſion availeth any thing, nor uncircumciſion: but faith, which worketh by charity.

7 You did run well: who hath hindered you, that you ſhould not obey the truth?

8 This perſuaſion is not from him who calleth you.

[1 Cor. 5. 6. 9 ‖ A little leaven corrupteth the whole maſs.

10 I have confidence in you in the Lord: that you will not be of another mind: but he that troubleth you, ſhall bear the judgment, whoſoever he be.

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumciſion, why do I yet ſuffer perſecution? The ſcandal of the croſs is therefore made void.

12 I would they were even cut off, who trouble you.

13 For you, brethren, have been called unto liberty: only uſe not liberty for an occaſion to the fleſh, but by charity of the Spirit ſerve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one ſentence: ‖ Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thyſelf.

[Lev. 19. 18. Matt. 22. 39. Rom. 13. 8.

15 But if you bite and eat one another: take heed that you be not conſumed one by another.

† 1 Pet. 2. 11. 16 I ſay then: † Walk in the ſpirit, and you ſhall not fulfil the luſts of the fleſh.

17 For the fleſh luſteth againſt the ſpirit: and the ſpirit againſt the fleſh; for theſe are contrary one to another: ſo that you do not the things that you would.

18 But if you are led by the ſpirit, you are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the fleſh are manifeſt: which are, fornication, uncleanneſs, immodeſty, luxury,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, enmities, contentions, emulations, wrath, quarrels, diſſenſions, ſects,

21 Envy, murders, drunkenneſs, revellings, and ſuch like: of the which I foretel you, as I have foretold to you, that they who do ſuch things, ſhall not obtain the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is, charity, joy, peace, patience, benignity, goodneſs, longanimity,

23 Mildneſs, faith, modeſty, continency, chaſtity. Againſt ſuch there is no law.

24 And they who are Chriſt's, have crucified their fleſh, with the vices and concupiſcences.

25 If we live in the Spirit, let us alſo walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not become deſirous of vainglory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAP. VI.

He exhorts to charity, humility, &c. He glories in nothing but in the croſs of Chriſt.

BRETHREN, and if a man be overtaken in any fault, you who are ſpiritual, inſtruct ſuch a one in the ſpirit of mildneſs, conſidering thyſelf, leſt thou alſo be tempted.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens: and ſo ſhall you fulfil the law of Chriſt.

3 For if any man think himſelf to be ſomething, whereas he is nothing, he deceiveth himſelf.

4 But let every one prove his own work, and ſo he ſhall have glory in himſelf only, and not in another.

5 ‖ For every one ſhall bear his own burden. ‖ 1 Cor. 3. 8.

6 And let him who is inſtructed in the word, communicate to him, who inſtructeth him, in all good things.

7 Be not deceived, God is not mocked.

8 For what things a man ſhall ſow, thoſe alſo ſhall he reap. For he that ſoweth in his fleſh, of the fleſh alſo ſhall reap corruption: but he that ſoweth in the ſpirit, of the ſpirit ſhall reap life everlaſting.

9 ‖ And in doing good, let us not fail: for in due time we ſhall reap, not failing. ‖ 2 Theſſ. 3. 13.

10 Therefore whilſt we have time, let us do good to all men, but eſpecially to thoſe who are of the houſhold of the faith.

11 See what a letter I have written to you with my own hand.

12 For whoſoever deſire to pleaſe in the fleſh, they conſtrain you to be circumciſed, only that they may not ſuffer the perſecution of the croſs of Chriſt.

13 For neither they themſelves who are circumciſed, keep the law: but they will have you to be circumciſed, that they may glory in your fleſh.

14 But God forbid that I ſhould glory, but in the croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt: by whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.

15 For in Chriſt Jeſus neither circumciſion availeth any thing, nor uncircumciſion, but a new creature.

16 And whoſoever ſhall follow this rule, peace be upon them, and mercy, and upon the Iſrael of God.

17 From henceforth let no man be troubleſome to me: for I bear the marks of the Lord Jeſus in my body.

18 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with your ſpirit, brethren. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL

TO THE EPHESIANS.

Epheſus was the capital of leſſer Aſia, and celebrated for the temple of Diana, to which the moſt part of the people of the Eaſt went frequently to worſhip. But St. PAUL having preached the Goſpel there for two years the firſt time, and afterwards for about a year, converted many. He wrote this Epiſtle to them when he was a priſoner in Rome, and ſent it by Tychicus. He admoniſhes them to hold firmly the Faith which they had received, and warns them, and alſo thoſe of the neighbouring cities, againſt the ſophiſtry of philoſophers and the doctrine of falſe teachers, who were come among them. The matters of Faith contained in this Epiſtle are exceedingly ſublime, and conſequently very difficult to be underſtood. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

The great bleſſings we have received through Chriſt. He is the head of all the church.

PAUL an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt by the will of God, to all the ſaints who are at Epheſus, and to the faithful in Chriſt Jeſus.

2 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

3 ‖ Bleſſed be the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who hath bleſſed us with all ſpiritual bleſſings in heavenly places, in Chriſt:

‖ 2 Cor. 1. 3. 1 Pet. 1. 3.

4 As he hath choſen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we ſhould be holy and unſpotted in his ſight in charity.

5 Who hath predeſtinated us unto the adoption of children through Jeſus Chriſt unto himſelf: according to the purpoſe of his will,

6 To the praiſe of the glory of his grace, by which he made us acceptable, through his beloved Son.

7 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remiſſion of ſins, according to the riches of his grace,

8 Which hath ſuperabounded in us in all wiſdom and prudence:

9 That he might make known to us the myſtery of his will, according to his good pleaſure, which he hath purpoſed in him,

10 In the diſpenſation of the fulneſs of times, to eſtabliſh all things in Chriſt, which are in heaven and on earth, in him:

CHAP. I. VER. 3. In heavenly places: or in heavenly things. In cæleſtibus.

11 In whom we also are called by lot, being predestinated according to the purpose of him, who worketh all things according to the counsel of his will:

12 That we may be to the praise of his glory, who have before hoped in Christ:

13 In whom you also, when you had heard the word of truth (the gospel of your salvation:) in whom also believing you were sealed with the holy Spirit of promise,

14 Who is the pledge of our inheritance, for the redemption of acquisition, unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also hearing of your faith which is in the Lord Jesus, and of your love towards all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making commemoration of you in my prayers:

17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation, in the knowledge of him:

18 The eyes of your heart enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of his calling, and what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us, who believe ‖ according to the operation of the might of his power,

‖ Infra 3. 7.

20 Which he wrought in Christ, raising him up from the dead, and setting him at his right hand in the heavenly places:

21 Above all principality, and power, and virtue, and dominion, and every name that is named not only in this world, but also in that which is to come.

22 ‖ And he hath put all things under his feet: and hath made him head over all the church,

‖ Psal. 8. 8.

23 Which is his body, and the fulness of him, who is filled all in all.

CHAP. II.

All our good comes through Christ. He is our peace.

AND you, when you were dead in your offences and sins,

Coloss. 2. 13.

2 Wherein in time past you walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of this air, of the spirit that now worketh on the children of unbelief,

3 Among whom also we all conversed in time past, in the desires of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh and of our thoughts, and were by nature the children of wrath, even as the rest:

4 But God, who is rich in mercy, through his exceeding charity with which he loved us,

5 Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together in Christ, (by whose grace you are saved)

6 And hath raised us up together, and hath made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus:

7 That he might shew in the ages to come the abundant riches of his grace, in goodness upon us in Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace you are saved through faith, and this not of yourselves: for it is the gift of God;

9 Not of works that no man may glory.

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus in good works; which God hath prepared that we should walk in them.

11 For which cause be mindful that you being heretofore Gentiles in the flesh, who are called uncircumcision by that which is called the circumcision in the flesh, made by hands:

12 That you were at that time without Christ, alienated from the conversation of Israel, and strangers to the testaments, having no hope of the promise, and without God in this world.

13 But now in Christ Jesus, you, who some time were afar off, are made near by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and breaking down the middle wall of partition, the enmities in his flesh:

15 Abolishing the law of commandments in decrees: that he might make the two in himself into one new man, establishing peace,

16 And might reconcile both to God in one body by the cross, destroying the enmities by himself.

17 And coming he preached peace to you, who were afar off, and peace to them who were near at hand.

18 ‖ For through him we have both access in one Spirit to the Father.

‖ Rom. 5. 2.

19 Now therefore you are no more strangers and foreigners: but you are fellow-citizens with the saints, and the domestics of God:

20 Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone:

VER. 14. Acquisition, i. e. A purchased possession.

CHAP. II. VER. 9. Not of works, as of our own growth, or from ourselves: but as from the grace of God.

21 In whom all the building framed together, groweth into a holy temple in the Lord:

22 In whom you also are built together into a habitation of God in the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

The myſtery hidden from former ages was diſcovered to the apoſtle, to be imparted to the Gentiles. He prays that they may be ſtrengthened in God.

FOR this cauſe, I Paul the priſoner of Jeſus Chriſt, for you Gentiles,

2 If yet you have heard of the diſpenſation of the grace of God, which is given me towards you:

3 How that, according to revelation, the myſtery hath been made known to me, as I have written above in brief:

4 As you reading may underſtand my knowledge in the myſtery of Chriſt:

5 Which in other generations was not made known to the ſons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy apoſtles, and prophets in the Spirit.

6 That the Gentiles ſhould be coheirs, and of the ſame body, and joint-partakers of his promiſe in Chriſt Jeſus by the goſpel:

7 Of which I am made a miniſter, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given to me ‖ according to the operation of his power.

‖ Supra 1. 19.

† 1 Cor. 15. 9.

8 † To me, the leaſt of all the ſaints, is given this grace, to preach among the Gentiles the unſearchable riches of Chriſt,

9 And to enlighten all men, what is the diſpenſation of the myſtery which hath been hidden from eternity in God, who created all things.

10 That the manifold wiſdom of God may be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places through the church,

11 According to the eternal decree, which he made in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord:

12 In whom we have affiance and acceſs with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I beſeech you not to be diſheartened at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cauſe I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt,

15 Of whom all paternity in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be ſtrengthened with power by his Spirit unto the inward man.

17 That Chriſt may dwell by faith in your hearts: that being rooted and founded in charity,

18 You may be able to comprehend, with all the ſaints, what is the breadth, and length, and height, and depth:

19 To know alſo the charity of Chriſt, which ſurpaſſeth knowledge, that you may be filled unto all the fulneſs of God.

20 Now to him, who is able to do all things more abundantly than we aſk or underſtand, according to the power which worketh in us:

21 To him be glory in the church, and in Chriſt Jeſus, throughout all generations, world without end, Amen.

CHAP. IV.

He exhorts them to unity; to put on the new man; and to fly ſin.

I Therefore, a priſoner in the Lord, beſeech you ‖ that you walk worthy of the vocation in which you are called,

‖ 1 Cor. 7. 27. Philip. 1. 27.

2 With all humility, and mildneſs, with patience, ſupporting one another in charity,

3 † Careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

† Rom. 12. 10.

4 One body, and one Spirit: as you are called in one hope of your vocation.

5 One Lord, one faith, one baptiſm.

6 ‖ One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in us all.

‖ Mal. 2. 10.

7 † But to every one of us is given grace, according to the meaſure of the gift of Chriſt.

† Rom. 12. 3. 1 Cor. 12. 11. 2 Cor. 10. 13.

8 Wherefore he ſaith: ‖ Aſcending on high he led captivity captive: he gave gifts to men.

‖ Pſal. 67. 19.

9 Now that he aſcended, what is it, but becauſe he alſo deſcended firſt into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He who aſcended is the ſame alſo who aſcended above all the heavens, that he might fulfil all things.

11 And ſome indeed he gave to be ‖ apoſtles, and ſome prophets, and others evangeliſts, and others paſtors and teachers,

‖ 1 Cor. 12. 28.

12 For the perfection of the ſaints, for the work of the miniſtry, unto the edification of the body of Chriſt:

13 Till we all meet in the unity of faith,

CHAP. III. VER. 15. All paternity. Or the whole family, πατρια. God is the Father both of angels and men: whoſoever beſides is named father, is ſo named with ſubordination to him.

CHAP. IV. VER. 11, 13. Gave to be apoſtles—Till we all meet, &c. Here it is plainly expreſſed, that Chriſt has left in his church a perpetual ſucceſſion of orthodox paſtors and teachers, to preſerve the faithful in unity and truth.

and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the age of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we may not now be children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, in the wickedness of men, in craftiness by which they lye in wait to deceive.

15 But performing the truth in charity, we may in all things grow up in him who is the head, Christ:

16 From whom the whole body, compacted and fitly joined together, by what every joint supplieth, according to the operation in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in charity.

‖ Rom. 1. 21. 17 ‖ This then I say and testify in the Lord: that henceforward you walk not as also the Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the understanding obscured with darkness, alienated from the life of God through the ignorance which is in them, because of the blindness of their heart,

19 Who despairing, have given themselves up to lasciviousness, to the working of all uncleanness, unto covetousness.

20 But you have not so learned Christ:

21 If yet you have heard him, and have been taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus.

‖ Coloss. 3. 8. 22 ‖ To put off, according to the former conversation, the old man, who is corrupted according to the desires of error.

† Rom. 6. 4. 23 † And be ye renewed in the spirit of your mind,

‖ Coloss. 3. 12. 24 ‖ And put on the new man, who, according to God, is created in justice, and holiness of truth.

† 1 Pet. 2. 1. 25 † Wherefore putting away lying, ‖ Zach. 8. 16. ‖ speak ye the truth every man with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

† Psal. 4. 5. 26 † Be angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your anger.

‖ James 4. 7. 27 ‖ Give not place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole, steal now no more: but rather let him labour working with his hands that which is good, that he may have to give to him who is in need.

29 Let no evil speech proceed from your mouth: but that which is good to the edification of faith, that it may afford grace to the hearers.

30 And grieve not the holy Spirit of God: whereby you are sealed unto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and anger, and indignation, and clamour, and blasphemy be taken away from you, with all malice.

32 ‖ And be ye kind one to another, merciful, forgiving one another, even as God hath forgiven you in Christ. ‖ Coloss. 3. 13.

CHAP. V.

Exhortations to a virtuous life. The mutual duties of man and wife, by the example of Christ, and of the church.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as most dear children:

2 ‖ And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath delivered himself for us, an oblation and a sacrifice to God, for an odour of sweetness. ‖ John 13. 34. & 15. 12. 1 John 4. 21.

3 ‖ But fornication and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not so much as be named among you, as it becometh saints: ‖ Coloss. 3. 5.

4 Nor obscenity, nor foolish talking, nor scurrility, which is to no purpose: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For know ye this, and understand, that no fornicator, nor unclean, nor covetous person, which is a serving of idols, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.

6 ‖ Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the anger of God upon the children of unbelief. ‖ Matt. 24. 4. Mark 13. 5. Luke 21. 8. 2 Thess. 2. 3.

7 Be ye not therefore partakers with them.

8 For you were heretofore darkness, but now light in the Lord. Walk ye as children of the light:

9 For the fruit of the light is in all goodness, and justice, and truth:

10 Proving what is acceptable to God:

11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness but rather reprove them.

12 For the things that are done by them in private, it is shameful even to mention.

13 But all things that are reproved, are made manifest by the light: for all that is made manifest is light.

14 Wherefore he saith: Rise thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ will enlighten thee.

15 See therefore, brethren, how you walk circumspectly: ‖ not as unwise, ‖ Coloss. 4. 5.

16 But as wise: redeeming the time, for the days are evil.

17 ‖ Wherefore become not unwise, but understanding what is the will of God. ‖ Rom. 12. 2.

18 And be not drunk with wine, wherein is luxury, but be ye filled with the holy Spirit, 1 Thess. 4. 3.

19 Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing, and making melody in your hearts to the Lord;

20 Giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father.

21 Being subject one to another in the fear of Christ.

‖ Gen. 3. 16. Coloss. 3. 18. 1 Pet. 3. 1. † 1 Cor. 11. 3.

22 ‖ Let women be subject to their husbands, as to the Lord:

23 † For the husband is the head of the wife; as Christ is the head of the church. He is the saviour of his body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject to Christ, so also let the wives be to their husbands in all things.

‖ Coloss. 3. 19.

25 ‖ Husbands, love your wives, as Christ also loved the church, and delivered himself up for it,

26 That he might sanctify it, cleansing it by the laver of water in the word of life,

27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church not having spot or wrinkle, nor any such thing, but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So also ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself.

29 For no man ever hated his own flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, as also Christ doth the church:

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesh and of his bones.

‖ Gen. 2. 24. Matt. 19. 5. Mark 10. 7. † 1 Cor. 6. 16.

31 ‖ For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother: and shall adhere to his wife, † and they shall be two in one flesh.

32 This is a great sacrament: but I speak in Christ and in the church.

33 Nevertheless let every one of you in particular love his wife as himself: and let the wife reverence her husband.

CHAP. VI.

Duties of children and servants. The Christian's armour.

CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is just.

‖ Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 6. Eccli. 3. 9. Matt. 15. 4. Mark 7. 10. Col. 3. 20.

2 ‖ Honour thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment with promise:

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayst be long lived upon earth.

4 And you fathers provoke not your children to anger: but bring them up in the discipline and correction of the Lord.

† Col. 3. 22. Titus 2. 9. 1 Pet. 2. 18.

5 † Servants obey your carnal masters, with fear and trembling, in the simplicity of your heart, as Christ:

6 Not serving to the eye, as it were pleasing men, but, as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,

7 With a good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

8 Knowing that whatsoever good every one shall do, the same shall he receive from the Lord, whether he be bond, or free.

10 As to the rest, brethren, be strengthened in the Lord, and in the might of his power.

11 Put you on the armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the snares of the devil.

12 For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood: but against principalities and powers, against the rulers of the world of this darkness: against the spirits of wickedness in the high places.

13 Wherefore take unto you the armour of God, that you may be able to resist in the evil day, and to stand in all things perfect.

14 Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of justice,

15 And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace:

22 Whom I have sent to you for this

CHAP. V. VER. 24. As the church is subject to Christ. The church then according to St. Paul is ever obedient to Christ; and can never fall from him, but remain faithful to him, unspotted and unchanged to the end of the world.

VER. 12. High places, or heavenly places. That is to say, in the air, the lowest of the celestial regions; in which God permits these wicked spirits or fallen angels to wander.

same purpose, that you may know the things concerning us, and that he may comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and charity, with faith from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all, who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

VER. 24. In sincerity: Literally, in incorruption; that is, with a pure and perfect love.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL

TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

The PHILIPPIANS were the first among the Macedonians converted to the faith. They had a great veneration for St. PAUL, and supplied his wants when he was a prisoner in Rome, sending to him by Epaphroditus, by whom he sent this Epistle; in which he recommends charity, unity and humility, and warns them against false teachers, which he calls dogs, and enemies of the cross of Christ. He also returns thanks for their benefactions. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension.

CHAP. I.

The apostle's affection for the Philippians.

PAUL and Timothy, the servants of Jesus Christ: to all the saints in Christ Jesus, who are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.

2 Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I give thanks to my God, in every remembrance of you,

4 Always in my prayers making supplication for you all with joy,

5 For your fellowship in the gospel of Christ, from the first day until now.

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he who hath begun a good work in you, will perfect it unto the day of Christ Jesus.

7 As it is meet for me to think this for you all: because I have you in my heart: and that in my bands, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers of my joy.

8 For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your charity may more and more abound in knowledge, and in all understanding.

10 That you may approve the better things, that you may be sincere and without offence unto the day of Christ,

11 Replenished with the fruit of justice, through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I desire, brethren, you should know, that the things which have happened to me have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the gospel:

13 So that my bands are made manifest, in Christ, in all the court, and in all other places:

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord having taken courage by my chains, are much more bold to speak the word of God without fear.

15 Some indeed even out of envy and contention: but some also for good-will preach Christ:

16 Some out of charity, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

17 And some out of contention preach Christ not sincerely, imagining that they raise affliction to my bands.

18 But what then? So that every way, whether by occasion, or by truth, Christ be preached: in this also I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this ſhall turn to my ſalvation, through your prayer, and the ſupply of the Spirit of Jeſus Chriſt.

20 According to my expectation and hope, that in nothing I ſhall be confounded: but with all confidence, as always, ſo now alſo ſhall Chriſt be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me, to live is Chriſt, and to die is gain.

22 And if to live in the fleſh, this is to me the fruit of labour, and what I ſhall chuſe I know not.

23 But I am ſtraitened between two; having a deſire to be diſſolved, and to be with Chriſt, being by much the better:

24 But to remain in the fleſh is neceſſary for you.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I ſhall remain and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith:

26 That your rejoicing may abound in Chriſt Jeſus, for me, by my coming to you again.

‖ Epheſ. 4. 1. Coloſſ. 1. 10. 1. Theſſ. 2. 12.

27 ‖ Only let your converſation be worthy of the goſpel of Chriſt: that whether when I come and ſee you, or be abſent I may hear of you, that you ſtand faſt in one ſpirit, with one mind labouring together for the faith of the goſpel:

28 And that you be in nothing terrified by the adverſaries: which to them is a cauſe of perdition, but to you of ſalvation, and this from God:

29 For to you it is given for Chriſt, not only to believe in him, but alſo to ſuffer for his ſake:

30 Having the ſame conflict as that which you have ſeen in me, and now have heard of me.

CHAP. II.

He recommends to them unity and humility; and to work out their ſalvation with fear and trembling.

IF there be therefore any conſolation in Chriſt, if any comfort of charity, if any fellowſhip of the ſpirit, if any bowels of commiſeration:

2 Fulfil ye my joy, that you be of one mind, having the ſame charity, being of one accord, agreeing in ſentiment,

3 Let nothing be done through ſtrife, nor by vain-glory: but in humility, let each eſteem others better than themſelves,

4 Each one not conſidering the things that are his own, but thoſe that are other men's.

5 For let this mind be in you, which was alſo in Chriſt Jeſus:

6 Who being in the form of God, thought it no robbery, himſelf to be equal to God:

7 But debaſed himſelf, taking the form of a ſervant, being made to the likeneſs of men, and in ſhape found as a man.

8 ‖ He humbled himſelf, becoming obedient unto death, even the death of the croſs. ‖ Hebr. 2. 9.

9 Wherefore God alſo hath exalted him, and hath given him a name which is above every name:

10 ‖ That in the name of Jeſus every knee ſhould bow of thoſe that are in heaven, on earth, and in hell; ‖ Iſai. 45. 24. Rom. 14. 11.

11 And that every tongue ſhould confeſs that the Lord Jeſus Chriſt is in the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, (as you have always obeyed not as in my preſence only, but much more now in my abſence) work your ſalvation with fear and trembling.

13 For it is God who worketh in you both to will and to accompliſh, according to his good will.

14 ‖ And do ye all things without murmurings and heſitations: ‖ Pet. 4. 9.

15 That you may be blameleſs, and ſincere children of God, without reproof, in the midſt of a depraved and perverſe generation: among whom you ſhine as lights in the world.

16 Holding forth the word of life to my glory in the day of Chriſt, becauſe I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if I be made a victim upon the ſacrifice and ſervice of your faith, I rejoice and congratulate with you all.

18 And for the ſelf-ſame thing do you alſo rejoice, and congratulate with me.

19 And I hope in the Lord Jeſus, ‖ to ſend Timothy to you ſhortly, that I alſo may be of good comfort, when I know the things concerning you. ‖ Acts. 19. 1.

20 For I have no man ſo of the ſame mind, who with ſincere affection is ſolicitous for you.

CHAP. I. VER. 22. This is to me, &c. His meaning is, that although his dying immediately for Chriſt would be his gain, by putting him preſently in poſſeſſion of heaven; yet he is doubtful what he ſhould chuſe, becauſe by ſtaying longer in the fleſh, he ſhould be more beneficial to the ſouls of his neighbours.

CHAP. II. VER. 7. Debaſed himſelf, exinanivit, made himſelf as of no account.

VER. 12. With fear, &c. This is againſt the falſe faith, and preſumptuous ſecurity of modern ſectaries.

21 || For all ſeek the things that are their own, not the things that are Jeſus Chriſt's. || 1 Cor. 13. 5.

22 Now know ye the proof of him, that as a ſon with the father, ſo hath he ſerved with me in the goſpel.

23 Him therefore I hope to ſend to you immediately, as ſoon as I ſhall ſee how things go with me.

24 And I truſt in the Lord, that I alſo myſelf ſhall come to you ſhortly.

25 But I thought it neceſſary to ſend to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow-labourer and fellow-ſoldier, but your apoſtle, and the miniſter to my wants.

26 For indeed he longed after you all: and was ſad, for that you had heard, that he was ſick.

27 For indeed he was ſick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not only on him, but on me alſo, leſt I ſhould have ſorrow upon ſorrow.

28 Therefore I ſent him the more ſpeedily: that ſeeing him, you may again rejoice, and I may be without ſorrow.

29 Receive him therefore with all joy in the Lord: and treat with honour ſuch as he is.

30 Becauſe for the work of Chriſt, he came nigh unto death, delivering up his life that he might fulfil that which was wanting on your part towards my ſervice.

CHAP. III.

He warneth them againſt falſe teachers: he counts all other things loſs, that he may gain Chriſt.

AS to the reſt, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the ſame things to you, to me indeed is not weariſome, but to you neceſſary.

2 Beware of dogs, * beware of evil-workers, beware of the conciſion. * i. e. falſe teachers.

3 For we are the circumciſion, who ſerve God in ſpirit, and glory in Chriſt Jeſus not having confidence in the fleſh:

4 Though I might alſo have confidence in the fleſh. If any other thinketh he may have confidence in the fleſh, I more,

5 Being circumciſed the eighth day, of the ſtock of Iſrael, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews, || as to the law a Phariſee, || Acts 23. 6.

6 As to zeal, perſecuting the church of God, as to the juſtice that is in the law, converſing without blame.

7 But what things were gain to me, thoſe I have counted loſs for Chriſt.

8 But indeed I eſteem all things to be but loſs, for the excellent knowledge of Jeſus Chriſt my Lord: for whom I have ſuffered the loſs of all things, and count them but as dung that I may gain Chriſt,

9 And may be found in him not, having my juſtice, which is of the law, but that which is of the faith of Chriſt Jeſus: the juſtice which is of God in faith,

10 That I may know him, and the power of his reſurrection, and the fellowſhip of his ſufferings: being made conformable to his death:

11 If by any means I may attain to the reſurrection, which is from the dead:

12 Not as though I had already attained, or were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may by any means apprehend that in which I am alſo apprehended by Chriſt Jeſus.

13 Brethren, I do not count myſelf to have apprehended. But one thing I do: forgetting the things that are behind, and ſtretching forth myſelf to thoſe that are before,

14 I purſue towards the mark, for the prize of the ſupernal vocation of God in Chriſt Jeſus.

15 Let us therefore as many as are perfect, be thus minded: and if any thing you be otherwiſe minded, this alſo God will reveal to you.

16 Nevertheleſs whereunto we are already arrived, that we be of the ſame mind; let us alſo continue in the ſame rule.

17 Be followers of me, brethren, and obſerve them who walk ſo, as you have our model.

18 || For many walk, of whom I have told you often (and now tell you weeping) that they are enemies of the croſs of Chriſt; || Rom. 16. 17.

19 Whoſe end is deſtruction: whoſe God is their belly: and whoſe glory is in their ſhame, who mind earthly things.

20 But our converſation is in heaven: from whence alſo we wait for the Saviour our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, 21 Who will reform the body of our lowneſs, made like to the body of his glory, according to the operation whereby alſo he is able to ſubdue all things unto himſelf.

CHAP. IV.

He exhorts them to perſeverance in all good; and acknowledges their charitable contributions to him.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved, and moſt deſired, my joy and my crown: ſo ſtand faſt in the Lord, my moſt dearly beloved:

2 I beg of Euodia, and I beſeech Syntyche to be of one mind in the Lord.

3 And I entreat thee my ſincere companion, help thoſe women, who have laboured with me in the goſpel with Clement, and the reſt of my fellow-labourers, whoſe names are in the book of life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord always: again, I ſay, rejoice.

5 Let your modeſty be known to all men: the Lord is nigh.

6 Be not ſolicitous about any thing: but in every thing by prayer and ſupplication with thankſgiving let your petitions be made known to God.

7 And the peace of God, which ſurpaſſeth all underſtanding, keep your hearts and minds in Chriſt Jeſus.

8 For the reſt, brethren, whatſoever things are true, whatſoever things are modeſt, whatſoever things are juſt, whatſoever things are holy, whatſoever things are amiable, whatſoever things are of good repute, if there be any virtue, if there be any praiſe of diſcipline, think on theſe things.

9 The things which you have both learned and received, and heard, and ſeen in me, theſe do ye: and the God of peace ſhall be with you.

10 And I rejoiced in the Lord exceedingly, that now at length your thought for me hath flouriſhed again, as you did alſo think: but you were occupied.

11 I ſpeak not as it were for want: for I have learned, in whatſoever ſtate I am, to be content therewith.

12 I know both how to be brought low, and I know how to abound: (every where, and in all things I am inſtructed) both to be full, and to be hungry: both to abound, and to ſuffer need.

13 I can do all things in him who ſtrengtheneth me.

14 Nevertheleſs you have done well, in communicating to my tribulation.

15 And you alſo know, O Philippians, that in the beginning of the goſpel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated to me as concerning giving and receiving, but you only:

16 For unto Theſſalonica alſo, you ſent once and again for my uſe.

17 Not that I ſeek the gift, but I ſeek the fruit that may abound to your account.

18 But I have all, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things you ſent, an odour of ſweetneſs, an acceptable ſacrifice, well pleaſing to God.

19 ‖ And may my God ſupply all your want, according to his riches, in glory in Chriſt Jeſus. ‖ Rom. 12. 1.

20 Now to God and our Father be glory world without end. Amen.

21 Salute ye every ſaint in Chriſt Jeſus.

22 The brethren, who are with me, ſalute you: All the ſaints ſalute you: eſpecially they who are of Cæſar's houſe.

23 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with your ſpirit. Amen.

CHAP. IV. VER. 8. For the reſt brethren, whatſoever things are true, &c. Here the apoſtle enumerates general precepts of morality, which they ought to practice. Whatſoever things are true; in words, in promiſes, in lawful oaths, &c. he commands rectitude of mind and ſincerity of heart. Whatſoever things are modeſt: by theſe words he preſcribes gravity in manners, modeſty in dreſs and decency in converſation. Whatſoever things are juſt: that is, in dealing with others, in buying or ſelling, in trade or buſineſs, to be fair and honeſt. Whatſoever things are holy: by theſe words may be underſtood that thoſe who are in a religious ſtate profeſſed, or in holy orders, ſhould lead a life of ſanctity and chaſtity according to the vows they make; but theſe words being alſo applied to thoſe in the world, indicate the virtuous life they are bound by the divine commandments to follow. Whatſoever things are amiable: That is, to practice thoſe good offices in ſociety, that procure us the eſteem and good will of our neighbours. Whatſoever things are of good repute: That is, that by our conduct and behaviour we ſhould edify our neighbours and give them good example by our actions. If there be any virtue, if there be any praiſe of diſcipline: that thoſe in error, by ſeeing the morality and good diſcipline of the true religion, may be converted. And finally, the apoſtle commands, not only the Philippians but all chriſtians, to think on theſe things: that is, to make it their ſtudy and concern, that the peace of God might be with them.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE COLOSSIANS.

Colossæ was a city of Phrygia, near Laodicea. It does not appear that St. Paul had preached there himself, but that the Colossians were converted by Epaphra, a disciple of the Apostles. However, as St. Paul was the great Apostle of the Gentiles, he wrote this Epistle to the Colossians when he was in prison, and about the same time that he wrote to the Ephesians and Philippians. The exhortations and doctrine it contains are similar to that which is set forth in his Epistle to the Ephesians.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks for the grace bestowed upon the Colossians: and prays for them: Christ is the head of the church, and the peace-maker through his blood. Paul is his minister.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy a brother:

2 To them who are at Colossæ, the saints and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus.

3 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Hearing your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love which you have towards all the saints,

5 For the hope that is laid up for you in heaven: which you have heard in the word of the truth of the gospel:

6 Which is come to you, as also it is in the whole world, and bringeth forth fruit, and groweth, even as it doth in you, since the day you heard, and knew the grace of God in truth,

7 As you learned of Epaphras our most beloved fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ Jesus,

8 Who also hath declared to us your love in the spirit:

9 Therefore we also, from the day that we heard it, cease not to pray for you, and to beg that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom, and spiritual understanding:

10 That you may walk worthy of God, in all things pleasing: being fruitful in every good work, and encreasing in the knowledge of God:

11 Strengthened with all might according to the power of his glory, in all patience and long-suffering with joy,

12 Giving thanks to God the Father, who hath made us worthy to be partakers of the lot of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his beloved Son,

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins:

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature:

16 ‖ For in him were all things created in heaven, and on earth, visible, and invisible, whether thrones, or dominations or principalities or powers: all things were created by him, and in him: ‖ John i. 3.

17 And he is before all, and by him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the body the church, ‖ who is the beginning, the first- ‖ 1. Cor. 15. 20. Apoc. 1. 5.

CHAP. I. VER. 15. The first-born. That is, first begotten; as the Evangelist declares, the only begotten of his Father: hence St. Chrysostom explains first-born, not first created, as he was not created at all, but born of his Father before all ages; that is, coeval with the Father and with the Holy Ghost.

born from the dead: that in all things he may hold the primacy.

19 Because in him, it hath well-pleased that all fulness should dwell:

20 And through him to reconcile all things unto himself, making peace through the blood of his cross, both as to the things that are on earth, and the things that are in heaven.

21 And you, whereas you were some time alienated, and enemies in mind in evil works:

22 Yet now he hath reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unspotted, and blameless before him:

23 If so ye continue in the faith, grounded and settled, and immoveable from the hope of the gospel which you have heard, which is preached in all the creation that is under heaven, whereof I Paul am made a minister.

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up those things that are wanting of the sufferings of Christ, in my flesh for his body, which is the church:

25 Whereof I am made a minister according to the dispensation of God, which is given me towards you, that I may fulfil the word of God:

26 The mystery which hath been hidden from ages and generations, but now is made manifest to his saints,

27 To whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ, in you the hope of glory.

28 Whom we preach, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

29 Wherein also I labour, striving according to his working which he worketh in me in power.

CHAP. II.

He warns them against the impostures of the philosophers and the Jewish teachers, that would withdraw them from Christ.

FOR I would have you know, what concern I have for you, and for them who are at Laodicea, and as many as have not seen my face in the flesh:

2 That their hearts may be comforted, being instructed in charity, and unto all the riches of the fulness of understanding, unto the knowledge of the mystery of God the Father, and of Christ Jesus:

3 In whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 Now this I say, that no man may deceive you by loftiness of words.

5 ‖ For though I be absent in body, yet in spirit I am with you; rejoicing and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith which is in Christ. ‖ 1 Cor. 5. 3.

6 As therefore you have received Jesus Christ the Lord, walk ye in him.

7 Rooted, and built up in him, and confirmed in the faith, as also you have learned, abounding in him in thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man impose upon you by philosophy, and vain fallacy: according to the tradition of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not according to Christ:

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead corporally:

10 And you are filled in him, who is the head of all principality and power:

11 In whom also you are circumcised with a circumcision not made by hand in the despoiling of the body of the flesh, but in the circumcision of Christ:

12 Buried with him in baptism, in whom also you are risen again by the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him up from the dead.

13 ‖ And you, when you were dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, he hath quickened together with him, forgiving you all offences: ‖ Ephes. 2. 1.

14 Blotting out the hand-writing of the decree which was against us, which was contrary to us, and the same he took out of the way, fastening it to the cross:

15 And divesting principalities and powers, he made a shew of them confidently, triumphing openly over them in himself.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a festival day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbaths:

17 Which are a shadow of things to come: but the body is of Christ.

18 ‖ Let no man seduce you, willing in humility and religion of angels, walking in the things which he hath not seen, in vain puffed up by the sense of his flesh, ‖ Matt. 24. 4.

VER. 24. Wanting. There is no want in the sufferings of Christ in himself as head: but many sufferings are still wanting, or are still to come, in his body the church, and his members the faithful.

CHAP. II. VER. 16. In meat, &c. He means with regard to the Jewish observations of the distinction of clean and unclean meats; and of their festivals, new moons, and sabbaths; as being no longer obligatory.

VER. 18. Willing, &c. That is by a self-willed, self-invented, superstitious worship, falsly pretending

19 And not holding the head, from which all the body, by joints and bands being supplied with nourishment and compacted, groweth unto the increase of God.

20 If then you be dead with Christ from the rudiments of this world: why do you yet decree as though living in the world?

21 Touch not, taste not, handle not:

22 Which all are unto destruction by the very use, according to the precepts and doctrines of men:

23 Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in superstition, and humility, and not sparing the body, not in any honour to the filling of the flesh.

CHAP. III.

He exhorts them to put off the old man, and to put on the new The duties of wives and husbands, children and servants.

THEREFORE, if you be risen with Christ, seek the things that are above: where Christ is sitting at the right hand of God:

2 Mind the things that are above, not the things that are on the earth.

3 For you are dead, and your life is hidden with Christ in God.

4 When Christ shall appear, who is your life: then shall you also appear with him in glory.

5 Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth: ‖ fornication, uncleanness, lust, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is the service of idols:

‖ Ephes. 5. 3.

6 For which things the wrath of God cometh upon the children of unbelief:

7 In which you also walked some time, when you lived in them.

‖ Rom. 6.4. Ephes. 4.22. Hebr. 12 1. 1 Pet. 2. 1. & 4. 2.

8 ‖ But now put you also all away: anger, indignation, malice, blasphemy, filthy speech out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, stripping yourselves of the old man with his deeds,

‡ Gen. 1. 26.

10 And putting on the new, him who is renewed unto knowledge, ‡ according to the image of him, who created him.

11 Where there is neither Gentile nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian nor Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

12 Put ye on therefore, as the elect of God, holy, and beloved, the bowels of mercy, benignity, humility, modesty, patience:

13 Bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if any have a complaint against another: even as the Lord hath forgiven you, so do you also.

14 But above all these things have charity, which is the bond of perfection:

15 And let the peace of Christ rejoice in your hearts, wherein also you are called in one body: and be ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you abundantly, in all wisdom, teaching, and admonishing one another ‖ in psalms, hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing in grace in your hearts to God.

‖ Ephes. 5. 19.

17 ‖ All whatsoever you do in word or in work, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

‖ 1 Cor. 10. 31.

18 ‡ Wives, be subject to your husbands, as it behoveth in the Lord.

‡ Ephes. 5. 22. 1. Pet. 3. 1.

19 Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter towards them.

20 ‖ Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is pleasing to the Lord.

‖ Ephes. 6. 1.

21 ‡ Fathers, provoke not your children to anger; lest they be discouraged.

‡ Ephes. 6. 4.

22 ‖ Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh, not serving to the eye, as pleasing men, but in simplicity of heart, fearing God.

‖ Titus 2.9. 1 Peter 2. 18.

23 Whatsoever you do, do it from the heart, as to the Lord, and not to men:

24 Knowing that you shall receive of the Lord the reward of inheritance. Serve ye the Lord Christ.

25 ‖ For he that doth an injury shall receive for that which he hath done unjustly, and there is no respect of persons with God.

‖ Rom 2.6

humility, but really proceeding from pride. Such was the worship, that many of the philosophers (against whom St. Paul speaks, v. 8.) paid to angels or demons, by sacrificing to them, as carriers of intelligence betwixt God and men; pretending humility in so doing, as if God was too great to be addressed to by men; and setting aside the mediatorship of Jesus Christ; who is the head both of angels and men. Such also was the worship paid by the ancient heretics, disciples of Simon and Menander, to the angels, whom they believed to be the makers and lords of this lower world. This is certain, that they whom the apostle here condemns, did not hold the head, (v. 19.) that is, Jesus Christ, and his mediatorship: and and therefore what he writes here no ways touches the Catholic doctrine and practice, of desiring our good angels to pray to God for us, through Jesus Christ. St. Jerom [Epist. ad Algas] understands by the religion or service of angels, the Jewish religion given by angels; and shews all that is here said, to be directed against the Jewish teachers, who sought to subject the new Christians to the observances of the Mosaic law.

VER. 21. Touch not, &c. The meaning is, that Christians should not subject themselves, either to the ordinances of the old law, forbidding touching or tasting things unclean: or to the superstitious invention of heretics, imposing such restraints, under pretence of wisdom, humility or mortification.

CHAP. IV.

He recommends conſtant prayer, and wiſdom. Various ſalutations.

MASTERS, do to your ſervants that which is juſt and equal: knowing that you alſo have a maſter in heaven.

‖ Luke 18. 1 Theſſ. 5. 17. ‖ Be inſtant in prayer: watching in it with thankſgiving:

† Epheſ. 6. 19. 2 Theſſ. 3. 1. Coloſſ. 4. 3. † Praying withal for us alſo, that God may open to us a door of ſpeech to ſpeak the myſtery of Chriſt (for which alſo I am in bands).

4 That I may make it manifeſt as I ought to ſpeak.

‖ Epheſ. 5. 15. 5 ‖ Walk with wiſdom towards thoſe who are without: redeeming the time.

6 Let your ſpeech be always in grace ſeaſoned with ſalt, that you may know how you ought to anſwer every man.

7 All the things that concern me, Tychicus, our deareſt brother, and faithful miniſter, and fellow-ſervant in the Lord, will make known to you:

8 Whom I have ſent to you for this ſame purpoſe, that he may know the things that concern you, and comfort your hearts,

9 With Oneſimus, a moſt beloved and faithful brother, who is one of you. All things that are done here, they ſhall make known to you.

10 Ariſtarchus my fellow-priſoner ſaluteth you, and Mark the couſin-german of Barnabas, touching whom you have received commandments: if he come to you, receive him:

11 And Jeſus who is called Juſtus: who are of the circumciſion: theſe only are my helpers in the kingdom of God, who have been a comfort to me.

12 Epaphras ſaluteth you, who is one of you, a ſervant of Chriſt Jeſus, who is always ſolicitous for you in prayers, that you may ſtand perfect, and full in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him teſtimony that he hath much labour for you, and for them who are at Laodicea, and them at Hierapolis.

‖ 2 Tim. 4. 11. 14 ‖ Luke the phyſician moſt dearly beloved, ſaluteth you, and Demas.

15 Salute the brethren who are at Laodicea: and Nymphas, and the church that is in his houſe.

16 And when this epiſtle ſhall be read among you, cauſe that it be read alſo in the church of the Laodiceans: and read you that which is of the Laodiceans.

17 And ſay to Archipus: Take heed to the miniſtry which thou haſt received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 The ſalutation of Paul with my own hand. Be mindful of my chains: Grace be with you. Amen.

CHAP. IV. VER. 16. And read you that which is of the Laodiceans. What this epiſtle was is uncertain, and annotators have given different opinions concerning it. Some expound theſe words of an epiſtle, which St. Paul wrote to the Laodiceans, and is ſince loſt, for that now extant is no more than a collection of ſentences out of the other epiſtles of St. Paul; therefore it cannot be conſidered even as a part of that epiſtle. Others explain that the text means a letter ſent to St. Paul by the Laodiceans, which he ſends to the Coloſſians to be read by them. However this opinion does not ſeem well founded. Hence it is more probable that St. Paul wrote an epiſtle from Rome to the Laodiceans about the ſame time that he wrote to the Coloſſians, as he had them both equally at heart, and that he ordered that epiſtle to be read by the Coloſſians for their inſtructions; and, being neighbouring cities, they might communicate to each other what they had received from him: as one epiſtle might contain ſome matters not related in the other, and would be equally uſeful for their concern; and more particularly as they were equally diſturbed by intruders and falſe teachers, againſt which the apoſtle was anxious to warn them, leſt they ſhould be infected by their pernicious doctrine.

THE

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL

TO THE THESSALONIANS.

Theſſalonica was the capital of Macedonia, in which St. PAUL having preached the Goſpel, converted ſome Jews and a great number of the Gentiles: but the unbelieving Jews, envying his ſucceſs, raiſed ſuch a commotion againſt him, that he and his companion Sylvanus were obliged to quit the city. Afterwards went to Athens where he had heard that the converts in Theſſalonica were under a ſevere perſecution ever ſince his departure, and leſt they ſhould loſe their fortitude he ſent Timothy to ſtrengthen and comfort them in their ſufferings. In the mean time St. PAUL came to Corinth, where he wrote this firſt Epiſtle and alſo the ſecond to the THESSALONIANS, both in the ſame year, being the nineteenth after our Lord's Aſcenſion. Theſe are the firſt of his Epiſtles in the order of time.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks for the graces beſtowed on the Theſſalonians.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy to the church of the Theſſalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Grace be to you and peace. We give thanks to God always for you all: making a remembrance of you in our prayers without ceaſing,

3 Being mindful of the work of your faith, and labour, and charity, and of the enduring of the hope of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, before God and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election:

5 For our goſpel hath not been to you in word only, but in power alſo, and in the Holy Ghoſt, and in much fulneſs, as you know what manner of men we have been among you for your ſakes.

6 And you became followers of us, and of the Lord: receiving the word in much tribulation, with the joy of the Holy Ghoſt:

7 So that you were made a pattern to all that believe in Macedonia, and in Achaia.

8 For from you was ſpread abroad the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but alſo in every place, your faith which is towards God, is gone forth, ſo that we need not to ſpeak any thing.

9 For they themſelves relate of us, what manner of entrance we had unto you: and how you were converted to God from idols, to ſerve the living and true God.

10 And to wait for his Son from heaven (whom he raiſed from the dead) Jeſus, who hath delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

The ſincerity of the apoſtle's preaching the goſpel to them: and of their receiving it.

FOR yourſelves brethren, know our entrance unto you, that it was not in vain:

2 But having ſuffered before, and being contumeliouſly treated (as you know) at Philippi, ‖ we had confidence in our God, to ſpeak to you the goſpel of God in much ſolicitude. ‖ Acts 16. 19.

3 For our exhortation was not of error, nor of uncleanneſs, nor in deceit,

4 But as we were approved of God, that the goſpel ſhould be committed to us: even ſo we ſpeak, not as pleaſing men, but God, who proveth our hearts.

5 For neither have we uſed at any time, the ſpeech of flattery, as you know: nor taken an occaſion of covetouſneſs: God is witneſs:

6 Nor ſought we glory of men, neither of you, nor of others.

7 Whereas we might have been burdenſome to you, as the apoſtles of Chriſt: but we became little ones in the midſt of you, as if a nurſe ſhould cheriſh her children.

8 So deſirous of you, we would gladly have imparted to you not only the goſpel of God, but alſo our own ſouls: becauſe you were become moſt dear to us.

9 For you remember, brethren, our labour and toil: ‖ working night and day, leſt we ſhould be burdenſome to any of you, we preached among you the goſpel of God.

‖ Acts 20. 24. 1. Cor. 4. 12. 2. Theſſ. 3. 8.

10 You are witneſſes, and God alſo, how holily, and juſtly, and without blame we have been among you, who have believed:

11 As you know, in what manner, entreating and comforting you, (as a father doth his children)

12 We teſtified to every one of you, that you would walk worthy of God, who hath called you to his kingdom and glory.

13 Therefore we alſo give thanks to God without ceaſing: becauſe that when you had received from us the word of the hearing of God, you received it not as the word of men, but (as it truly is) the word of God, who worketh in you, who have believed.

14 For you, brethren, are become followers of the churches of God, which are in Judea, in Chriſt Jeſus: for you alſo have ſuffered the ſame things from your own countrymen, even as they have from the Jews:

15 Who both killed the Lord Jeſus, and the prophets, and have perſecuted us, and they pleaſe not God, and are adverſaries to all men;

16 Forbidding us to ſpeak to the Gentiles that they may be ſaved, to fill up their ſins always: for the wrath of God is come upon them to the end.

17 But we, brethren, being taken away from you for a ſhort time, in ſight, not in heart, have haſtened the more abundantly to ſee your face with great deſire:

18 For we would have come to you, even I Paul once and again; but ſatan hindered us.

19 For what is our hope or joy, or crown of glory? Are not you, in the preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt at his coming?

20 For you are our glory and joy.

CHAP. III.

The apoſtle's concern and love for the Theſſalonians.

FOR which cauſe forbearing no longer, we thought it good to remain at Athens alone:

2 ‖ And we ſent Timothy our brother, and a miniſter of God in the goſpel of Chriſt, to confirm you, and exhort you concerning your faith: ‖ Acts 17.

3 That no man ſhould be moved in theſe tribulations: for yourſelves know, that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For even when we were with you, we foretold you that we ſhould ſuffer tribulations, as alſo it is come to paſs, and you know.

5 For this cauſe alſo I forbearing no longer, ſent to know your faith: leſt perhaps he that tempteth, ſhould have tempted you, and our labour ſhould be made vain.

6 But now when Timothy came to us from you, and related to us your faith and charity, and that you have a good remembrance of us always, deſiring to ſee us, as we alſo to ſee you:

7 Therefore we were comforted, brethren, in you, in all our diſtreſs and tribulation, by your faith;

8 For now we live, if you ſtand in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we return to God for you, in all the joy wherewith we rejoice for you before our God.

10 Night and day, praying more abundantly, that we may ſee your face, and may accompliſh thoſe things that are wanting to your faith?

11 Now God himſelf and our Father, and our Lord Jeſus Chriſt direct our way unto you:

12 And may the Lord multiply you, and make you abound in charity towards one another, and towards all men: as we do alſo towards you,

13 To confirm your hearts without blame, in holineſs, before God and our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt with all his ſaints. Amen.

CHAP. IV.

He exhorts them to purity and mutual charity: he treats of the reſurrection of the dead.

FOR the reſt therefore, brethren, we pray and beſeech you in the Lord

CHAP. II. VER. 16. To fill up their ſins. That is to fill up the meaſure of their ſins, after which God's juſtice would puniſh them. For the wrath of God is come upon them to the end. That is, to continue on them to the end.

Jeſus, that as you have received from us, how you ought to walk, and to pleaſe God, ſo alſo you would walk, that you may abound the more.

2 For you know what commandments I have given to you by the Lord Jeſus.

3 || For this is the will of God, your ſanctification: that you ſhould abſtain from fornication: || Rom. 12. 2. Epheſ. 5. 17.

4 That every one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſs his veſſel in ſanctification and honour:

5 Not in the paſſion of luſt, like the Gentiles who know not God:

6 And that no man over-reach, nor deceive his brother in buſineſs: becauſe the Lord is the avenger of all ſuch things, as we have told you before, and have teſtified.

7 For God hath not called us to uncleanneſs, but to holineſs.

8 He therefore that deſpiſeth theſe things, deſpiſeth not man, but God: who alſo hath given his holy Spirit in us.

9 Now concerning fraternal charity, we have no need to write to you: || for yourſelves have learned of God to love one another. || John 13. 34. & 15. 12. & 17. 1 John 2. 10. & 4. 12.

10 For indeed you do it towards all the brethren in all Macedonia. But we entreat you, brethren that you abound more.

11 And that you uſe your endeavour to be quiet, and that you do your own buſineſs, and work with your own hands, as we commanded you: and that you walk honeſtly towards them that are without: and that you want nothing of any man's.

12 And we will not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that are aſleep, that you be not ſorrowful, even as others who have no hope.

13 For if we believe that Jeſus died, and roſe again, even ſo them who have ſlept through Jeſus, God will bring with him.

14 For this we ſay unto you in the word of the Lord, || that we who are alive, who remain unto the coming of the Lord, ſhall not prevent them, who have ſlept. || 1 Cor. 15. 23.

15 For the Lord himſelf ſhall come down from heaven with commandment, and with the voice of the arch-angel, and with the trumpet of God: and the dead, who are in Chriſt, ſhall riſe firſt.

16 Then we who are alive, who are left, ſhall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet Chriſt in the air, and ſo ſhall we be always with the Lord.

17 Wherefore comfort ye one another with theſe words.

CHAP. V.

The day of the Lord ſhall come, when leaſt expected. Exhortations to ſeveral duties.

BUT of the times and moments, brethren, you need not that we ſhould write to you.

2 || For yourſelves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord ſhall ſo come, as a thief in the night. || 2 Pet. 3. 10. Apoc. 3. 3. & 16. 15.

3 For when they ſhall ſay, peace and ſecurity: then ſhall ſudden deſtruction come upon them, as the pains upon her that is with child, and they ſhall not eſcape.

4 But you, brethren, are not in darkneſs, that that day ſhould overtake you as a thief:

5 For all you are the children of light, and children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkneſs.

6 Therefore let us not ſleep, as others do: but let us watch and be ſober.

7 For they who ſleep, ſleep in the night: and they who are drunk, are drunk in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be ſober, || having on the breaſt-plate of faith and charity, and for a helmet, the hope of ſalvation: || Iſai. 59. 17. Epheſ. 6. 14. & 17.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to the purchaſing of ſalvation by our Lord Jeſus Chriſt,

10 Who died for us: that whether we wake or ſleep, we may live together with him.

11 Wherefore comfort one another: and edify one another, as you alſo do.

12 And we beſeech you, brethren, to know them who labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admoniſh you,

13 That you eſteem them more abundantly in charity for their work: have peace with them.

14 And we beſeech you, brethren, rebuke the unquiet, comfort the feeble-minded, ſupport the weak, be patient towards all men.

15 || See that none render evil for evil to anyone: but always follow that which is good towards each other, and towards all men. || Prov. 17. 13. & 20. 22. Rom 12 17. 1 Pet. 3. 9.

16 Always rejoice. || Eccli. 18. 22.

17 || Pray without ceaſing. Luke 18. 1.

18 In all things give thanks: for this is the will of God in Chriſt Jeſus concerning you all. Coloſſ. 4. 2.

19 Extinguiſh not the Spirit.

20 Deſpiſe not prophecies.

21 But prove all things; hold that which is good.

CHAP. V. VER. 14. The unquiet; that is, ſuch as are irregular and diſorderly.

22 From all appearance of evil refrain yourſelves.

23 And may the God of peace himſelf ſanctify you in all things: that your whole ſpirit, and ſoul, and body be preſerved blameleſs for the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

24 ‖ He is faithful who hath called you: who will alſo perform. ‖ 1 Cor. 1. 9.

25 Brethren, pray for us.

26 Salute all the brethren with a holy kiſs.

27 I charge you, by the Lord, that this epiſtle be read to all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you. Amen.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL

TO THE THESSALONIANS.

In this Epiſtle St. Paul admoniſhes the Theſſalonians to be conſtant in the faith of Chriſt, and not to be terrified by the inſinuations of falſe teachers telling them that the day of judgment was near at hand, as there muſt come many ſigns and wonders before it. He bids them to hold firm the traditions received from him, whether by word, or by epiſtle; and ſhews them how they may be certain of his letters by the manner he writes.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks to God for their faith and conſtancy: and prays for their advancement in all good.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Theſſalonians in God our Father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

3 We ought to give thanks always to God for you, brethren, as it is meet, becauſe your faith increaſeth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you towards each other, aboundeth:

4 So that we ourſelves alſo glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith, and in all your perſecutions and tribulations, which you endure.

5 For an example of the juſt judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which alſo you ſuffer.

6 Seeing it is a juſt thing with God to repay tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you who are troubled, reſt with us when the Lord Jeſus ſhall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power,

8 In a flame of fire, giving vengeance to them, who know not God, and who obey not the goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

9 Who ſhall ſuffer eternal pains in deſtruction, from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:

10 When he ſhall come to be glorified in his ſaints, and to be made wonderful in all them who have believed: becauſe our teſtimony was believed upon you in that day.

11 Wherefore alſo we pray always for you: that our God would make you worthy of his calling, and fulfil all the good pleaſure of his goodneſs, and the work of faith in power,

12 That the name of our Lord Jeſus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

CHAP. II.

The day of the Lord is not to come, till the the man of sin be revealed. The apostles traditions are to be observed.

AND we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our gathering together unto him:

2 That you be not easily moved from your sense, nor be terrified, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by epistle, as sent from us, as if the day of the Lord were at hand.

Ephes. 5. 6. 3 ‖ Let no man deceive you by any means: for unless there come a revolt first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition,

4 Who opposeth, and is lifted up above all that is called God, or that is worshipped, so that he sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself as if he were God.

5 Remember you not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now you know what withholdeth, that he may be revealed in his time.

7 For the mystery of iniquity already worketh: only that he who now holdeth, do hold, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then that wicked one shall be re- ‖Isai. 11. 4. vealed, ‖ whom the Lord Jesus shall kill with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming: him,

9 Whose coming is according to the working of satan, in all power, and signs, and lying wonders,

10 And in all seduction of iniquity to them that perish: because they receive not the love of the truth that they might be saved. Therefore God shall send them the operation of error, to believe a lie,

11 That all may be judged, who have not believed the truth, but have consented to iniquity.

12 But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of God, for that God hath chosen you first-fruits unto salvation, in sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth:

13 Whereunto also he hath called you by our gospel, unto the purchasing of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

14 Therefore, brethren, stand firm; and hold the traditions which you have learned, whether by word, or by our epistle.

15 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God and our Father who hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope in grace.

16 Exhort your hearts, and confirm you in every good work and word.

CHAP. III.

He begs their prayers, and warns them against idleness.

FOR the rest, brethren, pray for us, that Ephes. 6. 19. Coloss. 4. 3. the word of God may run and may be glorified, even as among you:

2 And that we may be delivered from troublesome and evil men: for all men have not faith.

3 But God is faithful, who will strengthen and keep you from evil.

4 And we have confidence concerning you in the Lord, that the things which we command, you both do, and will do.

5 And the Lord direct your heart, in the charity of God, and in the patience of Christ.

6 And we charge you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother walking disorderly, and not according to the tradition which they have received of us.

7 For yourselves know how you ought to imitate us: for we were not disorderly among you:

8 ‖ Neither did we eat any man's bread ‖ Acts 20. 34. 1. Cor. 4. 12. 1. Thess. 2. 9. for nothing, but in labour and in toil working night and day, lest we should be burthensome to any of you.

9 Not as if we had not authority; but that

CHAP. II. VER. 3. A revolt. This revolt, or falling off, is generally understood, by the ancient fathers, of a revolt from the Roman empire, which was first to be destroyed, before the coming of Antichrist. It may perhaps, be understood also of a revolt of many nations, from the catholic church; which has, in part, happened already, by the means of Mahomet, Luther, &c. and it may be supposed, will be more general in the days of Antichrist.

Ibid. The man of sin. Here must be meant some particular man, as is evident from the frequent repetition of the Greek article ὁ, the man of sin, the son of perdition, the adversay or opposer ὁ ἀντικείμενος. It agrees to the wicked and great Antichrist, who will come before the end of the world.

VER. 4. In the temple. Either that of Jerusalem, which some think, he will rebuild; or in some Christian church, which he will pervert to his own worship: as Mahomet has done by the churches of the east.

VER. 10. God shall send; that is, God shall suffer them to be deceived by lying wonders, and false miracles, in punishment of their not entertaining the love of truth.

VER. 14. Traditions. See here that the unwritten traditions of the apostles are no less to be received than their epistles,

CHAP. III. VER. 1. May run, that is, may spread itself, and have free course.

we might give ourſelves a pattern to you to imitate us.

10 For alſo when we were with you, we declared this to you: that if any man will not work, neither let him eat.

11 For we have heard that there are ſome among you who walk diſorderly, working not at all, but curiouſly meddling.

12 Now we charge them that are ſuch, and beſeech them by the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that, working with ſilence, they would eat their own bread.

‖ Gal. 6. 9. 13 ‖ But you, brethren, be not weary in well-doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epiſtle, note that man, and do not keep company with him, that he may be aſhamed:

15 Yet do not eſteem him as an enemy, but admoniſh him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himſelf, give you everlaſting peace in every place. The Lord be with you all.

17 The ſalutation of Paul with my own hand: which is the ſign in every epiſtle: ſo I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you all. Amen.

THE

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL

TO TIMOTHY.

ST. PAUL writes this Epiſtle to his BELOVED TIMOTHY, being then biſhop of Epheſus, to inſtruct him in the duties of a biſhop, both in reſpect to himſelf and to his charge; and that he ought to be well informed of the good morals of thoſe on whom he was to impoſe hands: Impoſe not hands lightly upon any man. He tells him alſo how he ſhould behave towards his clergy. This Epiſtle was written about thirty-three years after our Lord's Aſcenſion; but where it was written is uncertain: the more general opinion is, that it was in Macedonia.

CHAP. I.

He puts Timothy in mind of his charge: and bleſſes God for the mercy he himſelf had received.

PAUL an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Chriſt Jeſus our hope:

‖ Acts 16. 1. 2 ‖ To Timothy his beloved ſon in faith. Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

3 As I deſired thee to remain at Epheſus when I went into Macedonia, that thou mighteſt charge ſome not to teach otherwiſe, ‖ Infra 4. 7. 2 Tim. 2. 13. Titus 3. 9. 4 ‖ Not to give heed to fables and endleſs genealogies: which furniſh queſtions rather than the edification of God which is in faith.

5 Now the end of the commandment is charity from a pure heart, and a good conſcience and an unfeigned faith.

6 From which things ſome going aſtray are turned aſide to vain talk,

7 Deſiring to be teachers of the law, underſtanding neither the things they ſay, nor whereof they affirm.

8 ‖ But we know that the law is good, if a man uſe it lawfully: ‖ Rom. 7. 12.

9 Knowing this, that the law is not made for the juſt man, but for the unjuſt and diſobedient, for the ungodly, and for ſinners, for the wicked, and defiled, for murderers

CHAP. I. VER. 9. The law is not, &c. He means that the juſt man doth good, and avoideth evil, not as compelled by the law; and merely for fear of the puniſhment appointed for tranſgreſſors; but voluntarily, and out of the love of God and virtue; and would do ſo, though there were no law.

of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For fornicators, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, and for perjured persons, and whatever other thing is contrary to sound doctrine,

11 Which is according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which hath been committed to my trust.

12 I give thanks to him who had strengthened me, to Christ Jesus our Lord, that he esteemed me faithful, putting me into the ministry:

13 Who before was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and contumelious; but I obtained the mercy of God, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

14 Now the grace of our Lord hath abounded exceedingly with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.

15 A faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation: ‖ that Christ Jesus came into this world to save sinners, of whom I am the chief.

‖ Matt. 9. 13. Mark 2. 17.

16 But for this cause have I obtained mercy: that in me first Christ Jesus might shew forth all patience, for the information of those who shall believe in him unto life everlasting.

17 Now to the king of ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This precept I commend to thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou war in them a good warfare,

19 Having faith and a good conscience, which some rejecting have made shipwreck concerning the faith:

20 Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander: whom I have delivered to satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

Prayers are to be said for all men: because God wills the salvation of all. Women are not to teach.

I Desire therefore first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be made for all men:

2 For kings, and for all who are in high station, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceful life, in all piety and chastity.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4 Who will have all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus:

6 Who gave himself a redemption for all, a testimony in due times:

7 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher and an apostle (I say the truth I lie not) a doctor of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I will therefore that men pray in every place, lifting up pure hands without anger and strife.

9 ‖ In like manner women in decent apparel, adorning themselves with modesty and sobriety, and not with plaited hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array: ‖ 1 Pet. 3. 5.

10 But as it becometh women professing piety, with good works.

11 Let the women learn in silence, with all subjection.

12 ‖ But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to use authority over the man: but to be in silence. ‖ 1 Cor. 14. 34.

13 ‖ For Adam was first formed, then Eve: ‖ Gen. 1. 27.

14 ‡ And Adam was not seduced, but the woman being seduced was in the transgression. ‡ Gen. 3. 6.

15 Yet she shall be saved by bearing children, if she continue in faith, and love, and sanctification with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

What sort of men are to be admitted into the clergy; the church is the pillar of truth.

A Faithful saying: If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.

2 ‖ It behoveth therefore a bishop to be blameless, the husband of one wife, sober, prudent, of good behaviour, chaste, given to hospitality, a teacher, ‖ Titus 1. 7.

3 Not given to wine, no striker, but modest; not litigious, not covetous, but

4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all chastity.

CHAP. II. VER. 5. One mediator, Christ is the one, and only mediator of redemption; who gave himself, as the apostle writes in the following verse, redemption for all. He is also the only mediator, who stands in need of no other to recommend his petitions to the Father. But this is not against our seeking the prayers and intercession, as well of the faithful upon earth, as of the saints and angels in heaven for obtaining mercy, grace and salvation through Jesus Christ. As St. Paul himself often desired the help of the prayers of the faithful, without any injury to the mediatorship of Jesus Christ.

CHAP. III. VER. 2. Of one wife. The meaning is not that every bishop should have a wife (for St. Paul himself had none) but that no one should be admitted to the holy orders of bishop, priest or deacon, who had been married more than once.

5 But if a man know not how to rule his own houſe, how ſhall he take care of the church of God?

6 Not a neophyte: leſt being puffed up with pride, he fall into the judgment of the devil.

7 Moreover he muſt have a good teſtimony from them who are without, leſt he fall into reproach, and into the ſnare of the devil.

8 Deacons in like manner chaſte, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre:

9 Holding the myſtery of the faith in a pure conſcience.

10 And let theſe alſo firſt be proved: and ſo let them miniſter, having no crime.

11 The women in like manner, chaſte, not detracting, ſober, faithful in all things.

12 Let deacons be the huſbands of one wife: who rule well their children, and their own houſes.

13 For they that have miniſtered well, ſhall purchaſe to themſelves a good degree, and much confidence in the faith, which is in Chriſt Jeſus.

14 Theſe things I write to thee, hoping that I ſhall come to thee ſhortly.

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayeſt know how thou oughteſt to behave thyſelf in the houſe of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16 And evidently great is the myſtery of piety, which was manifeſted in the fleſh, was juſtified in the ſpirit, appeared to angels, hath been preached to the Gentiles, is believed in the world, is taken up in glory.

CHAP. IV.

He warns him againſt heretics; and exhorts him to the exerciſe of piety.

‖ 2. Tim. 3. 1. 2. Pet. 3. 3. Jude 1. 18.

NOW the Spirit manifeſtly ſaith, ‖ that in the laſt times ſome ſhall depart from the faith, giving heed to ſpirits of error, and doctrines of devils.

2 Speaking lies in hypocriſy, and having their conſcience ſeared,

3 Forbidding to marry, to abſtain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thankſgiving by the faithful, and by them that have known the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be rejected that is receved with thankſgiving:

5 For it is ſanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 Propoſing theſe things to the brethren, thou ſhalt be a good miniſter of Chriſt Jeſus, nouriſhed up in the words of faith, and of the good doctrine which thou haſt attained to.

7 ‖ But avoid fooliſh and old wives fables: and exerciſe thyſelf to piety. ‖ Supra 1. 4. 2. Tim. 2. 23. Titus 3. 9.

8 For bodily exerciſe is profitable to little: but piety is profitable to all things, having promiſe of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 A faithful ſaying and worthy of all acceptation,

10 For hereunto we labour and are reviled, becauſe we hope in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, eſpecially of the faithful.

11 Theſe things command, and teach.

12 Let no man deſpiſe thy youth: but be thou an example of the faithful, in word, in converſation, in charity, in faith, in chaſtity.

13 Till I come, attend to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.

14 Neglect not the grace which is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the impoſition of the hands of the prieſthood.

15 Meditate on theſe things: be wholly in theſe things: that thy proficiency may be manifeſt to all.

16 Attend to thyſelf and to doctrine: be earneſt in them, For in doing this thou ſhalt both ſave thyſelf and them that hear thee.

CHAP. V.

He gives him leſſons concerning widows: and how he is to behave to his clergy.

AN ancient man rebuke not, but intreat him as a father; young men, as brethren:

2 Old women, as mothers; young women, as ſiſters, in all chaſtity.

3 Honour widows, who are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children, or grand-children, let her learn firſt to govern her own houſe, and to make a return of duty

---

VER. 6. A neophyte. That is, one lately baptized, a young convert.

VER. 15. The pillar and ground of the truth. Therefore the church of the living God can never uphold error, nor bring in corruptions, ſuperſtition, or idolatry.

CHAP. IV. VER. 3. Forbidding to marry, to abſtain from meats, &c. He ſpeaks of the Gnoſtics, the Marcionites, the Encratites, the Manicheans, and other ancient heretics, who abſolutely condemned marriage, and the uſe of all kind of meat; becauſe they pretended that all fleſh was from an evil principle. Whereas the church of God, ſo far from condemning marriage, holds it a holy ſacrament; and forbids it to none but ſuch as by vow have choſen the better part; and prohibits not the uſe of any meats whatſoever in proper times and ſeaſons; though ſhe does not judge all kind of diet proper for days of faſting and penance.

to her parents: for this is acceptable before God.

5 But she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, let her hope in God, and continue in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 For she that liveth in pleasures, is dead while she is living.

7 And this give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any man have not care of his own, and especially of those of his house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let a widow be chosen not under threescore years of age, who hath been the wife of one husband,

10 Having a testimony of her good works, if she have educated children, if she have exercised hospitality, if she have washed the saints feet, if she have ministered to them that suffer tribulation, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows shun: For when they have grown wanton in Christ, they will marry:

12 Having damnation, because they have made void their first faith.

13 And withal, being idle, they learn to go about from house to house: not only idle, but tattlers also, and inquisitive, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger should marry, bear children, be mistresses of families, give no occasion to the adversary to speak evil.

15 For some are already turned aside after satan.

16 If any of the faithful have widows, let him relieve them, and let not the church be burdened: that there may be sufficient for them who are widows indeed.

17 Let the priests who rule well, be esteemed worthy of double honour: especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

‖ Deut. 25. 4. 1. Cor. 9. 9. ‡ Matt. 10. 10. Luke 10. 7.

18 For the Scripture saith: ‖ Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And: ‡ The labourer is worthy of his hire.

19 Against a priest receive not an accusation, but under two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin reprove before all: that the rest also may have fear.

21 I charge thee before God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by declining to either side.

22 Impose not hands lightly upon any man, neither be partaker of other men's sins. Keep thyself chaste.

23 Do not still drink water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thy frequent infirmities.

24 Some men's sins are manifest, going before to judgment: and some men they follow after.

25 In like manner also good deeds are manifest: and they that are otherwise, cannot be hidden.

CHAP. VI.

Duties of servants: The danger of covetousness. Lessons for the rich.

WHOSOEVER are servants under the yoke, let them count their masters worthy of all honour, lest the name and doctrine of the Lord be blasphemed.

2 But they who have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren: but serve them the rather, because they are faithful and beloved, who are partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to that doctrine which is according to piety:

4 He is proud, knowing nothing, but sick about questions and strifes of words: from which arise envies, contentions, blasphemies, evil suspicions,

5 Conflicts of men corrupted in mind, and who are destitute of the truth, esteeming gain to be piety.

6 But piety with sufficiency, is great gain.

7 ‖ For we brought nothing into this world: and certainly we can carry nothing out. ‖ Job. 1. 21. Eccli. 5. 14.

8 ‡ But having food, and wherewith to be covered, with these we are content. ‡ Prov. 27. 26.

9 For they who would become rich, fall into temptation, and into the snare of the devil, and into many unprofitable and hurtful desires, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For covetousness is the root of all evils; which some desiring, have erred from the faith, and have entangled themselves in many sorrows.

11 But thou, O man of God, fly these things: and pursue justice, piety, faith, charity, patience, meekness.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art called, and hast confessed a good confession before many witnesses.

13 I charge thee before God, who quickeneth all things and before Christ Jesus,

CHAP. V. VER. 12. Their first faith. Their vow, by which they had engaged themselves to Christ.

‖ Matt. 27. 11. John 18. 33. 37. who gave teſtimony ‖ under Pontius Pilate, a good confeſſion:

14 That thou keep the commandment without ſpot, blameleſs, unto the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt:

‡ Apoc. 17. 14. & 19. 16. 15 Which in his times he ſhall ſhew, ‡ who is the Bleſſed and only Mighty, the King of kings, and Lord of lords:

‖ John 1. 18. 1 John 4. 12. 16 Who only hath immortality, and inhabiteth light inacceſſible, ‖ whom no man hath ſeen, nor can ſee: to whom be honour and empire everlaſting. Amen.

‡ Luke 12. 17 Charge the rich of this world not to be high-minded, ‡ nor to hope in uncertain riches, but in the living God (who giveth us abundantly all things to enjoy)

18 To do good, to be rich in good works, to diſtribute readily, to communicate to others.

19 To lay up in ſtore for themſelves a good foundation againſt the time to come, that they may obtain true life.

20 O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy truſt, avoiding the prophane novelties of words, and oppoſitions of knowledge falſly ſo called,

21 Which ſome promiſing, have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO TIMOTHY.

In this Epiſtle the Apoſtle again inſtructs and admoniſhes Timothy in what belonged to his office, as in the former; and alſo warns him to ſhun the converſation of thoſe who had erred from the truth, deſcribing at the ſame time their character. He tells him of his approaching death, and deſires him to come ſpeedily to him: It appears from this circumſtance, that he wrote this ſecond Epiſtle in the time of his laſt impriſonment at Rome, and not long before his martyrdom.

CHAP. I.

He admoniſhes him to ſtir up the grace he received by his ordination, and not to be diſcouraged at his ſufferings, but to hold firm the ſound doctrine of the goſpel.

PAUL an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt by the will of God, according to the promiſe of life which is in Chriſt Jeſus:

2 To Timothy my dearly beloved ſon, grace, mercy, peace from God the Father, and from Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

3 I give thanks to God, whom I ſerve from my forefathers with a pure conſcience, that without ceaſing I have a remembrance of thee in my prayers, night and day,

4 Deſiring to ſee thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy,

5 Calling to mind that faith which is in thee unfeigned, which alſo dwelt firſt in thy grand-mother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am certain that in thee alſo.

6 For which cauſe I admoniſh thee, that thou ſtir up the grace of God, which is in thee by the impoſition of my hands.

‖ Rom. 8. 15. 7 ‖ For God hath not given us the ſpirit of fear: but of power, and of love, and of ſobriety.

8 Be not thou therefore aſhamed of the teſtimony of our Lord, nor of me his priſoner: but labour with the goſpel according to the power of God:

‖ Titus 3. 5. 9 Who hath delivered us, and called us by his holy calling, ‖ not according to our works, but according to his own purpoſe and grace, which was given us in Chriſt Jeſus before the times * of the world.

* i. e. The beginning.

10 But now is made manifeſt, by the illumination of our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, who hath indeed deſtroyed death, and hath enlightened life and incorruption by the goſpel:

‖ 1 Tim. 2. 7. 11 In which ‖ I am appointed a preacher, and an apoſtle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For which cauſe I alſo ſuffer theſe things, but I am not confounded. For I know whom I have believed, and I am certain that he is able to keep that which I have committed to him, againſt that day.

13 Hold the form of ſound words, which thou haſt heard from me in faith, and in the love which is in Chriſt Jeſus.

14 Keep the good depoſited in truſt to thee by the Holy Ghoſt, who dwelleth in us.

15 Thou knoweſt this, that all they who are in Aſia, are turned away from me: of whom are Phigellus and Hermogenes.

‖ Infra 4. 19. 16 The Lord give mercy to the ‖ houſe of Oneſiphorus: becauſe he hath often refreſhed me, and was not aſhamed of my chain:

17 But when he was come to Rome, he carefully ſought me out, and found me.

18 The Lord grant to him to find mercy of the Lord in that day. And how many things he miniſtered to me at Epheſus, thou very well knoweſt.

CHAP. II.

He exhorts him to diligence in his office: and patience in ſufferings. The danger of the deluſions of heretics.

THOU therefore, my ſon, be ſtrong in the grace which is in Chriſt Jeſus:

2 And the things, which thou haſt heard from me before many witneſſes, the ſame commend to faithful men, who ſhall be fit to teach others alſo.

3 Labour as a good ſoldier of Chriſt Jeſus.

4 No man being a ſoldier to God, entangleth himſelf with worldly buſineſſes: that he may pleaſe him to whom he hath engaged himſelf.

5 For he alſo that ſtriveth for the maſtery, is not crowned, except he ſtrive lawfully.

6 The huſbandman, who laboureth, muſt firſt partake of the fruits.

7 Underſtand what I ſay: for the Lord will give thee underſtanding in all things.

8 Be mindful that the Lord Jeſus Chriſt is riſen from the dead, of the ſeed of David according to my goſpel,

9 In which I labour even unto chains, as an evil doer: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I ſuffer all things for the ſake of the elect, that they alſo may obtain the ſalvation, which is in Chriſt Jeſus, with heavenly glory.

11 A faithful ſaying: For if we be dead with him, we ſhall live alſo with him:

12 If we ſuffer, we ſhall alſo reign with him: ‖ if we deny him, he alſo will deny us. ‖ Matt. 10. 33. Mark 8. 38.

13 † If we believe not, he continueth faithful, he cannot deny himſelf. † Rom. 3. 3.

14 Of theſe things put them in mind, teſtifying before the Lord. Contend not in words: for it is to no profit, but to the ſubverſion of the hearers.

15 Carefully ſtudy to preſent thyſelf approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be aſhamed, rightly handling the word of truth.

16 But ſhun profane and vain ſpeeches: for they grow much towards impiety:

17 And their ſpeech ſpreadeth like a cancer: of whom are Hymeneus and Philetus,

18 Who have erred from the truth, ſaying that the reſurrection is paſt already, and have ſubverted the faith of ſome.

19 But the ſure foundation of God ſtandeth firm, having this ſeal: The Lord knoweth who are his; and let every one that nameth the name of the Lord, depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great houſe there are not only veſſels of gold and of ſilver, but alſo of wood and of earth: and ſome indeed unto honour, but ſome unto diſhonour.

21 If any man therefore ſhall cleanſe himſelf from theſe, he ſhall be a veſſel unto honour, ſanctified and profitable to the Lord, prepared unto every good work.

22 But flee thou youthful deſires, and follow juſtice, faith, charity, and peace with thoſe who call on the Lord from a pure heart.

‖ 1 Tim. 1. 4. & 7. Titus 3. 9. 23 ‖ And avoid fooliſh and unlearned queſtions: knowing that they beget ſtrifes.

24 But the ſervant of the Lord muſt not wrangle: but be gentle towards all men, fit to teach, patient,

25 With modeſty admoniſhing thoſe who reſiſt the truth: if at any time God give them repentance to know the truth,

26 And they recover themſelves from the ſnares of the devil, by whom they are held captives at his will.

CHAP. I. VER. 10. By the illumination; that is, by the bright coming and appearing of our Saviour.

CHAP. III.

The character of heretics of latter days: he exhorts Timothy to constancy. Of the great profit of the knowledge of the Scriptures.

|| 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2. Pet. 3. 3. Jude 1. 18.

KNOW also this, that, || in the last days, shall come dangerous times:

2 Men shall be lovers of themselves, covetous, haughty, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, wicked,

3 Without affection, without peace, slanderers, incontinent, unmerciful, without kindness,

4 Traitors, stubborn, puffed up, and lovers of pleasures more than of God:

5 Having an appearance indeed of piety, but denying the power thereof. Now these avoid:

6 For of this sort are they who creep into houses, and lead captives silly women loaden with sins, who are led away with divers desires:

7 Always learning, and never attaining to the knowledge of the truth.

|| Exod. 7. 11.

8 Now as || Jannes and Mambres resisted Moses: so these also resist the truth, men corrupted in mind, reprobate as to the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no farther: for their folly shall be manifest to all as theirs also was.

10 But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, love, patience,

|| Acts 1. 4. & seq.

11 Persecutions, afflictions: || such as came upon me at Antioch, Iconium, and at Lystra: what persecutions I endured, and out of all the Lord delivered me.

12 And all who will live piously in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men, and seducers shall grow worse and worse: erring, and driving into error.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and which have been committed to thee: knowing of whom thou hast learned.

15 And because from thy infancy thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which can instruct thee unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 || All Scripture divinely inspired, is profitable to teach, to reprove, to correct, to instruct in justice: || 2 Pet. 1. 20.

17 That the man of God may be perfect, furnished unto every good work.

CHAP. IV.

His charge to Timothy: he tells him of his approaching death, and desires him to come to him.

I Charge thee before God and Jesus Christ, who shall judge the living and the dead, by his coming, and his kingdom:

2 Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, reprove, intreat, rebuke with all patience and doctrine.

3 For there shall be a time, when they will not bear sound doctrine, but according to their own desires they will heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears:

4 And will turn away indeed their hearing from the truth, and will be turned to fables.

5 But be thou vigilant, labour in all things, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. Be sober.

6 For I am even now ready to be sacrificed: and the time of my dissolution is at hand.

7 I have fought a good-fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.

8 For the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord the just judge will render to me at that day: and not to me only, but to them also who love his coming. Make haste to come speedily to me.

9 For Demas hath left me loving this world, and is gone to Thessalonica:

10 Crescens into Galatia, Titus into Dalmatia.

|| Coloss. 4. 14.

11 || Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for the ministry.

12 But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak, which I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, especially the parchments.

14 Alexander the copper-smith hath done me many evil things: the Lord will render to him according to his works:

CHAP. III. VER. 8. Jannes and Mambres. The magicians of king Pharaoh.

VER. 16. All Scripture, &c. Every part of divine Scripture is certainly profitable for all these ends. But, if we would have the whole rule of christian faith and practice, we must not be content with those Scriptures, which Timothy knew from his infancy, that is, with the Old testament alone: nor yet with the New testament without taking along with it the traditions of the apostles, and the interpretation of the church, to which the apostles delivered both the book, and the true meaning of it.

CHAP. IV. VER. 5. An evangelist, a diligent preacher of the gospel.

15 Whom do thou alſo avoid: for he hath greatly oppoſed our words.

16 At my firſt defence no man ſtood with me, but all forſook me: may it not be laid to their charge.

17 But the Lord ſtood by me, and ſtrengthened me, that by me the preaching may be accompliſhed, and that all the Gentiles may hear: and I was delivered from the mouthof the lion.

18 The Lord hath delivered me from every evil work: and will preſerve me unto his heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19 Salute Priſca and Aquila, ‖ and the houſhold of Oneſiphorus. ‖ Supra i. 16.

20 Eraſtus remained at Corinth. And Trophimus I left ſick at Miletus.

21 Make haſte to come before winter. Eubulus and Pudens and Linus and Claudia, and all the brethren ſalute thee.

22 The Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with thy ſpirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO TITUS.

ST. PAUL having preached the faith in the Iſland of Crete, he ordained his beloved diſciple and companion TITUS biſhop, and left him there to finiſh the work which he had begun. Afterwards the Apoſtle, on a journey to Nicopolis a city of Macedonia, wrote this Epiſtle to Titus; in which he directs him to ordain biſhops and prieſts for the different cities, ſhewing him the principal qualities neceſſary for a biſhop, alſo gives him particular advice for his own conduct to his flock, exhorting him to hold to ſtrictneſs of diſcipline, but ſeaſoned with lenity. It was written about thirty-three years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

What kind of men he is to ordain prieſts. Some men are to be ſharply rebuked.

PAUL, a ſervant of God, and an Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, according to the faith of the elect of God, and the acknowledging of the truth, which is according to piety:

2 Unto the hope of life everlaſting, which God, who lyeth not, hath promiſed before the times of the world:

3 But hath in due times manifeſted his word through preaching, which is committed to me according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

4 To Titus my beloved ſon, according to the common faith, grace and peace from God the Father, and from Chriſt Jeſus our Saviour.

5 For this cauſe I left thee in Crete, that thou ſhouldſt ſet in order the things that are wanting, and ſhouldſt ordain prieſts in every city, as I alſo appointed thee.

6 ‖ If any be without crime, the huſband of one wife, having faithful children, not accuſed of luxury, nor diſobedient. ‖ 1 Tim. 3. 2.

7 For a biſhop muſt be without crime, as the ſteward of God: not proud, not ſubject to anger, not given to wine, no ſtriker, not greedy of filthy lucre:

8 But given to hoſpitality, gentle, ſober, juſt, holy, continent,

9 Embracing that faithful word which is according to doctrine: that he may be able to exhort in ſound doctrine, and to convince the gainſayers.

10 For there are alſo many diſobedient, vain-talkers, and ſeducers: eſpecially they who are of the circumciſion:

11 Who muſt be reproved who ſubvert whole houſes, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's ſake.

CHAP. I. VER. 6. Of one wife. See the note upon 1 Tim. iii. 2.

12 One of them, a prophet of their own, ſaid: The Cretians are always liars, evil beaſts, ſlothful bellies.

13 This teſtimony is true: wherefore rebuke them ſharply, that they may be found in the faith,

14 Not attending to Jewiſh fables, and commandments of men, that turn themſelves away from the truth.

‖ Rom. 14. 20. 15 ‖ All things are clean to the clean: but to the defiled, and the unbelievers nothing is clean, but both their mind and their conſcience are defiled.

16 They confeſs that they know God, but in their deeds they deny him: being abominable, and incredulous, and to every good work reprobate.

CHAP. II.

How he is to inſtruct both old and young. The duty of ſervants. The chriſtians rule of life.

BUT ſpeak thou the things that become ſound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be ſober, chaſte, prudent, ſound in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 The aged women, in like manner, in holy attire, not falſe accuſers, not given to much wine, teaching well:

4. That they may teach the young women prudence, to love their huſbands, to love their children,

5 To be diſcreet, chaſte, ſober, having a care of the houſe, gentle, obedient to their huſbands, that the word of God be not blaſphemed.

6 Young men in like manner exhort to be ſober.

7 In all things ſhew thyſelf an example of good works, in doctrine, in integrity, in gravity,

8 Sound ſpeech, unblameable: that he, who is on the contrary part, may be afraid, having no evil to ſay of us.

‖ Epheſ. 6. 5. Coloſſ. 3. 22. ‖ Pet. 2.18. 9 ‖ Exhort ſervants to be obedient to their maſters, in all things pleaſing, not contradicting,

10 Not defrauding, but in all things ſhewing good fidelity: that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

† Infra 3.4. 11 † For the grace of God our Saviour hath appeared to all men,

12 Inſtructing us, that renouncing impiety, and worldly deſires, we ſhould live ſoberly, and juſtly, and piouſly in this world,

13 Waiting for the bleſſed hope, and coming of the glory of the great God, and our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt:

14 Who gave himſelf for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himſelf a people acceptable, purſuing good works.

15 Theſe things ſpeak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man deſpiſe thee.

CHAP. III.

Other inſtructions and directions for life and doctrine.

ADMONISH them to be ſubject to princes, and powers, to obey at a word, to be ready to every good work:

2 To ſpeak evil of no man, not to be litigious, but modeſt, ſhewing all mildneſs towards all men.

3 For we ourſelves alſo were ſome time unwiſe, incredulous, erring, ſlaves to divers deſires and pleaſures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 But when the goodneſs and kindneſs of our Saviour God appeared:

‖ 2 Tim. 1. 9. 5 ‖ Not by the works of juſtice, which we have done, but according to his mercy he ſaved us, by the laver of re-generation, and renovation of the Holy Ghoſt,

6 Whom he hath poured forth upon us abundantly, through Jeſus Chriſt our Saviour:

7 That being juſtified by his grace, we may be heirs according to the hope of life everlaſting.

8 It is a faithful ſaying: and of theſe things I will have thee to affirm earneſtly: that they who believe in God, may be careful to excel in good works. Theſe things are good and profitable to men.

‖ 1 Tim. 1. 4. & 4. 7. 2 Tim. 2. 23. 9 ‖ But avoid fooliſh queſtions, and genealogies, and contentions, and ſtrivings about the law: for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A man that is a heretic, after the firſt and ſecond admonition, avoid:

11 Knowing that he that is ſuch an one, is ſubverted, and ſinneth, being condemned by his own judgment.

CHAP. III. VER. 11. By his own judgment. Other offenders are judged, and caſt out of the church, by the ſentence of the paſtors of the ſame church. Heretics, more unhappy, run out of the church of their own accord; and, by ſo doing, give judgment and ſentence againſt their own ſouls.

12 When I ſhall ſend to thee Artemas or Tychicus, make haſte to come to me to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter.

13 Send forward Zenas the lawyer, and Apollo, carefully, that nothing be wanting to them.

14 And let our men alſo learn to excel in good works for neceſſary uſes: that they be not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me, ſalute thee: ſalute them that love us in the faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO PHILEMON.

PHILEMON, a noble citizen of Coloſſæ, had a ſervant named ONESIMUS, who robbed him, and fled to Rome, where he met St. PAUL who was then a priſoner there the firſt time. The Apoſtle took compaſſion on him and received him with tenderneſs and converted him to the faith; for he was a Gentile before. St. Paul ſends him back to his maſter with this Epiſtle in his favour: and though he beſeeches Philemon to pardon him, yet the Apoſtle writes with becoming dignity and authority. It contains divers profitable inſtructions, and points out the charity and humanity that maſters ſhould have for their ſervants.

He commends the faith and charity of Philemon: and ſends back to him his fugitive ſervant, whom he had converted in priſon.

PAUL a priſoner of Chriſt Jeſus, and Timothy our brother: to Philemon our beloved and fellow-labourer,

2 And to Appia our deareſt ſiſter, and to Archippus our fellow-ſoldier, and to the church which is in thy houſe.

3 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

4 I give thanks to my God, always making a remembrance of thee in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy charity and faith, which thou haſt in the Lord Jeſus, and towards all the ſaints:

6 That the communication of thy faith may be made evident in the acknowledgment of every good work, which is in you through Chriſt Jeſus.

7 For I have had great joy and conſolation in thy charity: becauſe the bowels of the ſaints have been refreſhed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore though I might have much confidence in Chriſt Jeſus to command thee that which is to the purpoſe:

9 For charity ſake I rather beſeech, thou being ſuch a one, as Paul the aged, and now alſo a priſoner of Jeſus Chriſt:

10 I beſeech thee for my ſon Oneſimus, whom I have begotten in my chains,

11 Who heretofore was unprofitable to thee, but now profitable both to me and to thee.

12 Whom I have ſent back to thee. And do thou receive him as my own bowels:

13 Whom I would have detained with me, that for thee he might have miniſtered to me in the bands of the goſpel:

14 But without thy counſel I would do nothing, that thy good deed might not be as it were of neceſſity, but voluntary.

15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a ſeaſon from thee, that thou mighteſt receive him for ever:

16 Not now as a ſervant, but inſtead of a ſervant, a moſt dear brother, eſpecially to me: but how much more to thee, both in the fleſh, and in the Lord?

17 If therefore thou count me a partner, receive him as myſelf:

18 And if he hath wronged thee in any thing, or is in thy debt: put it to my account.

19 I Paul have written with my own hand: I will repay it: not to ſay to thee, that thou oweſt me thy own ſelf alſo.

20 Yea, brother; may I enjoy thee in the Lord: refreſh my bowels in the Lord.

21 Truſting in thy obedience, I have written to thee: knowing that thou wilt alſo do more than I ſay.

22 But withal prepare me alſo a lodging: for I hope that through your prayers I ſhall be given unto you.

23 Epaphras, my fellow-priſoner in Chriſt Jeſus, ſalutes thee,

24 Marcus, Ariſtarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with your ſpirit. Amen.

THE

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE HEBREWS.

ST. PAUL wrote this Epiſtle to the Chriſtians in Paleſtine, the moſt part of whom being Jews before their converſion, they were called Hebrews. He exhorts them to be throughly converted and confirmed in the faith of Chriſt, clearly ſhewing them the pre-eminence of Chriſt's prieſthood above the Levitical, and alſo the excellence of the new law above the old. He commends faith by the example of the ancient fathers: and exhorts them to patience, and perſeverance, and to remain in fraternal charity. It appears, from chap. xiii. that this Epiſtle was written in Italy, and probably at Rome, about twenty nine years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

God ſpoke of old by the prophets, but now by his Son, who is incomparably greater than the angels.

GOD having ſpoken on divers occaſions, and many ways, in times paſt to the fathers by the prophets: laſt of all,

2 In theſe days hath ſpoken to us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom alſo he made the world:

‖ Wiſd. 7. 26. 3 ‖ Who being the ſplendour of his glory, and the figure of his ſubſtance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, making purgation of ſins, ſitteth on the right-hand of the majeſty on high:

4 Being made ſo much better than the angels, as he hath inherited a more excellent name above them.

‖ Pſal. 2. 7. ‡ 2 Kings 7. 14. 5 For, to which of the angels hath he ſaid at any time: ‖ Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again: ‡ I will be to him a Father, and he ſhall be to me a Son?

‖ Pſal. 96. 7. 6 And again, when he introduceth the firſt begotten into the world, he ſaith: ‖ And let all the angels of God adore him.

7 And to the angels indeed he ſaith: ‖ He that maketh his angels, ſpirits: and his miniſters, a flame of fire. ‖ Pſ. 103. 4.

8 But to the Son: ‖ Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a ſceptre of juſtice is the ſceptre of thy kingdom. ‖ Pſal. 44. 7.

9 Thou haſt loved juſtice, and hated iniquity: therefore, God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladneſs above them that are partakers with thee.

‖ Pſal. 101. 26. 10 And: ‖ Thou in the beginning, O Lord, haſt founded the earth: and the heavens are the works of thy hands.

11 They ſhall periſh, but thou ſhalt continue: and they ſhall all grow old as a garment:

12 And as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, and they ſhall be changed: but thou art the ſelf-ſame, and thy years ſhall not fail.

‖ Pſal. 109. 1. 1 Cor. 15. 25. 13 But to which of the Angels ſaid he at any time: ‖ Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy footſtool?

14 Are they not all miniſtering ſpirits, ſent to miniſter for theſe, who ſhall receive the inheritance of ſalvation?

CHAP. I. VER. 3. The figure χαρακτὴρ, that is, the expreſs image, and moſt perfect reſemblance.

Ibid. Making purgation. That is, having purged away our ſins by his paſſion.

CHAP. II.

The tranſgreſſion of the precepts of the Son of God is far more condemnable, than of thoſe of the Old Teſtament given by angels.

THEREFORE ought we more diligently to obſerve the things which we have heard: leſt at any time we ſhould let them ſlip.

2 For if the word, ſpoken by the angels, became ſteadfaſt, and every tranſgreſſion and diſobedience received a juſt recompence of reward:

3 How ſhall we eſcape if we neglect ſo great ſalvation? which having begun to be declared by the Lord, was confirmed to us, by them that heard him,

‖ Mark 16. 20. 4 ‖ God alſo bearing them witneſs by ſigns and wonders, and divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghoſt according to his own will.

5 For God hath not put in ſubjection to the angels the world to come, of which we ſpeak.

‖ Pſal. 8. 5. 6 But one in a certain place hath teſtified, ſaying: ‖ What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the ſon of man, that thou viſiteſt him?

7 Thou haſt made him a little leſs than the angels: thou haſt crowned him with glory and honour: and haſt ſet him over the works of thy hands.

‖ Matt. 28. 18. 1 Cor. 15. 26. 8 ‖ Thou haſt put all things in ſubjection under his feet. For in that he ſubjected all things to him, he left nothing not ſubject to him. But now we ſee not as yet all things ſubject to him.

‡ Philip. 2. & 9 ‡ But we ſee Jeſus, who was made a little leſs than the angels, for the ſuffering of death, crowned with glory and honour: that through the grace of God he might taſte death for all.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, who had brought many children into glory, to make the author of their ſalvation perfect by ſuffering.

11 For both he who ſanctifieth, and they who are ſanctified, are all from one. For which cauſe he is not aſhamed to call them brethren, ſaying:

‖ Pſal. 21. 23. 12 ‖ I will declare thy name to my brethren: in the midſt of the church I will praiſe thee.

‡ Pſal. 17. 3. 13 And again: ‡ I will put my truſt in him: And again: ‖ Behold I, and my children, whom God hath given me. ‖ Iſai. 8. 18.

14 Foraſmuch then as the children were partakers of fleſh and blood, he alſo himſelf in like manner partook of the ſame: that, ‡ through death, he might deſtroy him who had the empire of death, that is to ſay, the devil: ‡ Oſee 13. 14. 1. Cor. 15. 54.

15 And might deliver them, who through the fear of death were all their life-time ſubject to ſlavery.

16 For no where doth he take hold of the angels: but of the ſeed of Abraham he taketh hold.

17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like to his brethren, that he might become a merciful and faithful high prieſt with God, to make a reconciliation for the ſins of the people.

18 For in that, wherein he himſelf hath ſuffered and been tempted, he is able to ſuccour thoſe alſo, who are tempted.

CHAP. III.

Chriſt is more excellent than Moſes: and therefore we muſt adhere to him by faith and obedience.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly vocation, conſider the apoſtle and high prieſt of our profeſſion Jeſus:

2 Who is faithful to him who appointed him, as was alſo ‖ Moſes in all his houſe. ‖ Num. 12. 7.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moſes, by ſo much as he who hath built the houſe, hath more honour than the houſe.

4 For every houſe is built by ſome man: but he who created all things, is God.

5 And Moſes indeed was faithful in all his houſe as a ſervant, for a teſtimony of thoſe things which were to be ſpoken:

6 But Chriſt as a Son in his own houſe: which houſe are we, if we retain a firm confidence and the glory of hope unto the end.

7 Wherefore as the Holy Ghoſt ſaith: ‖ To day if you ſhall hear his voice, ‖ Pſal. 94. 8. Infra 4. 7.

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the deſert,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proved, and ſaw my works.

10 Forty years: For which cauſe I was offended with this generation, and I ſaid:

CHAP. II. VER. 10. Perfect by ſuffering. By ſuffering Chriſt was to enter into his glory, Luke, xxiv. 26. which the apoſtle here calls being made perfect.

VER. 16. No where doth he, &c. That is, he never took upon him the nature of angels, but that of the ſeed of Abraham.

They always err in heart. And they have not known my ways,

11 As I have ſworn in my wrath: If they ſhall enter into my reſt.

12 Take heed, brethren, leſt there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God:

13 But exhort one another every day, whilſt to day is named: leſt any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulneſs of ſin.

14 For we are made partakers of Chriſt: yet ſo if we hold the beginning of his ſubſtance firm unto the end.

15 While it is ſaid: To day if you ſhall hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in that provocation.

16 For ſome who heard did provoke: but not all who came out of Egypt by Moſes.

17 And with whom was he offended forty years? Was it not with thoſe who ſinned, ‖ Num. 14. 37. ‖ whoſe carcaſſes were laid in the deſert?

18 And to whom did he ſwear that they ſhould not enter into his reſt: but to them who were incredulous?

19 And we ſee that they could not enter in, becauſe of incredulity.

CHAP. IV.

The Chriſtian's reſt: we are to enter into it, through Jeſus Chriſt.

LET us therefore fear leſt perhaps forſaking the promiſe of entering into his reſt, any of you be thought to be wanting.

2 For to us alſo it hath been declared as well to them, but the word of hearing did not profit them, not being mixed with a faith of thoſe things which they heard.

‖ Pſal. 94. 11. 3 For we who have believed, ſhall enter into reſt; as he ſaid: ‖ As I have ſworn in my wrath: If they ſhall enter into my reſt: and this when the works from the foundation of the world were finiſhed.

‖ Gen. 2. 2. 4 For in a certain place he ſpoke of the ſeventh day thus: ‖ And God reſted the ſeventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again: If they ſhall enter into my reſt.

6 Seeing then it remaineth that ſome are to enter into it, and they, to whom it was firſt preached, did not enter in becauſe of incredulity:

7 Again he limiteth a certain day, ſaying in David, To day, after ſo long a time, as it is above ſaid: ‖ Supra 3. 7. ‖ To day if you ſhall hear his voice; harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jeſus had given them reſt, he would never have afterwards ſpoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a reſt for the people of God.

10 For he who is entered into his reſt; he alſo hath reſted from his own works, as God from his.

11 Let us haſten therefore to enter into that reſt: leſt any man fall into the ſame example of incredulity.

12 For the word of God is living and effectual, and more penetrating than any two-edged ſword: and reaching unto the diviſion of the the ſoul and the ſpirit, of the joints alſo, and the marrow, and is a diſcerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 ‖ Neither is there any creature inviſible in his ſight: but all things are naked and open to the eyes of him, to whom our ſpeech is. ‖ Pſal. 32. 16. Eccli. 15. 20.

14 Having therefore a great high prieſt who hath penetrated the heavens, Jeſus the Son of God: let us hold faſt our confeſſion.

15 For we have not a high prieſt, who cannot have compaſſion on our infirmities: but one tempted in all things like as we are, yet without ſin.

16 Let us go therefore with confidence to the throne of grace: that we may obtain mercy, and find grace in ſeaſonable aid.

CHAP. V.

The office of a high prieſt. Chriſt is our high prieſt.

FOR every high prieſt taken from among men is appointed for men in the things that appertain to God, that he may offer up gifts and ſacrifices for ſins:

2 Who can have compaſſion on them who are ignorant, and err: becauſe he himſelf alſo is encompaſſed with infirmity:

3 And therefore he ought, as for the people, ſo alſo for himſelf, to offer for ſins.

4 ‖ Neither doth any man take the honour to himſelf, but he that is called by God, as Aaron was. ‖ Exod. 28. 1. 2 Par. 26. 18.

5 So alſo Chriſt did not glorify himſelf to be made a high prieſt: but he that ſaid to him: ‡ Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. ‡ Pſal. 2. 7.

6 As he ſaith alſo in another place: ‖ Thou art a prieſt for ever according to the order of Melchiſedech. ‖ Pſal. 109. 4.

7 Who in the days of his fleſh, offering up prayers and ſupplications, with a ſtrong cry and tears to him, that was able to ſave him from death, was heard for his reverence.

CHAP. IV. VER. 8. Jeſus. Joſue, who in Greek is called Jeſus.

8 And whereas indeed he was the Son of God, he learned obedience by the things which he ſuffered:

9 And being conſummated, he became the cauſe of eternal ſalvation to all that obey him,

10 Called by God a high prieſt according to the order of Melchiſedech.

11 Of whom we have great things to ſay, and hard to be intelligibly uttered: becauſe you are become weak to hear.

12 For whereas for the time you ought to be maſters; you have need to be taught again what are the firſt rudiments of the word of God: and you are become ſuch as have need of milk, and not of ſolid food.

13 For every one, that is a partaker of milk, is unſkilful in the word of juſtice: for he is a little child.

14 But ſolid food is for the perfect: for thoſe who by uſe have their ſenſes exerciſed to the diſcerning of good and evil.

CHAP. VI.

He warns them of the danger of falling by apoſtaſy; and exhorts them to patience and perſeverance.

WHEREFORE leaving the word of the beginning of Chriſt, let us go on to things more perfect, not laying again the foundation of penance from dead works, and of faith towards God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptiſms, and of the impoſition of hands, and of the reſurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

3 And this we will do, if God will permit.

‖ Matt. 12. 45. Infra 10.26. 2 Pet. 2.20.

4 ‖ For it is impoſſible for thoſe, who were once enlightened, have taſted alſo the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghoſt,

5 Have moreover taſted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6 And are fallen away; to be renewed again unto penance, crucifying again to themſelves the Son of God, and making a mockery of him.

7 For the earth that drinketh in the rain which cometh often upon it, and bringeth forth herbs uſeful for them by whom it is tilled, receiveth bleſſing from God.

8 But that which bringeth forth thorns and briers, is rejected, and very near to a curſe, whoſe end is to be burnt.

9 But, my dearly beloved, we truſt better things of you, and nearer to ſalvation: though we thus ſpeak.

10 For God is not unjuſt, that he ſhould forget your work, and the love which you have ſhewn in his name, you who have miniſtered, and do miniſter to the ſaints.

11 And we deſire that every one of you ſhould ſhew forth the ſame careſulneſs to the accompliſhing of hope unto the end:

12 That you become not ſlothful, but followers of them, who through faith and patience ſhall inherit the promiſes.

13 For God making a promiſe to Abraham, becauſe he had no one greater by whom he might ſwear, ſwore by himſelf,

14 Saying: ‖ Unleſs bleſſing I will bleſs thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. ‖ Gen. 22. 16.

15 And ſo after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promiſe.

16 For men ſwear by one greater than themſelves; and an oath, for confirmation, is the end of all their controverſy.

17 Wherein God meaning more abundantly to ſhew to the heirs of the promiſe the immutability of his counſel, interpoſed an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it is impoſſible for God to lie, we may have the ſtrongeſt comfort, who have fled for refuge, to hold faſt the hope ſet before us:

19 Which we have as an anchor of the ſoul, ſure and firm, and which entereth even within the veil,

20 Where the fore-runner Jeſus is entered for us, made a high prieſt for ever according to the order of Melchiſedech.

CHAP. VII.

The prieſthood of Chriſt, according to the order of Melchiſedech, excels the Levitical prieſthood, and puts an end both to that, and to the law.

FOR this Melchiſedech, king of Salem, prieſt of the moſt high God, who met Abraham returning from the ſlaughter of the kings, and bleſſed him: Gen. 14.18.

2 To whom alſo Abraham divided the tithes of all: who indeed firſt by interpretation is king of juſtice: and then alſo king of Salem, that is, king of peace,

3 Without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning

CHAP. VI. VER. 1. The word of the beginning. The firſt rudiments of the chriſtian doctrine.

VER. 4. It is impoſſible, &c. The meaning is, that it is impoſſible for ſuch as have fallen after baptiſm, to be again baptized: and very hard for ſuch as have apoſtatized from the faith, after having received many graces, to return again to the happy ſtate from which they fell.

CHAP. VII. VER. 3. Without father, &c. Not that he had no father, &c. but that neither his father, nor his pedigree, nor his birth, nor his death is ſet down in Scripture.

of days, nor end of life, but likened unto the Son of God, continueth a priest for ever.

4 Now consider how great this man is, to whom also Abraham the patriarch gave tithes out of the chief things.

5 And indeed they of the sons of Levi, ‖ Deut. 18. 3. Josue 14. 4. who receive the priesthood, ‖ have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren: though they themselves also came out of the loins of Abraham.

6 But he, whose pedigree is not numbered among them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him, who had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, that which is less, is blessed by the better.

8 And here indeed, men who die, receive tithes: but there it is witnessed, that he liveth.

9 And (as it may be said) even Levi who received tithes, paid tithes by Abraham:

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedech met him.

11 If then perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there that another priest should rise according to the order of Melchisedech, and not be called according to the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being translated, it is necessary that a translation also be made of the law.

13 For he, of whom these things are spoken, is of another tribe, of which no one gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprung out of Juda: in which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priests.

15 And it is yet far more evident; if according to the similitude of Melchisedech, there arise another priest,

16 Who is made not according to the law of a carnal commandment, but according to the power of an indissoluble life:

‖ Psal. 109. 4. 17 For he testifieth: ‖ Thou art a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedech.

18 There is verily an abrogation of the former commandment, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof:

19 For the law brought nothing to perfection: but an introduction of a better hope, by which we approach to God.

20 And in as much as it is not without an oath, (for the others indeed were made priests without an oath:

21 But this with an oath, by him that said to him: ‖ The Lord hath sworn, and he will not repent: thou art a priest for ever): ‖ Psalm. 109. 4.

22 By so much is Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23 And the others indeed were made many priests, because, by reason of death, they were not suffered to continue:

24 But this, for that he continueth for ever, hath an everlasting priesthood.

25 Whereby he is able also to save for ever them that come unto God by himself: always living to make intercession for us.

26 For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens:

27 Who needeth not daily as other priests, ‖ to offer sacrifices first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, by offering up himself. ‖ Lev. 16. 6.

28 For the law maketh men priests, who have infirmity: but the word of the oath, which is after the law, the Son who is perfected for evermore.

CHAP. VIII.

More of the excellence of the priesthood of Christ; and of the New Testament.

NOW of the things spoken, the sum is: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of majesty in the heavens,

2 A minister of the Holies, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord hath pitched, and not man.

3 For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that he also should have something to offer:

4 If then he were on earth, he would not be a priest: seeing there would be others who should offer gifts according to the law,

---

VER. 23. Many priests, &c. The apostle notes this difference between the high priests of the law, and our high priest Jesus Christ; that they being removed by death, made way for their successors: whereas our Lord Jesus is a priest for ever, and hath no successor; but liveth and concurreth for ever with his ministers, the priests of the new testament, in all their functions. 2dly, That no one priest of the law, nor all of them together, could offer that absolute sacrifice of everlasting redemption, which our one high priest Jesus Christ, has offered once, and for ever.

VER. 25. Make intercession. Christ, as man continually maketh intercession for us, by representing his passion to his Father.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 2. The Holies: that is, the sanctuary.

VER. 4. If then he were on earth, &c. That is, if he were not of a higher condition than the levitical order of earthly priests, and had not another kind of sacrifice to offer, he should be excluded by them from the priesthood, and its functions, which by the law were appropriated to their tribe.

5 Who ſerve unto the example and ſhadow of heavenly things. As it was anſwered to Moſes, when he was to finiſh the taberna-
Exod. 25. 40. Acts 7. 44. cles: ‖ See (ſaith he that thou make all things according to the pattern which was ſhewn thee on the mount.

6 But now he hath obtained a better miniſtry, by how much alſo he is the mediator of a better teſtament, which is eſtabliſhed on better promiſes.

7 For if that firſt had been faultleſs, there ſhould not indeed a place have been ſought for a ſecond.

‖ Jer. 31. 31. 8 For finding fault with them he ſaith: ‖ Behold the days ſhall come, ſaith the Lord, when I will make a new teſtament with the houſe of Iſrael, and with the houſe of Juda.

9 Not according to the teſtament, which I made to their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my teſtament: and I regarded them not, ſaith the Lord.

10 For this is the teſtament which I will make to the houſe of Iſrael after thoſe days, ſaith the Lord: I will give my laws into their mind, and I will write them in their heart: and I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people:

11 And they ſhall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying: Know the Lord: for all ſhall know me from the leaſt to the greateſt of them:

12 Becauſe I will be merciful to their iniquities, and their ſins I will remember no more.

13 Now in ſaying a new, he hath made the former old. And that, which decayeth and groweth old, is near its end.

CHAP. IX.

The ſacrifices of the law were far inferior to that of Chriſt.

THE former indeed had alſo juſtifications of worſhip, and a worldly ſanctuary.

‖ Exod. 26. 2. & 36. 8. 2 ‖ For the firſt tabernacle was made, wherein were the candleſticks, and the table, and the ſetting forth of loaves, which is called the Holy.

3 And after the ſecond veil, the tabernacle, which is called the Holy of Holies:

5 And over it were the cherubims of glory overſhadowing the propitiatory: of which it is not needful to ſpeak now particularly.

6 Now theſe things being thus ordered: into the firſt tabernacle the prieſts indeed always entered, accompliſhing the offices of the ſacrifices:

7 But into the ſecond, the high prieſt alone, ‖ once a year; not without blood, which he offereth for his own, and the people's ignorance:
‖ Exod. 30. 10. Lev. 16. 2.

8 The Holy Ghoſt ſignifying this, that the way into the ſanctuary was not yet made manifeſt, whilſt the former tabernacle was yet ſtanding.

9 Which is a parable of the time then preſent: according to which gifts and ſacrifices are offered, which cannot, as to the conſcience, make him perfect that ſerveth, only in meats and in drinks,

10 And divers waſhings, and juſtifications of the fleſh, laid on them until the time of correction.

11 But Chriſt being preſent a high prieſt of the good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands, that is, not of this creation:

12 Neither by the blood of goats, or of calves, but by his own blood, entered once into the ſanctuary, having obtained eternal redemption.

13 ‖ For if the blood of goats and of oxen, and the aſhes of an heifer being ſprinkled, ſanctify ſuch as are defiled, to the cleanſing of the fleſh:

VER. 5. Who ſerve unto, &c. The prieſthood of the law and its functions were a kind of an example, and ſhadow of what is done by Chriſt in his church militant and triumphant, of which the tabernacle was a pattern.

VER. 11. They ſhall not teach, &c. So great ſhall be the light and grace of the new teſtament, that it ſhall not be neceſſary to inculcate to the faithful the belief and knowledge of the true God, for they ſhall all know him.

VER. 13. A new: ſupply covenant.

CHAP. IX. VER. 10. Of correction. viz. when Chriſt ſhould correct and ſettle all things.

VER. 12. Eternal redemption. By that one ſacrifice of his blood, once offered on the croſs, Chriſt our Lord paid and exhibited, once for all, the general price and ranſom of all mankind: which no other prieſt could do.

death, for the redemption of those transgressions, which were under the former testament, they who are called may receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where there is a testament; the death of the testator must of necessity intervene.

17 For a testament is of force, after men are dead: otherwise it is not yet of force, whilst the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither was the first indeed dedicated without blood.

19 For when every commandment of the law had been read by Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,

‖ Exod. 24. 8. 20 Saying: ‖ This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 The tabernacle also and all the vessels of the ministry, in like manner, he sprinkled with blood.

22 And almost all things, according to the law, are cleansed with blood: and without the shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It is necessary therefore that the patterns of heavenly things should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Jesus hath not entered into the holy places made with hands, the patterns of the true: but into heaven itself, that he may appear now in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy places every year with the blood of others:

26 For then he ought to have suffered often from the beginning of the world: but now once at the end of ages, he hath appeared for the destruction of sin, by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed for men once to die, and after this the judgment:

‖ Rom. 5. 9. 1. Pet. 3. 18. 28 ‖ So also Christ was offered once to exhaust the sins of many; the second time he shall appear without sin to them, that expect him, unto salvation.

CHAP. X.

Because of the insufficiency of the sacrifices of the law, Christ our high priest shed his own blood for us, offering up once for all the sacrifice of our redemption. He exhorts them to perseverance.

FOR the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things: can never with those same sacrifices, which they offer continually every year, make the comers thereunto perfect:

2 For then they would have ceased to be offered: because the worshippers once cleansed should have no conscience of sin any longer:

3 But in them there is made a remembrance of sins every year.

4 For it is impossible that with the blood of oxen and goats sins should be taken away.

5 Therefore coming into the world, he saith: ‖ Sacrifice and oblation thou wouldest not: but a body thou hast fitted to me: ‖ Psal. 39. 7.

6 Holocausts for sin did not please thee.

7 Then said I: Behold I come: ‡ in the head of the book it is written of me: that I should do thy will, O God. ‡ Psal. 39. 8.

8 In saying before: Sacrifices, and oblations, and holocausts, for sin thou wouldest not, neither are they pleasing to thee, which are offered according to the law.

9 Then said I: Behold, I come to do thy will, O God: he taketh away the first, that he may establish that which followeth.

10 By the which will, we are sanctified by the oblation of the body of Jesus Christ once.

11 And every priest indeed standeth daily ministering, and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But he offering one sacrifice for sins. for ever sitteth on the right hand of God,

13 From henceforth expecting ‖ until his enemies be made his foot-stool. ‖ Psal. 109. 2. 1. Cor. 15. 25.

14 For by one oblation he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 And the Holy Ghost also doth testify this to us. For after that he had said:

16 ‖ And this is the testament, which I will make unto them after those days, ‖ Jer. 31. 33. Supra 8. 8.

VER. 25. Offer himself often. Christ shall never more offer himself in sacrifice, in that violent, painful and bloody manner, nor can there be any occasion for it; since by that one sacrifice upon the cross, he has furnished the full ransom, redemption and remedy for all the sins of the world. But this hinders not that he may offer himself daily in the sacred mysteries in an unbloody manner, for the daily application of that one sacrifice of redemption to our souls.

VER. 28. To exhaust. That is, to empty or draw out to the very bottom, by a plentiful and perfect redemption.

CHAP. X. VER. 2. They would have ceased. If they had been of themselves perfect to all the intents of redemption and remission, as Christ's death is; there would have been no occasion of so often repeating them: as there is no occasion for Christ's dying any more for our sins.

saith the Lord, giving my laws in their hearts, and in their minds I will write them:

17 And their sins and iniquities I will remember no more.

18 Now where there is a remission of these: there is no more an oblation for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, a confidence in the entering into the sanctuary by the blood of Christ,

20 A new and living way, which he hath dedicated for us through the veil, that is to say, his flesh,

21 And a high priest over the house of God:

22 Let us draw near with a true heart in fulness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with clean water,

23 Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering (for he is faithful who hath promised)

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto charity and to good works:

25 Not forsaking our assembly, as some are accustomed, but comforting one another, and so much the more as you see the day approaching.

‖ Supra. 6. 4. 26 ‖ For if we sin wilfully after having received the knowledge of the truth, there is now left no sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain dreadful expectation of judgment, and the rage of a fire, which shall consume the adversaries.

‖ Deut. 17. 6. Matt. 18. 16. John 8. 17. 2 Cor. 13. 1. 28 A man making void the law of Moses, dieth without any mercy under ‖ two or three witnesses:

29 How much more, do you think he deserveth worse punishments, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath esteemed the blood of the testament unclean, with which he was sanctified, and hath offered an affront to the Spirit of grace?

‡ Deut. 32. 35. Rom. 12. 19. 30 For we know him who hath said: ‡ Revenge belongeth to me, and I will repay. And again: The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to mind the former days, wherein, being illuminated, you sustained a great conflict of afflictions,

33 And on the one part indeed, by reproaches and tribulations made a spectacle: and on the other part, became companions of them that lived in that manner.

34 For you both hath compassion on those who were in chains, and received with joy the plundering of your goods, knowing that you have a better and permanent substance.

35 Do not therefore lose your confidence, which hath a great reward.

36 For patience is necessary for you: that doing the will of God, you may receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that is to come, will come, and will not delay.

‖ Habac. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 17. Gal. 3. 11. 38 ‖ But my just one liveth by faith: but if he withdraw himself, he shall not please my soul.

39 But we are not the children of withdrawing unto perdition, but of faith to the salvation of the soul.

CHAP. XI.

What faith is: its wonderful fruits and efficacy, demonstrated in the fathers.

NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for, the conviction of things that appear not.

2 For by this the ancients obtained a testimony.

‖ Gen. 1. 4. 3 ‖ By faith we understand that the world was framed by the word of God; that from invisible things, visible things might be made.

‡ Gen. 4. 4. ‖ Matt. 23. 35. 4 ‡ By faith Abel offered to God a sacrifice exceeding that of Cain, ‖ by which he obtained a testimony that he was just, God giving testimony to his gifts; and by it he being dead, yet speaketh.

‡ Gen. 5. 24. Eccli. 44. 16. 5 ‡ By faith Henoch was translated, that he should not see death, and he was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had testimony that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please God. For he that cometh to God, must believe that he is, and is a rewarder of them that seek him.

‖ Gen. 6. 14. Eccli. 44. 17. 7 ‖ By faith Noe having received an answer concerning those things which as yet were not seen, moved with fear, framed the ark for the saving of his family, by which he condemned the world: and was inſtituted heir of the juſtice which is by faith.

VER. 18. There is no more an oblation for sin: where there is a full remission of sins, as in baptism; there is no more occasion for a sin offering to be made for such sins already remitted: and as for sins committed afterwards, they can only be remitted in virtue of the one oblation of Christ's death.

VER. 26. If we sin wilfully. He speaks of the sin of wilful apostasy from the known truth; after which, as we cannot be baptized again, we cannot expect to have that abundant remission of sins, which Christ purchased by his death, applied to our souls in that ample manner as it is in baptism: but we have rather all manner of reason to look for a dreadful judgment; the more because apostates from the known truth seldom or never have the grace to return to it.

‡ Gen. 12. 1. 8 ‡ By faith he that is called Abraham, obeyed, to go out into a place which he was to receive for an inheritance: and he went out not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he dwelt in the land of promiſe, as in a ſtrange country, dwelling in cottages, with Iſaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the ſame promiſe.

10 For he looked for a city that hath foundations: whoſe builder and maker is God.

‖ Gen. 17. 19. 11 ‖ By faith alſo Sara herſelf, being barren, received ſtrength to conceive ſeed, even paſt the time of age: becauſe ſhe believed that he was faithful who had promiſed.

12 For which cauſe there ſprung, even from one (and him utterly decayed) as the ſtars of heaven in multitude, and as the ſand which is by the ſea-ſhore, innumerable.

13 All theſe died according to faith, not having received the promiſes, but beholding them afar off, and ſaluting them, and confeſſing, that they are pilgrims and ſtrangers on the earth.

14 For they that ſay theſe things, do ſignify that they ſeek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindful of that from whence they came out, they had doubtleſs time to return:

16 But now they deſire a better, that is to ſay, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not aſhamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

‖ Gen. 22. 1. Eccli. 44. 21. 17 ‖ By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered Iſaac; and he who had received the promiſes, offered up his only begotten ſon:

‖ Gen 27. 27. 39. 20 ‖ By faith alſo Iſaac bleſſed Jacob and Eſau concerning things to come.

‡ Gen. 48. 15. ‖ Gen. 47. 31. 21 ‡ By faith Jacob, when he was dying, bleſſed each of the ſons of Joſeph: ‖ and worſhipped the top of his rod.

‡ Gen. 50. 25. 22 ‡ By faith Joſeph, when he was dying, made mention of the going out of the children of Iſrael: and gave commandment concerning his bones.

26 Eſteeming the reproach of Chriſt greater riches than the treaſure of the Egyptians: for he looked unto the reward.

27 By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the fierceneſs of the king: for he endured as ſeeing him that is inviſible.

‖ Exod. 12. 21. 28 ‖ By faith he celebrated the paſch, and the ſhedding of the blood: that he, who deſtroyed the firſt-born, might not touch them.

‡ Exod. 14. 22. 29 ‡ By faith they paſſed through the Red Sea, as by dry land: which the Egyptians attempting were ſwallowed up.

32 And what ſhall I yet ſay? For the time would fail me to tell of Gedeon, of Barac, of Samſon, of Jephte, of David, of Samuel, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith ſubdued kingdoms, wrought juſtice, obtained promiſes, ſtopped the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, eſcaped the edge of the ſword, recovered from their infirmity, became valiant in war, put to flight the armies of foreigners:

35 Women received their dead raiſed to life again: but others were racked, not accepting deliverance, that they might find a better reſurrection.

36 And others had trial of mockeries and ſtripes, moreover alſo of bands and priſons:

37 They were ſtoned, they were cut aſunder, they were tempted, they were put to death by the ſword, they wandered about in ſheep-ſkins, in goat-ſkins, being in want, diſtreſſed, afflicted:

38 Of whom the world was not worthy:

CHAP. XI. VER. 8. He that is called Abraham: or, Abraham being called.

VER. 19. For a parable; that is, as a figure of Chriſt, ſlain and coming to life again.

VER. 21. Worſhipped the top of his rod. The apoſtle here follows the ancient Greek bible of the 70 interpreters (which tranſlates in this manner, Gen. xlvii. v. 31.) and alledges this fact of Jacob, in paying a relative honour and veneration to the top of the rod or ſceptre of Joſeph, as to a figure of Chriſt's ſceptre and kingdom, as an inſtance and argument of his faith. But ſome tranſlators, who are no friends to this relative honour, have corrupted the text, by tranſlating it, he worſhipped, leaning upon the top of his ſtaff; as if this circumſtance of leaning upon his ſtaff were any argument of Jacob's faith, or worthy the being thus particularly taken notice of by the Holy Ghoſt.

Exhortation to constancy under their crosses. The danger of abusing the grace of the New Testament.

‖ Rom. 6. 4. Ephes. 4. 22. Coloss. 3. 8. 1 Pet. 2. 1. & 4. 2.

AND therefore we also having so great a cloud of witnesses over us, ‖ laying aside every weight, and the sin that surroundeth us, by patience let us run to the fight proposed unto us:

2 Looking on Jesus the author and finisher of faith, who having joy proposed unto him, underwent the cross, despising the shame, and sitteth on the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For think diligently upon him who endureth such opposition from sinners against himself: that you be not wearied, fainting in your minds.

4 For you have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin:

5 And you have forgotten the consolation which speaketh to you, as to children, saying: ‖ My son, neglect not the discipline of the Lord: neither be thou wearied whilst thou art rebuked by him.

‖ Prov. 3. 11. Apoc. 3. 19.

6 For whom the Lord loveth, he chastiseth: and he scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 Persevere under chastisement. God offereth himself to you as to sons: for what son is he, whom the father doth not correct?

8 But if you be without chastisement, whereof all are made partakers: then are you bastards and not sons.

9 Moreover we have had indeed for our instructers, the fathers of our flesh, and we reverenced them: shall we not much more obey the Father of spirits and live?

10 And they indeed for a few days chastised us according to their own pleasure: but he, for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastisement for the present seemeth to bring with it joy, but sorrow: but afterwards it will yield to them that are exercised by it, the most peaceable fruit of justice.

12 Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees,

13 And make straight steps with your feet: that no one halting may go astray, but rather be healed.

14 ‖ Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see God: ‖ Rom. 12. 18.

15 Looking diligently, lest any man be wanting to the grace of God: lest any root of bitterness springing up do hinder, and by it many be defiled.

16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person ‖ as Esau: who for one mess sold his first birth-right: ‖ Gen. 25. 33.

17 For know ye that ‖ afterwards when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, although with tears he had sought it. ‖ Gen. 27. 38.

18 ‖ For you are not come to the mountain that might be touched, and the burning fire, nor to a whirl-wind, and darkness, and tempest, ‖ Exod. 19. 12. & 20. 21.

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which they that heard excused themselves, that the word might not be spoken to them.

20 For they did not endure that which was said: ‖ And if a beast shall touch the mount, it shall be stoned. ‖ Exod. 19. 13.

21 And so terrible was that which was seen, Moses said: I am frighted and tremble.

22 But you are come to mount Sion, and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the company of many thousands of angels,

23 And to the church of the first-born, who are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of the just made perfect,

24 And to Jesus the mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood which speaketh better than Abel.

25 See that you refuse not him who speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spoke upon earth: much more shall not we, who turn away from him that speaketh to us from heaven.

26 Whose voice then moved the earth: but now he promiseth, saying: ‖ Yet once: and I will move not only the earth, but heaven also. ‖ Agge. 2. 7.

27 And in that he saith, Yet once: he signifieth the translation of the moveable things, as of things that are made, that those things remain which are immoveable.

CHAP. XII. VER. 17. He found, &c. That is, he found no way to bring his father to repent, or change his mind, with relation to his having given the blessing to his younger brother Jacob.

16 And do not forget to do good, and to impart: for by ſuch ſacrifices God's favour is obtained.

17 Obey your prelates, and be ſubject to them. For they watch as being to render an account of your ſouls, that they may do this with joy, and not with grief: for this is not expedient for you.

18 Pray for us: for we truſt that we have a good conſcience, being willing to behave ourſelves well in all things.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 4. Or, let marriage be honourable in all. That is, in all things belonging to the marriage ſtate. This is a warning to married people, not abuſe the ſanctity of their ſtate, by any liberties or irregularities contrary thereunto. Now it does not follow from this text that all perſons are obliged to marry, even if the word omnibus were rendered, in all perſons, inſtead of in all things: for if it was a precept, St. Paul himſelf would have tranſgreſſed it, as he never married. Moreover thoſe who have already made a vow to God to lead a ſingle life, ſhould they attempt to marry, they would incur their own damnation. 1 Tim. Chap. v. Ver. 12.

VER. 13. Let us go forth therefore to him without the camp bearing his reproach. That is, bearing his croſs. It is an exhortation to them to be willing to ſuffer, with Chriſt, reproaches, perſecutions, and even death, if they deſire to partake of the benefit of his ſuffering for man's redemption.

THE CATHOLIC EPISTLE OF ST. JAMES

THE APOSTLE.

This Epiſtle is called CATHOLIC or UNIVERSAL, as formerly were alſo the two Epiſtles of St. PETER, the firſt of St. JOHN, and the one of St. JUDE, becauſe they were not written to any peculiar people or particular perſon, but to the faithful in general. It was written by the Apoſtle St. JAMES, called THE LESS, who was alſo called THE BROTHER OF OUR LORD, being his kinſman, (for couſin germans with the Hebrews were called brothers). He was the firſt biſhop of Jeruſalem. In this Epiſtle are ſet forth many precepts appertaining to faith and morals; and particularly, that faith without good works will not ſave a man, that true wiſdom is given only from above. In the fifth chapter he publiſhes the Sacrament of anointing the ſick. It was written a ſhort time before his martyrdom, about twenty-eight years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

The benefit of tribulations. Prayer with faith. God is the author of all good, but not of evil. We muſt be ſlow to anger: and not hearers only, but doers of the word. Of bridling the tongue; and of pure religion.

JAMES a ſervant of God, and of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, to the twelve tribes which are diſperſed, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy, when you ſhall fall into divers temptations:

‖Rom. 5. 3. 3 ‖ Knowing that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 And patience hath a perfect work: that you may be perfect and entire, deficient in nothing.

5 But if any of you want wiſdom, let him aſk of God, who giveth to all abundantly, and upbraideth not: and it ſhall be given him.

‖ Matt. 7. 7. & 21. 22. Mark 11. 24. Luke 11. 9. John 14. 13. & 16. 6 ‖ But let him aſk in faith nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the ſea, that is moved and carried about by the wind.

7 Therefore let not that man think that he ſhall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded-man is inconſtant in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low condition glory in his exaltation:

10 But the rich, in his being low, ‖ becauſe as the flower of the graſs he ſhall paſs away: ‖ Eccli. 14. 18. Iſai. 40. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 24.

11 For the ſun roſe with a burning heat, and parched the graſs, and the flower thereof fell off, and the beauty of the ſhape thereof periſhed: ſo alſo ſhall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 ‖ Bleſſed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been proved, he ſhall receive the crown of life, which God hath promiſed to them that love him. ‖ Job. 5. 17.

13 Let no man, when he is tempted, ſay, that he is tempted of God: for God is not a tempter of evils: and he tempteth no man.

14 But every man is tempted being drawn away by his own concupiſcence, and allured.

15 Then when concupiſcence hath con-

CHAP. I. VER. 2. Into divers temptations. The word temptation, in this epiſtle, is ſometimes taken for trials by afflictions or perſecutions, as in this place: at other times it is to be underſtood; tempting, enticing or drawing others into ſin.

ceived, it bringeth forth ſin: But ſin, when it is compleated, begetteth death.

16 Do not err therefore, my deareſt brethren.

17 Every beſt gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no change, nor ſhadow of viciſſitude.

18 For of his own will hath he begotten us by the word of truth, that we might be ſome beginning of his creatures.

‖ Prov. 17. 27. 19 You know, my deareſt brethren: ‖ And let every man be ſwift to hear; but ſlow to ſpeak, and ſlow to anger.

20 For the anger of man worketh not the juſtice of God.

21 Wherefore caſting away all uncleanneſs, and abundance of malice, with meekneſs receive the engrafted word, which is able to ſave your ſouls.

‖ Matt. 7. 21. & 24. Rom. 2. 13. 22 ‖ But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own ſelves.

23 For if a man be a hearer of the word, and not a doer; he ſhall be compared to a man beholding his natural countenance in a glaſs:

24 For he beheld himſelf, and went his way, and preſently forgot what manner of man he was.

25 But he that hath looked into the perfect law of liberty, and hath continued in it, not becoming a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work; this man ſhall be bleſſed in his deed.

26 And if any man think himſelf to be religious, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Religion pure and unſpotted with God and the Father is this: To viſit the fatherleſs and widows in their tribulation, and to keep one's ſelf undefiled from this world.

CHAP. II.

Againſt reſpect of perſons. The danger of tranſgreſſing one point of the law. Faith is dead without works.

Lev. 19. 15. Deut. 1. 17. & 16. Prov. 24. 23. Eccli. 42. 1. MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt of glory with reſpect of perſons.

2 For if there come into your aſſembly a man having a gold ring in fine apparel, and there come in alſo a poor man in mean attire,

3 And you caſt your eyes on him that is cloathed with the fine apparel, and ſay to him: Sit thou here in a good place: and ſay, to the poor man: Stand thou there, or ſit under my foot-ſtool:

4 Do you not judge within your ſelves, and are become judges of unjuſt thoughts?

5 Hearken, my deareſt brethren, hath not God choſen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which God hath promiſed to them that love him?

6 But you have diſhonoured the poor. Do not the rich oppreſs you by might; and do not they draw you before the judgment ſeats?

7 Do not they blaſpheme the good name that is invoked upon you?

8 If then you fulfil the royal law, according to the Scriptures: ‖ Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thyſelf: you do well. ‖ Lev. 19. 18. Matt. 22. 39. Mark 12. 31. Rom. 13. 9. Gal. 5. 14.

9 ‡ But if you have reſpect to perſons, you commit ſin, being reproved by the law as tranſgreſſors. ‡ Supra 1.

10 ‖ Now whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, but offend in one point, is become guilty of all. Lev. 19. 15. ‖ Deut. 1. 18. Matt. 5. 19.

11 For he that ſaid, Thou ſhalt not commit adultery, ſaid alſo, Thou ſhalt not kill. Now if thou do not commit adultery, but ſhalt kill: thou art become a tranſgreſſor of the law.

12 So ſpeak ye, and ſo do, as being to be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For judgment without mercy, to him that hath not done mercy: and mercy exalteth itſelf above judgment.

14 What ſhall it profit, my brethren, if a man ſay he hath faith, but hath not works? Shall faith be able to ſave him?

15 ‖ And if a brother or ſiſter be naked, and want daily food, ‖ 1. John 3. 17.

16 And one of you ſay to them: Go in peace, be you warmed and filled: yet give them not thoſe things that are neceſſary for the body, what ſhall it profit?

VER. 18. Some beginning; that is, a kind of firſt-fruits of his creatures,

CHAP. II. VER. 1. With reſpect of perſons. The meaning is, that in matters relating to faith, the adminiſtering of the ſacraments, and other ſpiritual functions in God's church, there ſhould be no reſpect of perſons: but that the ſouls of the poor ſhould be as much regarded as thoſe of the rich. See Deut. chap. 1. ver. 17.

VER. 10. Guilty of all; that is, he becomes a tranſgreſſor of the law in ſuch a manner, that the obſerving of all other points will not avail him to ſalvation; for he deſpiſes the lawgiver: and breaks through the great and general commandment of charity, even by one mortal ſin. For all the precepts of the law are to be conſidered as one total and entire law, and as it were a chain of precepts where by breaking one link of this chain, the whole chain is broken, or the integrity of the law conſiſting of a collection of precepts. A ſinner therefore, by a grievous offence againſt any one precept, incurs eternal puniſhment; yet the puniſhments in hell ſhall be greater for thoſe who have been greater ſinners, as a greater reward ſhall be for thoſe in heaven who have lived with greater ſanctity and perfection.

17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself.

18 But some man will say: Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without works; and I will shew thee my faith, by works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God. Thou dost well: the devils also believe and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 ‖ Was not Abraham our father justified by works, offering up Isaac his son upon the altar? ‖ Gen. 22. 9.

22 Seest thou that faith did co-operate with his works: and by works faith was made perfect?

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled, saying: ‖ Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him to justice, and he was called the friend of God. ‖ Gen. 15. 6. Rom. 4. 3. Gal. 3. 6.

24 Do you see that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only?

25 ‡ And in like manner also Rahab the harlot, was not she justified by works, receiving the messengers, and sending them out another way? ‡ Jos. 2. 4. Hebr. 11. 31.

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

CHAP. III.

Of the evils of the tongue. Of the difference between the earthly and heavenly wisdom.

Matt. 23. 8. BE not many masters, my brethren, knowing that you receive the greater judgment.

2 For in many things we all offend. If any man offend not in word; the same is a perfect man. He is able also with a bridle to turn about the whole body.

3 For if we put bits into the mouths of horses that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also ships, whereas they are great, and are driven by strong winds, yet are they turned about with a small helm, whithersoever the force of the governor willeth.

5 Even so the tongue is indeed a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold how small a fire kindleth a great wood.

6 And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity. The tongue is placed among our members, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of our nativity, being set on fire by hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of the rest, is tamed, and hath been tamed by mankind:

8 But the tongue no man can tame: a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

9 By it we bless God and the Father; and by it we curse men, who are made after the likeness of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth through the same passage sweet, and bitter water?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear grapes, or the vine, figs? So neither can the salt water yield sweet.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? Let him shew by a good conversation his work in the meekness of wisdom.

14 But if you have bitter zeal, and there be contentions in your hearts: glory not, and be not liars against the truth.

15 For this is not wisdom, descending from above: but earthly, sensual, diabolical.

16 For where envying and contention is, there is inconstancy, and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom which is from above, first indeed is chaste, then peaceable, modest, easy to be persuaded, consenting to the good, full of mercy, and good fruits, without judging, without dissimulation.

18 And the fruit of justice is sown in peace, to them that make peace.

CHAP. IV.

The evils that flow from yielding to concupiscence, and being friends to this world. Admonitions against pride, detraction, &c.

FROM whence are wars and contentions among you? Come they not hence? from your concupiscences, which war in your members?

2 You covet, and have not: you kill, and envy: and cannot obtain: you contend and war, and you have not, because you ask not.

3 You ask, and receive not: because you ask amiss; that you may consume it on your concupiscences.

4 Adulterers, know you not that the friendship of this world, is the enemy of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of this world, becometh an enemy of God.

5 Or do you think that the Scripture saith in vain: To envy doth the spirit covet, which dwelleth in you?

6 But he giveth greater grace. Wherefore he saith; ‖ God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. ‖ Prov. 3. 34. 1 Pet. 5. 6.

7 Be subject therefore to God, but resist the devil, and he will fly from you.

8 Approach to God, and he will approach to you. Cleanſe your hands, ye ſinners: and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your joy, into ſorrow.

10 Be humble in the ſight of the Lord, and he will exalt you.

11 Detract not one another brethren. He that detracteth his brother, or he that judgeth his brother, detracteth the law, and judgeth the law. But if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one law-giver, and judge, who is able to deſtroy and to deliver.

‖ Rom. 14. 4. 13 ‖ But who art thou, who judgeſt thy neighbour? Behold now, you who ſay: To day or to morrow we will go into ſuch a city, and there we will ſpend a year, and will traffic, and make gain:

14 Whereas you know not what ſhall be on the morrow.

15 For what is your life? It is a vapour which appeareth for a little while, and afterwards ſhall vaniſh away. For that you ſhould ſay: If the Lord will; and, If we ſhall live, we will do this or that.

16 But now you glory in your arrogancies. All ſuch glorying is wicked.

17 To him therefore who knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is ſin.

CHAP. V.

A wo to the rich that oppreſs the poor. Exhortations to patience, and to avoid ſwearing. Of the anointing the ſick, confeſſion of ſins, and fervour in prayer.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miſeries that ſhall come upon you.

2 Your riches are putrified and your garments are moth-eaten.

3 Your gold and ſilver is ruſted: and the ruſt of them ſhall be for a teſtimony againſt you, and ſhall eat your fleſh as fire. You have ſtored up to yourſelves wrath againſt the laſt days.

4 Behold the hire of the labourers, who have reaped your fields of which you have defrauded them crieth out: and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the Lord of ſabaoth.

5 You have feaſted upon earth, and in luxuries you have nouriſhed your hearts in the day of ſlaughter.

6 You have condemned and put to death the juſt one, and he reſiſteth you not.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the coming of the Lord. Behold the huſbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, patiently bearing till he receive the early and the latter rain.

8 Be you therefore alſo patient, and ſtrengthen your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth near.

9 Grudge not, brethren, one againſt another, that you may not be judged. Behold, the judge ſtandeth before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, for an example of ſuffering evil, of labour and patience, the prophets, who ſpoke in the name of the Lord.

11 Behold we account them bleſſed, who have ſuffered. You have heard of the patience of Job, and you have ſeen the end of the Lord, that the Lord is merciful and compaſſionate.

12 But above all things, my brethren, ‖ ſwear not, neither by heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath. But let your ſpeech be: yea, yea: no, no: that you fall not under judgment. ‖ Matt. 5. 34.

13 Is any of you ſad? Let him pray. Is he chearful in mind? Let him ſing pſalms.

14 Is any man ſick among you? Let him bring in the prieſts of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith ſhall ſave the ſick man: and the Lord ſhall raiſe him up: and if he be in ſins, they ſhall be forgiven him.

16 Confeſs therefore your ſins one to another; and pray for one another, that you may be ſaved: for the continual prayer of a juſt man availeth much.

17 ‖ Elias was a man paſſible like unto us: and with prayer he prayed that it might not rain upon the earth, and it rained not for three years and ſix months. ‖ 3. Kings 17. 1. Luke 4. 25.

CHAP. V. VER. 14. Let him bring in, &c. See here a plain warrant of Scripture for the ſacrament of extreme unction, that any controverſy againſt its inſtitution would be againſt the expreſs words of the ſacred text in the plaineſt terms.

VER. 16. Confeſs your ſins one to another. That is, to the prieſts of the church, whom, ver. 14, he had ordered to be called for, and brought in to the ſick, moreover to confeſs to perſons who had no power to forgive ſins would be uſeleſs. Hence the precept here means that we muſt confeſs to men whom God hath appointed, and who, by their ordination and juriſdiction, have received the power of remitting ſins in his name.

18 And he prayed again: and the heaven gave rain, and the earth yielded her fruit.
19 My brethren, if any of you ſhall err from the truth, and any one convert him:
20 He muſt know, that he who cauſeth a ſinner to be converted from the error of his way, ſhall ſave his ſoul from death, and ſhall cover a multitude of ſins.

THE

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PETER

THE APOSTLE.

This firſt Epiſtle of St. PETER, though brief, contains much doctrine concerning Faith, Hope, and Charity, with divers inſtructions to all perſons of what ſtate or condition ſoever. The Apoſtle commands ſubmiſſion to rulers and ſuperiors, and exhorts all to the practice of a virtuous life in imitation of Chriſt. This Epiſtle is written with ſuch apoſtolical dignity as to manifeſt the ſupreme authority with which its writer, the prince of the Apoſtles, had been veſted by his lord and maſter Jeſus Chriſt. He wrote it at Rome, which figuratively he calls Babylon, about fifteen years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks to God for the benefit of our being called to the true faith, and to eternal life; into which we are to enter by many tribulations. He exhorts to holineſs of life: conſidering the holineſs of God, and our redemption by the blood of Chriſt.

PETER an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, to the ſtrangers diſperſed through Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Aſia, and Bithynia, elect,
2 According to the foreknowledge of God the Father unto the ſanctification of the Spirit, unto the obedience and ſprinkling of the blood of Jeſus Chriſt: Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.
3 ‖ Bleſſed be the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who according to his great mercy hath regenerated us unto a lively hope, through the reſurrection of Jeſus Chriſt from the dead,
‖ 2 Cor. 1. 3. Epheſ. 1. 3.
4 Unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not, reſerved in heaven for you,
5 Who by the power of God are kept by faith unto ſalvation, ready to be revealed in the laſt time.
6 In which you ſhall greatly rejoice, now if need be for a little time to be made ſorrowful in divers temptations:
7 That the trial of your faith, much more precious than gold (which is tried by the fire) may be found unto praiſe, and glory, and honour, at the appearing of Jeſus Chriſt:
8 Whom having not ſeen you love: in whom alſo now, though you ſee him not, you believe: and believing ſhall rejoice with an unſpeakable and glorified joy:
9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the ſalvation of your ſouls.
10 Concerning which ſalvation the prophets have enquired and diligently ſearched, who propheſied of the grace to come in you:
11 Searching into what time or manner of time the Spirit of Chriſt ſhould ſignify in them: foretelling thoſe ſufferings that are in Chriſt, and the glories that ſhould follow:
12 To whom it was revealed, that not to themſelves, but to you they miniſtered thoſe things, which are now declared to you by thoſe who have preached the goſpel to you, the Holy Ghoſt being ſent down from heaven, on whom the Angels deſire to look.
13 Wherefore having the loins of your mind girded, being ſober, hope perfectly for that grace which is offered you at the revelation of Jeſus Chriſt:
14 As children of obedience, not conformed to the former deſires of your ignorance:

15 But according to him who is holy who hath called you: be you also holy in all conversation:

‖ Lev. 11. 44. 19. 2. & 20. 7. 16 For it is written: ‖ You shall be holy, because I am holy.

17 And if you invoke the Father, him who ‡ without respect of persons, judgeth according to every one's work, converse in fear during the time of your sojourning here:

‡ Deut. 10. 17. Rom. 2. 11. Gal. 2. 6.

18 Knowing that you were not redeemed with corruptible gold or silver from your vain conversation of the tradition of your fathers:

‖ 1 Cor. 6. 20. & 7. 23. Hebr. 9. 14. ‖ John 1. 7. Apoc. 1. 5. 19 ‖ But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb unspotted and undefiled:

20 Fore-known indeed before the foundation of the world, but manifested in the last times for you,

21 Who through him are faithful in God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God:

22 Purifying your souls in the obedience of charity, with a brotherly love, from a sincere heart love one another earnestly:

23 Being born again not of corruptible seed, but incorruptible by the word of God who liveth and remaineth for ever.

‖ Eccli. 14. 18. Isai. 40. 6. James 1. 10. 24 ‖ For all flesh is as grass: and all the glory thereof as the flower of the grass: the grass is withered, and the flower thereof is fallen away.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever: and this is the word which hath been preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

We are to lay aside all guile, and go to Christ the living stone: and as being now his people, walk worthily of him, with submission to superiors, and patience under sufferings.

Rom. 6. 4. Ephes. 4. 22. Coloss. 3. 8. Heb. 12. 1. WHEREFORE laying aside all malice, and all guile, and dissimulations, and envies, and all detractions,

2 As new born infants, desire the rational milk without guile: that thereby you may grow unto salvation:

3 If yet you have tasted that the Lord is sweet.

4 To whom approaching the living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen and honoured of God:

5 Be you also as living stones built up, a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contained in the Scripture: ‖ Behold I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect precious: And he that shall believe in him, shall not be confounded.

‖ Isai. 28. 16. Rom. 9. 33.

7 To you therefore, that believe honour: but to them that believe not, ‡ the stone which the builders rejected, the same is made the head of the corner:

‡ Psal. 117. 22. Isai. 8. 14. Matt. 21. 42. Acts. 4. 11.

8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of scandal to them, who stumble at the word, neither do believe whereunto also they are set.

9 But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a purchased people that you may declare his virtues, who hath called you out of darkness into his admirable light.

‖ Osee 2. 24. Rom. 9. 25. 10 ‖ Who in time past were not a people: but are now the people of God: who had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

‡ Rom. 13. 14. Gal. 5. 16. 11 ‡ Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, to refrain yourselves from carnal desires, which war against the soul,

12 Having your conversation good among the Gentiles: that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, considering you by your good works, they may glorify God in the day of visitation.

‖ Rom. 13. 1. 13 ‖ Be ye subject therefore to every human creature for God's sake: whether it be to the king as excelling:

14 Or to governors as sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of the good:

15 For so is the will of God, that by doing well you may silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 As free, and not as making liberty a cloak of malice, but as the servants of God.

‖ Rom. 12. 10. 17 Honour all men: ‖ love the brotherhood: fear God: honour the king:

‡ Ephes. 6. 5. Coloss. 3. 22. Titus 2. 9. 18 ‡ Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear, not only to the good, and gentle, but also to the froward.

19 For this is thankworthy, if for conscience towards God, a man endure sorrows, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what glory is it, if sinning and being buffeted you suffer it? But if doing well you suffer patiently; this is thankworthy before God.

21 For unto this you have been called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving you an example that you should follow his steps.

‖ Isai. 53. 9. 22 ‖ Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23 Who when he was reviled, did not revile: when he suffered, he threatened not: but delivered himself to him that judged him unjustly:

‖ Isai. 53. 5. 1 John 3. 5. 24 ‖ Who his own self bore our sins in his body upon the tree: that we being dead to sins, should live to justice: by whose stripes you were healed.

25 For you were as sheep going astray: but you are now converted to the pastor and bishop of your souls.

CHAP. III.

How wives are to behave to their husbands: what ornaments they are to seek. Exhortations to divers virtues.

Ephes. 5. 22. Coloss. 3. 18. IN like manner also let wives be subject to their husbands: that if any believe not the word, they may be gained without the word, by the conversation of the wives,

2 Considering your chaste conversation with fear.

‖ 1 Tim. 2. 9. 3 ‖ Whose adorning let it not be the outward plaiting of the hair, or the wearing of gold, or the putting on of apparel:

4 But the hidden man of the heart in the incorruptibility of a quiet and a meek spirit, which is rich in the sight of God.

5 For after this manner heretofore also the holy women hoping in God, adorned themselves, being subject to their own husbands.

‖ Gen. 18. 12. 6 ‖ As Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters you are, doing well, and not fearing any trouble.

‖ 1 Cor. 7. 3. 7 ‖ Ye husbands likewise dwelling with them according to knowledge, giving honour to the woman as to the weaker vessel, and as to the coheirs of the grace of life: that your prayers be not hindered.

8 And finally be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, loving brotherhood, merciful, modest, humble:

‖ Prov. 17. 13. Rom. 12. 17. 1 Thess. 5. 15. 9 ‖ Not rendering evil for evil, nor railing for railing, but on the contrary, blessing, for unto this are you called, that by inheritance you may possess a blessing.

‡ Psalm. 33. 13. 10 ‡ For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile.

‖ Isai. 1. 16. 11 ‖ Let him decline from evil and do good: let him seek peace, and pursue it:

12 Because the eyes of the Lord are upon the just, and his ears unto their prayers: but the countenance of the Lord against them that do evil things.

13 And who is he that can hurt you, if you be zealous of good?

‖ Matt. 5 10. 14 ‖ But if also you suffer any thing for justice sake, blessed are ye. And be not afraid of their terrour, and be not troubled.

15 But sanctify the Lord Christ in your heart, being always ready to satisfy every one that asketh you a reason of that hope which is in you.

‖ Supra 2. 12. 16 ‖ But with modesty and fear, having a good conscience: that whereas they speak evil of you, they may be ashamed who falsly accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better doing well (if such be the will of God) to suffer, than doing ill.

‖ Rom. 5. 6. Hebr. 9. 28. 18 ‖ Because Christ also died once for our sins, the just for the unjust, that he might offer us to God, being put to death indeed in the flesh, but brought to life by the spirit.

19 In which also he came and preached to those spirits who were in prison:

‖ Gen. 7. 7. Matt. 24. 37. Luke 17. 26. 20 Who in time past had been incredulous, ‖ when they waited for the patience of God in the days of Noe, when the ark was a building: in which a few, that is eight souls, were saved by water.

21 Whereunto baptism being of the like form, now saveth you also: not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the examination of a good conscience towards God by the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

22 Who is on the right hand of God, swallowing up death, that we might become heirs of life everlasting: he being gone into heaven, the angels and powers and virtues being made subject to him.

CHAP. IV.

Exhortations to cease from sin: to mutual charity; to do all for the glory of God; to be willing to suffer for Christ.

CHRIST therefore having suffered in the flesh, be you also armed with the same thought, for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sins:

‖ Ephes. 4. 23. 2 ‖ That now as to the rest of his time in the flesh, he may live not according to the desires of men, but according to the will of God.

CHAP. III. VER. 19. Spirits in prison. See here a proof of a third place, or middle state of souls: for these spirits in prison, to whom Christ went to preach, after his death, were not in heaven: nor yet in the hell of the damned: because heaven is no prison: and Christ did not go to preach to the damned.

VER. 21. Whereunto baptism, &c. Baptism is said to be of the like form with the water by which Noe was saved, because the one was a figure of the other.

Ibid. Not the putting away, &c. As much as to say, that baptism has not its efficacy, in order to salvation, from its washing away any bodily filth or dirt; but from its purging the conscience from sin: when accompanied with suitable dispositions in the party, to answer the interrogations made at that time, with relation to faith, the renouncing of satan with all his works; and the obedience to God's commandments.

3 For the time paſt is ſufficient to have fulfilled the will of the Gentiles, for them who have walked in riotouſneſs, luſts, exceſs of wine, revellings, banquetings, and unlawful worſhipping of idols.

4 Wherein they think it ſtrange, that you run not with them into the ſame confuſion of riotouſneſs, ſpeaking evil of you.

5 Who ſhall render an account to him, who is ready to judge the living and the dead.

6 For this cauſe alſo was the goſpel preached to the dead: that they might be judged indeed, according to men in the fleſh, but may live according to God in the Spirit.

7 But the end of all approacheth. Be prudent therefore, and watch in prayers.

8 But before all things have a mutual charity among yourſelves: ‖ for charity covereth a multitude of ſins.

‖ Prov. 10. 12.

9 ‡ Uſing hoſpitality towards one another ‖ without murmuring.

‡ Rom. 12. 13. Heb. 13. 2. ‖ Philip. 2. 14.

10 ‡ As every man hath received grace, miniſtering the ſame one to another, ‖ as good ſtewards of the manifold grace of God.

‡ Rom. 12. 6. ‖ 1 Cor. 4. 2.

11 If any man ſpeak, let him ſpeak as the words of God: if any man miniſter, let it be as from the power, which God adminiſtereth: that in all things God may be honoured through Jeſus Chriſt: to whom is glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Moſt deareſt, think not ſtrange the burning heat which is to try you, as if ſome new thing happened to you:

13 But rejoice being partakers of the ſufferings of Chriſt, that when his glory ſhall be revealed you may alſo be glad with exceeding joy.

14 If you be reproached for the name of Chriſt, you ſhall be happy: for that which is of the honour, glory and power of God, and that which is his ſpirit, reſteth upon you.

15 But let none of you ſuffer as a murderer, or a thief, or a railer, or as coveting the goods of others.

16 But if as a Chriſtian, let him not be aſhamed: but let him glorify God in that name.

17 For the time is that judgment ſhould begin at the houſe of God. And if firſt at us: what ſhall be the end of thoſe who believe not the goſpel of God?

18 ‖ And if the juſt man ſhall ſcarcely be ſaved, where ſhall the wicked and the ſinner appear?

‖ Prov. 11. 31.

19 Therefore alſo they, who ſuffer according to the will of God, let them commend their ſouls in good deeds to the faithful Creator.

CHAP. V.

He exhorts both prieſts and laity, to their reſpective duties, and recommends to all humility, and watchfulneſs.

THE ancients * therefore that are among you, I beſeech, who am myſelf alſo an ancient and a witneſs of Chriſt: as alſo a partaker of that glory which is to be revealed in time to come:

* i.e. Senior Prieſts.

2 Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking care thereof not by conſtraint, but willingly according to God: neither for the ſake of filthy lucre, but voluntarily:

3 Neither as domineering over the clergy, but being made a pattern of the flock from the heart.

4 And when the Prince of paſtors ſhall appear, you ſhall receive a never-fading crown of glory.

5 In like manner ye young men be ſubject to the ancients. ‖ And do ye all inſinuate humility one to another, ‡ for God reſiſteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

‖ Rom. 12. 10. ‡ James 4. 6.

6 ‖ Be you humbled therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in the time of viſitation:

‖ James 4. 10.

7 ‖ Caſting all your ſolicitude upon him, for he hath care of you.

‖ Pſalm 54. 23. Matt. 6. 25. Luke 12. 22.

8 Be ſober, and watch: becauſe your adverſary the devil, as a roaring lion, goeth about, ſeeking whom he may devour:

9 Whom reſiſt ye, ſtrong in faith; knowing that the ſame affliction befalleth your brethren who are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory in Chriſt Jeſus, when you have ſuffered a little, will himſelf perfect, and confirm, and eſtabliſh you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I think, I have written briefly: beſeeching and teſtifying, that this is the true grace of God, wherein you ſtand.

13 The church which is in * Babylon, elected together ſaluteth you: and ſo doth my ſon Mark.

* figuratively Rome.

14 Salute one another with a holy kiſs. Grace unto you all, who are in Chriſt Jeſus. Amen.

CHAP. IV. VER. 18. Scarcely; That is, not without much labour and difficulty; and becauſe of the dangers which conſtantly ſurround, the temptations of the world, of the devil, and of our own corrupt nature.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PETER

THE APOSTLE.

In this Epiſtle St. PETER ſays, (chap. iii.) Behold this is the ſecond Epiſtle I write unto you: and before, (chap. i. ver. 14.) Being aſſured that the putting off of this my tabernacle is at hand. This ſhews, that it was written a very ſhort time before his martyrdom, which was about thirty five years after our Lord's Aſcenſion. In this Epiſtle he admoniſhes the faithful to be mindful of the great gifts they received from God, and to join all other virtues with their faith. He warns them againſt falſe teachers, by deſcribing their practices and foretelling their puniſhments. He deſcribes the diſſolution of this world by fire, and the day of judgment.

CHAP. I.

He exhorts them to join all other virtues with their faith: in order to ſecure their ſalvation.

SIMON Peter, a ſervant and an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, to them who have obtained equal faith with us, in the juſtice of our God and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Grace to you and peace be fulfilled in the knowledge of God, and of Chriſt Jeſus our Lord:

3 According as all things of his divine power, which appertain to life and piety, are given to us, through the knowledge of him who hath called us by his own proper glory and virtue,

4 By whom he hath given us very great and precious promiſes: that by theſe you may be made partakers of the divine nature: flying from the corruption of that concupiſcence which is in the world.

5 And you, giving all diligence, join with your faith, virtue, and with virtue, knowledge,

6 And with knowledge, abſtinence, and with abſtinence, patience, and with patience, piety,

7 And with piety, brotherly love, and with brotherly love, charity.

8 For if theſe things be with you, and abound, they will make you to be neither empty, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

9 For he that hath not theſe things with him, is blind, and groping, forgetting his being purged from his old ſins.

10 Wherefore, brethren, labour the more, that by good works you may make ſure your vocation and election: for doing theſe things, you ſhall not ſin at any time.

11 For ſo an entrance ſhall be miniſtered to you abundantly into the everlaſting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

12 For which cauſe I will begin to admoniſh you always of theſe things: though indeed you know them, and are confirmed in the preſent truth.

13 But I think it juſt as long as I am in this tabernacle, to ſtir you up by admonition:

14 Being aſſured that the putting off of this my tabernacle is at hand, even according as our Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath ‖ ſignified to me. ‖ John 21. 19.

15 And I will endeavour, that you frequently have after my deceaſe, whereby you may keep a memory of theſe things.

16 ‖ For we have not by following arti- ‖ 1 Cor. 1. 17.

ficial fables, made known to you the power, and preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; but we were eye-witneſſes of his greatneſs.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory; this voice coming down
‖ Matt. 17. 5. to him from the excellent glory: ‖ This is my beloved Son in whom I am pleaſed, hear ye him.

18 And this voice we heard brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 And we have the word of prophecy more firm: to which you do well to attend, as to a light ſhining in a dark place until the day dawn, and the morning-ſtar riſe in your hearts:

‖ 2 Tim. 3. 16. 20 ‖ Underſtanding this firſt, that no prophecy of the Scripture is made by private interpretation.

21 For prophecy came not by the will of man at any time; but the holy men of God ſpoke, inſpired by the Holy Ghoſt.

CHAP. II.

He warns them againſt falſe teachers, and foretels their puniſhment.

BUT there were alſo falſe prophets among the people, even as there ſhall be lying teachers among you, who ſhall bring in ſects of perdition, and deny the Lord who bought them, bringing upon themſelves ſwift deſtruction.

2 And many ſhall follow their luxuries, by whom the way of truth ſhall be blaſphemed:

3 And through covetouſneſs with feigned words they ſhall make merchandiſe of you: whoſe judgment now of a long time ceaſeth not, and their deſtruction ſlumbereth not.

‖ Job. 4. 18. Jude 1. 6. 4 ‖ For if God ſpareth not the angels that ſinned, but having caſt them down into the place of torments delivered them into the chains of hell to be tormented, to be reſerved unto judgment.

‡ Gen. 7. 1. 5 And ſpared not the original world, ‡ but preſerved Noe the eighth perſon, a preacher of juſtice, bringing in the deluge upon the world of the impious.

6 ‖ And reducing the cities of the Sodomites, and of the Gomorrhites into aſhes, condemned them to deſtruction; making them an example to thoſe that ſhould after act wickedly: ‖ Gen. 19. 25.

7 And delivered Lot, a juſt man oppreſſed by the injuſtice and lewd converſation of the wicked:

8 For in ſight and hearing he was juſt: dwelling among them, who from day to day vexed the juſt ſoul with their impious deeds.

9 The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation; but to reſerve the unjuſt unto the day of judgment to be tormented:

10 And eſpecially thoſe who walk after the fleſh in the luſt of uncleanneſs, and deſpiſe governments, audacious, pleaſing themſelves, they fear not to bring in ſects, blaſpheming:

11 Whereas angels, though they are greater in ſtrength and power, bear not an execrable judgment againſt themſelves.

12 But theſe men, as irrational beaſts, naturally tending to the ſnare, and to deſtruction, blaſpheming thoſe things which they know not, ſhall periſh in their corruption,

13 Receiving the reward of injuſtice, counting pleaſure the delights of a day; ſtains and blemiſhes, ſlowing in delicacies, rioting in their feaſts with you,

14 Having eyes full of adultery, and of never ceaſing ſin: alluring unſtable ſouls, having their heart exerciſed with covetouſneſs, ſons of malediction:

15 Forſaking the right way they have gone aſtray, ‖ having followed the way of Balaam of Boſor, who loved the wages of iniquity: ‖ Jude 1. 11.

16 But had a check of his madneſs: a dumb beaſt ſubject to the yoke, ‖ ſpeaking with man's voice, forbad the folly of the prophet. ‖ Num. 22. 28.

17 ‡ Theſe are fountains without water, and clouds toſſed with whirlwinds, to whom the miſt of darkneſs is reſerved. ‡ Jude 1. 12.

18 For, ſpeaking ſwelling words of vanity, they allure in deſires of the fleſh of riotouſneſs thoſe, who had eſcaped a little from them who converſe in error:

CHAP. I. VER. 20. No prophecy of the Scripture is made by private interpretation. This ſhews plainly that the Scriptures are not to be expounded by any one's private judgment or private ſpirit, becauſe every part of the holy Scriptures were written by men inſpired by the Holy Ghoſt, and declared as ſuch by the Church; therefore they are not to be interpreted but by the Spirit of God, which he hath left, and promiſed to remain with his Church to guide her in all truth to the end of the world. Some may tell us, that many of our divines interpret the Scriptures, they may do ſo, but they do it always with a ſubmiſſion to the judgment of the Church, and not otherwiſe.

CHAP. II. VER. 1. Sects of perdition; that is, hereſies deſtructive of ſalvation.

VER. 11. Bear not an execrable judgment, &c. That is, they uſe no railing, nor curſing ſentence; not even in their conflicts with the evil angels. See St. Jude, ver. 9.

VER. 13. The delights of a day; that is, the ſhort delights of this world, in which they place all their happineſs.

19 Promiſing them liberty, when they themſelves are ſlaves of corruption: || for by whom a man is overcome, of the ſame alſo he is the ſlave.

|| John 8. 34. Rom. 6. 16. &. 20.

20 For if having fled from the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, ‡ being again entangled in them, they are overcome: || their latter ſtate is become unto them worſe than the former.

‡ Hebr. 6. 4. || Matt. 12. 45.

21 For it had been better for them not to have known the way of juſtice, than after they have known it, to turn back from that holy commandment, which was delivered to them.

22 For, that of the true proverb hath happened to them: || The dog is returned to his own vomit, and the ſow that was waſhed, to her wallowing in the mire.

|| Prov. 26. 11.

CHAP. III.

Againſt ſcoffers, denying the ſecond coming of Chriſt, he declares the ſudden diſſolution of this world; and exhorts to holineſs of life.

BEHOLD this is the ſecond epiſtle I write to you, my dearly beloved, in which I ſtir up by admonition your ſincere mind:

2 That you may be mindful of thoſe words which I told you before from the holy prophets, and of your apoſtles, of the precepts of the Lord and Saviour.

3 Knowing this firſt, || that in the laſt days there ſhall come ſcoffers with deceit, walking according to their own luſts,

|| 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2 Tim. 3. 1. Jude 1. 18.

4 Saying: ‡ Where is his promiſe, or his coming? For ſince the fathers ſlept, all things continue ſo from the beginning of the creation.

‡ Ezec. 12. 27.

5 For this they are wilfully ignorant of, that the heavens were before, and the earth, out of water, and through water, conſiſting by the word of God:

6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, periſhed.

7 But the heavens which now are, and the earth, by the ſame word are kept in ſtore, reſerved unto fire againſt the day of judgment, and perdition of wicked men.

8 But be not ignorant, my beloved, of this one thing, that one day with the Lord is as a thouſand years, and a thouſand years as one day.

9 The Lord delayeth not his promiſe, as ſome imagine: but beareth patiently for your ſake, not willing that any ſhould periſh, but that all ſhould return to penance.

10 || But the day of the Lord ſhall come as a thief, in which the heavens ſhall paſs away with great violence, and the elements ſhall be diſſolved with heat, and the earth and the works that are in it ſhall be burnt up.

|| 1 Theſſ. 5. 2. Apoc. 3. 3. & 16. 15.

11 Seeing then that all theſe things are to be diſſolved, what manner of people ought you to be in holy converſations and godlineſs,

12 Waiting for, and haſtening unto the coming of the day of the Lord, by which the heavens being on fire ſhall be diſſolved, and the elements ſhall melt with the burning heat of fire?

13 || But we look for new heavens and a new earth according to his promiſe, in which juſtice dwelleth.

|| Iſai. 65. 17. & 66. 22. Apoc. 21. 1.

14 Wherefore, dearly beloved, waiting for theſe things, be diligent that you may be found before him unſpotted and blameleſs in peace.

15 || And account the long-bearing of our Lord, ſalvation: as alſo our moſt dear brother Paul, according to the wiſdom given to him, hath written to you,

|| Rom. 2. 4.

16 As alſo in all his epiſtles, ſpeaking in them of theſe things: in which are ſome things hard to be underſtood, which the unlearned and unſtable wreſt, as alſo the other Scriptures, to their own perdition.

17 You therefore, brethren, knowing theſe things before, beware: leſt being led away by the error of the unwiſe, you fall from your own ſteadfaſtneſs.

18 But increaſe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord, and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt. To him be glory both now and unto the day of eternity. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN THE APOSTLE.

The ſame vein of divine love and charity towards our neighbour, which runs throughout the Goſpel, written by the beloved diſciple and evangeliſt St. JOHN, is found alſo in his Epiſtles. He confirms the two principals myſteries of our faith: The myſtery of the Trinity, and the myſtery of the incarnation of Jeſus Chriſt the Son of God. The ſublimity and excellence of the evangelical doctrine he declares: And this commandment we have from God, that he, who loveth God, love alſo his brother, (chap. iv. ver. 21.) and again: For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not heavy, (chap. v. ver. 3.) He ſhews how to diſtinguiſh the children of God from thoſe of the devil: marks out thoſe who ſhould be called Antichriſts: deſcribes the turpitude and gravity of ſin. Finally he ſhews how the ſinner may hope for pardon. It was written, according to Baronius's account, ſixty-ſix years after our Lord's Aſcenſion.

CHAP. I.

He declares what he has ſeen and heard of Chriſt (who is the life eternal) to the end that we may have fellowſhip with God, and all good through him: yet ſo if we confeſs our ſins.

THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have ſeen with our eyes, which we have diligently looked upon, and our hands have handled, concerning the word of life:

2 For the life was manifeſted: and we have ſeen, and do bear witneſs, and declare unto you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and hath appeared to us:

3 That which we have ſeen and have heard, we declare unto you, that you alſo may have fellowſhip with us, and our fellowſhip may be with the Father, and with his Son Jeſus Chriſt.

4 And theſe thing we write to you, that you may rejoice, and your joy may be full.

5 And this is the declaration which we have heard from him, and declare unto you: ‖ That God is light, and that in him there is no darkneſs.

‖ 1 John 8. 12.

6 If we ſay that we have fellowſhip with him, and walk in darkneſs, we lie, and do not the truth.

7 But if we walk in the light, as he alſo is in the light: we have fellowſhip one towards another, ‖ and the blood of Jeſus Chriſt his Son cleanſeth us from all ſin.

‖ Hebr. 9. 14. 1 Peter 1. 19. Apoc 1. 5.

8 † If we ſay that we have no ſin: we deceive ourſelves, and the truth is not in us.

† 3 Kings 8. 46. 2 Par. 6. 36. Prov. 20. 9. Eccle. 7. 21.

9 If we confeſs our ſins: he is faithful and juſt, to forgive us our ſins, and to cleanſe us from all iniquity.

10 If we ſay that we have not ſinned: we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

Chriſt is our Advocate: we muſt keep his commandments, and love one another. We muſt not love the world, nor give ear to new teachers; but abide by the ſpirit of God in the church.

MY little children, theſe things I write to you that you may not ſin. But if any man ſin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jeſus Chriſt the juſt:

2 And he is the propitiation for our ſins: and not for ours only, but alſo for thoſe of the whole world.

3 And in this we do know that we have known him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that ſaith he knoweth him, and keepeth

CHAP. II. VER. 3. We have known him, if we keep his commandments. He ſpeaks of that practical knowledge by love and affection, which can only be proved by our keeping his commandments; and without which we cannot be ſaid to know God, as we ſhould do.

not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoſoever keepeth his word, the charity of God is truly perfect in him: and by this we know that we are in him.

6 He that ſaith he abideth in him, ought himſelf alſo to walk, even as he walked.

7 My deareſt, I write not a new commandment to you, but an old commandment, which you had from the beginning: The old commandment is the word which you have heard.

|| Joh. i. 13. 34. & 15. 12.

8 || Again a new commandment I write to you, which thing is true both in him, and in you: becauſe the darkneſs is paſt, and the true light now ſhineth.

9 He that ſaith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkneſs even until now.

|| Infra 3. 14.

10 || He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is no ſcandal in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkneſs, and walketh in darkneſs, and knoweth not whither he goeth: becauſe the darkneſs hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write to you little children, becauſe your ſins are forgiven you for his name's ſake.

13 I write to you, fathers, becauſe you have known him, who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, becauſe you have overcome the wicked one.

14 I write to you, infants, becauſe you have known the Father. I write to you, young men, becauſe you are ſtrong, and the word of God abideth in you, and you have overcome the wicked one.

15 Love not the world, nor thoſe things which are in the world. If any man love the world, the charity of the Father is not in him:

16 For all that is in the world, is the concupiſcence of the fleſh, and the concupiſcence of the eyes, and the pride of life: which is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world paſſeth away, and the concupiſcence thereof. But he that doth the will of God, abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the laſt hour: and as you have heard that Antichriſt cometh: even now there are many Antichriſts: whereby we know that it is the laſt hour.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us. For if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but that they might be made manifeſt, that they are not all of us.

20 But you have an unction from the Holy one, and you know all things.

21 I have not written to you as to ſuch as know not the truth, but as to ſuch as know it: and that no lie is from the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but he who denieth that Jeſus is the Chriſt? He is Antichriſt, who denieth the Father, and the Son.

23 Whoſoever denieth the Son, neither hath he the Father. He that confeſſeth the Son, hath the Father alſo.

24 Let that which you have heard from the beginning, abide in you: If what you have heard from the beginning ſhall abide in you, you alſo ſhall abide in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promiſe which he hath promiſed to us, eternal life.

26 Theſe things have I written to you concerning them that ſeduce you.

27 And the unction, which you have received from him, let it abide in you. And you have no need that any one ſhould teach you: but as his unction teacheth you concerning all things, and it is truth, and is not a lie. And as it hath taught you: abide in him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him: that when he ſhall appear, we may have confidence, and not be confounded by him at his coming.

29 If you know, that he is juſt, know alſo that every one who doeth juſtice, is born of him.

VER. 8. A new commandment, viz. The commandment of love, which was firſt given in the old law; but was renewed and extended by Chriſt. See John, xiii. 33.

VER. 18. It is the laſt hour. That is, it is the laſt age of the world.

Ibid. Many Antichriſts; That is, many heretics, enemies of Chriſt and his church, and forerunners of the great Antichriſt.

VER. 19. They were not of us. That is, they were not ſolid, ſteadfaſt, genuine Chriſtians, otherwiſe they would have remained in the church.

VER. 20. An unction from the Holy one. That is, grace and wiſdom from the Holy Ghoſt.

Ibid. You know all things. The true children of God's church, remaining in unity, under the guidance of their lawful paſtors, partake of the grace of the Holy Ghoſt, promiſed to the church and her paſtors; and have in the church all neceſſary knowledge and inſtruction; ſo as to have no need to ſeek it elſewhere, ſince it can be only found in that ſociety of which they are members.

VER. 27. You have no need, &c. You want not to be taught by any of theſe men, who, under pretence of imparting more knowledge to you, ſeek to ſeduce you, (ver. 26.) ſince you are ſufficiently taught already, and have all knowledge and grace in the church, with the unction of the Holy Ghoſt; which theſe new teachers have no ſhare in.

CHAP. III.

Of the love of God to us: how we may diſtinguiſh the children of God, and thoſe of the devil. Of loving one another, and of purity of conſcience.

BEHOLD what manner of charity the Father hath beſtowed upon us, that we ſhould be named and ſhould be the ſons of God. Therefore the world hath not known us: becauſe it hath not known him.

2 Dearly beloved, we are now the ſons of God: and it hath not yet appeared what we ſhall be. We know, that when he ſhall appear, we ſhall be like to him: becauſe we ſhall ſee him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, ſanctifieth himſelf, as he alſo is holy.

4 Whoſoever committeth ſin, committeth alſo iniquity: and ſin is iniquity.

5 And you know that he appeared to take away our ſins: ‖ and in him there is no ſin. ‖ Iſai. 53. 9. ‖ Peter 2. 22.

6 Whoſoever abideth in him, ſinneth not: and whoſoever ſinneth, hath not ſeen him, nor known him.

7 Little children, let no one deceive you. He that doth juſtice, is juſt: as he alſo is juſt.

8 ‖ He that committeth ſin is of the devil: for the devil ſinneth from the beginning. For this purpoſe the Son of God appeared, that he might deſtroy the works of the devil. ‖ John 8. 44.

9 Every one that is born of God, doth not commit ſin: for his ſeed remaineth in him, and he cannot ſin, becauſe he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifeſt, and the children of the devil. Whoſoever is not juſt, is not of God, nor is he that loveth not his brother:

11 For this is the declaration, which you have heard from the beginning, ‖ that you ſhould love one another. ‖ John 13. 34. & 15. 12.

12 Not as ‡ Cain, who was the wicked one, and killed his brother. And for what cauſe did he kill him? Becauſe his own works were evil: and his brother's juſt. ‡ Gen. 4. 8.

13 Wonder not, brethren, if the world hate you.

14 We know that we have paſſed from death to life, becauſe we love the brethren. ‖ He that loveth not abideth in death: ‖ Lev. 19. 17.

15 Whoſoever hateth his brother, is a murderer. And you know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in himſelf. Supra 2. 10.

16 ‖ In this we have known the charity of God, becauſe he hath laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. ‖ John 15. 13.

17 ‖ He that hath the ſubſtance of this world, and ſhall ſee his brother in need, and ſhall ſhut up his bowels from him: how doth the charity of God abide in him? ‖ Luke 3. 11. James 2. 15.

18 My little children, let us not love in word, nor in tongue, but in deed, and in truth.

19 In this we know that we are of the truth: and in his ſight we ſhall perſuade our hearts.

20 For if our heart reprehend us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Dearly beloved, if our heart do not reprehend us, we have confidence towards God:

22 ‖ And whatſoever we ſhall aſk, we ſhall receive of him: becauſe we keep his commandments, and do thoſe things that are pleaſing in his ſight. ‖ Matt. 21. 22.

23 ‡ And this is his commandment: that we ſhould believe in the name of his Son Jeſus Chriſt: and love one another, as he hath given commandment unto us. ‡ John 6. 29. & 17. 3.

24 ‖ And he that keepeth his commandments, abideth in him, and he in him: and in this we know that he abideth in us, from the Spirit which he hath given us. ‖ John 13. 34. & 15. 12.

CHAP. IV.

What ſpirits are of God, and what not. We muſt love one another, becauſe God has loved us.

DEARLY beloved, believe not every ſpirit, but try the ſpirits whether they be of God: becauſe many falſe prophets are gone out into the world.

2 By this is the ſpirit of God known: every ſpirit, that confeſſeth Jeſus Chriſt to have come in the fleſh, is of God:

CHAP. III. VER. 4. Iniquity ἀνομία, tranſgreſſion of the law.

VER. 6. Sinneth not, viz. mortally. See chap. i. 8.

VER. 9. Doth not commit ſin: that is, as long as he keepeth in himſelf this ſeed of grace, and this divine generation, by which he is born of God. But then he may fall from this happy ſtate, by the abuſe of his free will, as appears from Rom. xi. 20, 21, 22. 1 Cor. ix. 27. chap. x. 12. Philip. ii. 12. Apoc. iii. 11.

CHAP. IV. VER. 1. Try the ſpirits, viz. by examining whether their teaching be agreeable to the rule of the Catholick faith, and the doctrine of the church. For as he ſays, ver. 6. He that knoweth God heareth us, [the paſtors of the church]. By this we know the ſpirit of truth, and the ſpirit of error.

VER. 2. Every ſpirit which confeſſeth, &c. Not that the confeſſion of this point of faith alone, is, at all times, and in all caſes, ſufficient: but that with relation to that time, and for that part of the Chriſtian doctrine, which was then particularly to be confeſſed, taught, and maintained againſt the heretics of thoſe days, this was the moſt proper token, by which the true teachers might be diſtinguiſhed from the falſe.

3 And every ſpirit, that diſſolveth Jeſus, is not of God, and this is Antichriſt, of whom you have heard that he cometh, and he is now already in the world.

4 You are of God, little children, and have overcome him, becauſe greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

‖ John 8. 47. 5 ‖ They are of the world: therefore of the world they ſpeak, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God. He that knoweth God, heareth us: He that is not of God, heareth us not: by this we know the ſpirit of truth, and the ſpirit of error.

7 Dearly beloved, let us love one another: for charity is of God. And every one, that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God: for God is charity.

‖ John 3. 16. 9 ‖ By this hath appeared the charity of God in us, becauſe God hath ſent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10 In this is charity: not as if we have loved God, but becauſe he firſt loved us, and ſent his Son a propitiation for our ſins.

11 My deareſt, if God hath ſo loved us: we ought alſo to love one another.

‖ John 1. 18. 1 Tim. 6. 16. 12 ‖ No man hath ſeen God at any time. If we love one another, God abideth in us, and his charity is perfected in us.

13 By this we know that we abide in him, and he in us: becauſe he hath given us of his Spirit:

14 And we have ſeen, and do teſtify, that the Father hath ſent his Son the Saviour of the world.

15 Whoſoever ſhall confeſs that Jeſus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known, and have believed the charity, which God hath to us. God is charity: and he that abideth in charity, abideth in God, and God in him.

17 In this is the charity of God perfected with us, that we may have confidence in the day of judgment: becauſe as he is, we alſo are in this world.

18 Fear is not in charity: but perfect charity caſteth out fear; becauſe fear hath pain: and he that feareth is not perfect in charity.

19 Let us therefore love God, becauſe God firſt hath loved us.

20 If any man ſay, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he ſeeth, how can he love God, whom he ſeeth not?

‖ John 13. 34. & 15. 12. Epheſ. 5. 2. 21 ‖ And this commandment we have from God, that he, who loveth God, love alſo his brother.

CHAP. V.

Of them that are born of God, and of true charity. Faith overcomes the world. Three that bear witneſs to Chriſt. Of faith in his name, and of ſin that is, and is not to death.

WHOSOEVER believeth that Jeſus is the Chriſt, is born of God. And every one that loveth him that begot, loveth him alſo who was born of him.

2 In this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his commandments.

3 For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not heavy.

4 For whatſoever is born of God, overcometh the world: and this is the victory which overcometh the world, our faith.

5 ‖ Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jeſus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came by water and blood, Jeſus Chriſt; not in water only, but in water and blood. And it is the ſpirit that teſtifieth, that Chriſt is the truth.

7 For there are three that give teſtimony in heaven: the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghoſt: and theſe three are one.

VER. 3. That diſſolveth Jeſus, viz. either by denying his humanity, or his divinity.

Ibid. He is now already in the world. Not in his perſon, but in his ſpirit, and in his precurſors.

VER. 18. Fear is not in charity, &c. Perfect charity, or love, baniſheth human fear, that is, the fear of men; as alſo all perplexing fear, which makes men miſtruſt or deſpair of God's mercy; and that kind of ſervile fear, which makes them fear the puniſhment of ſin more than the offence offered to God. But it no way excludes the wholeſome fear of God's judgments, ſo often recommended in holy writ; nor that fear and trembling, with which we are told to work out our ſalvation. Phil. ii. 12.

CHAP. V. VER. 1. Is born of God; that is, is juſtified, and become a child of God by baptiſm: which is alſo to be underſtood; provided the belief of this fundamental article of the chriſtian faith be accompanied with all the other conditions, which, by the word of God, and his appointment, are alſo required to juſtification; ſuch as a general belief of all that God has revealed and promiſed; hope, love, repentance, and a ſincere diſpoſition to keep God's holy law and commandments.

VER. 4. Our faith: not a bare ſpeculative, or dead faith; but a faith working by charity, Gal. v. 6.

VER. 6. Came by water and blood: not only to waſh away our ſins by the water of baptiſm, but by his own blood.

8 And there are three that give teſtimony on earth: the ſpirit, the water, and the blood: and theſe three are one.

9 If we receive the teſtimony of men, the teſtimony of God is greater: for this is the teſtimony of God, which is greater, becauſe he hath teſtified of his Son.

10 He that believeth in the Son of God, hath the teſtimony of God in himſelf. ‖ He that believeth not the Son, maketh him a liar: becauſe he believeth not in the teſtimony which God hath teſtified of his Son.

‖ 1 John 3. 33.

11 And this is the teſtimony, that God hath given to us eternal life: and this life is in his Son.

12 He that hath the Son, hath life: he that hath not the Son, hath not life.

13 Theſe things I write to you, that you may know that you have eternal life; who believe in the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence which we have in him: that whatſoever we ſhall aſk: according to his will, he heareth us.

15 And we know that he heareth us whatſoever we aſk: we know that we have the petitions which we requeſt of him.

16 He that knoweth his brother to ſin a ſin which is not unto death, let him aſk, and life ſhall be given to him, that ſinneth not to death. There is a ſin unto death; I do not ſay that any one ſhould aſk for it.

17 All iniquity is ſin: and there is a ſin unto death.

18 We know that every one, who is born of God ſinneth not: but the generation of God preſerveth him, and the wicked one toucheth him not.

19 We know that we are of God: and the whole world is ſeated in wickedneſs.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, ‖ and hath given us underſtanding, that we may know the true God, and may be in his true Son. This is the true God, and eternal life.

‖ Luke 24. 45.

21 Little children, keep yourſelves from idols. Amen.

VER. 8. The ſpirit, the water, and the blood. As the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghoſt, all bear witneſs to Chriſt's divinity; ſo the ſpirit, which he yielded up, crying out with a loud voice upon the croſs; and the water and blood that iſſued from his ſide, bear witneſs to his humanity, and are one; that is, all agree in one teſtimony.

VER. 10. He that believeth not the Son, &c. By refuſing to believe the teſtimonies given by the three divine perſons, that Jeſus was the Meſſias, and the true Son of God, by whom eternal life is obtained and promiſed to all that comply with his doctrine. In him we have alſo this lively confidence, that we ſhall obtain whatever we aſk, according to his will, when we aſk what is for our good with perſeverance, and in the manner we ought: And this we know, and have experience of, by having obtained the petitions that we have made.

VER. 16. A ſin which is not unto death, &c. It is hard to determine what St. John here calls a ſin, which is not unto death, and a ſin which is unto death. The difference cannot be the ſame as betwixt ſins, that are called venial and mortal: for he ſays, that if a man pray for his brother, who commits a ſin that is not unto death, life ſhall be given him: therefore ſuch a one had before loſt the life of grace, and been guilty of what is commonly called a mortal ſin. And when he ſpeaks of a ſin that is unto death, and adds theſe words, I do not ſay that any one aſk for that ſin, it cannot be ſuppoſed that St. John would ſay this of every mortal ſin, but only of ſome heinous ſins, which are very ſeldom remitted, becauſe ſuch ſinners very ſeldom repent. By a ſin therefore which is unto death, interpreters commonly underſtand a wilful apoſtacy from the faith, and from the known truth, when a ſinner hardened by his own ingratitude, becomes deaf to all admonitions, will do nothing for himſelf, but runs on to a final impenitence. Nor yet does St. John ſay, that ſuch a ſin is never remitted, or cannot be remitted, but only has theſe words, I do not ſay that any one ſhould aſk for the remiſſion of that ſin, that is, though we muſt pray for all ſinners whatſoever, yet man cannot pray for ſuch ſinners with ſuch a confidence of obtaining always their petitions, as St. John ſaid before, ver. 14.

Whatever expoſition we follow on this verſe, our faith teacheth us from the holy Scriptures, that God deſires not the death of any ſinner, but that he be converted, and live, Ezech. 33. 11. Though men's ſins be as red as ſcarlet, they ſhall become as white as ſnow. Iſaias 3. 18. It is the will of God that every one come to the knowledge of truth and be ſaved. There is no ſin ſo great, but which God is willing to forgive, and has left a power in his church to remit the moſt enormous ſins; ſo that no ſinner need deſpair of pardon, nor will any ſinner periſh, but by his own fault.

Ibid. A ſin unto death. Some underſtand this of final impenitence, or of dying in mortal ſin; which is the only ſin that never can be remitted: But, it is probable, he may alſo compriſe under this name, the ſin of apoſtacy from the faith, and ſome other ſuch heinous ſins as are ſeldom and hardly remitted: and therefore he gives little encouragement, to ſuch as pray for theſe ſinners, to expect what they aſk.

VER. 19. And the whole world is ſeated in wickedneſs: i. e. a great part of the world. It may alſo ſignify, is under the wicked one, meaning the devil, who is elſewhere called the prince of this world, that is, of all the wicked. Jo. 12. 31.

VER. 20. And may be in his true Son. He is, or, this is the true God, and eternal life. Which words are a clear proof of Chriſt's divinity, and as ſuch made uſe of by the ancient fathers.

VER. 21. Keep yourſelves from Idols. An admonition to the new converted chriſtians, leſt converſing with heathens and idolaters, they might fall back into the ſin of idolatry, which may be the ſin unto death here mentioned by St. John.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN

THE APOSTLE.

The Apoſtle commends ELECTA and her family for their ſteadfaſtneſs in the true faith, and exhorts them to perſevere, leſt they loſe the reward of their labours: He exhorts them to love one another, but with heretics to have no ſociety, even not to ſalute them. Although this Epiſtle is written to a particular perſon, yet its inſtructions may ſerve as a leſſon to others, eſpecially to thoſe, who from their connections, ſituation, or condition in life, are in danger of perverſion.

CHAP. I.

He recommends walking in truth, loving one another, and to beware of falſe teachers.

THE ancient to the lady Elect and her children whom I love in truth, and not I only but alſo all they, who have known the truth,

2 For the ſake of the truth, which abideth in us, and ſhall be with us for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Chriſt Jeſus the Son of the Father, in truth, and charity.

4 I was exceeding glad, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beſeech thee, lady, not as writing a new commandment to thee, but that which we have had from the beginning, ‖ that we love one another.

‖ John 13. 34. & 15. 12.

6 And this is charity, that we walk according to his commandments. For this is the commandment, that as you have heard from the beginning, you ſhould walk in it:

7 For many ſeducers are gone out into the world, who confeſs not that Jeſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh: this is a ſeducer and an antichriſt.

8 Look to yourſelves, that you loſe not the things which you have wrought: but that you may receive a full reward.

9 Whoſoever recedeth, and continueth not in the doctrine of Chriſt, hath not God: he that continueth in the doctrine, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If any man come to you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into the houſe, nor ſay to him, God ſave you.

11 For he that ſaith to him, God ſave you, communicateth with his wicked works.

12 Having more things to write unto you, I would not by paper and ink: for I hope that I ſhall be with you, and ſpeak face to face: that your joy may be full.

13 The children of thy ſiſter Elect ſalute thee.

CHAP. I. VER. 1. The ancient, that is, the ancient biſhop St. John, being the only one of the twelve apoſtles then living. To the lady Elect. Some conjecture that Electa might be the name of a family, or of a particular church; but the general opinion is, that it is the proper name of a lady, ſo eminent for her piety and great charity as to merit this Epiſtle from St. John.

VER. 10. Nor ſay to him, God ſave you. This admonition is in general, to forewarn the faithful of the dangers which may ariſe from a familiarity with thoſe who have prevaricated and gone from the true faith, and with ſuch as teach falſe doctrine. But this is not forbidding a charity for all men, by which we ought to wiſh and pray for the eternal ſalvation of every one, even of our enemies.

THE

THIRD EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN

THE APOSTLE.

St. JOHN praiſes Gaius for his walking in truth, and for his charity: complains of the bad conduct of Diotrephes, and gives a good teſtimony to Demetrius.

THE ancient to the dearly beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

2 Dearly beloved, I make my prayer that thou mayeſt proſper as to all things, and be in health, even as thy ſoul doth proſperouſly.

3 I was exceeding glad when the brethren came, and gave teſtimony to the truth in thee, even as thou walkeſt in truth.

4 I have no greater grace than this, to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Dearly beloved, thou doſt faithfully whatſoever thou doſt for the brethren, and that for ſtrangers,

6 Who have given teſtimony of thy charity in the ſight of the church: whom, thou ſhalt do well, to bring forward on their way in a manner worthy of God.

7 Becauſe, for his name's ſake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive ſuch: that we may be fellow-helpers of the truth.

9 I had written perhaps to the church: but Diotrephes who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, doth not receive us.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will publiſh his works which he doth, prating againſt us with malicious words: and as if theſe things were not enough for him, neither doth he himſelf receive the brethren: and thoſe that do receive them he forbiddeth, and caſteth out of the church.

11 Dearly beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doth good, is of God: he that doth evil, hath not ſeen God.

12 To Demetrius teſtimony is given by all, and by the truth itſelf, yea and we alſo give teſtimony: and thou knoweſt that our teſtimony is true.

13 I had many things to write unto thee: but I would not by ink and pen write to thee.

14 But I hope ſpeedily to ſee thee, and we will ſpeak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends ſalute thee. Salute the friends by name.

VER. 4. No greater grace: that is, nothing that gives me greater joy and ſatisfaction.

VER. 7. Taking nothing of the Gentiles. Theſe miniſters of the goſpel are commended by St. John who took nothing from the Gentiles, leſt they ſhould ſeem to preach in order to get money by it.

VER. 9. Diotrephes who loveth, &c. This man ſeemeth to be in power, but not a friend to the faithful, therefore this part of the letter might be an admonition to him from the Apoſtle.

THE CATHOLIC EPISTLE OF ST. JUDE

THE APOSTLE.

ST. JUDE, who wrote this Epiſtle, was one of the twelve Apoſtles, and brother to St. James the Leſs. The time it was written is uncertain, only it may be inferred from ver. 17. that few or none of the Apoſtles were then living, except St. John. He inveighs againſt the hereſies and wicked practices of the Simonians, Nicholaites, and Gnoſtics, &c. deſcribing them and their leaders by ſtrong epithets and ſimilies. He exhorts the faithful to contend earneſtly for the faith firſt delivered to them, and to beware of heretics.

He exhorts them to ſtand to the faith firſt delivered to them: and to beware of heretics.

JUDE the ſervant of Jeſus Chriſt, and brother of James: to them that are beloved in God the Father, and preſerved in Jeſus Chriſt, and called.

2 Mercy unto you, and peace and charity be fulfilled.

3 Dearly beloved, taking all care to write to you concerning your common ſalvation, I was under a neceſſity to write to you: to beſeech you to contend earneſtly for the faith once delivered to the ſaints.

4 For there have crept in ſome men (who were written of long ago unto this judgment) impious, turning the grace of our God into laſciviouſneſs, and denying the only ſovereign Ruler, and our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

5 I will therefore admoniſh you, that once knew all theſe things, that Jeſus, having ſaved the people out of the land of Egypt: || did afterwards deſtroy thoſe, who believed not: || Num. 14. 37.

6 And the angels, who kept not their principality, but forſook their own habitation, || he hath reſerved in everlaſting chains under darkneſs, unto the judgment of the great day. || 2 Peter 2. 4. Gen. 19. 20.

7 As Sodom and Gomorrha, and the neighbouring cities, in like manner having given themſelves over to fornication, and going after other fleſh, were made an example, ſuffering the puniſhment of eternal fire.

8 In like manner theſe men alſo defile the fleſh, and deſpiſe dominion, and blaſpheme majeſty.

9 || When Michael the arch-angel, diſputing with the devil, contended about the body of Moſes, he durſt not bring againſt him the judgment of malediction: but ſaid: The Lord command thee. || Zach. 3. 2.

10 But theſe men blaſpheme whatſoever things they know not: and what things ſoever they naturally know, like dumb beaſts, in theſe they are corrupted.

VER. 6. Principality, that is, the ſtate in which they were firſt created, their original dignity.

VER. 8. Blaſpheme majeſty. Speak evil of them that are in dignity; and even utter blaſphemies againſt the divine majeſty.

VER. 9. Contended about the body, &c. This contention, which is no where elſe mentioned in holy writ, was originally known by revelation, and tranſmitted by tradition. It is thought the occaſion of it was, that the devil would have had the body buried in ſuch place and manner, as to be worſhipped by the Jews with divine honours.

2 Tim. 3. 1. 2 Pet. 3. 3.

18 Who told you, that in the laſt time there ſhould come mockers, walking according to their own deſires in impieties.

19 Theſe are they, who ſeparate themſelves, ſenſual men, having not the ſpirit.

20 But you my deareſt building yourſelves upon your moſt holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghoſt,

21 Keep yourſelves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt unto life everlaſting.

22 And ſome indeed reprove being judged:

23 But others ſave, ſnatching them out of the fire. And on others have compaſſion in fear: hating alſo the ſpotted garment, which is carnal.

24 Now to him, who is able to preſerve you without ſin, and to preſent you ſpotleſs before the preſence of his glory with exceeding joy in the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt:

25 To the only God our Saviour, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, be glory and magnificence, dominion and power before all ages, both now, and for ever and ever. Amen.

VER. 11. Gone in the way, &c. Heretics follow the way of Cain, by murdering the ſouls of their brethren; the way of Balaam, by putting a ſcandal before the people of God, for their own private ends; and the way of Core or Korah, by their oppoſition to the church governors of divine appointment.

VER. 14. Propheſied, this prophecy was either known by tradition, or from ſome book that is ſince loſt.

VER. 17. But you, my deareſt, be mindful, &c. He now exhorts the faithful to remain ſteadfaſt in the belief and practice of what they had heard from the apoſtles, who had alſo foretold that in after-times (Lit. in the laſt time) there ſhould be falſe teachers, ſcoffing and ridiculing all revealed truths, abandoning themſelves to their paſſions and luſts; who ſeparate themſelves from the catholick communion by hereſies and ſchiſms. Senſual men, carried away and enſlaved by the pleaſures of the ſenſes.

VER. 20. 21. Building yourſelves upon your moſt holy faith. Raiſing by your actions, a ſpiritual building founded, 1ſt. upon faith, 2nd. on the love of God, 3d. upon hope, whilſt you are waiting for the mercies of God, and the reward of eternal life, 4th. joined with the great duty of prayer.

VER. 22. 23. And ſome indeed reprove being judged. He gives them another inſtruction to practiſe charity in endeavouring to convert their neighbour, where they will meet with three ſorts of perſons. 1ſt. With perſons obſtinate in their errors and ſins, theſe may be ſaid to be already judged, and condemned, they are to be ſharply reprehended, reproved, and if poſſible, convinced of their error. 2nd. As to others you muſt endeavour to ſave them, by ſnatching them, as it were, out of the fire, from the ruin they ſtand in great danger of. 3d. You muſt have compaſſion on others in fear, when you ſee them through ignorance or frailty, in danger of being drawn into the ſnares of theſe heretics; with theſe you muſt deal more gently and mildly, with a charitable compaſſion hating always, and teaching others to hate the carnal garment which is ſpotted, their ſenſual and corrupt manners, that defile both the ſoul and body.

VER. 24. 25. Now to him, &c. St. Jude concludes his epiſtle with this doxology of praiſing God, and praying to the only God our Saviour, which may either ſignify God the Father, or God as equally agreeing to all the three perſons, who are equally the cauſe of Chriſt's incarnation, and man's Salvation, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, who being God from eternity, took upon him our human nature, that he might become our redeemer.

THE

APOCALYPSE OF ST. JOHN

THE APOSTLE.

In the first, second, and third chapters of this Book are contained instructions and admonitions which St. JOHN was commanded to write to the seven bishops of the churches in Asia. And in the following chapters, to the end, are contained prophecies of things that are to come to pass in the church of Christ, particularly towards the end of the world, in the time of Antichrist. It was written in Greek, in the island of Patmos, where St. John was in banishment by order of the cruel emperor Domitian, about sixty-four years after our Lord's Ascension.

CHAP. I.

St. John is ordered to write to the seven churches in Asia: the manner of Christ's appearing to him.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him to make known to his servants the things which must shortly come to pass: and signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,

2 Who hath given testimony to the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, what things soever he hath seen.

3 Blessed is he, that readeth and heareth the words of this prophecy: and keepeth those things which are written in it: for the time is at hand.

4 John to the seven churches which are in Asia. Grace be unto you and peace from him, ‖ who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits which are before his throne:

‖ Exod. 3. 14.

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, ‖ the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth: who hath loved us, and washed us from our sins ‡ in his own blood,

6 And hath made us a kingdom and priests to God and his Father: to him be glory and empire for ever and ever. Amen.

7 ‖ Behold, he cometh with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they that pierced him. And all the tribes of the earth shall bewail themselves because of him: Even so: Amen.

CHAP. I. VER. 1. The things which must shortly come, and again it is said, ver. 3. The time is at hand. This cannot be meant of all the things prophesied in the Apocalypse, where mention is made also of the day of judgment, and of the glory of heaven at the end of the world. That some things were to come to pass shortly, is evident, by what is said to the Seven Churches, chap. 2. & 3. Or that the persecutions foretold should begin shortly. Or that these words signified, that all time is short, and that from the coming of Christ, we are now in the last age or last hour. See I. John chap. ii. ver. 18.

VER. 8. I am Alpha and Omega. These are the names of the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, and signify the same as what follows: The beginning and The end: the first cause and last end of all beings: who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty. These words signify the true God only, and are here applied to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who is to come again to judge the living and the dead.

called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the teſtimony of Jeſus:

10 I was in ſpirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying: What thou ſeeſt, write in a book: and ſend to the ſeven churches which are in Aſia, to Epheſus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamus, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicia.

12 And I turned to ſee the voice that ſpoke with me: and being turned, I ſaw ſeven golden candleſticks.

13 And in the midſt of the ſeven golden candleſticks, one like unto the Son of man, cloathed with a garment down to the feet, and girded about near the paps with a golden girdle:

14 And his head, and hair, were white, like white wool, and as ſnow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feet like unto fine braſs, as in a burning furnace, and his voice as the ſound of many waters:

16 And he had in his right hand ſeven ſtars: and from his mouth came out a ſharp two-edged ſword: and his countenance ſhined as the ſun ſhineth in its full ſtrength.

17 And when I ſaw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, ſaying: Fear not: || I am the firſt and the laſt,

|| Iſai. 41. 4. & 44 6. & 48. 12. Infra 21. 6. & 22. 13.

18 And alive, and was dead; and behold I am living for ever and ever, and have the keys of death and of hell.

19 Write therefore the things which thou haſt ſeen, and which are, and which muſt be done hereafter.

20 The myſtery of the ſeven ſtars, which thou ſaweſt in my right hand, and the ſeven golden candleſticks: the ſeven ſtars, are the angels of the ſeven churches: and the ſeven candleſticks are the ſeven churches.

CHAP. II.

Directions what to write to the angels or biſhops of Epheſus, Smyrna, Pergamus, and Thyatira.

TO the angel of the church of Epheſus write: Theſe things ſaith he, who holdeth the ſeven ſtars in his right hand, who walketh in the midſt of the ſeven golden candleſticks:

2 I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canſt not bear evil men: and thou haſt tried them, who ſay they are apoſtles, and are not, and haſt found them liars:

3 And thou haſt patience, and haſt born for my name, and haſt not failed.

4 But this I have againſt thee, that thou haſt left thy firſt charity.

5 Be mindful therefore from whence thou art fallen: and do penance, and do the firſt works. Or elſe I come to thee, and will remove thy candleſtick out of its place, unleſs thou ſhalt have done penance.

6 But this thou haſt, that thou hateſt the deeds of the Nicolaites, which I alſo hate.

7 He, that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches: To him, that overcometh, I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradiſe of my God.

8 And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write: Theſe things ſaith the Firſt and the Laſt: who was dead, and liveth:

9 I know thy tribulation and thy poverty, but thou art rich: and thou art blaſphemed by thoſe who ſay they are Jews, and are not, but are the ſynagogue of ſatan.

10 Fear none of thoſe things which thou ſhalt ſuffer. Behold, the devil ſhall caſt ſome of you into priſon that you may be tried: and you ſhall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful until death, and I will give thee the crown of life.

11 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches: He that ſhall overcome, ſhall not be hurt by the ſecond death.

12 And to the angel of the church of Pergamus write: Theſe things ſaith he that hath the ſharp two-edged ſword:

13 I know where thou dwelleſt, where the ſeat of ſatan is: and thou holdeſt faſt my name, and haſt not denied my faith. Even in thoſe days Antipas was my faithful witneſs, who was ſlain among you, where ſatan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things againſt thee: becauſe thou haſt there them that hold the doctrine || of Balaam, who taught Balac to caſt a ſtumbling block before the children of Iſrael, to eat, and commit fornication:

|| Numb. 24. 3. & 25. 2.

15 So haſt thou alſo them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaites.

16 In like manner do penance: if not I will come to thee quickly, and will fight againſt them with the ſword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches: To him, that overcometh, I will give the hidden manna, and will give him a white ſtone; and in the ſtone a new name written, which no man knoweth, but he that receiveth it.

18 And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write: Theſe things ſaith the Son of God, who hath eyes as a flame of fire, and his feet like unto fine braſs:

19 I know thy works, and thy faith, and thy charity, and miniſtry, and thy patience, and thy laſt works which are more than the former.

20 But I have a few things againſt thee: becauſe thou permitteſt the woman Jezabel, who calleth herſelf a propheteſs, to teach, and to ſeduce my ſervants, to commit fornication, and to eat of things offered to idols.

21 And I gave her time to do penance: And ſhe will not repent of her fornication.

22 Behold, I will caſt her into a bed: and they that commit adultery with her, ſhall be in very great tribulation, unleſs they do penance from their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the churches ſhall know, ‖ that I am he who ſearcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give to every one of you according to your works. But I ſay to you,

‖ 1 Kings 16. 7. Pſal. 7. 10. Jer. 11. 20. & 17. 10. & 20. 12.

24 And to the reſt who are at Thyatira: Whoſoever have not this doctrine, and who have not known the depths of ſatan, as they ſay, I will not put upon you any other weight:

25 Yet that which you have hold faſt till I come.

26 And he that ſhall overcome, and keep my works unto the end, to him I will give power over the nations,

27 And he ſhall rule them with a rod of iron, and as the veſſel of a potter they ſhall be broken,

28 Even as I received from my Father: and I will give him the morning ſtar.

29 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches.

CHAP. III.

Directions what to write to Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicia.

AND to the angel of the church of Sardis write: Theſe things ſaith he, who hath the ſeven Spirits of God, and the ſeven ſtars: I know thy works, that thou haſt the name of being alive, and thou art dead.

2 Be watchful, and ſtrengthen the things that remain, which are ready to die. For I find not thy works full before my God.

3 Have in mind therefore in what manner thou haſt received and heard, and obſerve, and do penance. If then thou ſhalt not watch; ‖ I will come to thee as a thief, and thou ſhalt not know at what hour I will come to thee.

‖ 1 Theſſ. 5. 2. ‖ 2 Pet. 3. 10. Infra 16. 15.

4 But thou haſt a few names in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments: and they ſhall walk with me in white, becauſe they are worthy.

5 He that ſhall overcome, ſhall thus be cloathed in white garments, and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, and I will confeſs his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write: Theſe things ſaith the Holy one and the True one, ‖ who hath the key of David: he that openeth, and no man ſhutteth: ſhutteth, and no man openeth:

‖ Iſai. 22. 22. Job. 12. 14.

8 I know thy works. Behold, I have given before thee a door opened which no man can ſhut: becauſe thou haſt a little ſtrength, and haſt kept my word, and haſt not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will bring of the ſynagogue of ſatan, who ſay they are Jews, and are not, but do lie: Behold, I will make them to come and adore before thy feet: And they ſhall know, that I have loved thee.

10 Becauſe thou haſt kept the word of my patience, I will alſo keep thee from the hour of temptation, which ſhall come upon all the world to tempt them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold I come quickly: hold faſt that which thou haſt, that no man take thy crown.

12 He that ſhall overcome, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God, and he ſhall go out no more: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jeruſalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches.

14 And to the angel of the church of Laodicia write: ‖ Theſe things ſaith the Amen, the faithful and true witneſs, who is the beginning of the creation of God.

‖ John 14. 6.

15 I know thy works: that thou art neither cold, nor hot: I would thou wert cold, or hot:

CHAP. II. VER. 26. Power over the nations. This ſhews, that the ſaints, who are with Chriſt our Lord in heaven, receive power from him to preſide over nations and provinces, as patrons; and ſhall come with him at the end of the world to execute his will againſt thoſe who have not kept his commandments.

CHAP. III. VER. 14. The Amen, that is the true one, the Truth itſelf: the Word and Son of God.

The beginning, ἀρχὴ, i. e. the principle, the ſource, and the efficient cauſe of the whole creation.

16 But becauſe thou art luke-warm, and neither cold, nor hot, I will begin to vomit thee out of my mouth.

17 Becauſe thou ſayeſt: I am rich, and made wealthy, and I have need of nothing: and thou knoweſt not, that thou art wretched, and miſerable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18 I counſel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayeſt be made rich: and mayeſt be cloathed in white garments, that the ſhame of thy nakedneſs may not appear: and anoint thy eyes with eye-ſalve, that thou mayeſt ſee.

‖ Prov. 3. 12. Hebr. 12. 6.

19 ‖ Thoſe whom I love, I rebuke and chaſtiſe. Be zealous therefore and do penance.

20 Behold, I ſtand at the door, and knock: if any man ſhall hear my voice, and open to me the gate, I will come in to him, and will ſup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ſhall overcome, I will grant to ſit with me in my throne: as I alſo have overcome, and have ſat with my Father in his throne.

22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit ſaith to the churches.

CHAP. IV.

The viſion of the throne of God, the twenty-four ancients, and the four living creatures.

AFTER theſe things I ſaw: and behold a door open in heaven: and the firſt voice which I heard, was as it were, of a trumpet ſpeaking with me, ſaying: Come up hither, and I will ſhew thee the things which muſt come to paſs hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the ſpirit: and behold there was a throne ſet in heaven, and one ſitting upon the throne.

3 And he that ſat, was to the ſight like the jaſper and the ſardine-ſtone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in ſight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty ſeats: and upon the ſeats, four and twenty ancients ſitting, cloathed in white garments, and golden crowns on their heads.

5 And from the throne proceeded lightnings, and voices, and thunderings: and there were ſeven lamps burning before the throne, which are the ſeven ſpirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was as it were a ſea of glaſs like cryſtal: and in the midſt of the throne, and round about the throne were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind.

7 And the firſt living creature like to a lion, and the ſecond living creature like to a calf, and the third living creature having the face, as it were, of a man: and the fourth living creature was like to an eagle flying.

8 And the four living creatures had each of them ſix wings: and round about and within they are full of eyes. And they reſted not day and night, ſaying, ‖ Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come. ‖ Iſai. 6. 3.

9 And when theſe living creatures gave glory, and honour, and benediction to him, that ſitteth on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty ancients fell down before him that ſitteth on the throne, and adored him that liveth for ever and ever, and caſt their crowns before the throne, ſaying:

11 Thou art worthy, O Lord our God, to receive glory and honour and power: becauſe thou haſt created all things, and for thy will they were, and have been created.

CHAP. V.

The book ſealed with ſeven ſeals is opened by the Lamb, who thereupon receives adoration and praiſe from all.

AND I ſaw in the right hand of him that ſat on the throne, a book written within and without, ſealed with ſeven ſeals.

2 And I ſaw a ſtrong angel, proclaiming with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the book, and to looſe the ſeals thereof?

3 And no man was able, neither in heaven, nor in earth, nor under the earth, to open the book, nor to look on it.

4 And I wept much becauſe no man was found worthy to open the book, nor to ſee it.

5 And one of the ancients ſaid to me: Weep not: behold the lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath conquered to open the book, and to looſe the ſeven ſeals thereof.

6 And I ſaw: and behold in the midſt of the throne, and of the four living creatures, and in the midſt of the ancients, a Lamb ſtanding as it were ſlain, having ſeven horns and ſeven eyes: which are the ſeven ſpirits of God, ſent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came: and took the book out of the right hand of him that ſat on the throne.

8 And when he had opened the book, the four living creatures, and the four and twenty ancients fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of the saints:

9 And they sung a new canticle, saying: Thou art worthy, O Lord, to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: because thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God, in thy blood, out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 And hast made us to our God a kingdom, and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I saw, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the living creatures and the ancients: and the number of them was ‖ thousands of thousands,

‖ Dan. 7. 10.

12 Saying, with a loud voice: Worthy is the Lamb that was slain, to receive power, and divinity, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and benediction.

13 And every creature, which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth. and such as are in the sea, and the things that are therein: I heard all saying: To him that sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb, benediction, and honour, and glory, and power for ever and ever.

14 And the four living creatures said: Amen: And the four and twenty ancients fell down on their faces: and adored him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

What followed upon the opening six of the seals.

AND I saw that the Lamb had opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures, saying, as with a voice of thunder: Come thou, and see.

2 And I saw: and behold a white horse, and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given to him, and he went forth conquering that he might conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature, saying: Come thou, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and it was granted to him who sat thereon, to take away peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and to him was given a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature, saying: Come thou and see. And behold a black horse, and he that sat on him had a pair of scales in his hand.

6 And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying: Two pounds of wheat for a penny, and thrice two pounds of barley for a penny, and wine, and oil hurt thou not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature, saying: Come thou and see.

8 And behold a pale horse, and he that sat upon him, his name was Death, and hell followed after him; and power was given to him over the four parts of the earth, to kill with sword, with famine, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held,

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying: How long, O Lord, (holy and true) dost thou not judge and revenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white stoles were given to each of them one: and it was said to them, that they should rest yet for a little time, till their fellow servants, and their brethren, who were to be slain even as they, should be filled up.

12 And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal: and behold, there was a great earth-quake, and the sun became black as sack-cloth of hair: and the whole moon became as blood:

13 And the stars from heaven fell upon the earth, as the fig-tree casteth its green figs when it is shaken by a great wind:

14 And the heaven withdrew as a book

CHAP. V. VER. 8. The prayers of saints. Here we see that the saints in heaven offer up to Christ the prayers of the faithful upon earth.

CHAP. VI. VER. 2. White horse. He that sitteth on the white horse is Christ, going forth to subdue the world by his gospel. The other horses that follow represent the judgments and punishment, that were to fall on the enemies of Christ and his church: the red horse signifies war; the black horse famine; and the pale horse (which has death for its rider) plagues or pestilence.

VER. 9. Under the altar. Christ, as man, is this altar, under which the souls of the martyrs live in heaven: as their bodies are here deposited under our altars.

VER. 10. Revenge our blood. They ask not this out of hatred to their enemies, but out of zeal for the glory of God, and a desire that the Lord would accelerate the general judgment, and the compleat beatitude of all his elect.

rolled up together: and every mountain, and the iſlands were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the tribunes, and the rich men, and the ſtrong men, and every bondman, and every free-man hid themſelves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains:

16 And they ſay to the mountains and to the rocks: || Fall upon us, and hide us from the face of him that ſitteth upon the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of their wrath is come: and who ſhall be able to ſtand?

CHAP. VII.

The number of them that were marked with the ſeal of the living God; and cloathed in white robes.

AFTER theſe things I ſaw four angels ſtanding on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that they ſhould not blow upon the earth, nor upon the ſea, nor on any tree.

2 And I ſaw another Angel aſcending from the riſing of the ſun, having the ſeal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the ſea.

3 Saying: Hurt not the earth, nor the ſea, nor the trees till we ſeal the ſervants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them that were ſealed, an hundred forty four thouſand ſealed, of all the tribes of the children of Iſrael.

5 Of the tribe of Juda twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Ruben, twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Gad twelve thouſand ſealed:

6 Of the tribe of Aſer twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Nephthali twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Manaſſes twelve thouſand ſealed:

7 Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Levi twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Iſſachar twelve thouſand ſealed:

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Joſeph twelve thouſand ſealed: Of the tribe of Benjamin twelve thouſand ſealed.

9 After this I ſaw a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and tribes, and peoples, and tongues: ſtanding before the throne, and in ſight of the Lamb, cloathed with white robes, and palms in their hands:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, ſaying: Salvation to our God, who ſitteth upon the throne, and to the Lamb.

11 And all the Angels ſtood round about the throne, and about the ancients, and about the four living creatures: and they fell before the throne upon their faces, and adored God,

12 Saying: Amen. Benediction and glory, and wiſdom, and thankſgiving, honour, and power, and ſtrength to our God for ever and ever, Amen.

13 And one of the ancients anſwered and ſaid to me: Who are theſe that are cloathed in white robes? and whence are they come.

14 And I ſaid to him: My lord, thou knoweſt. And he ſaid to me: Theſe are they who are come out of great tribulation, and have waſhed their robes, and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore they are before the throne of God, and ſerve him day and night in his temple; and he, that ſitteth on the throne, ſhall dwell over them.

16 || They ſhall not hunger, nor thirſt any more, neither ſhall the ſun fall on them, nor any heat.

|| Iſai. 49. 10.

17 For the Lamb, which is in the midſt of the throne, ſhall rule them, and ſhall lead them to the fountains of the waters of life, || and God ſhall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

|| Iſa. 25. 8. Infra. 21. 4.

CHAP. VIII.

The ſeventh ſeal is opened: the angels with the ſeven trumpets.

AND when he had opened the ſeventh ſeal, there was ſilence in heaven, as it were for half an hour.

2 And I ſaw ſeven angels ſtanding in the preſence of God: and to them were given ſeven trumpets.

3 And another angel came, and ſtood before the altar, having a golden cenſer: and there was given to him much incenſe, that he ſhould offer of the prayers of all ſaints upon the golden altar, which is before the throne of God.

4 And the ſmoke of the incenſe of the prayers of the ſaints aſcended up before God, from the hand of the angel.

5 And the Angel took the cenſer, and filled it with the fire of the altar, and caſt it on the earth, and there were thunderings, and voices, and lightnings, and a great earthquake.

6 And the ſeven angels who had the ſeven trumpets, prepared themſelves to ſound the trumpet.

7 And the first angel sounded the trumpet, and there was made hail, and fire mingled with blood, and it was cast on the earth, and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded the trumpet: and as it were a great mountain, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood;

9 And the third part of those creatures died, which had life in the sea, and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded the trumpet, and a great star fell from heaven, burning as it were a torch, and it fell on the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood: and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded the trumpet, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, so that the third part of them was darkened, and a third part of the day shined not, and of the night in like manner.

13 And I beheld, and heard the voice of one eagle flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: Wo, wo, wo to to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the three angels, who are yet to sound the trumpet.

CHAP. IX.

Locusts come forth from the bottomless pit: the vision of the army of horsemen.

AND the fifth angel sounded the trumpet: and I saw a star fall from heaven upon the earth, and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit: and the smoke of the pit ascended, as the smoke of a great furnace: and the sun was darkened, and the air with the smoke of the pit:

3 And from the smoke of the pit there came out locusts upon the earth, and power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power:

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree: but only the men who have not the sign of God in their foreheads:

5 And it was given to them that they should not kill them; but that they should torment them five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when he striketh a man.

6 ‖ And in those days men shall seek death, and shall not find it: and they shall desire to die, and death shall fly from them.

7 ‡ And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for battle: and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold: and their faces as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women: and their teeth were as the teeth of lions:

9 And they had breast-plates, as it were breast-plates of iron, and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle:

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and stings were in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months: and they had over them

11 A king, the angel of the bottomless pit: whose name in Hebrew, is Abaddon, and in Greek Appollyon; in Latin Exterminans.*

12 One wo is past, and behold there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded the trumpet: and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar, which is before the eyes of God,

CHAP. IX. VER. 1. A star fall. This may mean the fall and apostacy of great and learned men from the true faith. Or a whole nation falling into error and separating from the church, not having the sign of God in their foreheads.

Ibid. VER. 1. And to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. That is, to the Angel, not to the fallen star. To this Angel was given the power, which is here signified by a key, of opening hell

VER. 3. There came out locusts. These may be devils in Antichrist's time, having the appearance of locusts, but large and monstrous, as here described. Or they may be real locusts, but of an extraordinary size and monstrous shape, such as were never before seen on the earth, sent to torment those, who have not the sign (or seal) of God in their foreheads. Some commentators by these locusts understand heretics, and especially those heretics, that sprung from Jews, and with them denied the divinity of Jesus Christ; as Theodotus, Praxeas, Noetus, Paul of Samosata, Sabellius, Arius &c. These were great enemies of the christian religion: they tormented and infected the souls of men, stinging them, like scorpions, with the poison of their heresies. Others have explained these locusts, and other animals, mentioned in different places throughout this sacred and mystical book, in a most absurd, fanciful and ridiculous manner: they make Abaddon the pope, and the locusts to be friars mendicant, &c. Here it is thought proper, not to enter into any controversy upon that subject, as the inventors of these fancies have been already answered, and fully refuted by many controvertists: besides, those who might be imposed on by such chimerical writers, are in those days much better informed.

14 Saying to the sixth angel, who had the trumpet: Loose the four angels, who are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, who were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year; for to kill the third part of men.

16 And the number of the army of horsemen was twenty thousand times ten thousand. And I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision: and they who sat on them, had breast-plates of fire, and hyacinth, and of brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions: and from their mouths proceeded fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 And by these three scourges was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For the power of the horses is in their mouths, and in their tails. For, their tails are like to serpents, having heads; and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men, who were not slain by these scourges have not done penance for the works of their hands, that they should not adore devils, and idols of gold and silver and brass and stone and wood, which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither have they done penance for their murders, nor for their sorceries, nor for their fornication, nor for their thefts.

CHAP. X.

The cry of a mighty angel: he gives John a book to eat.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven cloathed with a cloud, and a rain-bow upon his head, and his face was as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the land:

3 And he cried out with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth. And when he had cried out, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying to me: Seal up the things which the seven thunders have spoken: and write them not.

‖ Dan. 2. 7. 5 ‖ And the angel, which I saw standing upon the sea, and upon the land, lifted up his hand to heaven:

6 And he swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things which are therein; and the earth and the things which are therein; and the sea, and the things which are therein: That time shall be no more:

7 But that in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound the trumpet, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared by his servants the prophets.

8 And I heard a voice from heaven speaking to me again, and saying: Go, and take the book, that is open, from the hand of the angel standing upon the sea, and upon the land.

9 And I went to the angel, saying unto him, that he should give me the book. And he said to me: ‖ Take the book, and devour it: and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. ‖ Ezec. 3. 1.

10 And I took the book from the hand of the angel, and devoured it: and it was in my mouth, sweet as honey: and when I had devoured it, my belly was bitter:

11 And he said to me: Thou must prophesy again to nations, and peoples, and tongues, and to many kings.

CHAP. XI.

He is ordered to measure the temple: the two witnesses.

AND there was given me a reed like unto a rod, and it was said to me: Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that adore in it.

2 But the court, which is without the temple, cast out, and measure it not, because it is given to the Gentiles, and the holy city they shall tread under foot forty-two months:

3 And I will give to my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred sixty days, cloathed in sackcloth.

4 These are the two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth.

5 And if any man would hurt them, fire shall come out of their mouths, and shall devour their enemies: and if any man would hurt them, in this manner must he be killed.

CHAP. X. VER. 7. Declared, literally, evangelized, to signify the good tidings, agreeable to the Gospel, of the final victory of Christ, and of that eternal life, which should be the reward of the temporal sufferings of the martyrs and faithful servants of God.

CHAP. XI. VER. 3. My two witnesses. It is commonly understood of Henoch and Elias.

6 These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and they have power over waters to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with all plagues as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast, that ascendeth out of the abyss, shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their bodies shall lie in the streets of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom, and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the tribes, and peoples, and tongues, and nations, shall see their bodies for three days and a half: and shall not suffer their bodies to be laid in sepulchres.

10 And the inhabitants of the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry: and shall send presents one to another, because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt upon the earth.

11 And after three days and a half, the spirit of life from God entered into them. And they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them that saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying to them: Come up hither. And they went up into heaven in a cloud: and their enemies saw them.

13 And at that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell: and there were slain in the earthquake, names of men seven thousand; and the rest were cast into a fear, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second wo is past: and behold the third wo will come quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded the trumpet: and there were great voices in heaven, saying: The kingdom of this world is become our Lord's and his Christ's, and he shall reign for ever and ever: Amen.

16 And the four and twenty ancients, who sit on their seats in the sight of God, fell upon their faces and adored God, saying:

17 We give thee thanks, O Lord God almighty, who art, and who wast, and who art to come: because thou hast taken thy great power, and thou hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead to be judged, and to render a reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear thy name, little, and great, and to destroy them who have corrupted the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven: and the ark of his testament was seen in his temple, and there were lightnings, and voices, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAP. XII.

The vision of the woman cloathed with the sun; and of the great dragon her persecutor.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child, cried travailing in birth, and was in pain to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven: and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads, and ten horns: and on his heads seven diadems,

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and cast them to the earth; and the dragon stood before the woman, who was ready to be delivered; that, when she should be delivered, he might devour her son.

5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with an iron rod: and her son was taken up to God, and to his throne:

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she had a place prepared by God, that there they should feed her a thousand two hundred and sixty days.

7 And there was a great battle in heaven: Michael and his angels fought with the dragon, and the dragon fought, and his angels:

8 And they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And that great dragon was cast out, the old serpent, who is called the devil, and satan, who seduceth the whole world, and he was cast forth unto the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying: Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: because the accuser of our brethren is cast forth, who accused them before our God day and night.

CHAP. XII. VER. 1. A woman. The church of God. It may also, by allusion, be applied to our blessed Lady. The church is clothed with the sun, that is, with Christ: she hath the moon, that is, the changeable things of the world, under her feet: and the twelve stars with which she is crowned, are the twelve apostles: she is in labour and pain, whilst she brings forth her children, and Christ in them, in the midst of afflictions and persecutions.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their teſtimony, and they loved not their lives unto death.

12 Therefore rejoice, O ye heavens, and you that dwell therein. Wo to the earth, and to the ſea, becauſe the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a ſhort time.

13 And after the dragon ſaw that he was caſt unto the earth, he perſecuted the woman, who brought forth the man child:

14 And there were given to the woman two wings of a great eagle, that ſhe might fly into the deſert to her place, where ſhe is nouriſhed for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the ſerpent.

15 And the ſerpent caſt out of his mouth, after the woman, water as it were a river; * that he might cauſe her to be carried away by the river.

* or flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and ſwallowed up the river, which the dragon caſt out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was angry againſt the woman: and went to make war with the reſt of her ſeed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the teſtimony of Jeſus Chriſt.

18 And he ſtood upon the ſand of the ſea.

CHAP. XIII.

Of the beaſt with ſeven heads; and of a ſecond beaſt.

AND I ſaw a beaſt coming out of the ſea, having ſeven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names of blaſphemy.

2 And the beaſt, which I ſaw, was like to a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his own ſtrength, and great power.

3 And I ſaw one of his heads as it were wounded to death: and his deadly wound was healed. And all the earth was in admiration after the beaſt.

4 And they adored the dragon, which gave power to the beaſt: and they adored the beaſt, ſaying: Who is like to the beaſt? and who ſhall be able to fight with it?

5 And there was given to it a mouth, ſpeaking great things, and blaſphemies: and power was given to it to act forty-two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blaſphemies againſt God, to blaſpheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given to him to make war with the ſaints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over every tribe, and people, and tongue, and nation:

8 And all that dwell upon the earth, adored him: whoſe names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb, which was ſlain from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He that ſhall lead into captivity, ſhall go into captivity: ‖ he that ſhall kill by the ſword, muſt be killed by the ſword. Here is the patience and the faith of the ſaints.

‖ Gen. 9. 6. Matt. 26. 52.

11 And I ſaw another beaſt coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns, like to a lamb's, and he ſpoke as a dragon.

12 And he executed all the power of the former beaſt in his ſight: and he cauſed the earth, and them that dwell therein, to adore the firſt beaſt, whoſe deadly wound was healed.

13 And he did great ſigns, ſo that he made even fire to come down from heaven upon the earth in the ſight of men.

14 And he ſeduced them that dwell on the earth, by the ſigns, which were given him to perform in the ſight of the beaſt, ſaying to them that dwell on the earth, that they ſhould make an image to the beaſt, which had the wound by the ſword, and lived.

15 And it was given him to give life to

CHAP. XIII. VER. 1. A beaſt. This firſt beaſt with ſeven heads, and ten horns, is probably the whole company of infidels, enemies and perſecutors of the people of God, from the beginning to the end of the world. The ſeven heads are ſeven kings, that is, ſeven principal kingdoms or empires, which have exerciſed, or ſhall exerciſe tyrannical power over the people of God; of theſe, five were then fallen, viz. the Egyptian, Aſſyrian, Chaldean, Perſian, and Grecian monarchies: one was preſent, viz. the empire of Rome; and the ſeventh and chiefeſt was to come, viz. the great Antichriſt and his empire. The ten horns may be underſtood of ten leſſer perſecutors.

VER. 3. One of his heads, &c. Some underſtand this of the mortal wound, which the idolatry of the Roman empire (ſignified by the ſixth head) received from Conſtantine; which was, as it were, healed again by Julian the apoſtate.

VER. 8. His tabernacle, &c. that is, his church and his ſaints.

VER. 8. Slain from the beginning, &c. In the foreknowledge of God; and in as much as all mercy and grace, from the beginning, was given in view of his death and paſſion.

VER. 11. Another beaſt. This ſecond beaſt with two horns, may be underſtood of the heatheniſh prieſts and magicians; the principal promoters both of idolatry and perſecution.

the image of the beaſt, and that the image of the beaſt ſhould ſpeak: and ſhould cauſe, that whoſoever will not adore the image of the beaſt, ſhould be ſlain.

16 And he ſhall make all, both little and great, rich and poor, freemen and bondmen, to have a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or ſell, but he that hath the mark, or the name of the beaſt, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wiſdom. He that hath underſtanding, let him compute the number of the beaſt. For it is the number of a man: and his number is ſix hundred ſixty ſix.

CHAP. XIV.

Of the Lamb, and of the virgins that follow him: Of the judgments that ſhall fall upon the wicked.

AND I ſaw: and behold a Lamb ſtood on mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty-four thouſand having his name, and the name of his Father written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunder: and the voice which I heard, was as of harpers, harping on their harps.

3 And they ſung as it were a new canticle, before the throne, and before the four living creatures, and the ancients: and no man could ſay the canticle, but thoſe hundred forty four thouſand, who were purchaſed from the earth.

4 Theſe are they who were not defiled with women: for they are virgins. Theſe follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goeth. Theſe were purchaſed from among men, the firſt fruits to God, and to the Lamb:

5 And in their mouth was found no lie: for they are without ſpot before the throne of God.

6 And I ſaw another angel flying through the midſt of heaven, having the eternal goſpel, to preach to them that ſit upon the earth, and over every nation, and tribe, and tongue, and people:

7 Saying with a loud voice: Fear the Lord, and give him honour, becauſe the hour of his judgment is come: and adore ye him, ‖ who made heaven, and earth, the ſea, and the fountains of waters. ‖ Pſal. 145. 6. Acts. 14. 14.

8 And another angel followed, ſaying: ‡ She is fallen, ſhe is fallen, that great Babylon: which made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. ‡ Iſai. 21. 9. Jer. 51. 8.

9 And the third angel followed them, ſaying with a loud voice: If any man ſhall adore the beaſt, and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand:

10 He alſo ſhall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is mingled with pure wine, in the cup of his wrath, and he ſhall be tormented with fire and brimſtone in the ſight of the holy angels and in the ſight of the Lamb:

11 And the ſmoke of their torments ſhall aſcend up for ever and ever: neither have they reſt day nor night, who have adored the beaſt, and his image, and whoſoever did receive the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the ſaints, who keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jeſus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven, ſaying to me: write: Bleſſed are the dead, who die in the Lord. From henceforth now, ſaith the Spirit, that they may reſt from their labours: for their works follow them.

14 And I ſaw, and behold a white cloud: and upon the cloud one ſitting like to the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a ſharp ſickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that ſat upon the cloud: ‖ Put to thy ſickle, and reap, becauſe the hour is come to reap, for the harveſt of the earth is ripe. ‖ Joel. 3. 13. Matt. 13. 39.

16 And he that ſat on the cloud, put his ſickle to the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple, which is in heaven, he alſo having a ſharp ſickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, who had power over fire: and he cried with a loud voice to him that had the ſharp ſickle, ſaying: Put to thy ſharp ſickle, and gather the cluſters of the vineyard of the earth: becauſe the grapes thereof are ripe.

VER. 18. Six hundred ſixty-ſix. The numeral letters of his name ſhall make up this number.

VER. 8. Babylon. By Babylon may be very probably ſignified all the wicked world in general, which God will puniſh, and deſtroy after the ſhort time of this mortal life: or it may ſignify every great city wherein enormous ſins and abominations are daily committed, and that when the meaſure of its iniquities is full, the puniſhments due to its crimes, are poured on it. It alſo may be ſome city of the deſcription in the Text, that will exiſt, and be deſtroyed as here deſcribed, towards the end of the world.

VER. 13. Die in Lord. It is underſtood of the martyrs who die for the Lord.

19 And the angel put his ſharp ſickle to the earth, and gathered the vine-yard of the earth, and caſt it into the great wine-preſs of the wrath of God:

20 And the wine-preſs was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-preſs, even up to the horſes bridles, for a thouſand and ſix hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

They that have overcome the beaſt, glorify God. Of the ſeven angels with the ſeven vials.

AND I ſaw another ſign in heaven great and wonderful, ſeven angels having the ſeven laſt plagues: for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I ſaw as it were a ſea of glaſs mingled with fire, and them that had overcome the beaſt, and his image, and the number of his name, ſtanding on the ſea of glaſs, having the harps of God:

3 And ſinging the canticle of Moſes the ſervant of God, and the canticle of the Lamb, ſaying: Great and wonderful are thy works, O Lord God almighty: juſt and true are thy ways, O King of ages.

‖ Jer. 10. 7. 4 ‖ Who ſhall not fear thee, O Lord, and magnify thy name? For thou only art holy: for all nations ſhall come, and ſhall adore in thy ſight, becauſe thy judgments are manifeſt.

5 And after theſe things I ſaw, and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the teſtimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the ſeven angels came out of the temple, having the ſeven plagues, cloathed in clean and white linen, and girded about the breaſts with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four living creatures gave to the ſeven angels ſeven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was filled with ſmoke from the majeſty of God, and from his power: and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the ſeven plagues of the ſeven angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

The ſeven vials are poured out: the plagues that enſue.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, ſaying to the ſeven angels: Go, and pour out the ſeven vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the firſt went, and poured out his vial upon the earth, and there fell a ſore and moſt grievous wound upon the men, who had the mark of the beaſt; and upon them who adored his image.

3 And the ſecond angel poured out his vial into the ſea, and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living ſoul died in the ſea.

4 And the third poured out his vial upon the rivers, and the fountains of waters, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters, ſaying; Thou art juſt, O Lord, who art, and who waſt the holy one, who haſt judged theſe things:

6 For they have ſhed the blood of the ſaints and prophets, and thou haſt given them blood to drink; for they deſerved it,

7 And I heard another from the altar, ſaying: Yea, O Lord God almighty, true and juſt are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the ſun, and it was given to him to afflict men with heat, and fire:

9 And men were ſcorched with great heat, and they blaſphemed the name of God, who hath power over theſe plagues, neither did they penance to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the ſeat of the beaſt: and his kingdom became dark, and they gnawed their tongues for pain:

11 And they blaſphemed the God of heaven, becauſe of their pains, and wounds, and did not penance for their works.

12 And the ſixth angel poured out his vial upon that great river Euphrates: and dried up the water thereof, that a way might be prepared for the kings from the riſing of the ſun.

13 And I ſaw from the mouth of the dragon, and from the mouth of the beaſt, and from the mouth of the falſe prophet three unclean ſpirits like frogs.

14 For they are the ſpirits of devils working ſigns, and they go forth unto the kings of the whole earth to gather them to battle againſt the great day of the almighty God.

‖ Matt. 24. 43. Luke 12. 39. Supra 3. 3. 15 ‖ Behold, I come as a thief. Bleſſed is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments, leſt he walk naked, and they ſee his ſhame.

16 And he ſhall gather them together into a place, which is called in Hebrew Armagedon.

17 And the ſeventh angel poured out his vial into the air, and a great voice came out of the temple from the throne, saying: It is done.

CHAP. XVI. Ver. 16. Armagedon, i. e. The hill of robbers.

18 And there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and there was a great earthquake, such as never hath been since men were upon the earth: such an earthquake, so great.

19 And the great city was made into three parts: and the cities of the Gentiles fell, and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the indignation of his wrath.

20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And great hail like a talent came down from heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail: for it was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

The description of the great harlot, and of the beast upon which she sits.

AND there came one of the seven angels, who had the seven vials, and spoke with me, saying: Come, I will shew thee the condemnation of the great harlot, who sitteth upon many waters.

2 With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication; and they who inhabit the earth, have been made drunk with the wine of her prostitution.

3 And he took me away in the spirit into the desert. And I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was clothed round in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand, full of the abomination and filthiness of her fornication.

5 And on her forehead a name was written: A mystery: Babylon the great, the mother of the fornications, and abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I had seen her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said to me: why dost thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast which carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast, which thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall come up out of the bottomless pit, and go into destruction: and the inhabitants of the earth (whose names are not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world) shall wonder, seeing the beast, that was, and is not.

9 And here is the understanding, that hath wisdom. The seven heads, are seven mountains, upon which the woman sitteth, and they are seven kings.

10 Five are fallen, one is, and the other is not yet come: and when he shall come he must remain a short time.

11 And the beast that was, and is not: the same is also the eighth: and is of the seven, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the ten horns, which thou sawest, are ten kings: who have not yet received a kingdom, but shall receive power as kings one hour after the beast.

13 These have one design, and their strength and power they shall deliver to the beast.

14 They shall fight with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: ‖ because he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and they that are with him are called, and elect, and faithful. ‖ 1. Tim. 6. 15. Infra 19. 16.

15 And he said to me: The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns, which thou sawest on the beast: these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn her with fire.

17 For God hath given into their hearts, to do that which pleaseth him: that they give their kingdom to the beast till the words of God be fulfilled.

CHAP. XVII. VER. 5. A mystery: That is, a secret, because what follows of the name and title of the great harlot is to be taken in a mystical sense.

Ibid. Babylon. Either the city of the devil in general; or, if this place be to be understood of any particular city, pagan Rome, which then and for 300 years persecuted the church; and was the principal seat both of empire and idolatry.

VER. 8. The beast which thou sawest. This beast which supports Babylon, may signify the power of the devil: which was and is not, being much limited by the coming of Christ, but shall again exert itself under Antichrist. The seven heads of this beast are seven mountains or empires, instruments of his tyranny; of which five were then fallen, as above, chap. xiii. ver. 1. The beast itself is said to be the eighth, and is of the seventh; because they all act under the devil, and by his instigation, so that his power is in them all, yet so as to make up, as it were, an eighth empire, distinct from them all.

VER. 12. Ten kings. Ten lesser kingdoms, enemies also of the church of Christ: which nevertheless shall be made instruments of the justice of God for the punishment of Babylon. Some understand this of the Goths, Vandals, Hunns, and other barbarous nations, that destroyed the empire of Rome.

18 And the woman which thou ſaweſt, is the great city, a kingdom which hath dominion over the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

The fall of Babylon: kings and merchants lament over her.

AND after theſe things I ſaw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power: and the earth was enlightened with his glory.

2 And he cried out with a ſtrong voice, ſaying: ‖ Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen: and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every unclean ſpirit, and the hold of every unclean and hateful bird:

‖ Iſai. 21. 9. Jer. 51. 8. Supra 14. 8.

3 Becauſe all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication: and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her: and the merchants of the earth have been made rich by the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, ſaying: Go out from her, my people: that you be not partakers of her ſins, and that you receive not of her plagues.

5 For her ſins have reached even to heaven, and the Lord hath remembered her iniquities.

6 Render to her as ſhe alſo hath rendered to you: and double ye the double according to her works: in the cup, wherein ſhe hath mingled, mingle unto her double.

7 As much as ſhe hath glorified herſelf, and hath been in delicacies, ſo much torment and ſorrow give unto her: becauſe ſhe ſaith in her heart: ‖ I ſit a queen, and am not a widow: and ſorrow I ſhall not ſee.

‖ Iſai. 47. 8.

8 Therefore ſhall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine, and ſhe ſhall be burnt with fire: becauſe God is ſtrong, who ſhall judge her.

9 And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication, and lived in delicacies with her, ſhall weep, and bewail themſelves over her, when they ſhall ſee the ſmoke of her burning:

10 Standing afar off for fear of her torments, ſaying: Wo, wo that great city Babylon, that mighty city: for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And the merchants of the earth ſhall weep, and mourn over her: for no man ſhall buy their merchandiſe any more:

12 Merchandiſe of gold, and ſilver, and of precious ſtones, and pearl, and of fine linen, and purple, and of ſilk, and ſcarlet (and all thyine wood, and all manner of veſſels of ivory, and all manner of veſſels of precious ſtone, and of braſs, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon) and of odours and ointment, and frankincenſe, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beaſts, and ſheep, and horſes, and chariots, and ſlaves, and ſouls of men.

14 And the fruits of the deſire of thy ſoul are departed from thee, and all fat and goodly things are periſhed from thee, and they ſhall no more find them.

15 The merchants of theſe things, who were made rich, ſhall ſtand afar off from her, for fear of her torments, weeping and mourning,

16 And ſaying: Wo, wo that great city, which was cloathed with fine linen, and purple, and ſcarlet, and was gilded with gold and precious ſtones and pearls:

17 For in one hour are ſo great riches come to nothing: and every ſhip-maſter, and every one that ſails into the lake, and mariners, and they that work at ſea, ſtood afar off,

18 And cried out, ſeeing the place of her burning, ſaying: What city is like to this great city?

19 And they caſt duſt upon their heads, and cried out weeping, and mourning, ſaying: Wo, wo that great city, wherein all were made rich, who had ſhips at ſea, by reaſon of her prices: for in one hour ſhe is made deſolate.

20 Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apoſtles, and prophets: for God hath judged your judgment on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a ſtone as it were a great mill-ſtone, and caſt it into the ſea, ſaying: with this violence ſhall Babylon, that great city be thrown down, and ſhall now be found no more.

22 And the voice of harpers, and of muſicians, and of them that play on the pipe, and on the trumpet, ſhall no more be heard in thee: and no craftſman of any art whatſoever ſhall be found any more in thee: and the ſound of a mill ſhall be heard no more in thee:

23 And the light of a lamp ſhall ſhine no more in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and bride ſhall be heard no more in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth, for all nations have been deceived by thy ſorceries.

24 And in her hath been found the blood of prophets and of ſaints: and of all, who were ſlain upon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

The saints glorify God for his judgments on the great harlot. Christ's victory over the beast, and the kings of the earth.

AFTER these things I heard as it were the voice of many multitudes in heaven, saying: Alleluia: salvation, and glory, and power is to our God:

2 For true and just are his judgments, who hath judged the great harlot, which corrupted the earth with her fornication, and hath revenged the blood of his servants, at her hands.

3 And again they said: Alleluia. And her smoke ascendeth for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty ancients, and the four living creatures fell down and adored God that sitteth upon the throne, saying: Amen: Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out from the throne, saying: Praise ye our God all his servants: and you that fear him, little and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunders, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord our God the omnipotent hath reigned.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice: and give glory to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath prepared herself.

8 And to her it hath been granted, that she should cloath herself with fine linen glittering and white. For the fine linen are the justifications of saints.

‖ Matt. 22. 2. Luke 14. 16.

9 And he saith to me: write: ‖ Blessed are they, who are called to the marriage supper of the Lamb: and he saith to me: These words of God are true.

10 And I fell before his feet to adore him. And he saith to me: See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren who have the testimony of Jesus. Adore God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse: and he that sat upon him, was called Faithful and True, and with justice he judgeth and fighteth.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire; and on his head many diadems, having a name written, which no man knoweth but himself.

13 ‖ And he was cloathed with a garment sprinkled with blood: and his name is called, THE WORD OF GOD.

‖ Isai 63. 1.

14 And the armies which are in heaven followed him on white horses, cloathed in fine linen white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp two-edged sword: that with it he may strike the Gentiles. ‖ And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fury of the wrath of God the almighty.

‖ Psal. 2. 9.

16 And he hath on his garment and on his thigh written: ‖ King of kings and Lord of lords.

‖ 1 Tim. 6. 15. Supra 17. 14.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that did fly through the midst of heaven: Come, and gather yourselves together to the great supper of God:

18 That you may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of tribunes, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all freemen and bond-men, and of little and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to make war with him that sat upon the horse, and with his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet: who wrought signs before him, wherewith he seduced them, who received the mark of the beast, and who adored his image. These two were cast alive into the pool of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the rest were slain by the sword of him that sitteth upon the horse, which proceedeth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

CHAP. XX.

Satan is bound for a thousand years: the souls of the martyrs reign with Christ in the first resurrection. The last attempts of satan against the church: the last judgment.

AND I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

CHAP. XIX. VER. 10. I fell before, &c. St. Aug. (l. 20. contra Faust. c. 21.) is of opinion, that this angel appeared in so glorious a manner, that St. John took him to be God; and therefore would have given him divine honour, had not the angel stopt him, by telling him he was but his fellow-servant. St. Gregory (hom. 8. in Evang.) rather thinks, that the veneration offered by St. John, was not divine honour, or indeed any other than what might lawfully be given; but was nevertheless refused by the Angel, in consideration of the dignity to which our human nature had been raised, by the incarnation of the Son of God: and the dignity of St. John, an apostle, prophet, and martyr.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon, the old ſerpent, which is the devil and ſatan, and bound him for a thouſand years:

3 And he caſt him into the bottomleſs pit, and ſhut him up, and ſet a ſeal upon him, that he ſhould no more ſeduce the nations, till the thouſand years be finiſhed: and after that, he muſt be looſed a little time.

4 And I ſaw ſeats, and they ſat upon them: and judgment was given unto them: and the ſouls of them that were beheaded for the teſtimony of Jeſus, and for the word of God, and who had not adored the beaſt, nor his image, nor received his mark in their foreheads, or in their hands, and they lived and reigned with Chriſt a thouſand years.

5 The reſt of the dead lived not, till the thouſand years were finiſhed. This is the firſt reſurrection.

6 Bleſſed and holy is he that hath part in the firſt reſurrection: in theſe the ſecond death hath no power: but they ſhall be prieſts of God and of Chriſt, and ſhall reign with him a thouſand years.

7 And when the thouſand years ſhall be finiſhed, ſatan ſhall be looſed out of his priſon, and ſhall go forth, and ſeduce the nations, which are over the four quarters of the earth, ‖ Gog, and Magog, and ſhall gather them together to battle, whoſe number is as the ſand of the ſea. ‖ Ezec. 38. 14.

8 And they aſcended upon the breadth of the earth, and ſurrounded the camp of the ſaints, and the beloved city.

9 And fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them: and the devil, who ſeduced them, was caſt into the pool of fire and brimſtone, where both the beaſt

10 And the falſe prophet ſhall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I ſaw a great white throne, and him that ſat upon it, from whoſe preſence the earth and heaven fled away, and there was no place found for them.

12 And I ſaw the dead great and ſmall, ſtanding before the throne, and the books were opened: and another book was opened which is the book of life: and the dead were judged by thoſe things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the ſea gave up the dead, that were in it: and death and hell gave up their dead, that were in them: and they were judged every one according to their works.

14 And hell and death were caſt into the pool of fire. This is the ſecond death.

15 And whoſoever was not found written in the book of life, was caſt into the pool of fire.

CHAP. XXI.

The new Jeruſalem deſcribed.

AND I ſaw a new heaven, and a new earth. For the firſt heaven, and the firſt earth was paſſed away, and the ſea is no more. Iſai. 65. 17. & 66. 22. 2 Pet. 3. 13.

2 And I John ſaw the holy city the new Jeruſalem coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her huſband.

3 And I heard a great voice from the throne ſaying: Behold the tabernacle of God with men, and he will dwell with them. And they ſhall be his people: and God himſelf with them ſhall be their God:

4 ‖ And God ſhall wipe away all tears from their eyes: and death ſhall be no more, nor mourning, nor crying, nor ſorrow ſhall be any more, for the former things are paſſed away. ‖ Iſai. 25. 8. Supra 7. 17.

5 And he who ſat on the throne, ſaid: ‖ Behold I make all things new. And he ſaid to me: Write, for theſe words are moſt faithful and true. ‖ Iſai. 43. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 17.

6 And he ſaid to me: It is done: I am alpha and omega: the beginning and the end. To him that thirſteth I will give of the fountain of the water of life, gratis.

7 He that ſhall overcome, ſhall poſſeſs theſe things, and I will be his God, and he ſhall be my ſon.

8 But to the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and ſorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their portion ſhall be in the pool burning with fire and brimſtone: which is the ſecond death.

9 And there came one of the ſeven angels, who had the vials full of the ſeven laſt plagues, and ſpoke with me, ſaying: Come, and I will ſhew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb.

CHAP. XX. VER. 2. Bound him, &c. The power of ſatan has been very much limited by the paſſion of Chriſt; for a thouſand years; that is, for the whole time of the new teſtament: but eſpecially from the time of the deſtruction of Babylon or pagan Rome, till the new efforts of Gog and Magog againſt the church, towards the end of the world. During which time the ſouls of the martyrs and ſaints live and reign with Chriſt in heaven, in the firſt reſurrection, which is that of the ſoul to the life of glory; as the ſecond reſurrection will be that of the body, at the day of the general judgment.

CHAP. XXI. VER. 1. The firſt heaven, and the firſt earth was paſſed away, being changed, not as to their ſubſtance, but in their qualities.

10 And he took me up in ſpirit to a great and high mountain, and he ſhewed me the holy city Jeruſalem, coming down out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and the light thereof like unto a precious ſtone, as it were to a jaſper-ſtone, as cryſtal.

12 And it had a wall great and high, having twelve gates: and in the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Iſrael.

13 On the eaſt, three gates: and on the north, three gates: and on the ſouth, three gates: and on the weſt, three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them, the twelve names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb.

15 And he that ſpoke with me, had a meaſure a golden reed, to meaſure the city and the gates thereof, and the wall.

16 And the city is ſituate four-ſquare, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he meaſured the city with the golden reed for twelve thouſand furlongs: and the length, and the height, and the breadth of it are equal.

17 And he meaſured the wall thereof a hundred forty four cubits, the meaſure of a man, which is of an angel.

18 And the building of the wall thereof was of jaſper-ſtone: but the city itſelf pure gold, like to clear glaſs.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious ſtones. The firſt foundation, jaſper: the ſecond, ſapphire: the third, a calcedony: the fourth, an emerald:

20 The fifth, ſardonyx: the ſixth, ſardius: the ſeventh, chyrſolite: the eighth beryl: the ninth, a topaz: the tenth, a chryſopraſus: the eleventh, a jacinth: the twelfth, an amethyſt.

21 And the twelve gates are twelve pearls, one to each: and every ſeveral gate was of one ſeveral pearl: and the ſtreet of the city was pure gold, as it were tranſparent glaſs.

22 And I ſaw no temple in it. For the Lord God almighty is the temple thereof, and the Lamb.

‖ Iſai. 60. 19. 23 ‖ And the city needeth not ſun, nor moon to ſhine in it: for the glory of God hath enlightened it, and the Lamb is the lamp thereof.

24 And nations ſhall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth ſhall bring their glory and honour into it.

‖ Iſai. 60. 11. 25 ‖ And the gates thereof ſhall not be ſhut by day: for there ſhall be no night there.

26 And they ſhall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 There ſhall not enter into it any thing defiled, or any one that worketh abomination, or a lie, but they who are written in the book of life of the Lamb.

CHAP. XXII.

The water and tree of life. The concluſion.

AND he ſhewed me a river of water of life, clear as cryſtal, proceeding from the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 In the midſt of the ſtreet thereof, and on both ſides of the river, was the tree of life, bearing twelve fruits, yielding its fruit every month, and the leaves of the tree for the healing of the nations.

3 And no curſe ſhall be any more: but the throne of God, and of the Lamb ſhall be in it, and his ſervants ſhall ſerve him.

4 And they ſhall ſee his face: and his name ſhall be on their foreheads.

‖ Iſai. 60. 20. 5 ‖ And night ſhall be no more: and they ſhall not need the light of a lamp, nor the light of the ſun, for the Lord God ſhall enlighten them, and they ſhall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he ſaid to me: Theſe words are moſt faithful and true. And the Lord God of the ſpirits of the prophets ſent his angel to ſhew his ſervants the things which muſt be done ſhortly.

7 And behold I come quickly. Bleſſed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John, who have heard, and ſeen theſe things. And after I had heard, and ſeen, I fell down to adore before the feet of the angel, who ſhewed me theſe things:

9 And he ſaid to me: See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-ſervant, and of thy brethren the prophets and of them who keep the words of the prophecy of this book: Adore God.

10 And he ſaith to me: Seal not the words of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

CHAP. XXI. VER. 17. The meaſure of a man, i. e. According to the meaſure of men, and uſed by the angel: This ſeems to be the true meaning of theſe words.

CHAP. XXII. VER. 10. For the time is at hand. That is, when compared to eternity, all time and temporal things vaniſh and are but of ſhort duration. As to the time when the chief predictions ſhould come to paſs, we have no certainty, as appears by the different opinions, both of the ancient fathers and late interpreters. Many think that moſt things ſet down from the 4th 11 He that hurteth, let him hurt ſtill: and he that is filthy, let him be filthy ſtill: and he that is juſt, let him be juſtified ſtill: and he that is holy, let him be ſanctified ſtill.

12 Behold, I come quickly: and my reward is with me, to render to every man according to his works.

‖ Iſai. 41. 4 & 44. 6. & 48. 12. Supra 1. 8. & 17. & 21. 6.

13 ‖ I am alpha, and omega, the firſt, and the laſt, the beginning, and the end.

14 Bleſſed are they that waſh their robes in the blood of the lamb: that they may have a right to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city.

15 Without are dogs, and ſorcerers, and the unchaſte, and murderers, and thoſe that ſerve idols, and every one that loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jeſus have ſent my angel, to teſtify to you theſe things in the churches. I am the root and ſtock of David, the bright, and morning ſtar.

17 And the Spirit and the bride ſay: Come. And he that heareth, let him ſay: Come. And he that thirſteth, let him come: ‖ and he that will, let him take the water of life, gratis. ‖ Iſai. 55. 1.

18 For I teſtify to every one that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book: If any man ſhall add to theſe things, God ſhall add upon him the plagues written in this book.

19 And if any man ſhall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God ſhall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from theſe things which are written in this book.

20 He that giveth teſtimony of theſe things ſaith, Surely I come quickly: Amen. Come Lord Jeſus.

21 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you all. Amen.

chapter to the end, will not be fulfilled till a little time before the end of the world. Others are of opinion, that a great part of them, and particularly the fall of the wicked Babylon, happened at the deſtruction of Paganiſm, by the deſtruction of heathen Rome, and its perſecuting heathen Emperors. Of theſe interpretations, ſee Alcazar in his long commentary, ſee the learned Boſſuet, biſhop of Meaux, in his treatiſe on this Book, and P. Alleman, in his notes on the ſame Apocalypſe, tom. 12, who in his Preface ſays, that this, in a great meaſure, may be now looked upon as the opinion followed by the learned men. In fine, others think that St. John's deſign was in a myſtical way, by metaphors and allegories, to repreſent the attempts and perſecutions of the wicked againſt the ſervants of God, the puniſhments that ſhould in a ſhort time fall upon Babylon, that is, upon all the wicked in general: the eternal happineſs and reward, which God had reſerved for the pious inhabitants of Jeruſalem, that is, for his faithful ſervants, after their ſhort trials and the tribulations of this mortal life. In the mean time we meet with many profitable inſtructions and admonitions, which we may eaſily enough underſtand: but we have no certainty, when we apply theſe predictions to particular events: for as St. Jerom takes notice, the Apocalypſe has as many myſteries as words, or rather myſteries in every word. Apocalypſis Joannis tot habet Sacramenta quot verba—parum dixi, in verbis ſingulis multiplices latent intelligentiæ. Ep. ad Paulin. t. 4. p. 574. Edit. Benedict.

VER. 11. Let him hurt ſtill. It is not an exhortation, or licence to go on in ſin; but an intimation, that how far ſoever the wicked may proceed, their progreſs ſhall quickly end, and then they muſt expect to meet with proportionable puniſhments.

THE END OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

AN

HISTORICAL AND CRONOLOGICAL INDEX

TO THE OLD TESTAMENT.

The CHRONOLOGY followed here is according to the more general Opinions of Divines and Chronologers.

Note. A. M. signify, Anno Mundi: That is, In the Year of the World.

A. M.	Patriarchs	Sacred Hiſtory.
1	Adam the firſt man, of whom all mankind is propagated.	CREATION of heaven and earth, and all things therein, in ſix days. Gen. 1. Man laſt created was made Lord of all living creatures of this lower world, and placed in Paradiſe. Gen. 2. For tranſgreſſing God's commandment Adam and Eve were caſt out of paradiſe. But by God's grace repenting had promiſe of a Redeemer. Gen. 3.
2		Cain the firſt born became a huſbandman, Abel next born, a ſhepherd. Gen. 4.
130	Seth born.	God reſpecting Abel's ſacrifice, and not Cain's, Cain killed Abel. Gen. 4. Cain went forth from the face of our Lord; began a new city oppoſite to the city of God. Gen. 4. v. 16.
235	Enos born.	His generations in the right line to Lamech, are thoſe without notice of the time when they were born or died: Enoch, Irad, Maviel, Mathuſael, Lamech, Gen. 4. v. 17.
325	Cainan
395	Malaleel
460	Iared
622	Enoch
687	Mathuſala
874	Lamech	Some declining from God, joining in marriage with Cain's race begot thoſe monſtrous men huge of ſtature, moſt wicked and cruel, called giants. Gen. 6. v. 4. Seths children and other faithful were called the ſons of God to diſtinguiſh the true Church from the wicked city begun by Cain. Gen. 6. In the days of Enos began public prayers by many aſſembling together (beſides ſacrifice, which was before). Gen. 4. v. 26. Enoch a prophet pleaſed God in all his ways. None born in the earth like to Enoch. Eccl. 49. v. 16. Adam died at the age of 930 years. Gen. 5. v. 5. To whom Seth ſucceeded chief Patriarch. And ſo in the reſt. Enoch in the year of his age 365, was ſeen no more: becauſe God took him. Gen. 5. v. 24. Enoch was tranſlated that he ſhould not ſee death. Heb. 11. v. 5. Seth died in the year of his age, 912. Enos died, aged 905. Cainan died, aged 980.
1056	Noe born

A. M.	Patriarchs	Sacred Hiſtory.
		Malaleel died, aged 895. Iared died, aged 962. Noe the preacher of juſtice, forewarned all men, that except they repented, God would deſtroy them with a flood. Noe, by God's commandment built an ark (or ſhip) wherein himſelf, and his family, with other living creatures, were preſerved from drowning.
1556	Sem born And the next two	Lamech died (before his father) in the year of his age 777.
1651	years	Mathuſala died, aged 969, immediately before the flood, as ſeemeth moſt probable.
1656	Cham Japhet.	The ſame year of the world 1656, the 17th day of the ſecond month, Noe with his three ſons, his wife and their wives, in all eight perſons, and ſeven pair of every kind of clean living creatures, and two pair of unclean entered into the ark. And preſently it rained forty days and forty nights together. All living creatures on the earth out of the ark were drowned. Gen. 7. All Cain's race, with other wicked infidels, were utterly deſtroyed by the flood. Gen. 7.
1658	Arphaxad born the ſon of Sem.	The whole earth being covered with water, Noe with his family, and other living creatures remained in the ark twelve months and ten days, then coming forth built an altar and offered ſacrifice, which God accepting bleſſed them for new generation. Gen. 8. v. 9. Nemrod the ſon of Chus, and nephew to Cham, about three-ſcore years after the flood, by force and ſubtility drawing many followers, began a new ſect of infidels. And afterwards was the principal author of building the tower of Babel. Where the tongues of the builders were confounded, and ſo they were ſeparated into many nations, about 140 years after the flood. Gen. 11. v. 4, &c. After Nemrod his ſon Belus reigned in Babylon, about the year of the world 1871, which was 215 years after the flood.

A. M.	Patriarchs	Sacred Hiſtory.
1693	Sale	Heber conſented not to the building of Babel. And therefore his family kept ſtill their former language, which thenceforth for diſtinction ſake, was called the Hebrew tongue. He lived to ſee Abraham's father. And Noe, Sem, Arphaxad, Phaleg, and other godly men lived ſome part of Abraham's time, who were never corrupted in faith nor religion.
